Time Extension To Subscribers

In order to simplify our circulation management, and to get to know our subscribers to the Free Press better, persons other than office personnel will no longer take subscriptions and renewals.

This will be one way in which we can keep our subscription rates at the same price you have paid for many years. We hope, in this way, to serve you better, and with a more personal touch.

We will mail notices of the expiration date of your Free Press, and extend the time after expiration from 15 to a full 30 days, to give you ample time to stop in and bring your subscription renewal to the office, or to mail it in to us.

Mr. Walter Adams, who has served the Free Press in this capacity for many, many years expresses his appreciation to his faithful customers, along with several other people who have, at times, taken subscriptions.

We, in turn, express our appreciation to them, and hope that our subscribers will stop in and get acquainted as they renew to their home county newspaper.

"There are various ways in which a person can become an addict to dope and the chief trouble is that they will experiment with different kinds of types of drugs until they find one that they are comfortable with," he stated.

"Every individual in the community should be a better example to them and show or convince them that we have something better to offer than drugs," he said in conclusion.

Invocation was given by E. J. Stewart. The song session was led by Charles Thornhill, with Gail Barnett at the piano. Program chairman for today, Jan. 7 will be R. C. Couch, Jr.

Haskell Man Is Slightly Injured In Wreck, Sunday

Jack Collins, 61, of Haskell, was slightly injured in a wreck early Sunday, January 3rd, six miles north of Breckenridge, which took the lives of two Graham men; in what amounted to two separate accidents.

Killed in the mishap were William Johnston, 75, driver of the car, and a passenger, James Fletcher Fuller Turner, 21, of Abilene.

According to Highway Patrolman Tom Hefner of Breckenridge, the first accident occurred about 3:45 a. m. when the northbound Johnston car left the highway to the right, straddled a bridge railing, turned over on the driver's side and rolled over on its top, completely blocking the northbound lane.

Milton V. Strickland of Vernon, driver of a southbound truck, who stopped to render aid, said Johnson was apparently dead when he got to the car, but that Turnerhill was still alive. Before the truck driver could get Turnerhill out of the car, a northbound car driven by Jack Collins of Haskell, struck the overturned vehicle.

Turnerhill was thrown from the car which skidded over him and his body then became lodged under the Collins car. Collins was treated for minor injuries at Stephens Memorial Hospital and was released. Strickland was not injured.

SOCIAL SECURITY IS IMPORTANT TO THE UNDER 30 AGE GROUP

If you're in the half of the U. S. population that's under 30, you may think social security is something remote and unimportant to you right now. Not so, according to R. R. Tuley, Jr., social security district manager for the Abilene district.

"In this generally healthy and youthful group, 2 1/2 million people receive benefits because they are disabled or are dependent upon disabled workers. Over 3 million widowed mothers and young children get monthly social security checks as survivors of workers," Tuley stated. "Half a million students age 18 to 22 and a quarter million people who became disabled in childhood get monthly benefits as the children of retired, deceased, or disabled workers," he went on. "Disabled children get social security benefits as long as they are not able to work."

"The money in cases like these is important, of course," Tuley added. "But for the young worker who knows that his family will be at least partially provided for should he be injured or die prematurely, there is also peace of mind."

MEDICARE DEDUCTIBLE MAY SPAN FIFTEEN MONTH USE PERIOD

People with Medicare medical insurance were reminded today that doctor bills for October, November and December may cover their $50 annual deductible for both 1970 and 1971, if such expenses didn't pass the $50 level before October 1. R. R. Tuley, Jr., district manager, explained that the annual deductible is the first $50 covered medical expenses accumulated in a calendar year.

But there is a "carry-over" rule that helps the beneficiary who might otherwise have to pay the $50 deductible twice in a short period of time—at the end of one year and the beginning of the next year.

Medicare medical insurance, the voluntary part of Medicare that helps pay doctor bills and other health services, pays 80 percent of covered expenses after the first $50.

There can be no Medicare payment until a record is made that you have met your deductible. For this reason, it is a good practice as soon as your bills come to $50 to attach them to a Medicare claim form and send them to P. O. Box 22147, Group Medical and Surgical Medicare-Part B, Dallas, Texas 75222," Tuley said.

He said that anyone needing claim forms for Medicare medical insurance or information about Medicare should call the Abilene social security office. The telephone number is (915) 677-5262.

hearings and debate, is enough to create a legislative logjam.
This, however, is not the most serious aspect of this development. More serious is the fact that Members of Congress are called upon to be experts in a wide range of highly technical subjects. None are.

Health care insurance, space exploration, the many-headed school aid programs, environmental control, hearing, foreign affairs, labor legislation, settling strikes, transportation, military preparedness, dealing with highly technical and complex tax matters and appropriations —to name just a few—are all subjects and issues deserving a special knowledge of each.

Legislation in each of these fields and many more, often has hidden and unsuspected consequences when put into effect.

The Committee system of the Congress provides special study,
with specialized staff assistance,
for legislation on these subjects.
The system works in matters of common concern—national defense, foreign relations, international trade, monetary policy, etc.—It is less so when involved in matters of more local concern—with different effect in different parts of the country. A Senator or a Congressman would have to be a sociologist, a scientist, an economist, a constitutional lawyer—yes, even a prophet—to always be sure of how certain legislation will effect the Nation, his State and the people he represents.

Then too, after laws are enacted there is much to be done.
The Congressman must act as the go-between for his constituents and the sprawling bureaucracy which the Congress has created. In many instances it is to try to see that the individual is not unduly imposed upon, cheated in some way or ignored in others. Many people and communities need help in securing benefits provided under law or in finding the proper agency to deal with their particular problem.

Marathon sessions of the Congress often, if not always,
end with highly important proposals still pending. The oppo-sible would seem the case but not so. A definite and binding date for adjournment would not only speed the legislative processes but should result in greater responsibility. Beyond such a date a special called session would be required to consider specific measures, and limited to those matters specified.

Our State of Texas has such a system and it is better than the U. S. Congress.

Such an arrangement would give greater opportunity for Members of Congress to spend more time back home learning the thinking of the people they represent and vice versa. A Congress isolated in Washington may lose the touch with

"back home" which is fundamental to representative government.

It seems that as long as the Congress is in session there are new proposals by the White House, the various Agencies and Departments and Members of the House and Senate, to create new programs of some sort or other. Every action taken invariably increases the Government's bureaucracy, with its attendant increased cost.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
Most taxpayers don't think of Internal Revenue Service as representing anything to be thankful for. However, a Dallas District IRS employee comes up with this list of items to be thankful for:

1) That he lives and works in a nation with the highest morals on earth—where 97% of the Federal tax collections are self-assessed and voluntarily
paid:

2) Where over 2500 school teachers provide a good neighbor service and help IRS teach more than 175,000 students how to prepare their tax return
each year:

and consists only of wages or salaries and tips, dividends, interest, pensions and annuities and you choose the standard deduction instead of itemizing your deductions, you may have IRS compute your tax for you.
If you want IRS to do this, fill in lines 1 through 18 and 24, 26, 27 and 28, if applicable. If you are entitled to a retirement income credit, attach Schedule R and enter "RIC" on line 22 of Form 1040.

If you meet the requirements
and you figure that the computer can 'out figure' you, just mail it to the Austin Service Center and the computer will do the rest.

A-When you talk to real estate people and home mortgage lenders it is advisable to have proof of your eligibility which you may obtain from your nearest VA office. Your application to the VA should be accompanied by a copy of your discharge papers.

Q-I am married to a World War I veteran who receives 100 per cent service-connected compensation. Would I be entitled to benefits as the widow of a disabled veteran?

A-Possibly. You would qualify for a higher rate with no income limitations if the veteran died of a service-connected condition. However, if the condition which caused his death was not service-connected, you might qualify for a widow's pension, provided you are within the income and estate limitations.

Q-My husband and I are both veterans, entitled to schooling benefits under the G.I. Bill. May we both claim our two children as dependents and be paid for them, and may we both claim each other as dependents?

A-Both of you may claim the children as dependents and your husband may claim you as a dependent; however, you may claim your husband as a dependent only if he is physically or mentally incapable of self-support.

Q-I was discharged last year after three years of active duty, and want to buy a small grocery store. Can I get a G.I. business loan for this purpose?

A-If this was your only period of service the answer is no. You might contact an office of the Small Business Administration or attempt to obtain a loan through private sources.

J-Is it to my advantage to complete my high school studies on my own and save my G.I. schooling benefits for college?

A-No. The VA will pay you an additional allowance for high school, and not charge it against your entitlement for college.

PASSAGE OF LEGISLATION TO HELP THE SMALL HOSPITALS

Congressman Omar Burleson

has been successful in passage of legislation which he authorized to relieve small hospitals of the requirement of having a registered nurse on duty at all times. The House of Representatives passed the bill on December 22 and the Senate passed it on January 2. The Bill, H.R. 19470 now goes to the President for signature.

The need for such legislation was evidenced by the difficulty many small rural hospitals have encountered in qualifying for Medicare due to this requirement. In his remarks before the House, Congressman Burleson stated, "There must be adequate standards for adequate health care. This we all recognize. There is, however, the practical aspect of what can be immediately provided in certain areas of the Country."

"In many small towns of the more rural sections there is only one hospital. In many instances it is miles removed from a larger town hospital and is necessary to the community. To establish standards and requirements which can not be met at this time and a few years in the immediate future would work an extreme hardship on Medicare patients who have no other place to go.

"Medicare patients should not be required to leave their home community, their familiar surroundings and, particularly, their doctor for care in another area not familiar to them."

Burleson's bill permits discretion on the part of the Secretary of HEW to determine, under certain criteria, whether a registered nurse must be required around the clock at these particular hospitals. The bill is temporary in nature in that it allows the nursing requirement to be waived by the Secretary year after year for the next five years.

4-H'ers Get $1.4 Million for Education in 10-Year Period

A total of 286 scholarships valued at $186,700 are offered this year to current and former 4-H members. These bring the dollar amount of educational grants given during the last decade to $1.4 million.

The figures were compiled by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago, which obtains funds from private sources.

Some 45 of 60 donors contribute funds for scholarships which range from $300.00 to $1,000.00. Each business firm or foundation sponsors a specific program such as safety, or underwrites scholarships to be used in pursuing specific courses of study such as forestry.

Several companies have been supporting 4-H in this manner for about 50 years. Among the pioneers are Montgomery Ward; International Harvester Company; The Santa Fe Railway System; Chicago and North Western Railway Company; The Sears-Roebuck Foundation and Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation.

In the learn-by-doing 4-H programs, scholarships are awarded to national or regional winners who usually are high school juniors or seniors, or college freshmen.

There are 45 such programs which range from achievement to veterinary science. The scholarships can be used for a regular four-year college course or in vocational schools, short courses, business training, nursing and the like.

Among other scholarship donors of long tenure are The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company; Coats & Clark Inc.; Westinghouse Electric Corporation; Eli Lilly and Company; Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc.; Standard Brands Incorporated; Allis-Chalmers; Carnation Company and Ford Motor Company Fund.

4-H programs are supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service with program awards arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee.

Information on specific programs may be obtained by contacting the county Extension office.

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

Change. That's what it's all about this year. And that's what we mean by putting you first.

These are uneasy times. There are major concerns. About pollution. About safety. About the economy. About your hard-earned dollar. We know.

For the past 10 years Chevrolet research people have questioned thousands of people on every subject from rising taxes to the size of the glovebox in their cars.

We've found that price and maintenance costs, trade-in value and quality have become tremendously important.

Your car has to work. It has to last. And each new model must have more built-in value.

At Chevrolet, we understand. You want meaningful change. And our aim is to give that to you, as you'll see in the 1971 Chevrolets.

Caprice. The biggest, most luxurious Chevrolet ever. A complete change.

Bigness in itself is nothing. But if it allows you to lengthen the distance between the front and rear wheels (which we did), then you've got something.

You've got a smoother ride. The idea in the 1971 Caprice was to give you the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, without asking you to pay anywhere near that much for it. And above all, to build in as much dependability and security as possible.

So we changed the body structure for 1971, too. We made it stronger. And we made it quieter by putting a double layer of steel in the roof.

Caprice, as you can see below, is a lot of luxury at a Chevrolet price.

Vega. The littlest Chevy ever. It wasn't changed from anything.

Before building Vega, we read everything we could get our hands on about little cars. We talked to owners. We studied little cars up one side and down the other and, literally, tore them apart. We found out what made them tick, or why they didn't tick.

What ticked were gas economy and dependability. What didn't were underpowered engines, cramped quarters and getting blown around in the wind.

In our little Vega, everything ticks. It's not just another little car. You didn't want that. It's one little car that does everything well.

It is through our long list of loyal subscribers and advertisers who have made it possible for this newspaper to reach its 85th milestone. So, as we begin our 85th year of publication, we want to pause long enough from our work-a-day duties to say "A Big Thank-You" for making it possible to keep the presses rolling.
o-o-o
"Whenever I bring in a news item why is it oftentimes changed around?" That is the question often asked smalltown editors. Sometimes it is asked in desperation.
The answer is of course that news stories are easier to read, better understood, take less space, when they are written to conform to a somewhat flexible pattern. That style, developed over the years is fairly uniform in all newspapers because it is designated to evaluate the facts for their news value and tell them quickly and clearly.
There are a number of reasons why news story style is best, among them: (1) The reader can quickly read the lead, and quit there, if the story fails to interest him or her. (2) It permits cutting or reducing the length of a story, to get it into a particular place in the paper, by eliminating from the bottom. As these bottom paragraphs contain less important details, their removal will not seriously reduce the information the story is conveying. A well-written news story presents its outstanding information in the opening paragraphs, or lead.
It is the desire of the editor to pack the paper with as much news as he can get, written in clear, readable style, and arranged to give the paper a varied and attractive appearance. Yet he cannot prepare the entire content of it in a day or two. Because writing, editing, proofreading, etc., must start early enough to conclude at a specified time each issue. If the news stories are not written so that they can be made to fit the space assigned to them, much time will be lost, and the paper will contain fewer stories.
So, the next time you bring in a news item and it is "changed around," remember that it was rewritten into news style to the greatest possible number of readers.

Tax Questions And Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) This was the first year I earned any money. How do I get my tax forms? Must I go to the IRS for them?

A) If you did not file a return for 1969, then you can pick up tax forms and instructions at any IRS office, bank, or post office.

Tax forms are sent to every taxpayer who filed a return the previous year. To avoid sending taxpayers more forms than they may need the IRS may send a taxpayer one of three different tax packages.

Most taxpayers will receive the basic package, which contains copies of the Form 1040 and the schedules used to itemize deductions and report income from dividends and interest.

Taxpayers who had retirement income, capital gains, or income from certain other sources the previous year will receive a tax package containing the forms for these items, in addition to those in the basic package. Farmers and businessmen will receive a third type of package, which contains the forms in the first two packages plus those needed for their particular situation.

Forms will be mailed late in December and taxpayers should have them by the first week in January.

Q) Are the tax rates on 1970 income any lower than last year's?

A) Several changes will lower taxes for millions of people when they file their 1970 returns.

First, the income tax surcharge is 2 1/2 percent for 1970 compared to 10 percent in 1969. Second, the amount that may be claimed for each exemption is $625 on 1970 returns, up from $600 a year ago.

These two changes will reduce taxes on millions of 1970 returns.

In addition, an estimated six million taxpayers will not have to file a return, as they had been required to do in 1969. In this group are parttime workers, students and others with low income.

Single persons under 65 years of age will not have to file returns until their income reaches $1,700 ($2,300 if 65 or older). Returns previously had to be filed when income reached $600. Married persons from the same household entitled to file return do not have to file their income reaches the new tax laws. If both are 65 or older, one spouse is 65 or older, and anyone who has come because of tax withheld will have to turn to obtain it.

Q) Is the cost of fixing a barn deductible?

A) Repair and maintenance to buildings and equipment in farming are business expenses. When expenses of the materially add to the property or appreciate its life, they must be capitalized.

For example, if you place the roof, the cost is deductible.

PAINT CREEK NEWS

By Mrs. Gene Overton

Thermometer read 6 degrees when we got up this Tuesday morning. Someone said it didn't get that during the winter. Everyone I have talked to has had to break water pigs and chickens. Some milked yesterday and went down in the morning with L. B. before she milked inside and strained it. It was frozen solid the next day. I remember a year ago the ice storm had all our lines down and there was no electricity, no phones in parts of the community. We had to use kerosene lamps without electric pumps. I remember when the tree limbs all over the place. This doesn't seem so bad now. I could use some of the ice that the storm brought. I can do without all the snow. I brought out of the snow yesterday and got stuck in the snow three times on the way to work. But the planes came and go, and he is so Savannah this morning. It is fun having everyone for the holidays? I had a messaged up house full of young people. Mine is quiet, quiet and lonesome morning, and frozen!
