Hundreds Attend Air Show

Haskell Municipal Airport took on the appearance of Dallas Love Field Sunday when some 60 airplanes and about 1,500 people arrived to attend the dedication and air show.

The airport includes a 3,400 foot runway, paved and lighted, fueling facilities, Unicom radio, terminal building and hangars for five planes. Already under construction are five more hangars. The airport telephone number is 864-8994.

To start the day off right, the Haskell Jaycees, assisted by Tom Watson and Bob Grey, fed a breakfast of pancakes, bacon and hot coffee to approximately 115 people who arrived early.

Winner of the trophy for earliest arrival was David Arbor and David Mays of Arlington. It seems that the young men flew from Arlington to Stamford early Saturday afternoon and left the Stamford Airport promptly at 12:00 midnight and arrived here at about 12:15. Once on the ground, the pilots unrolled bedrolls and "got a pretty good rest."

The first woman pilot, Mrs. Dorothy Clark of Sagerton, was one of the first arrivals, (after daylight). The pilot who received the trophy for the farthest distance was John Barnett of El Paso.

Although there were no scheduled activities planned for Sunday morning, a very unusual sight for any small airport could be seen by observing an almost steady stream of bright colored airplanes coming in. Rough estimates by several members of the Haskell Flying Club showed the total value of the planes on the ground during lunch would be about $800,000.00.

Approximately 700 people were served a free noon barbecue sponsored by Haskell merchants and served by the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department.

Highlight of the afternoon for both City and County officials was the presentation of a check for $18,538.20 to Mayor J. Belton Duncan by Virgil Reynolds, a representative of the Federal Aviation Administration. The check is one of several to be received from State and Federal agencies to help pay for the airport.

The events which followed the dedication proved to be almost as exciting as the presentation of the check. A stunt team entertained the crowd with what seemed to be impossible feats. It was pretty easy to tell flyers from non-flyers by listening to conversations during the show, such as, "Boy, now I'm sure I'll never fly", and, "I wish my plane would do that."

Pilot participation contests of bomb dropping and spot landing gave those in attendance a chance to view some local talent. A World War II bombardier accused someone of tampering with his bomb sight but admittedly had a good time. Both the spot landing and bomb dropping contest were won by a father and son team, Bill Lemon and son, Dick, took the two trophies back to Arlington at the end of the day. The older Lemon commented, "We flipped a coin to see who would pilot and I lost, so all I really did was drop the flour sack, and Dick told me when to do that."

Another impressive sight was the departure of some 40 planes at the end of the ceremonies.

Mayor Duncan commented, "We (officials of the dedication) were very pleased with every aspect of the dedication and would like to thank everyone for their help and participation."

26 PLANES had arrived at the Haskell Municipal Airport by 10:00 a. m. Sunday. A crowd of about 1,500 people witnessed the dedication and air show and enjoyed a free breakfast and free barbecue. When the air show began, cars lined roads as far away as the Seymour highway. About 60 planes flew in for the dedication. (Staff Photo)

New Ultra-Modern Ben Franklin Opens

The Grand Opening sale of Haskell's completely new Ben Franklin Store, 20 Avenue D, will be held July 20, 21 and 22, 1972. Jack V. McAdoo, owner-operator, announced this week.

A large number of special merchandise values have been purchased specifically for the opening, he disclosed. Attractive gifts will be presented to all adult shoppers and their children.

The store will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. each day of the Grand Opening sale.

"Opening just at the vacation, back-to-school shopping season," Mr. McAdoo announced, "we will offer a complete selection of summer needs, school supplies, fall fabrics, toys, and gift items. Our opening specials will include popular brands that are steady favorites with Haskell families, as well as many items that are new and have just hit the market."

"The new Ben Franklin will have a wide assortment of merchandise arranged in displays which provide the greatest convenience to shoppers," he added. All articles will be within easy reach and clearly price-marked.

Complete lines will be offered in fashion accessories, lingerie, infants wear, domestics, notions, fabrics, housewares, hardware and electrical goods, stationery, toiletries, toys, hobby crafts, and candy.

Located close to plenty of free parking space, the store is comfortably air conditioned and is equipped with spacious aisles and modern lighting.

The McAdoo store is one of more than 2,200 independent variety stores which work cooperatively with Ben Franklin, a nationwide merchandising organization. The Ben Franklin program is designed to enable locally-owned stores to offer their customers a wide selection of quality merchandise with many outstanding values.

Explaining the operation in more detail, Mr. McAdoo said the Ben Franklin organization maintains a major distribution center in Dallas to speed merchandise to local stores. Ben Franklin buyers interview more than 10,000 salesmen annually and travel to all parts of the U. S. and many foreign countries visiting 2,500 factories and manufacturer's showrooms.

As one of the world's largest retailing organizations, Ben Franklin buyers make purchases in huge quantities enabling its franchised stores to offer many special values.

Backed by this large national organization, Ben Franklin comprises the largest group of variety stores in the country, McAdoo pointed out.

He added that the entire interior design of the new store was planned by Ben Franklin on the basis of scientific studies of merchandise displays, customer buying habits and trends in retailing. The new location was selected because of its closeness to other popular retail shopping facilities and to plenty of free parking space.

"We know Haskell families will enjoy shopping in pleasant modern surroundings and we hope they will give us their suggestions as to what they like in the way of merchandise and services in our locally owned and operated store. Through friendly and courteous service and by guaranteeing the quality of every product we sell, we want to make our Ben Franklin the most popular place to shop in the Haskell area."

were there and ready to go. Evidently the wind had changed and slowed the fire before the trucks got there—two from Leuders and one from Stamford also turned out—and the firemen were back home a little after 1 a. m., after extinguishing the blaze.

Range fires aren't the only thing to contend with, when gathering cattle for shipping. Cowboy crews have been working the past two weeks at Crooked River, on the gather. They hit the saddle at 4:30 each morning, and don't dismount till about 10 each night. They still have over a week to go, to comb all the pastures.

We go out about once a week to join the crews for a 'cowboy supper' and listen to the great stories they tell. One of the better ones—now that it's over and everything turned out O. K.—is on our old friend, Billie Thorp, of Throckmorton. She and husband, Buzzy, are helping with the gathering. Billie, an expert horsewoman who enjoys every aspect of ranching, brought her own horse, and makes a good 'hand'.

She was riding around a precarious, rocky ridge at the edge of a high bluff Monday when her cowpony slipped and fell, throwing Billie between two rocks, and falling on top of her. The rocks kept him off her, but her foot hung in the stirrup.

Now riding isn't the only sport Billie enjoys. Three winters ago we were going skiing at Ruidoso quite often, and she never missed a trip. Her skiing ended that year when she took a nasty fall, and broke a leg. It stayed in a cast well over six months, and finally healed. Wouldn't you know? It was THAT foot that hung in the stirrup. Had the horse felt the other way, they both would have gone down the canyon.

Rob and Buzzy, not 15 feet away at the top of the ridge, watched helplessly as her horse struggled for footing. If he jumped backward, he would drag her with him, and endanger her life, but ruin that leg for sure.

He didn't. He bolted forward as his feet hit the ground. Her foot slipped from the stirrup, and she climbed to the top of the ridge behind her horse. It ripped all the stitching on the left side of her boot; ripped the stirrup some; and Billie has quite a few black and blue marks. But it sure made her love that old cow pony more, if that's possible.

The worse thing that's happened to old Buzzy is getting a bumble bee in his hat.

But that's another story.

County Aids Flood Victims

The American Red Cross box score on June floods in the United States reveals a record of soggy and mangled homes, destruction and human misery seldom equalled in the nation's history.

More than 500,000 persons were affected by the disasters, most of them made homeless for a time, as the floods raged through hundreds of communities in 12 states, ranging from tropical storm Agnes' path up the east coast, to Rapid City, and the Black Hills area of South Dakota, the San Joaquin River Valley in California, the Scottsdale area in Arizona and numerous towns and villages along flooded rivers in Oregon, Washington and Alaska.

First Baptist To Show Film

For Pete's Sake!, a film credited as "unique in its capacity to reach out to meet the problems of people," will be shown on Wednesday, July 26, at First Baptist Church, Haskell.

The full-length comedy-drama, filmed in brilliant Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 7:30 p. m., and is open to the public at no admission charge.

Filed entirely on location in Denver and the Colorado Rockies, For Pete's Sake! is the story of Pete Harper, a family man and service station owner, who is knocked flat by unexpected problems, but finds the strength to stand up again, to face life anew.

For Pete's Sake! has been seen nationwide by over three million persons in theatre premieres, and has been cited by one film critic as "the perfect mixture—its drama at its boldest, comedy at its lightest, and action at its liveliest. For Pete's Sake! is a family film, not only because it is good family entertainment, but because through its storyline, families can see and feel exactly what is needed to develop deeper understanding and build stronger ties."

For Pete's Sake! stars Robert Sampson, who also starred in World Wide's The Restless Ones. Pippa Scott, as Pete's wife, Marge, is well-known for her Broadway appearances and numerous television roles. John Milford and Sam Groom are both familiar to television audiences.

Other featured players include Johnny Jensen as Pete's son, Irene Tedrow as Grandma Harper, and Nicolas Surroy as Skip, the leader of a motorcycle gang.

A cordial invitation is extended to all families of the community by First Baptist Church, who has made arrangements for this special showing of For Pete's Sake!

Red Cross surveys show that 110,325 homes were damaged or destroyed in the floods, the majority of them in the hard-hit sections of Pennsylvania, New York's southern tier, and the areas of Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, inundated by the heavy rains which accompanied Agnes up the Atlantic coast. Another 5,638 mobile homes were destroyed or badly damaged, and 1,104 farm buildings were lost or damaged, as were 4,986 small businesses, and 621 boats.

In one other largest disaster relief operations in three decades, thousands of Red Cross volunteers and disaster specialists worked around the clock, giving emergency mass care to 284,280 flood victims, housing them in schools, churches and other sturdy buildings on high ground.

Thousands of homeless persons are still being sheltered by the Red Cross in flooded sections of Pennsylvania and New York, and the Red Cross officials estimate that over 68,390 flood-affected families throughout the 12 states will require individual assistance from the organization in replacing clothing, household furnishings, obtaining minor home repairs, and in meeting medical and health needs.

Red Cross assistance is given to disaster victims as an outright gift without obligation to repay, and officials say Red Cross will spend more than $15,000,000 in aiding the victims of the June floods. The American Red Cross launched a nationwide disaster fund campaign for $10,000,000 on June 25, and some $6,000,000 has been contributed to date.

Haskell County Chapter sent Red Cross National Headquarters $113.00 to assist flood victims.

All 4-H members and leaders are invited to attend the day's activities.

Paint Creek Community News

Our Paint Creek farmers are growing faster than the tractors can run, even in third gear. The cotton is just beautiful, and if only we can plow up all the weeds before the rain, we can stay up with our farm! Bob Sego told me several years ago that he hung his water jug on the branch of a careless weed on his farm north of Haskell, and when he plowed the next round and went to get a drink, the weed had grown so that he couldn't reach the jug. I think our weeds are growing about that fast. But so is seed grass, and Johnson grass and those tall, dumb old weeds, but also, so is the cotton. After last year's crop was almost a complete flop, I guess it is time we had beautiful cotton. My farmers have been plowing from 12 to 14 hours a day, but they say the crops are so pretty, and the soil in the wheat fields is so mellow after it is plowed that one doesn't even get too tired.

Several Paint Creekers have beautiful gardens, and they have been sharing with their neighbors whose gardens didn't make it early and the re-planted ones are not made yet. The Bruce McCains have been selling beautiful tomatoes, okra and squash to the grocery stores and vegetable stands, and Herbert Fischer had some of the best corn I have tasted. Herman Henry has a wonderful garden with peas and corn and okra on his farm northwest of Haskell. He also had peaches and apricots that grew on the trees on the Dave Person's place, and we ate some of those. Leon Burson grew some roasting ears that were like those one sees in the seed catalogue. They were great, huge ears with even rows of kernels, and looked like they would win any county fair prize. They tasted like winners, too. This old West Texas country can really grow the fruit and vegetables when it has water.

Monday a week ago, the A. B. McLennan family had a family reunion at Stamford Park on Lake Stamford. Alan McLennan rented a cabin and those enjoying the day together were: Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McLennan, Ann McLennan of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schuchert, Robert Bruce and Jerry Allen of Stamford, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bruce McLennan, Gladstone McLennan, Vera McLennan, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bounds, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Sogerberg of Lueders, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McLennan and Karen of Midland, Gary McLennan of Denver, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Bolding and family of Stamford, Robert Ross of Artesia, N. M., and Nancy Fast, a student at ACC.

The twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffith will both teach next year. Brenda Griffith, soon to be Mrs. Reed, and a May graduate from H-SU, will teach Kindergarten at Woodson in Abilene. She did her practice teaching at Wood-

Mrs. Gene Overton and it is always a compliment for a teacher to be elected to the school in which she did her practice teaching. Linda Griffith Sanders will receive her degree from Texas Tech in August; she will teach Math at Ropesville. Their brother, Jimmy Griffith, will continue his studies at the Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.

Mrs. Paul Fischer and her brothers, Alton and Willie Peiser, were in Rockdale last Wednesday for the funeral of their uncle, Alfred Gerstenberger. Mr. Gerstenberger died at his home in Houston and was buried at Rockdale. His wife was the sister of the late Mr. Albert Peiser.

Debbie Wells attended Methodist intermediate camp at Ceta Canyon week before last.

The Boyd Cathey's home was robbed of several electrical appliances, some blankets, sheets, linens, some dishes, a small T.V. set, and several other items they didn't enumerate to me. Sheriff Garth Garrett is investigating. That is the fourth robbery in the community in the past year in which a house was ransacked. Some of the items belonged to the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Montgomery and were of more sentimental than monetary value. I hope they find them.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fischer and Mrs. Bertha Humphry had supper with the Gene Fischer family Monday evening and helped celebrate Mrs. Gene Fischer's birthday.

Kitchen Shower Fetes Miss Burson

Miss Kathy Burson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Burson, Jr., was honored with a kitchen shower in the home of Mrs. Melvin Norman, July 14.

Miss Burson is the bride-elect of Johnny Dregoo, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dregoo of Wichita Falls.

Yellow and white daisies centered a polished wood table. Yellow and white serving pieces and napkins completed the serving arrangements to carry out the bride-elect's chosen color theme.

About 25 friends attended to watch Kathy open gifts. Refreshments were served by hostesses, Mrs. Leon Burson, Mrs. Gerald Fincher and Mrs. Norman.

AN ORDINANCE FIXING AND DETERMINING THE GENERAL SERVICE RATE TO BE CHARGED FOR SALES OF NATURAL GAS TO RESIDENTIAL AND COMMERCIAL CONSUMERS WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS OF HASKELL, HASKELL COUNTY, TEXAS, AND PROVIDING FOR THE MANNER IN WHICH SUCH RATE MAY BE CHANGED, ADJUSTED AND AMENDED. BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF HASKELL, TEXAS:

SECTION 1. Effective with the first gas bills rendered from and after thirty (30) days from the date of final passage of this ordinance, the maximum general service rate for sales of natural gas rendered to residential and commercial consumers within the city limits of Haskell by Lone Star Gas Company, a Texas corporation, its successors and assigns, is hereby fixed and determined as follows:

- First 1,000 cu. ft. or fraction thereof $2.44 Gross; $2.20 Net
- Next 3,000 cu. ft. @ $1.278 per Mef Gross; $1.15 per Mef Net
- Next 6,000 cu. ft. @ 1.156 per Mef Gross; $1.04 per Mef Net
- Next 15,000 cu. ft. @ 1.056 per Mef Gross; .95 per Mef Net
- Next 75,000 cu. ft. @ 1.000 per Mef Gross; .90 per Mef Net
- All over 100,000 cu. ft. @ .956 per Mef Gross; .86 per Mef Net

No gas bill will be rendered to any residential or commercial consumer served under the above rate not consuming any gas during any monthly billing period.

ADJUSTMENTS

The amount of each net monthly bill computed at the above-stated rates shall be subject to the following adjustments: Plus or minus the amount of any increase or decrease, respectively, above or below the 42.5 cents per Mef level in the intracompany city gate charge as authorized by the Railroad Commission of the State of Texas or other regulatory body having jurisdiction for gas delivered to Lone Star Gas Company's distribution system for sale to residential and commercial consumers where such changes are caused by increases or decreases in the cost of gas purchased by the Company; plus an amount equivalent to the proportionate part of any new tax, or increased tax, or any other governmental imposition, rental, fee or charge (except state, county, city and special district ad valorem taxes and taxes on net income) levied, assessed or imposed subsequent to April 1, 1972, upon or allocable to the Company's distribution operations, by any new or amended law, ordinance or contract. Each gross monthly bill shall be adjusted proportionately. Company, at its option, may forego the application of any adjustment if such adjustment would result in an increase in the monthly bill; however, failure of Company to apply any adjustment shall not constitute a waiver of Company's right from time to time, or at any time, to make any adjustment, in whole or in part, in any subsequent current monthly bill that may be applicable to such bill.

Net rate shall apply to all bills paid within ten days from monthly billing date; gross rate shall be applicable thereafter.

The above rate is applicable to each residential and commercial consumer per meter per month or for any part of a month for which gas is used at the same location.

In addition to the aforesaid rates, Company shall have the right to collect such reasonable charges as are necessary to conduct its business and to carry out its reasonable rules and regulations in effect.

SECTION 2. The rate set forth in Section 1 may be changed and amended by either the City or Company furnishing gas in the manner provided by law. Service hereunder is subject to the orders of regulatory bodies having jurisdiction, and to the Company's Rules and Regulations currently on file in the Company's office.

SECTION 3. It is hereby found and determined that the meeting at which this ordinance is passed is open to the public, as required by Texas law, and that advance public notice of the time, place and purpose of said meeting was given, and that this rate ordinance is in compliance with the applicable general criteria issued by the Price Commission under the Economic Stabilization Act of 1970, as amended.

New President Presides At Rotary Meeting

The Haskell Rotary Club members and guests met at the City Cafe at noon July 6, with new president, Bob Philpot, presiding.

Invocation for the meeting was given by Bob Beauchamp and the song session conducted by Bob Herren with club pianist Gail Barnett providing the accompaniment.

Guests introduced by R. C. Couch Jr. included Tommy McAdams, head football coach of the Haskell Indians and Jay Gipson, son of J. B. Gipson of Haskell, who is parts manager for the Bill Wilson Ford Motor Company of Snyder.

Program chairman for the day, Rev. H. O. Abbott, used his allotted time to tell those in attendance of the proposed Community Revival to be held in Haskell during the month of October this year. He stressed that the opinions of both Pastors and laymen was that such a meeting would be good for the community and that one had not been held since the late 1920's. Evangelist Ed Robb will conduct the preaching services for the meeting and the music will be under the leadership of Bobby and Jean Moore. All three will be remembered from the Revival held by the First Methodist Church some three years ago and it is expected that large crowds representing all churches will be in attendance. A planning session will be held July 23rd to finalize plans for the community revival, and he urged that all church leaders be present.

Rotarian Abbott used the latter part of his time to tell about the forthcoming Airport Dedication scheduled to be held here on July 16 at which time a full days program will be staged for visiting pilots and local people. The day's activities will begin with a fly-in breakfast sponsored by the Haskell Jaycees and a noon barbecue at which time officials expect to host 1,000 visitors and guests. A highly entertaining program is already complete for the afternoon activities to include parachute jumpers who will perform the celebrated "Flag Jump" and other daredevil stunts for the benefit of the visitors. Also, stunt flying is on the program as well as precision landing and bombing runs for local and visiting pilots.

VISITORS

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hilliard last week were their daughter and granddaughters, Mrs. Gary Shaw, Dawn Lencie, and Karen Mitchell, while Mr. Shaw attended annual summer camp at North Ft. Hood.

Haskell Boy Scout Troop 36 has just returned from their annual trek to Camp Tonkawa for summer camp. The boys attending from Haskell were John Cox, Steven Drinnon, Pace O'Neal, Sam Watson, Chris Love, Timmy Rodella, David Huss, Jimmy Browning, Chris Colbert, Joseph McCoy, and Robert Browning. They were joined July 9th by Joe Kennedy, Clint Cook and Don Jones from Aspermont who had made previous arrangements to camp with Haskell's troop as they had no complete troop from Aspermont at camp. Jimmy Browning Sr. was acting scoutmaster for the week. Going down for several nights of camp were Darrell Smith and Tommy Watson.

While at camp the boys worked on individual ranks and merits and moved rapidly up the ladder of scouting. Troop 36 did very well for the week, bringing home many honors. They were voted "Troop of the Week" for keeping the best camp and being the best all-around scouts and campers. Individual scout honors went to Chris Love who was voted "Scout of the Week" for his friendliness and helpful attitude toward all scouts at camp. Timmy Rodella received the "Most Improved Swimmer" Award and Jimmy Browning earned "Marksman of the Week" for shooting the highest score on the rifle range.

The week's activities were climaxed by a family picnic supper and an Order of the Arrow ceremony. Steven Drinnon, an OA, well-portrayed a "dead cavalry man" on the silent walk up the hill for the impressive Indian ceremony. After opening the ceremony with a welcome, Ed Burnham, camp director, asked for all heads to be bowed in silent prayer in memory of Mark Medford and Walton Wooten, the two members of Troop 36 who have died in the past year. He commented that they as scouts, had attended Camp Tonkawa and were also members of the Order of the Arrow, an honor group of scouts selected and nominated for their ability in exemplifying the principle of Scouting. Tapped out for inclusion in the OA Order were scouts Jimmy Browning, David Huss, Chris Colbert and Jimmy Browning Sr. who will undergo initiation for OA at a later date.

Fifty-Five Attend Patterson Reunion

July 16 the Patterson families met at the Corral Building in Haskell for their annual reunion. After a bountiful lunch and lots of visiting, a business meeting was held.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Federal Government has money to burn—really it does! Oftentimes visitors to Washington are shown a small spiral of whitish smoke coming from a small stack in the center of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. They are told that it comes from the burning of old worn out bills. Actually, old currency is burned at each of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks and not returned to its source of printing for destruction as is usually supposed.

Since the country has become so environmentally conscious, other methods of doing away with unusable paper money are being investigated.

Federal Reserve Banks are now beginning to grind up cash since the cities where they are located have anti-burning laws and, where enforced, are causing problems. Treasury officials say that grinding is the only way they know of to dispose of old dollars. This, however, has its problems also. It is simply what to do with the fine, light green fluff left after it is pulverized.

One idea is to recycle it into stationery. This has been ruled out because of secret service regulations. They say someone might get the idea that because the special type of paper is fortified with the tiniest of filament it could possibly be used to reconstruct the bills for the benefit of counterfeiters.

The Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas is reported to have come up with a customer for ground-up greenbacks for a price of $10 a ton. In that form, of course, it would make no difference whether it was a George Washington $1.00 bill or a Grover Cleveland $1,000.00 bill—the intrinsic value would be the same.

Thus far only one sales outlet has been developed to buy the finely chopped up cash. This customer is a well-drilling company in Kansas.

The David Mud and Chemical Company is experimenting with using ground-up currency, turned into a thick slush, as mud in well-drilling process. Another idea not yet tested to the extent of approval, is converting the old greenbacks into a roofing material. Off-hand one would suppose that there would not be a supply adequate for commercial use but 2,500 tons a year could cover quite a few roofs and mud-seal quite a few wells. Incidentally, this amount destroyed represents about 2 Billion Federal Reserve notes with a face value of about $12 Billion. This statistic doesn't particularly mean anything except that to make a pun—it could become quite a slush

The Dallas Federal Reserve Bank is the only one of the 12 Reserve Banks now grinding, but in the next few months, the banks at Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Minneapolis will shift from burning to this method of disposal.

If our government continues to crank out more money, there will probably be more to dispose of as time goes on. At most, the individual's worn out bills are replaced by new bills printed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing here in Washington located at 14th and Independence Avenue and on it here and take it away down the street at 12th and there." Advertising doesn't cost . . . It Pays!

Special Session Report

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following report on the special session of the Legislature was received this week from Haskell's State Rep. Renal Rossen. We reprint it to better inform our readers on the processes of our Legislature.

goes through to enact an appropriations bill in a special session, and attend other pressing matters during this final session.)

The session came to a close Friday night, July 7, 1972, at 8:00 p. m., following three weeks of intensive work on budget matters. We were able to pass an appropriations bill with adequate financing and without additional taxes being levied. This has been my goal for sometime.

The session was more intensive for some members than for others but being one of the newly appointed members to the House Appropriations Committee it was most interesting and challenging for me. Under the joint rules the House Appropriations Committee meets jointly with the Senate Finance Committee for all hearings on budget requests.

Budget matters were the only legislation considered during the session with the exception of a few resolutions since the Governor did not choose to open the special session for other bills. Some of us were particularly concerned about revising the so-called trailer brake and light measure passed during the last regular session. I was one of the 30 members in the House that voted against this trailer bill during the regular session but seeing its ill and damaging effects on our agricultural programs, I was most concerned and hoped to tackle a rewriting of it during this special session. Gov. Smith had so many requests on other bills apparently he thought it would deter consideration of budget matters to also be considering such other proposals at the same time. Some of us also had a bill in for consideration to remove by statute the flight schools and instructors from being subject to the provisions of the Proprietary School Act. This latter matter was of major state concern and needed to be taken up for early consideration. There were also many local bills on which members desired to have hearings. Of course, a thirty (30) day special session does not give much time for full and proper public notice and hearings on a host of matters of statewide concern.

We did have a rather unusual work schedule for the House of Representatives in that on Saturday prior to July 4th the appropriations bill was laid out for consideration. The House leadership as well as most of the members desired to hear and fully debate the appropriations bill prior to the July 4th holiday, and this Saturday was the earliest date possible to hear and consider it. Under our new reform rules an appropriations bill must be laid on each member's desk for study at least 72 hours prior to a hearing on it. This session lasted until 3:45 a. m. Sunday morning but this did give some members of the legislature an opportunity to be home for the July 4th activities.

There were approximately 96 amendments offered to the bill on the House floor with nearly one-half of them being adopted by the House membership; however, a good number of such floor amendments were taken off in the conference committee most of which were not acceptable to the Senate conferees not to most of us of the West Texas delegation.

During the House hearing on the appropriations bill, debate was long and sometimes heated (covering from 10:00 a. m. on Saturday until 3:45 a. m. Sunday morning) covering issues all the way from elimination of funding for the Federal-State meat inspection laws, expansion of bi-lingual education program, and an anti-busing program as well as additional spending programs in general peculiar to certain areas and other matters.

Many of the issues heard during debate involved the urban versus rural point of view, and again it emphasizes how finely balanced the line is in the present House of Representatives, with the balance of weight already being to the urban areas but with a much stronger swing of weight to the larger cities in the next session as a result of redistricting. About 14 seats now held by members considered rural will shift to the urban areas in 1973 as a result of the population shifts which are reflected in 1971 redistricting lines. An example of the shifting of legislative seats is seen most prominently in the Houston area where only 10 or 12 years ago they had ten House members and only one senator and in 1973 will have 24 of the 150 House seats and control of five of the 31 senators. Incidentally, we consider Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Abilene, San Angelo, Midland and Odessa part of the rural representation.

A typical example of the rural-city conflict in views came late in the night (or early Sunday morning), when debate was being heard on the appropriations for the A&M University extension service programs and a member proposed an amendment to take one-half of the funds from the predator animal control funds and transfer it to the rodent control funds in which cities are the primary beneficiary. The Appropriations chairman was about to accept the amendment on voice vote, not knowing the full extent of our predator problem when I along with Rep. Baker of Fort Stockton and others from the rural area rose to oppose any move to divert predator funds. We had so little time that our effort fell short by four votes; however, on Monday, July 3rd, after the situation had been explained to members of the conference committee, we were able to get the funds restored to the predator control program. The urban people were also able to secure some additional funds for fighting rats.

Of course there are voting exceptions but the urban areas are not as likely to vote together consistently as rural members. Some rural members occasionally vote with the city boys as a matter of principle, and vice versa. Sometimes the rural viewpoint gets a boost from the big city press, such as a Dallas News editorial recently pointing out the interest big city folks have in the farm-to-market road program.

With each redistricting of the legislature we must recognize the added responsibility facing our rural membership. The recently enacted rules allowing limited seniority to members could be one of our better weapons in view of the fact that rural members seem to serve for longer periods generally than members from larger cities. There will be 20 new members from Houston serving for their first time in January, 1973 of the total membership of 24 from there.

It appears that it would be proper to say that for us it looks like a hard fight with a short stick, but we can only hope that our urban friends will understand and be receptive to our problems.

News From

BUSY BEE CLUB

Members of Busy Bee Club met in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church in a called meeting, July 13. Mrs. M. L. Powell, vice president, presided. She welcomed guests and introduced Mrs. J. B. Lawson who presented the program on Hawaii. Pictures and craft work were on display. Mrs. Lawson's talk was very informative.

Mrs. Lawson commented that we, as a nation, should be proud to have Hawaii as our 50th state. It is one of the most conservative concerning the preservation of beauty of the islands. You see no billboards, only beautiful trees, shrubs and flowers. The islands of Kauai, Maui and Hawaii have rigid building codes, limiting the number of stores high a building may be constructed. Only on the island of Oahu (Honolulu) do you see skyscrapers. The Hawaiians run Texans a close second in friendliness and hospitality. Another beauty about the island is almost total lack of littering. They saw only a few cans, paper and etc. and these no doubt were left by tourists.

Serving as hostess for the meeting were Mmes. M. L. Powell, Ollis Macon and H. H. Hines.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hines visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hutto of Tulsa and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gammel of Clovis, N. M. They attended the production, "Texas" at Palo Duro Canyon and saw part of the performance before being rained out.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McKimm and children of Arlington visited last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Grice.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hertel, Karla, Vicki and Mike, of Stamford and Mrs. J. B. Lawson of Rule, have returned home from vacationing in New Mexico and Colorado. They visited Royal Gorge, Pike's Peak, Garden of the Gods, Cliff Dwellings and museums in Manitou Springs, also Santa Fe, Mexico, and Santa Rosa and Glorieta, New Mexico.

Mrs. Ronald Hillard and Jarred of Crosbyton are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Rex Murray and Ed.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Gibson and children from McAllen, visited last Thursday with Mrs. Ada Williamson.

Mr. George Martin of Midland, visited his mother, Mrs. J. B. Lawson, last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Morgan have returned home after attending the state convention in Dallas of the veterans of World War I and then vacationing in Ruidoso, N. M. Accompanying them on the trip was Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Morgan of Brownwood and A. M. (Buck) Morgan of Grand Prairie.
