Haskell Free Press has our very fine columnist, B. F. Cobb, who has been writing the widely-read and received "Good Earth" column for this newspaper for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Cobb have moved to Cisco. They know the many, many areas of the Free Press area to miss the "Good Earth" column. Mrs. Cobb has a style writing and such a vivid way describing flowers, gardens, and all the "Good Earth" in a way that make us for a "green thumb."

Several persons have informed this columnist that young birds with air-rides have been seen in beautiful song birds in respective neighborhoods. It is just a reminder there is an ordinance against the ringing of air-guns within the limits of Haskell.

Cupid must have come with a case of "Hong Kong Flu" during the month of February, as only four marriages were issued from County Clerk's office here during the month.

We welcome freshness of the spring season approaches. At the beginning of time, there has been nature's way reminding man that life is a never-ending process. During spring months of March, May and June, as the trees rise higher, the trees leaf out, the air is fresh, the scent winds fill the air and the young of all nature's creatures look about them wither at the beauty of the world and the blueness of the sky. Our thoughts will turn to pursuits of spring garden, Easter bonnets, vacations, and treks to scenic places. One and all, we will enjoy general state of somnolence in as spring fever that makes its appearance at the end of winter.

As springtime of life is now, we should make the most of it. We should accept nature's plan to enjoy the good news of creation, to lay aside stress, tension and prejudice. Spring is the time to start a new beginning.

Yankees just won't be the this coming baseball season. Most sports fans know the "Mighty" Mick called his last Saturday and left one of the greatest recent baseball's history.

Next September elementary school children in Texas, members of the living color general, will learn many of their "R's" through a series of fully hued lessons flashed on television.

Who will be studying the concepts in subjects ranging from art to physics sketched on color visuals, products of Texas Elementary Transy project. This project, of the nation's newest ideas turning book-bound knowledge into modern media for learning was designed and produced under the direction of the Texas Education Agency media division.

Now me a man with both on the ground and I'll show a man who can't get his on.

Day's food for thought: Times you only get one to put aside your pride and say, humbly, "I was wrong."

Stitching And Stewing

By Ruth Ann Fansler
County H. D. Agent

A new law will require most consumer credit contracts up to $250,000, and home mortgages of any size, to disclose the true annual interest rate.

The rate will be labeled as the "nominal percentage rate." It will reflect interest rate on the debt and extra charges that would not have been tacked on to a cash deal.

Extra charges include life, accident or health insurance to cover the balance due.

For the first time, mortgage interest will have to be figured to include any money you must pay as a discount or other one-time charge. But mortgage lenders will not, in a first mortgage, have to disclose the total finance charge in dollars. If they did, the buyer might be reminded that the interest in a 30-year mortgage might be nearly twice that on a 20-year contract.

The annual rate won't have to be computed on credit up to $75 if the finance charge is $5 or less, or credit above $75 if the finance charge is $7.50 or less, or on a monthly charge account bill if the finance charge is 50 cents or less.

New Pastor

Bro. Reynolds has been pastor of the two churches for the past three years.

However, every installment contract will state in dollars the total of all finance charges, the purchase price of the goods or services being financed, any down-payment or trade-in allowance, the net amount being financed with credit, and the size of the weekly or monthly payments. It must also state the due dates and the total number of installments before the debt is paid up.

All revolving credit contracts and monthly bills must state the "nominal annual percentage rate."

The word "nominal" is part of a compromise with the retail merchants. It means almost the same thing as the annual percentage rate of other kinds of lenders—but not quite.

The "nominal" rate on revolving credit will equal 12 percent the monthly rate. Most stores and mail order houses in most states, for instance, charge 1 1/2 percent a month and will have to disclose a "nominal" rate of 18 percent per year.

But stores charging the same "nominal" rates can and do levy significantly different revolving-credit charges. The differences are concealed in their various methods of arriving at the monthly balance on which credit is levied.

Some stores apply their credit charge to the opening balance on your bill before deducting any payments you have made on credits for merchandise returned during the month. On a $200 opening balance, with payments of $100 and a monthly charge of 1 1/2 percent, the charge would be $3, or an annual rate charge of 36 percent.

On the other hand, some stores deduct all payments and credits and charge only for the amount of money you actually owe on the previous month's balance. Thus, an opening balance of $200, with $100 payments and a monthly rate of 1 1/2 percent, would result in a charge of $1.50 or an annual rate of finance charge of 18 percent.

Recognizing how the billing methods can distort "nominal" percentage rates, the law will require any revolving creditor who does not use the last method, to disclose his catalogue initial contract and bills that "the balance is determined without first deducting all credits during the period."

Starting July 1, 1969, persons who sign home-improvement contracts or any retail installment scheme involving a lien on one's residential property, will have the right for the next three business days to cancel the agreement without penalty.

Any down-payment must be fully refunded. After receiving a cancellation notice, the seller must come for his merchandise within 10 days or forfeit all claim to it.

SBA Permitted To Make Injury Disaster Loans

Many areas had substantial damage to 1968 crops as a result of various adverse weather conditions including severe drought, excessive rain fall, floods, hail and wind storm. To give relief to businessmen who have suffered economic injury as a result of the adverse weather and to aid those businesses to continue in operation, the Small Business Administration is permitted to make economic injury disaster loans in these counties:

Grazing Management Essential To Get Highest Yield From Rangeland

"You can't grow good grass crops if they have to compete with weeds, brush, and tree nutrients in the soil," according to Jimmy Boykin, Soil Conservationist of Haskell, assisting the California Creek and Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation Districts. Weeds should be destroyed before grass crops are planted. Even so, some weed seeds are likely to grow afterward, and weeds are also likely to appear in established grass stands. The best method of control is to keep such a dense stand of grass so that the young weeds are choked out from lack of sunlight, moisture, or plant nutrients. Where practical, mowing or spraying may be used. In general, spraying for weed control is used mostly on grass fields that are to be harvested for seed.

Boykin says, "Two effective controls of mesquite or scrub brush may be used when they become thick on ranges in this area. Application of chemicals by aerial spraying or mechanical measures such as root-plowing or tree dozing help control the unwanted brush." Either method is fairly expensive but you must keep the brush and scrub trees under control if you want good range or pasture.

Good grazing management is essential if you are to get the highest yields from most of our rangeland. Each pasture, range or meadow should be grazed or mowed so that enough leaf growth is left to "manufacture" the food necessary for rapid growth of both the root system and the leaves. If you let live-stock graze top growth too heavily, it not only lowers production but also weakens the plants. If the leaf surface is kept down throughout the growing season, the root systems will not be repaired and expanded. Plants may even be killed by overgrazing if drought or other unfavorable conditions exist.

COTTON PICKIN'S

Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

It is safe to assume that approximately one-sixth of the 3,457,147 bales of cotton reported ginned in Texas on January 1, 1969 were produced in counties comprising the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., according to Charles G. Bragg, executive vice president of the organization.

Bragg's estimate is based on the total number of bales reported Feb. 10 as classified in the Abilene office of the Cotton Division of the Consumer and Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Technicians at Abilene, under supervision of Borden B. Manly, Jr., officer in charge, had classed 547,299 bales from the 1967-68 crop.

In three counties, Concho, Runnels and Tom Green, many of the producers sold cotton directly to buyers who did their own classing. A number of major producing counties in the northern part of the Rolling Plains send samples to the USDA office either at Memphis, Munday or Altus, Oklahoma.

Following is a report of bales classed in the Abilene office of C&MS from the 1967-68 crop from Rolling Plains counties:

Coleman, 6,414; Concho, 8,117; Fisher, 47,771; Jones, 67,279; Kent, 6,646; Mitchell, 26,101; Nolan, 26,308; Runnels, 53,135; Schleicher, 2,733; Scurry, 38,493; Stonewall, 3,719; Taylor, 10,535; Tom Green, 31,450; Baylor, 8,624; Haskell, 59,164; Knox, 21,786; Throckmorton, 3,473.

Total bales classed from the 1966-67 crop was 335,320.

Contest Is Open To Farm Bureau Members

Farm Bureau members in Haskell County have an opportunity to win either cash prizes or valuable items of merchandise if their ideas for local affairs projects are selected in a state-wide contest for such ideas, according to John Paul Perrin, President of the local county Farm Bureau.

The Texas Farm Bureau is sponsoring a contest to bring in ideas for improving rural living and/or agriculture. Cash prizes total $500 with another $500 worth of merchandise being offered. This includes ten $50 cash prizes for the ten best ideas and 25 items of merchandise (each worth at least $20) offered for the next 25 ideas.

John Paul Perrin said the 25 winning ideas will be printed in brochure form and made available to county and community Farm Bureaus for their consideration.

Deadline for getting the ideas into the Haskell County Farm Bureau office is March 12. The address is: Box 741, Haskell. The entries will be forwarded on to the Texas Farm Bureau office in Waco for judging. The rules specify that only Farm Bureau members can enter. The idea should be explained in approximately 100 words or less. Entries should be typewritten. The idea need not be original. John Paul Perrin said. It can be some project or activity that is being carried on in a community or neighborhood now. It can be something that needs to be done. It can apply to a local neighborhood or even county-wide. An example would be a campaign to vaccinate all dogs for rabies, or perhaps to control rodents or other predators. Any idea might be a winner. J. P. Perrin said.

PAINT CREEK... COMMUNITY NEWS

Mrs. Gene Overton

Sunday morning at the Methodist Church the Communion table given to the church by friends and loved ones in memory of H. P. (Pat) Morrison, was dedicated by Brother H. O. Abbott, the pastor. Preceding the communion service, Bro. Abbott said, "This memorial is presented to be dedicated to the glory of and for service in this church, in loving memory of H. P. (Pat) Morrison. This gift is accepted as a sacred trust and it shall be guarded reverently, in honor of the faithful and devoted life in whose memory it is given. In the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit, we dedicate this memorial to the glory of God and in memory of His servant, Pat Morrison."

We wish all those who contributed to this memorial could have attended the service.

The Cooper High School Spring Musical, "The Boy Friend," will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, March 6, 7 and 8. The musical was directed by Bill Overton, drama teacher at Cooper.

There is a lot of flu in the community again. Several families have one or two flu patients. Supt. Bill Gibbs missed several days of school last week. James Hopkins was very ill over the weekend but is better. I think the Hopkins family have taken turns having the flu for the past month. The Lawrence Green family, the Ed Howeth family, David and Donnie Green and Mike Brazell, all have flu.

He showed Breeding Swine, Fat Swine and Laying Hens and this gave him 65 points. He was given a gold tie clip which was donated by the Stamford Electric Co-operative. Mr. Horton is his FFA advisor.

Gene Overton completed 17 years of school board service at the meeting of the board on Monday evening. In all those years he has missed only one meeting, and that was when he had to attend a scout meeting. The Home Economics girls had cake and coffee for the school board following the meeting.

Clement Dudensing, who underwent surgery for the removal of a brain tumor two weeks ago is slowly improving. He is at General Hospital in Wichita Falls. He developed a serious infection last weekend, but is recovering from that.

Curtis Bittner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bittner, spent a two-week leave at home and then returned to San Diego. His ship is the U.S.S. Chevalier and is a destroyer. He is expecting to leave for a Pacific tour soon. Mrs. John Gramethaur was a patient in the Stamford Memorial Hospital week before last. She is at home now and her niece is staying with them helping Mr. Gramethaur care for his patient. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton were in Rule last Friday night to see the Junior play, "Nuts and Bolts". Mrs. Overton's nephew, Bill Jones, was in the cast. They also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones, Sr., and her sister, Mrs. Charles McBeath of Amarillo.

Wallar Overton entertained at the Blue and Gold Banquet of the Cub Scouts of Rule last Monday, at the Rule cafeteria. Howard Montgomery returned last weekend from West Texas Medical Hospital in Abilene where he had been a patient almost a month.

Bob Earles has been in the hospital at the Navy base in San Diego with pneumonia. He is back at his work now. Bob is going to an electronics school soon.

Brother and Mrs. Bob Griffith have as their guests this week, Mrs. Griffith's family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klingman and daughter, Lynn, from Austin.

Meetings regularly held in Haskell will be cancelled this weekend so that local members of the Witnesses can attend the program in Snyder which will include instruction on "Making Wise Use of the Remaining Time," theme of the Christian convention.

More than 500 are expected to attend the gathering. Many delegates from this area are planning to depart for the assembly city early Friday so that they can participate in the opening sessions Friday evening at 6:45 p. m.

"Law and Order—When and How?" will be the main subject to be discussed and will come as the highlight of the convention Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. when Mr. L. M. Dugan, traveling minister from the world headquarters of the Witnesses, will give the featured public discourse.

Kent Tooley Takes Second Place In Oratorical Contest In Austin

Kent Tooley, 12-year-old son of former Haskell County residents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tooley, took second place in the Optimist Club's Oratorical Contest in Austin.

The subject of his four-minute oration before members of the Optimist Club was "Law and Order—Cornerstone of Citizenship." Competition was judged on originality, content, and delivery.

Young Tooley, a seventh grade student at Pearce Junior High in Austin, came within seven points of first place which was won by a 15-year-old veteran of previous contests. Kent now serves as the first alternate to the winner, an Austin Reagan sophomore, who is to compete in the regional contest late in March.

Judges for the contest were Maurice Pipkin, executive director of the Judicial Qualification Commission; Jim Volters, State's Attorney for the State of Texas; and Bill Bloodworth, University of Texas graduate student working on his doctorate in American Civilization.

The second place trophy was awarded by Tom Blackstone, president of the Austin Delwood Optimist Club. Ironically, Blackstone was the manager of the Little League Baseball team on which Kent played last year. Kent alternated at first base, third base, and relief pitcher. As a hurler, Kent was credited with six wins and one loss in pacing Blackstone's team to the league championship last summer.

Kent's younger brother, Kevin, was a mainstay at second base on the same team and was among the leading hitters.

Grandparents of the boys are O. W. Tooley of Haskell and Mrs. Allie Mae Anderson of Rule. Mrs. Tooley is the former Doris Anderson of Rule where she was employed as city secretary. Mr. Tooley was employed at the Haskell Free Press for a number of years and is currently the Executive Vice-President of the 6,300-member Texas Association of Life Underwriters with headquarters in Austin.

CARD OF THANKS

To our many friends in and around Haskell who were so good to me while I was in the hospital and thanks to everyone for their visits, prayers and flowers and gifts. Everything helps to make my sickness easier. May God bless everyone. Mrs. Bernie Swinson. 10p

World Day:

(Continued from Page 1, Sec. 1) growing closer together is evidence by several new aspects of the March 7th celebration. Planned since 1887 by American women, now the content of this worldwide observance is determined by an international World Day of Prayer committee, using Church Women United's staff to carry out its directions.

The theme, "Growing Together in Christ", the Scriptures and prayers proposed by women from Sierra Leone, Ghana, Nigeria, South Africa, Congo, Zambia and Kenya. Setting the African mood in services everywhere will be the spiritual "Kum Ba Yah". Its haunting repetitions ... "Someone's Cryin' Lord ... signal the awareness of each to the other and all, both alone and together before God.

Offerings from the World Day of Prayer in the United States will strengthen particular aspects of the church's outreach and ministry both at home and abroad. The World Day of Prayer now held in 130 countries significant ecumenical relations, the growth of which will be attributed to the women.
