Ray and his wife, Suzan, attended the party honoring the President's daughter Luci and her engagement to Pat Nugent. While in Washington Ray contacted officials on the Atom Smasher location. Ray indicated there has been no decision on the location. West Texas has been surveyed as a possible location for the plant.

Abernathy citizens have planned the appreciation dinner for the many contributions James R. Ray has made to the West Texas area in his Washington work in the office of Congressman George Mahon as an executive assistant.

Ray is a graduate of Texas Tech and has operated his farm near Abernathy since returning to the area. Ray announced his candidacy for the Texas Senate.

RAFB Plans Bid Opening February 28

Bids for conducting Phase I of the undergraduate pilot training program of Reese Air Force Base under civilian contract from July 1, 1966 to Sept. 13, 1967 will be opened at 1 p.m., Feb. 28, in the Reese procurement office.

In the UPT program the first 30 hours of pilot training for Reese are conducted by a civilian contractor who provides his own field and maintains the T-41 aircraft which he leases from the Air Force. Training is under supervision of liaison personnel of Reese who see that training and maintenance meet Air Force standards.

The contractor presently is Marlman and McPherson of Los Animas, Colo., who have been conducting T-41 training since July 1. Civilian pilots hired by the firm teach Reese students.

The new contract will extend longer than the one-year present agreement as Air Training Command is changing dates for contracts to run at each of the eight undergraduate pilot training bases. In later years all Reese contracts will begin and stop Sept. 15th annually.

The new contract will be similar in detail to the present agreement, with some minor changes. Landing strips under the new contract must be hard-surface, instead of either hard-surface or turf. The successful contractor must use his own field, which must be within one hour's bus trip to Reese. Students will live on the base and be transported daily by Air Force bus to the Phase I training field. The new contractor also must supply his own fire protection.

Marlman and McPherson are using Abernathy Municipal Airport for training and are using Lubbock pilots, in the main, as instructors.

Bidding for the first contract were 24 civilian firms from several parts of the nation. About the same number of bidders are expected next month, including the present contractor.

Date for change of command at Reese has not been set and a successor as wing commander has not been announced.

Colonel Faver, native of Sweetwater, has been in service since 1941 and came to Reese from Amarillo AFB, where he commanded the 3320th Technical School of the Amarillo Technical Training Center.

The colonel, already a qualified pilot when he entered aviation cadet training, was commissioned on graduation from flight training in October 1941. His first assignment was a flight instructor at Mather AFB, Calif.

As a member of the initial cadre, Colonel Faver took part in the formation of the Instrument Instructor School which moved from Randolph Field, San Antonio, to Bryan Field in March 1943. He began duty at Bryan as flight and academic instructor and later became director of academics for the Instrument Instructor School. He remained with the school as chief of academics and training analysis when it was transferred to Bakersdale Field, La., in December 1945.

Working under Co. G. P. Dioso, later commander of the U. S. Air Force in Europe and presently commander of the Tactical Air Command, Colonel Faver served in that capacity until April 1947, when he was transferred to the Alaskan Air Command.

During the reorganization that followed the formation of the Air Force, Major Faver was assigned to the deputy chief of staff for operations in the Alaskan Air Command as executive to the deputy chief of staff for operations and later as director of operations and training.

In the summer of 1949 he entered the Command and Staff School at Maxwell AFB, Ala. After graduating, he reported to Tyndall AFB, Fla., and assumed command of the Instrument Instructor School, moved there in 1949 from Barksdale.

City Election Date Is Slated

The City Council held their regular monthly meeting Monday, February 14th with all members of the Council being present.

The "City Dads" authorized the City Manager to advertise for bids for a new backhoe-front loader and also at the same time look into the possibility of the City purchasing a used one.

The City Manager reported on the $3,000 grant in matching funds that the City has received from the Texas Aeronautics Commission for the purpose of doing necessary Airport improvements. The Council agreed, if approved by the Texas Aeronautics Commission, to seal coat an estimated 75' wide and 2,430' long strip on the N-3 Runway with a two surface treatment type asphalt pavement. The City currently plans on making another application to the State next year for additional matching funds; and if granted will plan on seal coating the remainder of the runways.

The next item to be considered for discussion by the Council was the renegotiation of the airport lease with Valley Aviation. The present three-year lease will expire March 31, 1966. The Council instructed the City Manager to have the City Attorney study the present lease and offer recommendations.

Mayor Roy Jones ordered that the regular City Election be held in the City of Abernathy on April 5, 1966, for the purpose of electing three Aldermen. George Ragland was appointed Judge for said election.

The three Aldermen, whose terms of office expire this year are W. T. Settle, Dan Z. Ward and Royce Henson. Anyone wishing to file for the City Council should come to the City Hall and fill out the necessary applications. The deadline for filing is March 5, 1966. The only requirements to file as a candidate are that the person be a citizen of the U. S., able to hold office under the Constitution of this State, have resided in this State for a period of twelve months and have resided in the City for a period of twelve months preceding the date of the election.

It was reported to the City Council, by the city manager, that the preliminary application has been filed with the Federal Home Administration for a Federal grant for sewer improvements in Abernathy. The total estimated cost of the project is $51,600 with the Federal Government participating in 50% of this cost. The proposed sewer project is to be in the East part of town, and would make sewer facilities available to everyone in this section of town.

To meet legal requirements, the City Council has set February 28th as the date for a Public Hearing on Annexation proceedings on property belonging to Lee Echols and Joe Harkey. Other business discussed by the Council had to do with the monthly financial statement and street repairs.

Dimmitt Wins District Cage Championship

(By Mike Skipper)

The season came to an abrupt halt for thirteen AHS basketball players last Friday night as they took a heart-breaking 60-59 loss to the Dimmitt Bobcats. The game was a play-off for the right to represent District 3-AA in the Bi-District contest held Tuesday of this week.

The game was truly a disappointment to Antelope players and fans as the high-spirited Antelopes dominated play for three quarters and then were overtaken with 17 seconds left in the game. The Lopes pulled away from Dimmitt in the first quarter by a 17-13 score. They doubled that lead in the second quarter and the half ended 32-24. The score at the end of the third quarter stood 47-36 and Antelope fans began to breathe easy.

Dimmitt was not ready to quit, however, and they soon began to click. After a bad pass went out-of-bounds, the Bobcats got the ball and pulled within one point of the Lopes with 1:53 on the clock. After a close call on a traveling violation was called, the Bobcats had the ball and stalled for a good shot. John Howell sunk it with 20 seconds remaining in the game. The Antelopes found the pressure too much for them as a wobbly shot by Rex Hester bounced away in the final seconds.

Members of the New Deal Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon, Feb. 17, at the Community Center, later going to a Lubbock furniture store where they were given a tour by Lawrence Stone.

Stone explained the dominant trend of using Spanish and Mediterranean designs in furniture, saying the trend has also brought about use of brighter colors in upholstery materials.

He also explained, however, that styles such as Early American, French and Italian Provincial will always be good.

Twelve members and a guest, Mrs. W. L. Hamilton of Denver City, attended.

The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. March 17 when members will visit a convalescent home.

CHEVY PICKUPS RIDE SMOOTHLY

... A BIG REASON WHY THEY'RE LIKED BEST!

Smooth ride is one big reason why Chevy is America's most popular pickup. You get true independent front suspension; front wheels that step lightly over bumps. And most models provide big coil springs at all four wheels to soak up the jolts. You get a ride that's ideal for camper duty as well as work ... a tough suspension proved over the past 5 years on rugged jobs. Try a smooth-riding 1966 pickup at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Commissioners Court Discusses Welfare Program In County

(From Last Week)

"Any time you find a case that appears to be an abuse of the welfare program, let us know," County Judge C. L. Abernethy urged Hale County Farm Bureau members and a "citizens committee on welfare" Monday at a recent meeting of the County Commissioners Court.

Called to discuss the county's welfare program and possible abuses of it, the meeting with Commissioners was requested in a Jan. 19 letter from the Farm Bureau.

The letter, signed by resolutions committee chairman Bruce Rigler, asked how the county's welfare system is set up and how thoroughly welfare recipients are investigated in regard to need.

The nine persons attending the meeting, including three Farm Bureau representatives and six members of a special "citizens committee" named by Abernethy to consider welfare problems, heard discussion from Clifton Martin, head of the county's general welfare program; Child Welfare Supervisor Jan Stanley; Clifford Jeffcoat from the State Welfare Department's Plainview office; and Bill King, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office here.

Can't require Work

The Bureau had asked if the county could require welfare recipients to do work to "earn" the assistance they receive. Abernethy said that there were legal conflicts that made it of dubious legality: a question of whether you can "get him hungry and then make him work for you," he explained. He said there are now legal suits over this issue going on in other states.

Rigler said the Bureau members were interested in finding out in what type of welfare programs the county is involved. "What are the people in Hale County paying for?" he asked. "We're concerned because we don't want to foot the bill for those that can afford to carry their own load."

Abernethy explained that the county does not give direct money grants to any welfare cases. He called on Martin to elaborate on his department's structure.

The department pays for medical care for persons investigated and found needy, Martin said, and administers the U. S. government's surplus commodities.

Limit On Aid

He said the department could pay as much as two-thirds of medical care or hospitalization for the first eight days for an individual, but the total amount cannot exceed $200.

If the indigent's disease is such that it cannot be treated in a local hospital, Abernethy added, he may be sent to a state hospital, with the county paying his travel expenses plus a $3 per day care charge.

There are a few county welfare cases in rest homes, he said, but added the state has taken over most of these.

Martin said his department paid $27,206.63 last year for medical care, an average of about $46 per case for 592 cases.

The commodity program served about 298 families per month, he said, and cost the county $4,824.84. The federal government supplies the surplus commodities free of cost, he said, and local expense involves only hauling, storage and distribution, plus about $480 per year to the state for administrative expenses.

Distribution includes $250 per-month salaries for two persons in charge of the program, Abernethy said, but added that the county pays only half of the salaries and half of the local storage; the city of Plainview pays the other half, he said. "This is tax money, too, is it not?" Farm Bureau President Willie Thurman pointed out.

Can help Farmer

Martin said the Commodity program can benefit a farmer who can afford to pay hired hands only a small wage. By using the program the employe can live on a smaller amount of money, he said, so the farmer can use it to supplement salaries.

He said whether a person is eligible for commodities is determined by his salary and the size of his family; this is based on a scale of eligibility including a two-member family with a $150 per month income through a 10-member family with an income of up to $310 per month, Martin said.

Moving to the state welfare department, Abernethy introduced Jeffcoat, who explained that his department does give direct cash aid in the form of old age assistance and aid to the blind or permanently disabled. This aid is in the form of checks mailed directly to the recipient, Jeffcoat said.

900 Are Aided

He said about 900 persons in Hale County draw assistance through his office.

The question had been raised by the Farm Bureau members of what cause is behind farmhands' taking off to "go into town to pick up their welfare checks."

None of the welfare agencies require that a person "pick up his check," according to the supervisors present, but King, of the Texas Employment Commission, said persons receiving unemployment compensation are required to come into the office each week to file a claim.

He explained that when a person works for an employer covered by the employment law, the employer pays a tax which goes into a "trust fund."

If the employe is laid off due to no fault of his own, King continued, he is eligible to receive unemployment compensation from this fund, administered through the Texas Employment Commission.

Must Accept Work

These checks may be received for a maximum of 26 weeks, he said, and vary in amount from $13 to $37. During that time, the recipient must be available to accept, "any suitable employment," he said.

A visitor asked whether a worker skilled in a particular job, is required to take a different type job. "He must make himself available for what work he can do in this country," King said, but added, "We don't expect a man who has done office work to go out and drive a tractor."

If the unemployment recipient does any work while receiving checks, he is required to report this and the amount he makes is deducted from his check, King said.

Lee Dent from Hale Center asked whether the Employment Office is staffed well enough to check on this and see if the recipient is making unreported wages. "I'd be foolish to say we don't have any fraud, because you all know better than that," King said.

Says Fraud Small

He said he thought the amount of fraud was small, however. He asked farmers to contact the office to report employment and help them keep a check on any abuses. "We rely on your telling us, he said, explaining his staff cannot investigate every case.

In response to a question, King said all of the unemployment compensation money comes from the tax paid by employers and no general tax money is involved.

Bringing in the last phase of introduced Jan Stanley of the introduced Jan Stanley of the Child Welfare Department. He said the county pays about half the expenses of this department, with the state and federal governments paying the other half.

The caseworkers also serve as juvenile probation officers, Abernethy said, since much of their work is with delinquents.

He said the professional staff is paid by the state, and county money is used primarily for child care, clothes, transportation, office expenses and some medical bills.

Rigler asked if it is a matter of public record who receives help from any of the welfare departments, since public money is involved. Abernethy said it is not permitted by law to make this information public. He explained that the law is designed to give everyone, including well fare recipients, a reasonable amount of "human dignity."

Accident Report

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 15 accidents on rural highways in Hale County during the month of January, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor.

These crashes resulted in eight persons injured and an estimated property damage of $6,775.00.

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the past five and one-half months only 2,000,000 or 40% of the approximately 5,000,000 registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves 3,000,000 vehicles to be inspected in approximately two months. If the number of un-inspected vehicles were divided evenly among the 5,200 official inspection stations in Texas each would have approximately 577 vehicles to inspect in about 40 working days, or about 15 vehicles per day. The inspection stations in heavily populated areas will have more than this average number to inspect. In areas where there are only a few inspection stations you may have many miles to travel to get your vehicle inspected.

The Sergeant urges motorists to have their vehicles inspected without delay to avoid the inconvenience of waiting lines.

Remember—no extension of the Safety Inspection deadline, April 15, 1966.

COMING EVENTS

Commissioners Court Discusses Welfare Program In County

(From Last Week)

"Any time you find a case that appears to be an abuse of the welfare program, let us know," County Judge C. L. Abernethy urged Hale County Farm Bureau members and a "citizens' committee on welfare" Monday at a recent meeting of the County Commissioners Court.

Called to discuss the county's welfare program and possible abuses of it, the meeting with Commissioners was requested in a Jan. 19 letter from the Farm Bureau.

The letter, signed by resolutions committee chairman Bruce Rigler, asked how the county's welfare system is set up and how thoroughly welfare recipients are investigated in regard to need.

The nine persons attending the meeting, including three Farm Bureau representatives and six members of a special "citizens committee" named by Abernethy to consider welfare problems, heard discussion from Clifton Martin, head of the county's general welfare program; Child Welfare Supervisor Jan Stanley; Clifford Jeffcoat from the State Welfare Department's Plainview office; and Bill King, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office here.

Can't require Work

The Bureau had asked if the county could require welfare recipients to do work to "earn" the assistance they receive. Abernethy said that there were legal conflicts that made it of dubious legality: a question of whether you can "get him hungry and then make him work for you," he explained. He said there are now legal suits over this issue going on in other states.

Rigler said the Bureau members were interested in finding out in what type of welfare programs the county is involved. "What are the people in Hale County paying for?" he asked. "We're concerned because we don't want to foot the bill for those that can afford to carry their own load."

Abernethy explained that the county does not give direct money grants to any welfare cases. He called on Martin to elaborate on his department's structure.

The department pays for medical care for persons investigated and found needy, Martin said, and administers the U. S. government's surplus commodities.

Limit On Aid

He said the department could pay as much as two-thirds of medical care or hospitalization for the first eight days for an individual, but the total amount cannot exceed $200.

If the indigent's disease is such that it cannot be treated in a local hospital, Abernethy added, he may be sent to a state hospital, with the county paying his travel expenses plus a $3 per day care charge.

There are a few county welfare cases in rest homes, he said, but added the state has taken over most of these.

Martin said his department paid $27,206.63 last year for medical care, an average of about $46 per case for 592 cases.

The commodity program served about 298 families per month, he said, and cost the county $4,824.84. The federal government supplies the surplus commodities free of cost, he said, and local expense involves only hauling, storage and distribution, plus about $480 per year to the state for administrative expenses.

Distribution includes $250 per-month salaries for two persons

in charge of the program, Abernethy said, but added that the county pays only half of the salaries and half of the local storage; the city of Plainview pays the other half, he said.

"This is tax money, too, is it not?" Farm Bureau President Willie Thurman pointed out.

Can Help Farmer

Martin said the Commodity program can benefit a farmer who can afford to pay hired hands only a small wage. By using the program the employe can live on a smaller amount of money, he said, so the farmer can use it to supplement salaries.

He said whether a person is eligible for commodities is determined by his salary and the size of his family; this is based on a scale of eligibility including a two-member family with a $150 per month income through a 10-member family with an income of up to $310 per month, Martin said.

Moving to the state welfare department, Abernethy introduced Jeffcoat, who explained that his department does give direct cash aid in the form of old age assistance and aid to the blind or permanently disabled. This aid is in the form of checks mailed directly to the recipient, Jeffcoat said.

900 Are Aided

He said about 900 persons in Hale County draw assistance through his office.

The question had been raised by the Farm Bureau members of what cause is behind farmhands' taking off to "go into town to pick up their welfare checks."

None of the welfare agencies require that a person "pick up his check," according to the supervisors present, but King, of the Texas Employment Commission, said persons receiving unemployment compensation are required to come into the office each week to file a claim.

He explained that when a person works for an employer covered by the employment law, the employer pays a tax which goes into a "trust fund."

If the employe is laid off due to no fault of his own, King continued, he is eligible to receive unemployment compensation from this fund, administered through the Texas Employment Commission.

Must Accept Work

These checks may be received for a maximum of 26 weeks, he said, and vary in amount from $13 to $37. During that time, the recipient must be available to accept, "any suitable employment," he said.

A visitor asked whether a worker skilled in a particular job, is required to take a different type job. "He must make himself available for what work he can do in this country," King said, but added, "We don't expect a man who has done office work to go out and drive a tractor."

If the unemployment recipient does any work while receiving checks, he is required to report this and the amount he makes is deducted from his check, King said.

Lee Dent from Hale Center asked whether the Employment Office is staffed well enough to check on this and see if the recipient is making unreported wages. "I'd be foolish to say we don't have any fraud, because you all know better than that," King said.

Says Fraud Small

He said he thought the amount of fraud was small, however. He asked farmers to contact the office to report employment and help them keep a check on any abuses. "We rely on your telling us, he said, explaining his staff cannot investigate every case.

In response to a question, King said all of the unemployment compensation money comes from the tax paid by employers and no general tax money is involved.

Bringing in the last phase of introduced Jan Stanley of the Child Welfare Department. He said the county pays about half the expenses of this department, with the state and federal governments paying the other half.

The caseworkers also serve as juvenile probation officers, Abernethy said, since much of their work is with delinquents.

He said the professional staff is paid by the state, and county money is used primarily for child care, clothes, transportation, office expenses and some medical bills.

Rigler asked if it is a matter of public record who receives help from any of the welfare departments, since public money is involved. Abernethy said it is not permitted by law to make this information public. He explained that the law is designed to give everyone, including welfare recipients, a reasonable amount of "human dignity."

Accident Report

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 15 accidents on rural highways in Hale County during the month of January, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor.

These crashes resulted in eight persons injured and an estimated property damage of $6,775.00.

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the past five and one-half months only 2,000,000 or 40% of the approximately 5,000,000 registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves 3,000,000 vehicles to be inspected in approximately two months. If the number of un-inspected vehicles were divided evenly among the 5,200 official inspection stations in Texas each would have approximately 577 vehicles to inspect in about 40 working days, or about 15 vehicles per day. The inspection stations in heavily populated areas will have more than this average number to inspect. In areas where there are only a few inspection stations you may have many miles to travel to get your vehicle inspected.

PROGRESSIVE BUSINESS AND CIVIC-MINDED PEOPLE OF LUBBOCK AND VICINITY

This department has been worked up largely as a reflection of public opinion. No person has written of themselves or their business. All articles have been compiled by a representative of The Abernathy Weekly Review as he saw who helped make this department possible is sincerely appreciated.

Mrs. T. R. Johnson

We wish in this edition to pay tribute to Mrs. T. R. Johnson of Johnson's Nursery, for her many services to the Hub City, and her splendid record of achievements in the business life of this region.

Mrs. Johnson probably has as wide a circle of friends as any person we could name, because she is just naturally the kind of woman who makes friends with almost everyone, and always conducts herself in such a manner as to deserve the respect and good will of all who know her. Lubbock is fortunate in being able to number among its more progressive business people, citizens of this type.

She is always ready and willing to lend her support to the promotion of any project which promises to benefit this entire district.

She may be depended upon, and her services to the people are too many in number to be described here. It may be sufficient to say that we consider Mrs. Johnson an asset to the community, and a progressive business woman of whom the Hub City may be proud.

S. H. SPINKS

In bestowing credit upon some of the more progressive individuals of Lubbock, who in one way or another, have contributed their bit to improve both business and civic conditions, we wish to publish a few words about S. H. Spinks of Spinks Gulf Service, located at 920 on Avenue H.

Mr. Spinks has set a standard for himself and the operation of his business that, under present existing conditions, has been very difficult to maintain. However, that he has done so is proved by the large volume of business his Gulf station continues to handle, much of which is due to his unceasing attention to detail, and his ability to cope with new and unexpected problems.

S. H. Spinks is also civic-minded, and has, when asked, cheerfully cooperated on those civic activities to which he has been cheerfully cooperated on those civic activities to which he has been able to lend assistance. He more than deserves the respect and good will which he has earned, and has many friends are confident that he will continue to maintain his usual integrity and high standards.

G. B. LINDSEY

One of the better informed real estate executives of the Hub City is G. B. Lindsey of The Lindsey Agency.

He has been operating a complete service for his large clientele over a period of time, and during that time he has made a great many personal friends both for himself and his reliable agency.

Mr. Lindsey has also contributed considerable of his time and energy to Lubbock and this district, and has been content to take his reward in the quiet knowledge of a work well done, which has earned for him the respect and admiration of so many friends. The value of such a man to the city and the surrounding territory cannot be over-estimated when considering the many personal sacrifices he has made in order to contribute to the general welfare of the community as a whole.

We congratulate G. B. Lindsey on his splendid reputation, and wish for him a continued successful career as a leader in the real estate field throughout this entire region.

JOE W. TOOMBS

Logically a man who has earned the reputation of being one of the South Plains more dependable church and school furniture equipment dealers would in so doing, have earned the friendship and good will of a great many people throughout this entire district. And one who justly deserves that distinction is—modest, efficient, friendly, Joe W. Toombs of the Joe Toombs Company, located at 2205 on 19th Street, who has a great many friends and business associates in this area.

Mr. Toombs is the type of man who would be an asset to any community, not only because of the successful conduct of his business plays a definite part in the general civic scheme, but because the ultimate measure of his value to the city and this district, lies in the fact that he is untiringly zealous and remarkably successful in the promotion of civic progress.

It would be difficult to estimate the actual dollars-and-cents value of such a man to his community. We congratulate the people of Lubbock for numbering among their more progressive business people such a man as Joe Toombs, and we also express the wish that he will enjoy many more years of success.

Norman T. Morgan

Norman T. Morgan, manager of the Kitchen Mart, has won the universal respect and good will of the people of Lubbock and the surrounding country for the progressive manner in which he has kept this reliable firm in the forefront of the business life of this entire district. Also for the efficient and friendly willingness he has displayed in accepting his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects.

Mr. Morgan is not the kind of man who makes himself conspicuous by the manner in which he conducts himself, either in business or other matters. Yet, his quiet reserve and air of confidence mark him as a man of sound judgment, whose opinions and advice are sought after and listened to with respect.

We compliment Norman Morgan for the successful management of the Kitchen Mart, and also for his constructive advice and help on those civic affairs in which he has found time to interest himself. He is a man whom many are proud to call friend.

"PEG" WATKINS

"Peg" Watkins is one of the more successful drive-in operators of Lubbock who, by maintaining a constant standard of service and high quality foods, has made Peg's Drive in one of the more popular eating places in the community. We are glad to give her credit for her well-earned success in a field which is so highly competitive.

It is also a pleasure to give her credit for taking part in community affairs, and lending her assistance to various activities and public projects. When to take part in such matters, she always does so without ostentation, but in a quiet manner which lends dignity to her cheerful acceptance of her share of the civic load. It is a pleasure to be associated in the promotion of community activities with such women as Mrs. Watkins.

This review of progressive and civic-minded people of Lubbock would not be complete were we to fail to include "Peg" Watkins. Hers is the kind of success which deserves recognition, and we wish her many more years of the same.

Hershel McKnight

In paying tribute to some of the more conscientious business men of Lubbock, we would be remiss in our duty should we fail to include Hershel McKnight of Mac's Auto Service, whose business ability is no greater than the "know-how" and mechanical skill which has contributed to his well-earned success in the automatic transmission repairs and maintenance business, as well as motor tune-up and brake service.

He has also contributed generously to the welfare of the city, and the community for many miles around. And his civic spirit is evidenced by the many services which he has performed, and will continue to perform in the interest of the people as a whole.

Mr. McKnight is a man of wide acquaintance, whose many friends admire and respect in him those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. And his upright business methods are a credit to his inherent sense of fair play.

We congratulate Hershel McKnight on his splendid record of service, and trust he shall continue to assist us for many years to come.

N. J. MORGAN

Lubbock owes much to those progressive citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city, and who have helped to make it the business center for this section of the Lone Star State. In mentioning some of those men, it is only fair to include N. J. Morgan of the Southwestern Plating Works, located at 4th Street and Avenue H, whose outstanding knowledge of the business, backed up by his many years of experience, has brought him to the forefront in his particular vocation.

Mr. Morgan is wholly deserving of our sincere praise, and these few words of commendation are but a just recognition for the many activities he has conducted on behalf of the general welfare of the community. The honest and successful conduct of his business affairs is not only a reflection of his character, but has also been a strong factor in maintaining him in a position of leadership in his field of endeavor.

We trust that N. J. Morgan will continue to serve the people of Lubbock and the surrounding area for many years to come.

LARRY HIPPS

Because this is a period of growth and expansion for Lubbock, those progressive business men who had the foresight and ability to lay their plans so as to be able to take advantage of those conditions, are entitled to more than ordinary acclaim. We are therefore, glad to pay tribute to Larry Hipps of the Hipps Manufacturing Company, for he has become a well-known figure in the business and industrial life of the South Plains.

Mr. Hipps' persistent optimism and steadfast belief in the continued future prosperity of the people of Lubbock and vicinity, are characteristics which are deserving of our highest praise.

Larry Hipps has also shown a willingness to do his part in civic advancement, and has contributed his bit, in one form or another, to projects promoted for the welfare of the city. We believe that a business man of this kind is entitled to our sincere praise, both because he has achieved success in his private and business affairs, and because he is willing to contribute to the public good.

PAUL BALDWIN

Recognized as one of the more progressive business men of Lubbock, Paul Baldwin, manager of Dowd-Jones Furniture Incorporated, performs a real service for the people of the Hub City, and his contributions to civic betterment are too well known to require repetition in these columns. His personal success has been achieved in a large measure, because he never misses an opportunity to further the service which this reliable firm renders to the public. A policy which has, and continues to build up good will for the Dowd-Jones Furniture throughout this entire district.

Mr. Baldwin is deserving of praise, and this brief tribute is but a just recognition for the many services which he has performed in the way of both business and civic activities. Aside from his business activities, Mr. Murphy has always shown an interest in the civic betterment and progress of the city, and has backed up his interest by his contributions to many projects which have benefited the Hub City and the surrounding trade area. He is a good and loyal citizen, and the full measure of his loyalty is most apparent because of his willingness to aid community activities.

ROY E. THOMPSON

Conscientious business men too frequently do not receive the credit they have won, and are entitled to for the time, effort, and energy they have put forth to guide the destiny of Lubbock in which they are active. It is therefore, with real pleasure that we call our readers' attention to the fine work and intelligent leadership of Roy E. Thompson of the Retco Manufacturing Company.

No city can make progress, grow and expand as it should without the aggressive leadership on the part of its more progressive citizens, who are too often inclined to give the "other fellow" most of the credit. It is not praise that they expect or desire. It is the victory of doing, and accomplishing civic projects for the general betterment of the community from which they get their satisfaction.

But we cannot refrain from pointing out the unselfishness along these lines by such men as Mr. Thompson. As far as his fellow citizens are concerned, he has always done his part in the way of civic betterment and community progress.

CARL E. POTTS

It is a privilege in this Lubbock review of progressive men and firms that have been such a great aid to the growth and development of this section of West Texas to place such a man as Carl E. Potts, manager of Texas Distributors Incorporated, on an equal plane with all others in this rank. In the past, few men have exceeded him in contributing of their time and energy to the onward progress of Lubbock and the surrounding country.

Mr. Potts is generally recognized as one of the more progressive business men in this district, and he retains that distinction in admiration and respect of his wide circle of friends. Also his interest in, and the very valuable assistance he has rendered to the many projects of a civic nature, reflect the principles which he has always so successfully applied in the management of Texas Distributors Incorporated.

We congratulate Carl Potts on his record, and sincerely hope that his career will be as useful and completely successful in the years ahead as it has been in the past.

Thomas O. Sprawls & John N. Wilson

There are many men in their chosen vocations who have gained recognition for the progressive manner in which they have conducted their business, and accepted their civic responsibilities, but who will not permit much to be said of their achievements.

But in reviewing a group of such citizens we should include Thomas O. Sprawls and John N. Wilson of the Sprawls & Wilson Surveying Company, for they are men who have always done their work effectively, even though it has been accomplished in an unobtrusive manner.

Mr. Sprawls and Mr. Wilson, busy as they are, always manage somehow or other to do their bit in any movement calculated to benefit the community as a whole. Their modesty however, will not permit them to say the things about themselves which are said by their friends, who do so because of a personal knowledge of their activities.

We do not hesitate to recommend John Wilson and Thomas Sprawls to our readers as two citizens who continue at all times to work to the advantage of the people of this entire district.

KEYS MURPHY

It is appropriate that we include in this review of conscientious Lubbock business men, Keys Murphy, representative in the South Plains for the Original Pizza Crust of Lubbock, who has a great many friends and business associates throughout the entire West Texas area. Furthermore, he is a man who not only has the reputation of being progressive, but also the added one of being a willing supporter of many community affairs.

Aside from his business activities, Mr. Murphy has always shown an interest in the civic betterment and progress of the city, and has backed up his interest by his contributions to many projects which have benefited the Hub City and the surrounding trade area. He is a good and loyal citizen, and the full measure of his loyalty is most apparent because of his willingness to aid community activities.

His help along these lines has made of Keys Murphy an excellent example of the type of individual we all appreciate. We congratulate, and extend to him on behalf of all citizens interested in better business and civic progress, sincere appreciation for his contributions to the general welfare of Lubbock and vicinity.

A. D. HODGES

A restaurant operator of Lubbock who has based his success upon the belief that the public will appreciate good food, well prepared, and appetizingly served, is A. D. Hodges of Hodges Cafe, located at 2005 14th Street, whose many friends and school children of the area by their daily patronage of his popular eating place, attest to the soundness of his policy.

It is not only because of the successful operation and management of his cafe that Mr. Hodges has come to be recognized as an asset to the community; but it is also because of his policy of "looking ahead", and endeavoring to sponsor or take part in those community activities which will, in some manner, benefit the Hub City and the people as a whole. He is another of those men who has shown his appreciation for his success by a willingness to contribute of his time and efforts to the promotion of community projects.

It is men such as A. D. Hodges whom we are privileged to include in this review, and to publicly give him due credit for his success in business and civic affairs.

Every progressive and successful business man in Lubbock contributes in some manner to the growth and progress of the city. And one who is always willing to do his part in both civic and business activities is Riley L. Rush of the Southland Battery Warehouse, who has a great many friends and business associates throughout this entire region.

The prominent part that the Southland Battery Warehouse is playing in the business and commercial life of Lubbock and vicinity, mirrors the dependability and honesty of such men as he. Moreover, Mr. Rush has also at all times been steadfast in his devotion to the city and the surrounding country, and on many occasions has lent his support to the successful promotion of meritorious civic projects.

Lubbock and this district are fortunate to have such a man as Riley Rush in a position of responsibility and service, and this newspaper feels that it meritoriously reflects public opinion in paying this brief tribute to one of the city's more progressive business men.

Stayton Muschalek

In critical times such as these, it takes business men of more than average ability to carry on their operations successfully. In making this statement, the man we have in mind is one of Lubbock's more dependable janitor supply dealers, Stayton Muschalek of Stayton's Janitor Supply, located at 4021 38th Street, who has a wide circle of personal friends and business associates scattered throughout this entire district.

His contagious optimism, and freely expressed belief in the assured future prosperity of the people of Lubbock and its characteristics which are to be appreciated in a progressive business man. He has always taken an interest in community affairs, and has shown a willingness to shoulder his share of the civic load.

It is men like Stayton Muschalek who, because of the successful conduct of their business and private affairs, and their eagerness to contribute to the public good, who are wholly deserving of a few words of commendation. It is a pleasure to pay him this brief tribute.

Robert L. Copeland

Robert L. Copeland, manager of the Interstate Finance Company of Texas, has a well-earned reputation for dependability because he has consistently forged ahead in his business, never letting up in his efforts to make the service this reliable company renders to the people more valuable. This invariable policy has made the Interstate Finance Company of Texas outstanding in its field, a fact that is well known to the public throughout this entire area.

But Mr. Copeland has accomplished much more than just making a success of his business and private affairs, and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to him for devoting what time he could spare to the general welfare, not only to the Hub City, but this entire district as well.

It is such men as he, who are both successful in business, and appreciative of their civic obligations that are deserving of recognition. We take pleasure in publicly giving Robert Copeland the credit for his accomplishments which his many friends and associates have so long accorded him.

Jesse K. Mattox Jr.

It is fitting in this review of progressive Lubbock business men that we acquaint our readers with the man to be credited with having maintained Terco Incorporated of West Texas, in the enviable position it holds in the business and industrial life of this area. That personality is Jesse K. Mattox Jr., whose genius for organization, and for converting new ideas into actual deeds, has played a vital part in the distinctive reputation which this reliable firm now enjoys throughout this entire district.

Mr. Mattox has found time, in addition to his business interests, to give thought and energy to community projects. He is a citizen whose talents have been steadfastly devoted to the best interests of the city. He has been successful in his own business, and in the promotion of the general welfare of the community.

We are glad to pay this brief tribute to him, and to say that this district owes much to the many benefits which Jesse Mattox Jr. and the Terco Incorporated of Texas have rendered to this section of the state.

L. G. RANKIN

L. G. Rankin of Lubbock Diesel, is one of those dependable business men who has always done his bit to maintain the prestige of the Hub City as the leading trading center for this section of the state. He has always worked for the development of the city, and has many services are worthy of sincere appreciation.

His well-earned success as a business man is easily understood, knowing as the people do his widespread reputation for the honesty which characterizes all of his business dealings.

And it is a combination of technical knowledge, professional skill and business ability which has elevated Mr. Rankin to a position of leadership in the diesel engine repair and maintenance business.

He is completely aware of his civic responsibilities, and is wide awake to the many opportunities for service, and is always ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole.

We compliment L. G. Rankin on his accomplishments, and wish for him continued success.

HARRY F. WOODY

In compiling this review of progressive Lubbock business men, we have endeavored to select those citizens who, by the manner in which they have conducted themselves and their businesses, have earned for them positions of leadership in their various fields of activities. Such a man is Harry F. Woody of Lubbock-Amarillo Armored Service Incorporated, who is well known, and has a great many friends and business associates throughout this entire region.

Mr. Woody's main interests have not been solely confined to his own business and private affairs, but have also included his contributions in one form or another, to those projects of a civic nature which come within the scope of his activities.

Harry Woody is a man of wide experience whose exploits in the business and commercial life of the South Plains merits more than a passing attention, and the writer is privileged to pay this brief tribute to a man who well deserves more credit than is accorded him here.

HASKELL SPEER

In singling out some of the more conscientious business men of Lubbock, we would be remiss should we fail to include Haskell Speer of Plastic Pipe Distributors, for he is a man who has never spared himself in his participation in both the business and civic activities of the city.

Mr. Speer has always been conscious of his civic responsibilities, and is ever ready and willing to meet in every detail, those opportunities which come to his attention to further civic enterprise. He may well be proud of his achievements along these lines.

Haskell Speer deserves a great deal of credit for the honest and successful manner in which he has handled the operations of the Plastic Pipe Distributors. He is a friendly and likeable personality, whose sincere desire to be of service has gained for him a host of friends and acquaintances in and around the Hub City who would if given the opportunity, join us in wishing him many more years of continued success.

RALPH LOCKARD

One of the more progressive business men of Lubbock, and one who deserves the respect and good will of a great many residents of the city is capable, friendly, Ralph Lockard of Lockard Plumbing & Heating, whose wide knowledge and long experience in the plumbing and heating business has raised him into a position of prominence in his line.

It is because of this that Lockard Plumbing & Heating has earned a reputation for reliability—second to none.

Mr. Lockard is also civic-minded, and has always been ready to contribute his time and energy to any plan which promises to benefit this entire district. And the people of Lubbock may regard with particular satisfaction the many services which he has performed in the interest of progressive and civic betterment.

We urge our readers to look to Ralph Lockard as a dependable business man of whom we may well be proud. His devotion to the city has been constant, and his achievements well merited. We wish him every possible success in the future.

W. G. "BILL" WILKINSON

In mentioning some of those men who are taking a progressive part in the evolution of the business and civic life of Lubbock, we would be remiss if we failed to include W. G. "Bill" Wilkinson of Butcher Boy's Bar-B-Q Catering Service and Meat Market, who has the reputation of being one of the South Plains more dependable catering service operators. Mr. Wilkinson is that holi-

Tom's Sales throughout this and friendliness, and sincere desire to be of service are accountable for a large measure of his success. And as the time goes on, his personal interests have become more closely involved with the business and civic affairs of the city. As a result he has, quite naturally, become accepted as a man who can be called upon, and who will cheerfully do his part to further the development of those community activities to which he is best fitted to lend assistance.

Bill Wilkinson has, by the conduct of his business, and by his attention to civic affairs, earned the friendship and good will of his fellow citizens. He is to be complimented for his activities, and we only express the desire of his many close friends and associates in wishing him continued success.

Genevieve Forman

We wish in this edition to pay tribute to Genevieve Forman of Genevieve's Sports Shop, for her many services to the city of Lubbock, and her splendid record of achievements in the business life of the city.

Mrs. Forman probably has as wide a circle of friends as any other person we could name, because she is just naturally the kind of individual who makes friends with almost everyone, and always conducts herself in such a manner as to deserve the respect and good will of all who know her. Lubbock is fortunate in being able to number among its more progressive business people, citizens of this type.

She is always ready and willing to lend her support to the promotion of any project which promises to benefit this entire district.

She may be depended upon, and her services to her many satisfied customers are too many in number to be described here. It may be sufficient to say that we consider Genevieve Forman an asset to this region, and a progressive business woman of whom we all may be proud.

BILL McCASLAND

In compiling this review of progressive Lubbock business men, it is fitting that we should include some of those who, by their aggressiveness, have definitely established themselves in the business and commercial life of this region.

Such a man is J. E. "Bill" McCasland of Western Tom's Sales, who also deserves an additional word of praise for being more than just successful. He is a consistent and enthusiastic booster of the community, and in his way has done much to advertise the city.

Mr. McCasland has pursued the progressive policy of stepping up his business ahead of the times, thus setting a pace for which he has earned the reputation of being a go-getter, who does not sit back and wait for the business to come to him.

We are glad to pay tribute to Bill McCasland, and to point out to our readers that his sincere desire to be of service, coupled with his determined efforts are largely responsible for the standing of Western Tom's Sales throughout this entire area.

BOB DENT

Bob Dent has proved his progressiveness by constantly adding to, and increasing the service which the three Bob Dent Texaco Service Stations, located at 40th & Avenue Q, 34th & Quaker, and 50th & Avenue U, have extended to the people. The large volume of business handled by his Texaco stations proves that "service" to him, is not "just a word", but something to be rendered to the motoring public to the fullest extent of his ability.

In addition to his close attention to his business affairs, Mr. Dent was never one to dodge his civic responsibilities, and help in those matters has always been cheerfully given. He fully appreciates the value of good will, and has more than his share of that intangible commodity because of the manner in which he meets all business and civic obligations. He is a credit to the community, and is thoroughly established in the forefront of the business life of the city.

Bob Dent has many friends in and around this district, and it is a pleasure to bring him before our readers in this review of progressive Lubbock business men.

During 1965, total assets increased from $2,652,319.00 to $4,340,475.00. He also reported that 1966 was starting off with a good gain in Savings as well as loans.

Following the Stockholders' meeting, the board met, and reorganized. The following officers were re-elected: R. T. O'Daniel, President, L. F. Campbell, Vice-President, Olan Alexander, Vice-President; Secretary, & Managing Officer, Dr. Fred V. Richards; Treasurer; Lynda Denton, Assistant Secretary, and Nelda Kirk Assistant Treasurer.

GET YOUR RETURN IN EARLY
Dallas, Texas — Now is the time to file your 1965 Federal income tax return, District Director of Internal Revenue Ellis Campbell, Jr., reminds northern Texas taxpayers.

Taxpayers who have a refund coming will find that early filing expedites their checks. Many taxpayers who owe small amounts prefer to file early Mr. Campbell says.

All taxpayers are encouraged to file their 1965 returns early.

soner, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman O. Wakoner, Route 3, Box 261, Abilene, Tex., participated in an Army Air Defense Command "Short Notice Annual Practice" (SNAP) at Fort Bliss, Tex., Jan. 16-23.

Specialist Wagoner's unit, Battery A, 6th Missile Battalion of the 43rd Artillery, Treynor, Iowa, fired missiles at radio-controlled aerial targets during the exercise.

SNAPS are designed to maintain the combat readiness of air defense units. Only 48 hours notice is allowed before units are airlifted to firing ranges throughout the U. S.

During the SNAP, elements of Specialist Wagoner's unit remained in Treynor to maintain air defense operations in the Omaha area.

Wagoner, a launcher crewman with the unit, entered the Army in September 1963. He attended Fort Smith (Ark.) High School.

FORT EUSTIS, Va. (AHTNC)—Army Pvt. Gerald W. McDonell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sever A. McDonell, Route A, Sweetwater, Tex., was assigned Jan. 13 to 1st Battalion, Fort Eustis, Va., Company A, 714th Transportation Battalion, Fort Eustis, Va.

The 19-year old soldier entered the Army in January 1964, completed basic training at Fort Polk, La., and was last stationed in Vietnam. McDonell is a 1964 graduate of Sweetwater High School.

School Board
Sets Election
For April 2

The Abernathy School Board met in regular session Monday, February 7, 1966 at 7:00 p.m. in the Board Room of the High School.

Members present were: L. J. West, President; Billie Harrison, Vice President; W. D. Sanders, Secretary; Buford Conn; Joe Lovelace; Joe Oswald; and Bob Riley. Others present were Earl Carter, Business Manager, and Delwin Webb, Superintendent.

Items on the agenda included budget progress reports lunchroom, nurse, and enrollment reports; tax collection report showing 97.43% of the current roll as having been collected. Test results for grades 6, 7, 9, 10, 11, 12 were presented graphically by the use of audio-visual aids. These standardized achievement tests were published by Science Research Associates.

The board discussed the local community stock show. The final item on the agenda was the calling for the school board election that will be April 2 in the City Hall.

Next regularly scheduled board meeting will be March 7 at 7:00 p.m.

Precinct 3
Equipment Purchases

Hale County Commissioners took the first step in a program to widen Highway 70 west of Plainview in a special meeting Friday, Feb. 11.

The Court entered a contractual agreement for right-of-way procurement with the Texas Highway Department. With this agreement in effect, the county is assured of state participation in the seven-and-one-half mile project, County Judge C. L. Abernathy said.

The state already has funds earmarked for this use, he said, but the contract is a necessary beginning step before an appraiser is employed.

In other action in the special meeting, Commissioners authorized advertising for bids on a "nail picker" for Precinct 3. A "nail picker" is a large magnet attached to a vehicle to pick up metal objects lying in the road.

The Court also authorized the purchase of a new pickup truck for Precinct 3. Since the cost will be less than $2000 advertising for bids is not required, Abernathy explained.

Precinct 3 Commissioner is Herschell Williams of Hale Center.

Commissioners approved a proposal from the Plainview-Hale County Health Unit to expand the department's migrant health program. The program is federally supported but County approval is helpful in applying for expansion, Abernathy said.

The increase desired will provide out-patient care for patients helped by the migrant program, he said.

School Schedule For February

Feb. 24: Junior Play, directed by Cliff Martin and presented by members of the Junior Class of AHS.

End of the Fourth Six Weeks
Feb. 26: F. H. A. Social
Feb. 28: Library Club meeting in the AHS library at 7:00 p.m.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:
A few years ago Internal Revenue reported that taxpayers were not paying several billion dollars in income taxes they owed on interest and dividend income. Most of us are reporting our dividend and interest income nowadays. It's a good idea to check your interest and dividend income before you file that 1965 federal income tax return. Even the Saving & Loan Association dividends are taxable. A payment on time could keep the tax man from your door.

Hardin-Simmons University
Concert Schedule, Abilene
March 18: Isaac Stern, concert violinist.
April 18 (Tentative): Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.
