FASHION POINTS:

THE SPRING BRIDE

NEW YORK (ED)—It isn't the spring, the setting, or even the bride's name that makes a wedding. It's the bride herself, and her dress.

If you're the lucky girl this spring or summer, you'll be wearing something as new and tender as a cage of embroidered organza, or a full-length princess dress with a mini lace yoke. Something new may be your high neckline, ruffled around with narrow lace. It could be tiny sleeves of lace or long flaring sleeves. It could also be an airy veil attached to your headdress, and falling the length of your dress. These veils are usually scattered with lace sprays matching others on the dress.

Most of the bridal dresses are in camellia and candle-creamy white, but something new is a delicate Wedgwood blue. The bride who chooses it might like her bridesmaids to wear white dresses with high waistlines circled by Beauvais ribbon braid in the same blue. It's news that more bridesmaids are wearing white, but of course, with a touch of color.

The fabrics of wedding dresses this season vary from plain and embroidered organza to heritage laces, to all-over tulle, dotted Swiss, and white pique or white linen.

The long bridal dress may have a detachable panel train or train-in-the-round, called the Watteau train. Or it may borrow a trained effect from a long and sweeping veil.

Some of the most formal bridal dresses are a glistening "fall" of white textured silk, rimmed around a high neckline and short sleeves with crystals and pearls.

Short bridal dresses are similar in line and fabric to the full length, but are more often designed to wear, as well, as short evening dresses. A charming cage of thick white Guipure lace is typical.

Bridesmaids' dresses, as previously suggested, may be white. Again, the color could be mint or moss green, marigold or rose. For the bride who chooses white voile, there are attendants' dresses of voile in flower garden colors. The bride in white pique might like her maids in bright printed pique.

The wedding dress isn't everything. Certain clothes in your new wardrobe should see you through your first anniversary, and others can be added as needs arise. For suggestions, a free booklet, "Planning Your Trousseau," offered by the Consumer Service Division of the ILGWU, will be sent on request from: Union Label Department, ILGWU, HL-10, 275 7th Avenue, New York, New York 10001.

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SOIL AND DIRT?

(Writer's name withheld by request)

"Dad, what is the difference between soil and dirt?"

It was one of those sudden questions that pop up and put parents behind the eight-ball. I stilled for time as I shuffled the dominoes, trying to remember if I had ever heard an answer to that one.

I hadn't. But I took a cue from a long-ago course in biology which defined a weed as a plant out of place. "Son, soil covers most of the land—except where bare rock is exposed—and as long as it is where it belongs it is soil.

"But when it gets on your face or on your clothes it is dirt. When it rains and sticks to your feet it is mud, but if you leave it where it belongs it is just wet soil." I added, warning to the subject, "If the wind blows it about it becomes a part of a sandstorm or dust storm"—I had learned there is a difference. "If it is washed into a lake it becomes sediment and may some day fill the lake and ruin it."

"Why?" I was behind the 8-ball again.

"Why, what?"

"Why does dirt ruin the lake?"

Wives and guests get a secret delight when a father is carried beyond his depth by a few simple questions from a youngster. But wives earn their keep when they stop the questions before the father loses patience and becomes embarrassed. The child was sent to bed with a promise that "Your father will tell you all about it later when he isn't busy."

So the next morning I called J. C. Yeary, Work Unit Conservationist at the Haskell office of Soil Conservation Service to find out just when soil becomes dirt, why it ruins a lake and related questions. That is how I found out about the soil survey that has been completed in my county.

I learned that soil isn't just soil—or dirt either, for that matter.

There are 73 distinct kinds of soil in Haskell County, all listed by name, and described—and these are only a small percentage of several thousands of soils in the nation that have been identified, analyzed and described. Each soil is broken down into "mapping units" because of difference in the depth of the topsoil or subsoil, the slope on which it lies, its erodibility, or other factors that affect its suitability for use in agriculture.

On aerial photographs covering all of the county, soil scientists have drawn in the boundaries between all of the soil "mapping units." The soil scientists have walked over the land, bored holes, measured soil depth and slopes, estimated how much had been eroded away, determined percentage of sand, silt and clay—in short, making a complete inventory of the county's soil resources. Within each soil separation on the map is a symbol. These symbols open up a wealth of information.

I was shown the map on which Haskell was located. The houses on our street showed up as tiny dots, and I picked out our home. The symbol for our soil was Aca, and when I ran it down I found that the soil was Abilene clay loam.

The surface was dark grayish-brown clay loam. I agreed. The subsoil was a grayish-brown light clay, and 18 to 30 inches below the surface lay a grayish-brown to yellowish-red sticky clay stratum. I hadn't dug down that deep, so I took their word for it.

The clay subsoil takes water slowly. I learned, so during wet seasons the water table is 8 to 18 inches deep. For the same reason, much of the water during a hard rainstorm will run off and cause erosion. Ditches must be kept open to provide drainage. There were mechanical and chemical analysis of my soil.

An engineering table showed the soil to be fair to very poor to build a road on, but would make stable road fill material if moisture content was kept low. It is only fair for building foundations, and no good at all for a sewage disposal field for septic tanks.

If the land were in a farm it would be fairly productive. With good management it could produce 30 bushels of wheat, 300 to 350 pounds of lint cotton, 2000 to 2500 pounds of grain sorghums, or provide 20 cow-days of grazing per acre.

I hadn't wanted to learn that much about my soil. But this is my soil, even if it is only a city lot.

I was fascinated. I asked about the soil on some very fine farms that belonged to friends. I found out why they were productive, and what the crop yields should be under good management.

I made it a point to visit with one of the farmers, discuss his terrace system, his fertilizer use, and his yields. Because of a silly question asked by my son, I can now talk intelligently to my farmer friends about their interests. Can you?

For the "opener" the game was well played with few errors. The Cubs won the contest 6 to 4. Winning pitcher was Ricky Dale Bryan and losing pitcher was Mike Warren.

The Bears topped the Owls 21-4 in Monday's play.

Fancy That!

A NEW LOOK AT LOCKETS

Lockets swing down directly from the primitive practice of wearing animal teeth, stones and shells to ward off evil spirits. Our modern "primitives," the Hippies, wear similar bells and beads for mystic ornamentation.

The Romantic Age in England saw the popularity of the heart-shaped locket. Young girls wore it with a lock of their beloved's hair inside. The giving of this "locket" of hair by the swain signified surrender—as it has since the days of Samson and Delilah.

Today's lockets are the swiftest jewelry ever! Tussy's Midnight Fragrance Locket appeals to two senses—sight and smell. The locket contains a slim, re-fillable disc which is steeped in Midnight Perfume. Makes good sense to smell pretty while you look pretty.

Keep Kids Away!

It seems to be the nature of children to get underfoot all the time. They're naturally curious and like to be, so to speak, where the action is. When daddy gets out the power lawn mower, that's almost a signal that says "let's gather around." It's the wise parent, however, who sets down—and keeps—the rule that smallfry, pets, and power tools are mutually exclusive according to the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute. Clearing the area of children is the first safety rule everyone must follow. The danger of flying objects is always present in power mowers. Statistics show that many persons have been seriously injured by flying objects—and a few have been killed. Taking children and pets away from potential danger is necessary for their own protection—although you might seem like the "bad guy" to order them away. Although a lawn tractor looks like a vehicle, it isn't! It's a tool—and a powerful one at that. It's very important to withstand the entreaties of "Please, give me a ride, Daddy." The best rule to make and enforce is "No Riders—ever." Children should never be allowed to operate the machine. And that should go for inexperienced adults as well. If you leave the engine running even briefly while you step away, you'll tempt a child into investigating the apparatus. With over 26 million owners of power mower equipment, more than 100 million persons—a majority children—are exposed to their use—and abuse. The Outdoor Power Equipment Institute suggests that you be adamant about safety rules and regulations. Kids will be kids. And mowers will be mowers. And it's up to you to make sure that the twain never meet!

LEAFLETS THREE—LET IT BE

Spring is bustin out all over but it blooms with other than beauty. Local school children are learning about the hazards in nature in a new chapter of the Junior Fire Marshal safety program. The program is sponsored by The Hartford Insurance Group, and this agency in cooperation with local school and fire officials. In this spring chapter, children learn to recognize poison ivy (leaflets three—let it be); not to eat unknown berries; to avoid pets and wild animals acting in an unusual way. The latter is for protection against rabies-causing bite. Rabies is a killer. We ask your support in this part of the program by teaching your children when to love nature and when to leave her alone.

Woodard Briefs Rotarians On Water Project

Mayor H. V. Woodard spoke to members of the Rotary Club last Thursday concerning the Miller's Creek project and pointed out the progress of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority to construct a complete water system.
Woodard told Rotarians there would be no taxes collected, since water revenue would be sufficient to take care of all bonded indebtedness, interest and operating cost of the project.

"No definite date has been set to vote on the water contract and bond issue, but it will probably be early in the summer," Woodard said.
Howard Perry was program chairman for the day.
R. C. Couch, Jr., presided over the session. Invocation was given by Rev. J. V. Patterson. Bob Herren led the singing, with Mrs. Henry Withers at the piano.
Mrs. Martha Harmon, Home Economist, Lone Star Gas Company, Aulene, was noted as a guest. Haskell High School student guests were Joe Cochran and Lon Barnett.

NURSING HOME WEEK

Nursing homes in our community which are participating in Texas Nursing Home Week have launched a commendable effort to acquaint the public with what has been happening in their field in recent years.

Nursing Home Week begins on Mother's Day, May 12, and more than 600 individual nursing homes across the state are holding open house days to begin the observance. The idea, an excellent one, is sponsored jointly by the Texas Nursing Home Association and its 19 local chapters.

Mother's Day is appropriate for such an observance since women outnumber men by 2 to 1 among the more than 700,000 nursing home patients in this country. The average age of these patients is 77 years, and, unfortunately, many of them have survived family and friends and are quite alone in this world.

Those participating in the open house program feel that the patients in their homes will receive a tremendous psychological lift if large numbers of interested citizens take the time to visit briefly on Mother's Day. And, based on last year's observance, when nearly one million persons visited homes throughout the country, they have good reason to so believe. Many of the patients talked for weeks afterwards about the excitement and pleasure they experienced on that occasion.

We heartily endorse the idea and suggest that you drop in at a nursing home near you on Mother's Day. It would be nice to bring along a token gift, a flower from your garden for example, and really brighten the day of an aging, sometimes lonesome, patient.

A. L. [Ace] Davis THANKS VOTERS

To the voters of Constable Precinct 1, I would first like to thank you for your support given me on May 4th, and also ask that those who couldn't see fit to vote for me at that time, please reconsider. I would ask for and appreciate your help and influence on June 1st.

Again I would say I feel I am qualified by experience to handle the job. Though I know my age has been discussed, and it is true I am several years older than my opponent, I ask for no sympathy, nor do I apologize for my age, because I have never failed at any time to fulfill and perform my duties. I have always been ready and available when called upon by my fellow officers to assist in any way I could. So should you see fit to elect me your constable for another term I will strive every day to see that you will not be sorry for your faith shown in me. Should the time ever arrive that I cannot perform my duties in a manner that you and I cannot be proud of, I would gladly step down and give the job to one who could.

Again I say thank you to each and every one of you for your help and words of encouragement.

COTTON PICKIN'S

Rolling Plains cotton farmers have signed up to divert 331,167 of the 1,181,552 acres allotted to them for planting in 1968, a survey by the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., disclosed this week.

This is 28 per cent of the acreage allotted to area farmers and compares with 24.6 per cent diverted by producers throughout the state.

Of the state's total allotment of 6,091,717 acres, producers signed up to divert 1,497,908 acres during the March sign-up period.

Maximum total acreage in the Rolling Plains that may be planted in 1968 under the diversion program is $20,282 acres. Based on projected yields determined for the 32 counties in RPLCG, the estimated potential production for the area is 418,192 bales.

Haskell County farmers, with an allotment of 112,276 acres, the highest of 32 counties in RPLCG, placed 30,648 acres into the diversion program for a 27.3 percentage figure. The county's projected yield is placed at 324 pounds to the acre, giving the county a potential of 53,088 bales; the highest bale volume in the area for 1968.

SAGERTON NEWS

MRS. DELBERT LEFEVRE

The good weather that we have had lately has enabled farmers in this community to get their ground plowed and their maize planted. Although some of the ground was plowed too wet, the farmers were thankful they have gotten this much done.

The L.O.C. Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Delbert LeFevre Thursday afternoon, May 2, with the Haskell County Home Demonstration Agent, Ruth Ann Fansler, as their guest.

Mrs. Wilma Tiechelmann presided during the business meeting. Amanda Tiechelmann brought the council report. The program was given by Miss Fansler and Hilda Kieke and Amanda Tiechelmann. They gave interesting tips on home decoration and furnishings.

Refreshments were served to Miss Fansler, Mrs. Hilda Kieke, Mrs. Lewis Corzine, Mrs. Fred Kupatt, Mrs. A. C. Knippling, Mrs. Herbert Nierdieck, Mrs. Amanda Tiechelmann, Mrs. Wilma Tiechelmann, Mrs. Mildred Jordan and the hostess. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Herbert Nierdieck.

Kris Kupatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kupatt, and a kindergarten student, became very ill Thursday after she came home from school and was taken to Hendrick Memorial Hospital Friday morning where her illness was diagnosed as schigilla. By Sunday, she was on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schaack accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Herman Raphael of Stamford to Seymour Sunday for the confirmation of Garland Raphael at the Lutheran Church there. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Raphael.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swofford and children and Mr. Swofford's parents, from Stamford, went to Weatherford Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Laughlin of Rochester were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reece Clark Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Whit Clark of Rotan spent the week-end here with Mrs. John Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff LeFevre visited with Mr. and Mrs. Skeets Jameson and sons at Matador Sunday.

Mrs. Ione Sheid of Rule visited with Mrs. John Clark here Wednesday and Thursday of last week. They went to Anson one day to visit with Mrs. Ethel Littlefield and Mrs. Hester Littlefield and Mrs. Fowler.

We are very proud that Rickey Lehmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norvell Lehmann, will be valedictorian of the eighth grade class at Rule Junior High. Rickey is a good athlete as well as a good student, making a good combination.

The students from this community who are graduating from high school this year are: Yvonne Ross and Ray Clark from Rule High, Sammy Bell from Old Glory High, Lyndell Quade and Gary Spitzer from Stamford High.

Clayton Stegemoller and Kent LeFevre attended the State Track Meet in Austin last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Kupatt from Fredricksburg came to visit with their granddaughter, Kris, who is a patient at Hendrick Memorial Hospital and with Mrs. Kupatt's brother, John Franke, a former resident of Sagerton, who is very ill at St. Ann's Hospital in Abilene. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kupatt and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kupatt and family near Rule.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxey Thompson of Irving were here over the week-end to visit Mrs. John L. Brooks and Buelah Mae Summers.

Slowly and somewhat sadly the railroad tracks for the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad that went from Stamford to Spur, coming through Sagerton, are being taken up. They are being hauled by truck to Sagerton and loaded on railroad cars on the Santa Fe here. Is this what we call progress?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Children's Development Center 1382 South LaSalle Drive Abilene, Texas

Editor Haskell Free Press Haskell, Texas

Dear Sir:

We are so grateful for your help in making our recent rummage sale a great success. Through the efforts of the members of the First Baptist Church, the residents of Haskell and surrounding areas contributed many good items which were sold at the sale.

The proceeds from this sale are being used for a summer camp for retarded children, to send Abilene TARS (Teen Aid Retarded) to the State Convention in San Antonio, and $1,500.00 has been contributed to the building fund of Children's Development Center. Clothing and useable items not sold were donated to Abilene State School. Friends like you have helped to make this possible.

The Children's Development Center is a pre-school diagnostic and training center for mentally retarded children. There are approximately fifteen children enrolled here every year who receive training in socialization, language development, self-care, economic usefulness, music, arts and crafts, and physical development. They also receive all the services available at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. We depend upon United Fund, tuition, and contributions as our means of support, so you can see why the success of the rummage sale was gratifying.

Several of the children who have attended Children's Development Center were originally from Haskell and there probably will be more in the future. Your cooperation with our program will help to insure them a good program.

We would like to extend to you an invitation to attend the Spring Exercise, May 28, 1968 at 10:00 A. M.

Sincerely,
Parents of Children presently and previously enrolled in Children's Development Center.

NURSING HOME WEEK TO BE OBSERVED MAY 12-18

Nursing homes in Texas today announced that they are joining in "The Better Life Program" being sponsored by the Texas Nursing Home Association.

In embarking on the program, James P. Baker, president of the Texas Nursing Home Association, said that member nursing homes would participate in a statewide Open House program on Mother's Day, May 12, that will mark the beginning of Texas Nursing Home Week, May 12-18.

The theme for Texas Nursing Home Week is "Nursing Homes: For the Better Life" and reflects the new program of the Texas Nursing Home Association to provide a better life for the nation's elderly, and the convalescent and chronically ill of all ages who are patients in long term care facilities.

"We are joining with the 7,200 member homes of the American Nursing Home Association in a massive nationwide effort to see that not a single patient is missed during the Mother's Day visitation program," Mr. Baker declared.

"Mother's Day has been chosen for the open house because two out of three patients in nursing homes are women. We who have worked with the aged on a day-to-day basis know that loneliness—despite all we can do ourselves as professionals—is borne by too, too many of our patients. Tens of thousands of them have outlived families and friends and feel that the community has passed them by and forgotten them," he added.

Officials of the Texas Nursing Home Association have expressed the hope that 100,000 persons will visit nursing homes this Mother's Day between the hours of two and five p. m.

Mr. Baker said that nursing homes in Texas will contact church groups, youth organizations, and other community groups to help assure success of the Mother's Day program.

During nursing home week, Mr. Baker said, nursing home leaders, owners and administrators, will make themselves available to address community groups to tell them the modern day nursing home story.

"Today's modern nursing home provides more than tender loving care, or even medical, nursing and personal care. The modern nursing home helps to provide for the rehabilitation, recreational and spiritual needs of life," he said.

"There is a definite need to involve individuals and community groups for volunteer programs in nursing homes as part of our 'better life program' for our patients," he added. There are in this country 13,100 nursing homes with more than 705,000 beds plus an additional 6,000 facilities providing personal care for nearly 150,000 persons.

Attend Training Meeting At WF

Roy D. Wiseman of Star Route, Haskell, FCI Fieldman, is in Wichita Falls, Texas, attending a training meeting.

The session opened Wednesday, May 8th, and will continue through today, Thursday, May 9th, for the purpose of discussing improved, faster methods for making crop loss payments to insured farmers in event of disastrous damage.

It is a program the U. S. Department of Agriculture offers to help farmers protect their big crop production investment against all such risks as wind, drought, hail, insects, freeze, excessive moisture, heat and many others.

Stitching And Stewing

By Ruth Ann Fansler
County H. D. Agent

Buyers frequently misunderstood or completely ignored the term "colorfast" when purchasing textile furnishings for the home. Many overlook the importance of securing colorfastness in home fabrics because it is most commonly associated with the washability of apparel fabrics.

Towels, table and bed linens and similar furnishings require dyes which keep their colors fresh and bright through repeated washings. But washability or colorfastness to laundering is only one side of the coin.

Colorfastness relates to a fabric's ability to maintain its fresh, true color through repeated dry cleanings, exposure to harsh sunlight, wear or rubbing in service, or stains caused by body perspiration.

Because curtain and drapery fabrics, normally are exposed to sunlight for long periods of time, prevention against sunlight fading is an important consideration when selecting any draperies or fabric. Carpeting, upholstered furniture and fabric wall coverings exposed to sunlight may also show pronounced streaking, spotting and other discolorations if not color fast to sunlight.

Some fabric dyes are effected by perspiration and should not be used on upholstered or slip-covered furniture in areas that might come in contact with the skin. Color bleeding or running on the arms or back of upholstered furniture may indicate that dyes used are not colorfast to perspiration.

Crocking, another form of poor colorfastness, occurs when the dyes in a fabric rub off when exposed to hard wear.

Household fabrics present a big and costly challenge to consumers. Selection must be based on the best material for a specific end use.

Two standards for selecting your furnishings fabrics: family's individual wear, use and serviceability needs and be sure to use colorfast textiles.

CLIFFORD THOMAS

Sincere Appreciation AND Some Facts

To the voters of Precinct One, I want to Thank You for your vote and support given me in last Saturday's primary which put me in the run-off and want to assure you that your continued support will be appreciated. To those whose candidate did not get in the run-off, I want to solicit and will sincerely appreciate your vote and influence. The help and encouragement I have received has been very gratifying and with your continued help and my effort we should be able to become your next commissioner.

I want to assure you that I realize the time consuming duties of the office, how varied they are, how large the county's business is and the great responsibility the office carries. Consequently my full time will be spent in the interest of all the precinct.

Your commissioner should give you a good administration, see that the taxpayer gets full value for every dollar spent, carefully supervise work, employes, equipment, road maintenance of the precinct and give proper attention to other details that arise. The precinct's business should be run as efficiently as a well managed private business. This I believe the taxpayer has a right to expect of the man they elect. I feel I am qualified to give you this type of administration and will put forth every effort to do a job that will give you no reason to regret having supported me.

I will welcome suggestions or the discussion of any matter at any time by any person in the precinct.

If there is any question about my candidacy you would like to have answered, please feel free to ask.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

Iris have been exceptionally pretty this year and seem to have put on more blossoms than usual.

Mrs. Ralph Merchant gave me an Iris last week that had five open blooms and two buds. It was truly a blue ribbon winner. Mrs. Sam Scott also grew an Iris with seven blossoms.

Velma Cobb and I went out to the Sam Scotts' yesterday and we were enchanted with their garden...huge, red fluffy Poppy balls and blue, white and yellow Dutch Iris were the flower of the moment. There is an ever changing picture in the Scott yard.

Mrs. Kirby Kirkpatrick went to Orange last week and brought back an Amaryllis, propagated and grown from seed by her Aunt Georgia, the plant had four huge blossoms of orange and white. It took three years for the seedlings to grow and produce flowers.

Propagating Amaryllis and growing them room seed is a very interesting hobby to pursue. It is fun to watch the pods grow and swell and finally burst to reveal rows of tissue paper thin seed.

The seed should be planted at once and kept moist until they germinate and begin to grow. The baby plants will look like wide blade grass. Just before we left Abilene I propagated, planted and grew Amaryllis from seed. I had two that bloomed.

Mrs. Emmet Wyehe raised an African Amaryllis this year that had two eight-inch blossoms of red. She would have loved to exhibit the flower but it bloomed too late for a meeting of the Haskell Garden Club.

Mrs. Ewing Linton brought us some of her silage compost last week. I hope by using it, in our flower beds, we can raise as healthy plants as does Mrs. Linton. Compost holds moisture and also feeds plants.

Our banana plant lived through a hard winter and through moving it in the dead of winter. It now has one very large, healthy leaf. When my husband moved the plant, he put a plastic cover over it after he replanted the tuber.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

If you "goofed" on that 1967 Federal income tax return, 'X' marks the tax form. THAT IS, if you overlooked some items, or have discovered some errors and need to file an amended return, Internal Revenue has a brand new, specially-designed, yellow-colored, Form 1040-X for you to use in filing that amended return. It simply corrects the errors.

1040-X forms are available at all IRS offices. Drop by and get a 1040-X and, by the way—do it right this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Yandell Gilbert, of Downey, California, were in Haskell Saturday for a short visit with friends. Mr. Downey is a native of Haskell, and moved to California in 1921.

The Downeys had been visiting in East Texas, Alabama and Mississippi, and were enroute home when they stopped off for a visit here.

VISIT HEMISFAIR

Mrs. Dudley Phelps and her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Karen returned home Sunday following a trip to Austin and a visit through the Capitol; San Marcos to visit the aquatic gardens and Aquarena, then on to San Antonio where they toured Brackenridge Park with its color-splashed Oriental Sunken Garden, and spent the day, Saturday, at HemisFair.

On their return trip they came by way of Johnson City to view the boyhood home of President Lyndon Johnson and on by "The Texas White House," LBJ Ranch.

A Record Breaking Vote RECEIVES A Record Breaking Gratitude

I want to express my sincere appreciation for all those who voted for me and helped in any way in my campaign.

To those who voted for my opponent, I want to say that I hold no ill will or reservations. Freedom and a free country gives each of us the privilege to vote for whom we please and I respect and do my best to protect that right.

The voters of Haskell County have set a record in that you have allowed me the privilege of serving you more consecutive years than any other man as your sheriff, and I want to assure each and every one of you that I will put forth every effort to merit the confidence placed in me by doing my best to serve in a manner that will please all the people.

I want to express my sincere appreciation for the wonderful cooperation I have had from the people while serving as your sheriff. Your cooperation means much in good law enforcement and without it I would not have been able to do as good a job as I have.

AGAIN I WANT TO SAY "THANK YOU"
