Don't give pessimistic ans-wers too quickly. Chances are you and your family have more sources of rainy day income than you think.

The Health Insurance Institute reports that an estimated 57 million Americans have disability income protection of one and don't beat hard, just blend, sort or another. That's more Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees than twice as many as 20 years the protection they have. Perhaps that's because it comes in a variety of packages: government programs such as Workmen's Compensation and Social Security: "sick pay" programs where you work that are part of your group insurance program; plus, of course, disability income insurance programs acquired by families as individuals.

Families should find out just what income will be available to them should disability occur, They should check all sources, adding up what will be coming in and matching it against estimates of what money will have to be paid out. Then $4.16 in '66. they can set narrow the gaps.

For Curry County, New Mexico, served by the Texas State Office, the estimated loss stands at $150,000 on insured wheat.

'More potentially serious," Jordan says, "is the condition of the cotton and grain sorghum crops planted this spring which already have suffered from the almost continuous rain.

'Cotton and grain sorghum losses are expected to be high in the Blacklands and many West Texas counties also have suffered. Just getting the crop in the ground in time to meet insurance risk deadlines has been a big problem.

"Cold, rain and armyworms there losses have been report- have helped deteriorate the cotton crop in New Mexico also,"

On the brighter side, All-Risk Crop Insurance programs on irrigated wheat and grain sorghum have been made avail-able in four Panhandle counties -Hartley, Hutchinson, Ochiltree and Oldham-effective with the 1969 crop. This makes Crop Insurance now available to farmers in 70 Texas counties.

Federal Crop Insurance is designed to protect the farm working capital that must be invested and risked each year to produce a crop. Policy guarantees are geared to cover most production costs. When low yields, due to weather or other natural causes, reduce crop values below these guarantees, FCIC makes up the difference in cash.

"Throughout the 30-year histy of our program in Texas," Jordan says, "we have paid an average of nearly $3 million each year to farmers in achieving our purpose."

Comments Of C of C Manager

I take this means of saying, to the members "thank you" of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce for granting me the privilege of once again serving as your manager.

As I look backward to the I am indeed grateful and am working with you again in a most concentrated effort stress the fact that it is a 'job' and not a position as it is sometimes referred to because there is much work to be done if we properly carry out our objectives and reach the goal of success to which we are dedicated. Our fiscal year is almost half over and there are several annual projects that need immediate attention and work. We have already held some very enthusiastic committee meetings and I find that the old zeal for community leadership has dimmed, but in reality it has doubled in intensity.

Naturally this has been a great concern both to the gun and the ammunition manufacturers. They have been producing lighter guns and heavier loads, neither of which tends to reduce recoil.

Shotgunners who come up

Winchester has a stock which may prove to be the greatest step forward in reducing recoil bruises on the shoulder, It is designed to take the "kick" out of shotgun shooting.

This new recoil reduction system utilizes the principle of hydraulies and a powerful spring. On a 12-gauge gun it reduces the recoil approximately 78 per cent. This gives an effective kick of less than half the 20gauge load, when shooting the heavier 12.

This stock is available on two Winchester guns, the Model 1200 and the Model 1400.

'Inside story' of the new method of recoil reduction includes a new Cycolac stock. It duplicates the warmth of walnut, but provides greater strength than wood. It resists scratches, corrosion, salt solutions, oil, alkalies and mild acids. It won't warp or crack under extreme temperatures.

Inside this stock is a set of strong springs that flank a hydraulic cylinder. When the shotshell explodes, the springs and the hydraulies cushion the impact. The two-piece stock de-presses under the kick, and then returns to its original

Measuring the impact of recoil is not a new practice. Technically the kick is known as kinetic energy. It is created by the backthrust of the shotload as it travels along the barrel length. It is referred to in footpound measurement, and the resuits are generally known as 'free recoil.

A comparison taken from available tables, shows that a -pound, 12-gauge shotgun, loaded with 3 dr. of powder and 1 1/4 oz. shot will give a kick of 22.4 foot pounds. In a heavier load, 3 3/4 dr. of powder and 1 1/4 oz. shot, the recoil amounts to 44 pounds.

A 612 pound 20-gauge, with a light load of 2 1/4 drs, and 7/8 oz. shot will produce 16.9 pounds of back thrust. The 2 3/4 x 1, will produce 28.4 foot pounds.

This indicates that if the new Winchester device reduces free recoil of the 12-gauge to approximately one-half of the 20gauge load, the light charge would deliver under 10 pounds of kick and the heavy load would be less than 15 pounds.

Any shooter should be able to stand up under this all day at skeet, trap or in the field. Naturally the reduced recoil shotgun will gets its first real tryout on the shooting range. Skeet and trap shooters, as a have more time and money to spend. And they are constantly seeking ways to reduce recoil in sustained firing. These men also know the science of getting their gun butts to the right position against their shoulders.

No doubt similar studies are being made on big bore rifles. Here the casual hunter pays little attention to the recoil in the fever of excitement. The target shooter does. Also, it may be able to do a lot for the shooters of fully automatic weapons on the battlefield.

Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is a local non-profit organization, chartered by the State of Texas, to promote the welfare and protect the interests of the cotton industry in the 32 county Rolling Plains area. Activities are carried out under the direction of a 64 man Board of Directors, 2 from each county, who serve without pay. The organization has been tremendously successful, and has earned State and National recognition.

RPCG depends on voluntary contributions for operating funds. Due to the short crop in 1967, income was reduced 25%. Costs are up. We must have additional funds to continue to represent this area.

Help your neighbors! Carry your share of the load! Mail your contribution today to Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Box 1108, Stamford, Tex. 79553.

Traveling A Long Road

Automobile accidents claimed 52,200 lives and injured 4,200,000 persons in 1967, according to the annual booklet of highway accident statistics from The Travelers Insurance Companies. Statistics in the booklet were compiled from records of motor vehicle departments throughout the country.

These figures show a decrease of some 300 deaths and 200,000 injuries from the 1966 figures. However, "the satisfaction this gives must be qualified," said Sterling T. Booker, Travelers president. it will require many more years of consistent betterment before we can claim any genuine progress toward the conquest of a stubborn and tragic problem.

"Could we dare to hope that this one year's reduction in street and highway fatalities is the fault of the efforts of agencies of the Federal government, the individual states, private industry and the many individual groups devoted to the promotion of greater safety? Mr. Booker asked, "If so," he continued, "we must urge them to even greater effort and to give them our earnest, active

"After all, the deaths of more than 52,000 people and the injury of more than 4,000,000 others in one year is small cause for rejoicing, even though it represents some improvement over another year. Comparisons are odius unless they afford some ultimate betterment of the burnan condition," he added.

We are traveling a long road fraught with many hazards," Mr. Booker said. "Only caution on the part of every traveler will bring hum and others on the road safely to the next stage of our jour-

'66,'67 Plymouth tops Ford and Chevy in resale value

1966 PLYMOUTH FURY now brings $120 more than Ford Galaxie $120 more than Chevy Impala

If the premium prices used Plymouths are fetching these days are any indication, the Plymouth you buy now is going to be worth more when you sell it (more than Ford or Chevy!). And the more a car brings in resale, the less it costs you to buy it. Plymouth is priced low when you buy... high when you sell. You save both ways (no wonder they call Plymouth dealers The Unbeatables!).

Models used for this comparison were V-8 4-door hardtops with power steering, air conditioning, radio and heater as listed in the lane Feb. Kelley Blue Book, one of the official guides for used car prices. This is just one example. Plymouth holds the lead all down the line.

As part of this effort, we will be utilizing additional personnel from our other uniformed services to augment the regular Highway Patrol force during the holiday period.

However, the most important effort needs to come from 'heads up' driving on the part the drivers themselves who, of course have the most at stake. # PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

- Mrs. Gene Overton The talk this week in Paint land that was pasture and the oil companies. The oil companies complained that the land evaluation was not as high as it should be, and that the landowners were not paying their share. So, instead of hiring a big high-priced group of tax evaluators, or whatever they are called, a cross-cut of the landowners, who understand the value of land, were chosen to serve on an evaluating board

The farm land in Paint Creek was divided into sections, and three men were assigned to evaluate the land in a section. They met from once to twice a week for three years, and each time they worked until late deciding how each farm land in the community was taxed at too high a percent. Some

Creek is not the weather, not when taxes first were levied, the harvest, not the crops, but was still being taxed as pasture the new school tax evaluation land although it had been in on our land. I'm not bright, so cultivation for ten or fifteen my husband has to explain years. That was unfair, I think things to me very simply. As Gene said there were several now understand it, this is the groups in which land was placreason for re-evaluating our ed. Pasture land was the lowland. First of all, our land has est, poor land next, good land not been evaluated since taxes and better land, or best land on were first levied. Second, it up the scale. Maybe a farm costs more to run a school whe- had some of two or more types ther it is in New York, or Stam- of soil. Ours, for instance, has ford or Paint Creek. That we one field that is real good land, can all understand because it not the best, but real good, and costs more to run a house, or a another field we have is terribusiness, or anything. The taxes ble. It had rather grow these on our land pay only about 35 goofy little daisies than wheat. per cent of our school tax. The Anyway, the men evaluating other 65 per cent, or maybe a our place took into consideralittle less, is paid for by the tion some good, some not so West Texas Power Plant on the good, some pasture and some pretty good soil, and they took an average, and that is how our farm is faxed. Oil is about to poop out in our community, and in a few years the oil companies won't be paying as much of the school The school needed more revenue and to be fair, the evaluation had to be raised on most places. Gene said we had of the best equalization boards a community could ask Mr. Johnny Earles, Sammy Griffith, Mr. Dale Middlebrook and Mr. Albert Thane served on it, and they met Monday and heard complaints and reasons why certain taxes were just. They met farmers should be evaluated. Some poor Monday morning and oil companies Monday night. In some cases the tax might not be justifiable, and that is what our Equalization Board is for, to make changes and correct mistakes. There won't be many mistakes though, because after this group of men evaluated the they met together, and compared land evaluations, and had other groups look over their decisions, and advise about changes, or adjustments.

Of course, it would be much easier for all concerned to understand had we not lost Pat Morrison. He and Miss Irene Stuart had worked and worked on this tax thing, and he knew possibly more about it than anyone. It was almost completed when he died. In fact, Irene said that there was one decision he was studying, and he made the final decision on Friday before we lost him the next week. But he could have explained some things perhaps that Mr. Gibbs and the Equalization Board and even the Land Evaluating Board might not be as clear about. Pat had discussed much of it with Mr. Gibbs, we are lucky to have a mathematician for a Superin-

Anyway, for most of us, our taxes are up. If you feel bad school taxes in Stamford, or in the Haskell School District. They would be glad to change their farm into the Paint Creel School District

Board Monday all steamed up about his taxes being raised and he left his meeting with them congratulating the evaluating men on how well they did their job. All of which means we should try to understand the why's school, I am told, and I am sure be under one teacher. More children could be on each bus. The same number of lunch women could feed many to 30 transfers from Stamford and Haskell each year and we do a good job of helping these students. The work isn't any easier, but in smaller classes a teacher has more time for individual help for those who need
