FHA Provides Assistance To Low Income Rural Families In County

There are many low and moderate income rural families living in sub-standard housing in Haskell County. This need not be the case as housing credit is available from the Farmers Home Administration, according to Donald R. Perry, County Supervisor.

The FHA office in Haskell County has been able to provide assistance to Jesse R. Sanchez of Haskell. Mr. Sanchez first received loans from Farmers Home Administration to build J&R Radiator Shop with Mr. Ramon G. Andrade. This was an Equal Opportunity Loan.

Now, Mr. Sanchez and his family have received a Rural Housing Loan to move a family of six out of a small four-room house. They are building a modern three-bedroom house with 986 square feet of living area. The cost of this dwelling is $7900.00. The monthly payments with 5% interest was tailored to their family income and spread over a 25-year period. Therefore, this family has a nice business with a comfortable family income and a modern, comfortable house.

Another type of Rural Housing Loan was extended to Mrs. Bertha Holmes of Rochester. Mrs. Holmes had purchased an old house and moved it into town on her city lot. Her personal funds were exhausted and she was unable to borrow from conventional credit. The house was not in condition to provide comfortable out-of-weather living.

ing. Farmers Home Administration loaned her $1850.00 to repair her house inside and out. She has a nice comfortable home suited to her needs. Old Age Assistance, a branch of the State Welfare Agency raised her pension to meet the monthly payments. A co-operative effort by the two agencies so that a widowed lady would be able to live in her own home in a rural community.

Of the various Rural Housing programs available to the rural residents, Mr. Albert L. Landreth of Rule, is a recent receiver. Mr. Landreth and his family have been renting houses for a number of years as they were not able to meet conventional credit requirements. Rental housing seldom is able to provide decent living for a family. Mr. Landreth was made a loan to purchase an existing dwelling and repair the dwelling. The down payment on the purchase of the house was $500.00 and his monthly payments were about the same as his monthly rental cost.

Farmers Home Administration Housing Loans are made to families unable to obtain credit from private sources at reasonable rates and terms and are tailored to individual needs. They can be made in the rural country side or in towns up to 5,500 population.

For further information, contact Donald R. Perry, County Supervisor at 316 North First Street, Haskell, Texas.

TEASING SHOWER

Hot, dry Haskell received a little relief Sunday afternoon when a light shower of .03 of an inch fell here, according to Sam Herren. "The Weatherman."

Qualified taxpayers voters of Goree, Haskell, Munday and Rule will cast ballots Thursday, September 5, on authorizing their city councils to make contracts to buy water to be stored in the Millers Creek reservoir by the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority. The lake will be located seven miles southeast of Munday.

The Water Authority will build the reservoir, install water filter plants and lay pipelines to the towns. Treated water of good quality will be delivered to the cities' elevated storage tanks under pressure sufficient to fill them.

The water supply thus will be the responsibility of the Water Authority. The cities will be concerned only with operation of their distribution systems within the city limits.

Water Contract Rate

Thirty-six cents per 1,000 gallons is the estimated rate to be charged by the Water Authority. Purpose of the contract to be voted upon September 5 in the four cities is to authorize the city councils to buy the water at that estimated rate. Should other cities decide to buy water from the Authority that probably would result in lowering the rate charged all towns involved. Each city will adopt its own water rate for customers on its distribution system.

Regarding Property Tax Understantably, some confusion has arisen recently as result of action by the Texas Water Development Board requiring the North Central Texas Water Authority to collect a property tax of 50 cents in 1969 and 1970. The Authority expects to be ready to begin delivering water to the cities in 1970.

Reasons for the Water Development Board's interest are: (1) it is loaning the Authority $730,400 and (2) will purchase the Authority's bonds at a rate of 3.70 per cent in contrast to approximately six per cent that would be paid were the bonds sold on the open market.

Purpose of Temporary Tax

To safeguard its investment fully, the Water Development Board requires that a reserve fund be established, consisting of money sufficient to pay one year's interest on the bonds, $111,000, plus an emergency fund of $50,000. As long as those funds are intact no additional property tax will be levied. The project is planned so as to enable the Authority to pay all operating expense and interest and principal on the bonds from the sale of water.

Amount of Tax

The Water Authority will collect the 50-cent tax on property within limits of the four cities. Basis for collection will be 65 per cent of actual value. To illustrate:

A house and lot worth $5,000 will be assessed for $3,250. At 50 cents per $100 valuation, the tax will be $16.25 for each of the two years.

The White River Water District reservoir was completed just a few years ago. It is located between Spur and Post and serves those cities as well as Crosbyton and Ralls. That District charges the cities 30 cents per 1,000 gallons. It also collects a property tax of 50 cents on 80 per cent of actual value. It will collect the tax until its entire bond issue has been paid off in contrast to the two-year tax to be levied by the North Central Texas Water Authority.

Users Pay Less Than 60 Per Cent of Cost

The people who use Millers Creek reservoir water as result of its purchase by their cities actually will be paying for a little less than 60 per cent of total cost of the entire project. The total estimated cost is $5,200,000.

The Water Development Board loan of $730,400 and a grant of $1,500,000 received from the U. S. Housing and Urban Development Department total $2,230,400. That leaves a balance of $2,969,600 to be paid by sale of water, as compared to total cost of $3,200,000.

The Only Available Reservoir Site

Thorough study proved that the Millers Creek location is the only one where a reservoir of capacity sufficient to serve the entire area can be built. It is designed to meet needs of the cities of Haskell, Knox, Baylor, Stonewall and Throckmorton counties for the coming 50 years. It will care for considerable growth of the cities during the next half century.

Lake Stamford has been suggested as a possible source of water for Haskell, Rule and other cities of the area. Several qualified engineers have studied the water yield from that lake and have determined that it is

Do you like to go on a picnic? Here is some advice for picnic lovers—use a good cooler or insulated food carrier. It is the best security measure you can have for a healthful summer.

Use the cooler for cooked meat and poultry items such as fried chicken, cooked sausages, or luncheon meats. These are good picnic products because they are less susceptible to rapid spoilage than uncooked foods.

Raw meats can be taken if they are carefully wrapped and chilled. In fact, it's a good idea to freeze them first...then they will help keep the temperature of the cooler low.

Leave the actual preparation of sandwiches, sandwich fillings, and salads until you are ready to eat. Refrigerate the ingredients, especially for salads, and mix just before you eat. This is particularly important in any food where salad dressings or mayonnaise are used, since these foods are most susceptible to food poisoning bacteria.

If a pre-mixed salad must be taken, like potato salad or cole slaw, store and carry it in small containers rather than a large one, and keep it refrigerated in your cooler.

All items that need refrigeration for the picnic should be well-chilled in your refrigerator before packing in a cooler.

Never carry hot foods, such as fried chicken, baked beans, macaroni and cheese, or casseroles, unless they are packed in an insulated container—or are thoroughly chilled first, refrigerated, and then reheated at the picnic.

Refrigerate all leftovers if you want to use them at home...otherwise discard them.

If you don't want to carry a cooler, plan your picnic meal around "fool-proof foods" such as bread, cheese, hard cooked eggs, fresh fruit, etc. For the meat item, choose any canned meat or poultry product that you can carry in the car, such as corned beef, chili, ham, or some of the dry or semi-dry sausages like salami, summer sausage, thuringer, and lebanon bologna.

Remember, you are the most important person in preventing harmful bacteria from contaminating your family's food.

Remember, too, that meat and poultry inspectors of USDA's Consumer and marketing service are your "behind the scenes" partners in the protective chain. You can buy meat and poultry products stamped with the official USDA inspection mark with assurance that the product came from healthy animals and birds, was processed under sanitary conditions and is honestly labeled and packaged.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

If your tax return is selected for audit, there is no reason for panic—on the other hand, there is no reason for you to be enraged or feel "picked on."

Internal Revenue audits several million returns each year after the computer has corrected the math and taken umbrage at a number of careless errors.

The Internal Revenue Agent is a well-trained, professional employee. A part of his training is to be fair. He has the same responsibility for seeing that you get extra deductions that you missed as he does for seeing that the government gets all the tax due from you.

A large part of the tax audits result in the taxpayer verifying his questioned items and receiving no change in his tax liability.

About 7% of those audited receive a refund, due to the Internal Revenue Agent finding additional tax credits or deductions.

So—gather your records, review your return with the Agent in a business-like manner. If you don't agree with his findings, exercise your appeal rights.

Truck Size And Weight Bill Is Distorted By Critics, ATA Says

WASHINGTON, August 14—The ATA statement noted that under present federal law the responsibility for control of truck lengths rests solely with the states—and would continue to under the proposed legislation.

As evidence of how closely the individual states police length limits, ATA noted that every state has a length limit. In one state, Nevada, the maximum is 70 feet; in all other states, it is 65 feet or less.

In a few states, greater lengths are allowed under special permits and under closely controlled conditions.

ATA pointed out that the legislation "will carry out recommendations made in 1964 by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads to replace federal size- and weight limits which Congress clearly indicated were temporary in 1956."

Texas Western Fair Offers Many Activities

Out-of-town visitors to Texas Western Fair will find they can have a final fling at summer-type fun in Fort Worth during the 10-day event, Sept. 20-29. In fact, the Fair takes on major proportions with the inclusion of all the other cultural, recreational and sports events within a short distance of the fairgrounds. It's a something-for-everyone choice from the Fair's Nashville Spectacular of country and western drama to the finest of art and stunts; from midway excitement to restful parks and gardens, from a puppet show to a major football game.

The Fair, which will encompass the 69-acre Will Rogers Memorial Center, adjoins the city's cultural complex on Amon Carter Square, including the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art, the Fort Worth Art Center and Wm. Edrington Scott Theatre, and the Museum of Science and History, formerly the Children's Museum.

PAINT CREEK... COMMUNITY NEWS

Several Paint Creek families were in Leveland Saturday night for the East-West game that climaxed the 6-man football coaching school. Paint Creek had two boys who played on the West team, Dudley Cockrell and Ricky Perry. Our Paint Creek coach, Coach Marvin Ansley attended the school all week and attended the game. Other Paint Creekers there were Supt. Bill Gibbs, Buddy Brazell, Larry Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Don Ballard, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cockrell, Mr. and Mrs. Twain Mickler and children, Mr. and Mrs. James Ross Mickler and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perry and Milla, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dawson McKeever and Jan, and Mr. Lawson Mrs. Cockrell said the West team played well, but they lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McCain had as their week-end guests, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Baumgardner of Tulsa, Mr. and Mrs. Baumgardner both teach in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Their guests for church at Paint Creek Methodist were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Sherman who live at the lake, Mrs. McCain, Mr. Sherman and Mrs. Baumgardner sang a trio for the church service.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gardner and children of Houston visited Brother and Mrs. H. O. Abbott and children last week. The Gardners attended church at Paint Creek with the Abbotts. The two men grew up together at Lorraine, joined the Air Force together and have been close lifelong friends. Johnny Paul, April and Scottie Montgomery of Midland spent last week visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Montgomery. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Montgomery were in Dallas Thursday where they met their daughter, Suzie's, plane from England. Suzie spent almost three weeks visiting her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Bland, and a pin pal's family in England. She said she nearly froze to death. She was all bundled up in a borrowed heavy coat as she watched the English children swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey L. Terrell and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Kuenstler attended the ordination services at Post First Baptist Church Sunday night. Mr. E. A. Howard was one of three deacons that was ordained. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dawson and daughter, Jean, moved to Putnam this week where Billie will teach next year, Eddie will go back to school at Cisco Junior College. They also visited the HemisFair in San Antonio while they were gone. E. A. Howard is Vocational Agriculture teacher at Post High School. He was elected president of his area Vocational Agriculture Teachers.

Football workout began Monday night. Sixteen boys were out for Coach Ansley's team, and there may be more when the transfers come Monday. These were all Paint Creek boys, and that is a good number for the first night. Back in 1956 and 1957 we didn't have even enough boys to scrimmage against one another, and the coaches and assistant coaches had to help out. For six-man

Dove Population In West Texas Reported Good

SAN ANGELO — Game management officers continue to be pleased with the outlook for this year's dove season. The population of doves is good, and there seems to be adequate food to hold the birds in the West Texas area through the September 1st opening day. Texas Parks and Wildlife Department offices and most license deputies have free maps available for the convenience of the hunters in both North and South Zones, and there is a reminder included that the State is currently on Daylight Saving Time. The starting hour each day will be at 1:00 p. m. until reversion to Central Standard Time on October 27 when it will start at 12:00 noon. From various sections of West Texas, management officers report that sunflower, ragweed and croton seeds are beginning to fall. A few areas have cut maize, some have already plowed stubble, but most grain fields will be ready to cut about the time bird season opens and grain should be on the ground to draw in the birds.

The dove has proven to be one of the most difficult birds to hit as indicated by the national average of one bird in the bag for each five shotgun shells expended in its direction. So, if you bring in five birds per box of shells, be happy, and consider any over that amount as a bonus.

TRUCKS BOOST ECONOMY The annual shopping list of the nation's trucking industry includes 20.4 billion gallons of motor fuel. Total expenditures of the industry are equivalent to 9.3 per cent of the gross national product.

STRONG COTTON PROMOTION PROGRAM IS MOVING AHEAD

"The largest, strongest, and most effective promotion program cotton has ever known," is moving ahead in 1968, according to Ed Lipscomb, Memphis, sales promotion counselor, National Cotton Council. He pointed out to delegates attending the National Cotton Council's annual meeting that the $5.3 million promotion budget of the Cotton Producers Institute for 1968 is well over two and a half times the total amount of CPI promotion funds for 1967.

"Certainly we do not have enough as yet to match the dollar power of our competition," he admitted on the other hand. "We will not be able to transform the textile market in one year, any more than our competitors with all their spending have been able to take over our own markets in a short period." "However," he continued, "We have what it takes to generate new confidence on the part of those who have wondered whether or not cotton would ever really fight for markets in an important way."

"And we have the prospect of substantial further power and impact as the crop moves back toward normal and the yield of funds is increased."

Summarizing the CPI promotion program, Mr. Lipscomb said it calls for: (1) An advertising section consisting of 222 color pages in national magazines, 4,800 advertisements in metropolitan newspapers, and 136 pages in trade publications.

(2) A television program of 500 appearances on network shows with a cumulative audience in excess of two billion, full-scale TV fashion shows in 80 of the nation's largest market areas, and 1,200 local showings of four 15-minute color movies.

(3) A merchandising section involving substantial expansion of cooperative work with the chains and mail order houses, the initiation of cotton's first fabric library, the production of four major market and press week projects, one experimental fabric development project, expansion in retail sales training, and the provision of more and better local promotion materials to the cotton industry. (4) The doubling of cooperative advertising programs on canvas awnings and cotton cushioning, and provisions for several hundred piece goods shows sponsored by local women's organizations.

Highway Patrol Investigated Seven Rural Accidents In County In July

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated seven accidents on rural highways in Haskell County during the month of July according to Sergeant Frank Jirsek, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

The crashes resulted in two persons killed, five persons injured and an estimated property damage of $14,095.00.

The rural traffic summary for this county during the first six months of 1968 shows a total of 44 accidents resulting in two persons killed, 27 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $37,578.00.

School Bells
"School bells" are ringing again. The familiar yellow school buses will soon be back on the highways. The Sergeant reminds all drivers of the state law regulating traffic in regard to school buses. "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

Training School
The Sergeant also stated that a training school for 120 new patrolmen with the Texas Department of Public Safety will start August 27 and a later training school during the month of October.

To qualify for employment in the uniformed services of the DPS, a man must be between the ages of 20 and 35, not less than 5 feet, 8 inches tall, have a high school education or its equivalent, be in sound physical condition and be a citizen of the United States.

All interested young men who can meet these qualifications are urged to contact the nearest DPS patrolman or DPS office for complete details concerning the position of a patrolman, training and benefits.

insufficient to supply water to any additional cities. The Mayor of Stamford has so advised the Mayor of Haskell.

Water Supply Authority's Responsibility
The water supply is the Authority's responsibility. The cities will be concerned only with their distribution system for serving their own citizens. This should result in considerable operating expense savings for the cities. Their existing wells will be maintained in stand-by condition for emergency purposes. Should such an emergency occur, the Authority will pay the cities for any water pumped from their wells.

Water Quality Most Important At Present

The present need for surface water supply is brought about more from the standpoint of quantity than quality. However, water engineers find that if irrigation practices continue to expand as they have in recent years, it is quite probable that the underground water table will continue to drop and that a shortage could develop if the cities continue to depend upon their water wells. This does not take into consideration future growth of the cities, when a large volume of available water would become more important along with assurance that it be of good quality.

The present water supplies contain nitrates in amounts higher than that recommended by the State Department of Health. Some medical authorities of this area have viewed this with some alarm and made public statements that the nitrate content is detrimental to health, particularly of small babies.

Surface Pollution
Pollution of the water well supplies from the surface is a problem about which little has been said. The present wells are quite shallow and it is impossible to ease them to prevent pollution from the surface.

The State Department of Health has advised that it will be unable to approve the four cities' water supplies so long as they use the untreated underground water.

In order to meet the Health Department standards, each city would be required to build and operate its own separate treatment plant, which would be quite expensive. That type of treatment would not, however, remove the nitrates. That would have to be accomplished by distillation or some other costly process. The cost of treatment and distillation of the underground water would be higher than that for surface water from Millers Creek, the engineers have determined.

Hospital Penalized by Water Quality

For some years, the Haskell Hospital Authority has needed to modernize, improve and expand the hospital. It has been unable to do so because, due to quality of the water it must use, it cannot obtain financial assistance available to hospitals which use acceptable water. Those sources include Hill-Burton funds, which must be approved by the State Health Department and other state and/or federal assistance programs.

Evidence of Project's Importance

The Millers Creek plan for developing surface water for towns of Haskell, Knox, Stone-wall, Baylor and Throckmorton Counties is not only being supported with a total of $2,230,400 by the State Water Development Board and U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development as evidence of its value to the area. It has been approved by the Texas Water Rights Commission and reviewed and recommended by the West Central Texas Council of Governments.

The location selected for the Millers Creek reservoir is one of a very few still undeveloped in all of Western Texas where a reservoir large enough to supply a comparatively large area can be built. That is recognized by the State Water Plan of which it is a part. That plan was made from years of study to determine how the state can make fullest beneficial use of its water resources.

This reservoir's location some distance from other comparatively large lakes may be expected to lead to a great deal of development of recreational facilities along its shores and to extensive use for fishing and boating.

Construction Schedule

All necessary engineering has been completed and detailed plans and specifications can be ready within a short period of time. It is anticipated that construction bids can be taken in the fall of this year and that the project can be complete by the latter part of 1970. With average rainfall, water can be made available to the cities late in 1970. This allows for a two-year construction period, which the engineers declare will be more than enough time.

COTTON PICKIN'S

Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The first group of women in the Rolling Plains organized solely to promote cotton will begin their first full fiscal year September 1, according to Charles G. Bragg, executive officer of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

It is the Cottle-King Women's Cotton Promotion Ass'n., organized last April 30 at Paducah, with Mrs. Elva Curry as president. The members voted then to establish a fiscal calendar of September 1 to September 1.

The Cottle-King Women's organization is the ninth such association on the Plains pledged to the promotion of the principal agricultural product, cotton, grown by their husbands. With an initial membership of only 25 members, the group has mushroomed into 150 informed, energetic and dedicated saleswomen for this area's basic cash crop.

The first association in Texas was formed at McAdoo in Crosby County in 1965, known as the Crosby County Cotton Club, a non-social, non-political and non-profit organization. The farm women have emphasized from the beginning that it is not an effort to boycott synthetics nor to downgrade man-made fibers.

Besides the Crosby County group, others in the Panhandle-Plains area are Frontier (Cochran County) Cotton Council, Hale County Cotton Promotion Ass'n., Lubbock County Cotton Ass'n., City of Lubbock Cotton Auxiliary, Lynn County Cotton Club, Yoakum County Cotton Promotion Club, and the Women's District Cotton Promotion Association, of which Mrs. L. E. McDowell is district chairman.

Mrs. McDowell has advised the directors of RPCG that her organization would be available to assist in forming women's cotton promotion groups in the area. RPCG directors voted to help defray her expenses for such purposes.

Since the organization of the Cottle-King Association, the members there have sponsored a "Sew-It-With-Cotton" contest in July followed by a fashion show at which models wore the garments made in the contest; six of the first place winners were featured on an Amarillo-TV show; and a Miss Cotton pageant was staged.

Mrs. McDowell hopes that county units can be formed in each of the 55 counties within the Rolling Plains and Plains areas.

Visit In Haskell Brings Back Fond Memories

Mrs. Pegri Simmons, former resident of Haskell, now living in Big Spring, and daughters, Mrs. Janice Vance, of Tucson, Arizona and Mrs. Thelma White, Big Spring, spent last Thursday in Haskell, viewing landmarks, visiting, and reminiscing.

Mrs. Simmons, the former Pearl Tidwell, was married to J. K. Simmons here on June 5, 1909. Her husband was the son of the late Dr. J. G. Simmons.

Dr. Simmons built the first hotel (the Lindell hotel) in Haskell.

The family has a number of pictures of early-day Haskell, they plan to donate to the Haskell County Museum, in the near future.

Services will be held daily at 8:00 p. m., with a cordial invitation extended everyone.

The messages will be brought by Evangelist Steve Harper, Ted James, director of music at St. Paul Methodist Church, Abilene, will direct the music.

Evangelist Harper was appointed to the Ed Robb Evangelistic Association as associate evangelist with special responsibilities to youth on May 15th of this year. Previous to that time he served in that capacity on a part-time basis.

Steve is a licensed preacher in the United Methodist Church and prior to his appointment he served as pastor of the Weinert United Methodist Church.

Although he is only 20 years of age, he has worked in the field of evangelism for three years. In that time he preached and worked in some 35 evangelistic efforts. He knows the field of evangelism... area wide, church wide and youth.

those countries was Switzerland. I was now with 35 other young people and we stayed in the city of Lucerne. Lucerne is a city of quiet solitude nestled at the base of the mighty Alps. It is a beautiful place. The Swiss cottages had flowers in every window, and looked like little doll houses. From Lucerne we went by bus to Heidelberg, Germany. Germany was a very neat and clean country. Our group stayed in the city of Worms. The people were very kind to us and very friendly. We took a boat ride down the Rhine River and saw some huge old castles covered with ivy. We left Germany and went to Amsterdam, Holland. Amsterdam is a city with much color and tradition. We were privileged to take a night boat ride through the great canals of the city.

We also saw Volendam which is a city on an island where the people still wear their traditional clothes. We learned that the Zider-Zee is about to be diked and the water will be pumped out to make more farmland. The farmland has already been sold, and its owners are waiting. We left the Netherlands and went to Brussels, Belgium. It was raining in Brussels so we did not see much of the city. From Belgium we went to the grand old city of Paris, France. Paris is a rushing city with crowds of people on the move. It was a beautiful sight to see Paris by night, because that is when she is at her loveliest. The Eiffel Tower and the Arch of Triumph are highlighted nightly by beautiful water fountains. The young people of Paris were very friendly to us but the adults seemed to mistrust us. There were so many, many things to see in Paris. The priceless art treasures of centuries are collected there.

After three days of touring in Paris we flew to London. Londoners are prim and proper, dry-witted people. We were well accepted there and it was good to be able to understand what the people were saying. We enjoyed seeing the Picadilly Circus, because that is where all the hippies hang out. We certainly saw some strange characters. Our last tour day was spent touring the "land of Shakespeare." We ate in the city of Stratford-Upon-Avon and saw the grave and home of William Shakespeare. Also, we saw Anne Hathaway's cottage with its thatched roof and lovely flowers. England is a country which ties history together.

We left London for home with many memories of people we had met and places we had been. One chapter of our lives had been completed, and we would never forget it. Diann Cadenhead.

PRICE OF LAWLESSNESS

Tolerance of violence and property destruction may diminish when the price of our "permissive anarchy" hits home. An inkling of that price has been given by a spokesman for the insurance industry. He says, "No business...can continue to operate in a society where order, reason and confidence do not prevail. The insurance business alone cannot continue to offer security to property owners when these spasms of lawlessness which at times seem to approach insurrection become so widespread and frequent..."

Olivia Del Hierro, Carney Rural High School 1968 Valedictorian, has been named recipient of a $500 Texas Baptist Latin American Scholarship; the O'Brien student will attend Hartin-Simmons University in Abilene in September.

The Texas Baptist Latin American Scholarship program is for outstanding Latin American students who plan to attend a Texas Baptist educational institution; the program was established by the Woman's Missionary Union of Texas through funds provided by the annual Mary Hill Davis Offering for State Missions. It is administered through the Direct Missions Department of the State Missions Commission.

The purpose of the scholarship is to assist worthy and capable young Latin Americans in their effort to obtain a Christian education. Recipients are required to attend one of nine Texas Baptist schools.

In addition to being willing to attend a Texas Baptist educational institution, scholarship prerequisites include giving evidence of being a genuine Christian, a member of a Baptist church or mission, pastor and teacher recommendation and maintaining a "B" average in high school.

Miss Del Hierro plans to major in education. In high school she was a class officer for four years and cheerleader. She placed first in district shorthand and typing competition.

She is a member of Calvary Mission, Haskell, where she serves as pianist and vice president of the young people's Training Union. She is secretary of the Baptist District Youth Rally.

HASKELL COUNTY HISTORY

30 YEARS AGO (August 23, 1938)

As the final alternative in efforts to collect State and County taxes in the approximate total sum of $1,000,000 which have accumulated during the past six years, suits were filed in the District Clerk's Office Saturday and Monday against four hundred and fifty property owners of Haskell County.

Mrs. French Robertson and daughters have returned home after a visit with her parents and other relatives in DelLeon.

Judge and Mrs. Dennis P. Ratliff and daughters have returned home after spending the past few weeks in Kerrville.

R. A. Lane left Saturday for a visit with relatives in Houston.

Mrs. Guy Mayes has returned home after a visit with relatives in Denton.

Mrs. Alonzo Pate and daughters, Patsy and Sue, are spending the week in Coleman.

Robert Wheatley, of Haskell, who recently opened a shoe repair shop in Stamford, was painfully hurt Tuesday night when his car crashed head-on into a concrete bridge railing on the highway several miles south of Haskell. Young Wheatley had worked late and was returning to Haskell when he apparently dozed for a moment and lost control of his car. He received a severe cut on his chin, and slight bruises about his body, but escaped serious injuries. The car was badly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cox and son, Wallace Jr., have returned from a vacation spent in Pampa. While away they visited Palo Duro Canyon and Carlsbad Caverns.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Sherman of Clovis, New Mexico, are visiting relatives and friends in Haskell.

10 YEARS AGO (August 23, 1928)

Haskell's building program so successfully carried out is not a boom. Nothing out of the ordinary has happened. The demand for a greater city is being carried forward by her citizens. They can see their investments are guarded against loss with a safety that is assured. Not only the business section of the city is going forward, but the residential section as well. Hundreds of houses have gone up in all parts of the city and still it is hard to find a vacant house in town at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fouts and family of this city drove to Brownwood last week to visit Mrs. Fouts' relatives.

The Farm Bureau Gin, located north of the Elevator across the railroad track is now under construction and Mr. J. T. Byrum, foreman on the work stated that the gin would be completed and ready for patronage by September 20th and probably earlier.

Miss Freddie Johnson of the Savies community, will open a beauty shop with the Mays Dry Goods Company of this city in the near future.

The Norton Hotel, a three-story wooden structure, was seriously damaged Wednesday afternoon by fire which was discovered about 2:00 o'clock.

Work began Tuesday morning tearing down the main office and store rooms of the Spencer Lumber Company of this city and instead there will be a new brick building erected. Spencer Lumber Company is one of the oldest institutions in Haskell and Jno. A. Couch is manager.

A. H. Wair and family returned from a vacation spent in Tennessee.

W. M. Free, Wesley Applegate and Herbert Harms returned from Ardmore, Oklahoma Saturday where they attended the International Poultry Show and the American Poultry Association Convention.

M. O. Field and family of Plainview passed through the city and spent two days with his son, Minard Field.

60 YEARS AGO (August 22, 1908)

Mr. J. R. Miller of Pinkerton, was in the city Thursday with a load of fine Kaffir corn, with heads on, which he readily sold on the local market. He has made 6,000 bundles of Kaffir corn and 4,000 bundles of milo maize, all bright forage, and well headed and filled with grain.

Mr. Bob Hollis has been raising onions for the market for several years and has been very successful, growing them large, firm and well-shaped. He stated to the Free Press Editor a few days ago that he got a bad stand this year but would make about 150 bushels.

Miss Eva Fields has returned from St. Louis where she has been the past 10 or 15 days purchasing fall stock of millinery for C. D. Grissom & Son.

Mr. Jno. W. Smith of the northwest corner made a shipment of three cars of cattle to Fort Worth this week from this station.

Messrs. W. H. Murchison and G. T. McCulloh returned the "BOATSWAIN, SOUND YOUR PIPE!" With these words Chief Radioman Kenneth B. Bledsoe (center), was piped over the side at retirement ceremonies July 31. The Communications Chief completed 20 years of Naval Service. Kenneth and his family are residing at 2926 Taper Avenue, Santa Clara, California. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Slover Bledsoe, of Haskell.

WORKING A PICTURE NAMED "HOW SWEET IT IS!" IS EXACTLY THAT; AT SEA, NO LESS! It used to be that kids dreamed of joining up with a circus. Now they'll want to join up with a motion picture company. National General may bring that about once the story of its "How Sweet It Is!" film locationing gets out. The love-generation comedy coming to the Tower Drive-In Theatre.

WHAT'S YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY COST? WHAT'S IT WORTH TO A FAMILY?
 (Ed. Note: This is the 3rd of a series of 3 articles on the cost and value of today's social security prepared by R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene District Manager for the Social Security Administration.)

Thus far, we've talked only about retirement benefits. Today's survivors and disability insurance under social security can mean $30,000, $75,000, $100,000 or more to an individual family should the breadwinner die or become disabled before retirement age. Let's look at today's 22-year-old, starting at $7800 (the maximum yearly total covered by social security). Suppose he works on until age 35 and dies in an auto accident, leaving a widow and two children, aged 3 and 5. He will have paid an $4,790. Assuming he would have invested the social security contributions each pay day, the value at 3-3/4% compound interest would be $6,080. The surviving family would be eligible for $434.40 per month, and if the children stay unmarried and in school to age 22, and the widow does not remarry, social security would pay them $63,000—more than 10 times the value of his social security contributions. Had he been disabled rather than killed in that auto accident and lived five years before dying, social security would have paid some $65,000 in disability plus survivor benefits. These three articles were prepared because some erroneous calculations occasionally circulate for a while aimed at showing that a young worker just won't get his money's worth from social security. The facts show just the opposite. Social Security protects against the risk of lost income to the American family because of retirement, disability, or death of the family breadwinner. Ask your social security office for free booklet No. 35 "Your Social Security" and become better informed on what social security costs you and what it's worth to you and your family. The Abilene address is Box 3258, Zip Code 79604.

VIETNAM VIEW

(As reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by GySgt. Bob Montgomery.)
A former Viet Cong (VC) soldier now works with Marines in the same area where he used to fight them.
Huynh Can, 35, surrendered under the "Chieu Hoi" program to "help protect the South Vietnamese people and assist the Marines in locating VC."
The Chieu Hoi program enables former enemy soldiers to work in support of the South Vietnamese government.
Can, attached to the 3rd Bn. Twenty-seventh Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division, went on nearly two dozen squad-size combat patrols last month with the battalion's scout teams. The area is infested with enemy booby-traps, and when Can goes on patrol, he volunteers to walk point. His previous experience in planting booby traps enables him to detect the explosive devices.
Recently, when six Marines were ambushed and pinned down by hostile fire, Can immediately volunteered to go with a reaction platoon to help the Leathernecks.

One of Can's friends, Cpl. Terry P. Henson, 25, Kent, Wash., said "Can has unusual vision and he really likes to get out in the field."
Can also tours the surrounding villages with the battalion's civil affairs unit and gives speeches, telling the villagers that the Marines are here to help, urging them to tell the VC to surrender under the Chieu Hoi program.
A 15-year-old North Vietnamese (NVA) soldier who had been in South Vietnam only two days, gave himself up to Leathernecks of the 2nd Bn., First Marine Regiment west of Khe Sanh.
While on patrol the Marines spotted five enemy soldiers about 300 meters away. An artillery mission was called and three of the NVA were killed. When the Marines searched the area for the other two they discovered one of them hiding in tall elephant grass. He was wearing a green uniform and carrying a new gas mask. He had no weapon. The NVA was taken to the battalion command post where he was given food and water.

The North Vietnamese soldier explained he was forced to fight by his superiors. He told the Marines he was 15 years old and didn't want to fight.
"It looked like a prehistoric monster," claimed Lance Cpl. Thomas D. Nicholas, Miami, Fla., of H&S Co., 2nd Bn., Third Marine Regiment.
Nicholas was referring to a lizard. Lizards in Vietnam are common. Some measure up to eight inches long. "Large" lizards might measure up to a foot and a half.
Nicholas met the grand daddy of all lizards. It measured about five feet in length.
He met it while walking near the battalion's command post.
"A group of us saw it," Nicholas recalled. "When we saw it's tail, we thought it might be a snake."
"The front part was in the bushes. So, we went looking in the bushes, and we found it. He snarled and showed his teeth."
"We turned and showed our rears!"
With a five-foot lizard guarding the command post, it is doubtful if enemy troops will gain entrance. "Course the Marines might find it difficult in getting out, too!"
REPRESENTATIVE OF SS WILL NOT BE IN HASKELL SEPT. 5TH
A representative from the Adlene Social Security Office, will not make his regular trip to Haskell on Thursday, September 5th, due to the City of Haskell Water Contract Election on that day.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Shortly after nightfall Lake O' the Pines comes to life. You can see evidence of it everywhere. First, the flickering flame of a lighted gasoline lantern, then the brilliant and steady glow. White lights seem to pop up like fireflies, everywhere.
Alongside these lanterns are crappie fishermen, or in North-east Texas lingo, the "white perch" anglers. They get out in the cool of night to drop their live minnows down alongside a tree or next to a submerged clump of brush. Each of those tightline holders hopes that one of those broad "white fish"... attracted by the lantern light... soon will give that tell-tale yank on the line.

This isn't a scene familiar only to Northeast Texas. It is repeated almost every night—spring, summer and fall—on lakes throughout the Lone Star State. It happens everywhere you find those ubiquitous crappie. And that's almost everywhere!

Crappies are basically lake fish. You'll find a few in the deep, placid pools of rivers, but mostly they favor the man-made reservoirs. Soon after a new lake fills up, crappie start showing up on anglers' stringers. This is true more and more as time goes by.

Why? Because the crappie is a master at multiplication. In fact, if it has one fault it is that it is too prolific.
"The unfortunate thing about crappies is they have the ability to over-populate the waters in which they live by their sheer productive potential," says Marion Toole, director of Inland Fisheries for the State Parks and Wildlife Commission. "The first crappies that are planted in a pond or lake are capable of rapid growth, but as subsequent spawnings occur the growth rate of the young of the year becomes slower and finally a stunted crappie population is the end result."
This means, then that crappies have to be fished—hard. Which is all right with the fishermen. If there is one fish that fishermen like to catch, it is the crappie.

There's some magic about this fish that's difficult to describe. It isn't a very sporting fish, not really. It bites in a series of light tap-taps, and when hooked it battles deep in tight figure eights, surrendering after only a brief fling of energy. Perhaps the basic motivation behind its inherent popularity is that it is an epicure's delight on the dinner platter. Many fishermen claim the crappie has the best flavor of any fish, bar none. It is a kind of sweet, succulent meat. Best way to cook one, they say, is to top off the head, stuff it and fry whole, a rich golden brown.

Two species of crappie are found in Texas—the white and black crappie. Offhand, it is almost impossible to tell them apart. A large male of the white species might be almost entirely black. Only sure-fire identification is to count the spines in the dorsal fin. If it has five or six spines, you've got yourself a white crappie; seven or eight and it belongs to the black family.

Actually, most fishermen could care less whether it is white or black. All they like to do is catch them... and the more the merrier. Fortunately for anglers, crappie have a way of cooperating quite nicely. Another good thing about the crappie is that they are school fish and where you catch one, you'll likely take several.
Any kind of rod and reel can be used for crappie fishing, and if the water is shallow enough, an ordinary canopole will suffice. Tie about a No. 1 thin-shanked hook on the end of your line, add a clinch-on sinker about eight inches up and you're in business.

Crappie prefer some kind of cover. Almost always you'll find them around submerged brush. Some people even "bait" crappie holes by tying together large clumps of green brush and anchoring the brush underwater in a likely spot.

One of the best times to catch crappies is in the spring, when they migrate into the shallows to feed. This is one time of year when they readily hit artificial baits. Bass fishermen often take several while plugging along the shorelines of lakes.
Probably the best lure is the tiny white Maribou-hair jig. All you must do is cast the jig, allow it to sink deep and bring it back slowly, simply reeling in at the same speed all the time. Some people put a cork bobber about two feet above the jig and cast this around brush in the shallows, popp-it the cork light-lifts to make the jig jump up and down.

Favorite natural food of the crappie is the minnow. Ninety-nine of every 100 crappie caught are taken on this popular bait. A small minnow about two inches long is best. Hook it through the lips or just behind the dorsal fin to make it stay alive and wiggling, to entice a wily old crappie into biting.

Sometimes a crappie will curve a minnow off the hook without the fisherman ever knowing it. Large crappie seem to have this knack. What they do is approach from below and sort of lift up on the minnow. This way there is no tell-tale tug to betray the bite.
One of the best crappie fishermen I've ever known uses a porcupine quill bobber. His rig is set so the minnow is near the bottom, where crappie generally hang out. The slender bobber rides upright on the water. When an up-lifting crappie tries to steal the minnow, the bobber tilts slightly and the fisherman drives the hook home.

As the old axiom goes, there is more than one way to skin a cat.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
A lot of folks talk about Internal Revenue putting you in jail for cheating on your income tax. However there's not a large number of people who actually end up behind bars as a result of tax fraud. This doesn't mean that it has become advisable to start cheating on your income tax. Internal Revenue does not undertake the investigation of fraud against a taxpayer lightly. Before they present a tax fraud case to the Justice Department and finally to the Grand Jury, and the Judge and the Jury, they must be able to prove that the guilt of cheating and that there are no innocent or mistaken involved. It's not a matter of trial of a taxpayer not guilty of tax fraud. However his tax fraud penalties. Those taxpayers who escape detection of records and paid to them when could stop additional tax man finding.
