County Fair Plans Discussed Tuesday Night

Twenty-five men and women of Haskell County were present for the steak supper at Felker's Restaurant on Tuesday night for the purpose of discussing and formulating plans for the organization of a County-wide Haskell County Fair Association.

Bob Schumann, Haskell County Agent, and chairman of the agriculture committee of the chamber of commerce, served as chairman for the meeting. In his opening remarks, Schumann cited the needs for a bigger and better County Fair and outlined many of the benefits that would be derived from such an annual event in respect to the boys and girls who are interested and working in different phases of agriculture, livestock and home making.

Clifford Thomas was introduced as the new president of the Fair Association and he stressed to those present what he thought that the fair should be and that by all means it should be county wide in scope. He also gave a brief outline of special events that might be added for the purpose of bringing more people to the annual fair. Also, copies of fair catalogues of other county fairs were shown those present along with his explanation that the size county fair we had in mind would cost more money than had been spent in the past and that his thinking was that perhaps the printing of a catalogue with rules and regulations for all districts for entries and the sale of advertising could well be the answer for the successful promotion of a county fair.

Several comments were made by those present and all stressed the need for a wider organization and all agreed to serve on the board of directors.

The following slate of officers were elected to serve on the board along with Mr. Thomas as president: First vice-president, Jerry Hamner, of Rule; second vice-president, R. A. Shaver III of Rochester; treasurer, Abe Turner of Haskell, and secretary, Rex Felker, manager of the chamber of commerce.

The next board meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Monday night, July 29th, with members to be notified of the place of meeting.

Tentative dates for the 1968 annual fair were set for October 31, November 1st and 2nd, with an alternate date of October 24th, 25th and 26th selected.

The steak dinner was through the courtesy of the Haskell National Bank.

Stitching And Stewing

By Ruth Ann Fansler
County H. D. Agent

During hot summer months, it is easier to open the freezer for baked goodies or casseroles than to spend hours in the kitchen. Freezing is the only method to preserve many of these baked or cooked goods.

Most breads, cakes and pies, should be cooked before freezing. Cool them and wrap in moisture-vapor-proof material. Use standard recipes for breads and cakes. For quick breads use double-action baking powder. Biscuits and muffins are better frozen uncooked. Bran muffins, fruit and nut breads are better if baked before freezing.

You may freeze bread and rolls baked or unbaked. Use a recipe with a fairly large amount of fat and sugar. Baked products may be stored as long as 8-12 months.

If you want to freeze dough, allow it to rise until double in bulk. Doughs shaped before freezing may be inferior, even when stored only two weeks.

Pre-baked cakes containing fat may dry out slightly after two months, and after four months, flavor changes may be expected.

Use pure extracts as imitations may produce off-flavors. Angel food, yellow sponge, chiffon and fruit cakes baked before freezing will keep up to a year.

Uncooked confectioner's sugar frostings freeze best. Boiled and other soft frostings containing egg whites and cream fillings are not suitable for freezing.

Fruit, vegetable and chiffon pies freeze successfully. Fruit pies may be frozen either before or after baking. Crust is more tender and flaky and flavor fresher when the pies are frozen before baking.

I do not recommend freezing lattice top pies. Don't cut steaks in top crusts of frozen unbaked pies until they have been removed from the freezer.

In using your freezer, here are some pointers about making combination dishes better.

Do not overcook foods that are to be frozen. Foods that are to be heated before serving are best if only partially cooked; meat should be tender but still firm, vegetables slightly underdone.

Use as little fat as possible in gravies and sauces. Fats have a tendency to separate, but if used in smaller proportions, they will recombine when heated.

Fried foods are apt to become rancid after one to two months of storage.

Use seasonings sparingly as some of them change during storage. Pepper gets stronger. Cloves may become stronger and discolor frozen fillings.

Garlic becomes stronger during storage and onions gradually lose flavor. Green peppers, sage and pimentos increase in strength.

It is important to cool cooked foods promptly to prevent continued cooking. Foods lose flavor rapidly when held at high temperatures. And warm foods invite bacteria growth. I suggest submerging the cooking pan in ice water to hasten cooling.

After cooling, package in moisture-vapor-resistant material immediately. Pack all types of cooked foods as solidly as possible to avoid air spaces in the containers. Monosodium glutamate (MSG) can be used to enhance the flavor of meats, poultry, seafoods, pre-cooked foods and vegetables.

Casserole dishes containing macaroni, spaghetti, noodles or rice, may be frozen. To serve, bake in 350 degree F. oven for 40-60 minutes.

You can move the baking dish directly from the freezer to the oven with little danger of breakage.

You can freeze almost any type of creamed dish except those containing hard-cooked egg whites. Avoid over-cooking and cool rapidly in pan of ice water. Don't store longer than two to four months.

Package prepared foods in amounts suitable for serving. You may safely refreeze frozen foods that have been thawed if they still contain ice crystals. Thawed foods spoil faster than fresh foods.

Thawing and refreezing may lower the eating quality of some foods, particularly fruits, vegetables and prepared foods.

Miss Sherry Sloan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sloan

The bodice and train were overlaid with lace, and lace roses were applied down the front of the dress and around the hem outlined with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses on a white Bible.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length gowns of deep romance pink bonded crepe, styled of princess lines. They wore halos of deep pink flowers on their heads. The matron of honor carried two long-stemmed red roses and the bridesmaids carried a single red rose.

The bride's mother wore a long-sleeved dress of pastel pink crepe with a sleeveless three-quarter length jacket of pink lace. The groom's mother was attired in a pale-green dress of bonded knit. Each wore orchids to match.

The reception following the wedding ceremony was held at the First State Bank of Euless. The bride's table was covered with a white-lace cloth. An arrangement of red roses and daisies centered the table.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Maurice McCall, Mrs. Troy Hanley, Miss Joy Scritchfield and Miss Ricki Dill of Bedford.

For travel the bride chose a pastel pink dotted Swiss dress, trimmed with flowers, accented with princess lines and long sleeves. She wore a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Bangs High School and attended Cisco Junior College.

The groom is a graduate of Mattson High School and is presently attending Tarrant County Junior College. He is employed by Bell Helicopter, Hurst, and the bride is employed by the First State Bank, Euless.

The couple will reside at 1400 Sagebrush Trail, Apt. 14, Euless.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Coleman, Bangs, Haskell, Lubbock and Lawton, Oklahoma.

Candy Strippers Hold Special Capping Ceremony

The Candy Strippers who work as volunteers at the Haskell Hospital, Rice Springs Care Home, and Clear View Lodge held a special capping ceremony Wednesday, August 17th, at 4:00 o'clock at the Clear View Lodge.

Mrs. E. L. Wyche, president, presided over the business meeting.

Misses Toy Kuenstler and Pam Brooks were elected as delegates to the State Hospital Auxiliary Candy Strippers meeting to be held in Fort Worth from the 23rd-25th of July.

Toy and Pam who are volunteers from Dallas, had won their one-hundred hours of service this summer. They received their caps and one stripe at the ceremony.

Mrs. E. L. Wyche presented the caps and Mrs. J. F. Cadenhead Sr. pinned the stripes on the caps. The young ladies were thrilled at the honor they received and thanked the nurses for their cooperation.

Miss Linda Powell received a cap for 50 hours work. Miss Sheila Dutton, of Weinert, gave the thought for the day from the third chapter of Ecclesiastes. She stated the most precious possession is time, so use it wisely, not foolishly. The Creator endowed each of us with two ends - one to think with and the other to sit on. Success is determined by the one we use the most. There is a time to be served and a time to serve, to offer ourselves in service to others, as Candy Strippers, or volunteers.

Mrs. Marion Stone and Mary Stover of the Clear View Lodge served delicious tropical punch and cookies to members and guests. Sandy Bartley, Jeleta Blankenship, Paula Wilfong, Toy Kuenstler and Pam Brooks, Mrs. W. E. Johnston of Rice

HASKELL METS UPSET CLYDE IN DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

The Haskell Mets upset league leader Clyde Saturday night, July 20, at Clyde, 4-2. The game was the only tournament action Saturday and was played in Clyde, when fields in Abilene were wet.

Clyde scored a run each in the first and second inning, and Haskell tied the game in the fifth when Clinton Callaway scored on Perry Turnbow's single, and Carol Meeks scored on Robert Bartley's single.

The tie, 2-2, remained until the tenth inning when Robert Bartley got on by a single, and Gary Druosedow reached first on an error. Both runs were batted in by pinch-hitter D. Bartley and Haskell led 4-2. Clyde did not score at their time at bat in the 10th.

Robert Bartley was starting pitcher for Haskell, giving up 4 hits, 2 runs, walking 1, and striking out 2. He was relieved in the fifth when the game was tied by Perry Turnbow, who gave up 2 hits, no runs, walked three men, and struck out 7 batters.

OMAR BURSLEM Congressman 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It seems our government, including all branches, believes that more money and more promises will cure the evils which we face.

The government has promised more, both to our own people and to the outside world, than it can deliver. A day of reckoning one way or the other is not far off.

This past week the Congress passed what is known as the "Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968" costing $5 1/2 billion in this Fiscal Year. That, however, is not the whole story by any means.

The Bill involves about 30 different subsidized programs and no one can give a satisfactory answer as to what it will finally cost in the years ahead. Estimates are fairly clear that eight of the major provisions will cost between $45 and $50 billion during the next 10 years.

The Bill includes a subsidy for rent payments, commonly known as rent supplement. It provides the difference between 20 percent of a home owner's income after deducting $200 for each minor child and monthly mortgage payments. Market interest rates can be subsidized down to a minimum of 1 percent regardless of the going rates at the time.

Another example is insurance provided by the Federal Government to rebuild property destroyed by riots. Urban renewal with Federal grants and loans is provided but with this type of insurance any ghetto can be burned out and the renewal can be made under the insurance provision.

In the debate on this measure the sponsors agreed that this is the answer to chaos occurring in many of our large cities but a few crumbs is provided for every nook and cranny of the entire country under some type of Federal program.

All this follows the law recently passed providing for a 10 percent surcharge tax increase, together with a $6 billion reduction in the current budget, together with the cancellation of $10 billion in commitments already made.

How all of this is to be accomplished while committing the Government to these huge outlays of expenditures in the future is wholly inconsistent.

Every public official, whether a Mayor of a Town or the President of the United States, knows from experience how difficult it is to curb the momentum of expanding Government activity and we know that this portends the continuation of the levels of taxation higher than any of us want to bear.

When Federal monies are available, pressures for every program mount.

As the chairman of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives said last October, "We want to pause in this head-long rush to ever bigger Government." In a statement Chairman Mills made at that time he said that "the real issue is whether or not the Congress will ever be able to focus properly on controlling the growth of Federal claims on the Nation's productivity capabilities over the years ahead. It is one thing to attempt to cope with immediate challenges but it is another to look at the long range results of committed spending."

The interest on the public debt now exceeds $15 billion and the debt will continue to expand unless there is established firm control over the course of future expenditures. What is needed and what is essential is a change in spending programs to bring responsibility to our Fiscal affairs. We should focus sharply on what the Government is to do, as well as on how much it is to spend.

Any realistic appraisal of our nation's financial condition should make it crystal clear that Federal expenditures will increase with Federal activity. Expansion of Government activity may not in itself be improper. As natural changes occur, so must actions to meet it but we definitely should be sure that obligations to meet the demands of the future are what we want them to be and that it is the proper mission of the Federal Government.

Many of us are allergic to the appointment of Commissions to do something we should be doing ourselves but it may take some outside group to bring reality to get it further away from political machination.

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

Mrs. Gene Overton
The other day I heard a friend of ours pounding the table and lecturing the government on how it should be running the war in Viet Nam. Declare war and get that mess over with, was how he said it. You can bet when you hear anyone say "Declare War!" he is too old for military service, and has no sons about to go in to service. What would we declare war on? We are in Asia to try to help the South Vietnamese and stand off Communism. Our men want to serve their two or three years for their country, and a year in Viet Nam is part of that service. But when a man knows he has only 13 months in Viet Nam or Korea and then someone will take his place and he can go home, he doesn't mind so much. He can finish his service and then get home and get on with his own life and his profession. But declare war, and he is frozen in his army service for the duration. Boys who have served their years and are in the reserves are called back and stay for the duration. So unless a person is a professional soldier, or has volunteered for army service for the duration of the Viet Nam trouble, he shouldn't be declaring any wars. All you arm chair Generals just declare war on careens, weeds, or gnats and mosquitos, or mini-skirts, and leave the Viet Nam situation to those who know what they are doing. According to the young men I have talked to who are back from Viet Nam, the men are doing a pretty good job of it, and are proud of what they are doing over there. It's a shame all of America isn't proud of them, too.

Little Miss Kelly Chaffin of Midland is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fischer. Her mother, Mrs. Sam Chaffin, Mrs. Pat Morrison and Jo have gone to Six Flags for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Montgomery moved to Haskell Tuesday. They have bought a home on Avenue L. We all surely hate to see them move. They have lived on that same corner for over forty years. Of course Haskell isn't far but seems no one has time to visit even 30 miles away anymore. Anyway, visit the Gene Micklers in Fort Worth, and see a ball game at the Astrodom in Houston.

Mary Lee Alexander represented Paint Creek in the Miss Cotton Pageant at Haskell last Thursday evening at the Texas Theatre.

Judy Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Olga Taylor left last week from Dallas for Kent, Ohio where she is attending the Blossoms Festival School of the Cleveland Orchestra and Kent State University. Mrs. Taylor and her sister, Kathleen Lieb of Lueders took Judy to Dallas where she was met by Miss Denise Brooks. Both these young ladies will be instructed by Mrs. Alice Callifoux, director of the Summer Harp Colony in Camden, Maine. Judy is a senior at the University of Texas at Austin, is a music major, and a harpist with the University of Texas concert orchestra and harp ensemble.

Superintendent Bill Gibbs and daughter, Karen, left Tuesday for a short vacation in Austin and San Antonio.

The Paint Creek School faculty is complete with the exception of a Homemaking teacher. There have been several applications for that vacancy, however, and it will be filled soon. The new house they have moved in is almost ready for occupancy, and the football bleachers have a new coat of paint. So we are about ready for school to start. The enrollment is expected to be up with the increased number of transfers, and that will be good.

Mrs. George Free is a patient in Hendrick's Memorial Hospital in Abilene suffering with pneumonia.

Little Miss Lois Lynn Davis of Abilene is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baumbach and her big sister, LeeAnn, is staying with her paternal grandmother in Abilene while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Don Davis, are vacationing in Colorado.

Jeanne Isbell is serving as a counselor at Methodist Intermediate Camp at Camp Butman, near Merkel this week. Quala Buerger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buerger, is attending from the Paint Creek Methodist Church.

Rev. J. M. Moody of Abilene will fill the pulpit at the Paint Creek Methodist Church Sunday morning. He is an uncle of our pastor, H. O. Abbott, who is vacationing in the western states with his family.

Wallar Overton conducted a sing-song for the members of the Bethel Lutheran Church of Erickdale at their summer picnic at the Stamford Lake Sunday evening. About 100 members attended.

Mrs. Sarah Inez French, 58, formerly of Rochester, passed away Sunday in Oklahoma City Hospital after a long illness.

Funeral was held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church, Rochester, with Rev. Fred Garvin, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Rochester under the direction of Smith Funeral Home.

She was born Dec. 30, 1909, in Stonewall County and married Pat French in 1936 in Rochester. He died in 1958.

Mrs. French moved to Wichita Falls from Rochester in 1959 and had lived in Oklahoma City for the past four years. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Nancy Chancey of Rochester; two daughters, Mrs. Georgia Lee Turner of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Bobby Butler of Oklahoma City; seven grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Zeffarene Berry of Wichita Falls.

David M. Davis Participating In Training Corps

David M. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murrel C. Davis of 2836 Amy Lane, Tyler, is participating in a U. S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps (AFROTC) field training encampment at the U. S. Air Force Academy, Colo.

During the encampment, cadets become familiar with the life and activities on Air Force bases and can examine career opportunities in which they might wish to serve as officers. Other highlights of the course include survival training, aircraft and aircrew indoctrination, small arms training and visits to other Air Force bases.

Cadet Davis, a 1963 graduate of Ben Eielson High School, Eielson AFB, Alaska, is a member of the AFROTC unit at the University of Texas. His wife, Wanda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome H. Kane of Munday.

Tom Perry, a celebrated line-man on the fine 1967 Haskell football team, has signed a letter of intent with McMurry College, announced line coach Ronnie Giles Saturday.

The two-year letterman blossomed into stardom this past season by making the 5-AA all-district team both ways and landing on the Reporter-News All-Area unit.

Perry, a 6-1 and 215-pounder, helped clear the path for the Haskell backs in a brilliant 8-2 won-lost season. The Indians of Coach C. T. (Sonny) Everett, won their first eight games before falling to Colorado City and Stamford in the final two outings.

Only three players in the district made all-district on both offense and defense, and Perry was one of them. He is past president of the "H" Club, Haskell's athletic club, and carried a strong B average in high school work.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jerry Jr., of 1303 North Avenue H, Haskell.

FARM SAFETY WEEK IN TEXAS SET JULY 21-27

Governor John Connally has proclaimed July 21-27 Farm Safety Week in Texas and called attention to the need for rural residents to observe safety practices to reduce the tragic toll inflicted by accidents.

"Farm and ranch accidents reap a grim harvest of lives each year in Texas. Thousands more suffer painful and disabling injuries, and property damage adds great loss to the agricultural economy of our state," the Governor noted in his proclamation.

He urged all farm and ranch families "to become safety conscious and help reduce deaths and injuries caused by accidents," and cited that July 21-27 has also been proclaimed National Farm Safety Week by President Lyndon B. Johnson. The statewide observance coincides with the national farm accident prevention week.

Theme for the state and national observance is "Keep Your Guard Up - Stop Accidents." The Texas observance is being sponsored by the Texas Safety Association and the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. Joining the two safety organizations in a statewide farm accident prevention education program during this special observance are the Texas Farm Bureau, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America and Young Farmers of Texas.

Accidents involving farm tractors and other machinery took the highest toll of lives last year with 51 fatalities. This was an increase of 50 percent, or 17 over the previous year.

WATER MANAGEMENT KEY TO SUCCESSFUL IRRIGATION

Water management is the key to successful irrigation, according to Harry Smith, Agricultural Engineer with the Soil Conservation Service. Now, that the irrigation season is here again, the demand for irrigation makes water management more important in crop production. Smith reminds each one, the purpose of water management is to obtain the best use of water according to the moisture needs of the soils and crops. The use and management of water depends on the amount of water used for irrigation. Water management is needed to hold soil erosion to a minimum, to reduce overwatering by applying only the amount of water needed, to make the best use of rainfall and reduce washing away of plant foods. Listed below are some principles Smith recommends each one to follow for successful water management. Know when to irrigate; Determine the amount of water needed; Know the rate the soils will take water; Use a stream size able to distribute water in desired time; Control the supply of water to meet the needs of soils and crops.

Water is the soul of any area, therefore, it becomes the responsibility of each person, to use the water in the best possible way.

There Is No Fault In The Platitude

A PLATTITUDE is a truth so often said that it becomes a bore. Or, to express it in a platitude voiced by Aesop 2,500 years ago, familiarity breeds contempt.

This definition is contained in The Travelers Insurance Companies annual highway accident booklet, which reports 52,200 deaths and 4,200,000 injuries last year. Statistics in the booklet were compiled from reports by state motor vehicle departments.

The fact that we may tire of hearing a truth, however, doesn't lessen its value as a guide to behavior. The Golden Rule is a platitude perhaps "more honored in the breach than the observance"—but that does not diminish its worth nor its practicality.

There is no fault in the platitude. The fault lies in the attitude, which can be disastrous—particularly in respect to driving an automobile.

There is nothing wrong with platitudes like: Speed kills... Drive defensively... If you drink, don't drive. They are absolutely right. For everybody. But in the attitude of many of us, they are for somebody else, not us.

We have all observed, at one time or another, those drivers who go along castigating everything but themselves...fools behind other wheels, stupid pedestrians, faulty highways and defective vehicles. This is perhaps only human. It is also irresponsible.

It is significant that the responsible attitude reveals itself when the circumstances are actually unfavorable to the driver. The more adverse the driving conditions, the fewer the accidents. It is when the weather is nasty, the highways treacherous and the traffic most congested that the driver's attitude is at its best. That is when he is aware of the common sense of what, at other times, may have seemed only threadbare axioms.

So, though it has been said to the point of boredom, it is an irrefutable fact that motor vehicle accidents can be reduced by the practice of caution, courtesy, and common sense.

Yes, the rules and conventions of driving are largely platitudes. But no thinking person can deny that, if they had been given greater heed during just one year, there would be alive today a heavy share of the 52,200 people who were killed in motor vehicle tragedies during 1967. Or that millions of accident victims would have been spared the discomforts of physical injury—many of them crippled for the rest of their days.

There was a reduction in deaths in 1967 from 1966. It was the first in ten years. It amounted to approximately 300 lives. And there was a reduction in the number of injuries in 1967. Down 200,000 from the year before. Many more lives could be saved and injuries prevented.

Any improvement in future years of the sorry record achieved on our streets and highways last year depends on whether enough of the so-called platitudes are accepted and enough attitudes are corrected by enough American drivers.

COTTON PICKIN'S

Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

A contract for research aimed at improved blends of cotton and wool fibers in yarns has been negotiated between the textile department of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers office in Stamford has been advised.

Initial studies in USDA's Wool and Mohair laboratory in Albany, Calif., have shown that blends of wool treated for shrink resistance with cotton treated for durable press have promising "no iron" quality.

In the blended fabrics wool contributes softness and comfort. Cotton contributes "no iron" effect and lowers the cost of the fabrics.

The textile department in Texas Tech has cotton processing and related equipment that permits research in the blending operation. Charles C. Wilson, Tech's textile engineer, has been named project leader. USDA will be represented by Richard A. O'Connell, chemist in the wool and mohair lab at Albany.
