Membership in the Rockport Volunteer Fire Department is on a purely voluntary basis and no one serves who does not wish to do so. Neither are any of the members paid for their services with the exception that they do have the satisfaction of knowing that they are doing something to protect their own property as well as that of their neighbors. In fact, the members of the Fire Department pay initiation fees and regularly monthly dues just as a member of the Chamber of Commerce or any other club or organization does.

Finances for the Fire Department are also on a purely volunteer basis and naturally seldom come in except when the Department puts on a drive for funds for new equipment or to repair old equipment. Every time new equipment is needed or old stock needs repairing the Chief and the members have to get out and solicit funds from individuals over the town. Thus adding to the time they have to spend on a non-pay basis. Why should they have to spend more time from making their living than is necessary in the regular line of duty?

They should not have to do this. There should be a regular and systematic financial income to the Fire Department from the property owners of Rockport and the rest of Aransas County. Neither should a few men of Rockport have to supply the heaviest portion of these finances, as they usually do when a drive is put on. A comparative new comer to Rockport gave the Department a fish dinner at his cafe last week with every cent of the proceeds going to the department. This should not be necessary either.

No property owner of Rockport would build a home or put up a business building without purchasing fire insurance on that home or building. But they do not realize that small regular contributions to the finances of the Fire Department are just as important as the premiums on their fire insurance. Also with more modern equipment and with it kept in better shape, there will be fewer fires that cause much damage, because the better equipment will get to a fire sooner and will put it out much quicker. Thus reducing the fire insurance rate for Rockport. This will eventually result in a saving for the property that is saved from a fire. Thus a small contribution to the Department results in additional fire insurance for the property owner whether he realizes it or not.

When asked to donate towards new equipment, the citizens of Rockport are very good at coming through, but there is still the contention that a few people put up most of the needed cash, and they should not have to do that. If every property owner would contribute one tenth of the amount he pays for fire insurance every month this would build up a fund for the Department from which the needed new equipment or repairs for old stock could be purchased or paid for with no members of the Department having to get out and solicit for funds.

Even though the citizens will support and contribute to the Department when necessary, why should the members have to take their time to solicit for these funds? If every property owner would pledge to pay into the Fire Department funds ten per cent of his premium rates for fire insurance it would give the Department a good working fund every year, and would most likely be sufficient for any of the needs of the Department. It would certainly not add very much to the expenses of the individual citizen.

Also, this would definitely dispense with the necessity for any one merchant or business man to put on a fish dinner or any other type of campaign for these funds. The latest dinner for funds, was originally planned by one man and was to be put on at his expense entirely, but several men went on a fishing trip to furnish most of the fish he needed. Seven fish companies donated the rest of the fish necessary and all the shrimp and crabs that were needed. This, of course, took a lot of the expense off one man and spread it around to several, but still does not obviate any future necessity for the same sort of thing.

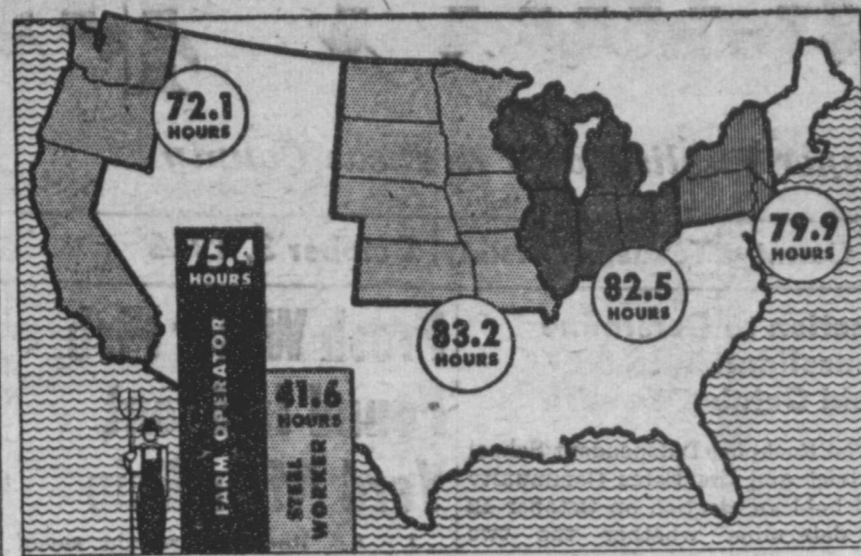

The only way such campaigns and attendant expenses on a few people can be done away with is to have a regular and stated amount of contributions to the Fire Department, since the City of Rockport has no provision for part of its tax receipts to be used by the Department or in its behalf.

"And a Little Child Shall Lead Them . . ."

The high school paper, "The Pirate Log", edited by Miss Shirley Ratisseau, in a recent editorial made a very stirring appeal to the citizens of Rockport in behalf of the youth of this area. (The editorial entitled "Youth Needs a Recreational Center in Rockport," follows:)

"There has long been a great need in our city for a place where the youth of Rockport could gather socially. THE OPPORTUNITY IS NOW AT HAND FOR THE

Farmers Worked 75.4 Hours a Week

Average Hours of Work per Week—1939, 1943, 1944

American farm operators averaged 75.4 hours of work a week during a recent three years, according to a nationwide survey of working habits in agricultural centers. In the same period, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute, workers in steel plants averaged 41.6 hours of labor a week. The operators of the six million American farms spent nearly 4,000 work hours a year, per man, plus the use of mechanized equipment, to earn a living and to produce the crops and food needed to meet the urgent wartime demands of a hungry world. Farm operators in the West North Central area worked the longest hours, putting in an average of 82.5 hours a week. Second were the farm operators in the East North Central area with 82.5 hours a week, while farm operators in the Middle Atlantic worked 79.9 hours a week. Farm operators in the Pacific states put in the smallest number of weekly work hours, averaging 72.1 for the three years of 1939, 1943 and 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Collins have just moved to Rockport from Ingleside for the next six months. They are staying at the Forest Park Cottages until they can find a home.

Mrs. Tracy Williams and daughter Pamela, are leaving Friday morning for their home in Woodward, Oklahoma, after a two week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith.

Daughter's cakes defy the laws of gravity. They are heavy as lead and just won't go down.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN OF ROCKPORT TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT. The Navigation Commission has just bought the buildings on the beach, the former Beach Club, and unless other plans have been made, there could be no better use made of them than as a YOUTH CENTER. WHY don't the business men and mothers and fathers get together and give us a place of our own?

"If we had such a place we would rather stay in our home city than travel miles elsewhere in search of amusement. We plan to beautify our city in every way. Rockport is growing. Many new buildings are being constructed and other improvements are being made daily. But STILL the youth of Rockport have no particular place to gather and hold community get-togethers. In other progressive cities recreational activities have been especially provided for teen agers. The building on the beach is an ideal place and could be fixed easily and inexpensively. It would afford amusement that would be gratefully accepted by the students of both grammar and high schools. Happily this building is also near the beautiful bathing beach which our city built. A program could be adopted similar to those used in other cities, with mothers or the P.T.A. taking charge and sponsoring the recreational activities. It would be a fine thing and all students agreeing should call ATTENTION to the idea voiced in this editorial."

Many years ago—in the Fall of 1919—your columnist, then the young editor of a small paper, received a letter from William Jennings Bryan, for whom I had had a lifelong admiration. The letter was written in pen and ink and was in reply to an inquiry as to whether the Great Commoner would seek the presidential nomination in 1920. Because it was a personal letter, it was not printed—but it might be of little interest now, so many years afterward:

"My dear Mr. House: Your kind letter at hand. I assure you that I most sincerely appreciate your generous words. I have not thought it wise to discuss publicly the question which you ask and I will ask you to regard this letter as confidential. No condition that I can now foresee would justify me in being a candidate next year.

"I see no such demand as would make acceptance seem a duty. Besides, there is work to be done for the party and the country—work which I can do, which seems to me to be more important than running for any office. I could not do it if I were waiting for a nomination. Again thanking you for your confidence, I am, Very truly yours, W. J. Bryan."

Rambling over Texas: The white two-story Southern homes in Crockett—and El Camina Real (King's Highway), blazed in 1690.

Near Jacksonville, a lumber mill with window panes of tinted glass. Jefferson White, Cameron editor, has 14,000 Indian relics. The highway south of Sweetwater presents a series of hills, each a little higher than the other, making driving something like the exhilaration of riding a roller coaster. The countryside is clad in shaggy cedars and the road is lined with saebush. Far away is a wall of mountains, misty blue.

The last echo of the August primaries has hardly died away, with the promise on all sides that there would be no increased taxes and already a proposal is advanced to raise the State gasoline tax 2 cents a gallon. The advocate of this increase of millions of dollars in taxes to be paid by the people of Texas is Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville.

Your columnist has been interested all his life in public affairs.

Away back yonder in the seventh grade, I lived in Mississippi, famed for its political oratory, and heard some of the spellbinders of the era that produced Senators James K. Vardaman and John Sharp Williams. Then, in high school days in Memphis, Tennessee, I heard William Jennings Bryan, Senator Bob LaFollette (the original) and former Governor Malcolm R. Patterson, the greatest political orator I've ever heard.

The subject of keenest interest to me in high school was debating. Our coach was a young, red-headed, dynamic teacher from Texas, James Leonard Highsaw, who used to live in Delta and Collin counties. I took every subject he taught: economics, government, history and sociology. Then, after school three of his favorite "boys" would meet in his room and we would prepare for our next debate until it grew too dark to see.

We debated such subjects as the one-house legislature, initiative and recall, capital punishment, government ownership of utilities and the tariff.

We had two literary societies and debated within our society, also in inter-society contests and with other high schools. My two colleagues on the high school team were orators. Stearning Tracy won the State high school oratorical championship and, in the University of Wisconsin, he won the oratorical championship of the "Big Ten". Clifford Davis is about to begin his fourth term in Congress. Your columnist lacked the speaking ability of these two and so tried to make up for this deficiency by studying, extra hard, on the subject. In the rebuttal, where the speaking has to be extemporaneous, I used to attain a speed of 200 words a minute. The other boys were generous and elected me captain of the team.

Certainly, I'm sympathetic toward suffering Europe—but why couldn't at least part of the food sent over there be something I don't like? Why couldn't it include some squash, turnips and cauliflower?

We marvel at our daughter's ability in the kitchen. Not because of what she bakes, but how she ever lifts it out of the oven.

Communism Loses Prestige in Europe Life in Soviet Russia Lacks Utopian Promise

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—As relations between the western world and Russia grow rapidly no better, many reports are coming in to show that Communism, which reached the peak of its prestige with the end of the war, is losing some of its popularity in Europe. The lack of proof provided in the eating of the Soviet pudding had its effects, and many a wall of anguish is dimly audible behind the iron curtain which stretches from the Baltic through the Balkans. This, of course, doesn't prevent our own little family of loyal American "Commies" from screaming the praises of all within the Soviet's gates. I have been looking over some facts concerning two of the great postwar American problems—housing and union labor demands—with an eye on similar conditions in Russia. Nobody but an optimist with rose-colored glasses and a five-year lease would say that we have no housing problem in America. But Stalin has one in Russia too. And how, To-varishki! (Don't answer me now, there's a plain clothes man behind the samovar.) I know about that letter workers wrote to Uncle Joe, pledging their tireless work and a promise to "liquidate all shortcomings" in the housing industry. That word "liquidate" has an unpleasant sound. And when Russian papers are allowed to criticize production, putting the blame on "local Soviets," it means—the situation needs criticizing! But what were Russian housing conditions before the war? According to a recent Library of Congress report, "Communism in Action," even before the devastation of western Russia the average floor space in Moscow was only 45 square feet per head. But the privileged (workers with high records on the speed-up plan) had much more. Hence, the ordinary Russian worker had much less. By way of contrast in Washington, D. C., under the National Capital Housing Authority, the smallest housing unit (a one-bedroom apartment) must allot 165 square feet to the living room alone, and the total space must be 250 square feet. In Russia the usual arrangement is one family per room in a six-room apartment with common use of the kitchen and bathroom. Figure Out Floor Space Per Person This was the situation before the war. Today, in the Ukraine, according to an article in Harper's by John Fischer, who spent some months in the Ukraine and Byelo

Baukhage

Russia with UNRRA, conditions are such that the Russian press may well be allowed to criticize—if that will do any good. In Kiev, says Fischer, a person is supposed to have six square meters of living space, which is a strip of floor about ten-feet long and six feet wide. Less than that is available in Kharkov. If you want to know how a typical family in the Ukraine lives, Fischer tells you to imagine you and your wife and children occupying the smallest room in your house, with the clothing, beds, furniture and possessions that are absolutely indispensable. You'll have a brick stove instead of a radiator or coal range, a bathroom with no hot water shared by several other families—and probably a few relatives to share all that! Probably you could stand this if you knew it was temporary. But in Russia, according to Fischer, because of the five-year plan for the expansion of heavy industry (said to be a part of Soviet war preparation), Russians are going to have a bitterly hard life as far as consumer goods and facilities go, for another 10 to 15 years. I can't verify Fischer's views, but I know that authorities agree that Russia cannot possibly do much to raise the standard of living of the less privileged even if she doesn't continue the present military preparation. And what has Communism done for the laborer as such? Under the five-year plan industrial workers' pay is supposed to go up to 500 rubles a month. Fischer estimates the present rate at between 300 and 350, which he says amounts in terms of American purchasing power to about $30 to $35. Labor Unions Under Government Wing According to "Communism in Action" (the U. S. government document I mentioned earlier) the Russian labor unions started out under Trotsky as independent, fighting organs of labor. But when Trotsky was ousted and made his very hasty departure from the Utopia he helped found, one lap ahead of the liquidators, things changed. As in the case of Nazi Germany the union became a limb of the party. And no one would say that American unions, like the Russian variety, "are not organized to conduct strikes." This is reported by "Communism in Action," which says that there hasn't been a strike in Russia since 1921. The document further points out that unions in the United States have as their primary purpose the privilege of their members to deal on equal terms with their employers on all matters of mutual interest. In the U.S.S.R., on the other hand, the unions are a part of the apparatus of the employer (the government) and since the government is supposed to act in the interests of all, the workers can't complain against any of its decisions.

Trade Accord Approved; Meat Crisis Continues

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: Trade Pact

Pres. Juan Peron and his entire cabinet looked on as British Ambassador Reginald Leeper and Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia signed trade accords cementing commercial relations between the two countries. Pleased by the event, Peron announced that he had ordered three shiploads of meat to be sent to Britain before Christmas with the compliments of his government. Peron might well have been tickled with the agreement, which calls for Britain's purchase of 83 per cent of Argentina's exportable meat surplus in the first year at prices 25 per cent over prevailing levels. During the second year, Britain will take 78 per cent of Argentine supplies. The latest price boost brings the total increase up to 45 per cent over the 1939 level when Britain first went in for large-scale buying. In another accord, the British relinquished their control of Argentine railways in exchange for shares in a new company including Argentine government and private capital. Under a third agreement, Argentina will be permitted to utilize blocked wartime trade balances

MEAT: Crisis Widens

No less than 36,000 butcher shops throughout the nation were said to have closed and almost 100,000 clerks and packing house employees were reported idle as the crisis in meat continued. Receipts of cattle and hogs remained far below the high levels established during the suspension of OPA and ran considerably below last year's runs. As packers awaited the large seasonal fall shipments, they were compelled to bid ceiling prices for lean, grass-fed cattle and inferior grades of hogs. Some of the stock received was said to be suitable for by-product purposes only. Meanwhile, OPA promised to act upon restaurant operators' protests against imposition of June 30 ceilings on meat dishes. With the restaurateurs claiming that the restoration of old prices in the face of increasing costs would force them to close, OPA said it would modify ceilings to assure adequate earnings if evidence of hardship were offered. Whereas restaurants spent 40 cents of each dollar of revenue for food, they now expend 55 cents, it was said.

YUGOSLAVIA: Jail Archbishop

Acting upon the testimony of the voblike secretary to Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac, head of the Roman Catholic church in Yugoslavia, Marshal Tito's communist government arrested the high prelate and prepared to try him for "crimes against the people." With 12 priests already on trial on the same charge, inclusion of the Archbishop would further tend to discredit religion in the Russian-dominated nation, following the pattern of communist hostility to all creeds. While the powerful Croatian peasant leader, Vladimir Macek, was implicated in the Archbishop's alleged machinations, the government hesitated to move firmly against him for fear of political repercussions. Talking freely against the Archbishop, his former secretary alleged that the prelate's castle in Zagreb was the center of an anti-Tito movement to set up an independent Croatian state. Charging that the Archbishop worked closely with one of Draza Mihailovitch's ex-aides in promoting anti-government bands, the secretary declared that the high churchman planned to finance a terrorist campaign for separation.

BILLIONS IN BACKLOG Huge Works Program Mapped

WASHINGTON.—Plans for a $4,107,136,000 public works program are being mapped by states, cities and counties, with projects to be financed by their own funds, according to the Federal Works agency. Federal Aid highways, rivers and harbors, flood control projects, federal postoffices and other buildings, and Veterans' Administration hospitals add other billions to the work backlog. These projects will be financed wholly or partially by the national government. The Federal Works agency has requests from states, cities and counties for advances to plan 7,560 projects totaling $2,757,136,599, and as of June 30 these local governmental units had completed their own plans for 5,500 projects to cost $1,350,000,000, according to FWA records.

Of the requests, the agency reported it has approved 4,630 and advanced $32,258,354 for planning. These alone involve $1,296,997,051. Under congressional act, FWA has $65,000,000 to assist states, cities and counties in planning non-federal public works. The bulk of advances approved was for planning water mains, paved street and sewer extensions and improvements and for new school buildings and additions. Applications have been approved for planning 2,083 sewer, water and sanitation projects to cost $546,355,941 and for 1,317 school expansions or new buildings to cost $318,415,189. Variety of Projects. Other items approved for advances include 300 highway, road and street projects to cost $46,820,698; 41 bridges, viaduct and railway overpasses, $28,426,458; 35 airports, $19,895,981; 158 hospitals and clinics, $73,470,874; 392 public buildings, $117,167,172; 178 parks and other recreational facilities, $29,943,129; 72 miscellaneous projects, $116,481,300. Field said the program was not designed primarily to cushion unemployment, but to provide needed public works as soon as possible. In the event it is turned into an emergency employment creator, Field said "it can give work immediately," pointing out that it took 18 months to get 100,000 working on public construction in 1933-'34 "because there had been no advance planning."

Johnny on his ninth birthday had had a party. It was all over and he was now gazing wistfully at the remains of the cake. "Mother," he said, "may I have a piece of cake—only a small piece, please?" "No," replied his mother. "You've had quite enough." "Well, may I sleep with a bit under my pillow?" asked the boy. "Very well, here you are, and remember to keep it under your pillow. Now run along to bed and go to sleep." On going up to Johnnie's room some time later his mother was amazed to see Johnnie sleeping peacefully with the pillow over his stomach.

The boy from the farm is on foreign soil today!

Instead of overalls, he's wearing his country's uniform. He's standing watch over the hard-won peace. He's safeguarding your future!

At heart, he's still that farm boy. His laughter sounds the same—when he can laugh. He still goes for cokes and cakes—when he can get them. And he still gets mighty homesick—when he has nothing else to do but think of home.

Your USO has one more row to hoe. Another round of laughs to plant. Another crop of cheer.

Your USO needs your help, as much as ever. For millions of American boys still need the USO. They need the camp shows and clubhouses—the hours of relaxation and entertainment—a place to hang their hats and loosen their belts.

They need to know that the folks back home are still thinking of them—are still willing to pitch in and make their task a lighter one.

Tell the farm boy you're with him—every step of the way. Say it through the USO. Say it with dollars!

Keep it up... USO Don't let them down!

Pirates Lose First Conference Game To Refugio Bobcats 19-7

The Rockport Pirates went down in defeat before a hard running attack by the Refugio Bobcats last Friday at Bobcat Field by a score of 19-7.

The Bobcats scored late in the first quarter on an intercepted pass. Wendell Duhon intercepted a Rockport pass on the Pirate's thirty-yard line and raced on over the goal standing up for the first score of the game. The try for extra point failed leaving the score six to nothing at the end of the first quarter.

On the kickoff, the Pirates took the ball on their own thirty-nine yard line and from there started a march that carried them into pay dirt for their first and only score of the game. They made four consecutive first downs to place the ball on the Bobcat's seven yard line. One play netted only one yard on a quarterback sneak by Rowe. On the second play, the ball was fumbled but recovered by Denny Smith on the twelve yard line. Corpus carried around right end to the two yard line. Then Johnson scored over his own left tackle. Johnson also carried over his own his own right guard for the extra point making the score seven to six.

Rockport kicked to the Bobcat's 25 and they returned it to their own forty-two. In two plays the Bobcats carried to the Pirates twenty-six for a first down. On the next play, they made four yards with a quarterback sneak and then Duhon carried over the goal for the touch down to make the score twelve to seven. The extra point was good with a power drive over the center of the line. The score came just before the half time.

The Bobcat's final score of the game came early in the third quarter after they recovered a fumble by the Pirates on the fifty yard line and started an unbroken march to pay dirt for their third touchdown. They carried on over the double stripe in eight plays, to make the final score of 19 to 7 in favor of the Bobcats. Billy Ray Chappell carried the ball over from the nine. The try for extra point was low and wide.

When the game ended, the Pirates were being pushed well back to their own end of the field. In fact, the last play before the game ended was stopped on the ten yard line. The Bobcats had pushed from their own 16 yard line to the Pirate ten in five plays.

Judge B. S. Fox Chosen Chairman of Committee

AUSTIN, (Sp)—Judge B. S. Fox, prominent Aransas County good roads advocate, has been chosen chairman of the Aransas County Good Roads Amendment Campaign Committee, it was announced today by Charles E. Simons, executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association.

Appearing on the ballot in the November 5th General Election as Amendment Number three, the Good Roads Constitutional Amendment guarantees the availability of motor vehicle registration fees gasoline taxes exclusively for road purposes, with the exception of one-fourth of the gas tax which will continue to be allocated to the Available Free School Fund.

"His deep interest in better and more improved highways and farm-to-market roads was the primary factor in his selection to head the Aransas County campaign," Simons said.

Simons also pointed out that the Texas Safety Association, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, State Board of Education and thirty other state organizations have adopted resolutions strongly endorsing the amendment.

"With so many outstanding organizations backing the Amendment, Simons continued, "we feel that every citizen in Aransas County should be fully informed of the provisions of the measure and the benefits they will derive from it. For this reason, we have selected Judge Fox to head the Aransas County committee and direct a vigorous educational campaign to point out the merits of this amendment."

Chief purpose of this proposal, it was emphasized by the Good Roads Association executive vice-president, is to assure the ultimate construction of rural mail and

Five Cent Airmail Went Into Effect This Week

The new five cent airmail rates per ounce for letters went into effect on October 1st. The postal authorities say that previous to this change letters mailed by air comprised approximately one out of every thirteen mailed in the United States and its possessions.

Now, however, they expect the percentage to run about one out of every four letters mailed in the U. S. and its possessions. The Postmaster General said he felt this would be extremely beneficial to the country since it will necessitate a great increase in the number of planes to handle airmail and will increase the number of airmail stations and employees required to handle the large volume of business.

Temporary Suspension Of Renewal Exam For Driver's License

E. R. Moore, Examiner for the Driver's License Division of the Department of Public Safety announced this week that all persons who have had drivers licenses issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety at any time may have them renewed without a renewal examination.

Such persons simply have to either see Moore at the County Court House in Rockport on the afternoons of the first, third or fifth Wednesdays of each month to file an application or to mail it direct to the office in Austin. This may be done even if the licenses have expired.

Moore said that this is a temporary measure to take care of an overload of work on the department.

Crab, Shrimp & Oyster Increased While Fish Fell Off This Year

J. L. Baughman, Marine Biologist with the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, reported this week that the production of shrimp, crabs, and oysters increased for the year; whereas, the production of fish decreased a great deal over the same period.

The Game, Fish and Oyster Commission at Rockport has just recently completed a tabulation of the figures on marine production for the fiscal year 1945-46. This report shows that the Galveston area led all other areas in the production of shrimp.

Crab production increased from 2500 pounds in 1944-45 to 145,000 pounds in 1945-46. Oysters from 571,642 pounds to 594,367 pounds. This increase in oysters was partially due to the fact that during the war the Commission opened areas for dredging that had not been open before.

Fish production decreased from 4,898,196 pounds to 3,998,620 pounds, with mullet dropping approximately 92,000 pounds, shark falling about 96,000 pounds and sheephead decreasing about 50 per cent from the previous years figures. This decrease was partially due to the high prices of shrimp because that diverted many fishermen from catching fish to shrimping, according to Baughman.

Baughman, also stated that the report showed that cold storage holdings rose to an all time high recently and a large proportion of this was furnished by the Atlantic and Pacific fisheries, which through their efficient production methods are able to sell fish in the open market at somewhat less per pound than Texas fisheries can. Thus cutting down to some extent on the absorption of the amount of fish that were produced locally.

Mrs. J. W. Townsend left Sunday for New Orleans, where she will join her son, Marvin Townsend, who is now hospitalized because of a crushed arm. His injury occurred while working for the Shell Oil Company in Chipley, Florida. Mrs. Townsend will go from New Orleans to Overstreet, Florida where she will spend two months with her daughter, Mrs. C. F. Whitfield and family.

Mrs. Alton Kinsel, the former Hazel Atchley who now lives in Port O'Connor, spent Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday here transacting business and visiting friends.

Richards Buys Interest In A. P. Progress

On September 28, J. G. Richards of Ingleside, bought E. W. Terry's interest in The Aransas Pass Progress. He will assist Wayne W. Welch the other partner, in the publication of The Progress.

Mr. Richards moved to Ingleside from Bandera County in 1930. He had worked for the Humble Oil & Refining Co. for 13 years but resigned his position when the company shut down their Ingleside plant. At that time Mr. Richards bought The Ingleside Item from Marvin Hunter, Jr., and published that paper until November 1945. He recently sold the Item plant. He owns his home in Ingleside, is married and has three children.

Terry and Welch bought the Progress from H. H. Heath, now deceased, in 1936, coming to Aransas Pass from Ardmore, Okla. Early this year they built a modern concrete tile building on Houston Street to house the plant.

Mr. Terry plans an extended vacation in Oklahoma and Indiana visiting his mother and daughter, after which he will return to Aransas Pass to make his home.

The Pilot extends congratulations to Mr. Richards and feels sure that he and Mr. Welch will continue to give the people of Aransas Pass the fine paper that they have enjoyed in the past. However, it is to be expected that Aransas Pass will notice the loss of Mr. Terry's experience as a printing craftsman.

Singers of Aransas County To Meet At Fulton Church

The Aransas County Singers will meet at the Fulton Independent Church next Sunday, October sixth, for an old-fashioned singing meet.

The Pastor says, "If you enjoy good singing and love gospel songs, you are invited to come and be with us. Our newest song book, "Pilgrim's Guide," will be used. They will also use several other popular books and are expecting a large crowd.

Singing will start at 2:30 p.m. in the afternoon and everybody is invited.

Mike Townsend left Saturday for Galveston, where he will again go to sea as a Merchant Marine. He has had intermittent service in the Maritime for the past four years, and on his last trip, he went to Greece, returning in July.

Rowans Reach Tampa Florida On Way To Rockport

Maynard Rowan and his wife, Hazel, reached Tampa, Florida, Tuesday, September 24th, in their auxiliary double-ended sloop, the "Mars", on their trip from Brewerton, New York, to Rockport, Texas, via the inland waterways.

They have stopped over in Tampa for four or five days in order to visit their old army friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stratton and to sail once more through the Old Tampa Bay, with which he became familiar while stationed at MacDill Field.

The Mars started the trip June 11, "We could have made much better time, he explained, "but we loafed along. We stayed at Elizabeth City three weeks painting the interior and fixing her up."

Once home, he will start getting the 36 foot, 50 horse-power sloop in shape for her global trip, which they are planning to make as soon as possible. Rowan bought the Mars several years ago, he explained "for the express purpose of taking her around the world," but his plans were interrupted by the Army.

With The Rains Came More Fish

Lyle Diederich reported that he caught three bait sized mullet with a castnet in "Dago Lake" in front of his house. They were four inches long.

Also, Bobby Caldwell, son of attorney Joe Caldwell, hooked a five and one-half inch catfish, salt-water variety, in their back yard.

Both of these catches were made Saturday morning after the heavy rain Friday night and Saturday morning.

Wolf and Taylor Buy Aransas Butane Gas Company

They will handle all butane appliances just as soon as they can obtain them for sale.

$650,000 From Texas Baptists

FOR WORLD EMERGENCY RELIEF

Pictured above are Dr. J. Howard Williams, Executive Secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, receiving and Mr. R. A. Springer, Baptist state treasurer, presenting a check for $650,000.00 which represents the contributions of Texas Baptists to World Emergency Relief and rehabilitation since July 1st.

The Southern Baptist Convention meeting in Florida during May of this year, launched a campaign to raise $3,500,000 to be used in rehabilitating their mission work and in relieving the suffering in war torn famine ravished countries in Europe and Asia. The 920,952 members of the Texas Baptist churches were asked to accept a goal of $458,200 toward this amount. To date $650,000.00 or 120 per cent of the goal has been received and offerings continued to come in to the state office.

Dr. Williams, who served as director of the campaign in Texas, expects to report an even larger response to the annual meeting of the Convention at Mineral Wells, November 14-15. It is anticipated that 7,500 messengers from the 3,301 churches affiliated with the convention will attend this annual meeting.

A striking fact about this offering is that none of the gifts will be used to administer the distribution of assistance. This aid will be dispensed by the missionaries and other employees of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board who are already in residence in the needy areas. Wherever aid is extended to countries in which Baptists do not operate missions, such aid will be proffered through already existing relief agencies. Some aid has already been sent through the Friends Society.

Dr. Baker James Cauthen, a native Texan and Baptist Mission Secretary to the Orient, will supervise the distribution of aid for China and Japan through the over 200 Baptist missionaries in those areas. Blanco Baptist Association gave $3,474.20.

VETERAN QUESTION BOX

Questions and answers on veteran welfare matters, prepared by the Veterans Administration and the VFW National Rehabilitation Service for free assistance or advice, consult VFW Service Officer, Sidney P. Ehlinger, at the city hall.

Q: May a veteran pay off a guaranteed loan before it becomes due?

A: Yes, the regulations give the veteran that right.

Q: Can a guaranty be obtained if the proceeds are to be used by a minor or a person under legal disability?

A: This can be done only if the loan and liens are valid under the state law governing the transaction. Many states have enacted statutes removing disability of veterans and for the wives of veterans who are minors to enable them to make such loans.

Q: May widows or children of deceased veterans obtain guaranty of loan?

A: No. The privilege is limited to veterans. A guaranty on a loan may continue, however, after the veteran's death.

Q: Are veterans of World War I eligible for benefits under the Act?

A: No. Its benefits are for World War II veterans only.

Q: If a loan is for farming purposes, must the veteran live on the farm?

A: No, but the Act requires that he actually conduct the farming operations.

Q: Is there any limit on the size of the loan?

A: No. The limit is on the amount which may be guaranteed or insured.

Q: May funds from a guaranteed loan be used to pay operating expenses on a farm?

A: Yes.

Q: Must a veteran put any of his own money into a business, a home, or a farm in order to get the guaranty?

A: No. This is not a requirement for guaranty or insurance. It is settled with the lender. The only bearing it has on the guaranty or insurance of a loan is that in the case of a farm or a business it may affect the likelihood of the veteran's success in the venture.

Q: May a loan to buy an automobile or truck be guaranteed or insured?

A: Yes, but only if the automobile or truck is necessary to the conduct of the veteran's own business.
