Realization of a 10-year-old dream will come Sunday, when Bishop Adolph Marx, D.D., J.C.D., dedicates the new chapel and Mother house of the Schoenstatt Sisters of Mary on Lamar Peninsula, just across Aransas Bay from Rockport.

"We first came to America Sept. 10, 1948," said Sister Superior Mary Hroswitha, "and we vowed ble and Queen of Schoenstatt, and asked her to help us. Now, 10 years later we have saved for the chapel and she has made possible construction of the Mother House through the gifts of others."

The dedication is on Sunday, Oct. 18, birthday of the 32-yearold order of the Schoenstatt Sisters of Mary at the little town in Germany where their great Mother House now stands, and from sisters of the order have spread to the four corners of the earth.

The ceremonies at the dedication will be led by Bishop Marx, who will bless the buildings and say the first Holy Mass in the shrine. The bishop will be assisted by Father G. J. O'Doherty, as deacon, from Sacred Heart Church Boensch, of Our Lady Star of the Sea at Aransas Pass, as sub-deason; Father Robert Clark, of Corpus Christi, as master of ceremonies, and there will be nearly 30 other visiting clergy of the Catholic Church.

> The Mexican War. When it appeared that annexation by the United States in 1845 would be a certainty, and that Mexico would consider such an act a cause of war, the United States took steps to provide for the protection of Texas should the Mexicans invade her. In April, 1845, the War Department of the United States had cautioned General Zachary Taylor, who was stationed at Fort Jessup, to be on the alert. The General was instructed to keep in touch and co-operate with the Texas officials, and was later directed to move by sea and land at some point on the Texas coast > in proximity to the Nueces River. Taylor's army embarked at New Orleans on July 22, 1845, and arrived, escorted by men-of-war, at St. Joseph's Island on July 29. General Taylor remained with his troops at St. Joseph's Island until his several reconnaisance parties location for a permanent camp. The General, for political as well as strategic reasons, desired the encampment to be one the West the other two companies.

An encampment was established, Access to Wood Street. and the Live Oak under which General Taylor had his own tent visited Live Oak Point, where the officers were entertained by Col- Charter No. 4438 onel and Mrs. Powers at their historic home.

The large troop concentration at Corpus Christi created a demand sters. Army contactors were sent and Victoria counties to buy provisions and to engage the services supplies. Many citizens of those counties were soon engaged in aid-

James Power was another one who contracted cattle and beef to the American army. He had a passport from General Taylor to to and from Mexico whenever he so desired.

Contemporaneous with the Mexican war the Indian tribes of Texas Undivided profits became more active in their warfare against the whites. On July 14, 1847, Governor Henderson wrote Mirabeau B. Lamar, who was then commander at Laredo: "Complaints are constantly being sent in from Corpus Christi, San Patricic, Goliad and Davis' Bluff that the Indians are harassing them." Among such incidents was the Comanche raid on the Black Point settlements. A courier was and belief. sent to Major John H. Wood and other ranches living west of the Aransas, warning them of the presence of the Indians in the coastal country. A COMMUNITY PROJECT

As cooler weather rolls around most of us think this is the time of year for football. It is also the time of year that United Fund drives are kicked-off around the country. The other day a friend of mine told me that I consider myself the most important charity. After I got over my flare of temper I thought about that comment. Most of us do think too much of ourselves when it comes to our money. I have often heard it sad, "Give until it hurts." I don't think that anyone wants you to deprive your family of their needs, but I do think you should consider giving all you can afford when you make your contribution. Have you ever considered that most of the agencies particlpating in the United Fund are agencies that are used by you or a

There are some agencies on the list that I hope you neverneed, but remember that your donation is the only thing that insures their being there, should you or a member of your family Support your United Fund with your time and your money, both are badly needed.

BEAUTY ON DUTY

What does this headline mean to you. If you're a homemaker, it could mean the new washer or dryer, or maybe even a new dishwasher. To a man "Beauty on Duty" could mean a new car or the new transistor radio that brings you the football games. For teenagers, it could mean the old but treasured jalopy sitting proudly in the driveway.

But here at the telephone company, we have our own special definition of "Beauty on Duty"-a bedroom telephone in color. A bedroom phone in color deserves the title, too, because it brightens your bedroom while helping you keep in touch between chores during the day. It also gives you a sense of security and keeps you free from care and worry at night.

Color telephones are also available with a built-in night lightideal for bedrooms. To order your bedroom phone in color, just call Mrs. McDonald at the telephone business office. The number is SO 4-2269.

HOW NOT TO TIE UP YOUR PHONES

I was passing the time of day with a fellow recently when he suddenly blurted out, as if he'd just thought of something. "I just found out that if the receiver isn't on your phone straight and firm that all the phones in your house can be tied up and nobody can call you."

"That's right," I said.

"Well," he said, "you ought to tell people about that. It's important." My friend's right. It is important to make sure receivers on all your telephones are on the hook. It's even more important if you're on a party line. A receiver off any phone ties up the line for everyone else. "Why," I asked my friend, "are you so suddenly interested in this subject."

"Because a fellow tried to call me and couldn't, and I missed out on a fishing trip-that's why," he said.

Call by number. It's twice as fast. SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

One of the features of the new West Supermarket which opened this week is this big map at which out of town visitors are asked to mark their homes by pins with colored heads. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hodges were the first to advertise their home town, Crosbyton. They are winter visitors and have been for many years, and Jerry has acquired a reputation as one of the best red fishermen in these parts. In the first day after the store opened, 58 people stuck pins in the map-29 from other towns in Texas; three from Louisiana; five from Oklahoma; and others from Medicine Hat, Alberta, Regina, Saskatchewan, and Winnipeg, Manitoba, in Canada; Norfolk, Virginia; Los Angeles; Seattle and another town in Washington; Denver; Spencer, Iowa; Lincoln, Nebraska; Oshkosh, Wisconsin; St. Louis, Kankakee, Illinois; New Harbors, Minnesota; and Traverse City, Michigan.

Mutual security program as one of these.

Programs that had an excellent reason for being when they were started, Young said, often outlived their usefulness, but were hard to get rid of. Foreign aid was one of these, the Congressman stated, and said that looseness of administration made for a great deal of waste. However, he continued, we have to work with them, and ctf to preserve the desirable features as far as we can, while cutting out the deadwood.

Another question was on the effect of Krushchev's visit. "It is too early to evaluate it," the Congressman said.

In the beginning, he stated, it vas thought that Krushchev actually wanted to see the UnUited States and to judge for himself but he quickly showed that he wanted to go where there were crowds, for propaganda purposes. "But we should never miss a chance for peaceful talks over problems of this kind," Young said, "and if Krushchev gained an idea of the determination of the American people to resist aggression and to preserve their own way of life, then it was a profit-But if we allow ourselves to be lulled to a false sense of security, the Congressman said, we could quickly wake up in trouble, for there will be no time to prepare for the next way similar to that America had in World Wars

Farm Census Confidential Says Director

Field work in the 1959 Census of Agriculture will get underway soon when a census taker will start visiting every farm in the area, it was announced today by Field Director James W. Stroud of the Census Bureau's regional office at Dallas, who said all replies will be confidential and cannot be used for investigation, taxation or regulation.

Farm census questionnaires have been mailed to all farm operators. The census taker will visit all local farms to collect the questionnnaires and, if necessary, assist the farmer in filling out the report form. The 1959 Census of Agriculture is the 17th in a series of nationwide farm canvasses, the first of which was conducted in 1840. The Census of Agriculture is taken at five-year intervals to provide upto-date statistical information about the nearly five million farms which supply food and raw materials for manufacture of goods used by the people of the United States, now numbering about 178 million. The current census will yield information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities and equipment and selected farm expenditures.

The field director emphasized that all information about individuals and their farm operation furnished to the Census bureau is held in absolute confidence under Federal law. It is used only to provide summary figures such as totals, averages, and percentages.

Mike Townsend will spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Townsend.
