Mrs. Jack Pippin Presented In Book Review At Meeting of Garden Club

Haskell Garden Club meeting for April 11, in the Community Room, Haskell National Bank, presented Mrs. Jack Pippin in review of "Silent Spring" by Rachel Carson.

Mrs. Pippin reviewed this highly controversial book in her very capable style. Garden Club members and guests were informed concerning one of the United States' most vexing problems, the rampant use of insecticides. None had been aware of the vast damage done by the use of these various sprays so widely used by farmers, gardeners and housewives.

In man's vain attempt to destroy the many enemy insects, he has unwittingly destroyed his insect friends, birds and other wildlife. A few of our country's able agriculturists are trying very hard to send out the warning of the great danger of our land and people face because of this uncontrolled use of deadly chemicals.

The club is indebted to Mrs. Pippin for reviewing this very important and timely book.

The eighteen guests from Rule, Stamford, Sagerton and Haskell expressed how much they enjoyed seeing the horticulture specimens shown by the club members, the book review, and the tea hour.

Mrs. C. B. Rhea, club president, and Mrs. R. C. Couch, program chairman, presided over the tea table, which was beautifully laid with punch bowl and coffee service. An arrangement of Iris in a silver epergne, grown by Mrs. Ed Fouts, gave the true touch of Spring.

The workshop for covering the couch will be tonight, Thursday, April 18, at the Homemaking Cottage at 7:30.

There are forty-six homes, churches and structures in Jefferson which have received the Texas State Historical Survey Committee award. Much of the state and national recognition of Jefferson has come about through the hard work of the Jessie Allen Wise Garden Club, which in a period of 19 years, has acquired and restored the Manse, oldest structure, the old federal courthouse and post office, now an outstanding museum, Jay Gould Railroad car, and the Excelsior House in 1961.

Mrs. Terry, being a member of the Garden Club and manager of the hotel and Pilgrimage, as well as Marion County chairman of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, was very encouraging to the effort of the Haskell Depot Museum.

The Middletons returned with renewed interest in further work on Haskell's fine young museum.

An earnest effort has been made to contact each of you personally, but to those of you I have not visited personally, I would like to ask for your vote and influence in electing me as your commissioner. I realize this is an important office in governing our county business.

"I lived near Weinert, went to school there and graduated from high school in 1944. Soon after, I joined the Armed Forces and served with 701 St. Combat M. P. Battalion. After a short time in John Tarleton College, I came back to Haskell to begin my farming career. I married the former Thelma Copeland and moved to the place we now live just west of Haskell. We have two children, C. A. III, age 16, and Cindy, 9. I am 42 years old.

"I feel that the office of Commissioner is a very responsible office and the decisions made in this office affect each and every citizen in the county. I shall attempt at all times to carefully study the distribution and investments of each taxpayer's interest, and be fair, honest, and sincere when exercising my vote, trying at all times, to promote the growth and improvement of our precinct, whether it be in Commissioners Court or in the north-west corner of Haskell County. I will do the very best I can to see everyone has an improved road to travel. "More Farm-to-Market Roads" will be a worthy goal for which to work.

"I elected to serve as your commissioner, I will make plans to attend a short course at Texas A&M this fall. This is a program for County Judges and Commissioners sponsored by Texas Agriculture and Extension Service and Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association, to better train and acquaint officials in County Government. So far as I know, no other Commissioner from Haskell County has ever attended this school.

"I sincerely hope that each of you will accept this message as a personal solicitation of your vote, support, and influence in my campaign for election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct 1, Haskell County, Texas.

Cook Home Is Scene of Ruth Circle Meeting

The Ruth Circle met Tuesday, April 16th, in the home of Mrs. Roy Cook, with Mrs. G. L. Kennedy opening the session with prayer.

Following the reading and approval of the minutes, Mrs. Elliott announced that Mrs. Bill Kemp will be the director of the Vacation Church School, and Mrs. Kemp asked for workers. Mrs. Smith will serve as one of the workers, and reported she has several from the Presbyterian Church to assist.

Mrs. Kemp told the group the Christian Church had been invited to join in the school but Rev. Patterson has not heard from them.

Mrs. Smith reminded the group of the senior banquet to be held April 30th.

The W.S.C.S. and the Guild will entertain the women of the Christian Church with a salad supper, April 24th.

Mrs. Smith gave a very interesting program entitled "Where Do We Go From Here?" The last three programs have been on "Our Youth" and how to better communicate with them. She was assisted by Mrs. Coston, Mrs. Roberson, Mrs. Blankenship and Mrs. Powell.

A discussion followed the program on "How We Can Help Our Youth and Understand Them Better."

The meeting closed with a prayer for youth read by Mrs. Smith.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the 14 members present.

Stitching And Stewing

By Ruth Ann Fansler
County H. D. Agent

To cook boiled eggs, bring the eggs to a boil in cold water, plunge them into ice water and shake the pan gently to crack the shells.

This method will leave a clean, firm egg white after shelling. The Department of Poultry Science at Texas A&M University conducted experiments which pointed out that such a method was the best way to cook hard-boiled eggs.

Eggs were placed into cold water and boiled for 20 minutes. The hot eggs were plunged immediately into ice water for five minutes. After the ice water was poured off, the pan was shaken gently to crack the shells which slipped off.

In the method with the second best results, eggs were placed in boiling water and cooked for 20 minutes. In the third method, eggs were placed in cold water and brought to a boil.

In a fourth method, eggs were broken before cooking and put into plastic containers to boil. That method, also used to cook soft-boiled eggs, eliminated cracking and peeling the shell but required the use of a commercially-made plastic shell still in the experimental stage and not available to homemakers.

No cooking utensils to wash. Does it sound good to you?

Try cooking chicken in a paper bag, the brown paper sacks that come from the grocery store.

Cut a fryer into halves or quarters. Brush the inside and outside with butter and sprinkle with celery salt, onion salt, garlic salt, pepper and paprika.

Place the pieces in a heavy brown paper bag, allowing plenty of room without stacking. Twist the bag shut. Cook on a rack in a 400 degree F. oven for an hour and fifteen minutes.

The bag will not burn, and you can forget about the chicken until the cooking time is up. A pan may be placed on a lower rack to catch any drippings.

A suggested menu includes potato baked with the chicken, a wilted spinach salad, ice cream, and milk to drink... Lemon and orange slices are good with chicken.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

From the first floor of the courthouse, Selma Follstedt, stenographer for the State Department of Public Welfare, submitted this week's recipe.

Chiffon Cake

1 cup egg whites (7 or 8)
1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 1/2 cups sifted granulated sugar
3 tsps. baking powder (double action)
Bake 1 hour at 325 degrees
Bake 10 minutes at 350 d.

1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup cooking oil
7 unbeaten egg yolks
1/2 cup water
1 tsp. vanilla
2 tsps. grated lemon rind

1. Pre-heat oven to 325 degrees. 2. Whip egg whites and cream of tartar until very stiff peaks are formed. (Must be stiffer than for Angel Food Cake). 3. Sift flour, sugar, salt and baking powder into a large mixing bowl. 4. Make a well in the center of the flour; add oil, egg yolks, water, vanilla and lemon rind. 5. Beat with wooden spoon until smooth. 6. Gradually pour egg yolk mixture over whipped egg whites, folding gently with a rubber scraper just until blended. Do not stir. 7. Pour into an ungreased 10-inch aluminum tubed cake pan at once. Bake. Immediately turn pan upside down to cool. When cool, cut cake from sides and tube of pan. Lift out cake by the tube, and invert on plate.

Cotton Meeting of Area Importance Will Be Held Tonight At Stamford

A cotton meeting of area importance will be held in Stamford at the High School Auditorium tonight, Thursday, April 18, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The meeting, sponsored by Stamford Electric Cooperative, will feature three speakers who are well known in their respective fields of fiber research, plant breeding, and cotton marketing.

According to Charles Stenholm, Assistant Manager of Stamford Electric Cooperative, "the purpose of this meeting is to give area farmers the opportunity to hear and see some of the work being done to keep the cotton industry alive and prosperous in the Rolling Plains of Texas. Farmers, in the next few years, will be asked to make many critical decisions regarding cotton and the many activities that go into growing, harvesting, and selling the final end product. In order that we can make the right decisions we must avail ourselves of every opportunity to learn about new and modern techniques to better assure ourselves of making the right decisions," continued Stenholm.

Speakers for the evening will be Harry Arthur, Assistant Director of The Textile Research Center at Texas Technological College in Lubbock. Mr. Arthur has been in the cotton industry for some 20 years, the last seven of which have been at Texas Tech, where he has been in charge of a number of spinning contracts involving different ginning, harvesting, and insecticide treatments as related to fiber properties processing, and spinning performances. He will talk about these and other activities of the Center pertaining to the spinning of cotton.

Dr. Levon L. Ray, nationally known plant breeder from the South Plains Research and Extension Center, will be the second speaker and his talk will cover his work in the development of cotton varieties as well as discussion of some of the varieties available for planting this year. Dr. Ray has been employed at the Center for 19 years during which he has been personally responsible for many improvements in cotton quality through variety improvement.

The last speaker will be Dan Davis, General Manager of the 29,000 farmer member Plains Cotton Cooperative Association, a position he has held since 1956. During this period, the cooperative has risen from a small, obscure beginning to a position of dominance among handlers of American cotton. The cooperative's growth is attributable to pioneering efforts in the field of fiber testing, application of electronic computers to cotton merchandising problems and the development of new sales techniques to secure world-wide markets. Mr. Davis will talk primarily of the work of his Association in the area of instrument evaluation of cotton.

Following the formal presentations a question and answer session will be held and discussion of planting dates for 1968 will be held. Every cotton farmer in the area is urged to attend this highly informational meeting tonight, Thursday, April 18, beginning at 7:30, in Stamford at the High School Auditorium.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

We have had such a busy week in the garden I have not had time to think about a column.

Chrysanthemums should be divided and re-set. It is best to discard the old plants and use only the young tender ones. Remember that mums spread and leave enough space to accommodate new plants. Pinch the top out of the plants to encourage branch, continue pinching the plant back until July, this method retards growth of the mums and keeps the plants from becoming too tall. Plants that are pinched back produce many more blossoms than do the ones that are left unmoles- ted.

If a succession of blooms are desired, plant Gladioli every two weeks, as long as corns can be obtained. Be sure to stake Glads so the heavy flower spikes will not pull the corns out of the soil. The corns can be planted deep and lightly covered until the plant appears, then more dirt can be pulled in- to the hole as the plant grows. Staking Glads is a good policy, the flower spikes are so heavy that they tend to fall, or break, if not staked.

When Dahlias get about eight inches high, pinch out the center of the plant to encourage branching. Be sure to stake the tall variety of Dahlias. Dust the ground around the plants with wettable sulphur to prevent mildew. All fungi comes from the soil originally, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

If you plan on saving seed for next year's garden, do not plant cucurbits such as gourds, pumpkins, kershaw, all squashes and cucumbers close together as all these plants will cross pollinate. The resulting vegetable could be most anything. One year we planted cucumbers and cantaloupe side by side, saved the seed and planted them the next year. The result was a cantaloupe with the taste of a cucumber. Boy! What a rude awakening the first bite turned out to be.

Sweet and hot peppers will all- so mix. We planted bell and Cayenne pepper side by side, saved the seed and planted them the next year. We raised hot bell pepper and the cayenne pepper was very mild that year.

It is not wise to save seed of tomatoes that are planted near as they, too, cross pollinate. Plants from the seed saved might produce any kind of fruit.

Hybrid plants are not good as seed producers, as the resulting plants from such seed might revert back to the original plants from which it was sta- led.

All Garden Club members are becoming alarmed at the danger there is in using insecticides. One should be very careful to read the label of all dusts and sprays and follow di- rections to the letter.

Scheduled Hearing Cotton Growers Before Senate Committee Delayed

A scheduled hearing of cotton growers before the Senate Agriculture Committee has been delayed due to uncertain conditions in the Nation's capital, according to Charles G. Bragg, executive vice-president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Bragg, with other representatives of Texas cotton producer groups, was to have flown to Washington on Monday where they had been scheduled to appear before the Senate Agriculture Committee to present testimony favoring an extension of the present cotton program.

After careful consideration of the situation in the District and telephone conversations with Congressman Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls and George Mahon of Lubbock, it was decided to cancel the trip. Congressman Mahon was furnished copies of the testimony and agreed to be personally responsible for presenting it for the Texas growers when the hearings are finally held.

Senator Ellender, chairman of the Committee, was notified by wire of the cancellation and extra copies of the testimony sent to him by mail. Late Monday Congressman Purcell said that due to the turmoil created by the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King in Memphis, Tenn., the legislative programs in both House and Senate had been revised. He was unable at the time of the call to contact Senator Ellender or any other member of his staff. Congressman Purcell assured Bragg that he and Mahon would lend whatever assistance they could in getting the Texas growers' testimony before the Senate Committee.

"For the first time in history," said Bragg, "Texas growers will present a united front on major provisions of the new cotton program whenever the testimony is presented."

Details of the presentation were worked out at a meeting of Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organizations held early last week in Dallas. Bragg said "TACPO's program, to be presented to both the Senate and House Agriculture committees, would include practically every detail of the legislative proposals approved by the RPO's executive directors and legislative committee at a March meeting in Stamford.

Specific recommendations to the Ellender Committee included the following excerpts from the testimony to be given: "Most important, any extension of the present program must be designed to maintain the current level of producer income... This should be an absolute minimum income for cotton producers, and while we agree that provisions of the program must be flexible, we believe it is essential that this amendment (the Ellender Amendment to the 1965 act guaranteed cotton producers 65 per cent of parity) remain intact in new legislation."

"A program must be designed for domestic and export consumption that will lead to a return to a profitable production from a legal minimum of 16 million acre national allotment. Texas cotton farmers export approximately 65 per cent of their crop each year. On the farm, they cannot separate domestic from export bales. They cannot separate export acres from domestic acres. The cost of producing for the two markets is the same... Therefore, we recommend that the price support payment provisions be modified to include the total needs of the market, both export and domestic."

"Authority to transfer cotton allotments between farms by sale or lease should not only be extended, but liberalized. It can be made more efficient by removing the 100-acre limitation and extending the time period during which transfers can be made."

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM

By John Connally, Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:

"Be All You Can Be—Read!" is the theme for the 1968 National Library Week Program, the year-round reading and library development campaign scheduled to hold its eleventh annual observance April 21-27.

The library is one of the foundation stones of human freedom and human dignity. The library offers the place for the opportunity to learn and to know, the opportunity without which the citizen cannot be free. Public, special, school and academic libraries serve as pools of information from which we can draw to grow in knowledge and understanding.

The library stands like an open door to all citizens. The more information the library contains, the wider the door is opened, and the greater opportunity it offers for widened horizons and heightened skills and abilities. The library offers these opportunities to fulfill the potential that exists in every man, to "Be All You Can Be—Read."

National Library Week highlights the importance of all types of libraries and their services. The development and continuance of good reading habits through greater use of libraries is encouraged. Stimulation of better library support and recruitment to the library profession are other aims of this special week.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of April 21-27, 1968, as LIBRARY WEEK in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 13th day of December, 1967.

JOHN CONNALLY, Governor of Texas

Rule Seniors To Present Final Event

Several months of fund-raising activities by the Rule Senior Class will be climaxed next Monday night, April 22nd, when they present the Senior Sing, "The Sounds of Music."

This will be the final event for the class before they leave on the annual senior trip, scheduled for May 9th, aboard a jet bound for Washington, D. C.

The Sing is to be a musical under the direction of Mrs. Don W. Davis, a senior mother, with Mrs. Mike Herrington providing the piano accompaniment. Other accompaniments will be Ray Clark with the electric guitar and the Velvetens with their ukeleles. The class has worked hard to prepare such songs as "The Sound of Music," "Blowing in the Wind," "Where Have All the Flowers Gone," "Talk With Animals," "You'll Never Walk Alone," and others.

A boys trio will be featured, singing "Michele," and the highlight of the evening will be the presentation of "I Am An American." This is a patriotic narration and songs based upon an essay written in 1964 by a high school girl for national competition and was a first-place winner; it is an interpretation of what it means to live in this wonderful country, and the many freedoms to enjoy.

There will be something that each person will enjoy, regardless of personal preference in music.

Admission will be 25c and 65c.

VA Questions and Answers

Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—A statement in my service medical report says that I have a stomach hernia that I received while in service. Although I was discharged from the Army about five years ago, is it too late for me to file for compensation on the VA?

A—No, it is not too late. There is no time limit as to when a veteran may file for compensation for a disease or injury which he believes was incurred while serving in the Armed Forces.

Q—I understand that once payments to my beneficiary (wife) on my G. I. insurance policy contract have begun, she cannot change the plan of settlement. Is this true? Suppose her needs change suddenly after my death, what can she do? A—Formerly, once payments had begun on a selected option settlement of a G. I. insurance contract, the beneficiary could not change this option. However, under new VA regulations now in effect, your beneficiary (wife) may change to a more advantageous option if (1) the change is requested within one year of the beneficiary's initial choice of option and (2) the beneficiary's health has not changed during that interval. So your wife does have a choice.

Peak Tornado Season Is Approaching

C. O. Layne, State Coordinator of Defense and Disaster Relief for the Texas Department of Public Safety, today reminded Texans that the peak tornado season is approaching.

"Statistics from the United States Weather Bureau's State Climatologist indicate that Texas again led the nation in total tornadoes last year, with an all-time record of 232," Layne said. The 1967 figure compares with the 77 twisters confirmed in the State during 1966.

Only two months in 1967, January and November, were free from tornadoes. September accounted for more than half with a total of 124. Of the September tornadoes, 115 occurred in or before that date.

The state director of Selective Service also announced receipt of a state call for 42 doctors of medicine and two doctors of osteopathy for the Army during July, August and September. The national quota is 1,070 medical doctors and 56 osteopaths.

"BE ALL YOU CAN BE... READ"

"Be All You Can Be... Read," is the rallying cry for the 11th annual observance of National Library Week, April 22-27. The specific goal set by the Texas NLW committee was to reach as many people as possible and make them aware of the most important "happening" we know... the state plan for library development in Texas. Purpose of this goal was to continue the work by the Governor's Conference and to prepare for state library legislation, which is being sponsored by the Texas Library Association.

The state committee concentrated on this theme: Yours for the asking! Your library card makes possible the riches of the libraries of Texas through inter-library cooperation under the State Library Development Plan. See your library about inter-library loan. Phrased in various ways, the committee has attempted to give this idea the widest possible coverage through contacts with all types of libraries... public, school and special; through the news media and through civic and cultural organizations.

Three points are stressed in working toward this goal of making Texans aware of their libraries and library services... 1) the availability to each Texan of inter-library loan service through his own local library, 2) the state standards for library service and how his local library compares with them, 3) future plans for library cooperation, including the linking of libraries by telephone and Telex, which go into effect this year. Major emphasis was placed on the first inter-library loan service available to all Texans.

Books and material borrowed through inter-library loans are handled in a prescribed manner. A request may go through any or all of the following steps: First, through a Type III Library. Second, through a resource center library. Third, through a major resource library. Fourth, through the Texas State Library and finally to any source possible.

This chain is set into motion when a patron makes a request through his own local library. If the book or material is not available at this source, a search of neighboring libraries is conducted. Then a quick call or letter to the major center serving the area also serves as contact to all ten major resource centers, through the new TELEX Rapid Communication System. Within a week or so, the material requested should be in the patron's hands.

The major resource centers in Texas are located in Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock and San Antonio.

HASKELL COUNTY HISTORY

30 YEARS AGO

Miss Elsie Bradley has been named as Haskell's representative in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce beauty pageant, in which the "Queen of West Texas" will be selected during the annual convention of the organization in Wichita Falls next week.

L. B. Dendy and J. T. Adkins, workmen on the county hospital building now under construction, were injured late Friday afternoon when they fell about 10 feet from a scaffold on which they were working. Adkins received several fractured ribs, and was injured in the back and hips. Both men were given first aid treatment at the office of Dr. T. W. Williams, and later were removed to the Stamford sanitarium in a Holden's ambulance.

Two road improvement projects in Precincts 2 and 4 of Haskell county are embodied in applications filed for WPA approval last week. The two projects call for widening and other general improvements on approximately 60 miles of important lateral roads in each of the two precincts.

As an added convenience for their patrons and in keeping with a progressive program of expansion inaugurated several years ago when their building was completely modernized, Oates Drug Store, will install within the next few days, the latest type of Frigidaire air conditioning equipment.

Wycliffe Malphurs, a senior in Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Malphurs.

At a meeting of the Haskell County Bar Association held on Tuesday, officers for the ensuing year were elected and plans were outlined for the annual association banquet to be held Saturday, May 21st. New officers elected were: President, Dennis Ratliff; vice-president, F. M. Robertson; secretary-treasurer, John A. Willingham.

40 YEARS AGO

A new combination ambulance and funeral car, with the latest and most modern equipment, was recently delivered to Jones-Cox & Co. for their undertaking department and they are now prepared to give day or night ambulance service, which fills a long-felt need in our city. This department is under the able supervision and management of Mr. W. O. Holden, who recently accepted a position with this firm.

Miss Alice Hornsby has accepted a position as bookkeeper for McNeil and Smith Hardware Company, and entered upon her new duties this week.

E. C. and E. I. Christian, proprietors of the Haskell Mill & Elevator, have leased the building on the north side of the square formerly occupied by the Merchants Cafe and announce that they will open a grocery and feed store in this location.

Wednesday morning at 7:00 o'clock, 13 ladies representing the various Home Demonstration Clubs over the county and our agent, Miss Gunn, left Haskell for an educational tour of Wichita Falls. Those going from Haskell were Miss Matilda Gunn, Mrs. Mack Perdue, from Roberts Club, Mrs. Jim Stanford, Mrs. Emmet Couch and Mrs. Colby from Rose, Mrs. G. D. Payne, and the following from Midway: Mrs. J. B. Parmelly, Mrs. R. L. Hutton, Mrs. Jesse B. Smith and Messrs. Tom Baker, J. S. Hays and two more whose names the writer was unable to get.

W. R. Cook and George Snowden returned last week from a trip to Henderson and Kaufmann counties and report a fine trip. They stated that much of the crops were planted and up to a good stand where they had been.

C. F. Oman of Weineret was in Haskell Thursday of last week on business. He is a successful farmer of this section.

According to W. G. Russell, who has arrived in Haskell and will be manager of the Stamford & Western Gas Co. for this city, residents of Haskell may be using natural gas within the next 30 days.

60 YEARS AGO

All citizens who are against bootlegging and law-breaking and who uphold law and order, will meet at the courthouse this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock; the banks and merchants will close their doors to attend this meeting.

Mr. T. J. Lemmons was returned from Salton Valley, California, where he went several weeks ago with the expectation of remaining. He says it is too hot there for him and did not like the country otherwise, hence his return.

Finding the road nearly impassable for his wagon, Mr. B. C. Renfro, who resides a few miles north of Haskell, came to town Wednesday with a pair of mules drawing only the front wheels of his wagon. Now don't that cork you? Mr. Renfro is from Central Texas and knew how to tackle the muddy road. But think of a Central Texas mudslinger coming out here to get away from the hell weevils and mud, finding himself in a pickle. True, he has gotten well away from the hell weevils, but the mud, don't mention it, but go and fix the road.

Postmaster Jno. B. Baker attended a meeting of the Republican state executive committee at Dallas, Tuesday.

The Rule baseball team defeated the Haskell boys Tuesday, 8-0, in a game played at Rule. When the Haskell boys, or any of the Haskell people do something, we like to brag on them, but in this case the less said the better, as we were not informed that they were all sick or crippled and have no excuse to offer for them.

The following ladies were visitors at Mrs. Theo Wright's this week: Mrs. J. V. W. Holmes and little daughter, Catherine, of Sweetwater; Mrs. O. W. Dutton and Mrs. Alford Shepperdson of Stamford, and Miss Lillie Bizzell of Albany.

Prof. Harlan Hester of Weineret, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hester, here, Sunday.

Short Cut To Age Proof Solution For SS Claim

Are you planning to file for your social security retirement benefits anytime in the next few years? If you are, Don Austin, Field Representative of the Abilene Social Security District Office, suggests that you get proof of your age now rather than waiting until you file your claim.

The most frequent delay in processing a claim is waiting on proof of the applicant's age. The State of Texas has been keeping birth records since 1903. Although some births were not recorded in those early years, a surprisingly large number are on record.

Field Representative Austin suggests that if you are over 27, and were born in Texas, you should request a search for your birth record now.

Use the coupon below. Give full information. Sign your name and show your present mailing address. Enclose a $1.50 check or money order payable to: Bureau of Vital Statistics. Even a "no record" answer will help speed your future social security claim, as more recent records may then be used, adds Austin.

Perry Makes Statement To Voters, Prec. 3:

J. R. (RAY) PERRY

"I want to take this opportunity of soliciting your vote and influence in behalf of my candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Prec. No. 3.

"I have lived in this Precinct practically all of my life and I feel that I am well acquainted with the problems and needs of the communities. I am also familiar with the duties of a commissioner and I pledge to you that if elected to this office, I will discharge all of the duties of the office in a fair, impartial and businesslike manner. I have some positive goals in mind for the precinct which I feel will be a real asset to the people.

"The office of Commissioner is a very important office. The Commissioners Court conducts one of the largest businesses in the county. I pledge to you that I will always use my very best judgment, considering all sides of every issue, and attempt to discharge the duties of the office in a manner so as to merit your continued support and confidence.

"I have attempted to visit with each of you personally and I want to thank all of you for your kindness and consideration during the campaign. "It is my sincere wish that you will see fit to allow me to serve you as your next commissioner."

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The following is a short speech made on the floor of the House of Representatives preceding the consideration of the Civil Rights Bill passed by the House of Representatives last week:

"Mr. Burleson, Mr. Speaker, obviously the House is proceeding today under sensitive circumstances. Frankly, in my opinion we should not be in session at all and specifically we should not be considering the legislation before us under prevailing conditions.

"There is not a Member here who would not assume that I am opposed to the pending bill but let me say to those of you who support it that you would do well for the country to wait for a more sober and a more calm atmosphere to act than is the obvious case at the present time.

"I think if I were for this so-called civil rights bill, with its open housing feature, I would not want to cast my vote for it while soldiers and marines are having to stand guard in front of this Capitol. I resent threats of force and duress in anything and if I had to legislate under such conditions I would walk out of this Chamber and not return.

"There is a way to honorably and with courage meet this issue, since apparently it is going to be acted on within the next hour or so. That is, to send this measure to conference with the Senate. Let differences between the House and Senate bills be resolved and brought to each body for approval or disapproval under more calm circumstances.

"This matter has no deadline except the threats of these groups who look for any excuse to riot and demonstrate. If it is not this, it likely will be something else. When the drums call they will be there and it is high time we challenge the drummer.

"It is a sad commentary on this Congress if it yields to the pressures of the moment. I for one had rather yield my seat in this House than to do so."

The results of this legislation referred to is now well-known to everyone from press reports.

As one who has always taken pride in the House of Representatives of the Congress as the greatest deliberative body in the world, there is reason today to be ashamed of its actions. The shame is not only the results of the vote but also because the House legislated under pressures and threats wholly and completely un-American.

On the vote, 89 Democrats and 106 Republicans stood firm against approval. 152 Democrats and 77 Republicans voted to pass the Bill. As a part of the influences under which this legislation should not have been considered was the fact that flags all over the Nation were flying at half-mast for a man who had never held any official position and the Presidential Proclamation ordering the action was without precedent.

The flags were not ordered lowered for Travis Crow, age 19 of Tallahassee, Florida, who was burned to death defending his father's small grocery store. The only use of the flag for a boy killed in Vietnam is to cover his casket. Travis Crow and the boy shipped back from Vietnam have not said they would obey only the laws which they thought were good and disobey those which in their opinion were bad.

Crafty men were sent to the Master to ask him certain questions in the hope of entrapping Him to be brought before a Roman court for prosecution.

They asked the question, "Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?"

Lewis Hester Makes Statement To The Public

LEWIS HESTER

"I, Lewis Hester, a retired farmer, and the son of a pioneer family of Haskell County, have lived in Precinct One all my life. If you are not personally acquainted with me, I suggest you talk to someone that is.

"In asking your support for this important office, I feel that the business affairs of Haskell County are great enough that the taxpayers of Precinct One can expect a full time commissioner.

"I am anxious to face the responsibilities of the office and tackle the future problems of Haskell County and they are many.

"The challenges facing the commissioners of Haskell County are: how to deal with the mounting cost of doing business, inflation, meet the needs of a growing community, and hold the tax burden as low as possible.

"Local government must be progressive, helping to create a good healthy atmosphere in which local business and industry can grow and develop. A NEW JAVO...

Hester explained.
"I have tried to see every voter in the Precinct and give them a card. If I have missed you, I am sorry, and you will consider me in need of your support."
