Indians Meet Eastland Friday

The Indian coaching staff was very pleased with the performance at the scrimmage game in Colorado City last Friday. Much improvement could be seen throughout the scrimmage.

Frank Paul Jircek received a knee injury and it is doubtful that he will start this Friday against the Eastland Mavericks. The coaches were happy with the performance of the team and were very proud of the play of several individuals. Philip Josselet and Ricky Phemister did fine jobs on offense. Jody Mickler, Danny Smith and David Dodson made fine showings in the blocking department. Bobby Cobb and Kenny Ivey both did fine jobs throwing the ball and leading the team overall.

Haskell moved the ball fairly good throughout the scrimmage and looked like a different team on the defensive side of the slate. After a showing against Cohoma that the coaches were not at all pleased with the Indians made marked advances in almost every department.

Coach Ray Sefcik said, "We (the coaches) were pleased with the performance of the boys, but there is still much room for improvement."

Charles Alexander and Ruben Martinez both saw action in the place of injured Jircek.

The Eastland team is big and experienced, and with a backfield that averages over 190 pounds, Friday night's game should be quite a battle. During the past three seasons the Indians have only a tie (1969, 14-14) and have lost twice (1970, 26-13, and 1971, 22-6).

The game beginning at 8:00 p. m. in Eastland will officially open the 1972 football season and all Indian fans are urged to make the trip and boost the Indians to our first victory of the year.

Cotton Crop Above Average

By Don Comedy
Outlook for the second cotton crop of 1972 is very good but unless several things change, farmers may have a problem selling cotton at an adequate price.

Of the approximate 120,000 acres of cotton in Haskell County, the current outlook is that the crop will be above average. Root rot damage has been reported from over 50% of the county and boll weevils are fairly heavy in the western part of the county. County Agent Max Stapleton said, "Even with the problems we now have with insects and root rot, this year's crop should still be very good."

Cotton buyers are worried that little demand on foreign or domestic markets will result in very low prices. During the past three weeks, No. 2 cotton futures on the New York Exchange have dropped $1.15 to $2.25 per bale. Contract buyers in this area purchased about 10,000 acres of cotton at 28 cents per pound early in the summer and are now predicting that this will be the highest price paid this year.

Japan and several other countries that have in the past purchased much of the cotton exported from the U. S. have purchased cotton from Brazil and Pakistan. Canadian buyers that have in the past purchased Texas cotton have shown little interest in this year's crop. Buyers and shippers are now looking at the cotton situation with caution and will not consider making any predictions about prices until after harvest begins.

According to Stapleton, rains of up to 3 1/2 inches in some parts of the county should not hurt the cotton crop and will definitely help winter grain.

Some shippers have predicted that between 25 and 30% of this year's crop will go into government loans.

A large percentage of domestic mills have begun using synthetic fabrics almost entirely and with recent legislation regarding the fireproofing of children's clothing, there will probably be more of a change in this direction. Cost of fireproofing of synthetic fabrics is about 1 1/2 that of cotton. Research is now being done on cotton and unless a cheaper method of fireproofing is discovered, a drastic change in demand will result in lower prices.

R. L. Stephenson, local buyer, said there is less demand this year for cotton than any of the 32 years he has been in the business.

Golfers Tie In Wet Tourney

Despite rains of over three inches, area golfers paused only to wipe water off club faces and golf balls and turned in very good scores at the Country Club's best ball tournament held over the Labor Day weekend.

The championship flight of the tournament ended in a tie and both teams agreed to share the title without a play-off. J.

B. Tabor and Jim Attaway tied with Jeff Graham and Dr. L. Wilson at 11 under par with a 131.

Winner of the first flight was the team of Jack Medford and Max Johnson, with 137. Second flight winners were Carden and Pope with a 148.

Twenty-one teams from the Haskell area entered the tournament and competed for prizes of $150 of golf merchandise in each flight.

Amendments

(Editor's Note: This is the 5th in a series of articles to be published by the Free Press to give voters an explanation and analysis of amendments to be voted on in the November 7th General Election. Also included will be arguments both for and against the amendments.)

AMENDMENT NO. 6

This amendment would add a new subsection to the constitution to allow political subdivisions of the state to exempt not less than $3,000 of the value of residence homesteads of all persons 65 years of age or older from all ad valorem taxes levied by the political subdivision.

ARGUMENTS

FOR: Ad valorem tax is the basic form of taxation which counties, cities, towns, school districts, and other political subdivisions depend upon for revenue, and the largest taxes on real estate are levied for local purposes by local governments. Therefore, the present homestead exemption does not grant any of the relief needed from the most burdensome ad valorem tax existing in Texas today.

Texas has a long history of protecting the homestead. The senior citizen who lives on a fixed income is hurt by inflation and needs the protection and relief which the proposed amendment would allow.

The proposed amendment protects the local government and its creditors by granting the option of allowing or not allowing the exemption and by authorizing taxing officers of the political subdivision to continue collecting the tax against the homestead if it has been pledged for the payment of a debt and is needed to prevent the impairment of that obligation. AGAINST: The reduction of tax revenues of city, school, and other taxing districts could handicap the political subdivision in performing essential functions and services.

A basic concept in Texas law demands that property taxes shall be equal and uniform, with all property taxed in proportion to its value. Special tax treatment for one age group would be inequitable and discriminatory and result in shifting a greater tax burden to all the age groups which are not granted such exemptions.

Social security, retirement, and welfare programs of today so assist those over 65 that the need for further protection of the homestead is consequently diminished.

AMENDMENT NO. 7

The proposed amendment adds a new section to the Bill of Rights in the Texas Constitution. The Texas Constitution does not expressly prohibit discrimination because of race, color, creed, or national origin. On adoption, the amendment increases the constitutional guaranty of equal rights to all persons by prohibiting this discrimination.

FOR: The protection afforded by constitutional guarantees is more effective than statutory prohibitions and the repeal or amendment of discriminatory statutes. Victims of discrimination need the right to use the judicial process to challenge the constitutionality of discriminatory legislation.

Discrimination exists in many fields, and only a comprehensive equal rights amendment can change completely the status quo.

AGAINST: The proposed amendment is not necessary because discriminatory laws now existing may be repealed by statute.

Adoption of the proposed amendment could result in confusion and litigation as to the meaning of "discrimination."

rain-Rain-RAIN

And the rains came down... this has been the story for the last week all over Haskell County with reports of over six inches in parts of the county. General rains fell throughout the county but amounts varied from just over two inches in the southwestern part of the county to over six inches in the city of Haskell.

Dove hunters managed several hunts between the rains and almost all hunters managed to get the limit of 10 birds per day. According to Jackie

12 States Attend Jaycee Rest Stop

Approximately 200 people representing 12 states stopped at the Jaycees Rest Stop during the Labor Day weekend. This was the twelfth consecutive Rest Stop the Jaycees held in Haskell.

Jaycees throughout the U. S. participate in the annual project each Labor Day in an effort to avoid highway accidents caused by tired motorists.

Project chairman Wayne Young and co-chairman Ray Howell both said they were pleased with the turn out of the project and were impressed with the number of out-of-state travelers during the weekend.

States represented at the Rest Stop included: California, Arizona, Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, Missouri, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Utah, Wisconsin and Texas.

Both Young and Howell said they wished to express their thanks to the following firms for donations and help in making the project a success:

M-System Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Holden-McCauley Funeral Home, Buster's Drive-In Grocery, Haskell Fire Dept., Bartley's Grocery, City of Haskell, Pogue Grocery, West Texas Utilities and South Side Grocery.

Young, Game Management Officer, the most common offense was shooting from public roads... which he said was caused by difficulty to travel to some parts of the county.

Haskell received rain August 31, 2.50 (downtown); Sept. 1, 1.57; Sept. 2, .05; Sept. 3, .24; Sept. 4, 1.74; total, 6.10 inches.

Thursday afternoon the fire department received two calls of fires started by lightning east of town. Both fires were rained out shortly after the fire department arrived.

For the first time in several months the total rainfall is over the average. Rains this week brought the total to 1.46 inches over the average for this time of year.

Become A Scout September 7

All boys between the ages of 8 and 18 and their parents are invited to attend a school night for scouting, September 7, in the Elementary School cafeteria.

The school night is programmed to provide information about scouting on all levels as well as providing a location for potential scouts and cub scouts to register in the scouting program.

Bob Philpot will coordinate the school and will have scout units and leaders available to give specific information about their respective units.

Cub Scouts meet each week under the direction of a Den Leader and undergo the necessary training to become a Boy Scout.

In addition to regular meetings the Boy Scouts go on hikes and overnight campsouts. Both troops attended the Council Camp, Camp Tonkawa, during the 1972 camping season.

New Pastor At Central Baptist

Rev. Robert G. Wood has accepted the pastorate of the Central Baptist Church, North 3rd and Avenue C, Haskell.

He and his wife, Irene, have moved here from California where both were very active in the work of the Baptist Missionary Association. Besides his pastorate, Rev. Wood was vice president of the State of California B.M.A., Chairman of the Missionary Committee; Chairman of the Publications Committee; Secretary of the Mid-State Association and Advisor to several Auxiliaries. He also led in the organization of the California Baptist Youth for Christ. Mrs. Wood had been President of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the B.M.A. of California for the past two years. She led in the organization of the Girls Missionary Auxiliary throughout the State of California. Now that they are in Texas, they expect to work just as hard in this State.

The pastor is a native of Waxahachie and his wife is a native of Corsicana. They have three married daughters and nine grandchildren. Both hold degrees from the Sacramento Baptist College and the American Divinity School. He is also a graduate of the Sacramento Baptist Theological Seminary and has attended graduate school at the Chapman College of Orange, Calif.

Mrs. Wood has been very successful in her development of "Children's Church" and some day plans to write a book on the subject.

Wichita Man To Seek 30th Dist. Committee Post

L. H. (Butch) McCullough, Wichita Falls oil operator, is following through on the announcement made at the June Democratic State Convention in San Antonio, when he met delegates and announced that he will seek the office of Democratic State Committeeman from the 30th Senatorial District. This will be voted on by alternates and delegates to the Governors Convention in Houston on Sept. 18-19.

"I feel that my life-long active service for the Democratic party of Texas and my dedication to the Democratic ticket shows my capability and willingness to serve in this important post."

McCullough, age 56, is a lifelong Wichitan whose father, the late Everett McCullough, was equally dedicated in his political work. McCullough has served as precinct chairman of the two precincts he has lived in for the last 16 years, and is a director of Southwest National Bank in Wichita Falls. He adds:

"This post is so important that I want to acquire as much understanding with as many party workers in the many counties of this west Texas district as is possible."

McCullough feels that he has a great deal of time and experience to bring to the various Texas campaigns, expressing a special interest in those of Dolph Briscoe and of Graham Purcell. Purcell has been restricted to contest Republican Bob Price and is in a hot race.

Annual Roundup Slated

It hasn't been too many years ago that cattle herds thundered across the plains of Texas. Each fall, a modern-day cattle drive winds its way to Abilene, Texas, from every part of the Lone Star State. This particular roundup is unique in that crippled children and adults are benefitted. The 12th annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, a major source of income for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene, has been hailed by the nation's press as "an event unique in concept among humanitarian philanthropies... an annual expression of the compassionate concern of the southwest's leading ranchmen and stockmen for the handicapped and disabled."

Since its inception in the fall of 1959, the annual Round-Up has raised in excess of a million dollars to enable the West Texas Rehabilitation Center to carry on one of the most extensive diagnostic and rehabilitative programs in the world.

Since it first opened its doors to the handicapped August 15, 1953, the Center, a private, non-profit institution, has extended a helping hand to almost 20,000 handicapped persons regardless of race, creed, color, geographical residence, or ability to pay.

Hollywood personality, Rex Allen, one of the Center's long-time friends, describes it as "a symbol of the America that I know and love."

Traditionally, the West Texas Rehabilitation Center has depended upon the support of a grass roots cross section of the people of the southwest.

The West Texas Rehabilitation Center stands as a tribute to the compassion of the southwestern, and tells the world that the spirit of the "barn-raising" of yesteryear is very much alive today.

The sale of cattle is set for September 25, with the sale of horses, sheep, and goats scheduled for early October. Anyone wishing to donate livestock may contact James Powell or Pete Burkhalter at Haskell Livestock Auction. All livestock will be transported free of charge.

 "As it looks from here" OMAR BURLISON
 Congressman 17th District

or it's either too hot; we are always wanting what is not." It was meant to suggest that some people constantly complain and are never happy with anything.

In this political year, the weather might be about the most uncontroversial subject. On the other hand, there is always a good chance of finding argument, even about the weather. Jokingly some people will say "Send us a rain from Washington." Actually it is fortunate for the Country that the weather is a product of natural forces or sublime direction rather than the work of a committee of Congress. If the Congress should engage in arguments over whether we should have dry weather, wet weather, partly cloudy or clear, some member would opt for something else and maybe unintentionally bring a tornado or a hurricane in some part of the Country other than that which he represents. There would be the difference in those parts of the Country favoring crops and that part favoring grazing or forestry, or that part which irrigates or non-irrigates. Then there would always be the danger of a filibuster in the Senate resulting in no weather at all. There would always be the politician getting out a press release claiming credit for rain which had fallen on the just and un-just alike. Doubtless the umbrella people would take a hand in lobbying for certain kinds of weather as well as other producers of products such as galoshes for wet snow.

Except for the experts about all most of us know about the weather is that actually Mark Twain was not the originator of "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it." Some of us through the years have attributed this line to Mark Twain but now it seems to have been observed by Charles Warner who wrote in the Hartford, Connecticut Courant in 1890.

Most weather experts seem to have a sense of humor about their predictions although some no doubt take their prognostications most seriously. This is not to disparage these specialists and their instruments, but old farmers, mountaineers and sailors have been pretty dependable for a long time. Only trouble is they are pretty hard to find these days. They study the sky for a moment or two, check the direction of the wind with a saliva-moistened finger, and make some pretty accurate predictions.

A skepticism developed within some of us during World War II when the predictions of military weather experts were seldom correct. Of course, this might be applied to about any other kind of prediction — it's just more noticeable about the weather.

High, Owner—"When You Think of Prescriptions, Think of Oates"—Ph. 864-2515-864-2815

everything was water-logged, including him.

He was asked why the weather all over the world had gone so berserk in the last several months. There have been floods in the New Braunfels area, West Virginia, South Dakota and Hurricane Agnes flooding Virginia, District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland. (The flood at Snyder had not yet occurred.) Then there were floods in Japan, the Philippines, and it seems about every other place except the Sahara. Cap'n Bill responded that the weather was not the only thing that's crazy. He says the whole dang world is and that it all started in 1957 when the Russians punctured the invisible sack around the earth with Sputnik. He says it's no wonder we have floods, tornadoes, landslides, earthquakes, hippies, zippies, crime, dope and all the other loony carrin's-on.

As for whether the weather will ever stop misbehaving, Cap'n Bill said, "Can't tell. Mother Nature don't like being fooled and she ain't one to forget anytime soon."

A new radar weather station at the Municipal Midland-Odessa Airport was dedicated last week. As soon as funds can be secured, a major Weather Bureau station will be installed at Clark Field in Stephenville.

With due respect for Cap'n Bill's proclivities, weather service for West Texas should be greatly improved with these new installations.

Jehovah Witnesses To Hold Meetings

J. M. Winn, presiding minister of the Haskell congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today the group will be hosting Circuit Supervisor R. J. Schlegel, during the week of Sept. 5-10. The sessions will be held at 1413 N. Ave. J.

This special week of activity will begin Tuesday with a 7:25 p. m. model Theocratic Ministry School. Men, women and children of all ages are enrolled in the school which features a progressive development of speaking for the congregation. Each week assigned students prepare and deliver short Bible talks and model door-to-door sermons. Students develop two or three elements of good public speaking practices in each assignment. The school conductor counsels each student on his progress toward becoming a better minister and public speaker.

Neal had his win from the 20 yard line and for his efforts he received a new 870 T. B. trap gun with a 34" vented rib barrel.

Neal, shooting a 93, bested his closest competitors by two targets. Ken Hill of Odessa, Roger Wilde and James Skinner, both of Wichita Falls, all shot 91x100 to tie for second place.

The 93 Neal had was the highest score he has ever shot from the 16 yard line or in the Handicap event. The 25 straight on the third trap was also a first for the Lubbock shooter.

The dove hunt held immediately following the trap shoot was a huge success with 28 hunters killing over 250 dove. The day ended with a dove fry and all the trimmings.

ART DIVISIONS

Mrs. Oleta Baird, superintendent of the art division of the county fair, has reminded everyone interested in the art portion of the fair that there will be three divisions this year, professional, amateur, and children and teenage. Complete rules are listed in the Fair catalog which may be picked up at the Free Press free of charge.

Pencils, protractors, rulers, posterboard, MARKS-A-LOT in six colors, all for the school student, available at HASKELL Free Press

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Howeth, Sr. had as guests in their home last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomasson Jr. of Dallas, Miss Beatrix Mobley, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Howeth Jr. and son, Chris, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mobley of Haskell. They all enjoyed a fish fry Sunday afternoon.

By far the biggest exhibit and sale of cowboy art in the Southwest this year is scheduled for the weekend of Sept. 30-Oct. 1 in the restored ranchhouse of the 80-year-old O. S. Ranch, 13 miles southeast of Post, Texas.

Some 30 well-known cowboy and western artists will exhibit their drawings, paintings and sculpture with commissions from the sales going to help support 72 "hardluck" boys at West Texas Boys Ranch near San Angelo.

Cowboy art—the depicting of cowboys, horses, cattle, and Indians in action—has its collectors all across the nation. A large number of them are expected to attend this unusual benefit show because except for the Cowboy Artists of America annual exhibit in Oklahoma City, no other exhibit this year will attract such a field of nationally known artists. They include almost all the winners of the 1972 Cowboy Artists of America competition.

Invitations to the art exhibit and sale are being sent galleries and collectors of cowboy and western art across the western half of the nation. This unusual exhibit is being offered in conjunction with the O. S. Ranch Benefit Steer Roping the same weekend at the same ranch location in which 32 of the country's top professional steer ropers, including eight world champions, will rope on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 1, for a cash jackpot of $15,000.

Jim Prather, who operates the O. S. Ranch and is a professional steer roper himself, inaugurated the benefit steer roping last fall as a fund raiser for West Texas Boys Ranch. He is adding the benefit art exhibit this fall.

Tom Ryan of Lubbock, well-known cowboy artist, heads the art exhibit planning committee and secured the large participating list of fellow artists.

Probably over a quarter million dollars worth of cowboy and western art will be offered for exhibit and sale. An 84-page high quality catalog for the O. S. Ranch Benefit Steer Roping and Art Exhibit has been published for sale to those who attend the two benefit events.

It contains a page devoted to each participating artist and roper with picture of the participant, and unusual word sketch of him, together with a picture of one of his works, if an artist, or an action shot of him if a roper.

The catalog also contains articles and historic pictures of Post, Garza County, and the O. S. Ranch, as well as an article on West Texas Boys Ranch.

The 72 boys who live at West Texas Boys Ranch will be guests in Post homes for the big benefit weekend and will help with the big "all you can eat" beef barbecue to be served at the ranch both days.

Treasury Warns Against Use Of Savings Bonds In Chain - Letters

Jesse L. Adams, acting national director, U. S. Savings Bonds Division, Department of the Treasury, today cautioned residents of Texas about becoming involved in chain-letter or similar schemes "to get rich" with Savings Bonds.

Many years' experience with chain schemes indicate that most participants lost their entire investment, according to Mr. Adams. This outcome is inevitable because the supply of interested persons is soon exhausted. The greater the amount to be invested, the sooner the saturation point is reached.

Federal law, the Treasury believes that the public should be made aware that such schemes—which are essentially get-rich-quick endeavors—do a distinct disservice to the Savings Bonds Program. Rather than encouraging persons to make genuine investments, they create the illusion that participants are both aiding their Government and themselves. Even in the rare case where an individual receives a large return, it is likely that he would quickly redeem the Bonds, thereby placing a further burden on the Treasury.

Individuals who purchase Savings Bonds for such chain-letter schemes, and who discover that participation may violate certain laws and regulations, may request a refund, using Treasury Form PD-1266—provided they have the Bonds in their possession. This form is available at many banks; it may also be requested from Bureau of the Public Debt, Division of Loans and Currency, 536 South Clark St., Chicago, Illinois 60605.

Banks and other issuing agencies are therefore authorized by the Treasury to refuse applications for Bonds where there is a reason to believe they will be used in a chain-letter scheme.

Chain-letter schemes which use the mails to facilitate their purpose are considered by the Postal Service as a violation of the postal lottery and fraud laws—18 USC 1302, 1341.

Further, postal officials have warned that, even though the lists of participants are not circulated in the mails, this does not alter the illegality of the operation since, usually, the Bonds or other evidence of participation in the schemes are mailed. There is also the possibility that the scheme may violate local anti-lottery laws, even if the mails are not used in any way.

In addition to the fact that chain-letter schemes violate

Photography Helps 4-H's, Now, Later

SPECIAL - Kids in 4-H "learn by doing". And in 4-H photography projects, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, 100,000 young people are busy learning how to put it all together in an acceptable picture.

With an assist from the Eastman Kodak Company, national sponsor, the young photographers learn from their mistakes as well as their successes.

Michael Warren, of Roseboro, N.C., was one of the six national $1,000 scholarship winners in the 1971 4-H photography program. Michael recalls the first picture he ever took.

"My first picture was of my parents. I had them change their clothes and fix their hair and then I snapped away. When the picture was developed all I had was a photograph of their legs and feet. But at least it was a clear picture of their feet", he remarked.

Today young Warren is the official photographer for his church.

Mark Malstaff, another national 4-H photography winner last year, profited from his success in the program. At age 19, he operates his own photography business, in St. Joseph County, Ind., where he takes pictures of everything from weddings to sports events.

4-H's in the photography program continue their interest even after they leave 4-H. Eastman Kodak found in a study of former 4-H photography winners that even though the young people were now in college, careers, or the service, all kept a continuing interest in photography.

A 1965 national winner

summed it up for all 4-H's in the photography program this way: "It is a medium that enables me to communicate the emotional essence of my ideas. In fact, photography is not just a hobby or a professional tool, but an extension of the communication facilities of the mind."

Incentive and recognition awards are offered to 4-H's who participate in the 4-H photography program. Four medals of honor are given to county winners. State winners receive an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30, and six $1,000 scholarships are given to national winners in the program, by Eastman Kodak.

For more information on the 4-H photography program contact your county extension office.

OUTDOORS -IN- TEXAS

Early Warning of Storm
Anytime you go boating, even for a short period of time, take along a small radio. Pocket-size will do.

Follow this habit, despite the fact that you will boat in an area with which you are thoroughly familiar, and you plan a strictly, pleasure-boat ride.

Make it a must to take along a radio anytime you dedicate a day to fishing—and definitely if you're planning to be out all night.

Why drag along a radio when you're going outdoors primarily to get away from things?

Well, one reason is that the radio could be worth its weight in gold, to you. A radio is fine for entertainment—but its wonderful as a weather indicator.

A weather indicator? No station broadcasts weather warning all day long!

Maybe not, but the static you complain about, is in many cases advance warning of an approaching storm. There are other reasons for static, too, but those loud flashing, sputtering, heavy blasts of ear-splitting static reflect lightning in the area.

Static Is Your Cue
Not all static is indicative of a storm. Some comes from nearby electric transmission lines or faulty or ungrounded electrical equipment in operation. But sudden bursts of static are warning signs. A radio reacts to lightning long before you can see flashes.

To you who are afloat, loud static is a warning to "look for storm clouds." As the static gets louder and more frequent it's admonishing you to up anchor, get moving and head for shore.

Many of us get so engrossed in our fishing that we are not very observing of what's happening about us.

Any storm can be dangerous, but if it's coming from the direction you have to travel, it's doubly dangerous. In that event, you're not racing with it but against it. And one thing for sure is—you can't outrun a 30-mile wind backed by a heavy rain and still drive the boat safely.

So, start early, be extremely careful on the way back—and tie down securely in your dock or on your trailer.

There's nothing safer than shore when you're in a heavy thunderstorm, unless it's inside a solidly built weatherproof structure.

Above all, don't gather under a tree. It's the most unsafe place to be in a thunderstorm.

SHERMAN'S FLOORS & INTERIORS

Keep Horses Off Sorghum

Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, warns horse owners to keep their animals off of sorghum-sudan pastures due to a disease called "sorghum cystitis." Freshly cut sorghum-sudan hay will also bring on the condition.

Armstrong points out that all horses may be affected but that the condition appears to be more serious in younger animals. A number of cases have been reported recently by Dr. William Romane who heads up the large animal clinic at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine.

"The first signs usually are incoordination of the rear legs," Armstrong explains. "In about half the horses observed this was followed by involuntary discharge of urine. Thus, mares may show hair loss on the inner part of the hind legs due to urine scalding. Geldings may have a loss of hair on the belly. In either case, the urine drip may be continuous and may become intense if the horse moves suddenly. The condition may also cause mares to abort."

Sorghum cystitis occurs most frequently during times of medium to high rainfall, usually from June to November, points out the veterinarian. It occurs mainly when horses feed on fast fresh growth of sorghum-sudan hybrids, sorghum grazer and Johnsongrass. Uncured or improperly cured hay from these grasses also causes the illness. However, horses eating well-cured hay from these three forages have not been affected, also, no cases have been reported after the first frost.

"There is no cure for the condition once the horse has it," emphasizes Armstrong. "Several treatments have been used with little success. However when affected animals are removed from the pasture and fed a balanced ration, they usually improved somewhat."

The urine discharge and incoordination have been observed in some horses for as long as three years, he notes.

advent of the soils were premeated with roots, and the surface was covered by a combination of living and dead vegetation. Rains falling on absorptive, protected soils, were rapidly absorbed, with little flash runoff occurring. Erosion was limited to a slow harmless rate, the kind known as "geological erosion."

The accelerated erosion now so apparent on the agricultural lands of the nation is the result of removing the protective cover, and letting the rich, ab-sorptive soils deteriorate. Rains falling on unprotected surfaces detach soil particles and the runoff waters carry them away. The organic matter content, soil structure, and the physical condition of the soil in general, declines, often at a rapid rate, when land use is changed from grass production to cultivated crop production. This process of deterioration is rather rapid in the dryland farming areas. Due to climatic and other factors, a good soil condition is more difficult to maintain in soils used for dryland farming, especially in the more arid farming sections. The lowering of the physical condition of the soil along with cropping and use systems that leave insufficient cover on the surface of the soil during much of the year has created conditions of soil instability conducive to movement by the forces of the winds. Conservation of our agricultural lands must be based on the principles of keeping a cover on the surface, and keeping our soils in good physical condition. While it is not possible to completely restore the original vegetation and maintain the nation's agricultural economy, measures taken to conserve soil, water and plants must be based, as far as possible, on nature's own methods of soil defense.

The agronomic practices, or phase, of the soil, water and plant conservation program, are all based on the principle of keeping a cover on the land as much of the time as possible, and keeping or maintaining the soil in an absorptive, good physical condition. They are effective only to the extent that they achieve these principles.

Dechant expressed support for wage and price freeze in meeting with President but deplored the lack of controls on interest rates, profits, the 10% surtax increases farm machinery prices and will possibly hurt our foreign trade. He said that farm profits must be the first segment allowed to rise due to the low-inflation ratio since the depression in the '30's.

Requested restoration of a 10% investment tax credit to be applicable to both used and new equipment up to $25,000.00.

TFU—requested program changes for 1972 for feed grain and cotton. Feed proposals were a corn loan of 1.35 per bushel (Grain Sorghum comparable) and diversion with payment, three year storage under loan with these stocks not released at less than 100% of parity.

Recommended 11.5 million acre pay base, 10% mandatory free set-aside and an additional 10% of the cotton allotment diverted at a payment of at least one pound. Asked that Secretary use his broad powers to set the cotton loan at a minimum of at least 24c per pound.

Supported legislation for rural development. Bill would reorganize the FHA to strengthen its loan and grant programs to farmers.

Succeeded in getting a hearing on cuts made by the Administration in the lunch program. Program provides cheap balanced meal for low-income children and uses up surplus, price-depressing commodities.

Here's to Your Health
The fungus of "athlete's foot" is widespread in locker rooms. But the danger of contracting the infection is almost nil if the skin of your feet is healthy and unbroken. Blisters open the door to athlete's foot, as does scraped skin. Avoid blisters and damaged skin and you usually avoid the lingering infection of athlete's foot. It is best to avoid places of likely infection until the blisters and scrapes are thoroughly healed.

The final step toward eradication of the screwworm in Texas has been taken. An agreement between Mexico and the United States was signed recently which will result in a cooperative effort to eradicate the screwworm in Mexico.

It will involve holding a sterile screwworm fly factory off the Isthmus of Tehuantepec in Mexico. Production from this plant and from the fly factory at Mission will be used to wipe out the pest in Mexico.

Livestock producers in Texas are urged to continue to check their livestock regularly, treat wounds on livestock for screwworm control, and continue to submit suspected samples to the fly laboratory at Mission.

Eradication officials say plans are being made now to combat the screwworm next year.

Haskell Rotary Club members and guests met at the City Cafe at noon, August 31st, with president Bob Philpot presiding for the luncheon.

The highlight of the singing session was when Rotarian Gaines Post sang a verse of "Home On The Range" in Latin.

An excellent attendance was noted with 31 present and only three absent. Last week there were nine absent but everyone made up at one of the Rotary Clubs in neighboring towns, and thus a 100% attendance was noted for last week.

Desmond Dulaney, program chairman for the day, turned the program over to Abe Turner who is the scout leader for the Rotary Club sponsored troop. He introduced a frequent guest of the Haskell Club, Bob Harris, Boy Scout Executive of the Chisholm Trail Scouts, Lynn Yantie, who took the allotted time to explain some of the work of the Boy Scouts of America and some of the changes which had recently been made in scouting. The Boy Scouts just celebrated their 62nd anniversary.

Mr. Yantis paid tribute to Abe Turner who has devoted quite a number of years to Scouting.

The invocation for the meeting was given by Rotarian Ira Hester and the songs led by Rev. H. O. Abbott with Rene Abbott playing accompaniment on the piano.
