Panthers Downed By Tribe

Cold, blustery winds made perfect football weather Friday night in Seymour. A light drizzle and temperatures down to the mid-50's didn't stop the Indians; merely spurred them on to defeat the Panthers by a 24-6 score. Coach Tommy McAdams Tribe will meet Quannah here Friday night at 8:00.

The first quarter began looking as if the Indians were going to have some trouble getting started, but changed fast! Panthers took the opening kickoff and moved the ball 48 yards in 11 plays, down to the 38. They picked up 3 first downs, only to give the ball up there. The Indians couldn't move the ball and had to punt on 4th down. Here the Tribe started shaping up and in three plays, the Panthers picked up only one yard and were forced to punt.

The Indians took over on the 45. Fullback Bill Cox picked up an 18-yard chunk in four carries and tailback Jackie Young added 38 yards in four carries; the last one a 21-yard touchdown run. Cox's PAT was good, leaving only 56 seconds in the first quarter.

Midway in the second period,

Young made a beautiful 39 yard run; broke away from the last man between he and the goal line; but couldn't regain his balance and tripped to fall on the 42. The Indians failed to capitalize here and were forced to give up the ball.

After three downs, the Panthers were forced to punt. Young again took the punt on the 25 yard line and moved it 58 yards to the 18.

With one second left in the first half, Indian workhorse Bill Cox carried the ball over from the 4 for the second six points. His kick was good.

Opening the third quarter, the Indians received the kickoff on the 46. With some hard-earned yardage, they moved the ball to the 12. On fourth down, Cox kicked a 17 yard field goal, putting the Indians ahead 17-0.

With 3:49 left in the third period, again the driving Cox went over from the 10 for his second TD. His kick after was good again.

The fourth quarter was a defensive battle. Neither team could move the ball far enough to threaten. With 1:09 left in the game, Kenny Shipman hit end Garland Rappett with a 19-yard TD pass to put the Panthers on the board for the first time. Philip Martin tried for the extra point and failed. This ended the scoring for the game as the Indians ran out the clock.

With good blocking and hard running the entire Indian backfield did a fine job. Running backs Cox, Young, Bobby Cobb, Walton Wooten and Frank Jir-cik did a fine job, with help from the rest of the Tribe.

As we have said in the past, we know we do not give enough credit to the linemen. It is pretty hard to keep up with the ball carriers and see the Indians who make the tackles, but with the outstanding defense we have, we know they all deserve much credit.

The Indians will take on the Quannah team here Friday night at 8:00. Quannah was defeated by Olney last week 20-7.

Haskell Youth Dies Friday

The entire Haskell community was saddened and shocked as news spread Thursday night of the death of the school's popular "B" squad football player, Robin Mark Medford. Sympathy for the bereaved family was extended by a large percentage of Haskell residents.

Robin was stricken in his football team's dressing room following a game between Haskell and Anson, in which Robin played as quarterback. He was taken to Haskell Memorial Hospital, then rushed to Hendrick Hospital in Abilene, where he passed away at about 2:30 a. m.

Members of the Haskell coaching staff reportedly stated that attending physicians said that death was due to a burst blood vessel in the head, and they felt it was not due to an injury received in the ball game.

Robin played a fine game Thursday night, according to his coach, James Ivy, leading his team to a 14-6 victory. He ran for one touchdown, passed for one and intercepted two passes.

"He had a slight headache at halftime," Ivy said, "and took an aspirin. He lay down in the dressing room after the game, and blacked out."

One of the most popular students in his grade, Robin always went out of his way to do more than his assignments, according to Hubert Bell, principal of Haskell Junior High School, where the youth attended last year.

Active in Boy Scout work, he had advanced to the rank of Eagle Scout.

Born December 12, 1955, in Haskell, he had attained the age of 15 years, nine months and five days.

Robin, the son of Mr. and

ROBIN MARK MEDFORD

Mrs. Jack Medford, was a sophomore in Haskell High School. He is survived by his parents, one sister, Janice, a student at Texas Tech, Lubbock; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Medford, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Klose, all of Haskell.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Saturday from the First United Methodist Church in Haskell, with the pastor, Rev. H. O. Abbott, officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery under the direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Serving as pallbearers were Edwin Jeter, Wayne Wainscot, Tom Watson, Buck Everett, James Ross Mickler, Olen King, Leon Ivey and Skip Lane.

Members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department were named as honorary pallbearers.

Hospital Board Asks For Donations For Construction of New Chapel

Alfred Turnbow, administrator of the Haskell Memorial Hospital, announced Wednesday morning that donations are now being accepted on a fund-raising project to construct a new chapel at the hospital. This action was taken at a regular meeting of the board of directors on Tuesday night.

The new chapel is almost "a must" in the hospital's remodeling and renovating program, but was not included in the original plans. Therefore, it must be built by donations, according to Mr. Turnbow.

Donations must be in on or before the 18th of October, Mr. Turnbow said.

Pastors of the various Haskell churches are co-operating in this movement, and have agreed to accept donations of their membership. Anyone interested in helping financially in this project are asked to make contributions to the pastors, the hospital administrator.

'Our Town' Takes On A New Meaning

Haskell residents who failed to attend the second Town Hall meeting of the year last Thursday evening missed an experience worth any effort. There can be no greater way for merchants and townspeople to get together and plan a town effort that will show in every nook and cranny of a town.

Mrs. R. C. Couch, president of Progressive Study Club, gave the welcome to representatives of every organization attending, and stated, "We are very proud that progressive leaders of our town have joined in this Community Improvement Project and challenge each of you to show a definite fulfillment of your pledged duties at the end of our six-month deadline."

She gave three vital requirements, to make the drive a success: Interest and enthusiasm; Knowledge; and Belief.

Mrs. Abe Turner reviewed the club's comprehensive plans for the year under a theme of "Our Town"—the most appropriate theme for a challenge of this magnitude.

Director of the effort, Mrs. R. A. Lane, then heard reports from all committees that were appointed at the first Town Hall meeting in April.

C. A. Thomas, representing the Rotary Club, announced that the club had moved 15 old cars from the city limits already, and were making a list of more.

Mayor H. V. Woodard explained the slow-down of city crews that had been working on Rice Springs Creek and in the park area. Due to the heavy rains, weeds are growing fast and mosquitoes are multiplying at an even greater rate. City crews are spraying constantly, as well as mowing the city to keep the growth under control. The city has, however, accomplished a great deal on their designated areas, and will resume work full time as soon as all other obligations to city residents are under control.

Mrs. J. G. Vaughter, representing the Magazine Club, outlined their plans to plant crepe myrtle in the park and to assist Haskell Garden Club, represented by Mrs. Juanita Hester, along the same lines and in both clubs working on cemetery improvement by planting more willow trees and replac-

Exhibit At The Fair

Come to the Fair! Haskell County is buzzing like a beehive, getting ready for the 1971 edition, under the leadership of president Pat Hale.

All division heads of the organization are using this means to urge every resident in the county to become involved in our Fair by preparing their entries, and getting ready for the big opening on September 30. It's open to everyone, and is a great way to become involved in the happenings of your community.

Let's show everyone what Haskell can do, and have the biggest and the best Fair ever staged in Haskell County. Fair officials have done their part—they've lined up the best entertainment, speakers, parade and activity possible for the three day event. The success of the exhibits is up to the individuals—and they always come through like troopers.

Yes, we'll see you at the Fair—the 1971 edition of Haskell's own County Fair!

Very Light Docket

It was almost a holiday for County Judge B. O. Roberson when he convened his county court last Monday. Only one case appeared on the docket. The case involved a DWI charge against Leon Martinez.

Lt. Gov. Barnes To Visit Fair

A candidate for Governor of Texas next year, Lieut. Gov. Ben Barnes notified local fair officials Tuesday that he would pay a visit to Haskell and would be attending the Haskell County Fair on Friday, October 1.

Barnes announced his decision to run for Governor at a news conference in Austin in June. The announcement ended speculation whether he would seek the Governorship or run for the United States Senate.

The Lieutenant Governor will arrive in Haskell Friday afternoon, October 1, at approximately 5:30, and a reception will be held in his honor at 6:30 p. m. in the community room of the Haskell National Bank. The reception is open to the public, and everyone is invited to attend.

At 7:30 p. m., Barnes will attend the Haskell County Fair, in its second day of progress. He will be joined in Haskell for this appearance by State Senator David Ratliff of Stamford and State Representative Renal Rosson of Snyder.

Barnes, at 33, has more than 10 years of experience in public office in Texas. He first won election to the Texas House from DeLeon in 1960. He was elected Speaker of the House in January, 1965, and was re-elected to that post in

Gardens For The Month of September Announced By Haskell Garden Club

The Haskell Garden Club has several members who live in Weinert, and some of the gardens for the month of September were selected from these.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Guess, Weinert, is landscaped to feature a huge knarled spreading mesquite tree that shades the patio and is a delight for the grandchildren to climb. There is also a rope swing for them to enjoy. Hanging baskets of pink cascade petunias and a hedge of pink crepe myrtle add color and beauty.

Mrs. Fred Monke, also of Weinert, has a lovely, well-kept garden. It features a bird bath and feeder under a spreading mesquite tree, a honeysuckle summer house with picnic tables and benches, a rose bed, orange berried pyracantha, and nandinas for fall and winter color (also to attract birds). There are lilacs for spring and fall bloom and fragrance.

Mrs. J. W. Liles, Weinert, has beautiful white yucca in full bloom. And interesting focal point in the front yard is a big mesquite tree with a lily pond with lilacs that bloom intermittently. Two pomegranate bushes, one on either side of the entrance walk, nandinas and other evergreens add winter interest. In the back yard is a huge pecan tree with sitting bench. Pink crepe myrtle adds seasonal color.

The Leisure Lodge nursing home grounds were landscaped by the Haskell Garden Club several years ago, and the plants have grown and thrived. The entrance court features magnolia tree, pine, pyracantha and seneca which gives seasonal bloom and color. There are brick planters of honeysuckle with zinnias and petunias for summer color. A lovely rose garden gives continued bloom for the patients to cut and enjoy throughout the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Strickland, 1200 N. Ave. G, have a very lovely Spanish type home with flagstone fence. An outstanding feature is the cactus bed with a ground cover of crushed brick beneath huge hackberry trees. Their latest project is a flagstone patio which they work on in their spare time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walling, 1503 N. 1st, have a lovely modernistic home with sundeck, spacious, well-kept St. Augustine grass lawn, beautiful white cement block fence with blocks spaced for see-through effect, yet giving privacy. The most outstanding feature is the courtyard with waterfalls and lily pond with a variety of tropical fish. Here violets grow, and tall castor beans add a cool, tropical touch. This is a quiet, restful and relaxing spot as viewed from the den.

There are pecan trees and a fruit orchard. Three clumped pine trees, phontinias, a pyracantha hedge interspersed with lantana give summer color. Red, white and blue morning glories trail over a low fence near the driveway. In the far corner of the enclosed yard is a birdbath in the shade of a pecan tree.

Local Couple Celebrates 67th Date of Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hobbs of Rice Springs Care Home, celebrated their 67th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, September 14, at a party given in their honor in the large living-dining room of the home.

They were up and about, enjoying the party which had been arranged by their children. Hours were from 2 to 3 p. m.

The table was beautifully decorated, and a flower arrangement was of fall colors. Punch was served with a three-tiered wedding cake to the patients and staff.

Pictures were made of the "golden age" couple. Mr. Hobbs is 95 years old; his wife is 93.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs married September 18, 1904, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Miller, in the Plainview community north of Stamford. Mrs. Hobbs moved to Haskell County with her family in 1902. Mr. Hobbs came to the county in 1904.

The couple met in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Suggs, on the Swenson Ranch where Mr. Suggs and Mr. Hobbs were employed. After their marriage, the couple moved on the Swenson Ranch in Cottle County, where they cooked for the ranch hands.

They resided in Haskell County most of their married life, and Mr. Hobbs was engaged in farming. He retired in 1944. They have been residents of Rice Springs Care Home for two years.

The children are: V. C. Hobbs, Weinert; Mrs. E. A. Coleman and Mrs. Tom Casey, Haskell. One son, Darwin, died in 1937 at Deming, N. M. They have 13 grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren. Mrs. Hobbs has a brother, Jim Miller, who resides in Haskell.

Is this what the publishing business does to people? Could this possibly be the reason JVC and our good friend Aaron Edgar (who pens a pretty sharp column himself) retired from this business when they did? ? ?

Directors Hear Reports Of Tuesday's Meetings

Bob Beauchamp, director, who has also been secretary of the Haskell Industrial Foundation since its organization, told those present about the meet scheduled for election of new officers and directors and urged all interested persons to attend.

President Johnson presented to the board of directors two letters of invitation which he had recently received. One was relative to the Jake Roberts, District Highway Engineer of the Abilene area, who is retiring from the department. A Jake Roberts Day will be held in Abilene on Friday, September 24 to pay tribute to Mr. Roberts, who has served for many years in that capacity. The second letter was from Governor Preston Smith's office in regards to the Industrial Conference to be held in Austin on the dates of October 13 and 14. Recommendations were made that Haskell be represented at both important meetings.

Director Frances Lane reported to the group on the meeting of the Retail Trade Committee held at the City Cafe at 7 a. m., Sept. 21. Following her report, a round table discussion was held about the 1971 annual Christmas Program sponsored by the chamber of commerce. Several suggestions were made by those present about changes which perhaps should be made to make the popular program even more successful this year.

The manager reported that only about 50 of the Kitty Kans, a new membership plan to raise additional finance for the chamber, had been placed but that approximately another 50 would be placed by committee workers prior to October 1.

Bill Lane, owner-manager of Lane's Apparel and Cleaning, was welcomed to the meeting as a new member of the chamber of commerce.

Present for the meeting: Elbert Johnson, president; Charles McCauley, Odell Bynum, Edith Wheatley, Sue Fincher, Frances Lane, Bob Beauchamp, Joe Williams, Darold Roberson, Pat Hale, George Fouts, Doyle High, Loraine Johnson, Bill Comedy, Bill Lane, H. V. Woodard and manager Rex Felker.

Sheriff's Posse Sans Horses, Make Albuquerque Trip

When it developed last week that the Haskell County Sheriff's Posse had a number of riders drop out of plans to ride in the State Fair parade at Albuquerque, N. M., last Saturday, members of the riding club decided not to ride in the parade as an organized club. But many of them did decide to make their annual trip to attend the fair and parade, leaving their mounts at home.

This they did, and some 35 people—men, women and children—made the trip to Albuquerque for festivities of the fair. This was the fifth trip for the local riding club—and their first without horses.

Sitting comfortably in their cars while parade riders passed in the sleet and snow, members of the Haskell group remarked on how much they were enjoying the parade. Some of the group left Haskell earlier, while others waited until early Saturday morning to make the trip.

They reported a blanket of snow and sleet along the highway for about 100 miles out of Albuquerque as they made the return trip.

ing the ones that have been lost. Chamber of Commerce manager Rex Felker reported plans for dressing up display windows in vacant buildings around the square, and the fact that four new businesses had leased vacant buildings in the past few months.

R. W. Herren gave a very successful report on efforts to keep Haskell's railway shipping open. Haskell is now the largest rail shipping point between Abilene and Wichita Falls.

Haskell Young Homemakers, represented by Billie McKeever, are involving elementary age children in their efforts to get homeowners to brighten up their homes and lots. She also announced a soft drink bottle drive by her club to make money for the Rehabilitation Center in Abilene, and urged everyone who had bottles to donate to contact the club. All monies derived by the drive will go to the Rehab Center.

Mrs. Doyle High represented her husband, who is president of Haskell Jaycees, by reporting that the club has planned a trip to Snyder to meet with Chamber Manager Mickey Nunally who led Snyder's big beautification effort to its success. They will follow the steps Snyder Jaycees took to assist Haskell's drive.

Sammie Aldridge, representing the northeast side of town, gave a very optimistic report on efforts there, and asked the help of the City to get some of the vacant overgrown areas under control.

The Fair Association has pledged to help the Jaycees and Young Homemakers in their comprehensive efforts. The B&PW Club is assigned the clearing and cleaning of vacant lots, and has a committee already appointed for this category.

Haskell Free Press publisher, Bill Comedy, reported on the publicity coverage of the drive thus far, and pledged the newspaper to help in any way possible throughout the rest of the effort.

Mrs. W. V. Felker then challenged every business owner in town to compete in the Beauty for Business effort, with a goal of redoing store fronts to conform with an overall plan to beautify around the square.

Memorial Civic Center
R. C. Couch reported the progress made during the summer months by the board of Haskell Memorial Civic Center. They have located several desirable locations, and have contacted an architect and designer so that an artist's sketch in color will be ready by Homecoming. Then all may see a proposed plan on the building.

Bob Beauchamp, representing the Haskell Industrial Foundation, issued a wide-open invitation to every resident of Haskell County to attend the Industrial meeting slated for September 22, in order that our town can have an active and successful industrial growth.

Final report of the evening was made by R. C. Couch on the progress of the new lake. Progressive Study Club president Mrs. R. C. Couch ended the meeting by challenging each person attending to get behind the effort and help beautify "Our Town."

The hospital board also set a date for advertising for bids on the new remodeling project. Advertisements for bids will appear in next week's Free Press, Mr. Turnbow said.

NEWCOMER TO THE FLEET

THE NATION'S newest airliner—the DC-10 LuxuryLiner—will join the American Airlines fleet on July 29 and will go into scheduled passenger operation in early fall. The three-engine, wide-body jet will carry over 200 passengers. It will be flexible enough to operate in and out of smaller airports such as New York's La Guardia. The DC-10 is also a quieter and cleaner airplane because of improvements made in its engines.

STREAMLINED STEEL SIGNS

CALIFORNIA is streamlining its steel highway signs. The familiar, traditional truss designs have been replaced by a clean, simple structure that complements the surrounding scenery. In designing this new steel highway sign, the California Division of Highways not only emphasized highway beautification but also safety. The signs are conveniently placed so that the motorist can see them clearly and read them easily. Steel was chosen by the California engineers for economy of design, high strength and weldability.

Churchill's Toy Shop

London — (HK) — How long does it take for a digestive to work?
Among humans the period varies. But used as timing devices in underwater bombs and mines created by the British in a secret laboratory during World War II, Alka Seltzer tablets dissolved uniformly and predictably as the trigger for a blast. The disclosure is made in a new book, "Winston Churchill's Toy Shop," just published here. The author is Col. Stewart Macrae, a founder of the tiny underground laboratory in wartime London that was known officially as Department M.D.J. but more usually by the title he gave the book. The Alka Seltzer tablets were used to separate the chemicals which, when they made contact, exploded. That came about when the tablets dissolved. Writes Col. Macrae: "We found the tablets gave the ideal length of time between immersion and explosion. We were very grateful for Miles' help at that time."
Miles Laboratories, maker of Alka Seltzer, acknowledged Col. Macrae's salute by presenting him with a generous supply of the product because, he reports, he still finds it personally helpful.

DILEMMA OF THE U.S. HOMEMAKER

New York — (HK) — The American homemaker, eager to do whatever is needed to keep her family healthy and the atmosphere unpolluted, is getting more and more confused.

A few years ago she was warned to shun poultry, because they were being fattened with drugs that might cause cancer. But soon that danger somehow vanished, only to be replaced by the "cranberry scare," with insecticides now the culprit. That proved a false alarm, too. Then cyclamate sweeteners were officially black-listed, but even now no one is quite sure they are a hazard to humans. The tuna fish terror lasted briefly and tuna lovers are back with it and feeling anything but pain.

But now the homemaker is squirming on the horns of the phosphates dilemma. Phosphates may be the best thing that ever happened to a laundry detergent, but she is told to abandon it and go back to soap or any other substitute, even if its properties are wholly untested. The phosphates, she is told, go through the local sewage system and reach a lake, stream or estuary where they promote growth of marine plants and rob the water of oxygen, a process called eutrophication.

Before Columbus

But, say many scientists, eutrophication has been around a long time—even before Columbus—and abandoning phosphate detergents won't alleviate the process because the human waste in sewage contributes as much—or more—phosphate as detergents. Actually, only about 15 percent of America's sewage enters lakes or streams that could be affected by eutrophication.

The ultimate perils include, in a nation's treatment plants, the sewer's phosphorus pin — at an estimated cost of approximately per family.

By preserving a laundering machine in terms of dry, extended life, avoidance of destruction by high acids, and better treatment is pointed out, now the nation's wastewater deadlier hazards to eutrophication.

Swiss Banking Laws Protected Refugees

Washington — (HK) — What started out as a humanitarian effort by the Swiss in 1934 to protect the assets of German Jews from Nazi confiscation has developed into a controversy with the United States over Swiss bank accounts.

The controversy revolves around the issue of Swiss banking secrecy which maintains that depositors must be protected against invasion of privacy, except in certain cases specified by law.

Dr. E. F. Paltzer, general manager of the Swiss Bank Corporation, said the principal conflict between the U.S. and Switzerland is rooted in different tax laws. Evasion of taxes is not a crime in Switzerland and as a consequence, banks are not required to give the courts or foreign governments pertinent information in such cases.

When a fraud is charged, he noted, a bank may be required by the courts to make full disclosure of a client's holdings, but failure to comply with another government's tax regulations is not a violation in Switzerland.

Technical Device

Dr. Paltzer said that numbered accounts in Switzerland, under fire by American critics as cover-ups for tax evaders and the illicit profits of underworld syndicates, are not exempt from investigation of criminal charges filed by foreign governments. Identification by number is merely an internal technical device. Knowledge of the account holder is, thereby, the chance of identifying employees. It has immunity in the law in criminal procedure.

The Swiss bank enacted during the war. They made disclosure of accounts a crime, a measure protected the Swiss of communist totalitarian regimes. War II.

Switzerland, however, is not a member of the U.S. in combat mutual assistance treaties. The two countries under negotiation.

Americans See Red! — In Basketball

Lexington, Ky. — (HK) — The Russians don't claim to have invented basketball, but they played the game here as if they had when they defeated, 97-79, the American team that was this year's runner-up in national A.A.U. tournament.

The game at Memorial Coliseum was between the Russian National Basketball Team and the Marathon Oil A.A.U. squad which had earlier yielded the national title to the Armed Forces team. The visiting Russians had several advantages going for them, such as a 72" player. Then, too, play was conducted according to international rules, to which the Americans were not wholly accustomed. The Russians also had worked together for some years; five had been on their 1968 Olympics team and two on the 1964 team.

It was their fifth straight victory in a nine-game tour they made around the States, which every other year, an American team loses the Soviet NEVER RECOVERED!

The American team, sponsored by the Marathon Oil Company, which is based in Findlay, Ohio, the game's first quarter quickly lost the never recovered.

Rochester Girl Is Runner-up In W. T. Fair's Sweetheart Contest

A Haskell County girl, Miss Riva Hitt of Rochester, was second runner-up in the West Texas Fair sweetheart contest in Abilene. Announcement of the winners was made Wednesday night during the Sonny James Show at Taylor County Coliseum. Miss Hitt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hitt of Rochester.

First place winner was Miss Kathi Kent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Kent of Knox City, who was sponsored by the Knox City FFA chapter. Miss Hitt, 16, was sponsored in the contest by the Rochester FFA chapter. She has served as FFA sweetheart at Rochester High School and is in FHA. She has also been named to the all-district basketball team, plays tennis, and is in the band.

Other activities include: member of the one-act play all-star cast in both district and regional competition.

Texans Joining Bargaining Fly-In September 27-30

Texas farmers will be in Washington during the heat of the bargaining debate which will begin with a hearing before the House Agriculture Subcommittee on September 27. National Farmers Union is sponsoring the Fly-In Program which will bring farmers and ranchers from across the nation to Washington to express their views to congressmen on bargaining problems. The Texas group will depart Dallas on Monday, September 27, and return Thursday morning, September 30.

There are two approaches to farm bargaining that are being considered by Congress. Both face tough sledding in both the House and the Senate. Farmers Union is supporting the National Agricultural Bargaining and Marketing Acts introduced by Minnesota Sen. Mondale. This approach will not only provide the mechanics for legal bargaining, but will also authorize farmers to establish supply management programs. It provides legal assurance that there will be good faith bargaining by processors and handlers.

The second approach is the bargaining bill which has been introduced by California Senator Sisk. This approach will assist farmers in achieving an improved bargaining position, but does not have the tough machinery for enforcement nor supply management features included in the Mondale approach.

Texas farmers participating in the September 27-30 Fly-In will participate in a briefing on the first evening that they arrive in Washington, make office calls to members of Congress on Tuesday, and host Texas Congressmen at a breakfast on Wednesday morning. They will have the opportunity to visit the hearing room and witness National Farmers Union's testimony at the House Subcommittee hearing.

Seats on jetliners to and from Dallas have been reserved and some reservations on connecting flights into Dallas are being held. Those interested in participating in the Bargaining Fly-In should make their reservations early at the Farmers Union state office. Hotel accommodations are being held at the Quality Hotel within easy walking distance of the capitol.

Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco, commenting on the forthcoming Washington Fly-In program, stated: "If Texas farmers really mean what they say about the need for bargaining power, now is the time for them to stop talking about it and go to Washington to do something about it!"

O'Brien Romps Over Hobbs, 52-12

The O'Brien Bulldogs racked up scores in every quarter Friday night and coasted to a 52-12 victory over the Hobbs Panthers in six-man football action at O'Brien.

This gave the Bulldogs their second win, while the Fisher County team has lost two.

O'Brien scored first on a five-yard run by Danny Del Hierro. Rayland Hayes booted for two points, then got the next TD on a 36 yard run and kicked the conversion.

David Martinez scored for Hobbs in the first period on a three yard run. The visitors got their second TD in the third quarter.

O'Brien also scored two touchdowns in the second quarter, one in the third and two in the final quarter.

Weinert Bests McCauley, 14 to 6

Weinert's six-man football team proved superiority over the McCauley team last Friday night at Weinert by dumping the visitors by a score of 14 to 6. This was a non-conference six-man engagement.

Weinert put together two second-half touchdowns with the help of freshman back Felix Garcia for the second win for the school in two years.

McCauley's lone score came in the second period.

Bobcats Blank Knox City Team

The Rule Bobcats blanked their host team, Knox City Greyhounds, 18 to 0, last Friday night in non-conference play at Knox City.

A third quarter pass interception which was turned into the final touchdown was taken by Larry Barbee who sped 65 yards for the score.

Don Hisey and Art Briles of Rule turned in the two other scores on runs of 2 and 45 yards respectively. Rule led in yards rushing with 144 but completed only two of three passes for 33 yards.

Knox City gained 90 yards rushing and completed 8 of 16 passes for a total of 74 yards but were plagued by 105 yards in penalties.

Hawley Drops Rochester, 22-0

The Rochester Steers, hosts to Hawley last Friday night, felt the power of their visitors and of bruising back Gary Womack, as the Hawley team overpowered the Steers by a score of 22 to 0.

Womack scored two of Hawley's touchdowns in the chilly mist that fell throughout the

Phosphates Produce Cleaner Clothes

Ithaca, N. Y.—(HK)—Phosphate detergents are under fire in some quarters but they represent a major "step forward" in laundering clothes, says an expert, Dr. Mary E. Purchase, Associate Professor in the New York State College of Human Ecology, Cornell University.

At a recent Federal Trade Commission hearing in Washington, she focused attention on the roles of phosphate detergents with most meaning to homemakers — in producing brighter, cleaner laundry, and in preserving the life of both clothing and washing machines. Referring to phosphates, she says:

"The other substitutes now being used, washing soda and the silicates, have serious shortcomings. Washing soda is an alkaline material which was a familiar laundry aid to past generations, as it was used as a water softener before better ones were available. Washing soda, whether used alone or as part of the laundry detergent, softens water by precipitating out the calcium and magnesium which make the water hard. The precipitate, a fine, powdery material, becomes trapped in the cloth and makes the cloth feel harsh and stiff. Because washing soda is not a suspending agent, it does not inhibit redeposition of dirt..."

Regarding longer-range effects on laundry, Dr. Purchase observes:

"Some fibers, especially wool and to a lesser extent cotton and other fibers, may undergo chemical change in alkaline solutions. The changes result in a weakening of the fabric."

Porcelain Enamel

She notes also the effect of caustics on washing machines: "The interior of most washing machines is porcelain enamel, a member of the glass family. Many glasses are etched by alkaline solutions. Is the enamel on washers now in homes able to withstand the higher alkalinity of the substitutes for phosphate detergents? If the interior of the washer tub becomes etched and roughened, how much is the wear life of the garments reduced by the extra abrasion and how much is the acceptable service life of the washer shortened?"

A return to soap has been mentioned but, says Dr. Purchase:

"Aside from the question of whether there is enough natural fat to produce the soap required, there are other problems. In hard water, soap forms soap curd, a sticky, greasy precipitate. Even soap in soft water offers no solution because, she states, "Practically no water used by homemakers has a hardness of zero." Besides, "Soil on clothes contributes its own hardness. When the hardness contributed by the soil is added to the hardness of the water at the tap, very little truly soft water is available for laundering. Thus, the return of soap is not a good answer."

She sums up the problem: "Because detergents must function in a variety of ways to remove multiple soils under many washing conditions, they must be a complex, carefully chosen mixture. The polyphosphates have a definite role to play in the detergent process. No adequate, hazard-free substitute for the polyphosphates is now available."

Vancouver To Hawaii In 50-foot Canoe

Vancouver, B. C.—(HK)—A 50-foot cedar canoe set out July 4 on a 2,400-mile voyage from Vancouver, B. C., to the Hawaiian Islands. The canoe is fashioned after the famed dug-out canoes used by the Haida Indian tribe which populate the British Columbia Coast. The craft has been named ORENDA, an Indian word meaning "powerful spirit."

ARTIST'S concept of finished canoe.

The journey is the culmination of a dream—and the personal British Columbia Centennial project — of George Tocher, a freelance photographer. Alone and totally dependent upon favorable winds and currents, he hopes to make the crossing in about 35 days. Mr. Tocher hopes to prove his claim that the Hawaiian Islands were populated, or at least visited, by the Haida Indians centuries ago. He bases his theory on his research as an amateur anthropologist and on the work of scientist-adventurer Thor Heyerdahl, best known for his Kon-Tiki raft voyage across the South Pacific. For several months Mr. Tocher has been working on a giant cedar tree from MacMillan Bloedel Limited's forest lands in a corner of the forest product company's equipment yard. Although using chain saws and a power plane instead of stone axes, he has followed as closely as possible the old Indian patterns of hollowing out, shaping and spreading the cedar log into a one-piece canoe. A 25-foot outrigger will be added for stability and a small, century-old Salish Indian canoe will be towed for use as a sea anchor during storms — and as a last resort in case the adventurer is washed overboard.

"I'll be taking equipment for checking water temperature and weather conditions, plus a small radio transmitter," said Mr. Tocher. "I will also have an outboard motor, but with only enough fuel to get in and out of harbors."

Beef Stew And Peaches

"The canoe will have canvas awnings fore and aft for shelter, and I'll live mainly on canned goods such as beef stew and peaches. She will probably have a lot of water in her, so I may wear a wetsuit for warmth. But there's no way the ORENDA can sink." With a Douglas fir mast and a square, Viking-type sail, he hopes to have an average speed of five knots. "I've had experience sailing Star class boats," he added, "but there aren't many people around today to teach me about sailing Haida canoes."

Rural Minister Of Year Named

Jim Ford, pastor of the Wolfe City Church of Christ in Hunt County has been selected as Texas Rural Minister of the Year.

He will be honored during the annual Town and Country Church Conference Oct. 14-15 at Texas A&M University.

The minister will be given an engraved silver tray provided by "The Progressive Farmer," the magazine which sponsors the award in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Town and Country Church Committee. The committee is made up of ministers of all denominations. Reagan Brown, Extension Service sociologist and program coordinator, said Ford joins a long list of rural ministers who have received the honor in past years.

"He is being cited for his distinguished leadership not only in his church but in many activities in his community," the sociologist said. "The people in Wolfe City who nominated him say he understands and appreciates rural people."

"Jim has led his congregation in a better understanding of the soil, a pride in their heritage of being a rural community, and a love of the land as God's earth. He has led his congregation in those affairs that are for the good of the total community."

"Not only is this award made to Mr. Ford, but it is a symbol of recognition for all those who are making outstanding contributions to rural life. These unselfish and often unheralded ministers in the small towns and rural neighborhoods of Texas are doing great works and deserve the everlasting gratitude of all of us," Brown said. Ford's nomination was submitted by the Wolfe City Chamber of Commerce through its president, Joe W. Davenport.

Lions Enjoy Film Tuesday

"It's kinda like one of those abstract paintings," one member said as the program picture for the Haskell Lions Club got underway at their meeting on Tuesday. "It's not making much sense to me."

The film was shown by Hugh Ratliff, and the program was introduced by Dr. J. F. Cadenhead, program chairman for the day.

As the film progressed, it dealt with such topics as fooling around — Ideas start that way; and dealt with the creativity of man, bringing out the question: "Why Does Man Create," fighting against such factors as time, decay, destruction and death in order to create. The paramount question brought out during the showing was: "Why is man here?"

Gaines Post was welcomed as a new member of the club. The meeting was opened by Bud Pogue, president. Singing was led by Gene Long, with the Lions Sweetheart, Ellen Walling, at the piano. The invocation was led by Jimmy Owens.

Elementary PTA Meets Sept. 15th

The Haskell Elementary Parent-Teachers Association met on Wednesday, September 15, at 3:00 p. m. in the Elementary school cafeteria. The PTA prayer was led by Mrs. Harry Koehler, president.

Mr. Sevens introduced the new teachers in the school: Miss Sharon Crow, Mrs. Jimmie Weinert, Mrs. Letha Carter, and Mrs. Sherry Adams. It was voted to have a fall festival on Saturday, October 30. Proceeds from this event will be used to install a fence around the elementary school yard.

Mrs. Loraine Johnson introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Malcolm Schultz of Abilene. She brought an interesting program on "What Is PTA?" She stated that a fall workshop would be held on October 27 in Abilene, and that the state convention would be held in Dallas on November 17-18-19. The room count was won by Mrs. Crow, with 10 members present. No recognized mothers.

OUTDOORS -IN- TEXAS Hospital Notes

There is one fishing scene that has been depicted a thousand times on calendars. It shows the big fish making off with the bait while the angler slumbers peacefully beneath a tree on the bank of a small, quiet stream.

This scene symbolizes fishing as a lazy sport. So does the long-time employee who, upon his retirement, says "I'm going to spend my time fishing."

Connotation is that fishing is a "retirement" or twilight-of-life sport. Actually, fishing is anything but these things since the object of the game is to catch fish and the fellow who looks upon fishing as a lazy pastime is the fellow who catches mighty few fish for the time involved.

Successful fishing is work, and hard work at that. But it is so much fun that it does not seem like work at all.

We've been out with a lot of good anglers, some of them state bass fishing tournament champions, and a few of them national champions. They are dedicated fishermen...like Dave Hawk, John Fox, Glenn Hayden, Jackie Hewitt, etc. We are firmly convinced that the difference between the fellow who catches a lot of fish and one who catches few is real hard work. There is more to successful fishing than tossing the bait in the water and letting nature take its course.

Bait that lies dormant on the bottom or suspends motionless beneath a float will lure a few fish. But it won't have the appeal of the same bait that is really "fished" by the fisherman. In this case, "fished" means putting action into the bait.

Fish don't always strike because they like the smell of the bait. If the fish have fed recently, they may ignore the bait entirely. However, if this same bait has action, the odds are good that the well-stuffed fish will fin over to do something about it. This is simply because game fish have a common trait. They are truculent and bent on challenging small but lively marine life that intrudes or strays into their domain.

Successful anglers fish out every cast from the time the bait or lure hits the water until it is reeled back up to the rod tip top. Only when live bait is used does the angler not have to actively "fish" the bait to be successful. In this case, the live shrimp, minnow or worm, does the bulk of the work. But if dead bait is used, then the fisherman must work it to get results.

There is even more work involved when artificial lures are used. Dead, natural baits have an odor that will attract some species like catfish.

Unless specially coated, the artificial lures have no odor, and their appeal to fish must be made on an action basis. This simply means that the angler has got to work at his lure fishing to be successful.

Fishing is not for the lazy. It just looks that way!

work. But if dead bait is used, then the fisherman must work it to get results. There is even more work involved when artificial lures are used. Dead, natural baits have an odor that will attract some species like catfish. Unless specially coated, the artificial lures have no odor, and their appeal to fish must be made on an action basis. This simply means that the angler has got to work at his lure fishing to be successful. Fishing is not for the lazy. It just looks that way!

Haskell," he said, "1. by working toward getting industry to locate in Haskell; and 2. to make Haskell a trading center." Both of these are being worked on at the present time, and everyone has to become involved in order to get things done.

The next neighborhood meeting will be November 1st, at which time Hess Hartsfield will be speaking on insurance.

ZAPPED BY A COMPUTER?
"The age of computers is wonderful." Try telling this to producers on 248 Haskell County farms.

Try telling this to some of our local business men who have been waiting on these producers to receive their checks so that they might be paid.

Try telling this to your ASCS County Executive Director and his staff who have been receiving complaints from these folks who have not received their checks.

What happened? We're not sure. Somehow when the computer data sheets, 31 pages, reached New Orleans they were misplaced, or by some means the data was erased from the computer tapes.

New Orleans reported Thursday, Sept. 16, 1971, that the data sheets had been located and would be re-run.

The checks should be in the county office within a few days.

The checks will be processed and placed in the mail the day they are received, if possible.

County office personnel wish to thank these many producers for not being more upset than they have been. We have received a "few" phone calls and talked to a "few" upset producers.

Dist. Governor Pays Visit To Rotary Club

The Haskell Rotary Club was honored by a visit from District Governor R. L. McArron from Breckenridge at their regular weekly meeting held at the City Cafe at noon, Thursday, September 16. Governor McArron has served in Rotary since 1930, having held the presidency of the Breckenridge club in 1938 and 1939 and for 14 years on the board of directors of that club.

A devoted civic worker for many years, he is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, President and Director of the Breckenridge Industrial Foundation, Vice President of the First Savings and Loan Association, and he and his family are members of the First Christian Church in that City.

In his address to club members and guests, he paid high compliments to the leadership of the local Rotary Club after having met with members and committee chairmen on Wednesday night prior to the Thursday meeting.

He especially invited Rotarians to participate in the district meeting to be held at the Green Oaks Inn in Fort Worth, Texas, during the month of April, 1972 and also reminded them that the International Convention would be held in Houston in June of next year. In his presentation he particularly stressed the "tools" of Rotary Service in the forms of: Club, community, vocational and international and advised that the slogan or motto for the ensuing year was, "Goodwill begins with you."

Invocation for the Thursday meet was voiced by Ferrel Coston and the song session led by Bob Herren, accompanied by club pianist Gail Barnett.

High School guests, Sam Powell and Milton Schmidt of the Haskell High School, were introduced by Rotarian R. C. Couch Jr.

COMFORT TRICKS FOR FASHIONABLE DRESSING

Some women dress to attract a man. Others to impress other women. But no matter whom you aim to please, you've got to feel good in order to look good. How many times have you left a special purchase hanging in the closet because it was just plain uncomfortable?

Here are a few tricks to dressing with comfort in mind—as well as fashion.

- A well-tailored pantsuit is a must in every wardrobe. Kasper for Joan Leslie likes the look and feel of the Acrilan acrylic city pants shown above. He creates an all-in-one pantsuit with the look of separates that does away with wasteful bulk. And adds a jacket for unexpected temperature changes. Smart and comfortable.
- Knits are known for comfort but inferior construction can result in unsightly bagging and shape loss. A quality guarantee such as the Wear-Dated tag promises a minimum of one year's normal wear or money back from Monsanto.
- Unlined clothes are lighter in weight and generally reasonably priced. If they itch or cling, try a slip of Ultron anti-static nylon that reduces cling and has a soft and unclammy feeling as an underliner.
- Heavy back zippers, buttons, and bows can prove a painful annoyance when you're seated in a chair. Look behind you when you're standing in the fitting room.

Homemakers Week Designated For September 19-25

This week, September 19th through the 25th, has been designated as Young Homemakers Week throughout the State of Texas. It has been proclaimed so in Haskell by Mayor Woodard.

Motto of the club is "Young Homemakers—The Heart of the Home." Haskell Young Homemakers strive diligently to fulfill this. The creed of the organization reads as follows: "We, the Young Homemakers of Texas seek to strengthen the bonds of family with Knowledge, Integrity, Love, Understanding, and Faith in God . . . In order that our homes may be established in the firm foundation of our Community, State, Nation, and the World . . . Upholding the right of each individual to assume the privileges and responsibilities of the democratic way of life."

Using a quote from Suttner, "After the verb 'to love, 'to help' is the most beautiful verb in the world," the local organization has chosen as their goal this year "to love to help". Expanding upon this thought is Matthew 25:40 " . . . Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Activities for the week will be concluded September 25, in Stephenville, with the Area IV convention. A large number of the Haskell Young Homemakers plan to attend and support Mrs. Edie Connel, who will be a nominee for area vice president.

62nd Field Day Is Held At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — More than 800 High Plains farmers, businessmen and other persons saw displays of farm machinery and toured experimental plots at the 62nd annual field day at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, recently.

The visitors questioned Extension entomologists, pathologists, animal scientists and economists in special consultation booths, in addition to seeing the latest research programs being conducted at the center.

The general tour of the facilities included 37 points where scientists explained studies in areas such as oilseed crops, irrigation and new varieties of cotton and sorghum being evaluated for tolerance to drought, insects and plant diseases.

Four special tours highlighted the field day.

The best. No qualifications. No reservations. We want it to be the most beautiful, most trouble-free, most comfortable car you ever owned.

Plus a 400-cubic-inch V8 engine and Turbo Hydra-matic automatic transmission.

All standard, as you expect with a Chevrolet. And Caprice is but one of the new Chevrolets. There are 45 in all: pictured below (left to right) are the 1972 Monte Carlo, Nova, Camaro and Vega.

Altogether, a lot of diversity. So there's bound to be a Chevrolet just right for your family, your budget and your kind of driving.

Job Training On Technical Needs Cited In Report

Five recommendations keyed to the job training needs of Texans both in and out of school were presented to the State Board of Education recently by the Texas Advisory Council for Technical-Vocational Education.

The suggested items for future action were presented by E. D. Reading of Houston, Council chairman. All recommendations make up part of the Council's second annual report to the Board.

Future action, according to the Council report, should focus on the vocational education needs of out-of-school adults, pre-employment needs of high school students with exploratory programs to begin before the 11th grade, and expanded counseling program, greater communication between educators and potential employers of students, and more effective vocational education planning

Kindergartens To Receive Funds Under New Plan

New public school kindergartens may receive $400 in state funds to help pay for teaching materials during their first year under a plan approved recently by the State Board of Education.

Texas school districts are expected to set up approximately 600 new kindergarten classrooms during the 1971-72 school year, bringing the total number of state-supported programs for five-year-olds to 1,141.

The number of new kindergarten classrooms is expected to reach a total of 9,000 during the 1977-78 school year. Largest increase, according to Texas Education Agency estimates, will come in 1973-74 when 3,000 new classrooms are added to the state-supported program.

Public school kindergartens were authorized in Texas for the first time by the 61st Legislature in 1969. An eight-year implementation program began in 1970 when some 30,000 children from families with incomes of $3,000 or less per year began attending school one year earlier than the traditional first grade starting point.

All 237,000 five-year-olds in Texas will be eligible for public school kindergarten in 1977-78. Compulsory school attendance does not begin until the first grade, however.

School districts may use the $400 one-time-only allocation to purchase teaching materials for art, woodworking, block

Trailer Company New In Operation

L. I. Hise, owner and operator of the Haskell Trailer Builders Co., went into production of cotton trailers last week. The firm is located near the edge of the city limits on the Throckmorton highway.

The first assembly-line production called for building a total of 20 all-metal cotton trailers, according to the owner. Hise urged cotton farmers to get their orders for trailers in as soon as possible so they may have them in time for the fall cotton crop.

The business now has three full-time employees in addition to Hise, and plans call for the addition of another one. Presently employed at the firm are Randy Hise, Larry Walton and John Matthews.

NUMBER THIRTY-EIGHT

Demand For Cotton Greater Than Production

MEMPHIS—Cotton stands to suffer further market losses if adequate incentives to grow more of it are not provided for 1972.

That was the warning sounded recently by a National Cotton Council economist in the opening session of the annual fall meeting of the Council's Board of Directors.

"Shooting for a crop that is just enough to meet expected demand and no more will not do the job," said Dabney S. Wellford, director of the Council's economic and market research service. He pointed out that demand cannot be accurately forecast, and unfavorable weather can drastically reduce the crop, as it has in five of the past six years.

"If we expect to hold our markets, we must aim higher and build up the carryover stock from the dangerously low level at which it now stands," Mr. Wellford continued.

The carryover from previous crops is expected to be about 4.1 million bales, and "once more there would not be enough in the carryover to cushion us if next year's crop falls short of demand." The demand has exceeded the amount grown in each of the past five seasons, and as a result stocks have been reduced to the point that they hardly meet working stock requirements.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin will announce the 1972 government cotton program in the early fall. Mr. Wellford pointed out that unless there are reassurances about next season's crop, the industry can expect pressures to continue for textile mills to shift out of cotton because of the uncertainty of the supply.

Mr. Wellford stated that the Secretary has the mandate for a program to relieve this pressure. His report pointed out that the Agricultural Act of 1970 states that the "... national base acreage allotment ... in the case of the 1972 and 1973 crops shall be in such amount as the Secretary determines necessary to maintain adequate supplies."

Army Worms Are Threat To Crops In Area

The fall army worm attacks grain sorghum, corn, small grains and grasses, as well as alfalfa, peas and beans.

There may be as many as 5 to 10 generations of fall army worms each year. The larval stage lasts about 20 days during which time the fall army worms reach a length of one to one and one-half inches. When the larvae are full grown, they dig into the soil about an inch and pupate. The adult female emerges from the ground within two weeks and generally flies some distance before laying eggs in masses of about 150; female fall army worms produce about 1000 eggs.

The full grown larvae vary in color from light tan or green to nearly black. They have three yellowish-white hair lines down the back from head to tail; on the side next to the yellow lines is a wider dark stripe spotted with red. There is a prominent white inverted Y on the front of the head.

When large numbers of fall army worms are present, the host plants can be cleaned out of the field; then these larvae invade adjoining fields. Build-ups are heaviest after cool, wet weather; however, when host plants are limited by dry weather, fall army worms may be found in large numbers in grain sorghum or small grain fields (especially those fields that have been irrigated or that are in a lush green growing condition).

Cultural control by shallow cultivation is effective when the larvae have become full grown and entered the soil a few inches where the pupal stage is passed.

Insecticidal control of fall army worms is accomplished most efficiently when larvae are small. Several applications of insecticides for control of fall army worms or other pests attacking sorghum or small grains, contact your county Extension Agent.

The carryover part of that adequate supply is defined specifically in the law as "not less than 50 per cent of the average offtake for the three preceding marketing years." That figure is 5.5 million bales, not including extra long staple. An increase in the paying allotment to induce a crop that will build the carryover to that level would be one incentive in 1972, Mr. Wellford said.

A second alternative would be to eliminate the requirement for cotton set-aside acreage, thus freeing land normally held out of use in order to keep agricultural production in balance with demand. Then farmers could grow whatever crops they wanted, including cotton, on this land. Mr. Wellford pointed out, however, that feed grains or soybeans might go on some of this acreage, thus depressing prices for these crops.

Another alternative would be to retain the set-aside and allow only cotton to be grown

Texas Prison Rodeo To Open On October 3

HUNTSVILLE—Based on the long and colorful history of the annual Texas Prison Rodeo, the 40th annual event to be featured each Sunday in October promises to be filled with plenty of action, plus the best on it.

Mr. Wellford added that if the 1972 program offers no reassurances about next season's supply, it is likely that the supply problem would be resolved anyway—through loss of both foreign and domestic markets. "The specter of drastic losses such as those which resulted from the 1967-68 price run-up will continue to hang over us until it is laid to rest by prospects of a larger 1972 crop," the economist said.

in entertainment as special guest stars join tough convict cowboys in this fast-moving two-hour show.

Held in the prison's $1 million stadium in Huntsville, the show begins at 2 p. m., following a pre-show special by inmates at 1 p. m.

Guest stars for this year's Prison Rodeo series include Dottie West and the Heartaches on October 3; Connie Smith and Nat Stuckey on October 10; Charlie Walker on October 17; the Waylon Jennings Show on October 24, and the Porter Waggoner Show on October 31.

Also included in this year's rodeo series will be the popular chuckwagon races and the thrilling chariot races which will be highlighted each Sunday.

According to Hoot Crawford, arena director for the rodeo, he will have a big choice of convict riders since more than 300 hopefuls have applied for a place on the program.

And this year, for the first time, the Texas Prison Rodeo will open without either a former or defending champion in the saddle. "This means that the competition will be greater than ever," Crawford said.

In addition to the bronc riding and bull riding events, the Texas Prison Rodeo offers its own brand of the Mad Scramble, Calf Tussle, Wild Horse Race and the Hard Money event, which pits 25 convict cowboys against one bull with a money sack tied to its horns. Jim Batten, rodeo supervisor, says that there are plenty of good seats available for all performances, and block tickets may be obtained by writing Texas Prison Rodeo, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas, enclosing check or money order. There is no reduction in the price of children's tickets. Net proceeds finance the rehabilitation programs for more than 15,000 inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Fair Weather Food in the Mediterranean Mood

NEW YORK (ED) — To the travel-minded, happy memories and great meals go together. Nothing seems to sum up foreign flavor faster than the recollection of the right meal enjoyed at the right time — in the right place.

This summer, stay-at-homes can enjoy the flavor of the Mediterranean, where even the simplest meal is a dining experience. Even if you're not dining at an inn high in the Italian hills, with the scent of growing herbs, it's easy enough to duplicate the foods of Italy right here at home. And when a meal is the beginning of a memory, it's the food that counts.

What's more, surprising as it may sound, it's just the right kind of cooking for hot weather. Although most Americans tend to associate Italian food with rib-sticking, wintry treats, the fact is that the Italians, living under some of the world's sunniest skies, know all there is to know about the delights of warm-weather dining.

A favorite summer meal is about as simple as you can get: soup and a salad, both with that Italian touch. Old World classics take on New World ways when you begin with ready-to-eat canned ingredients. It's the way to keep the cook out of the kitchen these hot-weather days — and to keep the compliments coming.

TOMATO SOUP COOLER

- 1 1-lb., 12-oz. can Italian tomato puree
- 2 13 1/4-oz. cans chicken broth
- 1 medium clove garlic, crushed
- 1/2 tsp. basil

SUMMER MEAL with an Italian accent stars Tomato Soup Cooler, poured right from the pitcher, and bean salad. Serve salad in lettuce bowl, add crusty bread... and you're in Italy.

- 1/2 tsp. marjoram
- 1/4 tsp. Tabasco or other hot pepper sauce
- 2 Tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 1/2 Tsp. salt
- 6 Tsp. dry Italian vermouth (optional)
- Cucumber garnish

Place unopened cans in refrigerator, chilling until very cold. When ready to serve, open puree and empty into large pitcher. Strain off any fat from top of chicken broth and add all but 1/2 cup of broth to puree. Put 1/2 cup broth in saucepan with garlic, basil and marjoram. Boil over high heat for 3 minutes. Strain into cup and add a couple of ice cubes to chill quickly. Add remaining ingredients to pitcher with strained broth. Stir thoroughly. Makes 1 1/2 quarts. Garnish with wedges of cucumber. Serves 6.

MUSHROOM BEAN SALAD

- 2 1-lb., 4-oz. cans cannellini (Italian white kidney beans)
- 2 6-oz. jars Progresso mushroom salad
- 3/4 cup chopped celery
- 3/4 cup minced onion
- 3 Tsp. chopped parsley
- 2 Tsp. lemon juice
- 2 Tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. freshly ground pepper

Drain cannellini thoroughly and place in large mixing bowl. Drain oil from mushroom salad into cup and reserve. Add mushroom salad, celery, onion and parsley to cannellini. Moisten mixture with some of reserved oil, to which lemon juice, salt and pepper have been added. Toss dressing and salad together gently, so that the beans are not crushed. Refrigerate. Reserve remainder of dressing to serve with salad. Serves 6.

Nine Injured In Accidents During August

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Haskell County during the month of August, according to Sergeant Frank Jirek, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and nine persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1971 shows a total of 45 accidents resulting in one person killed and 25 persons injured.

The rural accident summary be no more than the amount that was granted last year.

Q—Can my city government increase rates for gas and electricity?

A—No. State or local governments may not increase charges or fees for government-provided services. However, state and local tax rates, and fees for licenses or legal penalties, such as traffic tickets, are not frozen.

Q—Can merchants pass on to consumers the cost of an increase in state or local taxes?

A—No. This is not permitted during the freeze.

Q—What are some of the food products not subject to the freeze?

A—Raw agricultural products, such as fresh fruit and vegetables, fresh fish and seafood, honey, and other products that retain the same physical form they possessed when they left the farm gate, are not covered by the freeze.

A—No. If a tenant's lease expires, his rent may not be raised to the level being paid by new tenants in similar units.

THE WAGE - PRICE FREEZE

QUESTION AND ANSWER COLUMN

This column of questions and answers on the Wage and Price Freeze is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about the Wage and Price Freeze announced August 15 by President Nixon.

Q—I'll be getting out of the Army in two weeks and returning to my old job. Can I receive the pay increases I would have gotten if I had not been in the Service?

A—Yes. Veterans returning to their pre-military employment during the freeze are entitled to all the increases they would have received had they not served in the military. Employees are hired at the pay scale in existence during the 30-day base period of July 16 to August 14.

Q—Is the Internal Revenue Service the only place where you can get information on the wage-price freeze?

A—No. Information on the freeze and assistance with complaints is provided at the 10 Regional Service Centers of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, and the more than 2800 offices of the Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, as well as 360 Internal Revenue Service Local Service and Compliance Centers throughout the country.

Q—Are welfare payments covered by the freeze?

A—No. Welfare payments are not covered by the freeze. They are not payments for service rendered and, therefore, are not wages.

Q—I'm a teacher. During the summer I received my master's degree and, as a result, I was to receive a pay increment this fall. Can I still get it?

A—Yes. Pay increments for teachers who receive their master's and other scheduled pay raises dependent upon employees completing certain educational requirements may be reside in Waco.

Mr. L. W. Mayfield of the west side reports fine feed crops in his vicinity.

Mrs. Lee Pierson and children came in on Wednesday's train from an extended visit with friends in the east.

County Commissioner Whitmire has returned from an extended trip to the northwest part of the county. He said that crops were looking real good.

Mr. J. P. Carr and family spent the weekend in Mineral Wells.

Messrs. A. D. Aschelman and Martin Arend of the North East Side were in Haskell, Tuesday.

The sole purpose is to slowly conduct outside water that now rushes across the farm to Lake Stamford. Leaving valuable soil particles where they belong—in the field, not at the bottom of the lake, keeps both the landowner and Lake Stamford in business. This definite-

Jim Boykin, Ernest Cowger and I stay busy planning work with the farmers and ranchers. New conservation plans have been developed with Phil Coleman, H. T. "Cotton" Williams and Jerry Dunnam. Conservation plans for R. G. Foote, J. W. Wheeler (Cahill Estate), Cartigan & McDavitt, M. W. Phemister and W. N. Cole have been revised to update or add needed conservation treatment.

The recent rains have been invaluable to the rancher and livestock farmer. Although pasture grasses did "perk up" and grow some, insufficient growth was made to carry through the winter. However, good growth has been experienced with forage sorghums planned for winter feed, and should give a good supply of stored feed.

Careful attention should still be given to proper use of native pastures to prevent loss of plant life due to freezing or dry winter.
