OLD PAUL HOME AT LAMAR BURNS

The old six-room house known as the Paul Home, in Lamar, burned one day last week.

This old house was built in 1852, oyster shell dug from the banks of Goose Island Park, and four of the rooms had concrete fire-

The cement used in this house was made by burning oyster shell in a deep pit on top of oak logs for about a week, which turned the shell into a beautiful white lime, and was mixed with water and sand to make the cement used in the house.

This house was purchased from the O'Connors by J. M. Brundrett and several of his children were born in it, among them Manch Brundrett and Mrs. Paul.

Mr. Brundrett moved away and Mr. and Mrs. Paul and their two sons moved into the house and it became known as the Paul home.

Mrs. Manch Brundrett, Mrs. J. A. Brundrett and Preston Paul owned the house at the time it burned.

What price good news? So often it's the price of a telephone call . . . and that means just a few pennies.

Worth more? Of course. Many telephone calls are practically priceless in their value to you.

And yet the average cost of each local call, including tax, is only about 21/2¢. Can you think of a better bargain?

he kind of cold you can count on ... cold that gives you SAFE food protection. Of course, it's electric. BECAUSE it's electric, it has the EXTRA freezing capacity necessary to make and hold low temperatures even in the hottest South Texas weather. An electric refrigerator is planned for your convenience and health protection.

With electric refrigeration vegetables stay fresh and vitamin-sealed; milk and other beverages keep safe from spoilage; frozen foods store safely...that's what you want and what you get with modern, low-cost electric refrigeration.

The investment cost is low. You can get an eight-cubic-foot electric for less than $250 and operate it for an average of less than three cents a day. That's little to pay to protect your family's health. Refrigerate the modern, safe way with lowcost electricity.

> See your dealer about a modern, electric refrigerator right away. Whatever make you choose, make sure it's electric.
