Social Security Wage Credits

To go to work on a new job without showing your social security card to the employer is like putting money in the bank without giving your name, according to H. M. Cleveland, manager of the Corpus Christi social security office. Without your name and number, your wages can't be posted to your Social Security account, unless you give your name.

"Every three months," Cleveland says, "your employer must report your wages when he sends in your social security contribution or tax. He must show the number of your account along with your name and the amount of wages he has paid you. The number on your social security card is the number of your insurance account. If you don't show your card to your employer, you may not get full credit for all your wages."

"It is important that all of your wages be posted to your account," Cleveland said, "since the retirement or family insurance that you and your family will get after you are 65 or when you die, is based on the wages that have been entered in your account. The way to assure that all of your wages will be posted is to show your social security card to each employer at the time that he puts your name on his payroll."

Health Clinic

fect on bodily health. Not only do diseased teeth and gums interfere with appetite and digestion and therefore with nutrition, but they may spread infection to the tonsils, the glands of the neck, the ears, or even distant parts of the body. Therefore, the habit of visiting the dentist regularly should be formed early in life, not later than the third year of age, so that defects may be corrected before they can do serious harm. If this has not been the custom during the preschool years, it certainly should be begun before the child enters school and continued from then on. The importance of retaining baby teeth cannot be overemphasized.

Tonsils—Not only may diseased tonsils cause harm in themselves, but infection may spread from them to other parts of the body, such as the ears, sinuses, glands, joints, and heart. Serious heart conditions not infrequently result from neglected, diseased tonsils. Parents, should, therefore, give serious consideration to a physician's advice concerning the removal of diseased tonsils.

Adenoids—The presence of enlarged adenoids results in mouth breathing and often in permanent facial disfigurement, particularly in the set of the mouth and jaw. Children with enlarged adenoids are as a rule unusually susceptible to colds and other infections of the nose, throat and lungs.

Sight and hearing—Normal sight and hearing make it easier for the child to progress satisfactorily in school and later in life itself. They permit the full enjoyment of games as well as of literature, music and other arts. Inability to see or hear well is a serious handicap for the child in school. Frequently children are held back in school not because they are mentally slow but because of poor vision or poor hearing. Every effort should be made to correct these defects.

Communicable diseases—One factor in health growth and development of children is freedom from communicable diseases, such as measles, diphtheria and scarlet fever. Every child should be given the preventative treatments that are available. No child should enter school without being successfully vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria. If the community has frequent outbreaks of typhoid fever, children should also be protected by typhoid fever vaccine.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers recognizes the importance of improving the health of children entering school for the first time and the need for continuous medical and dental supervision of children of all ages. As a result of these Health Clinics, more children are going to school each year in good physical condition, free from remediable defects, with good health habits established, protected against communicable disease and prepared to hold their own with other children.

Fishing Law

fining the authority of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission; repealing Acts, 1945, 49th Legislature, page 78, Chapter 55, and Act, 1947, 50th Legislature, page 86, Chapter 59; repealing all laws in conflict herewith; providing a penalty; providing a severance and savings clause; and declaring an emergency.

Whereas, the edible aquatic life and resources within tidal waters of the State of Texas are being depleted and exhausted to an extent that the maximum point of production is being threatened from overfishing, and it is imperative that the fish stocks be protected therefrom, it is declared to be the public policy of the State of Texas that its fish resources be maintained in such condition that maximum catches can be had from them consistently and continuously; therefore,

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. The following words, terms and phrases used in this Act are hereby defined as follows: (a) A "Commercial Fisherman" is any person who takes fish or oysters or shrimp or other edible aquatic products from tidal waters of this State, for pay, or for the purpose of sale, barter or exchange.

(b) A "Commercial Fishing Boat" is any boat or vessel which is required to be numbered or registered by and under the laws of the United States of America or the State of Texas, and which is used for the purpose of taking, catching, or assisting in taking or catching fish, shrimp, oysters, or any other edible aquatic life from tidal waters of the State of Texas for pay or for the purpose of sale, barter or exchange.

(c) "Tidal Waters" as that term is used herein, means all of the salt waters of the State of Texas, including that portion of the State's territorial waters in the Gulf of Mexico within three (3) marine leagues from shore.

Section 2. Before any commercial fisherman shall take, catch or assist in taking, any fish, shrimp or oysters, or any other edible aquatic life from the tidal salt waters of this State, a license shall first be procured from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas privileging him so to do. The fee for such Commercial Fisherman's License shall be Three ($3.00) Dollars and said license shall expire August 31st following the date of issuance.

Section 3. Before any Commercial Fishing Boat shall be used for the purpose of taking, catching, or assisting in taking or catching fish, shrimp, oysters or any other edible aquatic life from the tidal waters of this State, for pay, or for the purpose of sale, barter or exchange, a license, to be known as a Commercial Fishing Boat License, shall first be procured by the owner of such commercial fishing boat from the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas privileging such boat to be so used. The fee for a Commercial Fishing Boat License shall be Six ($6.00) Dollars and said license shall expire August 31st following the date of issuance.

Section 4. In July of each year the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas shall set the quota of Commercial Fishing Boat Licenses to be issued the succeeding conservation year, which shall extend from September 1st of such year to August 31st of the succeeding year, after a survey and investigation and determination of the maximum poundage of shrimp, oysters and other edible aquatic life which may be caught during the following year commercially without danger to the maximum point of production; and when, in the opinion, finding and determination of the Commission, the maximum production has been reached so as to assure the ability to take a maximum crop for the following year, and the Commercial Fishing Boat Licenses and Commercial Fisherman's Licenses quotas for the current conservation year have been reached, then the Commission shall not issue any additional licenses except upon a public hearing after due notice to the public and persons interested under such rules and regulations as may be promulgated by the Commission. Within thirty (30) days after the effective date of this Act, the Commission shall determine the conservation quota for the period remaining until August 31, 1949, and shall issue licenses under such quota.

Section 4a. From and after the effective date of this Act all holders of present licenses shall be entitled to operate thereunder until September 1, 1949.

Section 5. After August 31, 1949, holders of prior licenses shall upon application made prior to September 1 of each year be entitled to a renewal thereof, and no new license shall be issued unless and until the holders of prior licenses who have applied for renewal licenses shall have been granted their licenses. Thereafter, new applicants who are resident citizens of Texas shall be given next priority in the order their applications were filed. In the event such applicant has not heretofore received for the current or prior year such license as applied for, or does not have the original or a duplicate thereof, such applicant shall make in writing, under oath, duly acknowledged in the State of Texas, an application addressed to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas giving in full detail information regarding the domicile, residence of the applicant, name, age, description, social security number, place of birth or naturalization; and if a resident of Texas, the date such residence was acquired and the place and state of former residence; whether or not the applicant has been convicted of violating the game and fish laws of the State of Texas, or of any other state or nation, and if so, the number, dates and places where convictions were had; and such other information as the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas shall require in order to determine the proper license and the rights of the applicant to receive or be denied such license or permit. The failure of any applicant to give all of the information required herein shall constitute grounds for the refusal of such permit, and it shall be mandatory upon the commission to refuse such permit. The making of any false statement shall constitute a felony, the crime of perjury punishable under the penal laws of this State, and shall be grounds for cancellation of any license issued under and by virtue of such application.

Section 6. It shall be unlawful for any commercial fisherman to take, catch, or assist in taking or catching any fish, shrimp, oysters or any other edible aquatic life, or for any commercial fishing boat to be used for such purposes within the tidal waters of this State, as herein defined, without fish having obtained the licenses here provided for.

Section 7. The owner of a Commercial Fishing Boat License whose licensed boat or vessel has been lost or destroyed due to fire or storm or abandonment of said vessel for commercial fishing purposes, may replace such boat by a boat of like size, or smaller size, without losing his license number for the year or his priority for future licenses.

Section 8. The Game, Fish and Oyster Commission shall have the power to formulate research programs in the making of its annual survey and to determine whether or not a public necessity exists for a change in the quota of licenses for any succeeding year.

Section 9. The Game, Fish and Oyster Commission shall have such powers and duties as are conferred upon it by this Act and by other laws of this State, and its findings and determination shall be subject to review by a court of competent jurisdiction. The orders of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission may be applied to a District Court of Travis County, Texas, and the trial therein shall be de novo the same as if such matter had been originally filed in such court. The Game, Fish and Oyster Commission shall have authority to promulgate rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this Act and to prescribe the time and place of its meetings and hearings and the procedure to govern same.

Section 10. Any person, corporation or association of persons failing to comply with, or who violates any provision of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars nor more than One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars, or imprisonment in jail of not less than one (1) month nor more than one (1) year, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and providing that the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, of Texas, or its authorized agent, shall have the power and right to seize and hold boats, nets, seines, trawls or other tackle in the possession of any violator or violators of this Act, as evidence until after trial of the defendant or defendants. Such violations also may be enjoined by the Attorney General by suit filed in a District Court of Travis County, Texas, which shall have venue for such action.

Section 11. All moneys collected under the provisions of this Act or because of fines paid for violation of the provisions of this Act shall be remitted to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas not later than the 10th day of the month following that collection, and shall be deposited by said Game, Fish and Oyster Commission of Texas in the State Treasury to the credit of the Special Game and Fish Fund.

Section 12. That Chapter 55 of the Acts of the 49th Legislature, 1945, page 78, and Chapter 59, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947, page 86, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act be, and they are hereby expressly repealed.

Section 13. If any section, or part whatsoever of this Act shall be held to be unconstitutional or invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining portions thereof; it being the express intention of the Legislature to enact such Act without respect to such section or part so held to be invalid.

Section 14. The fact that the present laws for the protection, preservation, and conservation of the State's fish resources in tidal waters are inadequate, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the Constitutional Rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each House be, and the same is hereby suspended; and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

NOTE: Senate Bill No. 4 was finally passed by the House and Senate and approved by the Governor on April 6, 1949. A very close study should be made of the provisions of this Act. The bill carries the emergency clause and is effective on and after April 6, 1949.

Fishermen Report Shrimp Scarce During March

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following are excerpts printed from the Seafood Business magazine relating to fishing news of the Rockport-Fulton Beach area:

Fish production was off in the Rockport-Fulton area during the first half of March, but some shrimp, mostly Brazilian, were being brought in. Bay shrimping was practically non-existent, with what few shrimp to be found too small for commercial use.

Freezing Oysters
 Coaker's Aquatic Foods introduced an innovation insofar as Texas is concerned, recently when it offered fresh frozen oysters to its market. The oysters are processed in the company's own plant and quick-frozen in the combination freezer and delivery truck operated by the company.

"Georgia C"
 The latest addition to the fleet fishing for Jackson Seafood Company is the 'Georgia C', owned by Robert Cole. The boat recently was overhauled preparatory to the opening of the spring season.

The leaning mast of the 'Bondage', owned by Delotte and John T. Wright and fishing for Johnson Fish Company, Inc., has created a lot of attention and speculation along the coast, and this is to report that the "leaning" idea on the mast is working out entirely satisfactory, according to the boat owners.

The mast leans at an angle of 20 degrees and carries the exhaust up through it.
 The Wright brothers reported catching some Brazilian shrimp but no catch during the current season has been worth shouting about, they emphasized.

Johnson Fish Company was getting practically no fish but a scattering of shrimp, mostly Brazilian, were being processed, according to T. J. Johnson.
 Rouquette and Wendell Seafood Company reported that oyster production was up and the supply on hand was ample. Demand, since the beginning of Lent, was good, according to Mrs. Alice DeForest, office manager.

The company recently completed installation of a new engine in the 'New Caledonia' and outfitted it with cable rigging. Charlie Hull is captain.
 The D & W Welding Company plant is now open and doing business with fishing boat operators. The new shop is adjacent to the

Delgado to Enter Regional Track Meet

Camillo Delgado placed second in the half mile run at the University Interscholastic League track meet held at Bishop last Thursday. A record time was set by the winner who ran the half mile in 2:09.2 minutes. Delgado made the run in 2:09.4 minutes. The old record was 2:11 minutes.

Delgado will enter the regional meet at Kingsville April 23.
 Jimmy Hayden placed fourth in the meet in shot put. Zade Jones took fourth place in the junior high school jump division and Glen Owens won his heat in the 100 and 220 yard-dash preliminaries.

CAPITOL TALK

By Nell Churchwell
 One of the most favorable legislative boosts for rural areas that has passed this session is the Farm-to-Market Road bill, co-authored by Senator John J. Bell of Cuero.

Aimed toward improving the system of rural roads on county-to-county basis, this bill will go into effect this September. Appropriations of $1,250,000 will be made each month. Allocation of funds will be made by the State Highway Department after consulting each county commissioners court to find out where improvements are needed most.

Farm-to-market roads are defined as feeder roads, secondary roads, and school bus, milk, and rural mail routes.

A halt was called by the Senate Finance Committee on approving any more appropriation bills except those whose passage will guarantee continued state operations for the next two years. The House Appropriations Committee Thursday voted to wait three weeks before approving any more money bills.

Most of the controversy over spending stems from the bitter Gilmer-Aiken school bill debate. No one seems to know what the plan will cost the state and there isn't time enough to determine a good estimate before this session ends.

The Senate floor and galleries were cleared all day Friday as workers were making roof repairs over the sky light panes that cover the Senate ceiling. Fans are being installed for air cooling purposes in anticipation of some hot summer weather before the session ends.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

There'll Always Be a "Gawker"
 "Harry the Hermit," as he's called, came into town last week and, as usual, caused quite a stir. He looks like a cross between Santa Claus and Daniel Boone.
 We had a friendly glass of beer together and I asks him, "Don't you ever get annoyed at the way some people laugh and stare as you go by?" "Shucks no," Harry says. "Only while they're laughin' at me, I'm feelin' a mite sorry for them. Imagine—folks so ungrateful they can't see I'm really just the same as they are underneath."
 From where I sit, Harry's a lot more "civilized" than the people who make fun of him. He's contented, lives the way he believes is right without harming anyone—and what's more, he's tolerant of others whose tastes in living are different from his.
 Maybe we all don't look the same, or act the same, or eat or drink the same, but in a free country, why should we?

WHAT DO THEY SAY ABOUT YOU as the "other woman" on the party line?

 Do they say you space your calls to give others a chance at the line?
 Do they say you hang up quickly when the line is in use?
 Do they say your children use the telephone correctly, and considerately?
 If they do, you are a good party-line neighbor.
