Colonel and Mrs. Wilson Hawkins with their three children, are visiting with Mrs. Hawkins' parents, Colonel and Mrs. Paul Stewart at their South Beach cottage in Rockport. In August the Hawkins family will leave for Germany where Colonel Hawkins will command a 2nd Armored Division unit. Others guests at the Stewart cottage were Col. and Mrs. Pinther, Col. and Mrs. Gould and daughter Leslie, Mrs. Claere Savage and Col. and Mrs. Christophel and daughter, Joan, all of San Antonio.

The first written record of the existence of a printer in Europe was in a court paper. A goldsmith, John Fust, sued Gutenberg in 1440 for money advanced and not repaid. The first book to be printed in the Western Hemisphere came off the press in Mexico City in 1544.

EL RIO BRAVO DEL NORTE

Pineda and his men called it El Rio de las Palmas. Later Spaniards named it El Rio Bravo del Norte — the Mighty River of the North — but finally it was known simply as the Rio Grande — the Great River.

Emptying into the Gulf of Mexico at the southern tip of Texas, it is one of history's highways.

Along its length were built the towns and villages of the Indians who first inhabited the country. At its mouth, Pineda, fleeing from the wrath of Cortez, careened his caravels. On its banks Conquistadores established their settlements and up its lower reaches chugged tiny steamboats carrying Zachary Taylor and his men to the Mexican War.

Its name testifies to its regional importance and its hold on the imaginations of men for, except for its length, it is not a great river in any sense of the words.

Sometimes, worn thin by drought and bled dry by irrigation, it is no river at all, but only a glaring strip of sand, baking in the South Texas sun.

Again, in times of flood, it becomes an angry torrent, laden with silt, lifting a raging crest red with the top soil of two countries and devouring its own banks—earth, trees, houses, and farms—in a mad effort to carry away the continent and dump it into the sea.

In the beginning, it was a river unfriendly to man and only in recent years—with untold labor—has he bridled and harnessed it.

Except for a short distance from the sea, it was never navigable.

It is a hard river to bridge and dangerous to ford, even at low water. Its quicksands have swallowed horses, wagons, cattle, sheep, and people.

For hundreds of miles, from Presidio del Norte to the eastern edge of the Big Bend, it roars through the bottoms of canyons, swirling over its rocky bed in sullen surges, so far down it can hardly be reached, much less converted to the puny purposes of men.

As it emerges into the flat lands, the river writhes from side to side in great, looping bends, crawling through a broad valley where crops have been grown for a thousand years.

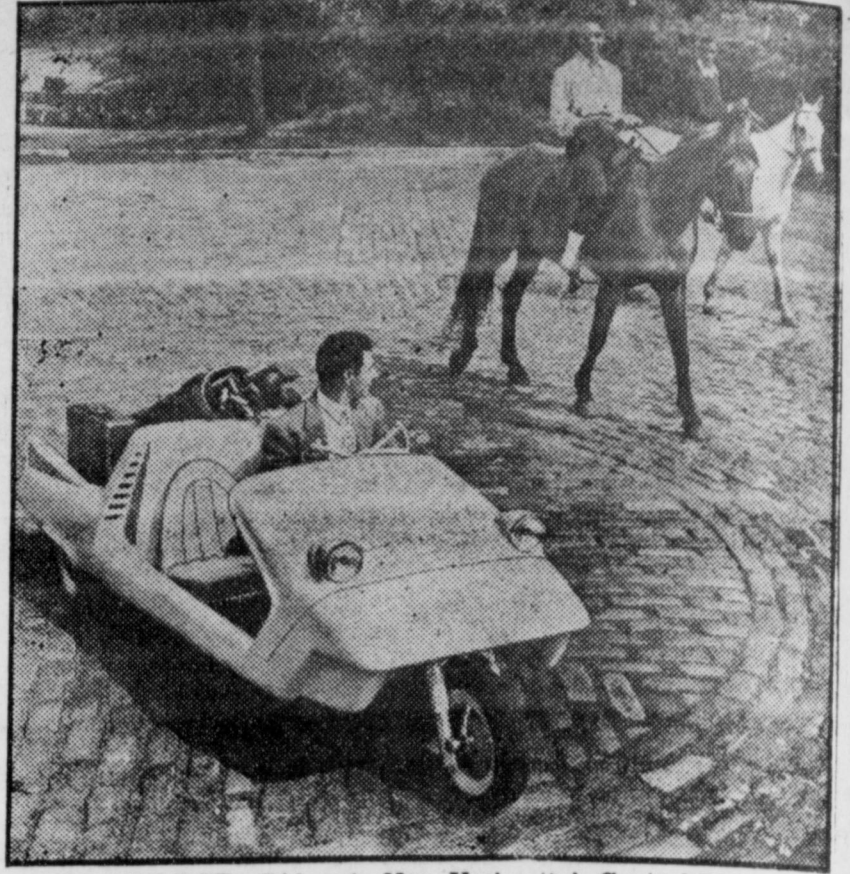

In the upper portion of the basin, from the Big Bend to Falcon Dam, river towns on the American side lie far apart, and the stream meanders along between them and their Mexican counterparts, where life proceeds much as it did in the last century. Farther down, in that part which its inhabitants like to call the Magic Valley, they are as close as beads on a string, forming one forty-mile-long, bustling Main Street from Mission to Brownsville.

This valley of the Great River lies on the borderline between the temperate zone and the tropics. Plants, trees, birds, animals, and fishes of the two zones meet here and mingle.

In the ranching country steep arroyos plunge down to the stream, choked with chaparral and studded with prickly pear and Spanish dagger. In these thorny, arid jungles roam sly bobcats, lithe jaguarundis, and spotted ocelots. Ring-tailed cats den among the rocky ledges; javelinas scutter through the brush like gray wisps of smoke, and there are even occasional mountain lions, bears, and jaguars that have drifted into the thickets from wilder country below the border.

In the irrigated lands of the lower valley, whitewinged doves, green jays, parauques, and graceful grackles are year-round residents, but the great flocks of ducks and geese that inhabit the salt water bays of the coast are only visitors, down to spend the winter.

Robalo, silvery scappers from Central American coasts, come as far north as the mouth of the river; not far south of its parrots

GET A HORSE—Riders in New York City's Central Park give the horse a ride in a three-wheeled utility car. Named the "Star," the tiny vehicle has a streamlined body of molded fiberglass and a one-cylinder German J.L.O. engine. The car has a maximum speed of 70 miles per hour, and is said to get 80 miles to the gallon. Less than three feet high, the Star is 10 feet, five inches long, 50 inches wide, and weighs only 400 pounds. The vehicle was designed for Basson Industries Corp.

wing their way in pairs and even-numbered flocks, gossiping among themselves like noisy old women.

The last grove of native palms in America stands on the Rabb plantation, just below Brownsville, a monument to the forests after which Pineda named the stream, but practically everything else has changed—at least in the Valley. Girls in shorts fish for tarpon at the river's mouth; citrus groves and cotton fields line its lower reaches; and Brahmins have replaced longhorns along its banks, but the stream's attractions are still infinite in their variety.

Whether you want to hunt javelinas, watch the quarter horses run, study Indians and ancient ruins, play with a captive armadillo—or simply sit in a Mexican cafe, eat tamales, and listen to La Paloma, you can find your heart's desire somewhere along El Rio Grande del Norte—the Great River.

Unlike the Atlantic salmon, which enters the fresh water streams to spawn and then returns to the sea, the Pacific species spawn in fresh water and then die.

CP & L Receives National Safety Council Award

Central Power and Light Company has been awarded the National Safety Council's Award of Merit for an outstanding safety record compiled during 1955.

In a letter of congratulations to Roy D. Hunter, CPL's assistant safety director, Council President Ned H. Dearborn explained that the company qualified for the award because of its low injury rates during the past year.

He said CPL made a "noteworthy safety performance" in lowering the company's frequency and severity rates the required percentage over average injury rates for the previous three years. The CPL injury frequency rate was 50 percent better than the safety council's "par" rate, and the injury severity rate was 13 percent better. The par rates are computed by the National Safety Council from the company's accident experience in other years and from rates of the industry classification to which the company belongs.

Dearborn indicated that of 269 electrical utility safety records evaluated by the council in its 1954 award year, only 1 qualified for the Award of Merit.

Yard Lights make outdoor living fun

Something wonderful is happening on lawns all over South Texas - lights are going on when the sun goes down, and people are enjoying more hours of every day! Whatever your pleasure - croquet, barbecues, parties, even gardening - you can have fun outdoors after dark.

There's a world of enjoyment under the stars these cool summer evenings - and there's a proper outdoor light for every purpose. Fixed and portable floodlights provide plenty of light for games and parties. Decorative lights accent the beauty of your lawn, shrubbery and patio.

A well-lighted yard is safer, too. It discourages prowlers and helps prevent accidents. See your dealer and light up for better outdoor living!

Outdoor cooking is easily lighted with a single flood light mounted on a spiked extension pole. Wiring can be run underground in a cable, or simply plugged into a weather-proof outlet.

Games of all kinds are lighted in a similar manner, with single or triple flood lights to cover various sized areas. Extension poles can be raised or lowered for different activities.

Lawn parties are delightful with the proper light level from garden lamps like these. The same lamps can illuminate your favorite garden areas and create a beautiful background.

"KEEP OUR SCHOOL LANDS IN DEPENDABLE HANDS"

(Pol. Adv. Paid for by Earl Rudder)

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Keep The Change"

If you've seen "Mac" Johnson this week, chances are he's told you his waitress story. For those who haven't heard: "Mac" recently stopped at an out-of-town diner. He ordered the chef's special - and his waitress (brand new on the job) made every possible mistake. She confused the order, spilled the soup, dropped the rolls, brought him a wrong dessert. Despite it all, "Mac" left a substantial tip. But she smiled and handed the money back. "Keep it, Mister - you've sure earned it more than I have," she said. From where I sit, that girl deserves credit for admitting her shortcomings - something not everyone is big enough to do. For instance, I'm convinced lots of folks know they're wrong when they deny me the right to a glass of beer with my supper... just because they happen to prefer some other beverage. They wouldn't like me ordering them to accept my choice.

JOHN BELL'S Record of Constructive Accomplishment For the 14th District . . .

CORPUS CHRISTI HIGH LEVEL BRIDGE: As your congressman, JOHN BELL obtained a $2,000,000 federal appropriation for this vital project and opened the way for still more federal aid.

CANYON DAM: As your congressman, JOHN BELL obtained a $2,000,000 initial appropriation to start construction of a huge water reservoir on the Guadalupe River near New Braunfels. Too, JOHN BELL actively fought San Antonio's efforts to take 100,000 acre feet of water a year from the Canyon Reservoir.

KINGSVILLE-ALICE-ORANGE GROVE MILITARY EXPANSION: As your congressman, JOHN BELL obtained $2,610,000 to enlarge the Kingsville Naval Auxiliary Air Station, and $2,242,000 for improvements at the Alice-Orange Grove Naval auxiliary landing field.

ROCKPORT-ARANSAS PASS CHANNEL: As your congressman, JOHN BELL obtained a $31,000 appropriation for planning and design of the long-discussed Intracoastal Canal "short cut" from Rockport to Aransas Pass.

CHASE FIELD EXPANSION: As your congressman, JOHN BELL obtained $2,247,000 for expansion of Chase Field at Beeville.

ROCKPORT AND RIVIERA RADAR STATIONS: As your congressman, JOHN BELL obtained $1,000,000 in federal funds for air radar station construction at Rockport and Riviera.

CONN BROWN HARBOR EXPANSION: As your congressman, JOHN BELL obtained $38,000 to widen and deepen Conn Brown Harbor, and for improvement of the channel leading to the Intracoastal Canal and Corpus Christi's deep water channel near Port Aransas.

LA QUINTA CHANNEL EXPANSION: As your congressman, JOHN BELL obtained $500,000 for improvement of the La Quinta Channel, which serves Corpus Christi Bay's fast - developing north shore.

ESCONDIDO CREEK: As your congressman, JOHN BELL secured a $36,000 appropriation for advance planning on the Escondido Creek project at Kenedy.

GONZALES DAM: As your congressman, JOHN BELL assisted in obtaining $800,000 to widen and deepen the San Antonio River in Bexar County. This project, although outside the 14th Congressional District, is the first step in the development of the entire San Antonio River basin and the construction of a dam on the San Marcos River near Gonzales.

REFUGIO POST OFFICE: As your congressman, JOHN BELL secured for Refugio one of the first two lease-purchase post offices to be constructed in Texas.

JOHN BELL's record as your Congressman is a record of area progress in action. The federal projects which he has initiated are vital projects—and they are projects which demand constant and continuing attention and support in our national capital. We can assure that attention and support by keeping JOHN BELL as our Congressman. We know JOHN BELL can get the job done because he has proved his ability. And we know JOHN BELL will get the job done because he is the kind of man who stays on a job until it is finished.

JOHN BELL stayed on the job in Washington

In the face of an unjustified and prolonged harassing of a type seldom witnessed before in Texas, JOHN BELL—as always—placed his responsibility to the people who chose him for high public office ahead of everything else.

Lesser men might have neglected that responsibility to defend themselves and serve their own purpose.

But not JOHN BELL.

Knowing the fairness of the people of the Fourteenth Congressional District, he stayed on the job in Washington. His record of constructive accomplishment for our nation, our state, and our district is one of the finest ever recorded by a first-term Congressman.

Now, JOHN BELL—who refused to put politics ahead of public service—stands before you for re-election in the Democratic primary July 28. His judgment has been tested and proven sound. His ability to get the job done for South Texas in our national capital is an established fact.

Here is a man who was willing to risk his own career as a public official because of his deep sense of responsibility to all of the people of our 19-county area. Here is a man who believed in our fairness—and asked nothing more. Here is a man of principle and ability—and we need to keep him working for us as our Congressman . . .

pearance. Often it is a sort of thin, dangling rope, sometimes it resembles a gigantic elephant's trunk, and occasionally it looks like a fairly wide and solid-looking funnel.

Ragged parts of clouds may sometimes extend toward the ground and be shaped like funnels. They are not tornadoes unless they have a rapidly spinning motion.

In reporting a tornado, always mention whether or not there is any lightning or thunder in the area, and whether or not hail falls.

Mozeney urged the reporting of all tornadoes seen. The report should be telephoned just as soon as a tornado is identified as such to the U. S. Weather Bureau at Corpus Christi.

"Inform the telephone operator that your call has a priority rating," he added. "It is essential that your report should arrive at the collection point in the shortest possible time after the observation has been made."

The reports should be brief, giving location, as so many miles from a town by name, the time observed, the intensity, and speed and direction.

Report Tornadoes Says Mozeney Of Weather Bureau

The most favorable time of day for tornadoes is midafternoon to early evening, and they generally occur during the spring and summer months, warned Russell P. Mozeney, meteorologist for the U. S. Weather Bureau at Corpus Christi, on his recent visit to Rockport.

Mozeney requested that certain basic information be given concerning the twisters, since the Gulf Coast area is most subject to them—especially in Texas—of any portion of the United States.

"There is no universal protection against tornadoes, except caves or underground excavations," he said.

"There are, however, a number of precautions that can be taken when a tornado is seen, or is known to be approaching."

He outlined these as follows:

People in open country can view the approach of a tornado and move at right angles to its path. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine.

In towns or cities, seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. Stay away from windows.

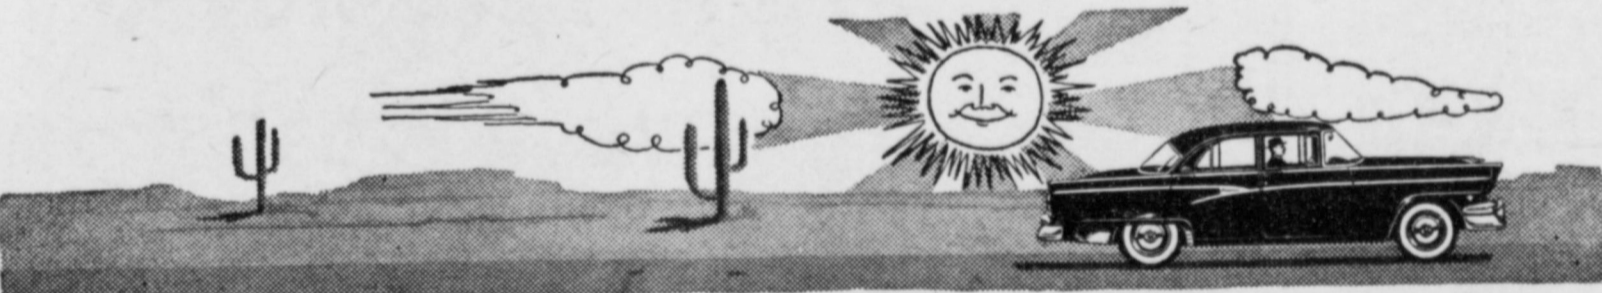

The southwest corner of the basement of a frame house is safer than in a brick or stone house. If there is no basement, lying down on the first floor under a table or bed (preferably located in the southwest corner of the frame house) may offer some protection.

Tornadoes, Mozeney said, may be recognized as follows: Tornado weather may be described as sticky, sultry, and oppressive, with generally southerly winds. An hour or two before the tornado, there typically appears a chaotic, ragged sky of clouds which crazily bulge down instead of up. To the west and northwest, great thunderstorms appear to be approaching. The towering thunderclouds have an ominous appearance—the color is often described as a sickly greenish-black, and the lower clouds are generally visible in rapid and confused motion.

Then, out of the base of this dark thundercloud, a rope-like funnel cloud reaches towards the earth, spinning counter-clockwise. The funnel varies greatly in ap-

CP & L Will Construct New Valley Power Plant

The new Central Power and Light Company power plant to be built in the Rio Grande Valley will be named the J. L. Bates Power Station in honor of the company's president, CPL officials announced today.

Action to name the plant for Mr. Bates was taken by the company's board of directors in the form of a special resolution. Bates has been president of Central Power and Light Company since September, 1954, and was previously vice president and general manager of the company for 14 years.

The new $7,000,000 power plant will be located about four miles west of Mission and will have an initial generating capability of 66,000 kilowatts or 88,000 horsepower. Actual construction work will begin in January, 1957, with the plant scheduled to begin operation in April, 1958.

All major equipment for the new power station has been on order since late 1955 and preliminary engineering work on the project has been underway since that time.

The company will solicit bids for the construction contracts in September or October.

With the completion of the new plant, CPL will be able to supply 597,000 kilowatts of electricity, more than five times as much as 10 years ago. Highest customer demand to date has been 417,100 kilowatts, but CPL engineers foresee a continued growth in the use of electricity in the future.

Employment Hits All-time Record

Washington, D. C. — The government reported today that more Americans held jobs in June—65,503,000 of them—than ever before.

Only three times in the past has the national employment figure gone past 65 million—last August, when the previous record was set with 65,448,000; last October, with 65,161,000, and May of this year, with 65,238,000.

Today's report, by the Commerce and Labor departments, carried through June 16. It did not reflect the results of the steel strike which began June 30.

The departments said that while the number of jobs was going up, unemployment increased by 300,000 in June to 2,900,000. They said both gains, in employment and unemployment, were largely due to students and graduates joining the labor force.

The unemployment total has not shown much change from month to month.

The report also said that average weekly earnings in manufacturing and other industries rose $1 in June to $79.40, a record for the month. The average working week was 40.1 hours in June, up one-tenth of an hour over May and down six-tenths of an hour from June a year ago.

Over the year, weekly pay was shown to have gone up an average of $3.29, with most groups reporting some increase. The largest increase was $7.64 in ordinance, followed by $5.25 in the food industry. Weekly average gains of more than $4 were shown for primary metals, machinery, tobacco and petroleum. In the rubber industry, average weekly hours were down more than three hours and weekly earnings dropped.

Manufacturing showed a less than seasonal gain in employment to a total of 17,757,000 in June. The report blamed this on layoffs in automobile plants and related industries such as fabricated steel, machinery and rubber.

There was an increase of 535,000 in employment in June as compared with May in nonfarm activities. Agricultural activities, which normally go up more, increased the number of farm jobs by 730,000.

There were significant increases in construction work, services, transportation and public utilities.

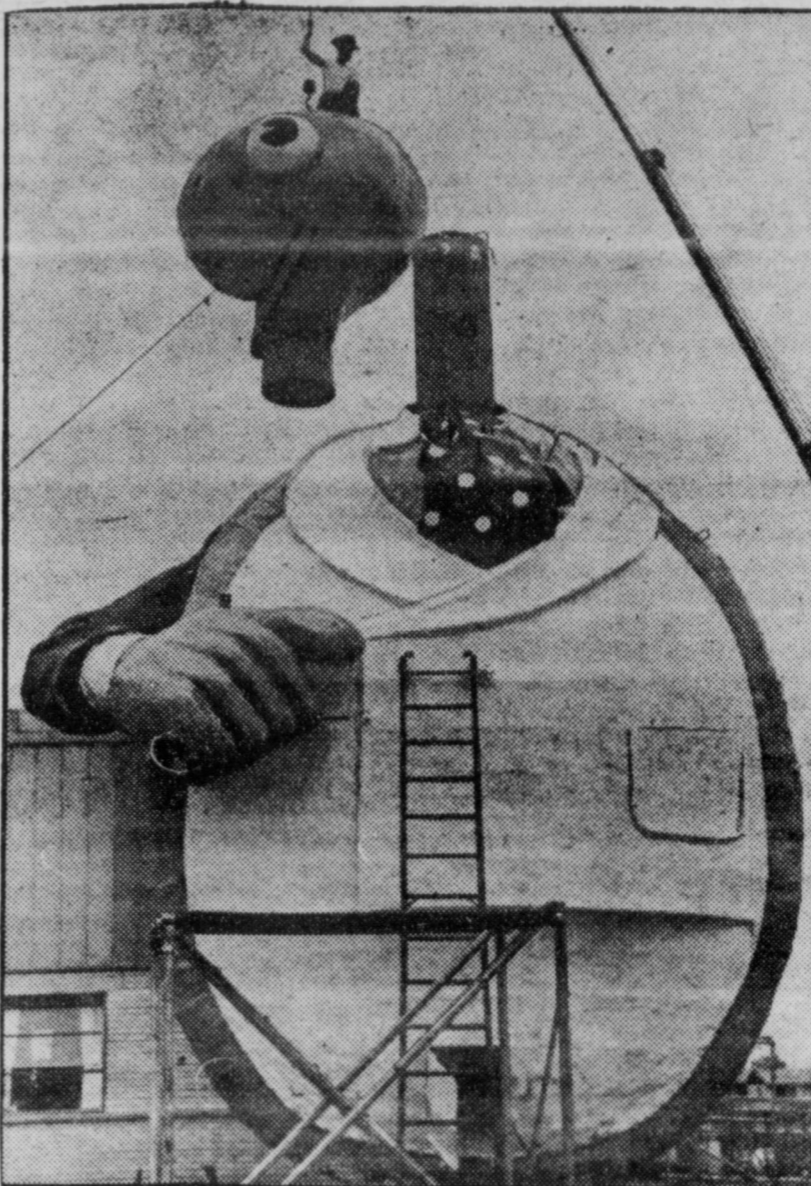

Contract and construction job-holders numbered 3,235,000 last month for a record. Records also were reported in the 2,326,000 employed in finance, insurance and real estate, and 6,084,000 in service activities.

Trade employment totaling 11 million and government job holders, federal, state and local, totaling 7,138,000 were new highs for the month of June but were down slightly from May.

The names of British Admirals have been given to one state, one mountain, and one estate in the United States. These are: Pennsylvania, which was named by William Penn for his father (who was an admiral); Mount Hood; and Mountain Vernon.

The three-and-a-half-story figure's back will change colors, depending upon the weather. It weighs 15,000 pounds and cost $200,000 to build. The turtle will rotate atop Chicago's 10-story Flatiron building, with each of its three sides showing the time and weather forecast to passing motorists.

Two Army Units Scheduled for Future Service in Europe

Two Army "Gyroscope" units, scheduled for future service in Europe, will accept direct enlistments of young men from this area who have not had prior military service. It was announced by M/Sgt. Treadwell.

The 498th Engineer Battalion, now stationed at Fort Ord, Calif., and the 534th Field Artillery Battalion, now at Fort Sill, Okla., are the new "Gyroscope" units named under the Army's rotation plan of replacing units overseas with like units from the United States.

Departure date for the 534th Field Artillery Battalion will be February 1957, when it replaces the 290th Field Artillery Battalion in Europe. In April 1957, the 498th Engineer Battalion will fill the vacancy of the 54th Engineer Battalion.

"This is an excellent opportunity to see Europe and choose your branch of service, as well as being assured of serving in the same unit with friends and buddies throughout a complete enlistment," M/Sgt. Treadwell pointed out.

Applications for enlistment in the 534th Field Artillery Battalion must be completed before July 15, while openings in the 498th Engineer Battalion will be accepted until September 15.

Additional information regarding this choice of Army service may be obtained at the Refugio Post Office every 1st and 3rd Monday from M/Sgt. Treadwell, your Army Recruiter.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE 180 YEARS OLD

What do we mean when we say that in the United States we have a "government of law" and not a "government of men"? Basically we mean that we have certain individual rights, guaranteed by our federal and state constitutions and laws, which may not be denied by any governing body.

The early American colonists had their fill of government by men, and the Declaration of Independence, signed 180 years ago, set out their complaint against that type of government and revealed their belief in a principle which we now accept as basic to our American way of life.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charged him with numerous violations of that principle. Among the complaints enumerated are the following:

"He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: . . . For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences; . . . For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; . . . For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever."

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in

Jaycees Say This Is Your Big Chance

The Aransas County Jaycees say this is your big chance to do an important job for your country, your community, your family, and yourself; they refer to your participation in informing yourself and voting in the coming July and November elections.

Americans, an awakened outpouring of more than 62,000,000 men and women thronged to the polls in 1952 in an inspiring demonstration of lively, responsible citizenship. It was record breaking; the biggest election in American history. But good as it was; 63 per cent of the adult population voted, it was not good enough.

Fewer than 44,450,000 Americans bothered to vote in the important congressional elections of 1954; less than 52 per cent of American adults. Still worse is our performance in local, municipal, and state elections where only 25 per cent or less of the voters turn out.

That's why we must put on the Biggest Show in America's History this election year.

Both Methodist Teams Win in Church League

By PORT BAUGHMAN

Church League action Friday night saw two exciting games played. In the first, the Presbyterian Juniors, behind the 2-hit pitching of Danny Kelly, racked up a 15-2 victory over the Methodist Juniors. Tommy McCabe led a parade of Presbyterian hitters with a home run, a triple and a single to account for 4 runs. Everett and Galinda collected the two Methodist hits. In gaining the win Kelly struck out 12 and walked 5.

The Senior game saw another outstanding mound performance, this time by Adams the hurler for the Methodist team. Allowing only two hits and striking out 14, he handcuffed the Catholic Seniors for 6 innings to gain a 12-4 victory, his second of the season. The big Methodist team continued their hitting spree begun last week as they collected 9 hits. Heldenfels, M. Townsend and V. Torres Boy Scout Troops of the Mustang Scout District are doing advance planning for 1957, it was announced today by E. Chas. Lewis, Sinton, District Commissioner. He reported that 9 Scout Troops have already made reservations for the Summer Camp season of 1957.

Troops already making reservations are Troop 36, Troop 282, Troop 97 and Troop 31 all of Sinton, Troops 69 and 72 of Refugio, Troop 35 of Odom, Troop 38 of Mathis, and Troop 26 of Ingleside. All of these units have made their reservation for the week of June

Lewis added that many units are making their reservations this far in advance so as not to conflict with parents' vacations or other plans. Units wishing to make reservations for next year are asked to contact Lewis in Sinton or T. E. Newton in Taft. Lewis also announced that 7 reservations have been received for the National Jamboree to be held in Valley Forge, Pa., in July of next year.

Miss Jeannie Diederich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Diederich, visited a week in Bay City with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mayer and family.
