PILOTING

A WEEK OF WAR

Army Air Force Commander Arnold told a press conference in London that United States fighter and bomber planes will soon join the British Air Force in bombing Germany. U. S. Pilots will have their own air fields and ground crews, he said. "We shall hit the enemy hard and relentlessly until his military power has been broken," Gen. Arnold said. "It is obvious that no offensive against Nazi-occupied Europe can succeed without air superiority and we mean to have it."

Army Services of Supply Chief Somervell, also in London, said U. S. and British officials are working out a program to standardize military equipment, including tanks and planes, so much equipment may be exchanged freely. Chief of Staff Marshall said American Troops are "landing in England and they will land in France."

PRODUCTION

Under Secretary of War Patterson reported the President's goal of 60,000 planes in 1942 will be surpassed "by a substantial margin," and tank and ammunition production are keeping pace with schedules. He said Army Ordnance monthly deliveries are 458 times as great as two years ago. The WPB said production of new machine tools is 72 percent above last year.

The House passed and returned to the Senate legislation setting up a smaller war plants corporation which would make loans to small firms to enable them to obtain war contracts. The Commerce Department issued suggested procedures for establishing business wartime clinics to aid local business men in working out current problems of dislocation and changes in their businesses.

ARMY EXPANSION AND TRAINING

Chief of Staff Marshall announced there will be nearly 4,500,000 soldiers under arms by the end of 1942 rather than the 3,600,000 as originally planned at the start of the war. During the past four weeks alone the Army strength has been increased by 300,000 men, he said. The Civil Aeronautics Administration called for volunteers to be trained as glider pilots in the Army Air Forces. The glider training is open to men 18 to 35 holding pilot licenses of private grade or higher, to graduates of the CAA program and to pilots completing 200 or more glider flights.

The War Department said medical students who have completed advanced ROTC courses and have been accepted as matriculants in an approved school of medicine will be commissioned Second Lieutenants and placed on a deferred duty status. The Senate completed Congressional action on a bill increasing the number of cadets each member of Congress may appoint to the U. S. Military Academy from three to four, and increasing authorized strength of the cadet corps from 1,960 to 2,496. The Army reported nine new infantry divisions will be organized before the end of August.

SELECTIVE SERVICE

U. S. Commissioner of Education Studebaker reported about 430,000 men have been rejected for Army service so far because of illiteracy. Of these, 250,000 are physically fit. He said a program is being worked out to give the "functionally illiterate" basic training in reading, writing and arithmetic. The president told a press conference such rejects have a low mental level because of lack of opportunity. They need to be helped through improved nutrition and possibly through a manual vocational training process, he said.

NAVY

The President asked Congress for an additional 600 million dollars for expansion of naval aviation and of warship tonnage. The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill authorizing the Navy to acquire 24 non-rigid blimps, raising the present limit on the number of such ships to 72. The Navy Department authorized enlistment of 10,000 additional college Juniors. (Continued on last page)

Rockport Man At Wheel of First Merchant Marine Vessel To Sink Sub

W. H. (Bill) Wismer, son of H. B. Wismer of Rockport, was at the wheel of the ship which sank the first German submarine in our present war, and the first in any war to be sunk by a Merchant Marine vessel, according to letters and clippings received by his father here.

On May 17, Wismer and his shipmates were pinned with medals of distinguished honor by the Mayor of New York on the order of the President. Later he received a silver torpedo.

The story of the adventure was told for the first time in a recent New York paper:

It was Christmas Eve, about 10 P. M. with a near full moon. Wismer had just taken the wheel of a freighter laden with planes, tanks and explosives for the USSR. The convoy of which the ship was part was midway between Nova Scotia and Iceland. Suddenly a great submarine broke water not 300 yards from the port side of the ship.

It was first action for the gun crew of the freighter but AB seaman Earl Wolfe, who had seen eight years of Navy life with five aboard a submarine came to their assistance.

"We aimed for the torpedo room up front," Wolfe related. "We got her with the second shot." "You would have thought Hell had blown up. The flames must have gone up 300 feet in the air. I guess we hit the torpedo room all right. Then we fired another one just for luck, but there wasn't nothing left to hit."

It was Bill Wismer who put the ship into position for the action. In his way he is maintaining the tradition of the Warring Wismers. His eldest brother gave his life in the first World War. His father, H. B. Wismer, is a soldier of the old school. In the U. S. Army from 1898 to 1902, he took part in the Spanish American war, the Philippine Insurrection, and the Chinese Boxer Revolution.

The Wismer's have lived on this section of the coast for 25 years. Bill is a graduate of Aransas Pass High School, and has been in the Merchant Marine since 1926. His Atlantic most of the time, touching ports in South America, South Africa and Europe.

In his recent letter Bill described a stay in Murnansk, with the city being bombed constantly for the seven weeks which he was there. He asked to be remembered to his friends here.

On leave in the U. S. Wismer has been assisting in broadcasts, motion pictures and meetings to encourage aid to our allies. He was in New York May 30 for "more speeches".

"I am going to sea again hoping I have helped stir the American population enough to let them know there is a war on and the sooner we open up a western front the sooner Hitler will be licked and the U. S. will be safe. The U. S. lacks a hell of a lot being safe the way things stand today," his letter said.

Rockport Drug Clerk Buried In Oklahoma

Funeral services for Oscar Edward Davis, who died of gunshot wounds Saturday night was held Wednesday at Roff, Okla.

Davis died in the office of a physician, less than half an hour after he had been shot in the head. Justice of the Peace J. M. Huff pronounced the death a suicide.

The man was said to have been despondent for some time. He is survived by widow, Inez, and two children of a former marriage. Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Davis of Tisch wago, Okla., three sisters and five brothers, three of whom are in the Navy.

Davis had been employed in Rockport for the past year at Kane's Cafe, and for the past three weeks in Johnson's Drug Store.

Epidemic Of Summer Accidents To "Kids"

Exuberance over the close of school with freedom to play for a whole summer ahead may account for the several accidents befalling the small fry in Rockport this week.

Two broken ribs are the lot of Peggy Wilson, 14, the daughter of E. V. Wilson. She fell from a bicycle Tuesday causing her injury.

George Escoffier, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Escoffier, fell from a tree last week fracturing both bones in the right arm, just above the wrist.

The youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Barber in the Oak Grove community has been wearing her right arm in a sling, but is now doing well. Both bones were broken in the forearm.

Naval Training Station Graduates Cooks and Bakers

While Some Learn To 'Feed The Guns' Others Learn To Feed The 'Men Behind The Guns'

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas—The U. S. Naval Air Station here graduated today its first class of men whose exclusive duty is to feed "the men behind the guns".

The first Navy Cooks and Bakers School class to graduate in the Southwest during this war, thirty members of the Seaman branch have received rates as Ship's Cook, third class, a petty officer rating, and are now able to cook anything from plain hamburgers to turkey and trimmings.

The graduates successfully met the necessary requirements after six weeks of instruction in the culinary art, and received their diplomas and certificates from Comdr. R. D. Lyon, acting commandant of the station, who congratulated them on their achievement.

These men now proudly displaying their diplomas, are capable of entering the galleys of small craft and cooking complete and balanced meals even to bread, for a crew up to 150 men entirely by hand. The course that they have just completed stressed cooking by hand so they would not be handicapped if placed on small craft which have no galley space for mechanical devices.

Aransas Child Drowned In Channel Thursday

Billy Jean Owens, 9, of Aransas Pass was drowned late Thursday while bathing in the water of the channel near the north end of the sea wall. The boy was missed about 4:20 p. m. and his body was found in the mud of the channel at 8:20 p. m. by Elmer Shirley.

Billy Jean was the son of Mrs. Ruby Hawley, Aransas Pass. He was playing in the water with a group of friends; Donald Leon Grissom, 12, his sister, Malda Owen, 14, and three others whose names were not learned immediately.

The boy was unable to swim, while the other children were, and they became separated from him. When he was missed the children turned in an alarm and several parties went out to aid in the search.

U. S. O. Drive Closes With $500.39 Gained

Third Of Recent War Appeals To Go Over The Top

Final count on the U. S. O. drive staged here shows a sum of $500.39, more than one hundred dollars above the amount set as a quota for Aransas county, according to Pat Nixon, chairman of the drive, Thursday.

Subscription to the U. S. O. is the third of three appeals for funds for war needs to be made here in the past two months. In every case Aransas county has gone over the top and has given in excess of the amounts asked.

Chairmen of the three drives, the Navy Relief, the Red Cross, and the U. S. O. have all reported that the giving was done willingly and generously in spite of the fact that the Red Cross roll call was out of season and threw a greater burden on the county at this particular time.

Good Week-end Fishing Is Expected

Army Set To Enforce New Lighting Orders

Residences and Business Places On Shore Line Must Dim Lights

Captain Basil D. Sartin, 745th Military Police Battalion, Ft. Sam Houston, was in Rockport late Wednesday to consult with Emory M. Spencer, chief air raid warden for this county, concerning the enforcement of the dimout here.

Capt. Sartin is in charge of the sector called Unit Z-1, which includes Aransas County. He warned that a navy plane was to inspect this area Wednesday night and would report to Army headquarters any objectionable lights seen. The dimout was due to go into effect June 1.

Rockport comes under the dimout conditions because it is only seven miles from the gulf coast, and all lighting within ten miles of the coast is affected. Communities of 5,000 or more inhabitants within a distance of 25 miles which may have an objectionable "loom" are to be dimmed.

According to information given Spencer by Capt. Sartin, two companies of Military Police are to be placed in this area for the purpose of enforcing the dimout. He expressed hope that citizens of Aransas county would co-operate voluntarily to the extent that the M. P. would be relieved of small details and be spared for the guarding of bridges and other major duties.

"It is my opinion," Spencer stated, "that if people living on the water front, that is within 500 feet of the shoreline will use very dim lights in rooms facing the shore, that this will be sufficient, and will possibly save us from having to be completely blacked out."

The regulations point specifically to five types of lighting to be controlled:

Prohibited Lighting: Illuminated signs—neon or other, floodlights, bright illumination of outdoor athletic fields or places of amusement, exterior lighting within 500 yards of the coast line, bonfires and all other forms of lighting on beaches.

Restricted Lighting: Street lights will be shaded from above and where visible from the sea will be blacked out on the seaward side, with wattage reduced to a minimum consistent with public safety.

Where street lights shine upon reflecting surfaces, such lights will be further shaded or the surface neutralized.

Illumination of show windows, store fronts, theatre fronts, filling stations, etc., which are more than 500 yards away from the coast line will be reduced to an absolute minimum.

Interior Lighting: All ocean front houses or buildings and those within a distance of 500 yards from the coast line will be blacked out on all sides except that side away from the shore line.

Motor vehicles: Motor vehicles are prohibited on beaches at night.

No brilliant headlights or spotlights will be permitted in highways or streets within 500 yards of and parallel with the coast line.

Parking lights only will be used within a distance of 500 yards of the coast line when a vehicle is facing seaward.

These regulations in no way are to be considered as replacing existing instructions on blackouts.

Captain Sartin advised Spencer that several terms in these regulations are subject to further interpretation, but that to play absolutely safe the term coast line was being considered as meaning bay fronts. He stated that this matter would be discussed with Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan, in charge of controlling the Eighth Corps Area.

Spencer stated that air raid warden's training courses were to begin soon. He said that such courses had been delayed because of lack of interest, but that he believed they were in order now.

Star Dust

STAGE-SCREEN-RADIO

By VIRGINIA VALE
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

MILLIONS of movie fans who have seen Johnny Sheffield cavort across the screen as "Tarzan Jr.," son of "Tarzan," will see him in a new role. He's starting on a country-wide tour to stimulate sales of War Bonds and Stamps; it's sponsored by the war savings staff of the U. S. treasury, in conjunction with Metro. Johnny, in his Boy Scout uniform, will make his appeals from the turret of a shiny new army tank; purchasers of quantities of stamps will be permitted to board it, for inspection.

Ann Thomas is doing such a terrific job as "Casey" in NBC's "Abie's Irish Rose" series that author Anne Nichols is enlarging her part. The pretty and talented Ann is on so many radio programs that you wonder how she keeps her roles straight, especially as she spends her spare time collecting detective stories and phonograph records for the navy; takes 'em to the Brooklyn Navy yard herself.

Hollywood movie companies usually fly a balloon when on location, to warn away planes because of the noise of their engines. Recently, however, Columbia's "The Lone Wolf in Scotland Yard" troupe practically hung out a "welcome" sign. The company, headed by Warren William, was in a bomb shelter, supposedly undergoing a raid, and they were shooting in the San Fernando valley, where plenty of planes flew overhead. When one especially large plane flew over, a company business manager said "That effect would cost us $25 in the studio."

Once upon a time it seemed that Norma Shearer was getting all the best roles in all the best pictures; nowadays it's Bette Davis who gets the good chances—and he it said for Bette that she never fails to turn in an excellent performance. She gets the feminine lead in the picture version of "Watch on the Rhine," which will be a great picture if it's nearly as good as the play.

Pretty Janet Blair got that coveted chance to play the title role in "My Sister Eileen," when the movie made from the play of that name reaches the screen. But she'll have her work cut out for her, for Rosalind Russell has an even bigger role.

Because "International Honey-moon," co-starring Ginger Rogers and Cary Grant, is laid in the period before the present war, a difficult bit of research has come up. Save for refugees, the only persons who have the needed information are in concentration camps.

It's nothing new for stars to write into their contracts the proviso that they're to have time off each year to do a stage play, or make a picture at another studio. But Roy Rogers has an original clause in the seven-year contract he recently signed with Republic. He may devote three months of each year to war work!

Following the announcement that Walt Disney has completed his new feature length production, "Bambi," which was five years in the making, it had been revealed that 75 per cent of the studio's total output is now devoted to government films. In them, facts and figures appear on the screen in graphic, usually dramatic forms; complicated machinery dissects itself before your eyes by means of simple drawings. The raw recruit sees the bolt mechanism of a new weapon as a simple, understandable thing—thanks to the Disney war effort.

ODDS AND ENDS—Walter Reed has been assigned to the role left vacant in RKO's "Spitfire" series when Buddy Rogers joined the navy. Metro plans to film "Saboteur Agent," starring Robert Donat, in London, which seems to mark resumption of American moviemaking in England. Jane Randolph, who has a pilot's license, changed her last name from Roemer to Randolph in honor of the flying field of that name. "We, the People's" broadcast from the army bomber in flight toward its target took four minutes to run off—four weeks to arrange. Ona Munson now has a rare Thassa terrier.

Kathleen Norris Says:

You May Have to Make Overtures

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features.

The girl then left him, her face burning. But before she reached the campus gate, a clumsy man, wearing a top coat and an old cap, was beside her; and the professor was carrying her books.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"I WONDER what would happen," an East St. Louis girl writes me, "if I had made a button bearing the words, 'I want to get married,' and wore it on my coat?"

She goes on to tell me her story, and it is a hard and heroic story.

"I am 29," writes Caroline, "healthy, tall, slender, smart, and without any real fault of feature. My mirror shows me a good straight nose, good eyes, plenty of brown hair, perfect teeth—my best feature—dull skin and an expression that evidently suggests 'Keep Off.'"

"I was the only daughter of a bank-commissioner father and a very fine mother. When I was nine my father was convicted of dishonest dealing; this was not true, as we afterward proved, but it ruined my father. He served a seven-month term, after which we three moved into the mountains, and lived an isolated life for ten years. I had no friend except my mother.

"My father's name was cleared just before he died. He had planned often to come back and try to begin again, but there was no time. After his death, helped by the old friend who had fought my father's cause for ten years, my mother and I came to the city and I studied book-keeping and stenography. We had very little money; we lived in one room and cooked our meals there. When I began to earn money every extra dollar meant a treat, or the wonderful feeling of paying off bills; we two were sufficient to ourselves.

Mother Became Ill.

Four years ago my mother developed an incurable malady. Turning to the friend who had saved us once before I borrowed enough money to take her to the woods she loved for the remaining ten months of her life.

"Since then I have plugged away in gradually improving jobs; I now make $1,800 a year, live comfortably, and have a few good woman friends. Also I think I ought to tell you that two men, both married, have expressed affection for me. One is the friend of whom I have spoken. After my mother's death he told me quietly that anything he could do for me was a pleasure to him, because he had always felt a strong affection for me.

"His wife and I are friendly, although I don't see either of them often. She has two children by a former marriage and is wrapped up in them.

"The other man is an army captain. He was stationed here without his wife, who is an invalid. These circumstances made me feel that I am not without attraction for men, but the truth is that few of them seem to know that I am alive. Seriously, I know I would never have the courage to wear a button announcing my marriage-hungry state to the world, but is there some lesser device that you could devise? I want a home; I want children; I want someone to love and spoil. How to go about finding them?"

Must Not Be Impatient.

Caroline, you are only 29, and the tragic story of your life accounts for your being far behind most women of your age in opportunity. You had no girlhood, no school friends with whom to form natural social affiliations. Those were years of exile and shame for you in the most sensitive period of your life. Your father's sorrowful death, just after

BE PATIENT

If your youth was like Caroline's and you find yourself at 30 without the home and husband and children you had dreamed of, be patient. Begin by making friends. If you are shy, concentrate on your interest in other people, not on their apparent lack of interest in you. And don't look only for the man who has the position and money you expect. Look, too, for another lonely person like yourself. Kathleen Norris tells the charming story of a girl who had to take the initiative to "get her man." This girl is now the happy wife of a professor in a California college.

justice had been done him, the poverty and anxiety of the following years, your mother's long illness, were all so many barriers between you and normal happy youth. Now for the first time you are free to make your own friends and find your own place, and you must not be impatient if it takes a little time.

Look about you, not for the attractive, popular men of just the right age, position, income to make ideal husbands, but for some soul perhaps as lonely as yourself, with as unusual a story, and be a good friend to him before you expect him to be one to you.

One way to find him is through church circles, or language or study clubs. But the probability is that he is in the group about you now, either at the boarding-house table or in the office or somewhere in your immediate vicinity. With the idea of giving friendship rather than seeking admiration make a few simple overtures to this man. Try it on two or three at a time, so that the law of average will be on your side.

Prepare for Rebuffs.

You won't have to do anything as radical as wearing a badge bearing the words "I want to get married." But you may have to overcome shyness and awkwardness and inexperience as great as your own; so be prepared for rebuffs.

The moment you have his attention, remember that you are trying to make him feel your interest in him rather than to win his interest in you. His secret passion may be duck shooting, stamp collections, chess or cooking; find it out. Then lead him on.

In California there is a beloved professor who is regarded by his associates as a genius. He and his plain, sweet, clever wife have three daughters and a son. It was 19 years ago that the wife, then a lonely girl of about Caroline's age, deliberately stopped at his desk as she was leaving his laboratory class and asked him whether he would dine with her and her mother some evening. His answer was an inarticulate roar.

Two days later she asked him again. He answered sourly that he had no time for social engagements. This time she said seriously and slowly, "I am 28. I am lonely. If ever you feel you would like me for a friend will you let me know? I like you very much."

She then went on her way, with a burning face, and the simple wish in her heart that the earth would open up and swallow her. But before she reached the campus gate a clumsy figure in a top coat, with spectacled eyes and rough hair under an old cap, was beside her, and the professor was carrying her books.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 7

FRIDAY: THE DAY OF SUFFERING (II)

LESSON TEXT—Luke 23:33-46; Mark 15:33, 34.

GOLDEN TEXT—But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed.—Isaiah 53:5.

Dark and distressing days have often come upon the earth, but the darkest day of all history was that day when cruel men with wicked hearts laid unholy hands upon the Son of God and crucified Him. And yet, by the grace of God, it was a day of bright hope for the sinful sons of men, for on that day complete redemption was wrought out. The veil was rent and the new and living way into the holy presence of God (Heb. 10:20) was opened for you and for me.

The cross is popular as an ornament on a church or on a golden chain, but it is far more than that. It speaks of the black hour of the Saviour's cry, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?" and it also tells us of the One who became sin for us that we might know the righteousness of God (II Cor. 5:21).

Three thoughts emerge from our lesson.

I. Crucifixion—Bringing Life (Luke 23:33, 34a).

"There they crucified him"—four words summing up the almost unbelievable thing that took place on Calvary. He died; but in that death life and immortality were brought to light (II Tim. 1:10).

As believers in Christ, we are interested in all that took place at the crucifixion, for we know that as we contemplate Him on the cross we can say with Luther, "For me, for me!" And yet it was not for us alone that He died—it was for all mankind. So we turn to our unconverted friends and direct them to "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). He was crucified that they might live eternally. He who had only a plea for the forgiveness of His persecutors (v. 34a) tenderly offers His forgiveness to men today.

II. Rejection—Bringing Acceptance (Luke 23:34b-43).

Those who appear around the cross afford an interesting and striking picture of humanity. There were the indifferent ones, those not interested at all in who was being crucified, but only eager to share in the division of His garments.

There stood the people "beholding"—perplexed, unable to believe that the miracle-working Christ was about to die. Verily, they were as sheep without a shepherd.

Then we see those who scoffed. They knew His claim to be the Son of God and hated Him for it. Now at last they had their chance to rail at Him, to ridicule and taunt. More ignorant and yet equally derisive, we see the mocking soldiers.

Even one of the thieves by His side "railed on him" (v. 39), ridiculing His claim. But here is the marvelous thing—the other thief, rough and wicked person that he was, saw in Christ a Saviour to whom he turned in faith, which was quickly and fully honored (vv. 42, 43).

The picture is thus complete. The Rejected One is "the way" to acceptance for all who believe (John 14:6). He said, "I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved" (John 10:9).

III. Darkness—Bringing Light (Luke 23:44, 45; Mark 15:33, 34).

Physical darkness fell over the scene at the cross, as though all nature would go into mourning, or sought to shield the suffering Saviour from the curious and hateful eyes of men. Then, too, it was God's sign that this was not the death of any ordinary man, even as it spoke of the judgment of those who had laid violent, sinful hands on His Son.

But deeper yet was the spiritual darkness into which Jesus went, as bearing the horrible load of the sins of the world He "was made sin for us" (II Cor. 5:21), and God the Father turned away from Him. We cannot fathom the full meaning of that hour, and we dare not attempt to explain it. We can only accept it and thank God that because He was made sin for us we may by faith be "made the righteousness of God in him."

Out of the darkness of that hour shone forth the one light which nothing in time or eternity can dim.

Route to Happiness

The truest and happiest of earthly lives, proven over and over again by hard actual experience, is that life which accepts and observes most nearly St. Paul's great postulate, "Here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come." Rightly pursued, it in no way interferes with the intensest enjoyment of our time here on earth. We have but to see that we do God's will in everything.

That the soul of man is immortal, and will be treated with justice in another life respecting its conduct in this. These I take to be the fundamental points in all sound religion.—Franklin.

Texas Farmers Clear Last Hurdle

COLLEGE STATION, June 4—Tokyo is in for a lot of blasting from Texas farmers if all the peanuts they raise this year are converted into oils for explosives.

Texas USDA War Board announced this week that Texas farmers have already planted 96,000 acres more than the 1,056,000 acres Uncle Sam asked them to raise in 1942.

State totals indicate that approximately 95,000 producers in 198 counties have seeded 1,152,154 acres to peanuts. Producers in 149 counties exceeded goals originally set up for them.

Counties planting 45,000 acres or more are Atascosa with 60,000 acres; Comanche with 85,000 acres; Eastland with 80,000 acres; Frio with 50,000 acres; and Erath and Wilson with 45,000 acres each.

Primary objectives of increased production are to offset the loss of imports of fats and oils from the Pacific area, and to provide cooking fats, oleomargarine and other products needed by allied fighting forces and civilian workers. Peanut oil can be substituted also for other oils in the manufacture of explosives, antifreeze and medicine.

Learn Your Traffic Signals

Many Rockport people are using hand traffic signals when stopping or turning which is highly commendable; however the signals considered as standard are not always used. With the summer tourist season just arriving, it is important that standard signals should be used.

The correct signals are as follows: For a left turn, the arm should be held out horizontally; for a stop the arm should be held at a forty-five degree angle downward; for a right turn the arm should be held upward at an angle.

In the interest of safety, these signals should be started at least fifty feet from the place where the indicated action is to occur.

Aviation Week In Texas June 22-27

COLLEGE STATION, June 4.—Highlighting observance of Texas Aviation Week proclaimed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson for June 22-27 will be a series of aviation conferences at Texas A. & M. College, it was announced today by Dean Gibb Gilchrist of the School of Engineering.

Contests and a short course of instruction for model airplane builders among the youth of the State will occupy the first three days of the week, and while his program continues the last three days will be featured by a series of conferences on the many serious problems relating to manufacturing, sub-contracting, employment, training, research and public relations problems within the industry.

The rapid growth of the industry in Texas and the midwest has made evident the service that can be performed by the college in assisting the aircraft industry in finding satisfactory solutions to their problems, according to Dean Gilchrist.

Letters of invitation to aircraft executives have gone forward and acceptances so far indicate a heavy attendance of education directors, personnel directors, production managers, research directors, public relations directors and other leaders in the industry.

If 5 Ration Books Trouble You -- Consider 5,000

COLLEGE STATION, June 4—Texas housewives who must keep up with sugar ration books of families of from two to five or six members probably would throw up their hands in distress if faced with the job of J. Clifford Motard, supervisor of subsistence at Texas A. & M. College, whose "family" consists of more than 5,000 young sugar consumers.

Motard and his staff must collect the War Ration Books of all Aggies eating in the A. & M. dining halls, and it is his job to see that the sugar not consumed with cereals and coffee is made available for desserts.

The Aggies like their desserts, however, and when sugar rationing began they voluntarily limited themselves on the amount of sugar used in cereals and coffee in order that they would have plenty left for "cush" as all dessert is called at Aggieland.

The new freshman class registering June 1 brought their War Ration Books along with them in order to complete registration. Older students already knew about the sugar rationing system, but the new boys joined in wholeheartedly with the program of conservation as a wartime measure.

Adolf, Hirohito and Benito aren't sleeping well these nights. They know that America's war production must inevitably turn the tide against them. America can do it because America has the electric power to do it. Electric power multiplies man-power and drives the machines that make tanks, planes, ships and guns. How much power has America? More than the three dictators and all their conquered countries combined. Five times more than we had in the last war. And this has been done almost entirely by electric companies owned by millions of Americans and managed by American business men.

Texas Farmers Clear Last Hurdle

COLLEGE STATION, June 4—Tokyo is in for a lot of blasting from Texas farmers if all the peanuts they raise this year are converted into oils for explosives.

Texas USDA War Board announced this week that Texas farmers have already planted 96,000 acres more than the 1,056,000 acres Uncle Sam asked them to raise in 1942.

State totals indicate that approximately 95,000 producers in 198 counties have seeded 1,152,154 acres to peanuts. Producers in 149 counties exceeded goals originally set up for them.

Counties planting 45,000 acres or more are Atascosa with 60,000 acres; Comanche with 85,000 acres; Eastland with 80,000 acres; Frio with 50,000 acres; and Erath and Wilson with 45,000 acres each.

Primary objectives of increased production are to offset the loss of imports of fats and oils from the Pacific area, and to provide cooking fats, oleomargarine and other products needed by allied fighting forces and civilian workers. Peanut oil can be substituted also for other oils in the manufacture of explosives, antifreeze and medicine.

They will spend some time in training camp and then be sent to duty where needed.

Both couples lived in Rockport until about a year ago.

Learn Your Traffic Signals

Many Rockport people are using hand traffic signals when stopping or turning which is highly commendable; however the signals considered as standard are not always used. With the summer tourist season just arriving, it is important that standard signals should be used.

The correct signals are as follows:

For a left turn, the arm should be held out horizontally; for a stop the arm should be held at a forty-five degree angle downward; for a right turn the arm should be held upward at an angle.

In the interest of safety, these signals should be started at least fifty feet from the place where the indicated action is to occur.

The Rev and Mrs. T. H. Pollard have in their home for a summer visit their daughter, Miss Dorothy Pollard, who has been teaching in Dickinson; and their son, Shelby Pollard who has been teaching in the Robstown school.

Aviation Week In Texas June 22-27

COLLEGE STATION, June 4.—Highlighting observance of Texas Aviation Week proclaimed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson for June 22-27 will be a series of aviation conferences at Texas A. & M. College, it was announced today by Dean Gibb Gilchrist of the School of Engineering.

Contests and a short course of instruction for model airplane builders among the youth of the State will occupy the first three days of the week, and while his program continues the last three days will be featured by a series of conferences on the many serious problems relating to manufacturing, sub-contracting, employment, training, research and public relations problems within the industry.

The rapid growth of the industry in Texas and the midwest has made evident the service that can be performed by the college in assisting the aircraft industry in finding satisfactory solutions to their problems, according to Dean Gilchrist.

Letters of invitation to aircraft executives have gone forward and acceptances so far indicate a heavy attendance of education directors, personnel directors, production managers, research directors, public relations directors and other leaders in the industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson and their son, Fred Jr., are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Picton Monday and Tuesday.

If 5 Ration Books Trouble You -- Consider 5,000

COLLEGE STATION, June 4—Texas housewives who must keep up with sugar ration books of families of from two to five or six members probably would throw up their hands in distress if faced with the job of J. Clifford Motard, supervisor of subsistence at Texas A. & M. College, whose "family" consists of more than 5,000 young sugar consumers.

Hotard and his staff must collect the War Ration Books of all Aggies eating in the A. & M. dining halls, and it is his job to see that the sugar not consumed with cereals and coffee is made available for desserts.

The Aggies like their desserts, however, and when sugar rationing began they voluntarily limited themselves on the amount of sugar used in cereals and coffee in order that they would have plenty left for "cush" as all dessert is called at Aggieland.

The new freshman class registering June 1 brought their War Ration Books along with them in order to complete registration. Older students already knew about the sugar rationing system, but the new boys joined in wholeheartedly with the program of conservation as a wartime measure.

Jews Prepare to Defend Homeland

This photo, released in London, shows what the Jews are doing to guard the traditional homeland against attack by the Axis. A gun post in a crusader castle on the island of Cyprus is manned by Jews from Poland, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and other countries that are temporarily under the Nazi heel. They have already seen service in Greece, Crete and Libya.

Queen Among Britain's Tin Miners

Queen Elizabeth is shown chatting with Cornish tin miners during her visit to the tin-mining district in Cornwall, England. Her majesty holds a piece of ore presented to her by one of the miners. This industry, neglected for many years, has been revitalized since the loss of Malaya and the East Indies on which Britain depended for tin.

Fish Story?

Maybe he isn't telling his stooge, Colonel Engel, about the big one that got away, but you can bet that whatever Adolf is recounting here is just as fishy as the tallest tales. The photo was made on the Eastern front, where the Russian army has been engaged in hacking highways through Adolf's invincibles.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S.-British War Strategy Meeting Forecasts Opening of Second Front; Job Freeze Ends Pirating Practice; Mexico and Brazil Fight Axis Subs

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

For outstanding service to the nation, two of the navy's current heroes were honored by Secretary Frank Knox (center). Lieut. John D. Bulkeley (right) received the Navy Cross, in addition to the Army Distinguished Service Cross he held previously. Lieut. Comm. Richard E. Hawes was awarded a gold star to accompany Navy Cross he had already received.

U. S. AIR MISSION: Bad News for Reich

First body blows by the United States against Nazi Germany will be delivered from the air, it was forecast when Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, head of the U. S. army air forces and Rear Adm. John H. Towers, chief of naval aeronautics, arrived in London to "consult with British officials on details of Anglo-American military co-operation."

Air raids of a magnitude and destructiveness such as the world has never before seen will eventually be the sequel to plans perfected at the conferences, observers declared. In creating a second front against Germany, American planes and fliers operating with the British to bomb German factories, defenses and communications would be under their own command.

The "softening up" process forecast by joint American and British air offensives over the Reich would, it was believed, be a prelude to invasion by United Nations' land forces of the continent of Europe later on. This was confirmed by a statement of Lieut. Gen. Somerville that "America is ready to supply men and materials on a large scale to a European front."

The American air mission in Britain was regarded as a logical corollary to Gen. George C. Marshall's London conference on strategy recently. The U. S. army chief of staff's talks with Prime Minister Churchill and British chiefs of staff were known to have covered every war zone including Russia.

600 MILLION: Fund for Housing

The appropriation of an additional $600,000,000 to provide living quarters for 1,600,000 war workers who will migrate to munitions producing centers was asked by President Roosevelt in a message to congress. Congress had previously appropriated $1,020,000,000 for war housing to provide shelter for workers producing essential munitions.

Mr. Roosevelt said in his message that while workers are being obtained locally as far as possible and new sources of labor supply are being called on, it will be necessary for at least 1,600,000 to move to centers of war activity during the coming year. Existing structures are being counted on to absorb a large percentage of the workers, he said, but many workers will have to be cared for through new public construction, "largely temporary in nature and designed to serve the lower-income brackets of war workers."

LYBIAN FRONT: Active Again

Although the weather timetable said it was too late in the season, active warfare flared again in the Libyan desert when Nazi Gen. Erwin Rommel's armored units opened an offensive against British forces south of Tobruk.

In the opening phases of what was regarded as Rommel's long-awaited general attack, the British held the upper hand and repulsed and inflicted heavy losses on the Nazis in a series of fierce tank battles.

British tank units were strongly supported by squadrons of Royal Air force planes, according to communiques from Middle East headquarters. The German army was reported operating with stronger air forces.

Observers speculated about what foxy General Rommel had up his sleeve. A master of "feinting" tactics, the Nazi leader was believed by some experts to be making a token thrust against the British southern flank in order to screen a general advance eastward along the coast toward Egypt.

TWO NEW ALLIES: Mexico and Brazil

More effective measures against the submarine menace along the Atlantic seaboard and in Latin-American waters were forecast through the co-operative action of Brazil and Mexico in joining the United Nations' warfare against the Axis.

Operating under "shoot on sight" orders, Brazilian airmen were reported to have sunk three U-boats lurking off their northern coast. Brazil had to send her armed forces into action, said an air ministry communique, "to safeguard our sovereignty and the lives of our undefended sailors." Seven Brazilian ships had been torpedoed.

Mexico's action likewise came after the sinking of two of her ships.

"We recognize the limits of our military resources," said President Camacho, "but we shall respond to the aggression of our adversaries, collaborating energetically in safeguarding America."

JOB FREEZE: Aids War Output

In answer to the growing practice of "pirating" war workers from one industry to the other by inducements of higher wages amid other incentives, the War Manpower Commission moved drastically to hold "essential" workers in critical war industries and agriculture in their present jobs.

Primary purpose of the action was to step up war production hampered by shifts of workers.

Officials said the United States Employment service would be designated as the sole hiring agent for vital war industries. It was indicated that the service would be empowered to prevent any employed from leaving one job for another, except in cases where his skills were needed for a particular task and where there was a shortage of skilled labor.

Men in key positions would not be subject to military service under the draft deferment provisions of the proposal.

WAR WIVES' AID: U. S. Is Generous

Substantial financial aid for the families and dependents of enlisted men in Uncle Sam's armed forces was approved by the senate military affairs committee, when members voted an allowance scale beginning at $50 a month for wives.

The benefit system worked out by the committee included a much more liberal war risk insurance plan than in World War No. 1. The program's provisions would start with a government allowance of $28 per month for a wife with no child, to which would be added $22 from the monthly pay of her husband. A wife with one child would receive $40 from the government, plus the $22 allotted from the soldier's pay and $10 for each additional child.

In case of a soldier with parents, brothers, sisters or grandchildren dependent on him, an additional scale of benefits was provided, including $15 for one parent, $25 for two and $5 for additional B class dependents.

MISCELLANY:

Washington: Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, chairman of the naval affairs committee, predicted the Atlantic coast submarine menace will be "increasingly checked" through new plans being put into effect by the navy.

New Delhi: Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, British commander for Burma and India, disclosed that 80 per cent of the Imperial troops sent into Burma had been safely returned to the Indian frontier.

WAR FLASHES

Belgian anti-Axis saboteurs have blown up one of the largest synthetic fertilizer plants in their country. This is a serious blow to the Nazis, who have been using the output of this plant for food production in Germany.

For more than a month there have been no cereals of any kind on the Sofia market. Also the lack of feed, commandeered by the Nazis, is so severe that thousands of horses have died of starvation.

Four small Buffalo concerns are demonstrating that where there is a will there is a way to aid war production. Three of them, tombstone manufacturers, have obtained contracts to sandblast castings for battleships and machine gun mounts. The fourth, which formerly made wig-wag turn signals for trucks, is now making armaments parts.

When Nazi stooge Quisling recently issued a call for enlistments in a select "Quisling Guard" only 35 in the whole of Norway responded.

The labor shortage in Italy has become so acute that all males between 14 and 70 and all females between 16 and 60 have been required to register for "war work service."

CONGRESSIONAL GRAB

Even Washington, where congressional boodling is an old story, was startled when some 300 senators and representatives took "X" rationing cards giving them an unlimited supply of gasoline.

The capital well knows that few members of congress have sufficient "official business" to warrant an "X" rating. Also, after the way the boys got their fingers burned in the attempted crude "bundles for congress" pension grab, it was thought they had learned their lesson—for this session at least.

But it seems they haven't, for the gas grab is only part of the rationing ducking story.

OPA has said nothing about it, but the inside fact is that a number of the congressional statesmen have privately demanded that the drastic tire restrictions be lifted for them so that they can get tires for campaigning purposes.

Further, none of these politicians said anything about extending such a concession to their opponents. They want tires for themselves, but their rivals must abide by the regulations without any special favors.

So far OPA has turned a deaf ear to the tire demand.

Note: One reason why "X" cards were dishied out so freely on Capitol Hill was that a number of congressional wives acted as registrars.

FAST THINKER

Popular pastime at Selective Service is swapping stories about draftees. Here is the latest making the rounds:

A prospective draftee was taking his physical examination and the doctor directed him to "look at the chart on the wall and tell me what numbers you see."

"What wall?" asked the draftee blankly.

After looking him over a few minutes the doctor told the registree the army couldn't use him. He put on his clothes and departed. But on the way home, he stopped off to see a movie. When the lights went on at intermission, he was startled to find the examining physician seated beside him.

But the draftee was equal to the occasion. Nudging the doctor he asked innocently, "Can you tell me if this is the bus to Alexandria?"

JAP OIL

Navy experts are closely watching Jap efforts to rehabilitate the destroyed oil wells and refineries in the Dutch East Indies and Burma.

Orders have been issued that samples of oil, grease, gasoline and fuel oil from captured Jap equipment be rushed by the fastest route to the Engineering Experimental station, Annapolis, where analysis will attempt to ascertain from what region, and even from what well, the original crude was obtained.

Nearly all oil wells and refineries were destroyed when the Allies were forced to retire from the Netherlands Indies and Burma, but the Japs are working feverishly to get the fields back in production. So far there has been no sign of any Jap use of this oil.

Note: A quart is needed for a thorough analysis, but if no more than a smear can be found, the navy wants it.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The hens of the nation are doing their part for the war. This year's egg goal is 51,900,000,000 eggs—13 per cent more than in 1941. And so far this year egg production has been running around 18 per cent greater than 1941.

Although one of the oldest men in the senate, Senator George Norris, "father" of TVA, is at his desk every morning by eight o'clock, never misses a meeting of the committees of which he is a member, and rarely goes home before 7 p. m.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Violent boiling destroys most vitamins. Control heat carefully while boiling food.

To help preserve the color of beets and red cabbage when cooking, use a tablespoon of vinegar to each quart of water.

Syrup from canned fruits can be used on cereals and for sauces.

Pineapple and peach juices mixed in ginger ale make a delicious punch. Add the ginger ale at the last moment and serve in glasses or a pitcher half-filled with crushed ice. The ice is needed to dilute as well as to chill the beverage.

When cotton sheets begin to wear out in the center, rather than sew the outside hems together, make two pillow slips of the two good ends.

The Stuff Out of Which Conversation Is Made

A tourist stopped at a farmhouse for a drink of water. "Fine corn," he said, waving to a hillside.

"Best in these parts," replied the farmer.

"But how do you plow that hill? It's pretty steep?"

"Don't plow it. The spring thaws bring down stones that tear it up so we can plant the corn."

"How do you plant it?"

"Shoot the seed in with a shotgun."

"Is that the truth!" exclaimed the tourist.

"Of course not," replied the farmer, "but it's conversation."

Defense Council Unable To Recieve More Waste Paper

Owing to the excess of waste paper now in the hands of waste material companies these companies are refusing to accept any more. Thus the Defense Council here requests that no more waste paper be brought in, according to Judge B. S. Fox, county co-ordinator. It is not known when there may be another demand for waste paper and since the Council has no storage facilities for it, Judge Fox suggests that it be burned or stored at home for the present.

Sherrif Recovering From Major Surgery

Sherrif Alice Thomerson is recovering nicely from a major operation done in Spohn Hospital, corpus Christi, Monday, according to Dr. C. F. Cron, who attended her here.

THE WAR FRONT

A Navy Communique reported U. S. submarines in Far Eastern waters sank two Japanese cargo ships, probably sank a third, and damaged one heavy cruiser. The Navy also announced the U. S. Destroyer reached an undisclosed port with 10 of her crew missing and six injured after being torpeddoed in the Caribbean area. During the week the Navy reported one large, 11 medium-sized and four small United Nations merchant vessels (11 of U. S. registry), and a U. S. trawler were torpedoed or sunk by shellfire in the Atlantic and Caribbean Areas. Survivors were landed at East Coast and Caribbean Ports. The State Department said the U. S. is abiding by the rules of the Geneva Prisoners of War Convention, and the German, Italian and apanese Governments are apparently doing the same.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson are the parents of a ten pound girl born to them Wednesday morning, June 3, She has been named June Marilee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. King and family, Dallas, are spending a week at Bean's Cottages. King reported several good catches of speckled trout.

Mrs. Floyd Smith and her son, Pat, with Miss Dorothy Pollard and Shelby Pollard spent Monday in Corpus Christi.

Thief Takes Wheel From Smith Trailer

A wheel, with tire, lugs and bolts was stolen from a trailer belonging to Floyd Smith Monday night. The trailer was parked in the rear of the house and only a few feet from a window. When the theft was discovered the next morning the trailer had been dragged to the back of the lot. No trace of the wheel has been made, since the serial numbers on the tires are not known.

Th Smiths had been away from home earlier in the evening, returning about ten, but the trailer was not visible from the street and they noticed nothing amiss until morning.
