

Famed H-SU Cowboy Band To Head County Fair Parade Here, October 31

The best known and most widely traveled collegiate musical organization in the world, the famed Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band, of Abilene, will lead the downtown street parade here at 4:00 p. m. on the opening day of the Haskell County Fair, Thursday, October 31st. C. O. Holt, parade chairman, announced.

Since it was organized in 1923, the colorful band has traveled more than a million miles on tours and for other public appearances.

It has gone on four overseas tours, visiting most of Europe and several Atlantic islands and spending a month in Japan. It also has performed over much of the North American continent, including 40 states of the U. S., Canada and Mexico.

The band's latest foreign tour was in 1965 when it traveled throughout Japan, playing concerts in the Japan Baptist New Life Movement.

The Cowboy musicians made their first overseas trip in 1930 when the band visited England, France, Belgium and Holland on a professionally sponsored tour. The second was in December and January of 1952-53 and took the band to Iceland, England, France, Germany, Austria and Italy, under auspices of United Services Organization for overseas military personnel.

The vaunted band was sponsored again in December and January of 1957-58 by the Military Air Transport Service. That tour carried the group to Iceland, Scotland, the Azores and Bermuda.

The Cowboy Band played for President Eisenhower's inauguration in 1953, has performed for several Texas gubernatorial inaugurations and for Lions, VFW, and Kiwanis International conventions in New Orleans, San Francisco, New York, Chicago, Detroit and Dallas. It has appeared in most other major cities of the nation.

The H-SU Band has appeared with Bob Hope, Gene Autry, Bing Crosby and Paul Whiteman, and has given performances for Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, King George and Queen Mary of England, Vice President Richard Nixon, and Presidents Hoover, Roosevelt and Eisenhower.

Will Rogers gave the band its first funds for the purchase of music.

Rotary Club Members Hear Bob Connel

"Criticizing others usually shows our own weakness," Bob Connel, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ told members of the Rotary Club and guests at last Thursday's noon-day luncheon session at Felker's Restaurant dining room.

Charles McCauley was program chairman for the day and introduced the guest speaker.

Using as his subject "Judge Not, Let Us Be Judged by the Same Judgment," Mr. Connel pointed out the evils of criticism, and that most of the criticism of our fellowman stems from jealousy.

Prior to moving to Haskell with his wife and two young sons in July of this year, Mr. Connel served as minister of the Western Avenue Church of Christ at Liberal, Kansas.

R. C. Couch Jr., president, presided over the meeting. H. V. Woodard led the singing, with Mrs. Henry Withers at the piano. Invocation was given by Bill Ratliff.

Guests noted were Paul Uska and Chester Osborne of Abilene and Haskell High School senior student guests, Bruce Young and Bill Lane.

Haskell Gets Fire Insurance Key Rate Drop

AUSTIN: Haskell was among seven West Texas towns which received reductions on September 15 in fire insurance key rates as a result of action by the State Board of Insurance.

The state agency arrives at the key rate through a system of charges, for fire hazards and credits for fire prevention practices in the city.

The board set the key rate for Haskell at 30 cents, down one cent. This lowering will mean that fire insurance buyers will save about $626 if they buy the same amount of coverage this year as they bought last year.

Haskell had a total of 36 cents in charges and six cents in credit.

The mishap occurred near Elsie's Hi-Lander, South Avenue E.

Miss Wilkinson received a deep gash on her head and bruises about the body, and Miss Woodard was treated for scratches and bruises.

Both vehicles, the 1962 Corvair driven by Miss Woodard, and the truck driven by B. D. Green of Cisco, were traveling north at the time of the accident.

A Holden-McCauley ambulance rushed the young ladies to the emergency room at the hospital.

Investigating officer, City Police Chief T. P. Barnett, estimated around $350.00 damage resulted to the Corvair. Damage to the truck was minor.

Riding Club Winner of 13 Trophies Out of 13 Road Trips This Season

The Haskell County Sheriff's posse, competing against twelve area riding units for parade honors, placed third at the Clay County Pioneers Association Reunion at Henrietta last Thursday, and rode in the grand entry at the rodeo that night.

President, Gene Hunter, said that thirteen riders made the trek to Henrietta, which incidentally marked the thirteenth outing this season for the colorful Haskell County Sheriff's posse, and the club has brought home thirteen parade honor trophies, including eight first places, two second places and three third places.

Honors include first at Paducah, Throckmorton, Stamford, Rotan, Santa Fe, New Mexico, Seymour, Post and Graham; second at Sun Angelo and Brownwood, and third at Olney, Baird and Henrietta.

Last Thursday's outing wound-up the season as far as out-of-county trips are concerned; however, Hunter said the club will go to Rochester on the morning of October 31 on a "good will mission", and then will perform in the parade that afternoon in Haskell, which will officially get the big Haskell County three-day fair underway.

Led by the hard-running of Charles Franklin, the mighty Haskell Indian Warriors tracked down the Seymour Panthers here last Friday night and skinned the visitors 33-0.

Franklin toted the pigskin 20 times, picking up 183 yards and two touchdowns. He made beautiful romps and four yards to lead the scoring parade.

Indian Quarterback, Lanny Ivy, also did his share. The field leader passed to Gary Felker for a four-yard marker, sneaked across from the two for another, and kicked one point.

Other Indian scoring came from Wayne Reeves, who ripped across from four yards out, and John Martinez ran for a two-point conversion.

The scoreless Panthers were stymied by a strong Indian defense. The Seymour aggression made only 137 yards offense, while the Indians rolled to 449.

Special Attractions Will Add Interest To Haskell County Fair

All country and western musicians, bands and singers are invited to attend the country and western musical night, Saturday, November 2, at 6:30 p. m. at the Haskell County Fair Grounds. All musicians will be admitted free in exchange for their entertainment.

Glen Mack, radio announcer for station KDWT, Stamford, will be master of ceremonies for this occasion and feature of the 1968 Haskell County Fair.

An old-time fiddlers' contest will be held in conjunction with the western musical and will be staged at 9:00 p. m. on the same night. This contest will be judged and trophies for 1st, 2nd and 3rd places will be awarded. All local fiddlers who are past 50 years of age are encouraged to compete in this old-time contest. Interested persons may contact Clarence Meir of Haskell.

A gospel singing will be held at the fair grounds on Thursday night, Oct. 31, and quartets, duets, choirs and soloists are invited to participate in this feature attraction. Hallie E. Chapman and Tom Watson of Haskell will be in charge of the gospel singing and should be contacted in regard to entry.

These special attractions of the annual fair will have a proper setting as they will be held in a large tent rented especially for this part of the program.

James Powell, co-owner of the Haskell Livestock Auction, told of the big expansion program in facilities and added acreage the past two years. When Powell and Pete Burkhalter purchased the business in May 1966 there were only six acres of land, but now has been expanded to 36.2 acres including a rodeo arena.

"We now have 156 pens, and run an average of 1,000 cattle through the ring each week, plus a number of hogs," Powell said.

"Our feed lots are a big factor in the operation of the business, and many buyers from a wide trade area, including many from out-of-state, make our sales," Powell said.

"During 1967, a total of 42,414 head of cattle moved through the auction ring, and we will hit probably better than 45,000 in 1968, as already some 35,035 head of cattle have been sold this year," the speaker said.

"Over 47 people are employed by Haskell Livestock Auction and the business grossed over four million dollars in 1967," Powell pointed out.

"In addition to cattle, we are getting the hog industry back on firm footing in Haskell," Powell said.

"Presxy" Hess Hartsfield presided over the meeting. Wallace Cox, Jr., led the singing, with Judy Therwanger at the piano. Invocation was given by Dr. Frank Cadenhead.

Virgil Cobb was a guest at the meeting.

HASKELL YOUNG HOMEMAKERS CHAPTER TOPS IN THE AREA

The Haskell Young Homemakers attended the 6th annual convention for Area IV Young Homemakers of Texas last Saturday in Brownwood. The beautiful Riverside Motor Hotel hosted both Young Homemakers and Young Farmers in a day of continuous activity. There are 19 affiliated chapters of Young Homemakers in Area IV with a total of 300 members. Eight of these members attended from Haskell.

Haskell ladies set up tables before registration period and also set up a display of the ever popular poppies that were made in club workshop this last summer. The session was opened with the sound of the president's gavel and an invocation. Greetings were brought by Miss Lawynn Rister, the Area IV F.H.A. president.

Recognition was given to many including: the past state officers, the outstanding Young Homemakers in all chapters, and the Little Sisters of the F.H.A. Mrs. W. P. McCollum received a special certificate of recognition for being outstanding advisor in Area IV work. Mrs. Waymond McBroom received a lovely red carnation corsage for appreciation of her work as vice president of Area IV. The emblem service was brought by the Early chapter. Haskell was represented by two voting delegates, Mrs. Jerry Sorrellis and Mrs. Wynette Mullins. They voted on several proposed changes in the Area Constitution.

The program was a great delight to all who were present. Mrs. Waymond McBroom introduced the guest speaker, Dr. W. Clark Elzey, a professor at Texas Tech University. Dr. Elzey, outstanding in his field, is a marriage counselor and counsels on the Tech campus. He was very humorous but also gave excellent advice to the young and older married women there.

The new Area officers were elected and presented by candlelight ceremony in the general session. Mrs. Jimmy Hanzs from the Haskell Chapter, was proclaimed Area Parliamentarian. The outgoing president, Mrs. Gayle Baker, presented a beautiful farewell speech, but spirits were restored to happiness with a drawing for door prizes brought by the various chapters. The door prize from Haskell chapter was a study lamp, generously donated by Sherman's. The program was closed by the new Area IV president, Mrs. Elton McDonald of Comanche. A tour was then taken to the General MacArthur Academy of Freedoms which is an Extension of the Howard Payne College in Brownwood. The academy building was found to be a breath-taking example of new and old architecture, delicately fused together for its future use by academy students. The tour will long be remembered by those who attended.

The evening brought the 7th Annual Awards Banquet for the Young Farmers and the Young Homemakers. The banquet took place at the Chisholm Restaurant with a great number attending.

Introduction of all special guests was followed by greetings from Lawynn Rister, Area IV F.H.A. president, and Joe Byers, Area IV F.F.A. president. The entertainment, which was one of the highlights of the evening, was presented by the Comanche F.F.A. Talent Team, who won the state competition.

The speaker for the evening was humorous Jake Billingsley, from Texas Power & Light in Dallas. The special awards, which had been eagerly awaited all year, were presented by Mrs. Gayle Baker for Young Homemakers and by Mr. Vic Isham for Young Farmers. This Awards Banquet was highly rewarding for the Young Homemakers from Haskell. Mrs. W. P. McCollum, along with two other chapter advisors, was presented a gold plaque designating her as an honorary member of the Area IV Young Homemakers. Mrs. McCollum has proved to be an outstanding advisor, teacher, homemaker, mother and wife. The Haskell Young Homemakers treasure her guidance.

Haskell Chapter was chosen the Outstanding Chapter for 1968 out of 19 chapters in the Area. Miles County Chapter was given second place. This award is the most coveted award given at the banquet. It proves that it takes a team of interested and dedicated young women with a goal toward more than glory for the club, but a goal of recognition for an outstanding community such as Haskell.

Naomi Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church Installs Officers

The Naomi Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church, met September 23 in the educational building for a business and social meeting.

Mrs. J. C. Yearly installed the officers for the coming year.

She used "Apples of Gold" for her installation theme, taken from Greek Mythology and Proverbs 25:11.

Mrs. Yearly quoted "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

Each officer as she was installed, was reminded of some fitly spoken word and was given a golden apple to add to the picture.

To the teacher, Miss Betty Jo Clanton and assistant teacher, Mrs. Norman Nanny, the word fitly spoken by the teacher must be words of wisdom.

To the president, Mrs. R. A. Lane, her golden apple represented words of Leadership in the picture.

To Mrs. Myron Biard, vice-president, her golden apple represented words of Understanding.

To Mrs. Oscar Oates, secretary, words of dependability and accuracy.

To the four group captains, Mrs. Scarborough, words of compassion; to Mrs. Speck Sorenson, words of kindness; to Mrs. E. H. Burnett, words of hospitality, and to Mrs. Robert Sego, words of happiness; and to the card and flower chairman, Mrs. Bud Derr, words of concern.

When the word picture was completed the class was challenged to consider well the words used during the coming year.

Mrs. Yearly said, "May each of you feel that you can say each day:

"God gave me something very sweet, to be mine own today; a precious opportunity, a word, for Christ, to say."

In closing, Mrs. Yearly reminded the class members: "Words must be spoken at the right time, in the right place, and with the right motive."

Refreshments were served to the following:

Miss Betty Clanton, Mrs. Buster Shelton, Mrs. W. P. Trice, Mrs. Bill Carter, Mrs. John P. Payne, Mrs. Clyde Bland, Mrs. R. A. Lane, Mrs. W. V. Felker, Mrs. Ruby Smith, Mrs. C. V. Schwartz, Miss Nettie McCollum, Mrs. Speck Sorenson, Mrs. Bud Derr, Mrs. W. L. Scarborough, Mrs. C. W. Atchison, Mrs. D. C. Wester, Mrs. C. C. Childress, Mrs. Leslie Medford.

Introducing the new Lincoln-Mercury cars.

Three different cars you've never seen before, for people who have never been in our showroom before.

New Marquis. The most dramatically styled car since the Continental Mark III.

You won't see a medium-priced car like this in any other showroom. Marquis has a dramatic elegance, a majestic beauty that only the creators of the Continental Mark III could make. With this styling and the surprising price, you have no excuse to settle for a dull little car.

New Marauder X-100. Now you don't have to sacrifice comfort if you want a sporty road car.

A full-size road car with more thrills per inch than anything that has ever been in our showroom. You get a choice of bench, twin-comfort, or bucket seats; styled aluminum wheels, a horn that blows by squeezing the steering wheel rim, a 429-cu. in., 4-barrel V-8 and rakish fender skirts—all standard.

New American Cougar with a continental accent.

Cougar owners will tell you how much fun they are to drive. That hasn't changed. But the looks have. Compare it to the foreign sports cars. Anything the Europeans can do we can do better. Cougar is now available as a convertible. And Cougar continues to be the best-equipped luxury sports car in its class. A big 351-cubic inch V-8 is standard. So are concealed headlamps, sequential rear turn signals and bucket seats.

Mrs. Withers Entertains The Esther Circle

Mrs. Henry Withers entertained the Esther Circle of the United Methodist Church, Wednesday morning, September 10.

Mrs. C. G. Carney read Paul's sermon on Mar's Hill from Acts II.

Mrs. Virgil Bailey directed the program on current events and Christian responsibility. Her lesson was taken from an article, "The Hour Is Late," by John Adams. Mr. Adams stated that the hour is late for the urban crisis and we have only heard the prelude. Christians must work together for changed attitudes and should read the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders Report and the New Testament together.

The report, says Mr. Adams, should be studied in the churches with a real sense of urgency and its conclusions should be used as a basis for Christian mission now.

Mr. Adams further stated that exposure and participation in the urban crisis will not be easy and will require courage and tenacity, coupled with faith and commitment.

Mr. Fields quotes George MacLeod who writes, "Jesus was not crucified in a cathedral between two candles, but on a cross between two thieves; on a crossroads so cosmopolitan that they had to write his title in Hebrew and Latin and Greek; at the kind of place where cynics talk smut, and thieves curse, and soldiers gamble. Because that is where he died and that is what he died about. And that is where churchmen should be and that is what churchmen should be about."

Circle members present were Mrs. Withers, Bailey, Carney, Kenneth Lane, Roy Gamble, Wallace Cox, Jr., Jarrell Sharp, Mart Clifton and Howard Hopkins.

Unite! Act! Share! Theme Of B&PW Club

With the president, Miss Nettie McCollum presiding, the Business and Professional Women's Club met for their regular session, Tuesday night in the community room, Haskell National Bank.

Mrs. Ozell Frierson presented the new year books, and gave the theme for the new year: Unite! Share! Act!

Unite, as program committee to carry out yearly program. Act, by presenting to membership a coordinated workable program dealing on local needs and identifying the club with national program.

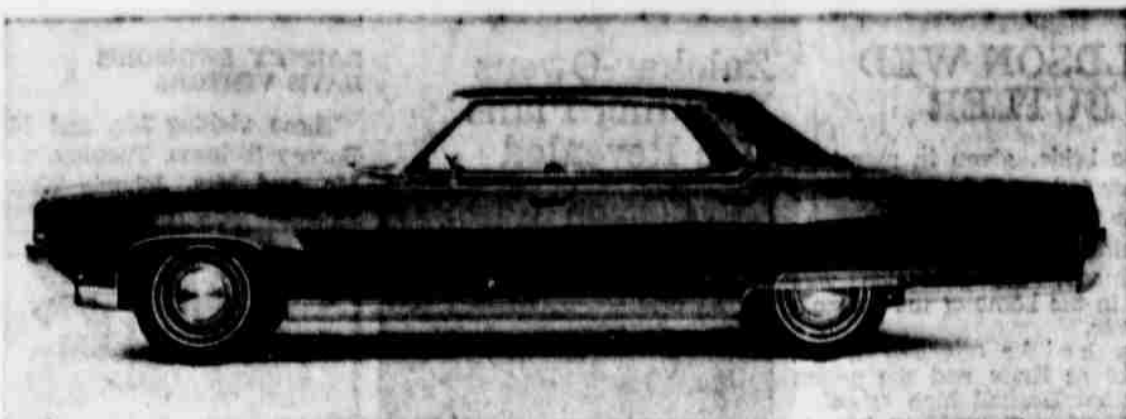

Mrs. Howell Greene gave an interesting talk on B&PW. Mrs. Henry Withers introduced two new members, Mrs. John Watson and Mrs. Clyde Bland. Each new member repeated the club pledge and were presented a certificate of membership.

Tuesday night's program was presented by the membership committee. The telephone committee was hostess for the evening.

spired to endure another 45 years. As the new administration says... "Now is the Time."

Munday Area Is Well Established For Primary Vegetable Producing

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has set up research activities in the Munday area to serve expanding vegetable production in this Rolling Plains region.

This announcement was made by Dr. H. O. Kunkel, acting director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Dean of Agriculture, Texas A&M University. Dr. Kunkel explained that plans are underway for the establishment of the Rolling Plains Vegetable Research Center in Munday.

"Opportunities are excellent for a vegetable industry that will bring in an additional $10-million annually here. Vegetable production is one of the major agricultural industries in this area, and the location is important to the over-all production within the State since it links a continuous operation during harvest seasons with the South Texas and the High Plains Sections," stated Kunkel.

The full research program will begin in September 1969 at which time laboratory facilities, offices and a green house will be constructed by the Experi-

VA Questions and Answers

Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—May I borrow on my G. I. Insurance to help pay college expenses for my son and daughter?

A—If you have a permanent plan G. I. insurance policy, you may borrow up to 94 per cent of the cash value of the policy. The interest charge is 4 per cent.

Q—Last year I attended college under the G. I. Bill. I plan to return to school this fall, but desire to enter a different college. Must I notify the VA in advance?

A—Yes. This will allow VA to process your payments much quicker and will permit them to issue you a new Certificate of Eligibility for the school of your choice.

Q—I am a service-connected disabled veteran rated 50 per cent disabled. My son is 22 years of age, is a Post-Korean veteran, and is enrolled in school under the new G. I. Bill. Am I still eligible for additional compensation?

A—Yes, you may be eligible for additional compensation (until your son reaches age 23) although he is receiving educational benefits as a veteran.

Q—My husband, who served in the Army just before World War II, is now very ill. If he dies, is he eligible for the VA burial allowance and the flag for his casket?

A—Since he is not a wartime veteran, he would not qualify for the $250 burial allowance unless he receives compensation for a service-connected injury or was discharged for disabilities received in line of duty. However, if he served at least one enlistment and was honorably discharged during peacetime he is eligible for a burial flag to drape his casket.

Q—When does the time expire for seriously disabled veterans to apply for an allowance for an automobile?

A—There is no longer any time limit; the previous limitation has been removed. Your nearest VA office can provide the proper form to apply for the VA payment (not to exceed $1,600) for veterans who have lost—or permanently lost the use of—one or both hands or feet, or suffered severe permanent impairment of vision of both eyes. But one word of caution: Do not agree to the purchase of any automobile before you have received VA's written approval.

Q—I understand that the guaranteed portion of G. I. home loans has been raised. Is this true?

A—Yes. It has been increased to $12,500. Q—I have read references to Viet-Nam era service. What does this mean? A—Active duty service on or after August 5, 1964, is considered Viet-Nam era service.

Want To Be A Combat Engineer; Then Check With Army Recruiter

An Army unit on patrol in Vietnam comes to a wide river; its mission is to cross it. Combat Engineers are called to construct a bridge for them.

The Army captures a strategic hill and must hold it. To do so they need a fortified command post. The Combat Engineers build it.

Combat Engineers have been around since warfare began. They build roads and bridges—or destroy them if necessary. They build runways for aircraft. They construct elaborate supply complexes including ports for ships to deliver supplies. And they build command posts and fortifications. Since their work is performed in combat areas, they must also be prepared to fight when necessary.

Soldiers first—builders second. That is the Combat Engineers.

But to become a Combat Engineer requires specialized training in the use of construction tools and equipment. To provide this training the Army operates one of the largest construction training schools anywhere. There are more than 32 separate courses of training in specific enlisted jobs at the Corps of Engineers Center at Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Some men are trained to become welders, carpenters, painters, masons, plumbers or other craftsmen. Others are trained to become specialists in soil analysis, camouflage, water supply or fire fighting. And while these specialties are not strictly construction they are related and important to combat engineering.

All of the training and experience gained as a Combat

Engineer is useful, not only to the Army, but, in civilian life later.

For additional information about becoming a Combat Engineer and training in a construction craft, see SSG. Donald R. Hollister, your local Army recruiter at 2110, 2nd floor, P. O. Building, Abilene. He has details on more than 300 job training opportunities in the Army.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

In a few days high school principals throughout the nation will get a letter from the Internal Revenue Service. Every year at this time IRS proves that they do, indeed, give something away. About 750 schools in the Northern half of Texas will order free teaching material for more than 100,000 students. Across the nation, more than 25,000 schools will order for 4 1/2 million students. Our nation's teachers, with the help of Internal Revenue's Teaching Taxes material, puts these students a jump ahead of the rest of us in preparing our income tax return each year. In view of their own experience, most of the parents feel that the young folks need this kind of learning. The parents also readily understand why the students make far less errors than their parents after the income tax course. In some communities they offer this training for adults. Maybe your memory of April 15 is still strong enough to get you to promote a little tax training for adults in your community.

Cowboy Band:

and popular music, the Cowboy Band stands ready to parade or put on a stage show in its colorful western regalia. The members take pride in being typical, but not flashy. Wearing gold shirts, faded levi's, cowboy boots and hats, purple neckerchiefs and worn, scarred leather chaps, the band is easily identified as Texan.

up the usual marching pace of about 130 steps per minute to a speedy 220, and their swishing, flapping chaps make the pace appear even faster. The band perfected its own "cow-step"—a zig-zag, slow-motion movement that ends with a whirl and cowboy yell—for use in parades.

Specialty acts accompanying the band include a trick and fancy roper, bull-whip artist, baton twirlers and vocalists.

Director of the Cowboy Band is Marion B. McClure, who joined it as a student and became director in 1954.

Some of the band members are music majors in the H-SU School of Music, but just as many are not. They may be majoring in business, education, sciences, pre-law or pre-medicine.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Set October 12

Boys, ages 8 through 13, of Haskell and immediate area, are invited to display their football talents in punting, passing and kicking in the annual Nationwide punt, pass and kick competition to be held on the Indian practice field just back of the high school gym, Haskell, beginning at 1:00 p. m., Saturday, October 12th.

Bill Wilson Motor Company will award a trophy to each of the top three boys in each of the six age groups between 8 and 13. Local winners will advance to higher level competitions sponsored by the Ford dealers of American and the National Football League.

For each succeeding win in zone, district, area division and national competition, handsome trophies are awarded in addition to the local awards presented by the Bill Wilson Motor Company.

J. B. Gipson and Dee Larned of the Bill Wilson Motor Company pointed out that the punt, pass and kick contest involves no body contact and that every boy has an equal chance to win since each competes only against boys his own age.

There is no charge for entering the contest, with registration at the Bill Wilson Motor Company.

Entrants will be judged on distance and accuracy of their punting, passing and kicking, with points awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly. Points will be subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center pin.

All boys, between the ages of 8 through 13 are invited to take part in the 1968 Punt, Pass and Kick competition.

There is no cost for entering the contest, but boys in the age group mentioned above must register and have parents countersign the entry form.

Forms should be picked-up now at the Bill Wilson Motor Company in order to be ready on contest day, Saturday, October 12th.

Boys who will become 14 years of age prior to January 5th are not eligible to enter.

SIXTY NEW WAYS TO FAST PROMOTION IN THE ARMY

There are 60 new ways to fast promotion in the Army according to SSG. Kelpinger.

These are Army jobs included in the Skill Development Base Program established in June 1967. This special program is designed to meet shortages in the middle enlisted grades of sergeant and staff sergeant.

The program is divided into two separate categories. The Non-Commissioned Officer Candidate courses produce Junior tactical leaders. The Increased Skill Level Training Courses instruct future supervisors and technical specialists in specific Army jobs.

The NCO Candidate Courses are being conducted at Fort Benning, Georgia; Fort Knox, Kentucky; and Fort Sill, Okla.

In this program, a soldier may earn staff sergeant rank in as little as 10 months military service. Candidates are promoted to corporal upon entering the course and to sergeant after successfully completing the 12 week academic phase of training. At that time up to five per cent of each class can make staff sergeant. An additional six per cent can be promoted to that grade after the eight week on-the-job training phase.

The Increased Skill Level Training Program has 13 courses now in progress at various locations throughout the U. S. Candidates in this program can reach the rank of sergeant after 12 weeks of training.

These programs depend heavily on volunteers. The majority of the candidates enter after graduation from Advanced Individual Training. An individual could enter the Army, attend basic and advanced training and within 16 weeks be enrolled in these special programs.

SSG. Kelpinger stated that these programs offer the industrious young man a tremendous opportunity for personal advancement while fulfilling his military obligation.

For further information, see SSG. Kelpinger at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 2110 2nd Floor, Post Office Building, Abilene, Texas.

BARBER ASSN. NO. 1

Albert Thane Enrolls Herd In Angus Assn.

Albert Thane, a registered Angus cattle breeder from near Haskell, has enrolled his herd in the American Angus Association's beef improvement program. The herd is scheduled to be classified in October by an official representative of the American Angus Association.

The program, called Angus Herd Improvement Records (AHIR) is designed to help cattlemen do a more professional job of breeding by measuring and recording the type, production and carcass producing qualities of his herd. All AHIR records are kept by the American Angus Association on a Honeywell 400 computer. These records are sent regularly on special forms to each Angus breeder enrolled in the AHIR program.

The official classifier will compare every animal in the herd against the ideal type Angus. Each integral part will be analyzed and a total score ranging down from an ideal of 100 points will be assigned to each heifer, cow and bull over one year of age.

When the classification is complete the American Angus Association's breed improvement department will compile a graph showing how the herd averaged on each part, such as feet and legs, head and neck, rump, loin, etc. A graph of each bull will also be made up on a transparent sheet of acetate. By placing the bull graph on top of the herd graph a breeder can quickly determine if his herd bulls can be expected to sire calves that are better on all points than the average of the herd.

Medicare Hosp. Deduction Goes Up In Jan. '69

Beginning in January, an older person who goes to the hospital under Medicare will be responsible for the first $44.00 of his hospital bill—now running about $600.00 for the average hospital stay by a Medicare beneficiary, R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene Social Security District Manager, said. The $4.00 increase (from the present $40.00 deductible) results from a provision in the law requiring an annual review of the deductible amount. The first such review the law provided, was to be made in 1968.

The law specifies that if this annual review shows that hospital costs have changed significantly, the hospital deductible amount must be adjusted for the following year. Necessary increases in the deductible amount are to be made in $4.00 steps to avoid small annual changes.

Following the formula in the law, and figuring the ratio of inpatient hospital costs under Medicare in 1966 with those in 1967, the deductible amount for 1969 worked out to $45.36. Rounded to the nearest multiple of $4.00, this will make the deductible $44.00 for 1969.

The results of the annual review of the inpatient hospital deductible also apply to the dollar amounts a Medicare beneficiary pays toward a hospital stay of more than 60 days, or a post-hospital extended care stay of more than 20 days.

These amounts therefore will also increase by 10 percent, effective January 1—to $11.00 a day for the 61st through the 90th day of a hospital stay; to $5.50 for the 20th to the 100th day of a stay in a post-hospital extended care facility; and to $22.00 a day for each day of the lifetime reserve of 60 days, the reserve account a beneficiary can draw upon if he ever needs more than 90 days of hospital care in the same benefit period. The changes in these amounts apply only to the hospital insurance part of Medicare and do not affect the financing of the supplementary medical insurance—the voluntary program which covers doctor bills and a wide variety of other medical services.

There Can Never Be Too Many Libraries

Editor's Note: The following article, "There Can Never Be Too Many Libraries," is a reprint from Ann Melvin's article which appeared in the July 26th edition of the Dallas Morning News:

Dear Ann Melvin, Don't you think it is redundant, possibly a waste of good money, to have a public library and a school library? Couldn't the one serve both? JOHN.

Dear John: Oh how I hate to write...but I must let you know you are wrong.

Ideally, every community should strive for the best possible school library AND the best possible public library.

To begin with, the school is the institution in the community designed to give formal education.

If the school does its job well, it should produce active, eager and curious children who spontaneously search for knowledge and intellectual pursuit outside the school.

One of the most important places to carry on this search is the public library.

THEN, TOO, THE people who use the public library are not limited to school age children.

There are expectant mothers who need books on child care, child development and a good Mother Goose book or two to browse through.

There are toddlers who need an inexhaustible supply of picture books.

There are children in private and parochial schools, and children who want books when the school may be closed on Saturdays, during vacations and summertime.

And, of course, there are the adults: the education circuit dropouts who have a hunger to learn on their own, the women who are keeping their minds from vegetating, the elderly who read young.

THE CHILDREN should not be limited to an adult library... wouldn't that be a dreary place!

But the true argument always for public libraries is that they

RIGHT OF GUN OWNERSHIP

The traditional right of individual U. S. citizens to own firearms has become a controversial issue as a result of the acts of beserk assassins and the rise of violence. So far, law abiding citizens have not become the victims of the extremists who would like to outlaw ownership of guns and subject the citizens to something approaching police-state type surveillance. In our deep concern over lawlessness, it would be easy to fall prey to needless and futile repression...futile, since curbing the liberty of the law-abiding has little bearing on the acts of law violators. The implications of the gun ownership questions are far-reaching.

The right of gun ownership is a heritage of the U. S. people that goes back to the founding of the nation. It is associated with the initiative and resourcefulness of an independent people. Our history is rich in the legends of the Daniel Boones, the Davy Crocketts and the host of trail-blazers who wrested the country from a wilderness. Before them, there was the formative era when the term American first assumed significance.

A deciding factor in the birth and growth of the nation was a superior ability with firearms. This ability was as much a part of American initiative as breathing, and it remains so to this day. The American rifleman is a living legend in competitive target matches, in the rangeland of the West, in the lore of hunters and in the defense of our homes.

HASKELL COUNTY HISTORY

30 YEARS AGO (September 27, 1938)

Mrs. W. N. Huckabee and daughter, Miss Eunice, have returned from a summer spent in Denver, Colorado.

Henry Wilson left last week for Austin College, Sherman, where he will pursue his studies this year.

Berries are a paying proposition in Haskell County, according to J. W. Driskell, who lives on a well-improved farm four miles north of Rule. Driskell has considerably less than an acre planted to berries yet receives a nice income from the plot each year.

The Haskell County Fair Boosters made their initial trip to Munday last Friday evening, headed by president A. H. Alexander, secretary C. M. Conner and the Haskell Band. There were between 75 and 100 cars making the trip.

L. Schwartz & Co., Haskell's newest store, will open Friday with a large stock of new merchandise.

Marvin Mathison of Stamford has been transferred to Haskell as production manager of the Haskell Gas Company, and entered upon his new duties this week.

The Farm Bureau Gin which has just been completed is now ready for the season. This is one of the most modern gins in the state and the machinery is of the very latest type. It will not only gin for its members but will do custom ginning.

The Fifth Annual Haskell County Fair is to be the greatest fair in the history of its organization.

Army Uses Both Rockets And The Cannons To Defend Its Country

More than 700 years ago, before Western inventors knew how to make gunpowder, the Chinese used rockets in warfare. And cannons were first used in war about 1350 A. D.

Today, the Army uses both rockets and cannons in its arsenal for the defense of our country. They are both part of the equipment used by the Army's Artillery branch.

The modern artilleryman bears little resemblance to his historical predecessor. He is more capable in every respect. This is traced directly to his more intense training in the use

VA Questions and Answers

Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—A deceased veteran had active service in both World War I and World War II. Will a burial allowance of $250 be paid for each period of service?

A—No. The Veterans Administration may pay up to, but not more than, $250 toward this veteran's burial expenses. The claim for reimbursement of his burial expenses must be filed with the VA within two years of the veteran's burial. His family should contact the nearest VA office for assistance in obtaining this burial allowance.

Q—My husband was killed while on active duty during World War II. Is it too late for me to buy a home with a loan guaranteed by the VA?

A—It is not. You still have nearly two years, until July 25, 1970, to obtain a G. I. loan.

VA Questions and Answers

Men entering the Artillery NCO Course are promoted to corporal and on graduation from the 12-week formal training phase are made Sergeants. Up to five percent can be promoted to Staff Sergeant.

Through the NCOC, a young man enlisting in the Army for assignment to the Artillery branch can be promoted to the grade of Sergeant or Staff Sergeant in as little as 10 months.

Candidates for this program for rapid advancement are chosen from among volunteers who have shown leadership potential and ability during basic and advanced individual training.

Artillerymen are trained at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, in one of the specialized jobs related to artillery. Also operating at Fort Sill is the Artillery Non-commissioned Officer Candidate Course. The NCOC trains and develops junior leaders and is patterned after the Officer Candidate School.

All of this training is designed to provide adequate leadership in the middle enlisted grades in the Artillery branch. Details about the job training opportunities in Artillery are available from Sergeant Donald Hollister, local Army recruiter. His office is at 2110 (2nd floor) Post Office Building in Abilene, Texas. PROGRAM PUTS DRIVER EDUCATION IN 'FRONT SEAT'

Education—long a step-child of the Texas school curriculum—is coming into its own, according to the Texas Safety Association in reporting on the new master plan for driver education in-education available to all Texas schools.

Teaching assistants are a new concept in driver education—and one that many Texas educators feel will accelerate driver education instruction in the state. Texas' teaching assistants will work under the supervision of certified driver education teachers. Their primary job will be to assist in the laboratory phase of the program.

Both the new teaching assistants and their teacher supervisors have just completed an extensive summer training program co-sponsored by the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M University at College Station.

The University's project instructors are enthusiastic about the pilot training program and especially encouraged by the high calibre of applicants for teaching assistants that the program has attracted.

Each teaching assistant was hand-picked. Applicants were carefully screened and accepted on the recommendation of either an executive director of an

New grille design, new placement of front lights and rectangular rear taillights are a few of the many changes to be found in the Impala Custom Coupe as shown above. education service center, a superintendent of an accredited school district, or a supervisory training instructor of a commercial driving school licensed by the Texas Department of Public Safety. All have good driving records and none have had any corrective action taken by the Department in the past three years.

Among the teaching assistants are a former secretary, a truck driver, former policeman, clerks, bus drivers and retired military personnel. They range in age from 21 to 50. Of the 55 teaching assistants, 21 are women.

During the five-week summer study program, teaching assistants received classroom instruction in driver education, were given courses in the latest teaching techniques, schooled in the operation of driving simulators and taught how to conduct a driving range and give in-car instruction. In addition, they were given driver training courses to improve their basic driving skills. Patrolmen from the Texas Department of Public Safety assisted in the in-car training program.

The state's 20 new driver education supervisors are certified driver education teachers in good standing. Most have been teaching driver education courses in the state's public schools. The new supervisors have been receiving instruction similar to that given the teaching assistants at A&M, with additional courses in supervisory training, program development and administration.

The summer study program for teaching assistants and teacher supervisors has been described as the most comprehensive driver education program ever presented. It was designed not only to provide the additional personnel so greatly needed to make driver education courses available to all Texas teens, but also to serve as a medium for upgrading the quality of the courses presented.

The use of teaching assistants, plus new teaching aids, such as the driving simulator, is expected to double the number of students receiving driver education in the public schools in the next two years.

Changes in the Texas driver education curriculum came about with the enactment last year of the Texas Traffic Safety Act, which made the Governor responsible for administering a driver education and training program for all eligible Texas youths. The Governor's new program for driver education, including the use of teaching assistants, was approved by the State Board of Education last November.

The new Texas driver education plan brings the state into close conformance with the Federal standards for driver education programs. A number of other states are now looking closely at the Texas plan, which is unique in many of its areas of instruction and in the use of teaching assistants as a means of solving their driver education program requirements.

Under the recently-revised driver licensing law in Texas, teens must be at least age 18 to get an operator's license if they have not completed an approved course in driver education. With a course in driver education, they may obtain an operator's license at age 16.

Driver education courses are being offered to high school students beginning at the 10th grade level.

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button? Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field? Some people think so. Our competitors.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Duck hunting in Texas is a favorite sport of the outdoorsmen. It has been in the process of evolution during the past few years. It wasn't too long ago when the waterfowl hunter headed to a nearby lake or river or to the Gulf of Mexico for his pleasure. But times have changed.

Several factors have contributed to this change. One is an ever-expanding complex of farm ponds and stock tanks. Ten years ago water supply was dictated by available rivers and lakes. But not anymore. More and more tanks are popping up on the landscape every day, offering spots for ducks to alight and feed. True, there are fewer ducks today (you couldn't tell it by an in-season visit to Altair) but also they are spread thinner over more waters.

This decrease in duck population also has contributed to the change in duck hunting. At one time the daily limit dwindled to two. This made an elaborate trip not worthwhile. There just wasn't much incentive to get up before dawn, head for a duck blind which had required hours to construct, sit patiently in the dismal cold and wait for ducks to hit the scene. One flock would come winging in and—kaploie—your limit was filled. All that preparation for one flurry of action?

At the same time there was a drastic reduction in the number of canvasbacks and redheads, the most predominate species on the Texas coast. A coastal trip just wasn't worth it, not when you couldn't shoot canvas or redheads anyway. Emphasis was off the river ducks, like canvas and redheads, and was put on puddler ducks, species like the mallard, teal and gadwall.

Yes, duck hunting has changed. But that doesn't mean it isn't sporty anymore. There's a new kind of duck hunting available today that you can enjoy at a fraction of the cost and with little preparation...yet you can still kill just as many ducks. This "plain-vanilla" duck hunting is done on stock tanks. Basically, there are two ways you can go about it. One is conventional duck hunting, with decoys. The other is stalking ducks and jump-shooting them. Both have their merits.

The former is for the hunter who enjoys seeing a flock of ducks coming in to a stool of imitations, watching them circle warily and then finally lock their wings and drop in unsuspectingly.

Since puddler ducks, like mallards, teal and gadwalls, habitually travel and feed in small bunches, you won't need many decoys. A dozen is more than sufficient.

Just place your decoys about five yards out from shore and space them widely. A tight-knit bunch of decoys indicates to wary ducks overhead that it is an uneasy, unsettled gathering.

Ducks, when they first alight, tend to remain tightly bunched, until they've had time to look things over. Later they'll disperse to feed. Present an overall picture of serenity, one of ducks feeding. This will bring others unsuspectingly to the ambush.

Just remember to put out fresh decoys each trip. Don't make the mistake of leaving them in the water indefinitely. When ducks visit a pond in the afternoon, they will detect that their "brethern" are fakes and they'll have little appeal later.

Put the decoys out early, around daybreak, before the first contingent arrives (legal shooting time is sunrise). No call is necessary. When ducks fly over and see the decoys, they're going to come on in. That is, if you're hidden effectively and if they see nothing that makes them suspicious.

Stalk shooting can be accomplished throughout the day. A windy day is best, one when ducks have been driven off the more open waters and onto the protected tanks.

Park your vehicle far enough away so you won't alarm the ducks. Then walk quietly to the pond. Best have at least two or three hunters in the party since one fast salvo of shooting is usually all you can expect.

An earthen levee affords a spot where you can creep close without revealing your presence.

When all hunters get ready, jump up and start bombarding. Needless to say, the ducks kick off the water and speed away toward a quieter place quickly and with amazing suddenness. Seldom will they return immediately.

There will be just enough time as they lift frantically off the water to get in two or three licks with your favorite scatter-gun...if you hurry.

This kind of duck hunting may lack the glamour of old methods. But it's just as effective. And in this day and time, the outdoorsman must learn to make do with what he's got. Try duck hunting once and you will admit it's fun.

Refined features a-plenty in Smart 1969 Chevy Nova models

Moving up in the popularity parade of new car models is the Chevy Nova Coupe shown above. Smartness is accentuated by simulated front fender louvers, striping and bright window moldings. The new anti-theft lock system on the steering column for ignition, steering wheel and transmission selector and head restraints are standard equipment. The new Chevrolets will be on display September 26.

Oldsmobile, for 1969, has simplified its medium price class lineup. All series in the '68' family will be known as Delta 88's, and will include this newly-created top-of-the-line Delta 88 Royale. This new hardtop coupe has its own distinctive backlight, chromed front fender side louvers, individual hood ornamentation, a vinyl top as standard equipment, and several other distinguishing features including a specific exterior paint stripe. '68' wheelbases have been increased to 124 inches.

Quiet luxury found in
'69 Chevrolet Impala Custom Coupe

Sparkling with new styling refinements are the 1969 Chevrolets. New grille design, new placement of front lights and rectangular rear taillights are a few of the many changes to be found in the Impala Custom Coupe as shown above. Again Chevrolet offers an array of comfort and convenience options that personalize a car to the individual taste. The new Chevrolet line of passenger cars will be on display September 26.

The all-new '69' Luxury Hardtop Sedan, companion model to the '68' Luxury Sedan, will incorporate the new 127-inch wheelbase which is standard on all 1969 '98's." An optional feature is the divided front bench seat with independent controls for driver and passenger positioning.

Stitching And Stewing

By Ruth Ann Faustler
County H. D. Agent

Preparing your home for cold weather probably won't make the current summer heat any more pleasant, but certain maintenance jobs can be done now in time for that welcomed cold spell.

Necessary preparations vary according to the severity of fall in the area, but some work should be done almost everywhere. The home handyman will be able to carry out many of the jobs but others require the skills of trained servicemen.

Have a qualified serviceman check heating systems thoroughly. Although a heating system usually lasts about 20 years without major repairs, annual check-ups are necessary to assure efficient operation.

A dirty, worn-out heating system produces higher fuel bills, and it can endanger lives of family members and valuable possessions. Annual servicing should include the chimney or flue, the central heating plant, thermostats and the heating distributors in each room.

The American Gas Association calls insulation "the most important single item in fuel savings." If a house is not properly insulated, particularly its ceilings, floors and walls, the owner will be well advised to consider having this work done. Cost estimates may be obtained from reputable contractors.

On the outside of the house, fill all open joints with caulking compound. The process seals openings, keeps water from entering cracks, prevents indoor drafts and cuts down on heat loss.

Those hair line cracks on concrete drives, walks and steps may be a lot wider unless you take precautions now. Water cracks in concrete can freeze and make the cracks wider.

Repair loose or missing roof shingles and siding, and add roof gutters if your house isn't equipped with them. All roof gutters should pitch toward their downspouts, with outside edges below the roof eaves.

For the next few weeks I will be running a series of Mexican Food Recipes, I obtained from Gail Osborn, Knox County Home Demonstration Agent.

Looking For Job Where Even The Boss Has To Follow Instructions?

Looking for a job where even the boss has to follow your instructions? Then see Sgt. Donald Hollister, local Army recruiter, and ask him about the Army's need for air traffic controllers.

Among the items Sergeant Hollister will tell you is that the Army offers qualified men 15 weeks of specialized training at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Mississippi.

This training includes weather theory, air traffic regulations, control procedures and the operation of special electronic equipment.

As an air traffic controller, you would control and issue proper instructions to all military, civilian and commercial air traffic within your immediate area of responsibility. You'd alert pilots to airfield and weather conditions, landing hazards and local flight restrictions.

Your background would include knowing the basic principles of dead reckoning by using magnetic compass, course and distance information. You'd know radio and air-ground communications and visual signaling procedures.

With this and other knowledge, you would talk with pilots and receive information from them on various radio frequencies and transmission channels. You'd operate ground control approach equipment necessary for guiding planes to a safe landing when the pilot is unable to clearly see the airfield.

These and many other duties are part of the job of the Army air traffic controller. For further details on this and any of the more than 300 other job-training opportunities in the Army, contact Sgt. Donald R. Hollister at 2110 2nd floor, Post Office Building in Abilene, Call Collect 677-6161.

JOHN SOLOMON IS HONORED ON NINETY-SIXTH BIRTHDAY

John E. Solomon, who for many years was a resident of Haskell and Haskell County, celebrated his ninety-sixth birthday September 14th in Denton, Texas, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. D. Turpen, where he has been living for the past several years. About fifty people, including relatives, friends and neighbors from all over Texas and even from out of the state, gathered in the Turpen home to enjoy a delicious buffet dinner and to extend congratulations and good wishes to Mr. Solomon. Gifts, cards, letters and remembrances of various kinds were piled high on his dresser—all indicating the love and high esteem in which he is held.

The joyful occasion came to a climax with the viewing of home movies taken at former family reunions. With his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren running in and out of the house for a couple of days, keeping him busy answering questions and laughing. "Grandpa" enjoyed every minute and is already looking forward to the 97th birthday. Relatives from Haskell included: Mrs. Della Dean, Mr. Jessie Dean and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Solomon, Mrs. Raymond Crain and grandson, "Sonny Boy," Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Moulter and sons. During the evening a long-distance call came from Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kreger wishing Mr. Solomon a happy birthday, which pleased him very much.

From Dalhart came Mr. and

The Vietnam War Produces More Amputees Than Korea Or WW II

Ewing W. Mays, the man who spends his life proving to amputees that losing a limb isn't the end of the world, says he has found that the Vietnam conflict is turning out a record number of amputees.

Mays, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who lost both of his legs in World War II, and toured Korea during the war there, said, "We are fighting a different kind of a war. The Viet Cong seem to use more booby traps, land mines and grenades."

"On a day to day basis, our military hospitals are receiving more G.I.s with permanent handicaps than ever before."

Mays, who tours hospitals the year around, began his fall hospital circuit at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Philadelphia. He will later re-tour Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, and hospitals in New York.

This hospital is the major center for the Navy and Marine Corps. When he arrived here last week Mays found over 200 arm and leg amputees under care and more arriving every day.

A visit by Mays is much sought after by military hospitals. In many cases his is the one example that brings boys out of their cloud of despair and re-inspires them. He walks briskly into a ward, dances with the nurses, kids with the patients and often picks a GI amputee up from his wheelchair or bed and carries him around the room to show how little his handicap gets in his way. He whips off his artificial limbs for the boys to examine, answers their many eager questions.

Mays has always been concerned with the psychological

Fall vacation trips are becoming increasingly popular, according to Harry Porter, Jr., manager of the National Safety Council's Traffic Department, and he reminds motorists that the same common-sense rules apply, whatever the season. Here are his suggestions for a safe, carefree trip this fall, or any time of the year:

Get enough sleep before starting. Don't drive like a "dope."

Plan your trip for a reasonable number of hours of driving each day; no more than two hours at a stretch per person.

Leave an itinerary with someone you can depend on to reach you in case of an emergency.

Turn off faucets, lights and gas appliances at home. (Connect a timer to turn on lights automatically. It's a good insurance in evening hours). Homeowners should also notify their local police department.

Stop newspaper and milk deliveries and make arrangements for your mail.

Have your car checked by a competent mechanic, paying special attention to brakes, tires and lights.

Replace or refill streaking windshield wiper blades.

If you have diabetes or other medical problems that could require prompt recognition, carry necessary identification.

Study a map so that you can anticipate route changes, intersections and interchanges before you get to them.

Keep pace with traffic. Signal for turns and lane changes well in advance.

Get plenty of sleep and rest before starting out again. Remember, driving can be enjoyable!

Texas Farmers Union Is Affiliate Of The National Farmers Union

An official in the state Farmers Union office at Waco has expressed concern over what he considers "widespread misunderstanding" by farmers and the general public which confuses National Farmers (NFU) with a midwest-based protest movement, because of similarity of names.

The spokesman for the Texas Affiliate of the National Farmers Union, its state president, J. Naman of Waco, issued the following statement:

"Texas Farmers Union is an affiliate of National Farmers Union which has been a spokesman for farm and ranch producers for over sixty years. It is not a secret organization. Both state and national organizations are legally chartered and the number of members which compose our state and national organization is public information.

"Our program objectives are developed by our membership through democratic process at the state and national convention. The officials of the Farmers Union must be responsive to the policies adopted by the membership. Farmers Union is an organization...not a protest movement."

"We do not make any exaggerated claims as to what we accomplish for our members or offer panaceas for the troubles in agriculture."

"We do not offer any quick, simple solutions for the complicated problems of agriculture. We do not ask our members to wastefully destroy their commodities or create bitter local disputes that result in violence."

"We do not ask our members to sign contracts committing them to the performance of acts which they might find unwise or undesirable. We do not obligate them for the payment of fees or assessments in the future."

The Farmers Union spokesman warned farmers and ranchers who might be approached to sign contracts or so-called "marketing agreements" to question the content carefully and consult with professional legal counsel before signing. Naman said:

"I am afraid that farmers and ranchers may sign documents that will impose on them certain legal obligations and they might be unaware of the implications involved should they be in violation of anti-trust laws."

Tom and Suzie Motron, parents of little Master Pat and Matt Horton, are so very grateful for all the gifts the community gave the babies. Suzie is so busy she said she didn't know when she would get "thank you's" all written, but she said they never could have managed without all the clothes, spoons, blankets and baby things they were given. Especially are they grateful to the hostesses who gave such a lovely party for them. The babies are growing, and the young Hortons are about to get into the routine (if twins can ever become routine) of caring for two babies. I admire and envy them. Mrs. Pat Morrison and Jo spent last week-end in Abilene visiting Vicki and Janay who are students in Hardin-Sim-
