Rockport Schools Open New Session On Tuesday, Sept. 5th

Full Faculty For Start Of School Assured

Football Organization Meeting Set for Mon., August 28

Less than a month remains until the end of vacation time for students of the Rockport schools, which will begin the 1944-45 session on Tuesday, September 5, at 9 o'clock in the morning. From then on for nine months it will be reading, writing and arithmetic—with football, other sports and school activities furnishing the students diversion.

Supt. Morgan Wheeler said this week that he was assured of a complete faculty for the opening of school, with only one vacancy to be filled and three applications for the position.

The unfilled vacancy is in the homemaking department, but Supt. Wheeler said that Miss Lillian Griffin was the probable electee for the post.

Miss Mona Faye Butler will teach band, public school music and choral singing, replacing H. B. Butler, who resigned to accept a similar position at Ingleside.

First meeting of the football squad will be held in the high school auditorium on Monday, August 28. At that time organization will take place, and the issuing of equipment will be the order of the day. Some twenty-seven boys are expected to report for fall practice. Absent from last year's line-up will be Lester Cole, Claude Roberts, John Barber, Alva Freeman, Bill McLead, and James Bracht. However, the team will make up in speed what it lacks in weight.

All football prospects are urged to meet at the school on the above date promptly in order that they will have the privilege of starting out with the squad from the very first.

Women In Shorts Taboo On Streets Of Monahans

MONAHANS, Texas, Aug. 9.—Women in shorts are taboo on the streets of Monahans these days. In case some shapely—or otherwise—female appears in such attire, she is sent home, and quickly.

The city council passed the ordinance as an "emergency" move and, strange to relate, the measure has been popular, even with the women.

Mayor Ed Duffy of this town of 4,000 was in favor of it "because so many women call every day and ask us to put a stop to shorts on the street."

July 21, the policeman was ill and the mayor had to act as law enforcement officer.

"Mother Nature helped me," he related. "It was cool and cloudy that day and the girls stowed away their shorts and came out in slacks and sweaters."

When a woman appears on the streets in shorts she is told to "go home and get some clothes on." There have been no arrests and no woman has had to be warned more than once, officials said.

"There's a place for women's shorts and bare midriffs maybe but that place isn't on the streets of Monahans," Councilman J. B. Middleton declared in early summer.

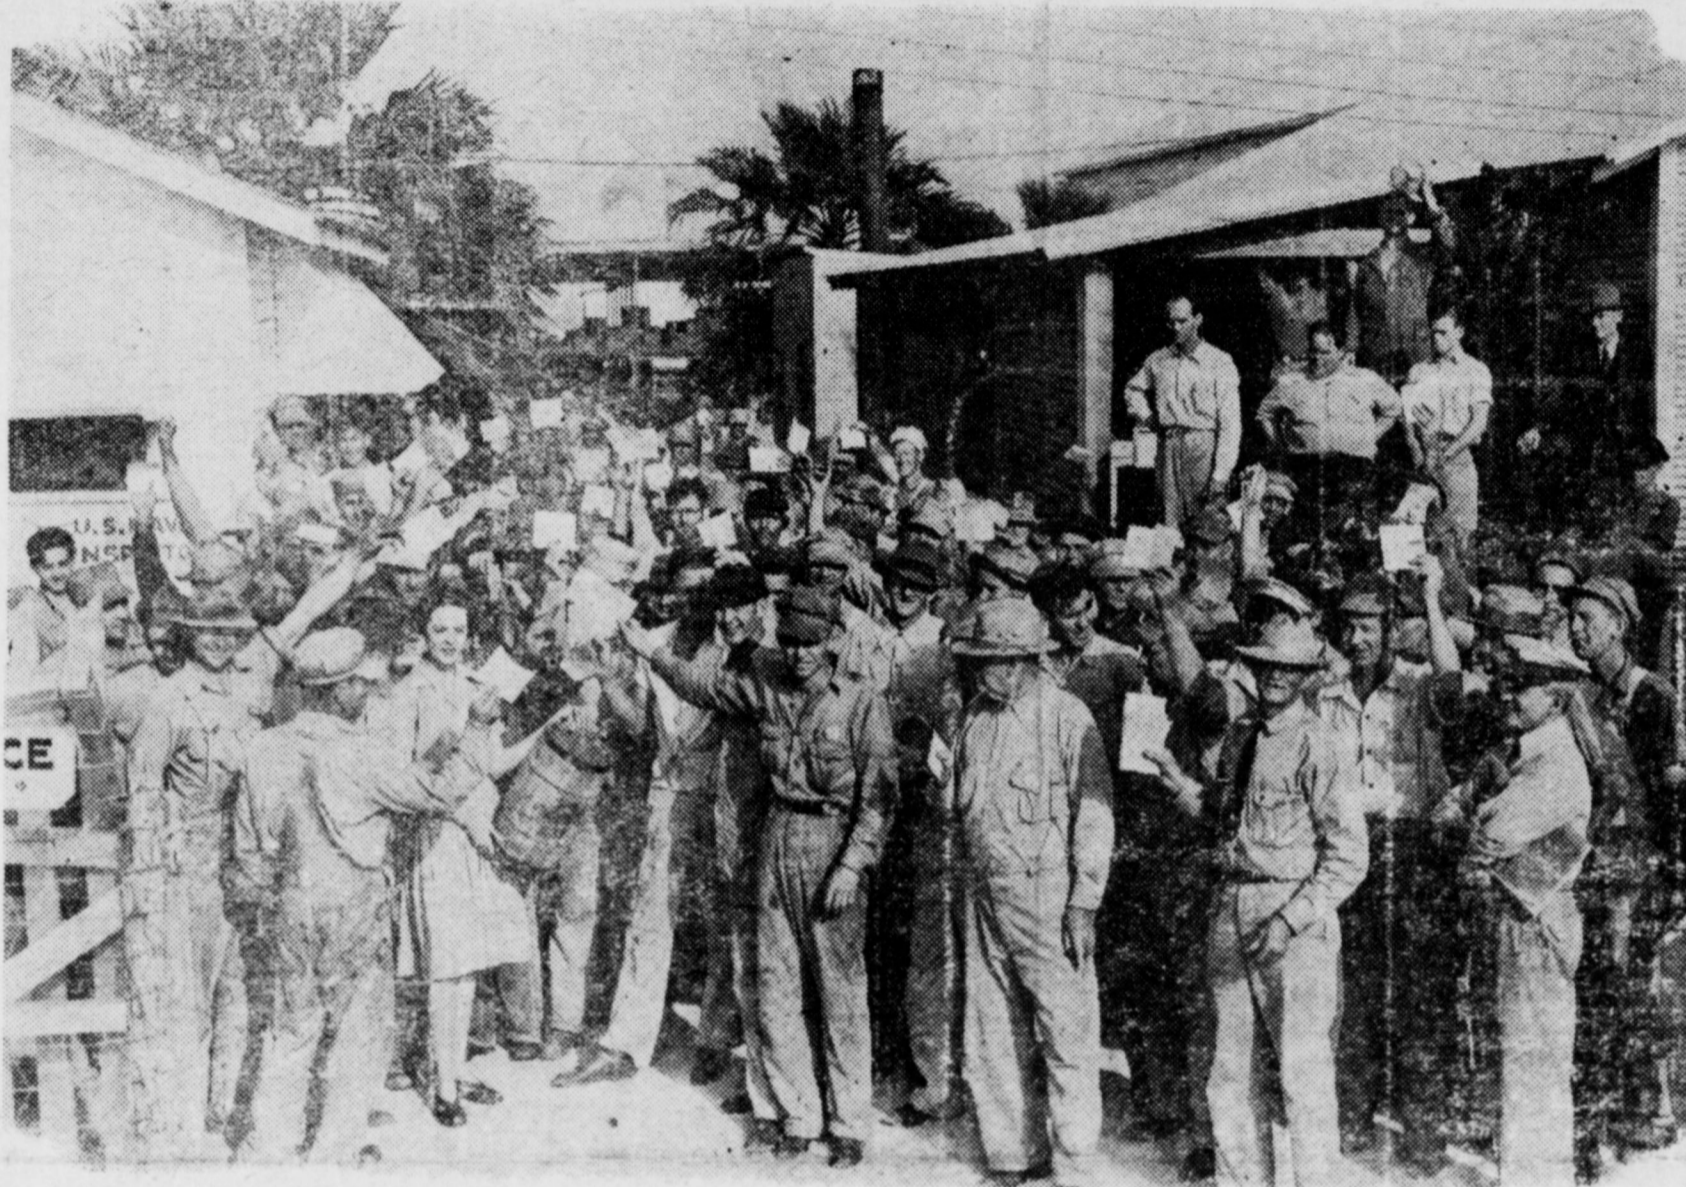

So Councilman Middleton launched a campaign. It required three meetings to obtain enough support for adoption of the ordinance.

ROCKPORT WORKMEN BUILD 24 SHIPS —GET OVERTWO MILLION IN PAY

Rockport workmen in the Rice Bros. & Co. ship yard here built 24 110-foot ships for the Navy in three years, plus nine boats for the army. For their work they received over two million dollars. Pictured above is a scene in the yard two years ago showing Rice Bros. employees contributing a day's pay to the Red Cross. The yard has now completed its contracts for the Army and Navy and only a few workmen remain on the payroll. Bottom picture is of the second sub-chaser launched in July, 1941. The 498 was credited with sinking a submarine shortly after leaving Rockport.

Mrs. Mary F. Lambert of Refugio Donates Land to Rockport Cemetery

Mrs. Mary F. Lambert of Refugio this week executed a deed to the Rockport Cemetery Association, giving the association two acres of land adjoining the present cemetery. The land was badly needed for expansion of the cemetery and will soon be put under fence and improved.

"We want to express our very deep gratitude to Mrs. Lambert for this gift," an official of the cemetery association said. "We also want to thank Mr. Harry Traylor for his untiring effort in helping to secure this additional acreage."

Traylor, when he learned the need for additional land for the cemetery, checked up on ownership of adjoining land and contacted Mrs. Lambert.

"Mrs. Lambert is a wonderful woman and is widely noted for her charity," Traylor said. "She wouldn't sell the land, but gave it to the Cemetery Association."

Mrs. H. G. Smith Injured In Fall At Home Here

Mrs. H. G. Smith, who was injured in a fall at her home here Tuesday at noon, was taken to Spohn's hospital in Corpus Christi for x-rays. The x-ray showed a broken bone and thigh injury, and she was placed in a cast from her waist to her knee.

Mrs. Smith will remain in the hospital about a week and then will be brought to her home. She will probably have to remain in the casts for several months.

Bruce Davis Tells Of Invasion Of Island of Guam

Comparing the bedlam of explosions to a "real 4th of July," Pfc. Bruce G. Davis wrote his parents here a most interesting letter about the invasion of the Island of Guam.

"We are progressing favorably and giving the Japs no amount of attention, plus discomfort," he wrote. "You should have seen our (censored) the island (censored) we landed. From all appearances it seemed as though nothing could withstand such bombardment. The shoreline was a line of live fire and black smoke. Every now and then an ammunition or fuel dump would blow up and that created a real 4th of July."

"The surrounding hills were honey-combed with caves. The Japs are much like animals. They have to be blasted out. In the evident hasty get-away, they left large stores and supplies of practically everything souvenirs are certainly no problem and I haven't even claimed any yet."

"The fox hole and I are associates once more, but making the best of it. Night fire disturbs my sleep but I am enjoying an endless variety of Japanese food. This includes canned crab, meat, bean sprouts, bambo sprouts, fish and fish eggs, and Pooze Saki, the Jap's best brand of liquor."

"Rest assured that I am well and happy as otherwise. Life is very interesting at present."

Our custom of raising the American flag over school houses was first observed in May, 1812, at a log schoolhouse on Catamount Hill Colrain, Mass.

FORTY-SIX SMALL WAR PLANTS GET CONTRACTS IN JULY

Loan and lease applications of 208 smaller war plants in the Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana Region amounting to $14,500,000 have been approved by the Smaller War Plants Corporation since its regional office was established, James A. Gallagher District Manager of the San Antonio District said.

Money loans to small plants to enable them to undertake war contracts are made, while under the lease arrangement equipment owned by the SWPC is leased to small industries.

While, according to the 1940 census, the three state region had only 3.4 per cent of the nation's smaller industries, the $14,500,000 of lease and loan applications approved amounts to 10 per cent of the national total, Gallagher said, indicating small plants in the region are on their toes in going after war contracts.

Of 108 bids received last month from small plants in the region, forty-six received contracts, he said.

24 Sub-Chasers, Nine Army Boats Constructed Here

Payroll During 3-Year Period Totals Over Two Million Dollars

Rice Brothers and Company this week completed Navy and Army boat building contracts that ran into the millions of dollars, and which furnished a payroll of more than two million dollars for Rockport during the past three years.

R. R. Rice said that plans were under way to continue to use the yard's machinery and facilities, but said that the company was not ready to give out definite information as to their plans at this time.

The boat building concern was organized late in 1940 as the Westerguard Boat Works, but was changed to Rice Brothers and Co. in January of 1941. The first 110-foot submarine chaser—and the first warship ever built and launched on the Texas coast—was sent down the launching ways at the yard on July 4, 1941.

Since the first chaser was launched, 23 others have followed, and an additional nine small cargo vessels have been built for the Army. The Rockport-built ships are now in the service of the U. S. and Allied Navies in all parts of the world. The small war boats have been praised highly for their efficiency and construction by many of the men who have manned them in action.

Each of the sub-chasers, costing into the hundreds of thousands of dollars when completed and equipped, are said to "have everything," and are as modern on a small scale as the latest of the big boats in the fighting fleet.

Peak of employment at the local yard was reached in 1941 with 390 employees on the payroll. For the past several months the number of employees has been steadily reduced, and since the last chaser was accepted by the Navy only a few employees remain at the yard.

Most of the men released from work here went elsewhere to construction jobs in other war plants. The remainder have gone into other work here.

A revival meeting is now in progress at the Fulton Community Church, with the Rev. Rodney McMahon, evangelist, bringing the messages each night at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Frank Walker, pastor of the church, issues a cordial invitation to everyone to come out to Fulton and enjoy the services.

"We are having old-time gospel preaching and singing, and will be glad to have everybody out," he said. "If you can't come—pray with us for a successful meeting."

Treasurer Says Revenue Fund Out Of Red First Time Since '33

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 9.—State Treasurer Jesse James today reported that the state's general revenue fund was out of the red for the first time since March 18, 1933. His regular semi-monthly treasury statement showed the fund to have a balance of $93,179.32 cash on hand. At one time the general revenue fund was overdrawn to a total of approximately $30,000,000 and holders of warrants against it were obliged to discount them one to two per cent or wait approximately a year for payment at face value.

James called today for presentation of all warrants drawn against the fund prior to yesterday. This will pay off $3,305,850 in warrants not previously called for payment.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."

"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was breakin' in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."

"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. For nearly two years this entire industry has been working night and day producing nothing but alcohol for the government's program."

"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that has been."

...the Pacific war, in which he is currently engaged. Unlike the Midway battle and the Solomons campaign, the present phase of the Pacific war is, of course, an offensive one and as such a new kind of test for CINCPAC. Before the beginning of the campaign for the Marshall Islands a question naturally arose as to which islands to seize first. Some responsible senior officers proposed cautiously starting on the circumference achieving surprise by striking at Japanese bases in the inner ring. Nimitz let the discussions take their course. At the end he announced his decision: to strike at Kwajalein and let the outer islands perish by spontaneous exhaustion.

Nimitz' offensive plans are made usually about eight months ahead of the headlines, because it takes this long to budget an operation in men and matériel, get the budget approved in Washington and then organize the expedition. Currently, Nimitz' chief problems are exactly opposite in kind from those which confronted him two years ago and concern the best ways to exploit his new tactical advantages and more abundant resources. This does not mean that they are necessarily easier to solve. As the Japanese are squeezed back into their proper places, U. S. supplies increasingly temptous

MONTHS for Battles YEARS for Electricity!

THINK OF IT! Glorious victories by our Pacific forces, such as at Saipan, were planned eight months ahead of the headlines.

Those victories of our fighting American men didn't just happen. They were founded on well-laid plans made months before the attack.

It's the same way on the home front. You may not have realized it, but war has brought tremendous demands for electric power. Yet no military establishment, war industry or civilian has suffered for lack of electricity. That didn't just happen either.

It takes almost two years to build and install just one large electric generator. CPL has added three of these generators to its electric system during the past five years.

That took long-range planning, but it's the reason that there is no electric power shortage in South and Southwest Texas today—it's the reason there's plenty of electricity for the Army, the Navy, war industries and you.

To do that job it wasn't necessary to have government ownership of the electric industry. It was done by free men and women working the American way under our system of free enterprise.

America's free enterprise system has preserved the rights and opportunities of the individual, has enabled our country to out-produce all the Axis countries combined, and has given the people of America the highest standard of living the world has ever known! That's more than any other "system" has done.

Conference Asked On Refugio Route
CORPUS CHRISTI. — Members of the State Highway Commission will be invited to attend a conference here at an early date to discuss planning of an auxiliary direct route between Corpus Christi and Refugio, it was decided at a meeting of representatives of the two towns Tuesday.
The delegation has been jointly planning the highway route since March. Their plans were interrupted by the government freeze on highway construction, and the road is now proposed as a post war project.
The date of the conference will be determined by the commissioners. A barbecue is also being planned in their honor at Bayside and an invitation will be extended also to San Patricio County representatives to attend. A tour of the three-county area with the state highway officials is proposed as a climax to the conference.
Road construction is desired on United States Highways 281 and 44 between Gregory and Taft, intersecting with State Highway 29 to Bayside. Under the route desired by the committees, distance between Goliad and Curcio would be shortened by 25 miles. It is pointed out the distance to Houston would be reduced by 12 miles, the same for Victoria and 25 miles shorter for Goliad and Curcio from Refugio.

"This Is the Army" Earns $10,000,000 for Emergency Fund

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The stage and film productions of "This is the Army" has earned $10,000,000 for the Army Emergency Relief Fund, Irving Berlin, composer and producer of the show, reports.
Berlin told a press conference yesterday after returning from four months overseas with the show that his new song dedicated to the infantry, "There Are No Wings on a Foxhole," had been accepted by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff. He added that he would donate proceeds to a fund of infantrymen.
Declaring he was tired from the tour, the 56-year-old composer added, "I'm not as tired as a lot of the guys who are still over there."
