The award is given to the member of Congress whose actions were found to be most responsible in the field of economy.

Made up primarily of small business firms, the NAB is a nonpartisan organization with its headquarters in Washington. Its goals include fiscal responsibility in government and the elimination of the Federal Government from competition with private business.

Texas Job Corps Good Program in the TEC States

Since its inception eight years ago the federally-financed Job Corps program has been helping poverty-stricken high school dropouts become productive citizens.

Statistics on the local area are sketchy, but according to Aubrey T. Jones, district supervisor for Texas Employment Commission, the program has accomplished much in the area of disadvantaged youth in the county area of the Plains.

In January the local Job Corps center has enrolled 56 young men and women in the program. The center is processing more than 100 applications each week.

This year 80 young men and 37 women have been referred to the Lubbock center after taking varied courses of training in the area of different localities in the United States. Statistics on the number of completions of the program are not available.

Each applicant can receive free room and board, clothing, and medical expenses, and earn spending money while they are learning a meaningful trade, Jones explained.

The men train to be welders, mechanics, heavy equipment operators and in several other skills while women receive training as office clerks, beauty operators, or nurses.

In addition to learning an occupation at the Job Corps centers, instruction is given in skills useful during emergencies, such as fire fighting and flood control. The youth are encouraged to take part in a wide range of community services, such as visiting the sick and elderly, working as aides in local recreation programs for children.

Job Corps is administered by the Labor Department's Manpower Administration. About 25,000 young men and women are in training in 71 centers in 30 states, Puerto Rico, and the District of Columbia.

Comments of area youth who complete the training indicate they are glad they did. "I think the Job Corps is the best thing that ever happened to me," said one job corpsman at the peak of his training period. "It has taught me a lot that I would never have had the opportunity to learn."

The Jaybirds got off a good drive, climaxed by a three yard drive by Parker Kidd in the end zone for the first touchdown of the game with Rule, and Brad Dibrell passed to Keith Cave for the conversion giving the Jaybirds an 8-0 edge on the score board over the Rule Bobcats with 4:43 left in the first quarter, and they had only a few minutes to enjoy that leads as the Cats came back quickly to score Don Hisey 53 yard TD drive.

They ran the conversion, tied the game, and then went on to roll the Jaybirds 41-8 at the end of the contest.

The Birds just could not contain the fast, shifty Rule runners, and their defense kept picking off Brad Dibrell's passes. Twice a Jaybird got his hands on the ball and sent it on the Bobcats to get, like a volleyball back pushing the ball up to the net men.

The Cats, listed second in the State in Class B, and first in the region, proved they are not over rated.

The Jaybirds will be idle this weekend.

The Jaybird Band Wins Fair Award

That "Sweepstakes Band from Jaybird Land" traveled to Lubbock on Monday, September 25, to compete in the Parade of Bands, of the 55th Annual South Plains Fair, receiving second place trophy out of eight class B bands. The competition is a yearly outing for the Band, this year sweeping the street with a total of 82 high spirited musicians and majorettes, in what Director, Rick Smith termed as "the best parade performance I've ever seen by the band."

In previous years, Jayton has repeatedly taken a frustrating second place, to Sundown High School's first place. Once again the "Black and Gold" was awarded the second place trophy, but with Borden County High School taking first, and Sundown, third.

Not only did the band feel they deserved the first place trophy, finishing the parade chanting and cheering, and playing the "Jaybird Fight Song," but it seemed unanimous among directors of other bands present who saw us, that we'd marched the others off the street.

Come out and watch "the best class B band in the state" as we support the Fighting Jaybirds and perform for your half-time entertainment at each high school football game.

"These aren't my snapshots... But I'll take them, anyway!"

"Wake up, Lester—you're having a nightmare!"

The current psychiatrist story is of the distraught wife who reported that her husband thinks he's a cow. "All day long," she said, "he stands in the back yard, eating grass." The psychiatrist explained that this probably was a temporary eccentricity.

Two strangers stood on a Bucharest street corner admiring an automobile parked at the curb.

"That's not Russian," the second man answered, "don't you recognize an American car when you see one?" "Of course I do; I knew it was an American car, but I had no idea who you were!"

In Los Angeles, a defendant in municipal traffic court pleaded guilty. "Did you have an accident?" asked the judge.

A fussy customer was shown some puppies in a pet shop.

The sick man finally found the doctor he wanted. He entered the doctor's office. "Dr. Jones, first visit $5. Subsequent visits, $3."

And there really was nothing to worry about. The woman, convinced, asked for the bill. "That'll be $60," said the doctor. "I can't afford that much," said the wife. "How about $30 in cash and 100 quarts of milk?"

"Let's try something different—let's split a case of beer!"

This quartet of cheerleaders is concerned with what the Rule Bobcats are doing to the Jaybirds.

Member 1972 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

As It Looks From Here

By Rep. Omar Burleson
Member of Congress, Texas

Since the Presidential Election is just a month away, perhaps this is a proper time to review, in thumbnail, a little touch of history.

George Washington, our first president, was a rich military leader and the Father of the "military-industrial complex". He was also famous for his ill-fitting false teeth and added to his other "firsts" might be the "Father of British Dentistry". In his farewell address, in which he warned against entering foreign alliances, such as NATO, SEATO, and the United Nations, he might now be identified as the "Father of Neo-isolationism". Washington was followed by John Adams, best known for being the 2nd president.

Thomas Jefferson, our 3rd president, not only founded the Democratic Party but also pulled off one of the greatest real estate deals in history. He bought the whole Middle West of the Country from Napoleon for $15 Million.

Madison, the great constitutionalist, followed Jefferson and he was succeeded by Monroe, the author of the doctrine which bears his name. This document is talked about more and read less than Playboy. Monroe gave way to John Quincy Adams, who soon gave over to Andrew Jackson.

President Jackson, as stories go, had a terrible temper but loved people. He invited a lot of people into the White House and at his inauguration they smeared cheese on the furniture in the Blue Room so that Mrs. Kennedy had to have the whole place redecorated.

Then came Van Buren who never liked not being remembered by name. It seems everyone could name the first seven Presidents but not the eighth. The story goes that Van Buren was sitting near two men in a dining room near the White House and they were arguing as to who was President. They turned to Van Buren and asked him. On that morning he had had an argument with Senator John Calhoun and was so preoccupied he couldn't remember either.

After Van Buren came "Tippecanoe" and Tyler, too, Polk, Zachary Taylor, Millard Fillmore, and Franklin Pierce.

Next came James Buchanan, who later didn't like to be known as the President who preceded Abraham Lincoln.

A president about which volumes have been written, needs no comment. He became the inspiration for that great American descriptive phrase, "a real human being."

After Lincoln things became a little confused. Andrew Johnson was impeached and General Grant became President. At that time General Custer grew hair down to his shoulders, there was corruption and soon about everyone grew long hair and got fat. All men who had not by choice grown long hair, or couldn't grow hair at all, got fat.

It was difficult to tell what's his name Hayes from Garfield or Chester A. Arthur or Cleveland from William Howard Taft. Benjamin Harrison had the problem of Van Buren. "Did you know we have a "sour grapes" statement, and it seems rather inappropriate, to point out, themselves, how wonderful they were, and what a shame it is they were again cheated out of the first place award they rightfully deserved, not only this year, but in years past.

If you have been around the community center at night, did you notice how dark it is on the west side?

I mentioned this to a member of the commissioners court recently and do you know what he said? Sure, that's right, he said, "Let the City put up a light there."

Now, here is the inconsistency of the thing. It's fine to have the airstrip all lighted up every night like a Christmas tree. I don't object to it. But, with all this lighting going to waste, I can't see leaving a portion of the grounds around the community center as dark as pitch at night, when the young people are using these premises almost every night. How about you?

Here is the best one I have heard in a good while. You check the Chronicle this week, and you will find a letter to the editor criticizing the city officials rather freely for not accepting their responsibility, and not doing some things this writer feels should have been done long ago.

But do you know, while this person is bad mouthing city officials for not giving more responsible action, this person would not even sign his or her name? And what's more, this letter was printed, so there could be no identifying of the signature. Now, you tell me, who needs to face up to responsibility?

And another thing, to do the things suggested in this letter would at least double city taxes. Do you suppose the author of this letter would be in favor of doubled city taxes?

The idea of street markers has been checked, by this writer and others. The cost of just this one project would be many thousands of dollars.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The Kent County Commissioners Court will accept bids prior to 10 o'clock a. m. Monday, Oct. 9, 1972, for the purchase of a 1973 model half ton pickup with the following specifications:

Heater and defroster, long wheelbase, wide bed, not less than 240 CID, 6-cylinder engine, not less than 1650 lb. real springs each, heavy duty shock, heavy duty air cleaner, heavy duty radiator, standard three speed transmission, trailer hitch, light color.

The court will offer as trade in a 1967 model Ford half ton pickup, No. Flo YDA 58267 which may be inspected at the County Barn in Jayton.

The court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Signed, Norman Hahn, County Judge, Kent County, Texas.

President by the name of Benjamin Harrison? "people would say. So he was replaced with William McKinley who became a memory in the hardest of ways.

Then came the more lean, clean-shaven type of President who could better be remembered because they didn't all look alike. Entering the 20th Century most all Presidents became even more controversial, and the less said, the less controversy. No one invites a controversy --or do we? Just give us greatness and forget the rest.

UNKLE ZEKE SEZ

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I reckon ever newspaper in the world gets tired of trying to explain that it don't make the news, it just reports it. But folks never understand cause they don't want to understand, especial them that don't like what they see in the papers. I was thinking about this the other day when I saw where this woman had called a big daily paper to ask if there was going to be a eclipse of the sun.

She was told there was, and that the paper had reported about it. Then she wanted to know if it would hurt her eyes to look at the eclipse. The paper said it would, and that they had run stories warning about that to. The woman got upset and wanted to know, if the eclipse was dangerous, how come the paper was having it. I figger newspapers git the same treatment today that people used to give their scapegoats when they would pile all their troubles on the goats and chase em out in the desert.

The papers has somepun to do with people making up their minds about things, Mister Editor, but I never knowed afore that the Vitnam war is being fought according to what the papers say. I see where communist gunners have been shooting into towns over there, then waiting to see by the paper where the shell landed. If it didn't hit where they wanted, they change their aim. One good thing about that deal, if I got weekly papers it'll take a long time to do a hole lot of damage. Course, when the other side caught on they tried to git the wrong places reported as hit, so the papers probable git the blame from both sides. Talking about blame, I see by the papers where this study found that folks trust a public official quicker if he makes mistakes and admits em than when they can't catch em in a blunder. They figger he's dumb but honest if he tells em, and he's crooked and to smart fer em if he don't. I don't know what to make of that report, Mister Editor, unless it says a politician would be smart to be dumb.

Actual, that's gitting things backwards, like I saw where this feller had come up with a new plan for medical insurance. His idee is to pay doctors to keep us well, and to quit paying em when we git sick. This way, this feller explains, doctors would have far greater interest in our health. That makes as much sense as what we do now. We bet the insurance company good money we're going to git sick, and they bet we won't, and fer shore they win more than we do.

But ever now and then, we can have it both ways. I see where all the folks that built bomb shelters 10 years ago during the hot days over Cuba now is using their shelters fer wine cellars, guests rooms and places fer the old man to git away from the old lady and the youngsters fer a couple hours. These folks was betting we was going to git blowed up. We didn't and I'm shore they're as happy as the rest of us to find they couldn't collect the bet. But now they get a bonus.

Yours truly, Unkle Zeke

If You Lived Here... how would that affect the state of the nation, and the course of history? We should thank God for the responsibilities we DON'T HAVE, and then seek His strength in fulfilling those we have. It may be the by-product of democracy, but we often become too engrossed in the responsibilities of others--not enough in our own! If I have a home and a family, it is part of a community, and my community part of a nation, and my nation part of a world. Then, for my abilities, my task may be as great as that of the President of the United States. It was a president who said he had been driven to his knees many times by the knowledge that his strength was insufficient for the day. We all have days like that--most of the time!

Fall Harvest Underway... Pecan Referendum Set... Milk Production Shows Slight Increase... Citrus Blackfly and Cattle Fever Tick Make Appearances.

With fall season approaching, Texas farmers are in the midst of cotton and corn harvest and are beginning pecan and citrus harvest.

Although yields are turning out better than expected for cotton, prices and sales of cotton are at a virtual standstill. For the most part, producers are apparently holding onto their awaiting the outcome of the present pricing situation. Cotton prices are now at or near loan levels.

For the state as a whole, cotton harvest is more than 25 percent complete. Corn harvest is more than 50 percent complete, grain sorghum harvest statewide is also more than half finished. Harvest of peanuts in the Blacklands and Cross Timbers areas is now underway. Rice harvest is virtually completed.

In South Texas, pecan harvest is getting started with an anticipated record crop of 70,000,000 pounds in store. The 1972-73 citrus crop continues to make good progress. Harvest of some early oranges has been reported. Grapefruit harvest should begin in early October.

CONTROL and eradication center has been located at Alice in Jim Wells County.

The infested area includes most of Jim Wells County, about half of Duval County and a small area of McMullen and Live Oak counties. Individual premises are under a quarantine established by the Texas Animal Health Commission in Dimmit, Nueces, Leon, and Kent counties.

Livestock producers who suspect their animals may have cattle fever ticks should contact the Texas Animal Health Commission at Austin or the tick eradication center at Alice.

MILK production in Texas during August was two percent above that of a year ago. Milk production in the state amounted to 278,000,000 pounds. Milk production per cow averaged 785 pounds, which is 15 pounds above a year earlier.

Nationwide, milk production is also two percent more than last year.

A NEW outbreak of the citrus blackfly has resulted in an enlargement of the quarantine in South Texas. Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors as well as federal inspectors are stepping up efforts to control the pest. Infested plants are being sprayed. The new outbreak is in an area near Los Fresnos in Cameron County.

The citrus blackfly has the potential of wiping out the important Rio Grande Valley citrus industry.

This tells the story of Friday night's loss to the Rule Bobcats. Rule has the ball and the Jaybirds have been blocked out of the play.

Here is the way Rule beat the Jaybirds last Friday night. A Bobcat is seen taking the ball in the endzone for a touchdown.

EXECUTIVE SEES THREAT TO PRESS FREEDOM

"Throughout history, there have been numerous attempts to coerce and influence the press... Recently, however, we see the beginnings of a new form of pressure against the print media."

Citing current political pressure on newspapers and magazines that carry cigarette advertising — to provide free space for anti-cigarette messages — Ross R. Millhiser, president of Philip Morris U.S.A., recently expressed his concern over the increasing incidence of encroachment on our freedoms of press and speech.

Speaking before members of the Virginia Press Association at their 89th Annual Convention in Charlottesville, Virginia, Mr. Millhiser warned that "If the American press knuckles under to this pressure, to the presumption by some officials of superjudgment of what's good for us, it will open the floodgates to a vast outpouring of demands for more free space against other products and ideas that someone considers to be controversial."

Honored by the VPA as 1971's "Virginian of the Year," Mr. Millhiser went on to state that this new threat to our freedoms of speech and press, both guaranteed by the Bill of Rights, began with the FCC ruling that bans cigarette advertising on radio and television.

Mr. Millhiser is convinced that those persons responsible for these curtailments of our rights honestly believe they are championing and protecting the public's best interests.

"Every attempt at censorship," however, "is always done in the name of the 'greater good.' But the greatest good we have seen in our history has been when courageous men have steadfastly insisted on applying provisions of the Bill of Rights against censorship."

And, according to Mr. Millhiser, the best guarantor of press freedom — is the press itself... when it keeps the public fully informed.

Scouts 'Adopt' Orphan Kids

PEARL RIVER, N. Y. — A Boy Scout troop in this Hudson Valley community is using the proceeds of a glass recycling drive to "adopt" six homeless youngsters.

The orphaned children live in Brazil, Korea, Colombia, China, Africa and British West Indies. Scout Troop 34 is supporting them through an international relief agency.

Funds for their support are provided by used bottles and jars collected by the Scouts and delivered to a nearby bottle-making plant under a glass recycling program sponsored by member companies of the Glass Container Manufacturing Institute.

In one year the troop, consisting of 40 members, has received $2,800 in cash for 560,000 used glass containers. The troop is currently salvaging jars and bottles at the rate of 18 tons a month.

The Bennie Smith car is shown here after an accident at the blind corner that has caused wrecks for the last several years--no deaths as yet, but who will be the first?

The Smiths were lucky this time. People have been killed in cars with damage like this, or even less. Folks, don't you think something should be done? With the old fences removed, the weeds can be cut by the shredder, like the other lots.

What about the child on a bicycle, or a scooter? Let's see what can be done, and stay away from that street until something is done about the blind corners in town. And this is not the only blind corner in our town. (This an editorial written by Clique Smith).

LETTERS to EDITOR

Dear Editor:
I am enclosing some information I ran across in the September issue of Texas Business Review published by the University of Texas in Austin. Of all the counties in Texas, Kent County is second only to Jim Hogg County in the proportion of registered voter to the total potential voting population, 80.3 percent registered. I thought this was a remarkable figure and thought perhaps you might like to give the local citizenry a well deserved pat on the back. I enjoy reading your weekly; keep up the good work.
Sincerely yours
Eric Swenson, Jr.

CITY CONCERN

Who is concerned about the City of Jayton? How old is Jayton? And how long will this, doing nothing about it go on? If the city has no funds, let the concerned citizens in on it and take up donations, give a Rodeo, or something to raise funds. I mean for marking streets, cleaning blind corners, Notify property owners where it is on property to clean them and if they do not in a specified time, let the city do it and charge them for it. Stop signs, street markers, dragging streets and blacktopping more of them are needed badly.
If you travel a main St. here (As to the school house) it is unmarked. Beware. Stop at every cross street for if a driver enters from your right and hits you, you are at fault and a "gone gauslin" because it is unmarked.
So please "City Dads", get something started and I am sure the citizens will back you up.
We had a near fatal accident here Sat. How long will this go on?
Who knows, the life you save may be your own?
Or will things just rock on as is and maybe lives lost?
A Concerned Citizen

Agriculture makes America go, but what keeps it going? Petroleum power - the power that operates the machinery of modern farming. Petroleum power enables a limited number of farmers to produce food for most of the world. 4-H offers young people programs in the fields of agriculture and the petroleum power that fuels it. Over a million 4-H'ers are enrolled in the 4-H agriculture program, sponsored by International Harvester Company. Young people in the program learn about all aspects of American farming from crop and livestock raising to commodity marketing and veterinary science. American Oil Foundation sponsors the 4-H petroleum power program. 4-H'ers in this program not only learn the proper maintenance and use of heavy farm machinery, but also how to take care of vehicles with small engines like lawn mowers and snowmobiles.

least when special circumstances come into the picture. Consider another case, also involving injury to a youthful ice cream purchaser. This time, the boy had walked some distance around the rear of the truck before starting back across the street. Moreover, he was a vigorous 10-year-old, the kind of youngster ordinarily well able to cross alone. Denying damages, the court said the driver could not fairly be blamed for assuming that the boy was "on his own." Furthermore, the victim himself may be guilty of negligence. Thus: An 11-year-old boy leaped onto the running board of an ice cream truck, out of the driver's line of vision. When the truck began to accelerate, the boy fell off to the pavement.

Tommy raced across the street to buy a strawberry cone from the ice cream truck. But as he stepped into the path of an oncoming car, he was seriously injured. The court said the driver was liable for having failed to take care of other people. But the court ruled that the company was not liable because the driver had no obligation to take care of other people. Ordering the company to pay damages, the judge said: "The driver was purposely negligent in allowing the children to flash of the responsibility of one who takes into action the recklessness of children who are proportionate to the danger he creates."
