Drivers Will Find Registering 1970 Vehicles Easier Than Ever Before

AUSTIN—Texas drivers will find registering their motor vehicles for 1970 easier than ever before...

The Department expects more than seven million vehicles to be registered during the year and there will be several new wrinkles.

First, license plates will have a new color scheme—light blue on a reflective white background.

Second, for the first time, motor vehicle registration renewal applications will be mailed to every vehicle owner in Texas during January.

The renewal application will arrive in the mail in a slender envelope marked, "Important—This is Your License Plate Renewal Application."

The application itself has instructions printed on it. It is a three-part form which should not be torn apart.

When the registration period begins, the vehicle owner need only take the application—and the fee—to the county tax office.

With the application, he will no longer need to present his certificate of title or the last year's registration receipt.

Although owners can register their vehicles in person until April 1, there is a March 1 cut-off date for mail registration.

Haskell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary And Candy Strippers Visit Rest Homes

The Haskell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and Candy Strippers visited the Clear View and Rice Springs Rest Homes during the Christmas celebration, and presented a program of the holidays, carols and songs.

The group assembled first at the Clear View Home and sang carols with Marsha Berry as leader, and Mrs. J. F. Cadenhead as pianist.

Miss Nettie McCollum read the story of the birth of Jesus on that very first Christmas in Luke.

Miss Sue Wilkinson, president of the Candy Strippers, gave a reading, "The Cowboys Christmas Ball", relating the tale of the cowboys Christmas times in Texas, by Larry Chittendon. Mrs. J. F. Cadenhead Sr. played "Silver Bells" and "O Holy Night" as solos.

The Candy Strippers sang as a finale, "We Wish You A Merry Christmas And A Happy New Year."

Next the group gathered at Rice Springs Care Home, where everything was a festive celebration. A large, beautifully decorated tree was all aglow, with colored lights, representing the light of the world which is Jesus in the hearts of the people.

Many small and large packages, wrapped in various colored papers made an enthralling picture under the Christmas tree for old Santa to call the names receiving the gifts. Bob Connell, the Church of Christ minister, played Santa, who was an ideal Santa, greeting everyone with a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Mrs. J. F. Cadenhead Sr. played the carols, "White Christmas" and "Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer." Miss Nettie McCollum read the birth of Jesus from Luke as the devotional.

Miss Sue Wilkinson read the Cowboys Christmas Ball by Larry Chittendon.

The nurses and manager of the Home rendered several carols, with Mrs. Klose as pianist. They presented, "All I Want for Christmas is My Two Front Teeth", "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town"; "It's Beginning to Look Like Christmas"; "White Christmas" and "Silent Night".

After the gifts had been delivered by Santa and his helpers, Mr. Connell sang, "White Christmas" and "How Great Thou Art" as a fitting climax to such a meaningful occasion. Everyone received joy and a blessing from such a celebration.

Hospital Auxiliary ladies present were Mesdames E. Wyche, J. F. Cadenhead Sr., R. Y. Mobley, Hill Oates, Bailey Guess, H. W. Pitman, and Miss Nettie McCollum.

Candy Strippers attending were Misses Sue Wilkinson, Marsha Berry, Denise Perry, and Becky Stubblefield.

The Rice Springs Care Home served fruit punch and cookies to the patients and guests.

Employees Of Clear View Hold Christmas Party

Employees of the Clear View Lodge Nursing Home and members of their families were entertained with a Christmas Party, December 16th.

A turkey dinner was served to fifty-one persons, and gifts were exchanged from the Christmas tree.

FEWER WORKERS
In 1966, there were fewer workers holding two jobs than there were in 1956. In both years, as well as those in between, most of these dual job holders had their primary jobs in the field of agriculture.

tion and books?
 A—The VA allowance is intended to help you meet, in part, the expenses of tuition, school fees, supplies, books and equipment, and subsistence during the period of your enrollment.
 Q—Since my wife and I are both veterans, can each of us claim our one child as a dependent to qualify for increased educational assistance?
 A—Yes. Both of you can qualify for the increased educational assistance allowance on account of the child. You may also claim your wife as a dependent. However, you cannot qualify as a dependent of your wife.
 Q—My deceased husband's headstone which was furnished by the Army has become unsightly because of age. Will the Army furnish me another marker for his grave?
 A—Each request is decided on its merits. You should apply for a replacement to the Chief Support Service, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C. 20315. In your application, be sure to give full details concerning the appearance of the present headstone.

 Q—I was discharged from active duty in March 1964, after two years of service. About 8 months before separation, I had a tooth filled. The filling has fallen out. Can I get the tooth repaired by the Veterans Administration?
 A—No. Application for treatment of dental conditions incurred in service must be made within one year of discharge. Exceptions to the time limitation are permitted only for veterans who have been prisoners of war, who sustained traumatic injuries to their teeth, or who are receiving compensation for a dental disability. These exceptions do not apply in your case.
TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
 If you don't know about the new income tax form, you will shortly after January 1. Internal Revenue Service has issued a fact sheet on the new form 1040. Here are some of the facts.
 The new 1040 not only replaces the card form 1040A, but also the old 1040 form. The new form is a one-page basic form to which schedules can be added to cover any tax situation. IRS says that 77 million returns will be filed for this year—1969. An estimated 31 million will use only one page. Another 22 million returns will consist of the new one-page form and one additional attachment. Thus, about 75 percent of all the 1969 income tax returns will require only one or two pages. IRS assures taxpayers who formerly filed the little card form 1040A that the new form will not complicate filing nor require additional information of them. The new form simply provides a different place for the information that should actually be easier to use. The tax folks feel that the new form will help 1040A filers take advantage of all the deductions available to them, especially those who overpaid their income taxes because they were not aware of, or could not take advantage of, the various tax benefits available to them. Internal Revenue gave the problem long and thorough study before they changed the tax form. Let's all hope it will make the job easier and save us a few bucks.

VA Questions And Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—I am a disabled veteran and I have been advised I may be eligible for vocational rehabilitation. What are the advantages of vocational rehabilitation over the regular G. I. Bill to which I also have entitlement?

A—Vocational rehabilitation allows a wider variety of training, a longer period of training (if required), and more money. With few exceptions, it would be to your advantage to take vocational rehabilitation rather than training under the regular G. I. Bill.

Q—Is a certificate of attendance needed each month for veterans who are training under Public Law 89-358, if the training is below the college level?

A—Yes. Payment may not be made to veterans in training below college level for any month until a certificate of attendance has been received.

Q—Does the current year's VA insurance dividend include Modified Life policies?

A—Yes. It will be a modest, first-time dividend with the average payment about $11.00.

Q—Does the VA, under the new GI Bill, pay the cost of tu-

TO ALL OUR FRIENDS HAPPY NEW YEAR

Texas Highway Dept. Has Taken Lot Of Frustration Out of Registration

When the owners of Texas' Highway Department has taken seven million motor vehicles a lot of frustration out of registration their 1970 license plates, registration. Owners will receive motor vehicle registration applications by mail early in January.

This three-part form is the key to convenience.

In previous years, the vehicle owner had to hunt up his certificate of title and last year's license receipt and take them to the tax office or a substation. Often, he found himself at the end of a long, slow-moving line.

The lines should be much shorter this year. And there are provisions for license plates by mail.

Here's how easy it is: If a motorist goes to the county tax office or a substation, all he need take is the three part form — the motor vehicle registration application — that came in the mail. And the registration fee, of course.

If he should find a line, chances are it will be shorter and faster-moving than any he remembered from previous years.

All he needs do is to present the renewal application and pay the fee. The clerk will validate the application with the new license numbers and return part of the form as a receipt.

Another part of the form is retained for the county's records and the third is sent to the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department in Austin.

Should the vehicle owner decide to register his vehicle by mail, he sends the entire renewal application, the fee and an additional $1 to his county tax officer. The $1 additional charge is provided by statute to cover the cost of handling and postage.

The registration "season" begins at county tax offices and substations on February 1. The vehicle owner can register his vehicle in person until April 1.

If he wants his plates mailed to him, he must send in his application, the fee and $1 postage and handling charge to his county tax officer by March 1. This allows 30 days for delivery before 1970 license plates must be displayed after midnight, April 1.

Easy-to-follow instructions are printed on the three-part form. The Highway Department asks that the owner leave the form intact and that he not separate the three parts.

The new system is the product of many months of planning and work. The system began taking shape in 1967 with the installation of the first computer equipment by the Highway Department.

At one stage, 500 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections were engaged in matching records and converting the records into a format suitable to be put into computers.

The new system gives Texas one of the most modern and efficient systems for maintaining accurate and up-to-date records on motor vehicles in the world.

The big beneficiary, however, is the vehicle owner who will realize extra convenience and big savings in time.

Tax Questions And Answers

valuable out of the country. Then there will be a record of your ownership which you retain.

Q—Why can't a check made out to cash be used to support a charitable contribution?

A—To substantiate a deductible expense your records must indicate, among other things, the purpose of the expense, to whom paid, as well as the amount.

A check made out to cash does not indicate the nature of the expense and must be supported by other records, such as receipts.

A check made out to a specific organization, a charity for example, may well be sufficient to establish that a deductible contribution has been made.

Q—Half of my daughter's college tuition is covered by a scholarship. Is this considered income and will it affect my dependency deduction for her?

A—Most scholarships are not taxable. If your daughter's scholarship happens to be taxable, however, it will be counted as her income, not yours. In addition, scholarships are not part of support and are therefore not considered in determining your daughter's total support.

To find out whether the scholarship is taxable, check with the person or organization granting it. They may have a ruling from IRS.

Information on the tax status of scholarships may also be obtained by sending a post card to your IRS District Director. Ask for Publication 507, Tax Information on Scholarships and Fellowships.

Q—Is there any penalty for not paying estimated tax when you are liable for it?

A—Yes, there can be an additional charge if withholding and estimated tax payments do not meet at least 80 percent of your income tax liability for the year. The amount of the penalty depends on the extent to which you have failed to meet this requirement.

The estimated tax system helps people meet their tax obligations on a pay-as-you-go basis if they are not, or are only partly, covered by withholding. For information, see Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax. Send a post card to your IRS district office to obtain a free copy.

Q—I think I will be entitled to claim my aunt as a dependent this year. What records should I keep?

A—Those that show you provided more than one-half of her gross income was under $600 and that if she is married she did not file a joint return with her husband.

Your aunt must be a citizen or a resident of the United States, or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama, for some time during the year you claim the exemption.

For more details, write to your IRS district office and ask for publication 501, Your Exemptions for Dependents. It's free.

STILL GOING TOGETHER

Cotton and cattle are still going together.

Gone is the legendary cowboy who, with swirling rope and hissing branding iron, tamed the wild longhorn. Except for actual "working of cattle," the man on his mount has long since been motorized.

Gone, too, is the adventurous ranch life that was "hell on horses and women." Derring-do has faded away and the automobile, airplane, telephone and technology have banished solitude and drudgery. Home on the range has become sophisticated.

However, cottonseed meal, that valuable by-product of the cotton plant, has not disappeared from the cattle-raising scene. Far from it. Over a million tons of cottonseed meal are consumed annually by beef cattle. Dairy cattle eat up another half million tons.

What's in the meal that creates such demand? P.E.P. That stands for Protein, Energy, Phosphorus. Cattle need all three year-round for steady weight gains, good calf production, abundant milk and early weaning. Whenever grazing grasses fail to provide the right amounts of P.E.P., supplemental feeding with cottonseed meal is the safest, most economical way to get the job done, according to the National Cotton Council.

Take the well-known Swenson ranches at Stamford, Texas, which embrace 258,000 acres surrounded by barbed wire strung around for 850 miles. The fencing divides the four big spreads into smaller pastures to facilitate round-ups, control grazing and conserve grass.

The famous SMS brand (derived from the initials of Svante Magnus Swenson, who came from Sweden to settle in Texas in 1836) identifies 23,000 head of Hereford cattle. For over 50 years, the SMS ranches have produced top quality feeder calves and yearlings for commercial feed lots.

In normal years, despite the pesky mesquite, SMS pastures are covered with nourishing grasses but in wintertime the Swensons use cottonseed meal (in the form of pellets commonly called cake) as a regular supplemental feed.

As a matter of fact, ranch manager A. M. "Swede" Swenson, a former University of Texas football star, points out that in 1902 "our family started a cottonseed oil mill to make sure we had a regular supply of cottonseed cake for our cattle. We've been using it ever since."

Regarding mesquite, its present range far into the Southwest is believed to have resulted from seeds scattered during the thundering cattle drives of yesterday. Mesquite is a spiny shrub or small tree with roots sometimes penetrating as deep as 70 feet. Its lacy, shadeless foliage has no grazing value. It exudes a gummy sap which is commercially worthless. So the wood, though it was once used to make railroad ties.

The rapid sprouting of mesquite and the way it takes over pasture lands poses a constant threat to cattlemen. Early in the century, the Swenson ranches were overrun by prairie dogs which ate much of the grass and also mesquite seedlings. The prairie dogs were finally eliminated by poison but then the mesquite took over. Today, under a six-year rotating eradication program, the Swensons use treedozers, root cutters and anchor chains to keep the mesquite under control.

It's all part of modern ranching designed to insure properly managed nutrition. That, coupled with scientific breeding policies, means constant improvement in cattle quality which, in turn, provides the best in beef for the dining room table.

ESCAPING A MUSKY SHOOTOUT

Trying to land a trophy musky is like trying to saddle a bronco. When he gets away, which is more often than not, you want to throw your hat on the ground and stomp it. But fishing cold musky water like Michigan's St. Clair River you learn to avoid such boat-tipping antics.

I sat in our boat and sized as I fingered the straightened hook of a large surface plug. Moments before, one of these saw-toothed devils raced under our boat, fouling the line and wrenching free of the hook as if it were a baby's safety pin. My guide shook his head and said, "I'll find them, but you've got to hang on to them."

There was a chop on the water from the wind out of the northeast as we came down from Marysville on this September afternoon, and if I were to catch my musky this season it would have to be now on the last day of a three-day fishing trip. On the previous days I had been shut out, but even for the accomplished fisherman being shut out by these fish is not a great indignity.

Muskies are as elusive as they are difficult to land. In neighboring Wisconsin, 5.6 acres of musky water yields one fish a year, and in Ohio, one musky is landed for every 1,000 hours fished.

We trolled bucktail spoons the first hour without success and then switched to casting to reefs and weedbeds with big jointed underwater plugs. I was using a heavy action 5 1/2-foot Conolon rod and the Ambassador 6000 baitcasting reel packed with 20-pound test monofilament.

We came on a point where the water swirled past under the shade of overhanging trees — the kind of hideout big musky choose to lie in ambush of passing bait fish. I put my plug just short of the shade and began a quick retrieve. Sure enough, the water welled up behind the moving plug and I braced myself for the strike. The fish followed the plug halfway back to the boat without striking, while I thought of the number of times that had happened during the past two days. So I changed the routine — for a split second I stopped the retrieve and then with a haul on the rod moved the plug up and out quickly like a frightened bait fish. The action was irresistible and the big fish walloped the lure.

I hit him twice to set the hook, and then hit him again for good measure. The long olive-brown body broke through the surface of the water with the plug jutting out of its duck-bill shaped snout. He was 20 pounds of fierce and evil-looking fish. He headed for the boat, but I wouldn't give him slack and steered him past the stern. After a terrific battle we had the gaff in him at boatside, and the menacing mouth opened as I reached in with long pliers to remove the plug.

"Ever hear the story of the young fella who went out for musky for the first time," said the guide, "and became so frightened when one of the monsters surfaced and headed for the boat that he yanked the plug out so the fish couldn't get it." "No musky tale is too tall," I said.

THE BOBCAT GOT AWAY

Not long ago, cowboys in a light airplane were chasing a bobcat running for cover on the Buckeye Ranch in Fort Sumner, New Mexico.

As the plane swooped down for the kill, one of the airborne hunters became excited and fired without taking aim. He shot off a front wheel of the airplane. They landed safely but the bobcat got away.

Ranch owner, Jeff Good, is a state representative and spends a good deal of his time in Santa Fe. But he's still a rancher and his been all his Herefords four or five pounds of cake per head every other day, sometimes for as long as six months.

mesa country. Mr. Good observes, "I don't worry about being away because Red Kyle, our ranch foreman, knows every cow on the place by her first name."

Mr. Good regrets there are so few of Red's caliber around these days, and he expresses concern over the growing problem of finding and keeping good ranch hands. They get along on the Buckeye Ranch by sharing the work load with neighboring cattlemen, especially at roundup and branding time.

"I'm strictly a cottonseed cake man and so was my Dad," Mr. Good says. "We feed our Herefords four or five pounds of cake per head every other day, sometimes for as long as six months."

His is a successful operation. Mesquite, a or small tree with foliage that has value, is becoming and he'll soon have or bulldoze. He'd like to extensive irriga but hesitates because help situation.

HASKELL COUNTY HISTORY

30 YEARS AGO
 (January 5, 1910)
 "Big John" Kimbrough, all-time idol of Haskell High School and All-American full-back on the nation's No. 1 team of Texas Aggies, Monday was acclaimed as the No. 1 player in the nation by fans and sports writers who witnessed his spectacular performance in leading the Aggies to a 14-13 victory over Tulane in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. Kimbrough powered his entire team, scoring both touchdowns for the Aggies and gaining a total of 159 yards in his twenty-five trips with the ball for an average gain of 6.3 yards on each play. Sports writers throughout the nation are acclaiming the Haskell man as an All-Time, All-American player.

The political campaign in Haskell County swings well underway this week, with eleven candidates listed in the announcement column of the Free Press for offices which range from precinct to legislative posts, to include the following: J. C. Davis, Jr., for re-election to a second term as County Judge; Mrs. Hettie Williams, District Clerk, for a second term; John A. Willoughby, district court reporter, for the office of County Attorney; Walter Marchison, present County Attorney, asks re-election to that office; M. R. (Murray) Smith, deputy Assessor-Collector, is a candidate for that office; Courtney Hunt, Representative from the 113th Legislative District, is a candidate for a second term; John S. Rike, Commissioner of Precinct 2, seek re-election for second term; Roy Weaver announces his candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct 2; Justice of the Peace B. T. Cliff is a candidate for re-election in that capacity; R. A. (Austin) Coburn, City Secretary, is a candidate for re-election; R. H. (Bill) Rife, present Commissioner of Precinct 4, although he has made no definite announcement, will be a candidate, according to an authoritative source.

An anti-aging pill, modern solution to the Fountain-of-Youth, some day may be available. Research on use of pills or treatment by radiation may help keep the body younger longer.

Meat takes about 25 cents of each dollar spent for food at home, poultry takes about 8 cents, and fish 2 cents of the dollar. These protein foods make up the largest part of food expenses.

The more water poultry contains, the less meat Mrs. Home-maker gets for her food dollar. Birds with the U. S. Department of Agriculture inspection mark contains a minimum amount of water necessary for shipping and processing safely.

College costs are going up again. Tuition, room and board bills are running about seven to eight percent higher than last year, according to a survey from the Institute of Life Insurance.

The secrets of successful chicken cooking are low temperatures and cooking to well-done. The secrets mean juicier meat and less shrinkage. Coating frying chicken in a prepared mix, seasoned flour, bread crumbs or crushed cereal prevents drying.

Mrs. Mamie Lee Hooker of Fort Worth submitted this week's recipe. This would be a very good dish for New Year's Day.

2 cans (No. 2) Dried Black-Eyed Peas (well drained)
 1 C. salad oil
 1/4 C. wine vinegar
 1 clove Garlic (optional). Garlic salt may be used.
 1/4 C. thinly shredded onion, or dehydrated onion.
 1/2 tsp. salt
 Black pepper (to taste)
 Drain peas well. Mix other ingredients and shake in a fruit jar. Store in ice box at least 2 days before serving. Will keep from 2 to 3 weeks, tightly sealed.

"Resolved, I Will Act Now To Reduce Risk of Heart Attack"

By Ruth Ann Frazier
County H. D. Agent

"Resolved, I will act now to reduce my risk of heart attack."

This New Year's resolution was suggested today for adoption by all residents of this community by the Haskell County Heart Association, which suggested these steps:

1. Eat less saturated (animal) fats, getting a larger portion of your fat requirements from polyunsaturated (vegetable) fats, and avoiding high-cholesterol foods.
2. Don't smoke cigarettes. Cigarette smokers have over twice the risk of non-smokers of having a heart attack.
3. Maintain normal weight. Middle-age men who are 30 percent or more over their normal weight have twice the risk of heart attack as compared with middle-aged men of normal weight.
4. Adopt a program of regular exercise that is compatible with your age and physical condition.
5. See your doctor regularly for a physical check-up, enabling him to begin prompt treatment of any high blood pressure or diabetes that may be present.

The Heart Association said that in an average population group the chances of avoiding a heart attack before 65 are less than 1 in 20 if the individual has no risk factors. But a person with three risk factors—for example, cigarette smoking, high blood cholesterol and high blood pressure—has a 1-in-2 probability of having a heart attack before 65.

The Association noted that heredity, maleness and age also are predisposing factors. While the individual cannot do anything about these problems, he can improve his health and reduce his risk of premature heart attack by minimizing the risk factors listed above.

There is no guarantee that any person will escape a heart attack by following these precautions, said the Association, which pointed out there is ample evidence that thousands of lives can be prolonged by making simple changes in one's living habits.

"Consider just one risk factor, namely, cigarette smoking," said the Association. "If smokers enjoyed the same relatively favorable mortality experience of non-smokers, about 70,000 fewer people would die of heart attack each year."

Another important way to reduce the risk of heart attack, it suggested, is to give full support to the 1970 Heart Fund

ZERO LITERACY

Education is one of the biggest cost items in the lives of all of us. We spend more years going to school than ever before. A college education has become as common as a high school education a few years ago. Yet, in one of the most vital areas... government spending, taxes and inflation...our level of literacy is virtually zero. There are about as many ideas of what to do about inflation as there are people...all because nowhere in the process of getting educated have we learned that when a government chronically spends more money than it receives in taxes, the result is inflation.

New Language Of Business

Do You Know The 10 Basic Words?

The language spoken every day in the business world is one that even businessmen do not understand clearly. The reason is the computer and the growing influence of electronic data processing on the American scene.

If you think you understand today's business language, here is a test prepared by the International Accountants Society of Chicago, using 10 common computer words. To businessmen, they should be as familiar as the contents of their wallet.

1. Bit
2. Program
3. Dump
4. Hardware
5. Terminal
6. Baud
7. Run
8. Unpack
9. Nanosecond
10. Routine

According to Jay Herrett, Director of IAS' Business Electronics Division, "If an executive knows only six or less of these terms, he is in danger of becoming a computer dropout. In fact, these are basic words used every day in many companies. And they are not too far removed from the daily conversation in homes across the country," Mr. Herrett added.

"We know from the number of students enrolling in our home study course in Business Data Processing how many businessmen are beginning to realize the importance of learning to live with electronic data processing.

"The revolution in space travel has brought new words into our vocabulary," Mr. Herrett says, "and so has the computer revolution."

Here are the definitions, taken from the Concise Dictionary of EDP Terms published by IAS.

BIT — A contraction meaning a binary digit; a single hole in a punched computer tape or card. Bits comprise a character; characters comprise a word.

PROGRAM — A computer plan for the solution of a problem.

DUMP — To transfer all or part of the contents of one section of computer memory into another section.

HARDWARE — A term used to describe the mechanical, electrical, and electronic elements of a data processing system.

TERMINAL — A point in a system or communication network at which data can either enter or leave.

BAUD — A unit of signaling speed in data transmission. The speed in bauds is equal to the number of bits per second.

RUN — One performance of a program on a computer.

UNPACK — To separate diverse information which has been included into one machine item or word.

NANOSECOND — A billionth of a second. A time measurement used to measure the operating speed of a computer.

ROUTINE — A sequence of instructions which perform a definite function within a larger computer program.

How well did you do?

The Texas Highway Department Reports Texans Are On The Move

Everyone knows Texans are on the move. The Texas Highway Department reported just how much the people of Texas and their visitors get around.

In 1968, Texans and visitors rolled up a daily average of 170.4 million vehicle miles.

To put that figure into Texas-size perspective, 170.4 million vehicle miles is roughly the equivalent of 200 thousand cars traveling from El Paso to Orange every day.

Or, literally to put it another way, it's 188 thousand cars moving from the top of the Panhandle to the Rio Grande at Brownsville.

Of course, careful drivers would not try to make either trip in one 24-hour period. Besides, they would miss a lot of things to see and do along the way.

So, cutting the trips down to size, the average daily traffic in Texas would be the same as 5.5 million cars traveling from Dallas to Fort Worth.

It would equal 860 thousand trips from San Antonio to Houston; or 698 thousand trip from Houston to Dallas; or almost 1.4 million trips from Lubbock to Amarillo.

Furthermore, the rate of travel in Texas is increasing. The Planning Survey Division of the Highway Department reported that vehicle miles driven were 5.4 per cent greater in 1968 than in 1967.

The Highway Department's interest in the number of vehicle miles driven is obvious: State-maintained highway facilities carry 73 per cent of all motor vehicle traffic in the State.

This is in spite of the fact that highways and Farm to Market Roads maintained by the Highway Department are a fraction of the total road and street mileage in Texas.

For example, the Highway Department maintains just over 60 thousand miles of rural highways and FM roads. The counties combined maintain almost 137 thousand miles of rural roads.

Yet, the State-maintained facilities carry 90 per cent of all rural traffic in the State.

Similarly, the Highway Department is responsible for maintenance and operation of about six thousand miles of the 43.3 thousand miles of urban streets in Texas.

But those six thousand State-maintained miles carry 61 per cent of all the urban traffic in the State.

Urban traffic volumes are on the rise, too. The Highway Department study shows that while Statewide traffic was increasing 5.4 per cent in 1968, traffic in the "Big Four" urban areas—Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth—climbed by 7.1 per cent.

In all urban areas, vehicle miles driven have increased to the extent that they now amount to 57 per cent of all miles driven in the State.

Coincidentally, another Highway Department survey recently showed that the Department is spending the same percentage—57 per cent—of its available funds for highway construction in urban areas.

FAST GROWING

Scientific and engineering workers constitute one of the fastest growing occupational groups in the United States today. Since 1950, the number of scientists and engineers has increased from 531,000 to 1.4 million in 1966.

ROCHESTER NEWS

EDWIN ROBERSON

Reviewing 1968

Studying over recent events in Rochester I find that many Rochesterites were involved as guests in other cities as well as many hosted friends and relatives over the holidays. Now approaching the New Year I tend to review the many events that occurred here last year that are worth remembering.

The school as always provided many honors to be proud of last year beginning with athletics. Both boys and girls were champions in the majority of athletic competition in the spring, both high and junior high school. H. S. and J. H. girls all won district in both basketball and volleyball, and the boys in H. S. won the track championship. The Steer band received honor on performance at contest and the Literary meet had Rochester entrants close to the top in everything. The FFA and FHA organizations received several honors also. As school ended, the students, parents, and friends anticipated the long, hot summer ahead. Steer football always kicks off school activities in the fall, and this season it was a success. Next came the beginning of basketball and it brings us to the close of 1967 and the beginning of a New Year, and a new decade.

There is much pride in our community because of our beautiful churches, our fine school system, and the many fine people who contribute to the forming of a wonderful community of Rochester. The pride goes further, however, than our community itself. There is pride in our great state and country in which we live.

There are many problems in the United States today that we must work to overcome, but there are also great assets we have to make us fortunate to be alive and be an American.

The many mistakes of 1967 and the past decade is history. We'll have to live with these mistakes the rest of our lives. But in looking at the new year we can maybe we can profit by the mistakes of the past and make this world a better place and be a part of the new year could be a year of peace and happiness to come, the year of our hands.

LARGEST NUMBER
In October 1968, 15 workers across was 16 to 24 years non-students according largest number of der 25, about 10, 1968, compared with in 1960.

SALARY SCALES
Between January 1969, maximum salary for fighters and police in cities of 100,000 or more, rose an about 10 percent.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Contrary to what you may read in your paper and hear from the joke boys on radio and TV, most taxpayers don't dread to see income tax filing period roll around. There is a pretty good reason for the majority of folk' being happy about the arrival of January 1, the end of the football games, and the arrival of the form W-2. This gives them an opportunity to get off an early claim for refund.

About 60% of the tax returns filed have a refund coming instead of owing tax, and if the radio and TV jokers can find anything funny about these people wanting a refund, they are probably in worse shape than most of us suspected. Getting an income tax refund in time to pay the Christmas bills — well maybe just a little bit late—is a dead serious national game (and it don't belong in the fun and games series). Many taxpayers work out a very careful saving system to make sure that Uncle Sam will keep the money for them all year, and at least once a year they catch up.

Sometimes they go on a vacation—sometimes they pay for unanticipated emergencies during the year — and sometimes they put it in the family savings account. Anyway—it's time to get past the hustle and bustle and stir at the end of the year and get down to the serious business of getting our refunds...The tax folks are waiting for your return.
