New Motor Vehicle laws

The 68th Legislature passed 20 different bills that relate to motor vehicles. The ones having the strongest impact locally will be the title fee increase from $3 to $10 and transfer fees from 50 cents to $2.50. Also on September 1, 1983 the delinquent fee will double from $5 to $10.

Permanently disabled persons may soon obtain a new permanent identification card to be displayed in the windshield as well as the license plate validation stickers.

The other act which will affect us locally is that as of January 1, 1984 every motor vehicle transaction must have an odometer reading included.

Both the maximum width and length of vehicles have already been increased. Some special categories affected are motorcycles, mopeds, antique cars, imported cars, mobile homes and boats. Soil conservation license plate procedure was simplified and national guard plates were created. A couple of the bills relate to dealers only.

As of August 29, the fee for a 72 hour permit will be $25 and there will be a new 144 hour permit for $50. These aren't used a great deal by local people but are purchased by out-of-state trucks as they come through. These increased fees have helped offset the rising operating costs.

Zelda Pickens, Sherman County Tax Assessor Collector, said, "I do urge anyone who has made a recent trade or purchase to process it before September 1, even though they do have 20 days time to do the paperwork. If you have any questions about this, please call the tax office at 396-2150."

As of September 1, 1983, motor vehicle sales and use tax is due by the 20th working day after the day that the motor vehicle is delivered to the purchaser or is brought into the state for use. A five percent penalty will be assessed if tax is not paid when due. Another five percent penalty, making a total of 10 percent, will be assessed if tax has not been paid within 30 calendar days after its due date. The penalty is based on the amount of tax due and applies to any motor vehicle, including those unregistered and untitled, in which tax was not timely paid.

If you think any of these changes might affect you, please call and ask your questions.

Wes Side Story

by Wes Brown, Editor

School started today, officially ending the summer. Soon the trees will start dropping their leaves and the hot weather will finally give in to the crisp coolness of fall. Football season will be here before you know it.

At one time the game of football was fairly simple. But, now it has grown into a multi-million dollar industry. For those of you who are confused with the terms of football, I have compiled a list of terms in hopes it will clarify the game and make it more enjoyable. Here is the 1983 edition of the Wes Brown Annual Football Glossary.

Pigskin - What the hotdogs sold in the concession stand are made of.

End Zone - The parking lot farthest from the admission gate. This is the parking lot you always end up parking in no matter how early you get to the game.

Quarterback - The American 25-cent piece one team must get from the other. The fans often yell "Get the quarterback."

Penalty - What you get when you make an early withdrawal from your savings account.

Touchdown - A strange ritual the runner goes through each time he scores. He dances in a small circle, jumps up and down and throws the ball down.

Bleachers - A group of peroxide blondes.

Referee - A supposedly non-biased individual who makes sure the game is played by the rules. He often becomes a scapegoat for the losing team. They say they would have won if the referee had not cheated.

Half-time - A celebration signifying the game is half over. This is marked by musicians in oddly colored uniforms performing drills to music. Unfortunately, the viewers at home do not see this festive occasion. They are treated to boring announcers with boring statistics on equally boring games.

Forward pass - A wink to the cute girl in the fifth row.

Pass interception - The not-so-cute girl in the third row who acknowledges the wink.

Pass interference - A person in the fourth row who suddenly stands up during an exciting point in the game, blocking the view of the girl in the fifth row.

Roughing the passer - What happens when the boy friend of the girl in the fifth row sees someone wink at her.

Roughing the kicker - What happens when the crowd gets tired of the fan who insists on playing his radio too loud that is tuned to a country and western station.

Fair catch - Not a good catch, but not a lousy catch, either.

Halfback - A 50 percent refund.

Unsportsmanlike conduct - A set of rules that determine how a true sportsman should act. Forbidden actions are kicking, punching, cursing and crying.

Right guard - A popular brand of deodorant.

Gatorade - A welfare program for needy alligators.

"I" formation - The first person singular tense in writing.

Blitz - What happens to the players when they drink too much Red Dog.

Field goal - the amount of crops the farmer hopes to harvest from a particular field.

Personal foul - A player's very own chicken.

Holding - What you were doing with the hand of the girl in the fifth row.

Shotgun - What the father of the girl in the fifth row uses when he doesn't believe you were just holding hands.

This Amtrak passenger train was re-routed through stratford Wednesday due to a derailment somewhere in Colorado. the change of course took the train on tracks normally used for freight.

The Elks Junior Varsity football team goes over some of the finer points of a play during the daily practice routine in preparation for Friday night's scrimmage against Clovis.

DPS warns 'watch for youngsters'

The summer vacation will soon be over and thousands of youngsters will be starting back to school, many of those for the first time. Last year in Texas the pedestrian fatalities accounted for 732 traffic deaths according to Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

He said, "Motorists need to slow down as they drive through school zones and in and around school areas."

He added, "Those big yellow buses will also be back on our streets and highways, and Texas law requires the driver of a vehicle meeting or overtaking a school bus displaying red flashing warning lights that is in the process of loading or unloading passengers to stop until the school bus starts moving, the red lights are no longer flashing, or the bus driver directs motorist to proceed."

Cawthon said, "It is most important that drivers observe speed limits in school zones and the school bus loading laws for the protection of our children, because no one wants to be responsible for the death or injury of a young child."

Conservation program offers cost sharing on irrigation pipeline

by Thomas Reed

The Great Plains Conservation Program will soon have money available for anyone planning to install irrigation pipeline. The amount of cost share available for pipeline was raised from 50 percent to 75 percent of the actual cost. The increase is due to the fact that the Sherman County has been placed in a targeted area of water conservation in the Texas Panhandle. This year a contract can be obtained even if pipeline is the only cost share item needed. Other cost shared practices may be included in the contract if needed.

A person wishing to participate in the Great Plains Conservation Program will need to make an application to do so with the soil conservation service. The SCS personnel will assist you in developing a conservation plan for the purpose of obtaining a Great Plains Conservation Program contract.

Hinds' Hints

by Naomi Hinds

When traveling, put a light weight chain across the back of the car. Hang clothes hangers in the links to keep them from running together.

For tired aching feet, soak in warm epsom salt water for five minutes. Dry and rub a small amount of mentholatum on the soles.

Add a tablespoon of vinegar to pie crust. This makes a flakier crust.

Always turn clothes hangers in same direction on the curtain rod. In case of fire, a bunch of clothes can be carried out easier.

If your television is one of the "on instantly" kind it uses electricity all of the time, even when it is off. So, to save energy, unplug it at night or while on vacation.

If you have a wood burning stove, burn potato peelings in it occasionally. This helps clean out the flue.

Slicing cheese? If you warm the knife first, it will slice easier.

Oatmeal browned in butter makes a good substitute for nuts in cookies, cakes or pie recipes.

White goes to 1983 World Jamboree

Two local Boy Scouts and one adult leader have recently returned from the XV World Scout Jamboree held in Alberta, Canada. Pete White of Stratford and Michael Pierce of Yarbrough, accompanied by Russell Guthrie of Goodwell, spent 20 days on the excursion which began in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and ended in Kananaskis Country, west of Calgary, Alberta. They were members of South Central Region Troop 515, which included boys from New Mexico, Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma and Colorado.

After a brief flight from New Mexico to Denver the group boarded a bus for a six-day tour which included the Air Force Academy; Grand Junction, Colorado; Salt Lake City; Yellowstone National Park; and Great Falls, Montana. On July 4th the Scouts arrived at Kananaskis Country Provincial Park, joining 14,000 other young men and women from around the world, including 3600 Americans and 3400 Canadians.

While at the Jamboree the Scouts hosted, and were in turn hosted by, troops from Austria, Finland, Wales, Scotland, England, and other countries. On-site activities included motocross racing, obstacle courses, trapshooting, international sports, a special course simulating physical handicaps, and Western activities. Each troop had opportunities to visit the colorful city of Banff, and to experience the Calgary Stampede, often billed as the best rodeo in the world.

White, 15, is a Life Scout in Troop 38, chartered to the Stratford American Legion. Pierce, 17, is a Life Scout in Troop 110, chartered to Yarbrough School. Guthrie is Scoutmaster of Troop 142 in Goodwell, and is Assistant Professor of Communication at Panhandle State University.

Note: Each of these Scouts paid his own way via after-school and summer jobs. Basic cost for the trip was $1450, with additional expenses bringing it up to about $1800.

PETE WHITE

Two men were college Presidents before they became Presidents of the United States - Woodrow Wilson and Dwight Eisenhower.

SS benefits returned

The Director of the Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office has announced that the VA has been designated as the agency to administer the benefit program which restored former Social Security benefits to veterans' spouses and children that had been terminated as a result of the Omnibus Reconciliation Act of 1981.

Congress has restored entitlement to these benefits to eligible persons as a result of a promise made to military and service personnel who later died while on active duty or as a result of military service.

The restored benefits are payable to survivors of military personnel who died on active duty prior to Aug. 13, 1981, or whose death after discharge was the result of disabilities incurred in, or aggravated by, military service before Aug. 13, 1981.

Students between the ages of 18 and 22, enrolled in full-time post-secondary programs, may be eligible to receive the restored benefits. A parent with a child between the ages of 16 and 18 in his/her custody may also be eligible.

The first payments of the restored benefits were issued July 27. The checks will cover the restored benefits from January through July. A separate check will be issued September 1 for the month of August.

New VA application forms are being developed for the program. The forms are to be mailed to recipients this month. An eligible person wishing to apply for the restored benefit, or seeking information, may contact the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your local telephone directory under "Veterans Administration" or "U.S. Government." A VA benefits counselor will respond.

Kerrick UD student goes to Rome

Rome, Italy will be the classroom setting for 100 University of Dallas students this fall.

Journeying thousands of miles, the UD students will intersperse their academic studies of history, art and philosophy with tours of the ruins of Rome and Greece.

Each fall and spring semester a group of sophomore-level students spend one semester at the UD Rome Campus. Located at the Hotel La Villa on the city's outskirts, the university is the prime occupant of this facility. Classrooms, dormitory accommodations, a lounge and chapel are made available to the students.

Randy Lee Irlbeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Irlbeck of Kerrick, will be among the students participating in the Fall 1983 Rome Program.

UD professors, who live at the Rome Campus, offer instruction in history, art, architecture, philosophy, theology, and Italian. Classes pertain to the development of Western Civilization.

The students also experience more than a week of group travel and study in Greece, visiting Olympia, Athens and Corinth. The schedule also permits a 10-day break and on weekends for European travel.

UD students began studying in Rome when the University initiated the program under former President Dr. Donald Cowan in the fall of 1970. In the past 12 years, 2,143 students have followed the path to Rome as liberal arts students.

The program is offered to UD sophomore students who have completed one semester of study at the University. Cost of participating in the program is approximately the same as that for a resident student on the Irving campus except for the group airfare charges.

Students will depart August 31 and arrive September 1 in Rome. They will return to Dallas on December 19.

County Agent

by Jim Allison, Sherman County Extension Agent

Prolonged dry, hot weather has caused damage to most dryland crops and stressed irrigated milo and corn in the area. Many producers are considering grazing out stressed crops or harvesting them for hay or silage in order to salvage part of their investment.

Plants that have had their growth arrested by drought are more apt to have a high nitrate content than normal plants. Ensiling is a good way to make high nitrate forage a safer feed, since silage often loses 40-60 percent of its nitrate content during fermentation. High nitrate silage should not be fed until fermentation has stopped, which occurs about 21 days after storage. Forages harvested as hay are more likely to be a problem since the nitrate is relatively stable.

It is a good management practice to have suspect forage analyzed for nitrate prior to feeding it. Silage should be analyzed after it has undergone fermentation and hay after it has been baled. Crops that are going to be grazed out should be analyzed prior to turning cattle into the field.

Forages that are high in nitrates can be fed if they are diluted with other forages low in nitrates or mixed with grain. The probability of nitrate poisoning is more likely when the total diet is forage that is high in nitrate.

Most labs can analyze for nitrates quickly and the test is relatively inexpensive. Nitrate content is reported in several different manners. Shown below are the formulas to convert the various reporting methods to actual nitrate.

Potassium Nitrate x 0.6 = Nitrate
Nitrate Nitrogen x 4.4 = Nitrate

Forages that contain over one percent nitrate have been shown to be potentially lethal if fed as the total diet. Generally, if the nitrate content is less than 0.5 percent, the forage can be fed as the total diet with no toxicity, but performance may be reduced if the nitrate content is over 0.1 percent.

Young animals, old animals in poor nutritional status and hungry animals are less tolerant to nitrate than well fed animals on adequate rations. Nitrate poisoning occurs when large quantities of nitrate are absorbed into the bloodstream where it converts hema-globin to methemoglobin to reduce the oxygen-carrying capacity of the blood. Symptoms develop rapidly. Labored breathing and nervousness lead to incoordination and bluish color of the mucous membranes and eventually death. Administration of a four percent solution of methylene blue has been effective if given early enough. Administration of this solution should be under the advice or supervision of a veterinarian.

Plants of the sorghum group (Johnson grass, sorghum, sudan and hybrid sudan) have a high potential for prussic acid poisoning. These plants have cyanide-containing compounds which are converted to prussic acid when the plant cells are disrupted due to drought, hail, harvesting, frost, etc. Prussic acid is liberated in the rumen, absorbed into the blood and carried to the tissues where this potent toxin interferes with oxygen utilization. If absorbed rapidly, it can cause respiratory paralysis. Early symptoms are labored breathing, frothing at the mouth, irregular pulse and staggering.

Stressed plants should be checked for prussic acid before they are grazed. When growth conditions change due to rainfall, drought, frost, etc., analysis should be conducted to head off problems. If prussic acid is detected, cattle should be removed until analysis shows the prussic acid has dropped. Delay feeding hay or silage for 4-6 weeks to allow time for breakdown of the prussic acid.

A sodium nitrite-sodium thiosulfate combination can be administered as an antidote. It must be injected intravenously very slowly. The dosage and administration are critical. The toxic principal works very rapidly, so speed of detection is important.

Suspect forage can be checked for nitrate and prussic acid at the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Lab, 6610 Amarillo Blvd. West, Amarillo, Texas 79106 or at many local labs. About a one pound sample that is representative of the forage should be submitted through your local veterinarian. Costs for the tests are: Prussic Acid = $3 per sample; Nitrate = $1 to run qualitative test to determine if nitrates present in appreciable amounts. If positive, a quantitative test is also run which costs $5 per sample.

Tips & Topics

by Susie Ehmann County Extension Agent Home economist

A great way to learn is by doing things.

To help youngsters learn by helping them do things is the goal of the 4-H program, says Susie Ehmann, county 4-H program coordinator with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Through almost 50 different project areas youngsters can learn about new things, try something they have never tried before, and be introduced to new areas of the world in which they live.

For more than 187,000 Texas youths last year, 4-H was the way to new and exciting possibilities. These young men and women enrolled in 4-H either in their community clubs or through their school programs, says Ms. Ehmann.

The youngsters learned about projects like automotive care, safety bicycling and woodworking. They worked with large and small animals in the livestock projects. They trained dogs and cared for cats. They learned about computers, energy and conservation.

A common theme through all 4-H projects is career education, says Ms. Ehmann: 4-H'ers learn how an individual might make a living with skills like these, how these skills fit into another career field, or how these skills enhance their lifestyle.

As the youth phase of the Extension Service, the 4-H program gets its support and educational materials from county agents and specialists as well as from the state's land-grant university, Texas A&M University, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. However, the driving force of the program is the local volunteer leader.

Most clubs are led by volunteers who share their time and talents to help the youngsters to learn by doing. There are some 22,000 adult and teenage leaders working with 4-H members in Texas.

More information about the 4-H program is available from the county Extension office, says Ms. Ehmann.
