Motor Vehicle Taxes Average Higher Than Federal Income Tax

DALLAS, Tex.—The average Texas motorist pays taxes on his motor vehicle at a rate higher than his Federal income tax, according to a study released today by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

"The tax bill on the average Texas motorist is $82 annually when he totals state and federal gasoline taxes, state registration fees and federal automotive taxes," R. B. Anderson, Association president, said.

"This is equivalent to the federal income tax paid by a Texan with exemptions for a wife and two children on $2725 income. The majority of Texas motorists are in income brackets below this figure," Anderson said.

"Few motorists realize that the gasoline tax alone in Texas now totals 5½ cents a gallon, or 4 cents for state tax and 1½ cents for federal tax. Added to this are the registration fees and Federal automotive excises," Anderson said.

"Congress is doing something about the income tax which is too high for the average taxpayer, but so far there has been no relief in sight for the average taxpayer who also drives an automobile," Anderson said.

275,000 School Children Served Lunch With Milk

Seventy percent of the 275,000 Texas school children eating in community school lunchrooms are served Type A lunch with milk.

This is a balanced lunch providing about one-third of the child's daily nutritive needs, John J. Slaughter, southwest area supervisor, food distribution programs branch, USDA's Production and Marketing Administration, Dallas said.

Twenty-five percent of the schools serve Type A lunch without milk and the remainder serve Type C which is milk only.

Under the School Lunch Act, USDA furnishes the State Department of Education, the state sponsoring agency, with funds to help pay part of the cost of the foods served. Current rate for Type A with milk is nine cents and for Type A without milk, seven cents. Schools serving only milk receive two cents.

This reduces the cost of the foods served, making it possible for more children to take part in the program, Slaughter explained.

In addition to federal funds, USDA donates agricultural products bought under price support programs, those bought to relieve local surpluses and certain foods needed to round out wholesome lunches. So far this year these include Irish potatoes and grapefruit juice from Texas, fresh pears, fresh apples, dried fruits, dried eggs, green beans, cheese, canned tomatoes, tomato juice, dry milk, orange juice and peanut butter.

Total number schools taking part in the program is 2,448 of which 45 percent are rural.

TEXANS LOYAL OVER THE WORLD

Fort Worth, April 14.—The sun never sets on a Texas heart.

The Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce has received a request from Okinawa for some "props" for a celebration of San Jacinto Day, April 21. J. F. Wynn, a native of Fort Worth, asked the chamber if it could provide a ten-gallon hat, a pair of chaps, a pair of boots, a pair of spurs and a .45 holster.

Wynn said the equipment doesn't have to be new or in good condition. Just so it's from Texas.

Gregory placed first in the boys doubles, second in the girls singles and second in the boy's singles to win the meet.

Student Council To Refugio

Glenn Owens, Jim Morrison, John Paul Reese and Principal Owen James went to Refugio Tuesday night to attend a student council meeting of several schools in the district. Those who had representatives at the meet were Refugio, Robstown, Aransas, Pass, Calallen and Rockport.

Glenn Owens gave a report on "Projects a Student Council Can Undertake".

The main projects which the Rockport student council at the high school have successfully completed this year are: 1. Promotion of a Christmas project whereby clothes and toys were made ready for distribution to the needy. 2. School employment agency. Out of an enrollment of 50, only two complaints were registered where the work was not satisfactory and this was immediately corrected. 3. Sponsoring of Sacrifice day in the school to collect funds during the March of Dimes and Red Cross drives.

Betty Haynes Is Queen Candidate

Betty Haynes, Rockport high school graduate of 1946 now clerking in Johnson's Drug Store, is the only candidate, as the paper goes to press, for queen to represent Rockport at the Aransas Pass rodeo April 30, May 1 and 2.

Rockport high school girls or high school graduates are eligible for the queenship. They have only to sell the largest number of tickets in Rockport to the rodeo, to be designated as the Rockport queen. The tickets can be obtained at the Rockport Chamber of Commerce office.

Queens from Rockport, Port Aransas, Aransas Pass, and Ingleside will receive a gift which the Aransas Pass merchants are donating for the occasion and will ride in a parade May 1, the second day of the rodeo.

The ticket selling contest opened April 10, and will close at 5 o'clock, Monday, April 26.

The rodeo committee is also planning a bathing beauty contest to be held at 4 p.m., May 1. There will be contestants from approximately 15 towns. Each Aransas Pass merchant is sponsoring a bathing beauty. Rockport has been asked to send one or more contestants but so far there is no indication that they are planning to do so.

Along The Waterfront

SHORTY TOWNSEND HAD A large party from Houston out fishing in the "Snooks" over the weekend. George Peyton hauled in the prize fish, a 35-pound drum. Others in the party were Eddie Debowski, Robert Debowski, E. T. Alleom, Bob Shave, L. H. Davis, and Lester C. Roberts. Sunday night the party had 3 large red-fish, 50 pounds of trout, gafftops and whiting to show for the outing.

OTHERS FISHING IN ROCKPORT over the week-end were Dr. J. R. Drain and Dr. T. A. Baker of San Antonio, who were stopping at the Patio Courts. The bays around the peninsula are one of the favorite fishing spots for the Drains, but previously, on their trips here, it seems they have not been very well equipped. This time they had new fishing tackle and were all fixed for a big catch, but it just wasn't their day as the only catch was one hard head and a few small fish.

MR. AND MRS. JIM PHILLIP left for their home in Pampa, Texas, this week after spending the winter in Rockport. Mr. Phillip claims that the best fishing in the bays has been on the Copano Bay side for the past few weeks, where he caught enough fish each day to keep the ice box loaded. The Phillips have been coming to Rockport to spend the winter for the last five years and have reservations made to return here next year.

ERNIE ARMBRUSTER OF Dallas, Dr. Collins and son from Nebraska, Col. Melton, Wyoming S. B. Theis, San Antonio; W. F. Newell, Houston; L. E. Pryor, Oklahoma; J. F. Heard, Omaha, Neb.; Fred Nute, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Shelton, Midland, Tex.; and Roberts of Sioux City, Iowa, report that fishing for gafftops is good every night about 6 o'clock off the pier at Palm Village. They have been bringing in long strings of the fish for the past several days.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT C. Bruce of Dallas went fishing with Henry Ballou last Friday on the "Earline B." The party brought in 53 nice trout.

JIMMY MATTHEWS AND party of Corpus Christi went out Saturday with Mr. Ballou. Due to the high wind, fishing was not so good but they did catch 12 large trout.

Injured Rockport Boy Waits 18 Hours for Rescue from Cedar Bayou

Glenn Larrance discovered Thursday evening that Cedar Bayou is a rough place to be when medical attention becomes necessary. Larrance, J. L. Small and Frank Terrell were at the bayou fishing last week in Terrell's 26-foot cabin cruiser. Thursday evening it seems that it became necessary to push the boat through shallow waters when Larrance slipped and cut a deep gash from the knee around to the calf of the leg on the oyster shell.

Larrance was badly in need of medical attention but the waters were too shallow to get the boat out and it was several miles to radio. Mr. Winn on Matagorda Island was finally notified of the accident and got a message out to M. G. Taylor by radio Friday evening at 11:30. Winn's plane was dispatched to the bayou. He soon discovered that he was too far from the injured man, who couldn't walk and was too heavy to be carried. The pilot made another landing but damaged a tire in doing so, as a result he also was unable to get out of the bayou. Meantime those on the mainland knowing about the accident which had happened became concerned that Winn's plane had not returned.

An attempt was made to locate George Devine, who was supposed to be in Corpus Christi. About 3 o'clock Devine came back to the airport in his new seaplane and proceeded to make his first flight in it. He immediately left for the bayou, where he landed and had Larrance at the office of Dr. H. Hilderbrand by 4 o'clock. However Dr. Hilderbrand found the leg badly swollen and in need of hospital facilities so he sent him on to the Corpus Christi naval hospital immediately.

SOMEBODY HAS SAID THAT knowledge is a wonderful thing. Why—if it wasn't for knowledge, we wouldn't know a thing!

Similarly—folks are great; we couldn't get along without 'em.

Recently your columnist was to speak at the annual dinner of the chamber of commerce in Falfurrias and had journeyed by bus as far as San Antonio when I ran into Bill Furey, Hillsboro publisher, in the Gunter lobby and he was on his way to Edinburg and so I caught a ride to Falfurrias.

Coming back, I'd gotten as far as Austin by bus, stopped over for a few hours, ran into Carl Bruner, a friend from Cowtown. He and his son, Paul, veteran and graduate student at the University of Texas, insisted—they didn't have to insist very strong—that I ride back to Fort Worth with them.

Not only that but I'd stopped in San Antonio (on the return trip) to see Col. Ray Leeman, executive vice president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, and tell him what a good job Ray, Jr., is doing as Falfurrias C of C manager but it was noon so I thought I'd have lunch, then phone the Colonel. So I went into the Manhattan Cafe, had my favorite dinner (the seafood platter) and, just as I finished, the man next to me at the counter got up and, one seat over, sat the man I'd stopped in San Antonio to see—Col. Leeman.

And I was so clumsy that he picked up my luncheon check.

Folks are great. I don't see how a fellow could get along without 'em.

AMERICAN HISTORY HAS been marked by the passing of the Indian, the passing of the buffalo and the passing of the buck.

SOMETHING SHOULD BE done about people that are late to shows and programs. And Alfred Lunt, the famous actor, does. Several years ago, I was attending a Shakespearean play and the first act had been going on for 10 minutes when a couple entered. Of course, their seats were right in the middle of the row so everybody in that row had to stand to let them get by.

Lunt was speaking. He stopped, waited until the late arrivals were seated and then said, "So nice of you to come."

Members of the Industrial Workers of the World were nicknamed "Wobbllys."

FIRST ENTRY — Geo. R. Clark, committeeman, smiles his approval as he registers Miss Johnnie Lou Wilson, first entry in the bathing beauty contest to be held in connection with the Aransas Pass Rodeo and Water Carnival of April 30, May 1-2 O. F. Poling, president of the Aransas Pass Chamber of Commerce, which organization is sponsoring the big 3-day event looks on. Miss Wilson was second place winner in last year's event and promises keen competition in this year's bathing beauty contest which is expected to attract beauties from over a dozen south Texas towns.

Texas Shows Drop In Fire Loss During February

AUSTIN—Fire death and property tolls in Texas dropped during February, announced Marvin Hall.

According to fire marshals reports from over the State, 24 Texans met their deaths in February fires, while 29 died from flames in January, the State Fire Insurance Commissioner said.

Of the 24th deaths, there were 7 children, 7 women and 10 men.

Nearly $700 thousand in property went up in flames in February, "an encouraging decrease from the million dollar loss in January," Hall stated.

"Although our losses were less last month however, they are still far too high," Hall warned. "We must all assume personal responsibility to see that our homes, places of business and institutions are fire safe."

To further cut down fire losses this year, Hall urged Texans to take an active part in removing fire hazards in their communities during Spring Clean-Up Week, April 4-10.

Cold weather hazards were still the main causes of fire in February with gas stoves leading the list with 124 fires, out of the total 507, and with a $182,908.45 property loss. Electricity followed with 58 fires to its credit.

Causing 49 fires, matches and cigarettes were the third greatest fire promoters. They usually rank first. Exposure was the origin of 37 blazes.

Other cold weather hazards were kerosene stoves, 34 fires; chimneys, flues and fireplaces, 24; hot water heaters, 21. Persons smoking in bed started 17 fires.

Homes again led the list of occupancy losses with 308 fires and a $270 thousand loss. Apartment fires, 60, were the second highest, and 38 private garage fires ranked third.

There were 21 fires in mercantile stores, 13 in but houses, 11 in factories, 8 in cafes and 6 each in boarding and rooming houses, hotels and office buildings.

Parents Warned of Diphtheria; Easy To Prevent by Immunization

Austin, Tex. —(Spl.)—It is a tragedy that Texas parents continue to allow their babies to suffer and die from that painful and killing disease diphtheria. This is the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says "It is up to the parents. If they protect their children with immunization, they need not have diphtheria."

Dr. Cox said that it is amazing that this disease should be allowed to take its toll of young lives when it can be entirely stamped out by proper immunization. Yet in the past week, 33 cases were reported in this state.

"Babies should be immunized by the age of eight or nine months," Dr. Cox advised. Authorities on the care of infants recommend a first dose by the age of eight or nine months, and sometimes as early as six months. A second dose is usually given later."

To maintain complete immunity, Dr. Cox said that a reinforcing dose is advised when a child is old enough to enter school if a Schick test reveals the need of one. Children who have never been immunized certainly should be protected without further delay, the State Health Officer declared, and added that it is the responsibility of the parents to save the lives of their children.

Naval Transport Service officials estimate that NATS transports Navy men for two-thirds of the cost the Navy would have to pay for commercial transportation for the same men.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS ATTEND THEATER AND MUSEUM DURING OUTING SATURDAY

by MRS. ROY HINTON
Spic and span in white and blue uniforms and red Camp Fire ties, twenty members of the Odaka group of Camp Fire girls met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Roy Hinton, Saturday morning, ready for the trip to Corpus Christi in the Hinton truck.
A table had been reserved for luncheon at the Morocco room at the Robert Driscoll Hotel, where Danny Ferguson's Orchestra furnished music. After luncheon a panoramic view of Corpus Christi was had from the terrace before proceeding to the Wynn Seal auditorium to witness the Clare Tree Major production of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." After the performance the group met the entire cast of players and had pictures made with them.

Following this a tour of Cole Park and the famous Frank Crook gardens was made.

The tired, but happy girls were then ready for the return trip home as they sang, "Now is the Hour for our Farewell." The truck afforded a crowded but restful ride and between bites of glazed doughnuts, the girls discussed the events and pleasures of the day.

Mrs. Ernest Silberisen accompanied Mrs. Hinton and assisted her on the trip. Those making the trip were Shirley Rivers, Frances Lee Deason, Sandra Court, Carol Simpson, Iva Lee Haynes, Jane Robinson, Lola Jean Ballou, Clydene Sparks, Shirley Harrell, Joan Smith, Virginia Gwynn, Gloria Dye, Delia Knippa, Phyllis Perkins, Carolyn Cecil, Patsy Dupnik, Nancy Hayden, Sue Blevins, Mildred Davis, and Patsy Janacek of Corpus Christi.

IT ADDS UP TO MORE GOOD SERVICE FOR YOU

These are facts from our 1947 Annual Report. Complete copies of the report can be obtained upon request.

ELECTRIC RATES REMAINED LOW! With most other costs going up, CPL kept the price of electricity low in 1947. Electricity today is selling for less than the pre-war price. You and your South Texas neighbors are still getting more than TWICE as much electricity for your money as you did 20 years ago.

MORE POWER FOR SOUTH TEXAS! 1947 was one of CPL's biggest years of expansion. The company invested more than $9,000,000 in power plants and other new service facilities to keep pace with the growing residential and business needs of South Texas. This $9,000,000 was only part of the company's post-war expansion program, planned years ago and now well under way.

SERVICE EXTENDED! There were record-breaking demands for service in 1947. These heavy demands came at a time of material shortages and delays in the delivery of vital power plant equipment. Despite such problems, CPL extended service to more than 12,000 new electric customers.

ICE SUPPLY AMPLE! Ice is vital to the marketing of South Texas fruits, vegetables and seafood. During 1947, CPL was the area's largest supplier of ice for the shipment of perishable products by rail and truck. A dependable ice service also was maintained for homes and businesses.

GOOD WAGES—GOOD SERVICE. Last year CPL's operating and construction payroll increased more than a half million dollars. At the close of the year there were 1,744 regular, full-time employees, whose average length of service amounted to more than eight and one-half years. Long and faithful service of CPL's means efficient operation and good service to you.

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS BROADENED. The company's employee benefit program, which includes life insurance, hospital and surgical insurance and a retirement annuity plan, was expanded and improved during 1947 at no additional cost to employees.

Battleship Texas Heads Home; To Be Presented To Governor April 21

Houston.—The galant old Battleship Texas is finally headed home.

She has waited for more than two years at the Portsmouth Navy yards, Norfolk, Va., for that final sea voyage, and on March 15 Navy tugs began towing her out to sea, down the East Coast, and home to Texas.

The big question now is what will happen to her once she gets to the Lone Star State and starts up the Houston ship channel to the San Jacinto Battlegrounds.

A total of $40,000 is still needed to cover the costs of berthing the vessel, it has been reported by Lloyd C. Gregory, chairman of the Battleship Texas' Commission. Mr. Gregory urges that every Texan join in one final effort to raise the money needed. Contributions are to be sent to Allan H. King, treasurer, Battleship Texas fund, Citizens State Bank, Houston.

Meanwhile, preparations for receiving the man-o'-war are underway. Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz will personally present the ship to Gov. Beauford Jester for the state of Texas at San Jacinto April 21—San Jacinto Day. The presentation will take place at the battleground in a colorful ceremony which will be attended by a host of high naval officials and state and civic leaders.

Mr. Gregory announced receipt of a telegram from Secretary of the Navy John L. Sullivan advising him that the native Texan strategist of the Pacific Fleet, Admiral Nimitz will come to Texas for the occasion.

With him will be Assistant Secretary of the Navy Mark Edwin Andrew, native of Houston, who was a naval captain during World War II, and Adm. Louis E. Denfield, chief of naval operations.

Mr. Gregory said the presentation would take place shortly before noon San Jacinto Day.

The ship should reach the battlegrounds about April 10. It will be permanently berthed in a slip to be dug near the ship channel in the western section of the battleground, almost directly north of the San Jacinto Inn. Mr. Gregory said the commission had been able to save about $12,000 of the dredging costs through an arrangement with J. B. Hine of Syracuse, N. Y., a former Houstonian, who owns land adjoining the battleground. Mr. Hine agreed to let the contractor pour the silt dredged from the slip on a 319-acre tract, free of charge. There will be about 250,000 cubic yards of silt, and at five cents a cubic yard, the amount usually charged, this would have amounted to $12,500 but for the generous agreement given by Mr. Hine.

Pointing out the need for immediately raising the $40,000 still needed, Mr. Gregory issued an appeal to civic and patriotic organizations, schools, and all others to help raise the money.

County against purchaser of easement for crop and surface damages, all of which are included in and shall be covered by the payments made.

The right to reject any and all bids is hereby expressly reserved.

Death Claims Long Time Resident Monday

Leonard Ingalls Carleton, long time resident of Fulton Beach, died at 5:45 Monday morning, April 12, at the home of his son, Leon L. Carleton.

Mr. Carleton was 77 years of age at the time of his death. He was born in Rockton, Illinois in 1870. He first came to Rockport, in 1909, when his family spent four winters here at the Oak Shore Club. In 1913 he bought property and established his home on the Fulton Beach. He will be remembered as one of Rockport's first winter visitors.

Leonard Carleton was married in 1899 to Alice Fredman who preceded her husband in death in 1937.

Mr. Carleton is survived by a daughter, Mrs. William Johnson of Rockport and two sons, Leon L. Carleton of Fulton Beach and Robey Carleton of Rockton, Illinois. There are six grandchildren.

Funeral services and burial will be in Rockford, Illinois.

Security Loan Drive Opens Today

The Treasury Department, with the help of volunteers throughout the country, is organizing a nation-wide Security Loan drive to sell more U. S. Saving Bonds to more Americans. This campaign is in the interest of a stabilized economy—which obviously is a prerequisite to the peace and the continued well-being of the American nation.

The drive opens on Thursday, April 15; it will continue for eleven weeks, through June 30.

Millions of volunteers are engaged in this task and though it may lack the hurried urgency of war, this undertaking is vital to the nation because economic maladjustment can be costly and as disastrous as war.

Fine Arts Show In Corpus Christi April 22 to 24

The Annual Gulf Coast Antique and Fine Arts Show, the date of which has been set for April 21 through April 23, will be an attraction for out-of-town visitors to Corpus Christi, and a real service for this area, according to Mrs. Galloway Selby, general chairmen. First held in Corpus Christi last year, the event attracted much interest.

The show will again be held at Gillespie Buck Company, 401 Water Street. Booths will be rented to Corpus Christi and out-of-town dealers. Pieces may be purchased at the show. Season and single tickets will be available, and the doors will be open daily from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

"We wish to give the people of Southwest Texas an opportunity to see and possibly purchase antiques which they might not other-

Flying Service For Instruction and Pleasure

F. D. Bayless of Alice has recently taken advantage of the facilities offered by the Aransas County Airport and opened the Bayless Flying Service here which will provide flight instruction and pleasure flights.

Mr. Bayless has had 20 years of flying experience with 4,000 hours of instructing. He served in World War II as a navy ferry and test pilot. He operated a flying business at Alice for several years.

wise have an opportunity to see," Mrs. Selby explained at a general committee meeting this week. "The increasing desire to beautify homes with usable antique pieces instead of mere ornaments makes affording a wider selection a real service."

Three out-of-town dealers who participated in the event last year have added their names to the list of reservations for booths in the Annual Gulf Coast Antique and Fine Arts Show.

Joseph S. Saber, of the Persian Rug Center, and Mrs. Milton Otto, of the Colonial Shoppe will bring displays from San Antonio. Mrs. Myrtle Fahr, of Myrtle Fahr Antiques in Beeville will also return to the show with a display.

Featuring excellent reproduction of fabrics suitable for use with antique and traditional furniture, three Corpus Christi firms, the Custom Shop, Tunkis Upholstery Gallery, and Rose Upholstery Shop will enter displays in the Fine Arts division. Antique dealers of Corpus Christi who have previously made reservations are Ewing Galleries, Holoman's, Taylor Brothers, Elizabeth's What-Not Corner, Moore's, Andy's and Isbell's.

Admission tickets are now on sale at 60 cents for single admissions and $1.50 for season tickets. Proceeds will be used to provide scholarships for students, and help defray expenses of the Colony to be in session June 1-14. The affair will be held at Gillespie Buick Co. 401 S. Water St.

Only 1 Percent of Your Check Is for Social Security

"What becomes of all that money I paid in?" That question is frequently asked at the Corpus Christi office of the Social Security Administration by persons who inquire about their retirement or family insurance under the Social Security Act. In explanation, H. M. Cleveland, manager, says that the social security tax is sometimes confused with the income tax which is also withheld from an employee's wages.

"The federal insurance contributions, or social security taxes, as they are generally called, pay for protection against the loss of wage income in old age and death. Under this government insurance system, each worker pays 1 percent of all wages up to $3,000 a year for the protection of his family," Cleveland explained. "The contribution or tax which is deducted from a worker's wages each pay day corresponds to an insurance premium. The money thus collected, together with an equal amount which is paid by employers, goes into a special trust account in the United States Treasury. The fund is invested in government securities which are cashed as the money is needed to pay the retirement and family insurance when it becomes due.

"At the present rate, the maximum amount which any worker would pay for this insurance is $80 a year. This is the twelfth year that the law has been in effect; so an employee, who has earned the maximum in wages each year, would have paid no more than $360 at this time for social security," he continued.

Some retired workers and their wives, or their widows or orphans, will qualify for old-age and survivors insurance payments amounting to hundreds of times as much as one worker has contributed. In other cases, the total insurance payments may be less than the amount paid into the fund. However, workers who are insured under this law have family protection, based on their wages and employment.

In conclusion, Cleveland stated that the insurance payments are not intended to replace the need for thrift and savings. The payments are never large, and it is expected that families will be encouraged to supplement their old-age and survivors insurance with other savings. The insurance cannot be drawn at any time except when a worker retires after he is 65, or when he dies. Then, the payments are made as a matter of right to those who qualify, but they must be applied for in every case.

Spring Enrollment at TCU Total 4,660

FORT WORTH—Spring semester enrollment at TCU totals 4660, President M. E. Sadler reports, of which number 2316 are veterans.

"The student body has increased by 375 per cent since 1940-41," Sadler points out. "Total assets in the same period, have grown 337 per cent. Over-all budget for the fiscal year was set at $2,204,000, as compared with $587,000 for 1940-41."

Dried peas can sometimes be used as a meat substitute, since they are high in protein and contain moderate amounts of the B vitamins and minerals. When used with potatoes, a green or yellow vegetable and milk, they make a complete and nourishing meal.

FOR TEXAS DEMOCRATS—Walter Jetton prepares to serve thousands at the Texas Democratic Barbecue in Fort Worth April 20. Jetton promises that the huge crowd will pass through six serving lines in 30 minutes. He will offer "the best Texas beef" to party members from the four corners of the state.

Texas Democratic Barbecue Set For Tuesday, April 20

FORT WORTH—(Spl)—Walter Jetton, who has served a crowd of 6,000 is prepared to break his own record at the Texas Democratic Barbecue in Fort Worth April 20.

On that day, Jetton will set up six serving lines, through each of which 1,000 persons can pass in 30 minutes.

Long experience explains Jetton's efficiency. Forty-two years old and a native of Fort Worth, he started out at the age of 12 in his father's butcher shop.

He estimates that in the past 30 years he has served barbecue to 20 million persons.

The reason Jetton gives for the popularity of his product is quality.

"I serve only the best Texas beef, selected by my own buyers at cattle auctions," he says.

Good meat and good cooking have resulted in fame—some of it world-wide—for this barbecue.

All party members have been invited to enjoy this delicacy at the Texas Democratic Barbecue, which is sponsored by official state organizations.

Tickets can be obtained from Democratic county chairmen or state committeemen, or by sending five dollars for each ticket desired to:

T.C.U. Has New Testing Program

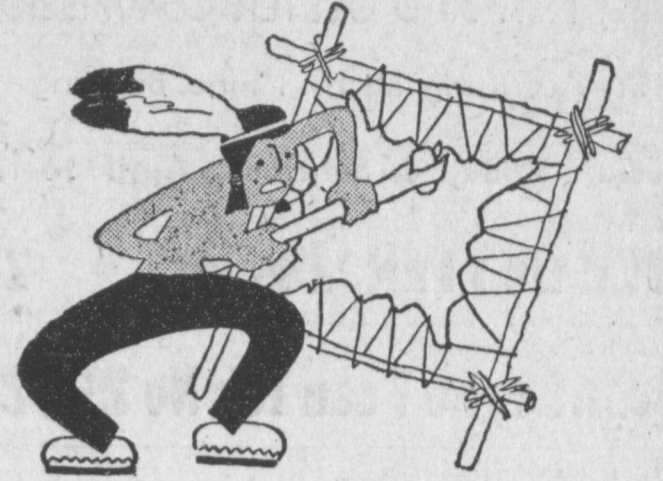

FORT WORTH—TCU is one of four Texas schools co-operating in a program that has resulted in a new testing program to measure the chances for success of students and junior accountants just entering the profession.

The American Institute of Accountants, which sponsored the four years of investigation involved, announced this week that the tests are now available for use by accredited schools and universities.

More than 60,000 individual examinations were given by 90 schools and 16 public accounting firms in developing and verifying the new tests.

Raise Rabbits For Meat In Your Backyard

Even though March 28 through April 3 was National Rabbit Week, every week in the year can be rabbit week by raising domestic rabbits for meat. R. E. Callender, extension wildlife conservation specialist of Texas A. & M. College has several pointers on raising domestic rabbits for meat.

Raising rabbits may be of special interest to the youngsters. Rabbits make a good 4-H club project just as beef calves, poultry, or others are used. Also it gives the town boys a chance to get in on the 4-H work where they could not otherwise because of a lack of space. The town boys can raise rabbits right in their own backyard.

One of the best breeds of rabbits for meat purposes is the New Zealand White. The white skin of this breed are good for dyeing processes, too and usually bring two to three times as much money as other skins.

Rabbit furs are sold under 35 to 40 different names including Arctic Seal, Baltic Black Fox, Coney Beaver, French Mole, and many others.

An important thing about raising rabbits is that it helps save grain. Rabbits furnish a lot of good nutritious all white meat compared to the small amount of grain that is fed. They also eat lots of hay and garden products, and in cases where only a few rabbits are being raised, table scraps will help out.

A good ratio is one buck to ten does, and each doe can raise two litters per year, and sometimes three with careful management. Five to seven rabbits per litter is the average.

Tularemia affects only the wild rabbits. Domestic rabbits are free of this disease. If the rabbit farmer starts his business with good, healthy stock and carries on strict sanitary precautions, he should have little trouble from diseases.

Here is a word of advice, especially to the younger rabbit raisers, from Callender. It doesn't do to get too attached to the rabbits and make pets of them.

GROW HERBS IN THE GARDEN

College Station.—(Spl.)—Since colonial days, it has been the custom in various parts of the country to grow savory herbs in the home garden. It's a custom that can fit into the home gardens of Texas very well, horticulturists of Texas A. & M. College says.

The greater part of the supply of savory herbs in the United States comes from abroad, even though many of the plants are well adapted to the soils and climate of this country. They are considered essential in the preparation of food in European and Latin American countries and are often the reason why dishes from these countries have a subtle flavor which American cooks sometimes find hard to duplicate.

The growing of herbs is an adventure to the gardener and to the cook. The gardener will find most of them easy to grow and they fit into borders, flower beds and rock gardens as well as vegetable or formal herb gardens. They are attractive in appearance and add beauty and fragrance to the home landscape.

The cook will enjoy experimenting with the various flavors to bring out the best in her cooking. They are particularly useful when economical cuts of meat must take the place of those more expensive and flavorful.

The horticulturists say that most of the herbs will grow on any soil and under any system of fertilizing that is suitable for growing vegetables. The varieties recommended for Texas and the types of soil in which they grow best are anise, chervil and marjoram, light medium loams; summer savory, light rich loam; basil and cumin, well-drained medium loam; caraway, light "dry" soil; dill, tarragon and thyme, sandy soil; mint, moist soil, rich in organic materials; chives and sage, rich loam, and coriander, which grows in any good garden soil.

The horticulturists recommend USDA Farmers' Bulletin No. 1977 as a source of information for growing, harvesting and use of the herbs.

OUR MODERN ARMY AN EDUCATED ARMY

A modern Army is an educated Army.

In recognition of this precept, the Army has taken certain steps to see that her soldiers have every chance for a formal education.

Innovations designed to attract highest calibre recruits on the high school and college levels were motivated by recognition of the individual's importance in military service.

Backbone of the Army's socialized training program is the system of major technical schools operated by the Army itself.

Under a new pre-selection school plan, high school graduates choose their technical school before enlistment.

College students take life slow and easy—even to graduation by degrees.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Now It's Neckties Made of Milk!

Fellow in Andy Botkin's Tavern was boasting about a trick necktie he was wearing made out of a by-product of milk. "Took 33 pounds of milk to make this tie," he says.

Bill Webster was unimpressed. "Personally," he says, "I'd rather have the milk to drink. Just as I wouldn't change one glass of good American beer for a necktie made from thirty barrels of it!"

Yes, modern science being what it is—seems like you can make "anything out of anything" these days. But in the case of milk, well

I guess drinking it is still a whole lot better than just wearing it.

Of course there are lots of other ways of abusing goods and beverages—like a fellow who doesn't appreciate good beer enough to drink it slowly and in moderation.

But from where I sit, most people who enjoy a wholesome beverage like beer or ale are moderate—because beer itself is a beverage of moderation.
