

QUARANTINE TO BE LIFTED TUESDAY

Along The Waterfront

There has been little activity this week, with the quarantine keeping a lot of visitors away and bad weather playing havoc with the fishing.

A. C. Wolk, at the Jolly Roger, reported a catch of 44 trout by Harold and Charles Lloyd, both of El Campo.

Truett Craven took a party out in the "Texas," and brought in two strings of gaff-tops. There were several three and four pound fish in the bunch.

Henry Ballou took Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Muller, of San Antonio, out in the "Earline B." The Mullers bagged 40 trout.

J. L. Baughman, of Houston, will be the new marine biologist stationed here with the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. Baughman was curator of fishes at the Houston Museum of Natural History, and built up a fine collection of Texas specimens at Rice Institute. He was also instrumental in building up the library on marine life at Rice. He has published numerous marine papers and popular articles in the marine field.

Joel Hedgespeth is expecting proofs on an article of his soon to appear in the game department magazine. The article will carry some fine illustrations by Mr. Hedgespeth.

William M. B. Mullinax, of the game department, has been busy with road blockade during the emergency.

The Rockport Fish & Oyster Company reports little activity. Business is virtually at a standstill at the Jackson Sea Food Company. The same goes for Travis Johnson.

The writer of this column spent considerable time in Louisiana, Florida and Mississippi as an employee of the "Southern Fisherman." Conclusions drawn from several months in Rockport: That Texas has the highest type men to be found in the seafood industry anywhere in the United States.

Three Quarantined Boys Avoiding Road Block

Three Rockport youths, who slipped past the road block and enjoyed a short liberty in Aransas Pass, were restricted to their homes Tuesday by Sheriff A. R. Curry to prevent the possibility of their being carriers of the dread polio-like disease that the city has been guarding against.

The three boys, after avoiding the guards placed on the Oak Shore road, were picked up when they tried to slip back into Rockport. All three were ordered isolated for two weeks and their parents made responsible for them.

This is the first violation of the eleven-day-old quarantine to come to the attention of local authorities.

Rockport Quiet During Quarantine

The sidewalks in Rockport are being rolled up early during the quarantine. There has been little activity. The Rio has been closed all week, and with ninety men out on road blockade corner confabs have been held to a minimum and over early.

Business has fallen off, and fewer people are going to Aransas Pass due to the quarantine. The Fish Bowl is more deserted than usual for this time of year. As a visitor remarked, the sidewalks are rolled up and all the folks shushed off the streets by eight or nine o'clock.

But the city could consider itself lucky because there were no cases of polio reported anywhere in the county.

Let's Have a New Representative

After careful consideration of the qualifications of the two candidates for State Representative for Aransas, San Patricio, Refugio and Bee Counties, The Pilot goes on record as endorsing the candidacy of John Dawson. We believe, after studying the past record of the present incumbent, Mr. Henry Atkinson, that he has not represented the people of Aransas County. His record and incidents attached thereto show that he has sacrificed democratic representation of the people here to serve special interests and minority groups.

Regardless of the merits of any local bill, the people affected by such a bill are due, under the constitution, the right to express themselves to their representative. Mr. Atkinson failed to recognize this right of the people during the last session of the legislature and pushed through a local bill closing waters entirely in Aransas County without giving the people here proper notification that such a bill was pending.

Mr. Dawson is a young man, 33 years of age. He resides in Sinton, which is almost centrally located in the district he seeks to represent. Mr. Atkinson resides in Beeville, the far end of the district. Mr. Dawson is an attorney, which further qualifies him for the office he seeks. Mr. Atkinson is not. Our investigation shows Mr. Dawson to be an energetic young man of good character. He is aggressive and fair-minded. We believe he will make us the best representative. We endorse him for the office, and wish for him the solid support of the people of Aransas County and the remainder of the district.

Community Service

Community service is an intangible that is often hard to define, but the unselfish devotion of men who have handled our quarantine measures, is an outstanding example. And not only the men, but the Boy Scouts and others who have distributed DDT and handbills and helped with the cleanup campaign.

Space would not permit our extending the city's gratitude to each and every individual involved, and so we take this opportunity to extend a blanket "Well Done!" to the thirty-seven men Sheriff Curry has deputized, to the forty-five volunteers working under Fire Chief Lloyd Lassiter, to the representatives of the game department who have worked faithfully with these men, and to the Boy Scouts and others who have contributed their bit.

Aransas County does not have a single polio case at present, and we firmly believe that "community service" of the kind we have witnessed in Rockport will keep it that way.

Windward II, Out of New York Since October, Now In Rockport For Refit

A lot of people tied down to jobs might be envious of the skipper of the "Windward II," A. J. Lothian, who has led a nomad's existence at sea aboard his 42-foot Chris-Craft for the past seven months.

Leaving New York last October, with his wife and one other crew member, Mr. Lothian has cruised the Atlantic and Caribbean and fished the waters of Cat Cay, Bimini, the Bahamas and the Windward Passage.

Mr. Lothian rates the fishing in Cat Cay, Bimini and Bahama area the best in the world. Their average catch was 800 pounds in two or three hours, he said, mostly bonita. There is never a day when the big ones don't bite in that area, according to Mr. Lothian.

Mr. Lothian has put in at Rockport for a few weeks rest, and to refit his craft. Then he will proceed to Tampico for the second tarpon rodeo of the year, to be held sometime in June. He said he had not heard of the rodeo held there in April, in which Lawrence Miller and his wife, who recently purchased the "San Antonio Rose" in Rockport, were entered. That might possibly be attributed to his long stay at sea.

Mr. Lothian is an inveterate world traveler. In 1933 he started an 11,000-knot voyage that lasted two years and three months, returning to the States in 1935. He has made several cruises. He said that his main interest in life, and speaks with authority about tuna, marlin and the Great Reef off Australia, which is rated the deep-sea fisherman's paradise. He seems to have fished all over the world.

Besides "Windward II," Mr. Lothian has a schooner, the "Vreda," which has seen stiff competition in ocean schooner racing—the true sport of kings. The "Vreda" has been entered in the Nassau and Miami National races, and the Gipsy Island race.

Mr. Lothian is also a sports writer, of the reel and scale variety, with articles published in several national magazines under various pseudonyms.

Del Mar Grill Slates Opening For This Week

The Del Mar Grill, owned by Roy and Lola Kaemmerer, failed to open last week because their stove had not arrived.

They expect the stove early next week, and ask their friends and patrons to bear with them until it does come.

The Grill will be open as soon as installation is completed of the Construction Notes...

DeWilton Jeffries has remodeled the old Pilot shop until it is barely recognizable. He will open an automotive parts store as soon as he gets the shelves painted and stock in.

Work is progressing nicely on Thompson's Spa, at the north end of town.

Lloyd Lassiter hopes to move his tailor shop to new quarters early in June. The new building is next to the hardware store, and Sparky Wilkinson is handling the contracting end.

The Baptist Church has a new roof.

Construction is going on on both sides of the new Pilot office. Henry Schmidt is building an addition on the two-story structure that houses the newspaper. When we went to interview Mr. Schmidt about progress on the work, we found that he had left for New York.

Jack Blackwell is still busily remodeling his new studio. In fact, Jack is just about the busiest man in Rockport these days.

Finishing touches are being given the new building to house the Del Mar Grill, and Mr. and Mrs. Kammerer expect to be open for business soon.

Charley Roe is still getting equipment for his locker plant, and work is going ahead on the building.

Dues Deadline For Alumni Banquet

Mrs. Robert Key, president of the Alumni Association, has announced a barbecue to be held at the Concession Hall, Lamar, on Saturday, June 1, at 8:30 p. m., and has issued a reminder of a dues deadline set for Saturday, May 25.

The association's dues for one year will be $1, and each member will pay an additional $1 if a guest is invited to the barbecue. Proceeds will finance the barbecue, and may be paid to Margaret Schuster, at the bank; Fred Bracht, Jr., at the Red & White Grocery; Cleveland Kelly, at I. G. A., or Miss Iris Sorensen at Sorensen's Grocery.

Mrs. Key urged that all members attend, since the barbecue will be in the nature of a homecoming for alumni veterans.

Quarantine Violators Now Number 6

Another youth who violated the quarantine, and a man who refused to have his car sprayed, brought the total of known violators of emergency measures to five this week, and Sheriff A. R. Curry reported that a car had run the blockade and all his department had to go on was a license number that one of the men on watch jotted down.

Four Rockport youths are now in isolation for slipping past the road block and visiting in neighboring towns. Sheriff Curry said he did not know yet if he could prosecute the man who refused to have his car sprayed, and added that it was very discouraging to the ninety-odd volunteers on road block to have their work come to naught for such a reason. He has asked County Attorney Emory Spencer's opinion on the question.

It is very possible, however, that the driver of the car that deliberately ran the road block may be prosecuted for failing to stop. At least thirty-seven of the men standing shifts on roads leading into Rockport are deputies sworn in by Sheriff Curry, which gives offense a legal angle.

Boy Scouts Distribute Emergency Circulars

The following Boy Scouts have been distributing circulars during the present cleanup campaign in Rockport:

Herring, Davis Honor Students At Graduation

David Herring is valedictorian of the senior class this year, and Charlyne Davis is salutatorian. The two made the highest grades among the graduating class. David recently received his appointment to the Military Academy at West Point.

Due to the emergency measures now in effect in the city, none of the seniors will make an address at the exercises. Morgan C. Wheeler, superintendent of schools, said talks by the senior class had been cut out to make the ceremony as short as possible and prevent a prolonged crowded condition at graduation.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Herring. Charlyne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Davis.

Baccalaureate, Commencement Tuesday Night

Graduation exercises for the senior class of the Rockport High School will be held this Tuesday evening, May 28, at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. Morgan C. Wheeler announced today. Rev. T. H. Pollard will give the invocation. Rev. Dean Walton will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. Seventeen graduating seniors will receive diplomas from Mr. T. C. Kelly, four of whom will not complete their work until the end of the summer.

Those receiving diplomas will be David Herring, Albert Hunt, Tommy Blackwell, Charlotte Cron, Margaret Stewart, Melba Phagan, Charlyne Davis, Patsy Davis, Rowena Posey, Sophia Theodore, Betty Roesing, Eufrasia Castro and Betty Haynes Rowe.

'Billy Boy' Bought By Colquitt From Harold Buckley

The "Billy Boy" was bought by Prescott Colquitt from Harold Buckley this week. Both men are well-known in the fish business here. Colquitt plans to shrimp with the "Billy Boy" for the Rockport Fish & Oyster Co. He will not skipper the boat.

The OPA lifted price controls from shrimp and several other seafoods this week, and the impact made itself felt at once in the consumer's pocketbook.

At a union meeting in Freeport, the boatman's price was raised from 12 1/2 cents a pound to 21 cents. The fishermen's union in Rockport is not affiliated with this group, but local companies indicated they would meet the price and that it would apply generally to the entire Texas industry.

With the lids off, the 8 1/2 cent raise granted the fishermen will not be the raise that confronts John Q. Public when he goes in to buy shrimp or other ceiling-free seafoods. Profits in the seafood industry are based largely on percentages, and the retail price will go up accordingly.

One restaurant man said he had been notified this morning that his shrimp would cost him 19 cents more a pound. Several packers have glumly forecast that prices would eventually go to 90 cents or a dollar a pound, with a subsequent fall in the market that might be ruinous to the industry.

Many who feel that OPA is necessary to maintain an even balance between producer and consumer in this age of industrial strife, are fearful of a catastrophe such as overtook the crab fishermen in the Chesapeake Bay area. When the lid was taken off crabmeat, the price jumped from $1 to $2.50 a pound, then crashed to rock bottom. Crabmeat is now selling for less than it did in normal times.

Another packer said OPA had pulled a neat coup by lifting the ceilings during the slack season, when scarcity of shrimp and some types of seafood would be a factor in skyrocketing prices. He indicated that OPA would reap beneficial publicity from the resultant cry against the rising cost of living.

Rockport is merely going along with the rest of the industry. But it's another case where John Q. Public will pay through the pocket.

Theodore Gives Up Ghost and K-C Steaks

Theodore's Cafe has been advertising—and trying to get—K-C steaks for the past two weeks. But it was no soap for Mr. Theodore, and this week he gave up trying and took the special off the menu.

The steaks just didn't materialize. The long-expected shipment is now no longer expected, and Mr. Theodore apologizes for expecting them in the first place. All he has gotten out of the promised order to date has been—silence.

Second Call For Boys Interested In Baseball

Coach John Ramseur has asked that all boys from the 4th through the 8th grades, who are interested in baseball and a summer recreational program, meet at the high school Tuesday morning, May 28.

All those who are interested in forming a baseball league will meet in the high school auditorium Tuesday night, May 28, at 8 o'clock, to discuss plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, J. H. Miller Attend Houston Boat Show

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Morrison and J. H. Miller this week attended the Boat and Sportsmen's Show in Houston, returning to Rockport Thursday, the last day of the show.

Both men said that, considering conditions, there were more boats on display than either had expected. There was also a good display of accessories and sportsman's supplies.

Hugh Morrison said there was a very enjoyable floor show, with champion casters, horseshoe pitchers, log-rollers, archery and rifle shots.

Restriction Holds On Travelers From Infected Areas

Cottage, Cafe Owners Asked to Cooperate In Enforcement

City and county officials, in a meeting called by Dr. Charles F. Cron Saturday night, voted to lift Rockport's quarantine on Tuesday, May 28, as originally planned, although both Corpus and San Antonio had virtually abandoned emergency measures such as restricted travel.

A fresh outbreak of polio in the Alamo City, with five new cases reported Wednesday, strongly emphasized the need for a continued quarantine. New cases were also reported in McAllen and Lubbock, in West Texas, and it was feared the epidemic might not yet be under control. But there are no known cases in Aransas County.

Present at the meeting were Judge B. S. Fox, Sheriff A. R. Curry, Mayor Albert Collier, Fire Chief Lloyd Lassiter, and Leonard LaBlanc, Charley Townsend, Tom DeForest, W. B. Allen, L. V. McLester, J. H. Mills, C. A. Duck, A. H. Bolser, Ed Barnard and A. T. Shivers. Miss Iris Sorensen took notes of the meeting.

Sheriff Curry has thirty-seven deputies on road block, and Fire Chief Lloyd Lassiter has at least forty-five firemen and special volunteers doing the same work. M. B. Mullinax and Ben Earp, of the game department, are also standing watch. The only known violation of the quarantine to date was three Rockport youths who slipped into Aransas Pass and were apprehended on their way back. All three are in isolation.

Dr. Cron, city and county health officer, urged that the cleanup campaign be continued and weeds be cut from vacant lots around the city. He said there were still disposal plants and cesspools in or near the city in unsanitary condition, and that those that could be should be connected with sewer system.

Dr. Cron has called another meeting for Saturday night, May 25, at 7:30 p. m. in the City Hall, and has urged that all tourist camp and restaurant owners attend. The doctor said that it was imperative that people from infected areas be barred from the city, and the only way this can be done after the road block is abandoned is through the cooperation of the above mentioned owners.

Kenneth Rundlett Injured In Fall From Trailer

Kenneth Rundlett, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Rundlett, was badly injured in a fall from a trailer loaded with sheet rock Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Rundlett, who is constructing a new home and several tourist cottages north of town, was driving the car when the accident happened. Kenneth was riding on the trailer, and Mr. Rundlett said he looked around and saw that the wind had blown both his son and the sheetrock off the trailer.

Kenneth was treated for multiple bruises by Dr. Cron, and released.

Horse Operas Ride At Rio Theatre This Week-end

The kiddies can't come, but all over 21 can see "Jesse James" Saturday night, and the swashbuckling Errol Flynn in technician in "San Antonio" Sunday.

The Rio has been closed all week, and those under 21 will have to be barred until the quarantine is lifted next Tuesday, May 28, in accordance with regulations laid down by the city-county health officer.

Ed Barnard said the theatre would be doing business as usual after Tuesday.

Measures For Prevention
Of Polio

AUSTIN, May 23.—Dr. Geo. W.
Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is now occurring in certain sections of the State.

Strict sanitary measures must be observed in all communities.
Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the house-fly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once.
Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Safe water supplies must be assured.
Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to promote and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from flies, filth and insects. All eating and food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State Law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils.

Every effort should be made to secure approved milk. Rats and lice should be eliminated. Maintain in the home the same sanitary standards that are necessary in community life. Particular attention should be paid to personal hygiene.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit homes where there is illness.
Polio cases should be quarantined for 14 days and adults who work in food establishments should be particularly instructed in personal hygiene. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children, during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theatres be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back.
When suspicious symptoms appear, physician should be called immediately.

Repairs Being Rushed On Corpus Rodeo Park

Corpus Christi, Tex.—Workmen are rushing a repair job on stands of Spudder Park rodeo arena here in preparation for the annual show of the Southwest Texas Rodeo Association, to be staged again this year by the famed father-son combine of Jack and Earl Sellers of Del Rio June 4-8.

last year, all performances being put on before packed stands.

Once again the top hands of the rodeo world, including many Madison Square Garden performers, will be on hand to compete for the $3,000-plus prize money. Added money totaling $3,000 has been posted for five events, plus entrance fees. This is expected to swell the total prize money to approximately $5,000, enough to attract the top rodeo hands.

In addition to the five regular events, bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping and steer wrestling (bulldogging), Sellers has signed numerous specialty acts for the annual show here.

A part of the rodeo stock, which will include 70 to 80 bucking horses, 30 to 35 bulls, 30 bul-ldogging steers, 50 roping calves and 12 saddle horses, will arrive here by truck June 2 with the remainder to be corralled here the following day.

Winners of the 1945 show here cast another sellout for the annual show, which he declared will surpass anything yet staged here.

The rodeo again this year is jointly sponsored by the Southwest Texas Rodeo Association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.
The Jaycees are charged with the duties of arranging the program,

First: as to my legal training: I am a graduate of the University of Texas School of Law. My grades in law school entitled me to serve as student editor of Texas Law Review. I took all the courses helpful to a prosecutor, including Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, and Evidence.

Second: as to my practical experience as a prosecutor: I have held the office of County Attorney Bee County. I have had practical experience as a prosecutor: investigation of all kinds of cases, including felonies, filing cases, taking statements, working with peace officers, and with the grand juries, and actual trial of numerous cases. On the basis of my legal training, and my practical experience as a prosecutor, I shall appreciate your vote and influence.

U. S. Naval Academy Exams On July 24

Civil Service examinations for boys desiring appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis or the U. S. Military Academy at West Point will be held July 24 at points throughout the 14th Congressional District, Rep. John E. Lyle has announced.

Congressman Lyle has urged that all boys in his district who are interested in military careers avail themselves of the opportunity to participate in these examinations. The list from which nominations will be made is to be composed of those who have qualified through the Civil Service preliminary examinations, he said.

"Each of these great academies offers American boys extraordinary opportunities," Lyle said, "and it is my desire to give every boy in my district an equal chance to become a candidate to the academy he prefers."

Lyle asked that all those interested in appointments write him letters of application at once in order that arrangements can be made for them to participate in the examinations. Each applicant will receive a letter of authorization to be submitted to the examiner. Places where examinations will be conducted will be announced later.

A message to VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II

FACTS ON YOUR RIGHTS IN BUYING SURPLUS PROPERTY

To improve veterans' priorities in the purchase of war surpluses, Congress has amended the Surplus Property Act. So that you as a veteran may have the facts direct, the War Assets Administration is taking this means to address you.

WAR ASSETS ADMINISTRATION WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

May 3, 1946

TO ALL VETERANS OF WORLD WAR II:

As a veteran you are anxious to get all the benefits you can from war surplus. It is our desire to give you every possible preference, under the law, in purchasing the items you want.

By amendment to the Surplus Property Act of 1944, the War Assets Administrator has been authorized to reserve certain items for exclusive sale to you. They are listed below, but in fairness, we must tell you that quantities are not large, the demand is tremendous and you may not always be able to buy exactly what you want. Every veteran, however, will have the satisfaction of knowing that all items placed on the reserve or "set-aside" list are going to veterans like himself.

Subject to availability, you may purchase these items for your personal use; as well as for your business, professional, or agricultural enterprise. You may be sure that only World War II veterans will be entitled to purchase them.

The amended Act contains a second provision that further improves your buying position for your business, professional or agricultural enterprise. For items not included in this list; only Federal agencies buying for their own use may purchase ahead of you. This gives you, for business use; an advantage over State and local governments, tax-supported institutions; certified non-veteran small business enterprises and all other potential buyers except Federal agencies. For a specified period after the Federal agencies have had an opportunity to purchase surplus, all available items which do not appear on the reserve list will be available to you to purchase for your own business.

Under the amended Act you still must be certified to purchase war surplus, as thousands have done since the original Act was passed. The certification procedure has now been simplified; as explained at the right.

The War Assets Administration will make every effort to see to it that you receive the benefits Congress intends you to have. Your patience and cooperation will aid in the difficult task we face in trying to satisfy the needs of every veteran who wants to buy surplus property.

THE ADMINISTRATOR

What is set aside for you

The property listed at right is reserved for exclusive sale to veterans of World War II. These are the items in greatest demand by veterans. Large quantities are not available. You may have to wait some time before purchases can be made. So many veterans may already be ahead of you that you may not be able to make your purchase. But you may be sure that only veterans will have the opportunity to buy "set-aside" items. J

Senator Tom Connally has filed with Honorable Harry L. Seay, Chairman, Democratic State Executive Committee of Texas, his application for a place on the primary ballot as a candidate for United States Senator. In connection with the matter Senator Connally made the following statement:

"The rumor that I might not be a candidate for re-election, but would accept a high position with the United Nations Organization is wholly without foundation. I would not accept any position with the United Nations Organization or in the foreign service if tendered me.

"My preference is to remain in the United States Senate where I can be of the greatest service to the people of Texas.

"I am grateful for the support of the people of Texas and have undertaken to give my best efforts to representing their interests in the Senate."

Mrs. Jean Latham was at the studio, and opened the door and saw flames shooting out of the fuse box several feet high. The fire had already attracted the notice of some of the neighbors, and was quickly brought under control.

Blackwell said the damage was negligible.

Texas had had many colorful figures on the bench—like Judge Roy Bean, the saloonkeeper, and Emanuel Dubbs, the buffalo hunter—but history has rather slighted Colonel Smithers (we'll call him that), who was justice of the peace at Fort Griffin when that town was the liveliest spot on the frontier.

Justice Smithers was a former army officer. He held the rank of colonel during the War Between the States, but with the close of hostilities he had to step back to his permanent rank as lieutenant. He came to Fort Griffin for a tour of duty shortly after the war and after a time resigned and settled down near the fort to make a home.

The judge was well regarded in the community and when the citizens came to see the need of a justice of the peace he was elected to office without opposition—and held the post until the fort was abandoned and the Griffin 'Flat' became a country village.

The ex-colonel, so say those who knew him, was one of 'the boys,' always ready to take part in a game of chance or go the rounds of the saloons—and more than once, after a festive night, he appeared on his bench in the morning sporting black eyes and a swollen countenance. But this didn't, in the least, interfere with his administration of justice.

Sitting back in his chair, he would assess a fine on his comrades of the night before without the slightest hesitation, notwithstanding their looks of astonishment and their muttered comments. But they knew better than to protest too openly for the Colonel used more than law books to back up his decisions.

He kept in the pigeon holes of his desk—prominently placed so that all might behold—an ornate brass-barreled horse pistol and a long-bladed Turkish knife, and when the effects of too much fire-water made some of his defendants obstreperous, Smithers emphasized his decisions by letting his right hand rest near the butt of the pistol or the haft of the knife. It seemed that the weapons—commonly called "The Colonel's peace-makers"—had the desired effect for the justice never had to use them. The big horse pistol was almost legendary.

As one cowboy did for his hen nests with bird shot, then steps gulch so that his arm on a level with the gives a sweeping motion pulls the trigger and down the grass."

Anyhow, such stories were told that none among those coming up for arraignment ever dared question the judge's ruling—especially after getting a glimpse of him sitting on the bench picking his teeth, as he sometimes did, with that terrible Turkish knife.

GLASS AND SORE Insurance

ROCKPORT WAS ONCE THE Cowhide Center of Southwest

Back in the days when Corpus Christi was still a village and there wasn't a barbed wire fence between Amarillo and Anahuac, Rockport was the chief center of a bizarre and wholly wasteful industry—if the slaughter of tens of thousands of cattle for their hide and tallow alone can be called an industry.

W. S. Hall, who ran a "hide and tallow" factory in Rockport, slaughtered 50,000 head of cattle in a few years, and there were others. Coleman, Mathis and Fulton had an extensive packery at Fulton, just a few miles from Rockport. While the boom lasted Rockport rivaled Galveston as a seaport. According to J. Frank Dobie's "Vasquero of The Brush Country," Rockport and Corpus shipped nearly 300,000 hides in 1872.

There were many bizarre angles to this strange business. The meat from the slaughtered cattle had no value. The hides were stripped off, the tallow rendered in huge cast-iron vats, and the cooked meat was dumped into the bay where shoals of fish fed on it. Anybody could drive up in a wagon and fill it with free loin steaks of the choicest variety.

In those days Rockport had an aroma all of its own. Some of the packeries left their excess meat to rot on shore, and the discarded carcasses soon formed a mound fully an acre in extent. The stench reached ships miles at sea, and in the winter ducks by the thousands came in to feed. This mountain of waste was bought by some Yankees for a song, Mr. Dobie asserts, and shipped north as fertilizer.

As we said before, Rockport smelled in those days. The buzzards considered it a kind of year around resort.

From the same source, we learn that Captain Richard King, owner of the vast and colorful King Rank, tried to preserve meat for shipment by infusing brine into the veins of cattle immediately after they were slaughtered. But the experiment was unsuccessful, and he had his Mexicans cast the meat to several thousand hogs.

In many places along the Texas Gulf Coast, hogs were worked and branded after the manner of cattle and there are several recorded instances of hogs being trail-herded to market. The hide and tallow days formed a period of plenty for the razorbacks and snouted mavericks who hung around the packeries.

Another curious development of the hide and tallow operations was the "Skinning War" that raged through the thickets from San Antonio to Brownsville. Rustlers no longer had to steal cattle and hustle them off ahead of the law—and there was very little law. Instead, they simply rode out on the range and killed cattle where they found them, and the slaughter matched in ferocity and numbers the vast and wanton destruction of the buffalo herds. It lasted a shorter time, but in that time organized gangs recovered more than a million "fallen hides," which was the legal way of expressing it.

There is no way of checking up on the number of cattle slaughtered by fly-by-night gangs that roamed the thickets, nor on the legitimate operations of great cattle firms like Coleman, Mathis and Fulton. It required very little capital for a man to start a packery, and consequently dozens of them sprang into being all up and down the Gulf Coast. A few skinning knives and a couple of rendering vats made a man a packery owner, and he could throw the meat to hogs, buzzards and coyotes.

But based on the 1872 output of Rockport and Corpus alone, the figure must have been staggering. By 1875 it was all over, with beef cattle too high to kill for their hides and tallow. A few packeries still handled scrub stuff, but most of the Texas cattle were bound up the trail to Dodge and Abilene and Ellsworth and other railroad points.

It wasn't long after that that Rockport suffered a real estate depression comparable to the boom it is now enjoying. For a time there was lively interest as to whether Rockport or Corpus Christi would get a deep water harbor, but Corpus got the harbor due to better rail connections and the water in our port got shallower instead of deeper. Houses were selling for the price of the nails in them.

It may be a trite expression, but real estate was dirt cheap in those days.

Working Students Will Need Social Security Cards

Students who accept employment during the summer vacation will need Social Security account number cards if they work on jobs covered by the Social Security Act, according to a statement by H. M. Cleveland, manager of the Social Security Board, office in Corpus Christi.

Most jobs in business or industry are covered by this law, but those who do farm work, who are employed in a private home, or who work for the Government, will not need account number cards.

Persons who already have cards should not apply again, because one number is all that any person will need as long as he lives. For that reason, cards should be kept in a safe place, but if one should become lost, a new card with the same number can be secured by applying for it. Be sure to ask for a duplicate card and not for a new number.

"Social Security numbers are issued by all offices of the Social Security Board," Cleveland said. "The office which serves this area is located at 426 Nixon Building, Corpus Christi. If it is inconvenient to call at the office in person, applications, which can be secured from any Post Office, may be mailed in."

Cleveland admonished all workers, regardless of age to: "Be sure that every member for whom you work, has a record of your name and number from your card. He will need that information to report your wages as a credit toward your retirement insurance after age 65 or as a credit on survivors insurance for your family when you die."

It seems like yesterday

It seems like yesterday that Nancy was playing with dolls. Now she's pushing her own baby carriage. Yes, there've been a lot of changes in the last fifteen years—most of them so gradual we hardly noticed them at all.

Nancy didn't grow up all at once. A tooth at a time—a curl at a time—an inch at a time—and suddenly a little kid sister was Mrs. Joe Jones, mother of Joe, Junior.

Like Nancy, the use of electricity has grown a lot in the last fifteen years. But the price of electricity has been going down steadily. You may not have noticed it because your bill may be about the same—but how many appliances have you added to your home since 1931? Actually, you're getting about twice as much electricity for your money now as then.

Keeping electric service plentiful and cheap through years of rising costs was not easy. That today's electricity is at its very lowest price in history is a tribute to the hard work and experience of the men and women of CPL, and to its sound business management.

Bill McGrath Most Pious Man On Road Block

A. H. Bolser and Bill McGrath were holding down a road block during the current quarantine when Ruel McDaniel, the writer, happened along.

McDaniel's car was given a liberal dose of DDT and the two volunteers were well pleased with the job. McDaniel complimented them on their thoroughness, and added, "It's easy to see that both of you are upstanding church members."

McGrath scratched his head. "I don't see it," he said, bewildered. "Well," McDaniel grinned, "every time a car happens along you fellows run out in the road and say, 'Let us spray, let us spray!'"

According to Bolser, McGrath's face is still red.
