

Along The Waterfront

Rains have diluted the brine in shallow bays like Copano and the direct result is that salt water grasses are thickening. Which means that the ducks favorite food bin will be full come fall.

Harry Mills, who with brother Herb runs Mills Wharf at Fulton, feels pretty sure that the reason ducks have shied away from Copano in recent years has been the lack of food.

The bay has grown a crop of marine grass, says Mills, and the reason might very well be that the bay got too salty during that long drouth stage.

Now that Copano has livened up greatly from the rains, the grass crop might be a bumper.

For the first time in years the birds are working the waters in the bay. Where the birds hovered, the usually found fish. Well, these fish spotters haven't been working the coast in recent years, for some reason. But they are now, says Mills.

Tons of white shrimp are now in the bays, according to Mills, attracting more birds to our area.

Fishing with Harry Mills, Mills Wharf last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Wagley and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Maley, of Houston, and Mr. John Barey, of Cleveland, Ohio, brought in 147 trout and 2 gafftops. In addition to this nice catch, many trout under "keeper" size were thrown back, so the party got a good workout with rod and reel, returning to dock shortly after noon, tired but happy.

Travis Oliver reports trout as the No. 1 catch out at Good Luck Pier on Fulton Beach this week. However, some gafftops are still being caught, along with occasional whiting and flounder. V. B. Hobe, of 1018 Linsey Drive, Rosenberg, caught 18 trout and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Leigh, Houston, caught 28 specks, four of which weighed 3 pounds apiece.

Hu Johnson, on the Mary Lou, had a nice report this week. Last Thursday he fished Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hackins, and party, of Palestine, and they came in with 151 specks. Friday, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Leigh and party, Houston, caught 158; Saturday he had the Buddy Taylor party, Canyon, Texas, who strung 108 fish. Sunday Mr. Stephenson and Mr. Collier and party, of Dallas, caught 50 trout; Monday H. T. Black and party, San Antonio, snagged 115 more; Tuesday he fished Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dorff and party, of Dallas, and they caught 115 specks. Wednesday he had Mr. (Continued on Page 8)

Piggly Wiggly Has Pre-Packaged Meat

An improvement in the handling of meat that has long been a feature of the super markets in cities of the state is now offered to Rockport residents at Roe's Piggly Wiggly, with the addition of three new display freezers.

The freezers enable the store to display meats of all kinds, and pre-packaged steaks, roasts, and other cuts of beef and veal ready to drop in your basket and take to the cashier, thus enabling everyone to be served with a minimum of time and trouble.

Meats are cut, weighed, wrapped in transparent wrappers, with prices prominently displayed, in the same manner frozen foods are marketed.

REV. BYERS OF KINGSVILLE TO BE SPEAKER HERE

The Reverend Andrew Byers, of the Pan American Institute at Kingsville, will be the principal speaker for the regular Presbyterian Men of the Church Supper this evening, at 6:30 p. m.

Rev. Byers will bring with him two young Latin-American students, and together they will picture student life and opportunities at the Institute. The Women of the Church have been invited as guests for the program, which will follow the supper.

May Rainfall Totals 5.80 In.

According to a report from the local Marine Laboratory, where official weather data is compiled, 5.80 inches of rain fell during the month of May, making a total of 15.11 inches for the first five months of 1957. This compared with 10.67 inches which fell the same period in 1956.

The laboratory gauge shows that on May 27, 2.85 inches fell, the most in any one day during 1957. During the month of May there were 8 days that .02 inches or more rain fell.

For the entire year of 1956 the lab recorded 18.87 inches.

The comparative rainfall for the first five months of 1957 and 1956 follows:

	1957	1956
January	.71	.67
February	2.79	.80
March	2.52	2.86
April	3.29	5.28
May	5.80	1.06
Total	15.11	10.67

There have been reports of larger amounts of rain falling in various areas of the county, which no doubt are true, but the lab has special equipment for recording such data and their reports are official for the area.

Chamber of Commerce Directors Meeting Held Tuesday Night

At the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors, held Tuesday night, Mrs. Charles A. Roe, Sr., reported that three new members had been admitted — Lynn Courts, Van Etten's Garage, and Bruce Mayes.

The directors then discussed a questionnaire that had been issued to the membership, regarding legislative matters, and asked Mrs. Juergens, Chamber manager, to write a letter to members of the Congress that represents us, apprising them of the results of the questionnaire.

The civic affairs committee members discussed a clean up week in the near future, in concert with James Crusier, vice president of the Jaycees, who was a visitor. Mrs. Juergens said that when the project got underway Lynnwood Eller had volunteered a couple of trucks to help. Arrangements were made for the two civic affairs committees from the junior and senior chambers to meet and work out the details.

It was reported that Byron Hardeman and James Jarboe, of the Industrial Committee, would attend a South Texas Industrial meeting at the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio on June 17.

The merchant's committee arranged to correlate their efforts with the Jaycees on Christmas decorations.

The directors voted to participate in area wide efforts being made by the Coastal Bend Tourist Association to advertise the attraction of the region, to promote the tourist industry.

Southwestern A Cappella Singers to Appear Here

The A Cappella singers from Southwestern Christian College of Terrell, Texas are to appear at the Church of Christ located at Rockport at 7:30 p. m. on Friday evening, June 7th.

These singers will present both hymns and spirituals. During the past three years they have traveled quite extensively, covering most of the United States and part of Canada, presenting their program to an enthusiastic audience.

Southwestern Christian College is the only college in the United States that is supported by individual members of the Church of Christ and dedicated to the training of Negro Youth in Christian education. The public is cordially invited to hear them.

DICK PICTON NAMED TO BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Word has been received here that Thomas Dick Picton has been named to the Board of Governors of St. Mary's University in San Antonio this week.

This makes two Rockport members, the other one being James H. Sorenson, Jr.

MOULTON MAN JOINS PERCH CLUB IN BASIN

A Moulton man, Frank Pterash, is said to have caused a small tidal wave when he went overboard in the basin recently, to become a member in good standing of the Perch Club.

Rockport's New City Hall Now Occupied

Rockport's new city hall, into which personnel moved on May 27. The building is of concrete block construction, with its foundation consisting of a monolithic concrete slab, 30 x 50, furnishing fifteen hundred square feet of floor space for the various offices. There is a main office, a council room, private offices for the city secretary and the water superintendent, the necessary washrooms, and a storage vault for records. Ceilings are of acoustical tile; interior walls are of mahogany paneling; windows are aluminum; and the floor is of asbestos tile. The grounds are being landscaped, and grass and shrubs are being planted as quickly as possible. The structure is located at the intersection of Broadway and Austin Street, just west of the Chamber of Commerce building.

Reverend Green Leaves Rockport For Austin Church

The Reverend Dana Green and family, after having endeared themselves to the membership of the First Methodist Church during a three-and-a-half-year stay, during which time the present sanctuary was built, are leaving Rockport for Austin, where the Reverend Green will take over pastorate of St. Luke's.

"It looks as though I'm scheduled to be a builder of churches," he said, "for while St. Luke's is a larger congregation than Rockport, it is also a younger one, having been in existence only eight years.

"They have a parsonage and an educational building erected, but still have to build a sanctuary."

Rev. and Mrs. Green have taken an active part in church and civic affairs in the community.

He has been president of the local minister's alliance and chairman of the Rockport-Fulton Safety Council almost since their inception.

The Greens, who left Wednesday for their new home, have three children, Kathy, and twin boys.

The Rev. Asa F. Avant replaces Rev. Green in the pulpit of the First Methodist Church.

Wanta Work For The Post Office At Xmas? Get Your Bid In Now

If you have any ambitions towards working for the postoffice about Christmas, then you had better get your bid in now, or at least before July 1, the deadline for filing applications to take the Civil Service examination for substitute clerk-carrier in this district.

The job pays $1.82 an hour, and duties of the newly appointed carrier-clerks, if and when they're hired, consist of handling heavy sacks of letter mail, parcel post and paper mail, weighing a hundred pounds or more; sorting and distributing mail to railway post-offices, to city carrier routes, and related duties as assigned.

The work involves continuous standing, walking, throwing packages of mail, stretching to empty sacks, and reaching to all parts of the distribution case while sorting. In addition, the substitutes must serve on many routes in all kinds of weather, drive trucks in all kinds of traffic, under all sorts of road conditions, deliver parcel post from trucks, and make collections of mail from various boxes. He may be required to carry on his shoulder loads weighing at least 35 pounds at one time, and to load and unload sacks of mail from his truck, if assigned to parcel post delivery or collection service.

While a substitute working here might not be subject to all these things, Postmaster J. Reid Simmons pointed out that it is from the ranks of those that have passed the examinations that workers are chosen when they are needed.

Further information and application forms may be obtained at the postoffice or from the "Regional Director, Eight U. S. Civil Service Region, Room 103, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas."

Magnolia Sedimentary Research in Area Uses Same Principle As Fathometer In Ceaseless Hunt for Oil Beneath The Sea

A Magnolia Petroleum Field Research Laboratory vessel — the Quest — with headquarters in Rockport, has been operating in bays of this region for the last three or four years under leadership of Dr. W. B. Huckabay, part of a project seeking oil beneath the sea with an instrument that had its inception in the familiar depth sounders found in so many of the fishing boats of this region.

Of course, it's not quite that simple, for the marine sonoprobe — the name the Magnolia uses for the new instrument — is a lot more complex and costly instrument than even the fanciest fathometer. Nevertheless the both had their start from the same idea.

The original Magnolia research even started out with a fathometer, but company scientists soon discovered that the sound omitted by the instrument and reflected from the sea bottom was sufficient only to mark its depth and little more. What they were looking for was something that would pierce the mud and rock of the ocean's floor, giving off an echo that could be recorded and interpreted to give some indication of the subsurface formations.

With the single-mindedness the oil industry exhibits when on a hunt for petroleum, this something was developed — a new instrument, and a system for operating it.

Actually, it is more than a single instrument. It is a complete system, functioning somewhat like a small seismograph. Sound waves (beeps), each one lasting less than a thousandth of a second are directed through the water and the sediments of the ocean floor. Each material reflects a certain portion of the sound waves, in varying amounts, so that when this reflection is picked up by sensitized paper tape in the receiver, the various materials indicate their presence and their thickness by characteristic wiggles on the tape.

Thus, as the boat moves over the sea floor, the tape shows not only the top of the sand and rock, but pierces through, and gives a vertical map of the sediments. Surveys obtained with the sonoprobe in Texas bays and the Gulf have shown many interesting geological features, most of which gave no indication of their presence except to some method such as this.

One profile (as these moving depth maps are called) showed a truncated anticline in the Gulf near Galveston, which boring procedures indicated was a formation of the Beaumont clay. A profile from Corpus Christi Bay showed buried oyster reefs beneath recent sediments.

Results of surveys suggest many uses for the sonoprobe. Discovery and mapping of oyster shell, much used in Texas industry, is one of them, allowing dredges to work beds that would have been overlooked because of the mud above them.

Because the sonoprobe can determine the composition of sediments fairly rapidly, it has many potential uses in the fields of geology, geophysics, and engineering. Information necessary for construction of offshore platforms and submarine pipelines can be obtained from surveys made with this system. The extent of silting in reservoirs may also be determined, and it has already been adapted for commercial operation.

Surveys obtained with the marine sonoprobe system are being offered by Fairchild Aerial Surveys, Inc., of Los Angeles. Operations for this company are directed by F. W. Hinrichs, Captain, U. S. N. R., Fairchild's chief geologist.

Over 300 Attend Alumni Banquet

Despite Tornado Alert Alumni Came From Everywhere Including Mrs. June Hunt Liling from N. Y.; Mrs. Ruby Hart Was Youngest Grandmother

Despite the very inclement weather Saturday night, very few of the more than 300 registrants for the celebration of the Golden Jubilee of the High School Alumni Association, failed to make the event. The affair was a semi-formal banquet at the gymnasium of the Rockport Elementary School, served by Little Bob's of Aransas Pass.

Mrs. Irene Norvell Jackson, Mrs. Lee McCaughan Perry of San Angelo, 1st president of the association, Mrs. Louisa Bracht Johnson and Mrs. Ruby Bissett Hart greeted the guests.

Mrs. Bertha Harper and Miss Katie Lee Clark were in charge of the register and Mrs. Ettoil Eller and Mrs. Corinne Evans Webb "tagged" each one as they entered, with a gold ribbon.

Travis Bailey was master of ceremonies. He introduced Mrs. Jackson who extended the welcome and Pete Sprinkle of Corpus Christi, who gave the invocation. The congratulatory to the new class was presented by Mrs. Myrtle Jones DeForest of Fulton, the response to which was made by Roy DeForest of the senior class.

Each tenth class, from 1907 to 1957, was recognized and representatives from those classes related an amusing anecdote of their senior year. In this group were Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Gertrude Brundrett Allemand, Mrs. Eleanor Harris Brittain of Sinton, Mrs. Genevieve Johnson Heldenfels, Mrs. Lucille Haynes Thomas of Taft and Eddie Morrison, representing the class of '57.

Other numbers of the program were a song by Mrs. Ruthie Mullinax Heasley of Aransas Pass, a toast, "To the Next 50 Years" by George L. Brundrett Jr. of Corpus Christi and the assembly (Continued on page 4)

Girl Scout Camp Opened To Brownie Age Girls

Since it has been necessary to revise the Whooping Crane Council summer camp schedule, a few vacancies in the first two weeks still exist at this late date. Rather than see any girl miss the wonderful opportunities offered at Camp Copano when there is space available for her, the Executive Board voted at their regular meeting in Sinton on Monday evening to open the camp to girls of Brownie age (whenever or not they are active in scouting), in order to fill the limited number of vacancies now existing.

Girls wishing to attend the camp for either of these first two weeks, June 9-15 and June 16-22, should immediately contact Mrs. J. B. Jackson, Neighborhood Chairman, for their health cards, which should be filled out and signed by their family doctors. These signed cards and the full registration fee of $20.00 will enable the girls to register on the opening date of either of these sessions. Other detailed information may be secured from the Neighborhood Chairman.

Mrs. Shelby Torrance, the highly-qualified Camp Director hired for the summer sessions at Camp Copano, has a very full and interesting program worked out for all the camp sessions, and a completely separate program will be available for girls of Brownie age and those of Girl Scout age. Every girl attending will be assured of both an exciting and a worthwhile camping experience.

The staff to direct Girl Scout activities at Camp Copano this summer has been completed, according to Mrs. Vera Bielenberg, council executive. The staff reported at Rockport for pre-camp training Wednesday. Mrs. Shelby Torrance of Corpus Christi, directed the training session. The first camping period will open Sunday, June 9.

Members of the staff are: Miss Audrey Deanna Schroeter of Yorktown, business manager; Mrs. Dan Brown of Aransas Pass, waterfront director; Miss Ruby Lee Cyle of Odem and Miss Sue Ann Cox of Victoria, assistant waterfront directors, and Miss Elizabeth Ray of Corpus Christi, camp nurse.

Unit leaders will be Deborah Lee Trapp, Kathleen Weatherford, La Verne Ross and Pat Ocker. Lillian Burnett of Corpus Christi will be assistant unit leader.

Navigation Candidates Must File Before June 8

Candidates for the position of Navigation Board Commissioners must file their application with the secretary of the board, Dick Picton, before June 8, according to the Board's attorney, Ellis L. Clark.

All three of the present commissioners, N. F. Jackson, Dick Picton, and Raymond Owens have terms which expire this year.

NAVIGATION DISTRICT REPORTS CHANGE IN HARBOR LIGHTS HERE

The Aransas County Navigation District reports that through its efforts a long sought change in the harbor lights at Rockport has been effected.

The Coast Guard agreed to increase the power of the white light on the beacon from 50 to 140 candlepower, and the red at the mouth of the harbor from 11 to 30 candle power, and the change has already been made.

The Coast Guard is now in process of studying aids to navigation for Fulton Harbor and the north end of Aransas Bay, as requested by the Navigation District, and a further announcement on this matter will be forthcoming in the near future.

Little League Off To Good Start

The Church Little League got off to a flying start last Tuesday night, despite the invasion of a jillion mosquitoes.

In the initial game, the First Baptists won over the Presbyterian little team by a 13-6 score. Owens was the big gun for the First Baptists, giving up only two hits while pitching and getting three hits himself.

First Baptist	12	6	5
Presbyterian	6	2	5

In the second game, the Fulton Baptist took the measure over the First Baptist in a 11-10 game. Joe May was the big stick for Fulton, getting two hits, one a triple to deep right field. Rouquette was the winning pitcher. Ballou did a wonderful job of relief pitching for the First Baptist.

Marine News

Landings of shrimp from the offshore grounds at west coast Mexican ports in '56 was estimated about one-third less than the record catch for 1955. Although the catch declined, higher prices limited the loss in the 1956 ex-vessel value to only 10 percent as compared to that of the previous year.

The inshore shrimp fishery on the West Coast was a failure in 1956 due, it is believed, to light rainfall on the Pacific mountain slopes. The total production for this fishery was expected to be about 120 metric tons or less, a decline of about 60 percent from the 1955 season.

The shrimp catch on the East Coast was expected to exceed the 1955 catch slightly and the prospects for further increases in 1957 are good. Due to lower catches on the West Coast during the last quarter of 1956, it is likely that this trend will continue into 1957 and substantially lower the 1957 catch for the West Coast.

Mexican shrimp exports during '56 were estimated at over 50 million pounds (headless) as compared with 46 million pounds in 1955. The value of the 1956 record shrimp exports was expected to exceed US $25 million.

The peak fishing season at Salina Cruz will probably start earlier than usual in 1957. Normally, trawlers from Mazatlan and Guaymas do not begin moving south to Salina Cruz until early February and remain until late April or May. This season five shrimp trawlers from Ciudad del Carmen were due to arrive in Salina Cruz in late December 1956, and additional boats from Mazatlan and Guaymas some time in January. The arrival of the Carmen boats marks the first season that trawlers from the Gulf of Mexico moved to the Pacific to fish the winter-spring run of shrimp near Salina Cruz.

A new shrimp freezing and ice making plant was being constructed in Salina Cruz, Oaxaca, Mexico. The plant, with a daily capacity of 15,000 pounds of frozen shrimp and 10 tons of ice, was expected to begin operations some time in January 1957. With the new plant Salina Cruz has three freezers with a daily capacity of 45,000 pounds of shrimp and 120 tons of ice, reports the United States Embassy in Mexico City.

"Freedom of the seas and sovereignty over the seas by adjacent countries are simply incompatible doctrines," Senator Leverett Saltonstall (Republican, Massachusetts) told members of the National Fisheries Institute at their Eleventh Annual Convention at Miami Beach, Fla.

Senator Saltonstall was speaking of the failure of the Inter-American Council of Jurists at their Mexico City meeting to study and discuss adequately conservation problems. "Responsible officials of our government," he said, "are most disturbed about the actions taken, with no study and little discussion."

"The United States," he said, "second to Japan, is the largest fishing country of the world. We harvest close to five billion pounds of food from the sea each year. While most of this comes from off our own shores, our fishermen fish in the high seas off the coasts of many other countries, and the fishermen of a good many other countries fish in the high seas off our coasts, too."

Since we are a leader in conserving natural resources, the Senator went on to say, we have found peaceful means of protecting the harvest of the seas without detriment to the "freedom of the seas" doctrine, and we cannot afford to injure that doctrine.

Treaties are now in effect with other nations on the seal, halibut and salmon fisheries of the North Pacific; Great Lakes fisheries; Southeast Pacific tuna fisheries; Northwest Atlantic fisheries; and world whale fisheries.

"Friendship with our good neighbors to the south has long been a keystone in our foreign policy," he reminded his audience. "International cooperation, mutual study of mutual problems, calm discussion and debate of ideas, and multilateral approach to the solution of political, economic, judicial, security, social and defense questions has made the relations between the nations of the Americas a model for the rest of the world."

Senator Saltonstall also reported on the money spent under the Saltonstall-Kennedy Act, which provides the Fish and Wildlife Service $3 million a year for three years.

The use of electrical light and fish pumps has recently been described by P. G. Borisov, a Soviet scientist:

The earliest investigations carried out in the Caspian Sea indicated that the light of a common electric lamp (white light) is the most effective for attracting fish at night, as compared to red, orange, yellow, green, and blue light; yellow light was found to be next to white in its effectiveness. In the experiments, a lamp with a waterproof socket was suspended by a waterproof cable at various depths.

In 1957 the work with electrical light in the Caspian Sea showed that more powerful electric lamps (1,000-1,500 watts) give better results in attracting sprat at night into the lighted area, which in its turn results in a bigger catch. A decline in catch was registered when the power of the lamp decreased.

Alongside with this a question was settled which is of great importance for fishing in the Caspian Sea — the question of vertical distribution of sprat on fishing grounds. It turned out that in summer (August) when the water in the upper layers becomes very warm sprat move to deeper layers where they cannot be reached by shallow purse seines. Fishing with electrical light at great depths during this period appeared to be very successful.

The Caspian fishermen's successes became widely known among the fishermen of other commercial basins of the U. S. S. R. The Black Sea fishermen after going to the Caspian Sea to see the new method in operation started successfully using it at home.

The Japanese get record saury catches with the help of electric lights. In 1954 their total saury electric light catch amounted to 290 million pounds.

The use of the fish pump opens up new perspectives in the field of electric light fishing.

The fish (sprat) enter the lighted area and are pumped up the hose alongside with water into a receiving tank which separates the fish from the water. Caspian sprat catches per night of fishing by one of the fishing boats, the "Toros," ranged from 700 to 16,000 pounds in December of 1954 and from 500 to 15,000 pounds in January 1955. The total catch in December 1954 amounted to 95,000 pounds and in January 1955 — 104,000 pounds.

Pump fishing with electric lights has a number of advantages: it is continuous, labor-saving, and requires no netting. Thus pump fishing with electric light on a commercial basis makes the problem of netless fishing quite a realistic one.

Everything said above applies to those species of fish which are attracted at night by electric light. About 20 species are known to be attracted by electric light in the U. S. S. R. seas; however as yet only two of them — anchovy-type and common sprats (kilka) of the Caspian Sea — are the objects of commercial fishing. Work is going on to develop commercial fishing for the Black Sea horse mackerel and anchovy (Khamsa). Commercial fishing for saury and Atka mackerel in the Far East seas has not yet been started. The question of the possibility of electric light fishing for the Pacific and North Atlantic herrings on a commercial scale has been discussed.

Apart from the fishes attracted by the electric light at night, there are some species which are frightened away by light and try to leave the zone of above-water or underwater light. To these species belong: lamprey (Laperta fluviatilis), eel (Anguilla anguilla), and mullet (Mugil).

Our investigations in the Caspian and Baltic Seas showed us the way to take advantage of this peculiarity of the fish. In 1951 N. I. Semenchenko started fishing for Caspian mullet with a trammel net using the searchlight to frighten the fish away in the direction of the net. The mullet finding themselves in the brilliant light space try to leave it and, being surrounded by the trammel net, are entrapped in it.

The efficiency of artificial light depends on a number of conditions; transparency of water, moon phase, intensity, intensity of light, species of fish, physiological condition of fish, their age, etc.

In the water basins with a small degree of water transparency (as the Azov Sea), the efficiency of the attraction of fish by light is sharply reduced. Moonlight and especially the light of the full moon in a cloudless sky also reduces the efficiency of attraction to a great extent.

The optimum efficiency of artificial light is different for different species, e. g. light optimum is higher for anchovy, pilchard, and mackerel than for horse mackerel.

Many species do not approach a powerful source of light closely but keep at some distance from it. This distance increases with the increase in the intensity of light and vice versa.

A more thorough investigation into the behavior of fish under the influence of electric light, electrical current, and sound is one of the main tasks before our fishery research institutes.

The development of and improvements in physical methods of influencing the fish will completely solve the problem of netless fishing.

singing of the Alumni song, the words of which were written by Mrs. Allemand. The accompanists were Mrs. Charlyne Lowry Hunt and Mrs. Jean Faye Johnson McLead.

James B. Jackson called the roster of members and the class of '50 and the '51 class tied for the trophy which was given for the most members present.

Past presidents of the organization were introduced and included among those present were Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Lorraine Lassiter Close, Mrs. Ratliff, Mrs. Jack Brundrett Smith, Mrs. Charlotte Cron Mixon, Mrs. Lois Townsend Gurley, Mrs. McLead and Mrs. Wilburn Hamblin Kinsey.

Also introduced were the officers and the chairmen of committees which included Mrs. Melba Brundrett Mills, program; Mrs. Virginia Adolphus Shivers, table arrangements and decorations; Mrs. Eller, invitations and announcements; Mrs. Mae Mills Johnson and Mrs. Joyce Townsend Ratliff, collections; the committee for setting up tables and chairs, Norvell F. Jackson, Bill Gray, Charles A. Roe Jr., Milton Harrell, James Cruser, Travis Smith, Floyd Rouquette and Pat Smith.

The prize for the member coming the greatest distance to attend the celebration was awarded to Mrs. June Hunt Liling of Ardsley, N. Y. Mrs. Hart had the distinction of being the youngest grandmother in the association and was presented a prize. Mrs. Nina Diederich Garrett and Mrs. Jackson tied for the prize which was given to the member having the most children present who are also members of the association.

The nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Margaret Court Weber, Mrs. Berta Gene Shults Little and Mrs. Audrey Casterline Owens, presented the slate of officers for next year, which was duly elected. Those named to office were Mrs. Ratliff, president; Mrs. Pauline Shults Rouquette, vice-president; Mrs. Faynell Cole Harrell, secretary and Travis Smith, treasurer.

The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" by the assembly, closed the program. The golden theme motivated the table decorations. Trailing fern and white flowers decorated the long tables and gold letters indicated the position of the various classes. Programs and name cards in white and gold marked each place.

The speaker's table was centered with a large arrangement of gold and white carnations, with a 50 in gold wire extending over them. Fern and single carnations (the Alumni flower) at intervals, completed the table motif. The flowers from the speaker's table were presented to Mrs. Jackson, with Mrs. Shivers making the presentation, on behalf of the Alumni Association.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Mary Clark Bailey, Mrs. Carrie Johnson Picton, Mrs. Irma Rozelle Clobertants and Mrs. Sadie Silberstein Smith.

Many contributed to the success of the occasion and the association wishes to extend thanks to the School Board, the Woman's Club, the VFW, Fulton Lions Club the Cub Scouts and the Picton Lumber Company. Also thanks to the Rockport Pilot for the space

Carl Osborn Remembers First Plane To Land In Lawn of White House

Recently, when helicopters landed on the White House lawn, it set off a wave of speculation as to what plane was actually first to land there. A local man, Carl Osborn, says that this is no problem, as he remembers the whole thing perfectly.

"It was a type B biplane, built with exposed struts and piano wire bracing," he said, "and it was piloted by a barnstorming pilot by the name of Atwood, in 1911.

"I was working on the Sandusky, Ohio, Star-Journal the year prior to this, when Atwood visited Sandusky on his tour. He offered to take any of the newspaper personnel for flight over the city and bay, and I was the only one who was dumb enough to make the flight.

"Several years before this, I was a student working at the Cedar Point Resort, when Orville Wright landed there after making the first over-water flight. He flew across the corner of Lake Erie, starting at Vermillion, Ohio, and landing at Cedar Point.

"Even in those days they had to post guards to keep curious from taking the plane apart in little pieces for souvenirs.

"Most folks over 50 can remember those barn-storming pilots that flew from county fair grounds or almost any level, open field, using everything from post World War I surplus planes to the first Ford tri-motors, which were monsters in those days."

contributed for the publicizing of the event.

Others from out of town were: Mrs. Mary Herring Patrick, La-Grange; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newkome, Mrs. Curtis McNab, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Close, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Loe, Mr. and Mrs. George Lee Brundrett, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Garza, Mrs. Dorothy Bissett Dorsey, Mrs. Emma Jacobson McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Albin, Mr. and Mrs. John Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Hattenbach, Harry Benter, Mrs. Sam Creelius, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ruble, all of Corpus Christi.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Britton, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson, of Sinton; Mr. and Mrs. James Crew, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barker, of Ingleside; Joe S. Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Mangum, and Mrs. Anna Bell Dye Yates, all of San Antonio; Mrs. June Hunt Liling, New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. Calisto Garcia, of Taft; Mrs. Harriet Bernard Gore, and Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Borchers, Beeville; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kemp, Victoria; Olga Edmison McLester, Falfurrias; Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, Beaumont; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Heasley, Aransas Pass; Mr. and Mrs. James Adams, Houma, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mills, Goliad; Bernard Fox, McAllen; Tommie Bruce Winkle, Pleasanton; and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Snyder, of Honda.

A monstrous fish, species unknown, towed a fisherman 12 miles to sea and left him stranded with swamped motors after the angler cut the line. The man was rescued by a U. S. Air Force crashboat after he spent a night on the ocean.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE FOR SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY BENEFITS?

All persons who have had to stop work because of severe and long-lasting disabilities have a new type of protection under the Social Security Act, but according to H. M. Cleveland, Corpus Christi District Manager of the Social Security Administration, some such workers who have not yet applied for the disability benefits, should do so before the end of June to avoid a possible loss.

"Those who are over age 50 may be eligible for monthly disability insurance payments beginning with July. The social security office has been accepting applications for the disability freeze from disabled workers of all ages since January 1, 1955. The important thing is," Cleveland said, "that some eligible persons have not yet applied. Under the present law, some workers will lose valuable rights if they do not make inquiry before July 1. Those who become disabled in the future should apply after their disability has lasted for six months if the impairment is expected to continue indefinitely."

There are certain work requirements that must be met before a period of disability can be established. The disabled person must have credit for social security work for at least 5 out of the 10 years just before he became disabled, and at least a year and a half of the work must have been in the three years just before the disability began.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Court have received word from their daughter, Mrs. Owen Rose and baby that she reached her destination. She landed at Tokyo, Japan and went by plane and train to Iwakuni which took 3 days.

Finders Keepers?

"Finders keepers, losers weepers." Is this old rhyme true or false? Lawyers say it is not always strictly accurate under the law. It is sometimes rather difficult to define the rights of a finder in court.

There are some rather fine distinctions and exceptions to the "finders keepers" maxim that have plagued the courts—and finders—for generations. In the first place, the finder is not entitled to keep the property unless the original owner is not known and cannot be located. Neither may he keep it unless the object is truly "lost," and not merely "mis-laid."

In general, property is legally "lost" when parted with involuntarily—through accident, neglect, forgetfulness or any other unintentional circumstance. Property is not lost in the legal sense when voluntarily left by the owner, intending to pick it up later—even though he fails to do so. Such property is "mis-laid."

Thus, if one loses a watch on the street by having the clasp break, not knowing where or when it was dropped, it is legally "lost." The same is true of a fountain pen falling through a hole in one's pocket unobserved. In such cases, the finder owns what he has found against all but the true owner.

On the other hand, a package left on the seat of a bus is "mis-laid" rather than lost. In one southern state, a pocketbook left in a barbershop by a customer was held to have been "left," not "lost." The barber was arrested and convicted of larceny when he spent the money that was in it. Under the law the finder of either lost or mis-laid property should make a "reasonable effort" to find the real owner.

When articles are left on a train or bus, in a public hotel room, or even when dropped on a shop floor, under circumstances indicating that the true owner will later return to claim them, such items are not considered lost. The proper custodian to hold them for the owners would be the proprietor or other person in charge.

Remaining unclaimed, the property sometimes goes to this custodian, sometimes to the finder. The distinction here appears to be whether the place it is found is private or semi-private, or a place used by the general public.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

MRS. JUERGENS HAS PICTURE IN AIR FORCE MAGAZINE

Mrs. Mary Juergens, manager of the Rockport Chamber of Commerce, had her picture in "Scope", a magazine published by the 33rd Air Defense Division, with headquarters at Oklahoma City.

The 33rd is in charge of both the 813th A & CW Squadron at Rockport, and of the 747th at Ellington, and the picture was made at the last Chamber of Commerce banquet, when entertainers from the 747th were here to entertain members and their guests.

Caption under the picture said: "Five 747th entertainers, with Mrs. Mary Juergens, Rockport, Texas, Chamber of Commerce Manager, relax after performing at a Rockport C. of C. dinner. The recent visit was one of many made by 747th personnel, endeavoring to build a solid relationship with that community prior to the opening of the new squadron there."

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Passmore, of Aransas Pass, are the parents of a son, Alan Lee, who was born May 24, in Aransas Hospital. The young man weighed 5 pounds and fourteen ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barber; paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Jasmore, of Aransas Pass.

Mrs. L. A. Hatchett of Donna, who came to attend the Jr. High graduation and reception of her grandson Roger Beasley, is spending this week with her daughter and family the Ed. Beasleys.

MICHAEL OWENS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Michael Wesley Owens was honored on his sixth birthday recently in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Owens of Fulton.

Twenty-three guests attending were: Michael, Robbie and Mark Brooks, Anna Belle and Eilene Casterline, Frankie and Florence Casterline, Robert Allen Mundine, Cynthia and Becky Rouquette, Lucy, Sue and Sally Griffith, Lynn Madden, Linda DeForest, Billy Kelsey, Brenda Borchert, Pat and Becky Weber, Rennie Owens and Barbara Owens.

Womens' Club Meeting

Howard Lee of the Marine Laborator will be the guest speaker Tuesday, June 11th at the Womens Club building. It is hoped that we will have all members and their guests attend. It is quite difficult to arrange for guest speakers to give their time voluntarily and then have only a small attendance. Mr. Lee will talk of Marine Life in all of its aspects and it promises to be educational as well as amusing. This will be the first meeting since the installation of the new Club officers.

Get in the fine-car swim at the low Ford price!

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!

To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.

But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!

And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field

Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff!

Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most expensive automobiles go this far to bring you super-smooth performance.

Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.

Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!

Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford. Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

DISABILITY INSURANCE FOR WORKERS AFTER AGE 50

Disability insurance will first be paid for the month of July to workers who are at least 50 years old and who have filed a proper application before then, according to District Manager H. M. Cleveland of the Social Security Administration. The amount of these payments is determined from the average monthly earnings of a worker in the same way the retirement insurance for older workers is figured.

To qualify under the disability provisions of the Social Security Act, two requirements must be met. One concerns a worker's past employment, and the other concerns his present ability to work.

Employment on social security jobs must have been long continued and recent. Cleveland explained that this definition is met if a worker had at least five years of covered work during the ten years just before he became disabled. In addition, he must have been in covered work not less than one half of the three years just before the onset of the disability.

The disability definition in this law is met, he said, if a worker is physically or mentally incapable of work because of sickness or accident which has continued at least six months and is expected to continue indefinitely. There is no provision for temporary or partial disability insurance. However, a younger worker who becomes disabled before age 50 should have his earnings account frozen, to drop out the period of his disability, so his later benefits will not be reduced.

To avoid a loss, Cleveland urges prompt action by a disabled worker who has not yet made an application. There is a time limit within which an application must be filed. Further information or assistance in filing a claim can be secured from the Social Security Administration, 530 South Water Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Under leadership of Mrs. Clifton McElwee and assisted by Mrs. M. M. Owens, girl scouts of troop 36, Fulton held their first meeting for the summer, Thursday, May 30th, in the Fulton Lions Club building.

Phyllis Cox and Lynda Johnson served refreshments.

Phyllis Cox presided over the business meeting and Tina McElwee acted as secretary. The five members present were Phyllis Cox, Tina McElwee, Linda Johnson, Sharon Blunt, and Barbara Owens. Suggestions were made for having a combined slumber party and camp out in the near future.

Plans were made for having a bake sale of cup cakes and fried pies. These sales go toward financing a trip to Carlsbad Cavern. This trip will be financed entirely through sales of bake goods and handy crafts made by the girls.

A musical program was presented by Tina McElwee and Barbara Owens playing piano solos.

It was decided that troop 36 would meet twice a month through the summer. Our next meeting will be June 13th at 4:00 p. m. in the Fulton Lions Club building.

Interesting Monument Erected By John Nolan At His Copano Bay Cottage Is Reminiscent of Wreck of Nicaragua

Anchor Is Reminder of His Long Association With Anchor Hocking

John R. Nolan, of Houston, as his contribution towards a more picturesque Rockport, has erected a most unusual monument at his cottage in Copano Village. A gigantic anchor, its shank pointed at the North Star, stands on a pedestal close to the road, commemorating days when modern navigational aids were unknown, and many a vessel was wrecked on the Texas coast.

Old timers along the waterfront say that the huge hunk of wrought iron came from the waters off the Devil's Elbow.

That great river of the sea that pours through the Straits of Yucaitan from the Caribbean spreads in many directions. A portion of it is deflected to the northeast part of the Gulf of Mexico and eventually passes out through the Straits of Florida to become part of the Gulf Stream.

Still others portions swing gradually to the westward, no less than five converging on the Texas coast where they mingle, agitating the surface of the sea for a hundred square miles or more off the Elbow. In the olden days, this was a region exceedingly dangerous to vessels and here, halfway down Padre Island, lies one of the graveyards of the sea.

Galleons of Spain, French brigs, pirate ships, schooners, and even modern freighters litter the floor of the sea with their rotting hulks, or are covered and uncovered by the shifting dunes of the island.

Here, too, lies one of Padre Island's mysteries, a great rusty mass of iron — the remains of the steamer Nicaragua.

Barnacles mark the high tide line on the old engine that lies in the surf, marking the last resting place of the vessel, and sea lettuce covers its salty sides and colors them a brilliant green.

Tales about the Nicaragua are legion.

One, long current, says that the vessel was the victim of saboteurs. According to this story, the ship was a gun runner, carrying arms to revolutionists south of the border. Her cargo was sacks of cement — so the stories go — and in the center of each were guns and ammunition destined to help overthrow the Mexican government.

Authorities, aware of this fact, smuggled one of their own spies aboard who crippled the steering gear so that, despite a desperate attempt to anchor, the steamer was driven ashore on Padre and her cargo lost.

Another legend says that Pat Dunne, the fabulous Duke of Padre, used the hinges from her refrigerators to hang the doors of his island home and chairs from the wreck to adorn his dining room.

All these stories may be true. No one knows, for Lloyd's Register — the only source of facts regarding the vessel — confines itself to a mundane relation of statistics.

The Nicaragua, according to this weighty tome, was a steel screw steamer of 600 tons, built at Bergen, Norway, and owned by the Compania Consolidada de Maderas. Tampico was her home port.

One hundred and eighty three feet long, with 26-foot beam and 12-foot draft, the Nicaragua was driven by three-cylinder, triple-compound engine, whose remains are still washed by the surf of Padre.

The vessel was sunk on October 16, 1912, on a voyage between Tampico and Port Arthur.

Probably she was full of bananas, but on the other hand, legend may be right. Maybe her cargo was guns.

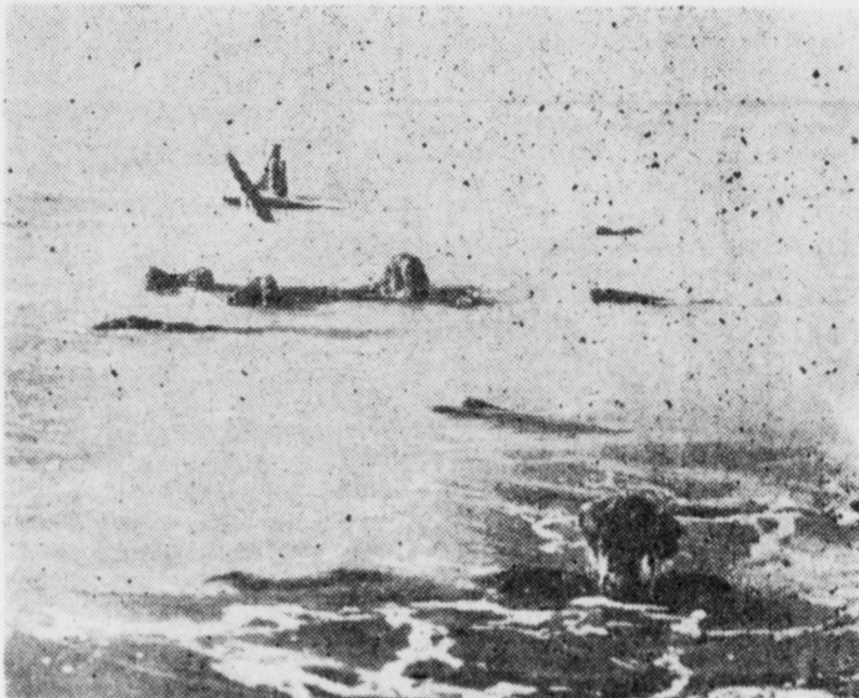

Nolan's anchor, according to the waterfront grapevine, came from the Nicaragua, and was the one lost overboard in a vain attempt to save the ship from destruction outside the pounding surf. There it lay until World War II, when a Port Isabel shrimper picked it up in his net, ruining the webbing, and brought it in to Rockport where he sold it to the Rice Boat Works of this city.

According to Rice, he wanted it to serve as an anchor in the harbor, to help launch subchasers built in the yard during the hostilities. However, huge as the anchor is (and it weighs three-quarters of a ton or more), it was not heavy enough for the task, so once more it was brought ashore. There it stayed until recently, when Rice, who knew of Nolan's search for an anchor of this kind, presented it to the Houstonian, as a symbol of the corporation he has worked for so many years, and of its trade mark.

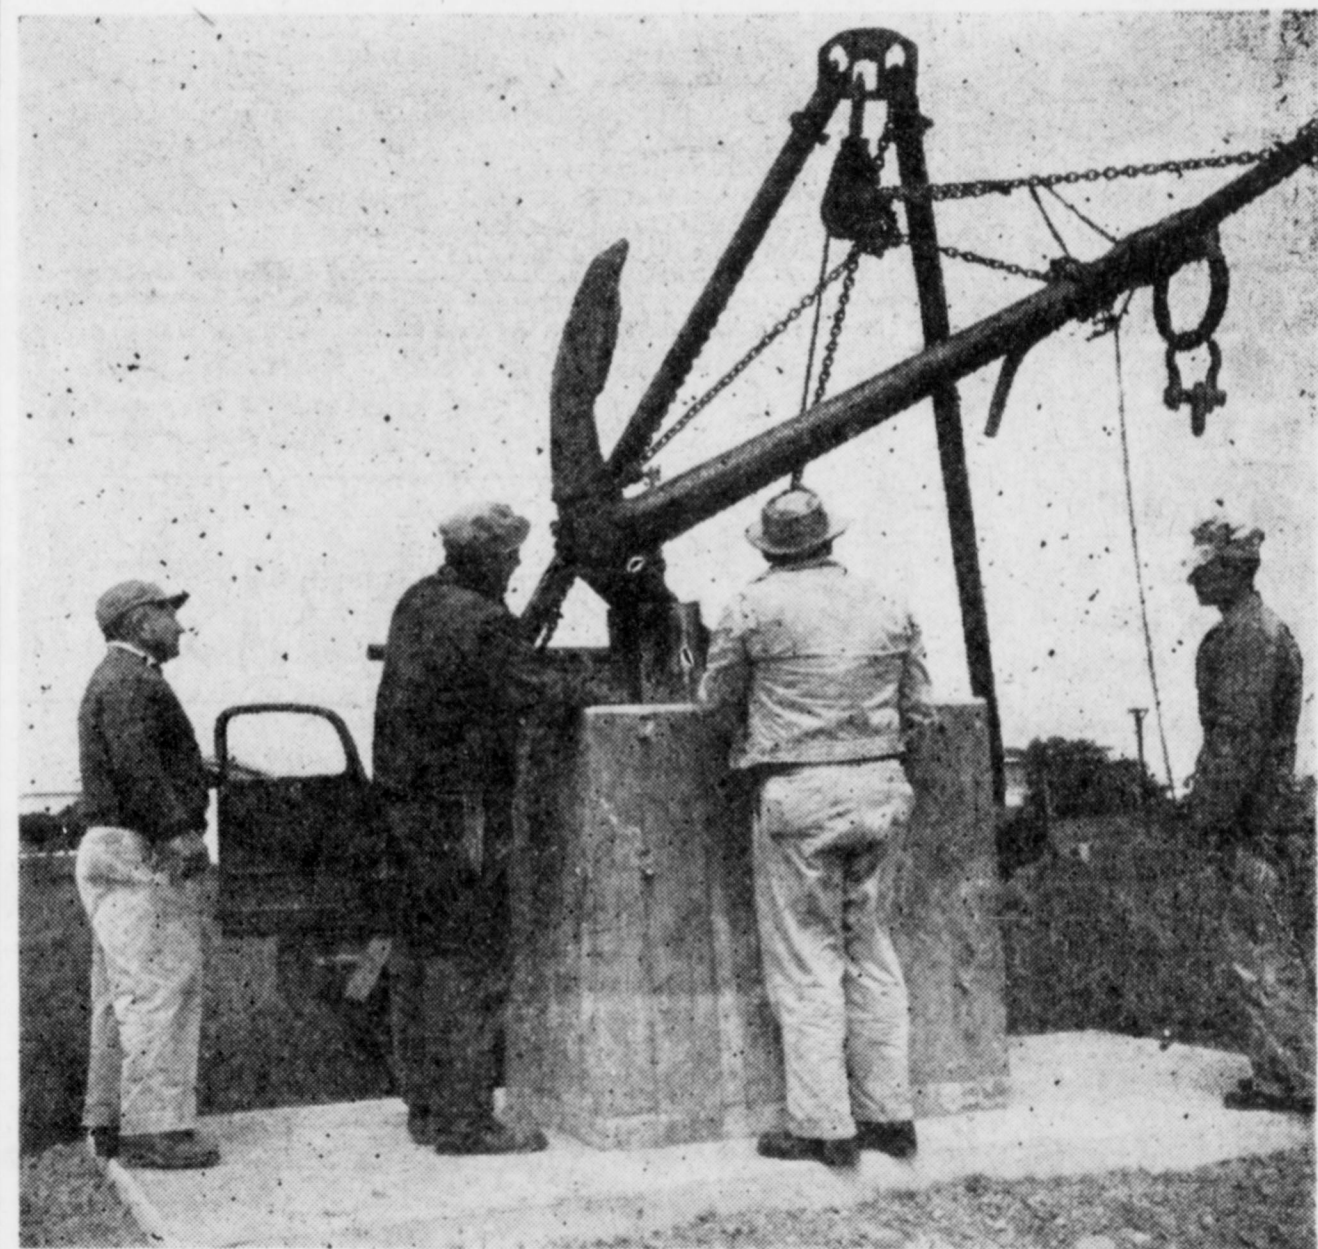

Nolan, who is southwestern district sales manager for the Anchor-Hocking Glass Corporation, and has lived in Houston for the past 32 years, has a cottage in Copano Village. It is there that the anchor is located on a heavy concrete base and pedestal running due north and south, serving as a monument that points out the pole star, as well as a unique and interesting marker for Nolan's place.

Barnacles stud the sides of the old boilers of the Nicaragua, and sea lettuce colors them a brilliant green as they are washed by the surf off Padre Island.

All of the Nicaragua's hull is gone, except these few pieces of rusting iron in the surf of the Devil's Elbow, not far from where the great wrought iron anchor that Nolan has used as a monument was found.

LONGHORN CAVERN STATE PARK has this delightful headquarters building where visitors gather to descend into the world's third largest cave. Park Road Four passes this building on its scenic route between U. S. Highway 251 and State Highway 29. The headquarters and cave are surrounded by a beautiful park of 700 acres. Eight miles distant on the same Park Road is Inks Lake State Park, a famous spot for fishing and water sports.—Photo by Tanner Studio.

Longhorn Cavern Park of the Week

Longhorn Cavern State Park has as its chief attraction the third largest cave in the world. Tours through the amazing cavern are conducted every hour on the hour from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., except at noon. About two hours time is required to complete the underground trip. It is equally enjoyable in winter and summer. A constant temperature of 64 degrees prevails.

This remarkable natural wonder is reached by Park Road Four which leaves U. S. Highway 281 between Marble Falls and Burnet. Passing near the headquarters building and cavern entrance the park road continues to Inks Lake State Park, eight miles farther, other election records and supplies shall be delivered to the Secretary at the office of the District and be preserved as provided by law in said office except that the Stub box shall be returned to the District Clerk for this County.

The above order being read, it was moved and seconded that same do pass. Thereupon, the question being called for, the following members of the Board voted AYE: N. F. Jackson, Thomas D. Picton, Raymond Owens, and the following voted NO: None.

PASSED, APPROVED AND ADOPTED this the 5th day of June, 1957.

and then to an intersection with State Highway 29 near Buchanan Dam. The road winds around the shore of Inks Lake for much of the way.

Beside the interesting stalactites reaching down from the cave roof and the stalagmites growing upward, Longhorn Cavern is notable for its crystal like walls that reflect the concealed electric lights strung through two miles of the underground passages.

Especially beautiful parts of the cavern have been given appropriate names, such as the Queen's Throne, Cathedral Room, Chandelier Room, Jacob's Well and Frozen Waterfall. The cave has never been completely explored.

Authenticated history of the discovery of the huge cavern is lacking, though scientists have found in it evidence that it had been visited for many centuries. It was opened to park visitors in 1932 and since then has been viewed by millions.

During the War between the States, Longhorn Cavern was used by the Confederates as a powder factory and storage place. It is reputed, also, to have been a hide-out of Sam Bass, the bandit, and many people believe he left hidden treasure there that has never been uncovered.
