Stewart-Wendell Post VFW To Award Valuable Building Site

At a drawing to be held July 4th in Rockport, the local Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars will award to some fortunate person, a clear title to three choice lots in the City of Rockport.

Holder of the winning ticket need not be present at time of drawing as all tickets sold will show the name, address and phone number of the purchaser. The winner will be notified immediately after the drawing.

Lots to be awarded are those originally purchased by the Post for a building site. Later, an opportunity arose to buy a meeting place already built and the first site was not needed. It was then decided that disposal of these lots would help retire the lien on their new home, and all money received from the sale of tickets is to be used for that purpose.

Cleanliness and sanitation key note the design. Stainless stee baked enamel machinery and equipment afford surfaces which maintain their beauty for many years under the stress of constant steam cleaning and sterili zation.

The huge garage section which houses more than 30 trucks is designed for cleanliness and beauty. The design of each of the trucks permits daily steam cleaning before the fresh bread is loaded for delivery to the grocery. Spacious offices are beautifully decorated in modern pastel colors, and artistic landscaping blends a beautiful building, its garages and grounds into a unified design which is a credit to Corpus Christi business. It wasn't long ago, 1936, in fact, that the three Lee brothers. Woody, Wade and Grady and brother-in-law L. K. Dickerson soaked their meager savings into a depreciated baking plant in Victoria, Texas.

With $28 invested in newspaper advertising, small change in the till, and a huge indebtedness over their heads, they opened their doors for business.

"Our only policy was to make 0.00 00.00Holsum bread a masterpiece of baking art. We did . . . and it 1.32 paid off," Woody Lee said. "Even through the lean years
