The War Production Board has dared the wrath of American women by totally eleminating frills on shoes, limiting the height of heels, and restricting colors to four. Many types of shoes will be discontinued and those that are manufactured will be rationed.

And did such action provoke roars of rage from the women folk?

It did not.

Rationing of canned goods did more than anything else possibly could have to arousing citizens to the need of planting gardens.

During the past week hundreds of garden spots which lay fallow for years in Rockport and the surrounding community were spaded up and made ready for seeding.

Citziens who hod not handled a hoe or rake in years attacked the fresh turned earth with commendable zeal. Ladies, who's gardening efforts previously had been confined to scattering a few marigold or petunia seed in a flower bed, bought sizable packs of beets, carrots, beans, onions sets, and many other kinds of vegetables.

Victory Gardens will flourish in Aransas county this spring and summer. The eating habits of the citizens will change. And the old fashioned can opener may eventually become a relic of an age that has gone.

For Rationing and Study Moving quickly, government agencies placed three varieties of food under control as the nation lined up for registration for the No. 2 ration book to be used for canned, bottled and processed vegetables, fruits and juices. Shortly after the department of agriculture announced rationing of dried beans, peas, lentils and dried and dehydrated soups, the Office of Price Administration placed wholesale ceilings approximating 40 cents a dozen on eggs and froze prices of fresh vegetables at the levels prevailing between February 18 and 22. These moves put almost 95 per cent of all food under some sort of government regulation. The OPA's action came as the nation's housewives still studied the effect of the newly announced point values of the various canned, bottled and processed foods rationed. To many,

Renewed demands in London for a second front came from two sources on the heels of Josef Stalin's warnings that "the enemy has not yet been defeated." Ivan Maisky, Soviet ambassador to London, in a fighting speech declared that Russia expects "an early realization of the military decisions taken at Casablanca."

While acknowledging that the successes of the Soviet army were 'very encouraging," Maisky pointed out that they were being achieved at a tremendous cost of Russian lives and property. It is natural, therefore, he said, that the USSR expects early Allied action.

Speaking before the house of lords, Lord Beaverbrook reiterated demands for a second front, declaring that "Whatever may be the plans of the Germans, we should strike and strike now before they can regroup their divisions . . . If another attack is made on Russia, June may be the date, so we must strike quickly if we are to be ready. We must invade northwestern Eu rope now."

Neighbors Meet Frequently.

It means that you meet the men and women who live in the houses each side of you, discover what you can do for them in case of shortage, emergency or panic and let them know what they can do for you. It means that you pick a central point for assembly in case of real need, that you appoint some woman as block guardian who will call meetings, and arrange well in advance for those next-door services that may be demanded of us all at any time.

Two months later, when your big boy gets a week's leave and you could join him if it wasn't for Daddy and Margaret, both in hard wartime jobs, Mrs. Smith and Grandma Smith welcome Margaret and Daddy for meals as if they were royal guests.

Meanwhile Mrs. Davis, up at the corner, has discovered that the Montgomerys, who have been living in the block for five years without anyone paying any attention to them are anxious to loan the Smiths their baby's outworn perambulator. > Conscientious little Mrs. Baker reports that there are 17 hot water bottles in the block, five thermometers, two ice-bags, one woman who was a nurse, one who took two years of medicine, one who is a graduate dietitian, and 27 persons who will take hour by hour sentry duty in case of a raid.

Mrs. Bates admits that she never knew that Dr. Williams' daughter was blind. She will go read to her twice a week with the greatest pleasure.

This block scheme was started by Edwina Kenney Hegland of San Diego. Her name ought to be a household word from now on. For her inspiration is toward the real brotherhood that is the only cure for all our troubles, and the only ending of war. When nations learn what these neighboring women have learned, fear will die, and with fear hate will die, and we will learn to construct with our billions, and no longer destroy. For deep in their hearts, every man and woman in this world wants three things, love, se curity, service. And it is one of God's miracles that there is always enough of these three things, and that the more of them we give, the more, by hundreds and thousands of times, the supply increases.

But remember, when you Legin your block work, that fear and suspicion, and the shyness that masks itself in stiffness and standoffishness, is all about you. Your neighbors will think you want to get something for nothing; many quite intelligent women have never learned to share, never learned to be neighborly. They will hoard old rubber sheets, old copper, dentist chairs, chopping blocks, any old rubbish at all, rather than put it to use. That the loan of a suitcase might make some little girl in the block feel happier; that the milk that accumulates after a few days absence, or the magazines with which one is quite finished might contribute immensely to the

Yet those women long for companionship and occupation, and after a rather dubious, chilly, unsuccessful meeting or two will blossom out into genuine helpfulness. What this will do for them personally is incalculable, but it is what the scheme will do for America in this hour of crisis that counts. Unity, co-operation, the holding of each other's hands was never so valuable. THE STORY SO FAR: Charlotte (Cherry) Rawlings, an orphan, has been at Saint Dorothea's convent school since she was seven years old. She knows almost nothing about her early history, but has gradually realized that like other girls at the school she has no family and questions whether she has a right to her father's name. Judge Judson Marshbanks and Emma Haskell are her coguardians. When she is twenty Marshbanks tells her that Emma has gotten her a secretarial position in San Francisco with wealthy old Mrs. Porteous Porter. She goes first to the Marshbanks mansion and dines alone with the judge as Fran, his young wife, and his niece, Amy, are dining out. Kelly Coates, an artist, drops in, and Fran and Amy stop on their way out. As they leave, Cherry hears laughing reference to her convent clothes and she is bitter. Life with Mrs. Porter is monotonous, and she is thrilled when Kelly, horseback riding in the park with Fran, stops to talk with her while she is motoring with her employer. Later he sends her a box of candy and she is jealous when she sees him with Fran at a party given by Mrs. Porter. Emma tells Cherry that her sister, Charlotte, was Cherry's mother. Kelly takes Cherry along so Fran will visit his Sausalito studio, and It is evident that he is very much in love with Fran, but later he tells Cherry despondently that Fran has promised the judge she will not see him any more. M ... Porter dies, leaving Cherry $1,500. Now continue with the story.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on discom-fort after meals, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, com-bined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin prepa-rations in their prescriptions to make rations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative con-tains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Cald-well's Laxative Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring wel-come relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxa-tive so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna com-bined with Syrup Pepsin, as directed on label or as your doctor advises, and feel world's better. Get genuine Dr. Caldwell's.

Methodist Church To Hold Series of Layman's Services

The first of a series of Layman's Services was held at the First Methodist church here last Sunday morning and, according to Lay Leader H. B. Butler who was in charge of the program, no pastor was in evidence.

"The principal speaker at the services was David Peel of Corpus Christi," Butler reported Wednesday. "He delivered an inspiring address dealing with the problems, both social and economic, that faced a Christian lawman in these times of strife. Every member of the congregation present enjoyed his talk."

Butler explained that additional Layman's Services were planned by the church and stated an effort would be made to hold at least one such service each month and they might later be increased to two monthly.

A REAL PROPERTY AND A REAL SOL

HERE is a way to keep your golf game going to improve your play, to be a better golfer after the war is over and still not encroach in any way upon any part of the war effort, including transportation

After all, there will someday be a peace-and when peace returns, golf with all other sports will come back with a tidal-wave effect that will dwarf the rush after the last war.

We took this matter up with Ed Dudley, president of the Professional Golfers' association, known as the PGA.

Here is the general idea-if you can't get to your club you can take indoor lessons or go to indoor schools.

If you can't do that you can swing a club in your own home, provided you have swinging room.

Tips From the Top -

Here are a few suggestions from Ed Dudley, one of the finest swingers golf has ever known-

1. "Too many golfers think in terms of results, in place of correct swinging. They are packed with tension because they haven't a good swing-and they know it. They can at least improve their swing indoors.

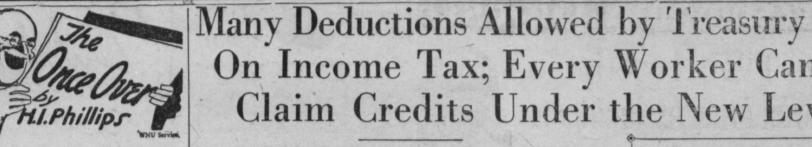

2. "I would suggest first that they work upon a more comfortable stance, greater ease as they address the ball. Most golfers are stifflegged and body-locked before they even start the backswing. Swinging indoors they can build up the habit of greater freedom.

3. "In these indoor lessons or indoor practice, golfers can concentrate entirely on the right way to swing. Golf is largely a matter of habit. Golfers who let a fault turn into a habit are in a bad way. But by practice they can learn to keep hands, arms, body, legs and feet more flexible. They can learn to turn more, to get their hands higher, to finish their backswing.

Although wartime necessity demands that Uncle Sam collect the highest income taxes in history, there is nothing unpatriotic in taking advantage of legitimate ways to lower your payments, as provided by law.

Tax laws are carefully written instruments. In writing them, congress included a list of deductions which taxpayers may claim. These deductions were included for excellent reasons and with the expectation that all taxpayers who could honestly claim them would do so.

The big taxpayer usually finds it advantageous to hire an expert who is familiar with each permissible deduction. The smaller taxpayer is not so likely to secure outside assistance. The latter would do well to determine for himself the deductions he can make legitimately.

4. "Tension, of course, is the great curse of golf. Movement alone can check tension. Bobby Jones is the only golfer I ever saw who kept in motion as he started to address the ball. He was never locked. I have never seen him freeze over the ball as the vast majority do. Either his feet or hands were in some form of motion. Golfers, through indoor practice, can work over this feature. Don't ever stand over the ball and begin to freeze on the swing. Loosen yourself up. This can happen when you improve your swing, as you can indoors.

5. "Most golfers lack the needed gripping power in both hands. How can this be helped? I can tell you. Just lay aside 10 or 15 minutes a day where you work with an old golf ball in either hand, squeezing it and building up your finger strength. This sounds foolish? Well, I know two ballplayers who use this method-Lefty Grove, the pitcher, and Charlie Keller, the Yankee outfielder. They were smart enough to know how important it is to have hand strength or finger strength. Both have represented power in pitching and hitting respectively. This is a simple and an important exercise.

Interesting Work

"This is all interesting work," Dudley continued, "because golf is about 75 per cent mental. In golf you are not playing against an opponent. Your main opponent is yourself. You keep trying to make yourself do things that seem comparatively easy-such as smooth swinging, keeping your head down, etc. Each person is more interested in himself than in anyone else. The golfer usually beats himself. And he knows that. No opponent can ever keep you from making a two, a three or a four.

"Someone once gave the reason for Willie Hoppe's great record. The answer was this-the others played Hoppe-Hoppe played billiards. Hundreds of thousands of golfers know what to do-but they won't do it often enough.

"They all know they should take a comfortable stance, with a comfortable grip. They know they should never hurry the backswing, or hurry the downswing. They know they should keep their eyes and their minds on the target they are swinging at. Never mind the bunkers and the ponds on ahead.

The Office of War Transportation, with the war and navy departments, has adopted a new type of bus to help solve the motor problem. It is a trailer attached to a big sedan. There are "stand-sit" seats, whatever those may be, and the whole contraption holds 39 passengers. As badly bruised veterans of bus travel we are a little apprehensive. There are so many buses on the roads now that they just hold one another up.

And 39 passengers! Phooey! They crowd that many passengers into the doorway of any city bus right now. Still if you get all banged up in the things, remember you're getting Victory Bruises. . . .

ENAMELED TO NATURAL FINISH

Question: The house we bought has white enameled woodwork in the living room and dining room. How can I restore it to its natural finish?

Answer: You can take off the present finish with a commercial varnish and paint remover. Be careful to clean off all traces of the remover with benzine afterward. Both liquids are inflammable. Be careful of fire and have plenty of ventilation. Or you can use a hot solution of trisodium phosphate, three pounds to the gallon of water. This will soften the old finish so that you can scrape and wipe it off. Rinse thoroughly and allow to dry. You then can refinish with clear varnish, or whatever you wish. When using a paint remover, be sure to clean it all off after removing the paint; if any trace is left, it will continue to soften the new finish. Rust Spot on Tile Floor Question: I kept a steel cabinet in my bathroom for quite a while. When I moved it to another room I found it had left a large rust spot on the tile floor. Scrubbing with scouring cleanser does not remove it. What should I use?

Answer: Dissolve one part sodium citrate in six parts of water, and add six parts of commercial glycerine. Mix a portion of this with enough powdered whiting, hydrated lime or other absorbing powder, to form a paste, and spread on the stain in a thick coat. When it is

Sowing and reaping is one of those universal laws which applies in all realms of life. What we sow we reap, whether in the farmer's field, in our national life, or in the life of the individual. It is true physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. How surprising then that intelligent Americans think we can go on with the use of intoxicants which have destroyed other nations and expect to escape the same sad consequences. Professional men have wrecked their careers, business men lost their hard earned positions, and rich men dissipated their inheritances; and at the same time each of them has fallen into moral decay -all through their inability to concontinue to license its sale, and so another generation of young men must meet the same temptation. Our lesson presents three results

Civil Aeronautic Authority's War Training program-the boys who will be the nucleus of our pilots after the war-are fairly bursting with impatience to spread their wings.

Train Civil Pilots

America is planning a military air force of some three million men. Since the rule of thumb says eight men on the ground to one in the air, that means we are going to need some four hundred thousand pilots. The "x" in the "x thousand" men I mentioned as being civilian trained the finish from a walnut table with paint remover, then refinished with two coats of white enamel. Newspaper print and lint from clothes stick to the top. We have waxed it, but it still remains sticky. Is there any remedy?

Sticky Enamel Question: Recently we removed

Answer: I make the guess that after removing the old finish you forgot to clean off the paint remover, which still is active in softening the new finish. You had better start over again by taking off all the finish; but this time clean off the paint remover with benzine (being extremely careful of fire). Sandpaper, if necessary, and refinish.

Shutting Off Radiators

Question: I have a hot-water heating system. Would I save on fueland not interfere with the flow of radiator and possibly one or two on the second floor? Would it be better to remove the radiators entirely? Answer: You should disconnect each radiator and plug the branch or pipe at some place below the unheated space to keep it from freezing. In the average hot-water heating system, the cutting off of a radiator should not interfere with the operation of the rest of the radiators and will effect a saving of fuel.

Freshening Up Leather Chairs Question: What can be done with a maroon leather office set that fades when sat upon during warm weather: The color comes off also. Answer: Begin by washing the leather (without using much water) with saddle soap, which can be had at a leather goods store. Rinse well and allow to dry. Then paint with good quality enamel, just as it comes in the can, without thinning. Heel Marks

Question: Could you tell me how to get rubber heel marks off my polished hardwood floor?

Answer: Wipe with turpentine and fine steel wool. If this does not remove the marks, put a little scratchless cleaning powder on a damp cloth and rub lightly. Then wipe with a clean, damp cloth and rewax the spot.

Polishing Mahogany

Question: My mahogany furniture looks dingy. How can I clean and polish it?

Answer: Sponge the furniture with thick suds of mild soap; then wipe off the suds with a clean, damp cloth and wipe dry. Use clean, soft, lintless cloths for all the work, and do not flood the furniture with water. Polish with paste wax, the milky white liquid furniture polish, or crude oil thinned with turpentine. For best results, apply the polishing material in a thin coat and well in the direction of the grain of the wood.

Not only from boys and men of "fighting" age which is young for combat pilots but of fellows from 18 to 37 who could become flying instructors-or could pilot transport and cargo planes.

Some of these civilian trained pilots are enlisted in the United States Army Air Force Reserves, those who passed the physical and age requirements for combat flying. The others hoped to get into some kind of military aviation service other than combat.

The army in January called all of its enlisted reserve except those who were in the midst of a college term (they will be called when the current term is over). But because of lack of facilities for training, the reserves who were in the air force have to be called slowly and those who are found to be eligible to qualify as flying cadets will begin their final military instructions by April first.
