Get a tiger by the tail... Haskell Indians as they journey to Anson tomorrow night, Friday, September 12th, for a non-conference game.

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Penny Jean Akins And James Neal Gammon

MRS. JAMES NEAL GAMMON ... formerly Penny Jean Akins

Miss Penny Jean Akins became the bride of James Neal Gammon at eight o'clock Friday evening, August 22, in a double ring ceremony performed by the Reverend Stanley M. Brown, pastor of the Handley Baptist Church, at the home of the bride's parents, Captain and Mrs. Odus O. Akins, Jr., of 3500 Canyon Ridge, Fort Worth.

The groom is the son of the late Reverend James D. Gammon, Jr., Baptist minister, and of Mrs. Gammon who resides at 7015 Greenlee, Fort Worth.

Miss Melanie Ann Milburn was maid of honor and little Misses Cynthia Jo Akins and Martha Jo Gammon were junior bridesmaids.

David Tucker was best man. Carey Jay Gammon and Barry

Lee Johnston served as ushers. Master Joel Robin Gammon presided at the guest book.

Miss Lynda Carolyn Buckley played the wedding marches on the piano and accompanied the vocal soloist, Mrs. Tom M. Hearn of Dallas.

The living room was transformed into a chapel in which the couple exchanged vows before an improvised altar, a pointed arch of lighted candles flanked by potted palms and bouquets of white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Southern Belle gown of pearl trimmed white lace over peau de soie; fashioned with scalloped neckline, long sleeves, fitted bodice, full length front panel joined at the sides by deep ruffles of scalloped lace forming the bouffant skirt and chapel length train. She wore a headpiece of sculptured organza, a multiterred veil of illusion and carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered by a yellow orchid.

The maid of honor wore a fitted floor-length gown of yellow lace flower headpiece with short veil and carried a nosegay of yellow and white daisies.

The junior bridesmaids wore short white dresses of crocheted lace with yellow ribbon trim, yellow head-dresses and carried daisy nosegays.

The bride's something old was an English penny brought home by her father during World War II; her something new was a shiny 1969 United States penny from her maternal grandmother. Her something borrowed was a pearl drop necklace from her maid of honor and her something blue was a satin and lace garter from her mother.

The scene of the wedding was the honeymoon home of the bride's parents and was the bride's home from birth to her wedding day.

After the indoor ceremony, the receiving line formed on an outside terrace beside a spiral stairway leading to the roof garden. Bride and groom figures decorated the lower step and on each upward step stood a lighted candle protected by a glass chimney and twined with yellow roses.

The reception was held on the candlelit sunken patio. The couple cut a dainty three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Bonnie Buckley Ashlock and Miss Buckley served from the bride's table, which was centered with an epergne arrangement of white orchids.

Among the family and close friends attending the wedding were the two grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Odus Akins Sr., of Haskell, and Mrs. Bonnie B. Dodd of 2301 Sixth Avenue, Fort Worth; also the maternal grandfather of the groom, Oliver Hupson of Dallas.

The bride's father, Captain Akins, Reserve Air Force Officer, was reared in Haskell, and graduated from Haskell High School. Her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Woodson, reside here.

Stitching And Stewing

County H. D. Agent By Ruth Ann Fagler

Although you and I may not be always aware of it, we have a continuing emotional reaction to a color. A grey day depresses us, a rosy glowing sunset fills us with delight. Furthermore, we invariably use the vocabulary of color to express our emotions. Haven't you noticed? We "see red"... "feel blue", often are "green with envy" or "purple with rage." We also experience "black despair"... "get bogged down with red tape"... and can "look at the world through rose-colored glasses."

A "doer" type will be attracted to the excitement of red and warm colors, the quieter, more calm individual will respond to blues and the cooler shades.

"The women who select neutrals, one color authority explained, "is probably calm and self-contained and enjoys a quiet, well-ordered background."

But blue, red and green are at the top of the consumer color preference list—and in that order! Explanation? Well, red is positive, blue is tranquil and green provides a balance between the two.

The survey also revealed the following: In addition to color excitement in their home, a large proportion of young consumers want elegance without upkeep! And, insofar as curtains and draperies are concerned they indicated a preference for Fiberglas—because it is easy to launder by hand, never need ironing and will not shrink or stretch—and is fire safe.

How about you? Want to inject more color drama in your home? The following color personality outline will help you make choices which will be true reflections of YOU...

PERSONALITY COLOR OUTLINE

Blues: Usually takes top place in color preferences in general. The blue personality is apt to be very sensitive, a responsible person with a conservative nature.

Greens: A color of wide appeal, cool, fresh and comforting in its beauty; the "green" personality is usually a respectable neighbor, home builder, parent and good citizen.

Blue-Greens: (Aqua, turquoise): Usually indicates an exacting and discriminating personality, likely to have wit and flair.

Reds: The most positive color and shows a warm, aggressive and vigorous personality.

Pinks: A color that tells of love and affection. As a color preference among women it often relates to wealth, social advantage and a sheltered life.

Oranges: (Melon) The orange personality is very social by nature and able to get along with all types of people.

Brown range: (tobacco, rust) These relate to the earth colors and those to whom it appeals are usually sound, substantial people.

Mrs. Henry Smith, a member of the Mattson Home Demonstration Club, submitted this week's recipe.

Danny Isbell Elected To H-SU Rodeo Assn.

The Hardin-Simmons University Rodeo Association has elected officers for the 1969-70 school year. Leading the club will be Danny McFarland, junior, of Abilene. McFarland is a longtime member of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, having participated in rodeos both as a contestant and rodeo announcer. First vice-president is sophomore Danny Isbell of Paint Creek. From Old Glory is junior Jeff Wofford, second vice-president. Two cowgirls are holding offices this year. Kay Writer, a junior of Childress, will be club reporter, and senior Nancy Choplin of Buckner, Mo., will serve as secretary-treasurer.

The Association is expecting a profitable season this year. A new member of the team, J. W. Jones, sophomore, of Abilene, will ride barebacks and saddlebrones. "The addition of new barrel racers should strengthen the girls' team," said McFarland.

An Association meeting will be announced soon after registration. Plans and activities for the coming year will be discussed. All interested freshmen and transfer students are invited to attend.

HASKELL CAP NEWS

By ETHEL PHEA

We have been separating the Community Action News from the activities of the Negro community - but we have decided it all means the same - so we will combine it from now on. If you have any news of any kind, turn it all in to the same person.

Last week we started off by saying that we did not have much to report and when I found the report in my purse a week later - I found we didn't have anything to report. Sorry about that, I mailed an envelope to the Negro paper in Lubbock, but I don't know what was in it. Mr. Editor, we are not sure we want you to report whatever you found in it. I am thankful Mrs. Robertson was responsible for getting the one out to the Free Press.

The news and announcements that we were so anxious for you to get are now (most of them, anyway) are past date. So if you know of anyone who would like to be our reporter, let us know. In the last week's news we were trying to inform you of the coming events for the fall and winter, so if you have read it some place before, this will serve as a reminder.

The participation around the Center is picking up some. We know that it takes time for any new program to take hold but we are saying, take hold. The people are beginning to understand the program better. That is the one thing the Center would like to believe first that you are understanding the program. That is the big hang-up we have with anything, is not understanding the purpose and set-up.

We are trying to get this information over to you as best we can. Donations have been given to the Center, that is of great help; but we are looking forward to your involvement. This involvement we mean is for the Latin Americans and Negroes. We need to organize for a definite purpose. Organize for something that will benefit the community as well as ourselves. It is understandable that we need work, housing and other things done in the community, but until we can get together and get an understanding of what we need, we will continue to be on the stand still. In this write-up I have just been writing for the Negroes, but this is News from the poverty areas and that means all the Latin Americans and Anglo, too. If you have anything to offer in these areas, let us know.

The ladies are doing a fine job of work with the girls and women, but the boys are interested in some type of activity. If you cannot work as an instructor, they will appreciate you being their supervisor for recreation.

The response to the William Reed family has been fine. The people have shown a great Christian spirit by contributing to the cause. The Reed family

Son-in-Law of The Joe Maples Culminates Active Army Career

Culminating an active Army career of nearly 30 years, Col. Lee L. Stewart, retiring III Corps and Ft. Hood adjutant general, and his wife, Val, were honored at a farewell dinner given in their honor at Fort Hood.

Attending were Lt. Gen. Beverly E. Powell, III Corps and Ft. Hood commander, Col. A. T. Netterblad Jr., III Corps and Ft. Hood Chief of Staff, and Ft. Hood deputy chief of staff.

Stewart was presented the Legion of Merit by Powell for his outstanding service and contributions as III Corps and Ft. Hood adjutant general in ceremonies held July 31, 1969.

The colonel had served as adjutant general since August 15, 1966.

Stewart, a graduate of Texas A&M College, was commissioned a second lieutenant and entered active duty on Nov. 19, 1940. His many assignments have virtually spanned the globe.

During World War II, he served at the large War Department Reception Center at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, and later with the 101st Replacement Bn. in England and France.

Past appointments include administrative advisor to the U.S. Military Mission to Cuba. Afterward he served as chief of the Military Personnel Division at Headquarters, U.S. Continental Army Command (CONARC).

Prior to his arrival at Ft. Hood, Stewart was deputy adjutant general, Headquarters, U.S. Army, Europe.

He is a graduate of the first postwar advanced class of the Adjutant General's School; the Army Language School, and the Command and General Staff College.

In addition to the Legion of Merit, his awards include the Bronze Star Medal with oak leaf cluster, the Army Commendation Medal, American Defense Service Medal, American Campaign Medal, Army of Occupation Medal, Korean Service Medal with oak leaf cluster and the United Nations Service Medal. Stewart has been authorized battle participation credit for five U.S. Army campaigns.

Col. and Mrs. Stewart reside in Temple, Texas.

Adjutant General Stewart is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maples, of Haskell.

The Fifth In Series of "Listening Conferences" To Be Held Sept. 18th

Farmers and farm industry leaders from Texas and four other Southwestern States, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma, will have an opportunity to tell Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin what's on their minds.

are due to get major attention during the day.

While plans for the conference are not yet complete, it is known, said the county agent, that every person who attends will have an opportunity, either through oral presentation or written brief, to present his ideas.

As plans are finalized, details on the conference will be released, Stapleton said. He noted that several of the Secretary's senior staff members are expected to attend and also members of Agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives, headed by Congressman W. R. Pease from Waco will attend at least a part of the conference.

The occasion will be the fifth in a series of "listening conferences." It will be held on September 18 in G. Rollie White Coliseum on the Texas A&M University campus.

County Agent Stapleton said such subjects as farm programs, how to maintain and increase farm income, rural urban balance, proper nutrition and diets, development of natural resources and conservation ence, Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean, College of Agriculture at A&M, will serve as presiding officer. Land-Grant universities in the five states are cooperating in staging the event.

Please contact the County Agent by September 15th if you plan to attend, so he can give them the approximate number that will be attending from Haskell County.

WASHINGTON "As it looks from here" OMAR BURLISON Congressman 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The President can find general agreement on the first point he makes in his proposal to revamp the Government's welfare program. In effect he says present programs are too costly and have been disappointing in results.

What was expected to be achieved with all the billions of dollars spent on welfare in recent years is somewhat vague but whatever was expected has not happened.

Now President Nixon is for junking a large part of it and proposes in its stead a new system which has the central feature of an annual income for everyone. It is estimated that initially recipients would be doubled—from about 10 million plus to approximately 21 million people. The additional cost—about $4 billion.

Coupled with an income assurance for every family is the President's proposal for a change in the Manpower Training Act carrying the slogan of "Get people off the welfare rolls onto the payroll"—cost, about $4½ billion.

At a meeting of Governors just concluded in Colorado Springs, a "Revenue Sharing Plan" was endorsed—meaning a refund of a certain percentage of Federal taxes to States and Cities on a formula not yet defined.

Led by Governor Rockefeller of New York, the Conference also advocated the Federal Government taking over all welfare financing from the States.

Likely, Hawaii would welcome such a take over more than any other State. Four years ago Hawaii became the first State to assure its citizens that if they did not have an adequate income of their own, the State would see that they were taken care of. The plan involves the "negative income tax," cheered at the time by its advocates as a "noble experiment."

From all reports, few people understand the State's complicated formula and some have received refunds of a dollar or two a year which cost the State many times the amount in administrative expense. Seemingly, the plan is now considered to be a case of misguided good intentions and a lesson in how not to help people who need help the most. Naturally, it has been a vote getter and under circumstances they can't turn it loose.

As understood, the plan was to relieve the burden on local residents of a 4 percent sales tax. The tax applies to every retail item and catches ready cash income from happy tourists.

In 1965, Hawaii's legislature passed bills which, in effect, gave actual cash or tax credits to their citizens in amounts based on their income. The less their income, the more money received. The records show that many people do not file a return or apply for the benefits since their welfare payments are greater.

Several other states are trying some sort of a guaranteed annual income or a tax credit for their citizens. Iowa has one with a $12 per head per year maximum State in come tax credit. Indiana gives $8 per person and Nebraska and Colorado give $7. These latter plans apply regardless of amount of income.

Massachusetts limits credits to those with incomes below $5,000 and gives a maximum of $8 per dependent.

So, any study of a plan for a guaranteed annual income or one for tax-sharing with the States should take into consideration the experiences of the States which are making the experiment.

The recent Governors' conference gave no consideration to the idea of not collecting from the States in the first place, monies which could be used by local governments for a welfare program of their own choosing. (Reference to this subject in a special release on April 28, 1969, and the bill, H. R. 10580, introduced by Burleson for this purpose on the same date.)

The term "all cotton" is a consumer's best guarantee of maximum wearability and comfort.

Cotton terry towels are ideal because of high absorbency and ability to create friction for a good rubdown.

Rites Are Held For Brother Of Haskell Man

Kenneth Earl McCleary, of Martinez, Calif., victim of a brutal murder last week, was buried Monday morning following services at Connolly and Taylor Funeral Chapel, Martinez, Calif.

Rev. Eugene Brackney, pastor of First Methodist Church, conducted services at 11:00.

A native of Texas and Marine Corps veteran of World War II, McCleary, 52, had lived the past nine years in Martinez. He worked as a crane operator at the Concord Naval Weapons Station.

His body was discovered by police Tuesday of last week wrapped in a blanket and lying alongside a dirt road near Pittsburg, Calif.

An autopsy revealed he had died from head wounds inflicted by a blunt instrument.

The Contra Costa county district attorney's office has charged Christopher W. Williams with the slaying after spotting the 18-year-old Pittsburg youth driving around in McCleary's stolen auto. Williams is being held in the county jail in Martinez.

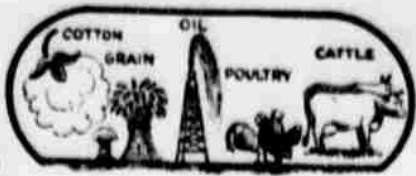

McCleary is survived by his widow, Mae; his mother, Mrs. Katie Campbell of Merkel, Texas, and two brothers, Jimmie Campbell of Haskell, and Ted Terral of Amarillo.

Senator David Rattliff Proud of Voting Record

State Senator David Rattliff, of Stamford, who represents the 21 counties in the 24th Senatorial District, which includes Haskell county, said recently in Austin where he is now at work during the current session that he has voted every time for an increase in the tax on cigarettes, beer, wine, whiskey and other luxury and unnecessary items, as well as a tax on the current rash of filthy movies now being shown in our movie houses, but that so far, each time the senate passes such legislation, it is killed by some of the house members. House members of the 24th District, however, have continued to support beer, cigarette, wine and whiskey taxes the same as Senator Rattliff.

"I am not the least bit ashamed of my voting record, but rather, I am proud of it. I would like also to say that I have not missed a vote during the current sessions," Rattliff stated.

The big, four-page, 8,500 Dollar Day circulars are off the press and will be mailed, and distributed, throughout this trade area this weekend. Be sure to watch for your circular which is "full" of "good buys."

BASIS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

Public concern for constructive change within a solid and respected framework of law and order should never be construed as a desire to turn the clock back or ride roughshod over so-called human rights...

The United States was created for the sole purpose of making human rights based on individual freedom, opportunity and dignity a living reality.

Special Program Planned By Paint Creek G. A.'s

Mrs. Robert Griffith, Girls Auxiliary leader, and Jo Morrison, activity leader, at Paint Creek, visited the Haskell Free Press, Saturday morning and made a recording of sounds of the machinery in the mechanical department.

Mrs. Griffith said the G.A.'s will sponsor a mission offering and week of prayer for state missions, September 14-21.

The recording will be used in the background for a program which will be presented Sunday, September 21, at the evening worship service at the Paint Creek Baptist Church, 7:30 o'clock.

Main objective of the program, Mrs. Griffith said, will be to call attention to the newspaper publicity for the needs of state missions.

Cotton Farmers To Hear Report Tuesday, Sept. 16

Cotton farmers will hear a detailed report on their dollar-a-bale program at a meeting in Stamford, September 16, according to Charles W. Stenholm, a trustee of the Cotton Producers Institute.

The meeting is set for 7:00 p. m. at the Cliff House Restaurant.

"If you are tired of hearing bad news about cotton, plan to attend this meeting," Mr. Stenholm said. "You will hear solid evidence that cotton can fight its way back from the market losses of recent years."

The program will be presented by staff members of the National Cotton Council. They will report in detail on research and promotion activity being carried out by CPI and the National Cotton Council.

The visual presentation will point how industry funds are being used to make cotton more appealing to consumers, for promotion to convince consumers to buy cotton, and to find ways of producing cotton at lower costs.

"We believe you will find the meeting with renewed confidence in the future of the cotton industry," Mr. Stenholm said.
