Agreements Near On Building Of Marine Laboratory Here

State Offered Cooperation By Local Officials

Picton Says No Reason Why Problems Cannot Be Worked Out

Chas. T. Picton, chairman of the Aransas County Navigation Commission, said today that he could see no reason why "we can't get" the proposed state marine laboratory here.

Picton said that he gave assurance to Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, that local interests would cooperate in every way with the state in locating and building the proposed $25,000 marine laboratory here.

"I assured Dodgen that we wanted the laboratory here and that we would help him in every way possible," Picton said. "He will draw up a lease agreement for the site, along with tentative plans for the building and bring them to Rockport."

Picton said after his conversation with Dodgen that he felt sure everything could be worked out when the state officials meet with officials here and make known their exact needs and desires in the matter.

Mayor Albert Collier stated that he had also talked with Dodgen, and was informed that the game commission secretary would seek advice of the attorney general in drawing up a lease agreement. Collier said that Dodgen was enthusiastic over the prospects of getting all details worked out at an early date for the start of building the laboratory.

It is proposed to build the laboratory on the Rockport harbor near the break-water, where scientific researchers would have bay water available for their work. The laboratory would serve as a research station for the whole Texas coast, where methods of propagating and conserving marine life would be studied.

Palm Courts Doesn't Have First Inter-Com

Fred Bracht, owner of the Model Grocery, challenged a statement in last week's Pilot that Palm Courts had installed the first inter-communications system in Aransas county.

H. H. Roberts of Palm Courts probably has the first inter-communications system in a tourist court set-up here, but Bracht has had a similar system installed in his store since new building was completed in 1943. The first of these systems, however, was probably installed at the shipyard as inter-communication between various departments during the peak of war-time ship building days.

The Palm Courts system was installed by the Rockport Electric Company.

Harry Mills Home Sold This Week To Dallas Man

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mills this week sold their home in the north-eastern part of town to W. E. Crist of Dallas. The consideration given for the home and five lots was $5,000.

Crist will not occupy the property for two years and Mr. and Mrs. John Ramseur have leased the place for a residence. Ramseur is a member of the high school faculty and athletic coach.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills are occupying a cottage at Lamar, where they recently became partners in the ownership of Mills Wharf with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mills.

Red Cross Quota Still Lagging

CAPTAIN EDWARDS

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We have a new Pastor at the Fulton Church and we are hereby extending a hearty invitation to everybody to attend our services. Sunday school 9:30 each Sunday morning, preaching each Sunday at 11:00 a. m. o'clock and 7:45 p. m. by The Pastor Rev. R. H. Cunningham. Beginning March 18 and continuing two weeks, we have a singing school to which everybody is invited. No charge for tuition. School is under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Cunningham.

Mrs. Corrine Spaulding of Corpus Christi was the week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. A. J. Adolphus.

Little More Than Half of Quota Is Raised

Everyone Urged to Do Their Part in Filling Red Cross Need

Red Cross quotas are based on the anticipated need of the National organization for the ensuing year — and Aransas county has only given half the amount designated as her share of funds needed to bring relief from suffering when disaster strikes.

Aransas county's quota is only $1,020 this year. Chas. T. Picton, chairman of the Red Cross fund campaign, points out. The quota could easily be met if every person would do his or her part, and in doing so they will have the assurance that their dollars will be spent in alleviating suffering, in rebuilding homes and businesses torn by disaster, and in doing many helpful things for those in need.

An example of the way the Red Cross dollar is spent was the work carried out in Aransas county following hurricanes in 1942 and 1945, when a total of $13,000 was spent in the county to rehabilitate people who lost homes and business and were unable to help themselves. The assistance was given under the supervision of a local advisory board.

Leave your contribution at the bank, give it to Mrs. Booth or Mrs. Hanway, Picton urged.

The fund raising period ends on March 31.

Silver Caravan Visits Rockport

The Army's silver and white caravan, with its many displays and exhibits aroused much interest during its short stay here Monday.

Captain Everett L. Edwards, in charge of the Recruiting Service Caravan, spoke briefly on the advantages of an enlistment in the Regular Army. He stressed the fact, "that after income tax and other deductions were taken from civilian salaries, the family allotments, reenlistment bonuses, cost of clothing, food and shelter, medical care and cash payments, early retirement features — with good pay which the new Regular Army provides, makes the salary of the Army man compare favorably with many jobs in civilian life paying good salaries.

In his talk Captain Edwards stated, "No young man who can pass the Army examination need now yearn for a college education because he is unable to finance it. For those who enlist by October 6, 1946, the U. S. Government will now pay all expenses of a 48 month college course, including $500 per year for tuition, books, etc., and $65 per month for subsistence, after a three year enlistment in the Army."

"In addition to the advantages offered enlistees, their services are urgently needed to replace battle-worn veterans — to preserve the peace we have won at a cost of so many lives and billions of dollars."

Working in conjunction with and in charge of the Air Corps Section of the unit was Major Fred B. Ersky, who was accompanied by Captain Gordon C. Cook, Engineering Officer in charge of exhibits, and Lt. John W. Balchun, Air Corps, personnel and recruiting officer.

Major Ersky stated that, "In order to keep what we have gained in this war, it is necessary to maintain the finest, best trained, best equipped Air Force on earth. There are over 420 specialties in the Air Forces, including radar, television, electronics, jet propulsion and meteorology in which young men may receive training."

In case any interested party has additional questions they will be cheerfully answered by personnel in the Army Recruiting office in Corpus Christi.

Collier Says Business Demands All His Time

No New Candidates for City Post at Election Set for April 2

Mayor Albert Collier stated today that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the office he has held since last fall. He said that due to pressure of his own business he would not be able to accept the office, even if he were elected after friends and supporters placed his name on the ballot.

"It was understood when I accepted the office several months ago to fill an unexpired term, that I would not be a candidate for re-election to the office," Mayor Collier said.

"I appreciate the honor of the office and wish to thank the many citizens who have given their cooperation in efforts of the council to bring about improvements," he continued. "Due to the pressure of my own business through the expansion of oyster farming activities, I will be unable to serve after my term expires in April."

"I feel sure that there are others among us who can take over the reins of city government and do a better job."

S. B. Daggett and Arlie Shivers, alderman, are up for re-election. They are also filling out unexpired terms. Neither has made a statement whether they will be candidates for re-election.

W. L. Mikeal and W. H. Taylor Form Gas Company

W. L. Mikeal of the Aransas Butane Gas Company has sold W. H. Taylor of Aransas Pass a partnership in the company. The partnership will operate under the firm name of Aransas Butane Gas Co., Ltd., and will offer butane gas, appliances and service to customers in the Rockport-Aransas Pass area.

Taylor is owner of the Taylor Furniture Company of Aransas Pass and a gas company office will be maintained at the furniture store in Aransas Pass. The Rockport office of the company, at Mikeal's residence on highway 35, two and a half blocks west of the Humble Filling Station.

AN APPEAL . . . From Your Fire Dept.

Editor's Note: Following is an appeal issued to you, as a citizen of Rockport, from your Fire Department. No city has a more unselfish group than its volunteer firemen. These men give their time to studying and practicing methods of fighting fire to protect your homes, your loved ones, and your places of business. They do not get paid. In fact, they pay to belong to the department, and their money is also used in various ways to provide protection for you. These public-spirited firemen run the risk of injury, and even death, in their volunteer work. They ruin good clothes, and neglect their own business. All this to bring you protection and a sense of security in knowing they are on the job 24 hours a day — every day. Read the appeal of your Fire Department, and give them your assistance and co-operation.)

Last year the City of Rockport had a very sizeable increase in its insurance rates. Up to this year we had a 25 per cent credit on our fire insurance rates, but this year we are paying a 15 per cent penalty. That is a difference of 40 per cent.

What caused this increase? This could probably be answered by saying we had two bad fires — the boat house fire and the school house fire. Both of these fires were several years ago, but insurance rates are based on a 5-year period. We now have practically two years behind the boat house fire and have three years to redeem our lower rates for the next 5-year period. We are going to do everything in our power to lower this rate for the city. BUT (and this is no small matter) we are going to need HELP — and lots of it.

Last year the Fire Department spent $599.64 for repairs, gas, oil and all expenses necessary to operate the department. Of this amount $85.00 was donated to the department. The balance of this operating cost was met by the Volunteer Firemen themselves. We not only gave our time, and paid our dues to belong to the department, but we also got out and raised about $800 — and this we were very glad to be able to do, and not have to ask for a donation.

This year we have more men in the department. Most of the men who were in the services have returned and are back taking an active part in the department.

Our fire fighting equipment needs considerable repair. Our trucks have been running over two years without any major repairs on them, and to get them back in condition to give 100 per cent efficiency we are going to have to spend several hundred dollars, plus what new fire hose is needed, and other equipment that wears out from year to year.

If by helping your fire department we can get our insurance rates cut back to the credit side of the ledger, what better investment could you put your money in? Help build up the Fire Department, so that losses can be held to a minimum and save yourself money on insurance and heavy fire loss. It is wrong to let truck and equipment run down, because faulty equipment could easily cost the life of some one — and this money could not pay for at any price!

With the cooperation and financial assistance of all a good, efficient department can be maintained, and the cost will not be high to anyone. The benefits, and results, however, will be great to everyone.

With your help we believe we can give you a fire department that any town would be glad to have and support, regardless of the size of the town or city. Are you with us? If so, and you wish to help out see Miss Iris Sorenson, or any member of the department.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Water Carnival Starts April 3 In San Antonio

A water carnival, jointly sponsored by the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce and the Crosby Enterprises of Hollywood, will be held at the Woodlawn Swimming Pool in San Antonio from April 3rd to April 7th. The aquatic festival, "Rhapsody in Swintime", will feature some of the world's champion swimmers and divers. Its production cost will be about $75,000, which includes lavish scenery, gorgeous gowns, sumptuous props, and special lighting equipment, all of which is to be shipped special from Hollywood. A large orchestra will furnish the music.

The regular aquatic carnival will be preceded by a water pageant April 2 in the Arneson River Theater with a parade of decorated floats down the San Antonio River. This special preview will have all the effects of a gala Hollywood opening. Klieg lights will line the banks of the historic river and thrust their soaring beams in the sky. A galaxy of Texas beauties will model on the lavishly decorated floats. The municipal authorities are making arrangements to handle a banner crowd for the preview. If production schedules at the studio permit, Der Bingle himself is expected to attend. Local talent, along with the best swimmers of the Southwest will take part in the river parade.

Larry Crosby, manager of the Crosby Enterprises, is enlisting the services of Paramount Studios' research department to duplicate, in replica, the authentic details of the splendor of Old Venice for the river floats. He is also arranging for a complete new musical score by Hollywood's top composer for vocal and musical backgrounds.

The water carnival at Woodlawn swimming pool will be similar to those staged at the World's Fairs in New York and San Francisco and will bring to San Antonio the nation's outstanding swimmers and divers. There will be a water ballet of 20 girls. In addition, a stage show featuring outstanding vaudeville acts and 50 of the prettiest girls of the Southwest, who will form a special dancing chorus.

Among the stars in the water show will be Lita O'Neill, the only swimmer who does ballet work in the water. Lovely Miss O'Neill is the world's champion water ballerina and received her training with the Monte Carlo Ballet. Other stars include Joe Peterson, world's trick-diving champion and stunt man, to top Hollywood "stars"; Adelle Hannibal, voluptuous Central European diving and swimming champion; Jack "Tex" Thomas, a San Antonio boy, who got his start at the local "Y" and is destined to become one of the

TEACHERS FIND NYLON BUYING TRICKY IN MEXICO

Because of OPA price ceilings here thousands of pairs of nylon stockings are being air expressed into that ceilingless country south of the border. There the sheer gam coverings are reported to be selling from $3 to $50 per pair.

While attending a teachers conference in Harlingen last week, many of the women went across the border into Mexico to shop around there for things that are unobtainable on the USA side. They found nylons, and many of them delightedly bought them. Disappointments came later, when the nylons were pulled on. Some were short, with rayon tops extending below the knee, and, perhaps there are some who are justly proud of their purchases.

Among the mermaid beauties of the swimming stars will be Wave Winters, A.A.U. champion; and Katie Manley, 100 meter swimming champ.

Among the stage acts will be the Morello Trio, daring roller skater; Evans and Dolores, thrill tight-wire act which performs 30 feet over the water; and Charles Rogers, singer, who sang the prince's role in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

The Hollywood Water Follies will be the first big water carnival ever staged in Texas. More than 150 people will be in the water in the grand finale.

Mail orders for tickets can be sent to Howell Jones, executive secretary, Chamber of Commerce, 700 Insurance Building, San Antonio, Texas. SNOWFALL—This refrigerator car will soon be a solid package of snow-ice and fresh spinach, ready to speed on its way to market. Block ice is crushed to the consistency of snow and forced through a mechanical blower to provide dependable refrigeration for fresh vegetables in transit from South Texas.

Sure, it Snows in South Texas!

MAN-MADE snow, that is, which makes it possible for South Texas vegetables to reach northern and eastern markets in good condition.

Tons of ice, crushed and blown like snow on fresh, green vegetables, protect the health-giving vitamins of perishable foods. Without ice, shipment of fresh food products to distant markets would be practically impossible.

Shipping season in South Texas, from November to June, is a busy time. CPL ice plants run at full blast twenty-four hours a day. Thousands of carloads of fresh vegetables and fruits, protected by ice, are started on their journey to markets all over the United States.

From its 50 ice plants, strategically located throughout South Texas, CPL supplies a great portion of the ice needed for these refrigerator cars. And to meet the demands of a large and growing food-producing area, CPL is expanding the capacity of several of its ice plants.

More and more the production and shipment of fresh vegetables and fruits is becoming increasingly important in South Texas. As a part of the ice industry, CPL is helping to do a vital job in getting these fresh food products to market. In addition, it is continuing to render ice service to homes, hospitals and businesses—safeguarding health in your community and in the nation.

Rockport Teachers Attend Meeting In Harlingen

Twelve teachers from the Rockport Schools, plus one trustee and his wife attended the South Texas Division of the Texas State Teachers association this past week end at Harlingen.

They heard such iminent speakers as Dr. Goslin, supt. of schools of Minneapolis, Minn., Dr. I. E. Stutsman, Supt. of San Antonio Public Schools, Dr. E. N. Jones, President of A. & I. College; Jeff Williams, humorist and philosopher from Oklahoma; and many others.

The theme for the entire program was built around Post war education, with emphasis on modern means of teaching and the wages of teachers.

"At your next convention, if I were you, I would assemble every business man I could muster, put them right down the middle row of seats, surround them with teachers, and tell them how little you are getting and ask them what they are going to do about it," said Jeff Williams of Oklahoma.

Dr. Goslin said that no more are teachers listening to the man on the street sympathizing with them and doing nothing about it. The teachers themselves are withdrawing from the profession — one that they originally chose as a "must" profession — because of the low pay.

Even those who have been suffocated financially for years and have given years to the profession are withdrawing and taking positions that earn them a living, he said.

The teachers went on a shopping tour of Matamoras during the short sessions on Friday. Administrators, homemaking teachers, and vocational teachers attend luncheons at various places throughout the city at noon Friday.

Principal Connolly from Harlingen was elected president for the ensuing year; H. L. Thormalien, supt. of county schools from Alice was elected vice-president; L. F. Cornell from Kingsville was elected permanent secretary. Morgan C. Wheeler was elected delegate from this area to the state conference next Thanksgiving.

Corpus Christi extended an invitation for the teachers to meet there for 1947.
