MAKE LIKE A SNAKE—Sandy dust from the training area of Fort Ord, Calif., combines with barbed wire hazards for this basic trainee of the Fifth Infantry Division. He's especially serious about it because he knows he'll soon be facing the infiltration course under live machine-gun fire and that his company is due later to join the Tenth Infantry Division on guard in Germany.

Rockport Included In Eight-County Library Planning

The Coastal Bend Library Association has prepared a tentative plan for bettering library facilities in eight South Texas counties, according to R. L. Peterson, of the Nueces County Library at Robstown, and this plan has been presented to Witt B. Harwell, state librarian.

Rockport is included in the plan, for the Association is composed of librarians and friends of libraries in Aransas, Bee, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Live Oak, Nueces, Refugio and San Patricio counties.

"In this area," Peterson said, "the condition of libraries now operating ranges from a city system such as that in Corpus Christi, to a single, small library in Aransas County, which receives no tax support."

"Not a single library in the entire region even approaches the minimum standards of adequate library service as defined by the American Library Association," said Mrs. Phyllis Burson, librarian in charge of La Retama, at Corpus Christi, when she was contacted in regard to the Association's action.

To remedy this, the Coastal Bend group proposes establishment of a Co-operative Regional Library System, using Federal funds and having a full time director in the area. Headquarters would probably be at La Retama, because of its central location and fine reference section.

Under the co-operative set-up (continued on page 8)

The 16 lots in Unit No. 1 of the Tule subdivision of Little Bay Shores were sold so rapidly that the developers have decided to open another 55-lot unit, to be known as Tule Subdivision Number 2, and a plat of this was approved by the Commissioners' Court at their regular meeting on Tuesday.

To serve this unit, County Surveyor James A. Jarboe said, Colorado Street, in the Denver Heights Addition, will be opened to the eastward, through the Tule Unit, and from Colorado Street south another street will run parallel to Highway 35.

Expedition De La Cosa Winds Up Nineteen Hard Days At Sea, Six Years of Research, And $750,000

Expedition de la Cosa wound up a lot of things here yesterday, when the Neva J. of the Jackson Seafood fleet docked after nineteen hard days at sea. The trip was ended; six years of field work on marine sediments were completed; and $750,000 bucks were also finished.

The expedition — named after one of Columbus' cartographers — consisted of six scientists from Scripps Institute of Oceanography, at La Jolla, California, and several tons of gear developed for sub-sea geological exploration.

The marine part of the project, consisting of Joseph Curray, research biologist, Robert Parker, research biologist, Dr. Paul Miller, of the Tulsa office of the Carter Oil Company, and Terence Leary, of the marine laboratory here, left Rockport on April 11, aboard the big gulf trawler, for a trip crisscrossing the continental shelf, taking geological samples and cores.

From Rockport the expedition worked northward to Pass Cavallo and then to the mouth of the Brazos, and from the Brazos followed a course offshore to Heald Bank.

Captain W. A. Jones, who formed a portion of the nautical end of the expedition, along with Captain Art Lindquist, said that from Heald Bank the course was laid offshore and back to Trinity Shoals, between Cameron and Morgan City, Louisiana, and from there to Ship Shoal Light at the mouth of the Mississippi.

Leaving Ship Shoal, the Neva J. and her crew ran up the river to Venice, where they took on water and supplies, and then headed out for the offshore buoy on Ship Shoal. From there, they went inshore and west, finally winding (continued on page 8)

Plats of Tule Subdivision No. 1 and of Tule Subdivision No. 2, in Little Bay Shores, were approved by the Court when presented by James A. Jarboe, County Surveyor.

However, after due discussion of subdivisions and the laying out of streets, it was moved by Commissioner W. B. Allen that the Commissioners' Court, after this date, will no longer approve such plats for record, unless property has been subdivided on the ground, with all streets first being built and adequately shelled or hard surfaced.

The matter of entering into any contract on a long range planning program for Aransas County was discussed, and upon motion by Commissioner Mills the matter was dismissed for the present time.

Mosquito Problem Tough Says Judge

Control of the Pests Presents Tough Problem, Judge Wendell Says, Lack of Understanding on the Part of Some People in the Area Makes it Tougher

"Mosquito control in the area presents a tough problem", said Judge John D. Wendell Wednesday, "and lack of understanding on the part of some people in the area makes it an even tougher one."

"All the mixtures used in the spray machine have been scientifically calculated by the State Health Department, after a great deal of research. The idea behind the application is that a certain concentration per acre must be laid down, or the mosquitoes will live and flourish."

"To get this concentration, the mixture in the sprayer can be mixed in several ways. If the sprayer travels at two miles an hour, for instance, it will use a certain amount of insecticide and give you that concentration, but if the sprayer is driven twice as fast, the concentration of insecticides in the mixture must be heavier to do the same job, for the jeep is traveling faster for the amount of liquid put out."

"This insecticide is made up of a number of things. The base ordinarily is DDT and Clordane, both of them poisonous to human (Continued on page 8)

Funeral Services For Judge Gayle Held In Beeville

Veteran Jurist Served 23 Years In 36th District

Funeral services for Judge W. G. Gayle, 71, who died at 6:10 a. m. Wednesday were held at 3 p. m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church in Beeville.

The Rev. E. Y. Seale, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. W. C. Binford, pastor of Friendship Baptist Church near Beeville. Burial was in Glenwood Cemetery under the direction of Galloway-Wilson Funeral Home.

Gayle, district judge of the 36th District Court for the past 23 years, had a stroke last Friday night. He was attending his 41st wedding anniversary celebration at the home of a daughter in Tuleta.

Before serving on the bench, Gayle was district attorney for the 36th District for eight years. He was formerly county attorney of Bee County and city attorney for Beeville.

He had lived there since his graduation from the University of Texas Law School in 1911. He was a past master of the Beeville Masonic Lodge 261, and a member of the board of trustees of the First Methodist Church and the Woodmen of the World.

Before entering law school he was a teacher and superintendent of Tilden schools.

Surviving are his wife, Lillian; two daughters, Mrs. Vincent S. Seger of Beeville and Mrs. John Matthews, Jr., of Tuleta; two sons, W. G. Jr., and Robert Hodges Gayle, both of Beeville; three brothers, B. B. and John Gayle, both of San Antonio, and Herman Gayle of Mirando City; three sisters, Mrs. Hugh Stanfield, Mrs. Colbie Stanfield, and Mrs. Dick DeVilbiss, all of San Antonio, and five grandchildren.

Beeville Masonic Lodge No. 261 conducted rites at the graveside.

New Electronic Cooking Center To Be Demonstrated

Two billion, four hundred million cycles per second amplified from the regular sixty cycle electric current that is wired into all homes in Rockport is what cooks the food in the new Electronic Cooking Center, which will be demonstrated at the Rockport Electric Company show room next week, Wednesday thru Saturday noon. The electric current from a regular range receptacle is thus amplified by radio type vacuum tubes, these waves pass thru such materials as glass, paper, china, cloth and wood without noticeable effect. They are absorbed by food and the resistance which the food offers to these micro-waves generate the heat which cooks the food. Metal reflects these waves, therefore foods cook from all sides at the same time. The operation of the Electronic range is as safe and simple to operate as any electrical kitchen appliance. The advantage of this type of cooking show the greatest advance in efficiency since stoves replaced the open fire. No appreciable heat escapes into the kitchen and the use of pots and pans and the attendant cleaning is eliminated. The rapidity of cooking (5 to 10 times that of ordinary methods) prevents excessive shrinkage of meats; retains up to 17% more vitamins and 1/2 more healthful minerals and amino acids; vegetables appear more natural, baked foods are lighter and meats more tender.

Phone Numbers To Be Changed

Plans are being made for Rockport to join the nationwide long distance dialing network about mid-summer, Stan Bell, district manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, has announced.

The change-over will enable Rockport telephone users to get the additional service improvements of operator long distance dialing direct from distant telephones, plus the Metropolitan Numbering Plan, Bell said.

The metropolitan plan will mean that all Rockport telephone numbers will be changed to include two letters and five digits. The prefix to be used in Rockport will be "Southfield 4", the telephone company officials explained.

After the change-over to the "2-5 plan," long distance operators will be able to dial Rockport telephones direct from throughout the nation. It will mean great improvement in the speed of calls, Bell said.

"When the change is made, it will take seven pulls of the dial to complete your call," Bell said. "For example, to call Southfield 4-3499, you will dial S-O-4-3-4-9-9."

A new edition of the Rockport telephone directory — listing all the new numbers — will be delivered before the change-over to the Metropolitan plan.

Bell said it was not possible at this time to give customers their new numbers, but that they would be notified when they are available.

Chamber of Commerce Compares Favorably With Other Area Towns

The Rockport Chamber of Commerce compares favorably with those of surrounding towns.

Beeville, with a population of approximately 12,000, has no secretary since Dewey Granberry resigned, and membership is dropping. Aransas Pass, with 7900 residents, has no senior Chamber of Commerce, all work of this type being handled by the Jaycees.

And Sinton, with 7,500 people, has only 130 paid up members in its organization.

The Rockport Chamber of Commerce has nearly two hundred active members, and a larger budget than most of the towns that have been named.

Surely this is a record of which to be proud!

COUNCIL OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS TO MEET

Bell Ringer To Entertain

David Workman, America's Fore-most Bell Ringer, presents "Living Bells", a program of the world's most colorful fashions in music as presented by this star of stage, radio, and television. The charm of musical bells has the continental appeal of a quaint hamlet in the Alps. "The Living to the Church I call And to the Grave I summon all."

He will present a program in the High School Auditorium on Tuesday, May 7.

Mr. Workman's collection of bells numbers over 1,000, including sleighbells, cow bells, English Organ chimes, and the famous Swiss bells, formerly owned by the Royal Swiss Bell Ringers. The most interesting of this collection will be displayed and played by Workman on his program.

Tuning a bell is probably the most delicate operation in the realm of music. The dexterity of an accomplished bell ringer is comparable to a skilled athlete performing a routine of gymnastics. Speed and coordination are required to pick up and ring, and then replace a set of bells in a specific sequence, in a tempo proper to play the melody.

In addition to his remarkable talent on bells Mr. Workman is a top trumpet player who really likes Dixieland music. He can play Boogie Woogie on cow bells. During his program, members of the audience will have a chance to play his bells. He has a number he calls "Change Ringing" . . . a little game in which each of several persons takes a bell and rings it at the right time to play a tune. A most interesting part of his program is a demonstration of multiple recording which has been made popular by Les Paul and Mary Ford.

Workman's bell collection is world famous. It is educational but it is also good fun.

Lincoln Park Zoo Snake Caravan Here To Catch Coachwhips For King Cobra

The snake caravan of Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo is in Rockport again for the fourth consecutive year, accompanied by John Werler, curator of the zoo in Houston, all because of the perverse appetite of the Chicago institutions king cobra.

The cobra, which dines on snakes, prefers dark colored ones, according to J. Lear Grimmer, Assistant Director of Lincoln Park, and is exceedingly fond of coachwhips. Coachwhips from other parts of the U. S. are not to his majesty's liking. They're too light-colored, and only along the coastal islands of St. Joseph and Matagorda are there quantities of the sort of burnt toast brown that he likes for breakfast.

This king cobra (and they're as individual as people) eats a coachwhip a week, and as they are worth about $5 apiece, the king costs between $250 and $300 a year to feed. But that's not the worst of it; the rub comes in getting enough coachwhips.

"However," Grimmer said, "we've been trying frozen ones, and they seem to work all right after they're thawed. Our cobra doesn't insist on moving prey like some of them do, so we watch as many coachwhips as we can and put 'em in the deep freeze till we need them."

Along with the coachwhips Grimmer and his two assistants Dick Reichert and Art Goetz will take practically anything that calls, and are particularly fond of rattlesnakes and Mexican milk snakes.

John Werler, with Mrs. Werler and Johnnie, and Jim O'Rourke, of the Houston Parks and Landscape Department, make up the rest of the cavalcade.

Werler, a former San Antonio man, says that he just came along for the ride, but actually, he too is hoping to get some milk snakes and some rattlers, because these two species from this area are particularly good trading material. Other Zoos, all over the world, like to get these and other American snakes, and will trade snakes from their own country, animals, and birds for them.

The Houston curator says that one firm in Austria and another in Switzerland get most of the material the zoo has for trade. In return for the rattlers, water moccasins, milk snakes and other reptiles he sends them, he hopes to get mambas, cobras, gaboon and rhinoceros vipers, all from Africa, and various European snakes.

The expedition expects to remain in Rockport for several days, and then will move on to the Houston area, and to Hall's Bayou, which is a famous place for rattlesnakes. An odd thing about the Rockport area, Werler says, is that while Mexican milk snakes are fairly plentiful on the barrier islands, they are seen only at rare intervals around Rockport and Aransas Pass.

First Aid Pays Off With Life Saved Sunday

The first aid training that eight Rockport men took recently has already begun to pay off, and in a big way.

Sunday afternoon, Elva Mullinax, Joe Herring, and Steve Atwood were returning from a friends meeting in Beeville, and came upon the scene of a bad wreck. One man had been killed instantly, and another, a boy from Refugio, was laying by the side of the road, bleeding badly from his head, arm, and breast.

The training that Mullinax took was put to use, with the result that the bleeding was stopped until the young man could be taken to the hospital. At last reports he was doing nicely.

CENTRAL POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY

TORNADO WARNING in time can spell the difference between heavy loss of life and light casualties when the twisters sweep into populated areas. Under the experimental Weather Bureau program for tornado tracking by radar and telephoned visual reports, adequate warning could be broadcast so that local civil defense, police and firemen could evacuate residents or advise them to seek cover in basements. This drawing shows how such a warning station at Lincoln, Neb., might alert the inhabitants of Dorchester, Neb., in the expected path of a twister. The twin funnels are an unusual phenomena—most tornadoes occur singly. (Courtesy A. Leydenfrost)

BIRTH OF A TORNADO occurs when a cold and a warm air mass collide, and the heavier cold air is deflected above the lighter warm air. In this topsy-turvy situation, a tongue of cold air slips into the warm air, which in turn moves upward to fill the void thus created. As the warm air rushes upward in a spiral motion, other warm air is sucked upward from lower levels, until the ground is reached. The funnel is made visible by condensing moist air, dirt and debris. As the twister leaves its trail, Red Cross, civil defense and other public services rush in to care for victims, while the Federal Civil Defense Administration stands ready with financial aid to assist in temporary repair of devastated public facilities in a major disaster. (Courtesy A. Leydenfrost and the New York Times Magazine)

TYPICAL TORNADO funnel sweeps across the plains near Manhattan, Kan., located in the worst tornado belt in the world, according to Weather Bureau records. Twisters such as this have figured prominently in the total of 75 major natural disasters in which the Federal Civil Defense Administration has directed relief since FCDA got the job of coordinating Federal assistance in January 1953. (U. S. Weather Photo by H. E. Dale)

ERRATIC TRAIL left by the twister which hit Flint, Mich., on May 13, 1956 is typical of tornadoes as the funnel weaves and bobs over the landscape, generally in a southwest to northeast direction. Civil defense rescue squads, trained to dig persons out of bombed-out buildings in wartime, find their training equally useful in this type of disaster. (Flint Journal Photo by Russ Scott)

Time of The Twister

Springtime is tornado time. In the unstable transition from winter cold to summer heat, great masses of cold and warm air collide. When the heavier cold air is forced above the lighter warm air, funnels sometimes form to relieve the topsy-turvy situation. This is the twister. Some 800 Tornadoes boil up each year in the United States. When they strike, local civil defense and the Red Cross speed to the rescue. Spring is the time for a special weather eye to the tornado-spawning southwest. Last year, for instance, every major tornado occurred between February and May. On one day — April 3 — four giant twisters killed 30 persons, injured 415 and caused an estimated $13,760,000 damage. There is no way to prevent a tornado. But early warning, proper precautions and speedy rescue of victims can save lives. In addition, disaster funds administered by the Federal Civil Defense Administration can provide emergency repairs, and restoration of vital community facilities when Federal assistance is authorized by the President to augment State and local efforts.

What To Do In A Tornado

People in open country can view the approach of a tornado and move at right angles to its path. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression, such as a ditch or ravine. In towns or cities, seek shelter inside, preferably in a substantial building. Stay away from windows. The southwest corner of the basement of a frame house is safer than in a brick or stone house. If there is no basement, lie down on the first floor under a table or bed (preferably in the southwest corner). Urban schools: Stay inside, away from windows remain near an inside wall on a lower floor. Avoid auditoriums and gymnasiums. Rural schools of frame construction: Teachers should remove children to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Barber of Rockport and Mrs. Bess Winger of Corpus visited with Mrs. D. W. Oakes in Smithville, Okla. last week.

TEXAS IN REVIEW

A pilgrimage to the Alamo, street dancing and a river pageant will be seen on "Texas in Review" next week as part of the 62nd Annual Fiesta de San Jacinto. Other stories on the Humble Company's interesting TV program will include coverage of the Forest Field Day in Nacogdoches. Forestry students at Stephen F. Austin State College will compete in log rolling, log birling, fire fighting and crosscut sawing contests. The dedication of the New Pecos High Bridge, the highest vehicular structure in the state will also be seen. The new bridge replaces on which was washed away in the floods of 1954. Cameras will visit the Denton County Centennial and picture the area's history and economy. "Texas in Review" can be seen Tuesday (May 7) over KRIS-TV, Corpus Christi, 7:00 p. m. "Texas in Review" can be seen Wednesday (May 8) over KENS-TV, San Antonio, 6:30 p. m.

LOOKING FOR JOB

"Let me see your social security card." That is usually the first request an employer makes of his newly-hired workers, according to H. M. Cleveland, District Manager of the Social Security Administration in Corpus Christi. Some employers will not hire a job applicant who does not have his card with him when he applies for work. Cleveland says that it is advisable for a person who is preparing for his first job to get his card in advance. An experienced worker who has lost his card should get a duplicate. A woman who changes her name by marriage or divorce, should have her name changed in the social security records. There is no charge for an account-number card. The numbers are issued by the Social Security Administration, 530 South Water Street, Corpus Christi. The application forms can be obtained from that office or from the Post Office in other towns or cities. The applications may be filed in person or by mail. "Every worker needs a number," Cleveland said. "The amount of retirement, disability or survivors insurance which can be paid to a worker of his family depends upon the total earnings which have been credited in his account. "The accounts are numbered to agree with the number on each worker's account number card. An employer must correctly report the wages with the name and number of each of his employees in order for them to receive the credit they earn," Cleveland explained.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Homestead May Be Sold For Taxes

Many Texans have the mistaken impression that their homestead cannot be seized and sold for delinquent taxes. In many cases, this idea has led to considerable grief and monetary loss which could have been avoided. A homestead should be rendered to tax assessors like any other property, and taxes assessed against it should be paid as faithfully as those on any other taxable property.

The deadline for rendering property for taxation is April 1, so far as most city taxing agencies are concerned. The last date for rendering real and personal property for state and county taxes is April 30. State taxes are collected by the County Tax Collector.

Under the Texas Constitution, each family is entitled to claim one piece of real property as their homestead. This claim must be established by an affidavit filed with the county tax assessor on or before April 30, each and every year. This affidavit must be filed by the owner himself. A lending agency cannot do so, even though it may actually pay the annual taxes thereon from a fund created by the owner's monthly installments.

When the homestead affidavit is properly filed, the owner becomes entitled to an exemption of State taxes up to the value of $3,000 or 200-acres in the case of farm lands. This is an exemption from payment, not a complete exemption from rendition and assessment. There is no similar exemption with reference to county or city taxes.

The homestead claimed for tax purposes need not be the property which is actually occupied by the owner as his residence.

When the homestead affidavit is not filed by April 30, the taxpayer loses his right to the $3,000 or 200-acre exemption, and consequently becomes liable for more taxes than he would otherwise be required to pay.

Property taxes are assessed against the person who is the record owner of each piece of real and personal property on the first day of January of each year. Individuals purchasing property during the year should make sure that the taxes for all previous years have been paid. Otherwise, the purchaser may be forced to pay hundreds of dollars in delinquent taxes to protect his property. Unpaid taxes create a lien against the property which can be enforced regardless of change of ownership. One should also keep in mind to make some arrangement for the previous owner to pay his prorata share of taxes for the current year. Otherwise, the buyer may find it necessary to pay the entire taxes for that year.

When taxes are not paid by the deadline prescribed for the particular taxing unit (city, county, State, or district), monetary penalties and interest are added from month to month. In addition, the property becomes subject to seizure and sale to satisfy the tax lien. This lien applies to all property, whether homestead or not. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Look For The Comet, Buddy Carroll Says

We are indebted to Buddy Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Carroll, for the following bit of astronomical information, in regard to an occurrence in the heavens that some of us may want to watch for.

He says: "A comet, which was discovered a short while back, will be visible for the next two weeks with the naked eye.

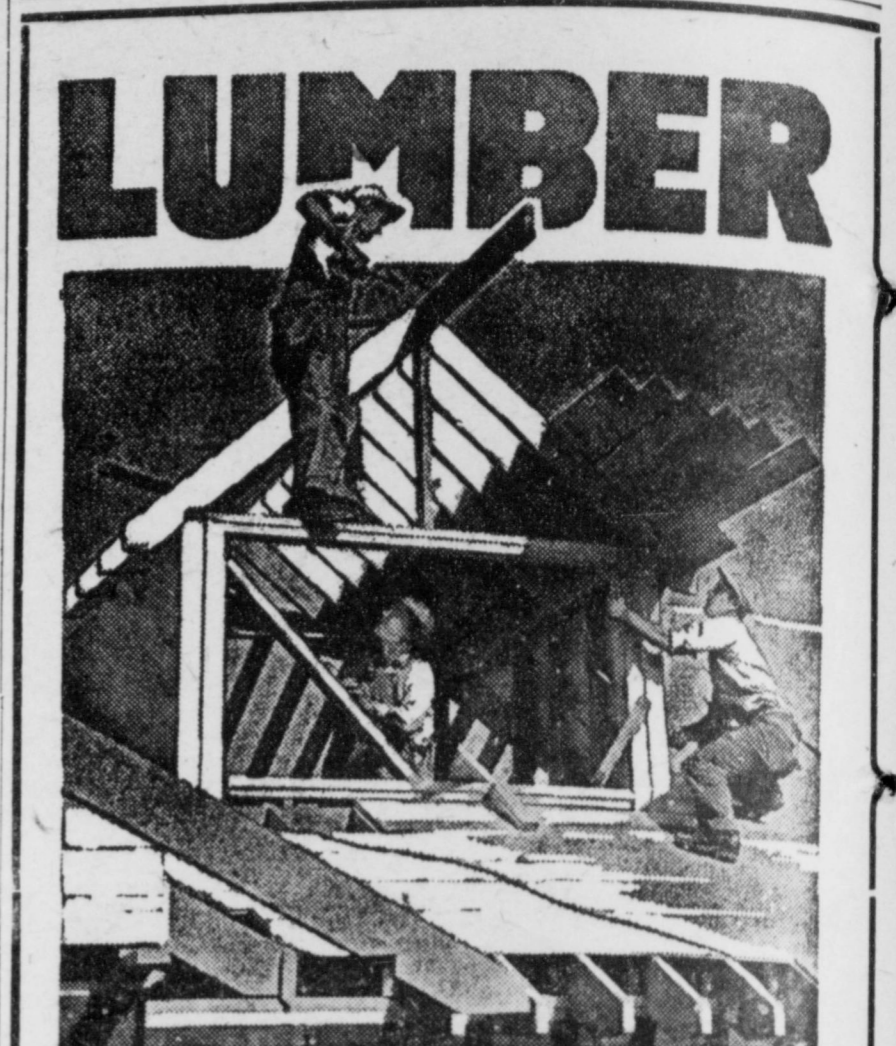

"It will be large, fuzzy, and dimly lighted.

"To locate it, you should look northwest about 14 degrees from the horizon. Each night it will get higher, and it is a thrilling sight through the binoculars or a telescope."

This score added to rounds of 72, 70 and 71 gave Miss Shelton the beautiful trophy awarded by the local Rinky Dinks in addition to a cash prize of $100,000 which the club puts up each year in this event.

EXPLORERS TO GO TO CAMP AT LEAKEY

A number of explorers from the local troop are scheduled to attend summer camp at the H. E. B. camp at Leakey on June 2 through 8, according to Bill Gray, explorer leader, who asks that all boys intending to go get their deposit of fifty cents into the treasury as soon as possible.

Bill further urges all explorers to attend Monday's meeting, for besides the Leakey trip there are a couple of other things that have to be discussed. One of these is Operation Navy, which will run from July 25 through 28, at which time boys that go will be able to spend three days at the Naval Air Station at Corpus Christi.

In addition, plans for post mobilization in case of an emergency must be developed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Carter and son visited Mr. T. C. Carter in Kingston, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. Bill E. Carter in Ardmore, Okla. over the weekend.

Park of the Week — Possum Kingdom

Possum Kingdom State Park is truly a water sports paradise. Excellent fishing, sixty-seven miles of boating water, deep diving from rock cliffs, skin diving and water skiing all can be enjoyed at this remarkable park on the Brazos River.

Even the park's fascinating name has a remarkable background. The Act of Congress under which the Morris Sheppard dam was built to create the lake described the site as a paradise for o'possums. So the park was called Possum Kingdom when the cabins were built, boat docks constructed and park facilities installed.

Development of the park had the needs and comforts of fishermen as a major objective. With 350 miles of shoreline and 710,000 acre feet of water, the lake is renowned for its black bass, crappie, white perch and channel cat. Recently white bass have been caught. Thermacline of the lake is taken twice weekly giving the fishermen data on the best depth at which to fish for different species of fish. Large docks care for rental boats and for private boat storage.

Because of the lake fluctuation the docks have been constructed so that they rise and fall automatically with the lake level. A canteen supplies tackle, staple groceries and cold drinks. Fresh bait is obtainable in the park at all times.

Beside equipped camping areas for which reasonable fees are charged, the park has a large free camping area. There are ten artificially cooled tile cabins, numerous picnicking units and playground equipment.

The park is reached by the longest park road in the state. This Park Road 33 leaves U. S. Highway 180 at the old oil town of Caddo and goes directly to the park.

LIBRARY PLANNING

established libraries would continue to be governed in the same manner as they are now at Beeville, Alice, Aransas Pass, Corpus Christi, George West, Kingsville, Portland, Refugio, Rockport, Robstown and Sinton.

All material in the eight-county region would be available to any library in the region; library cards would be usable in any library in the region; and the regional set-up would furnish technical and professional aid, and provide for such interchanges.

Eventually, it is hoped, as central purchasing and processing agency would be set up at a central location, although for a long time to come it would have to be handled by the individual libraries in the manner that they are handling it now.

"Of course," said Miss Persis Pooley, chairman of District 4 of the Texas Library Association, "the whole plan is highly tentative and apt to be changed many times."

Branches are projected for communities of 1,500 or over; book deposits handled by volunteers in places smaller than that; and two more bookmobiles, one stationed at Alice and the other at Beeville. These would supplement the two bookmobiles now operating under the present set-up.

Cost of the regional library has been estimated at between $50,000 and $100,000 annually, in addition to moneys already furnished by the various political subdivisions of which the libraries are a part, or, in the case of a few, by civic organizations.

EXPEDITION

up at the Flower Garden Reef, off Galveston, and running from there to the Cay Pile where, two summers ago, barracudas were so thick that divers along with expedition were afraid to go down.

From the Flower Garden they dropped south to Baker and Hospital Reefs off Port Aransas, then south to about where Yarbrough Pass used to be, and from there to the Steamer, off Padre, and to Point Isabel. The mouth of the Rio Grande was visited next; then they took cores offshore to the hundred and fifty fathom line, and back to Captain Munn's Bank.

This wound up the nineteen days at sea.

"It was rough," Captain Jones said, "and we lost a lot of gear, but we set some kind of record for the number of research stations we made, and the number of samples we took."

The project, started in 1951 and sponsored by the American Petroleum Institute, has consumed approximately six years and three-quarters of a million dollars. It has studied the bay and inshore sediments of the Gulf of Mexico and the shores of Texas and Louisiana, hoping to find some correlation between present-day conditions and the knowledge gained from innumerable oil well logs, taken of the ancient formations encountered thousands of feet underground.

"This winds up all oil field work," Parker said. Of course, evaluation of the results will take a good deal of time, but that will all be done at La Jolla, so will not, unless something unforeseen occurs, be coming back to this coast. This trip filled in the holes in the work that has been done during the past six years.

Mosquito Problem

beings. Too heavy a concentration would hurt people in town, just as too light a concentration would not kill mosquitoes.

Too heavy a concentration could, conceivably, give people exposed to it a liver disease, cirrhosis, or cause the skin to break out on lesions unsightly to observe, and painful for the person that has them.

"Which brings us to the real crux of the problem. The man operating the spray equipment must drive rapidly enough to stay ahead of the spray, or for hours he will be exposed to this poison. People stopping him force him to expose himself in a way he would not normally do, and also expose themselves.

"If a quick knockdown additive has been included with the spray, for relief immediately from mosquitoes, this makes the liquid that much more poisonous to the operator. People that stop him expose themselves only for a few minutes, but a number of such stops during a night can cause the operator to absorb enough of the mixture to cause him considerable trouble in a short time.

"This morning, Ray Boone, who runs the sprayer, came in, after being at work five hours last night, and his eyes were almost swollen shut because of exposure to the spray.

"We are sure that all the folks that stop him are doing so from the best of motives, wishing to tell him how and where the mosquitoes are, so that he can do a good job, and we are equally sure that if they stopped and thought that they were adding needlessly to the hazards of his job they wouldn't do it.

"However, because the speed at which he has been operating is too slow to protect him, he has been instructed to travel faster in making his rounds.

"This does not mean that people in the area will not receive the same amount of DDT and Chlor-dane per acre on their property that they have had before; it simply means that we will increase the rate of application to make sure that the same amount of spray is applied as before.

"However, I did want to make it plain that when the spray truck passes, if it is driving faster than you think it should be, don't be alarmed, because you'll be getting the same attention that you have been in the past, only you'll be getting it quicker.

By action of its Board of Governors, USO is committed to federation. Hence, when you give to the United Fund, you also give to the USO, unless you designate some other charity.

"At the same time, it will be safer for the man driving the spray truck."

One cause of stoppage of the truck, Judge Wendell said, came from people who asked for a little special attention, wanting the driver to make a circuit of their grounds to be sure that all the mosquitoes were killed.

"While I can understand their eagerness to help Boone do a good job," the Judge said, "if these same people would stop and think, they can see how hard it would be to make such individual stops. If we do it for one person, we have to do it for everyone. If we did that, we haven't enough trucks or men to take care of the peninsula, and the cost would be terrible.

Another thing a lot of people don't understand, Judge Wendell said, is the fact that spraying just before a rain doesn't do a bit of good. The insecticide is washed away before it can accomplish anything, and if it is washed into the bay will kill fish. Spraying just before a shower will waste $400 or $500 worth of insecticide, the Judge said, without doing any good.
