Chamber Hears Project Reports

Officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce met at Felker's Restaurant at 7 a. m., Tuesday, August 3, with president Elbert Johnson, presiding for the business session.

The meeting was opened by a prayer by director Bob Philpot, after which Manager Rex Felker read the minutes of the last meeting and presented the financial statement for the month of July for the Civic Organization.

Tom Watson, director, gave a report on the Miller's Creek Water Project. Mr. Watson had attended a recent meeting of the Water Board and brought those present up-to-date on the delays and current problems incurred due to Federal regulations but was confident that some work on the project would be realized during the month of September.

Mrs. W. V. Felker, chamber membership chairman, reported that a concentrated drive for new members would be instituted within the near future and presented a unique honorary membership plan. After discussion by board members it was voted to put the new plan into effect by September 1st of this year. She explained that the current membership of the chamber of commerce, by being careful of expenditures, was ample to pay the set expenses of operating a chamber of commerce but practically nothing was left over to spend on worthwhile projects that are constantly coming up.

Director Frances Lane reported on the work being done by the Progressive Study Club toward cleaning up the city of Haskell and explained some of the various things which civic clubs were doing to aid in this work. She asked the chamber of commerce to be responsible for redecorating the windows of what vacant buildings are around the square to make the downtown section more attractive.

It was the opinion of the board of directors that the twice monthly meeting should be resumed in September after cancelling the mid-month meeting during the summer months.

Present for the meeting were Elbert Johnson, Bob Philpot, Sue Fincher, Odell Bynum, Frances Lane, Mattie Muriel Felker, Darold Roberson, Geo. Fouts, Tom Watson, Bob Beauchamp, Doyle High, Mayor H. V. Woodard, Edith Wheatley, Charles McCauley, Bill Comedy and manager Rex Felker.

The recent Senate Bill 27, amending section 2.09 of the Texas Education Code is now in effect and requires that all children entering Texas elementary or secondary schools or institutions of higher education must have been immunized against six diseases: diphtheria, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles, rubella and smallpox. The law states that "the State Department of Health shall provide the required immunization to children in areas where no local provision exists to provide these services."

All students will be allowed to enter their respective school systems during the summer and fall 1971 terms, with the provision that their immunization against at least one of the aforementioned diseases will have been started by January 1, 1972, and all completed as soon as medically feasible.

According to Mrs. Elizabeth Acree, Haskell County School nurse, students in Haskell County will be required to have records for each child and to complete these records by January 1, 1972.

An immunization clinic is provided at the Community Action building in Haskell the first Saturday in each month from 2 until 4 p. m. where all these required immunizations may be received free from the State—these first Saturday clinics for Health Department. These recorded immunization records will be sent to your respective schools. Mrs. Acree, school nurse, highly recommends that each family take advantage of these free immunizations.

Welcomed Rains Fall In County

Rainfall for the month of July was below normal in Haskell, as has been the "sad story" for all of the seven months of 1971, but with rain falling the last days of July and August 1st, it appears the drought may yet be broken.

A report from Sam Herren, "The Weatherman," revealed that precipitation for the month of July was 2.18 inches, while normal rainfall for the month is 2.38 inches.

Normal rainfall to date is 14.31 inches; however, only 8.63 inches has fallen in Haskell through July, according to "Mr. Sam's" records.

This is how the rains came during July: July 2, .41; July 4, .01; July 20, .01; July 21, .11; July 23, .18; July 24, .19; July 27, .08; July 30, 1.19. Total, 2.18.

The clouds cleared away Saturday, but moved back-in, Sunday, and slow, soil-soaking rains began falling again early Sunday morning, with Haskell receiving another .53 of an inch; Rule, .50; Weinert, .40; Rochester, .20; Paint Creek, 1.00.

Several communities in the county gauged "good rains" during July, but was still spotted.

A low of .59 degrees was registered on July 31. Highest reading of the month was on July 5th, when the temperature climbed to 103.

From last Thursday's, Friday's and Sunday's rainfall, Haskell received a total of 1.72; Rule, 1.60; Weinert, 1.30; Rochester, .70.

JUNIOR GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS TOUR OUTSTANDING GARDENS

The Junior Garden Club met Tuesday afternoon, July 27th, and toured some of the outstanding gardens in Haskell.

First on the agenda was the Depot Museum, which was landscaped by the Haskell Garden Club, with Sears grant money.

The weeping willow tree and many shrubs died during the drought, but will be replaced by blooming willows, vitex and other drought resistant plants. The Junior club girls watered the flower beds and planted zinnias for fall colors.

The Cliff Dummans' dahlia garden between Haskell and Weirnet was visited. The dahlias were in full bud and bloom and seemed to thrive despite the drought and hot sunshine. This is due to the six-inch hay mulch which Mr. Dummans uses to protect them. The girls also enjoyed the greenhouse where begonias and succulents grow luxuriantly.

The greenhouse of Mr. Carl Anderson, North First, was visited next. Of particular interest were the hanging baskets and the method used in lining the baskets with sphagnum moss. The girls were interested in the tall succulent plants of the Kalanchoe genus.

The seeds grow on the edge of the leaves. This fascinated the girls.

Randell's Gift Shop (North First) garden is a beautiful sight where flowers and veg-tables grow in abundance. Mrs. O. E. Linton and son run the shop and tend the garden in their spare time.

Mrs. Linton's pride and joy is the windmill which pumps the water for the lush growth of cannas, roses, verbenas, vegetables, vitex and willow trees. Mrs. Linton uses lots of compost which she makes.

The garden of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wyche, 1303 N. Ave. F, is a "conservation garden," according to Mrs. Wyche.

Plants that do not require much water are used in the hot, dry spots. There is a tropical bed of cannas and a banana plant where they get rainfall from the roof. Evergreen shrubs, holly pittosporium, magnolia, abelia and nandinas are used across the front for winter color. Ivy and vinca are used as ground cover under trees. In the back garden there are berried shrubs, small pool, and bird feeder for bird sanctuary. Fruit trees, plum, peach, fig, persimmon, pear, pecan trees, grape and berry vines thrive and furnish food for canning and freezing.

The Junior Garden Club noted two new members, Rhonda Bryan and Teresa Jenkins. Refreshments were served.

Haskell Rolls Out The Red Carpet For State Farmers Union Officials

Haskell rolled out the "red carpet" last Thursday afternoon for a "get-acquainted reception" held in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank, honoring Jay Naman, Texas Farmers Union State President.

Other state officials of the organization attending were Joe Rankin, State Vice-President; Foy Mitchell, District Director and Kenneth Moss, State Director.

Approximately 50 farmers, their wives and guests were present for the reception.

Discussion from the floor was centered around cotton legislature in general. Also included were points on labor; Bracero legislation, new trailer regulations; Farmers Union Youth Camps, and Farmers Union President's Council.

Highlights concerning the local organization were on membership, revealing the present membership stands at 50 above this time in 1970. Statewide Farmers Union is 1,000 more than the same date last year. Farmers Union anticipates its membership at 10,000 in the state by the end of the current year.

Special recognition was given guests and new Farmers Union members.

Miles Brown, father of Lee Brown, was the recipient of a new tire as door prize. Wallace Wooten is the new agent for Farmers Union tires.

Willard Mullins, president of the Haskell County Farmers Union, stated he was well pleased with the good attendance.

Dr. William J. Kemp Speaks To Rotarians

Dr. William J. Kemp, of Haskell, who is currently serving as president of the State Board of Dental Examiners, was the guest speaker at last Thursday's noon-day luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club. Rex Felker was program chairman for the day.

Dr. Kemp explained some of the functions of the State Board which is composed of six members who are directly appointed by the Governor of Texas. In an informal and interesting manner, he presented an educational program which was well received.

"Contrary to some people's thinking, Dr. Kemp said: "The function of the state board is for your protection instead of the profession." He stated, "In May and June of this year we gave examinations to 300 students and out of that number only eleven were not accepted, but they will have the opportunity at a later date to take the examination again."

"Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida are considered the "Green" states where many new dentists want to locate for practice, and as we have a most efficient Association in these states we must be doubly careful in the selection of dentists from other states in order to keep it that way," the speaker said.

"Of the forty six dental Universities in the United States, Texas has three, and of the forty-six total, forty-two of them are very fine schools, but four could be considered more or less a diploma factory and some of the graduates are not capable." "Really," he added, "there is not a shortage of dentists overall, but the fact that the families of some of the graduates will not live in a small town, where in many cases they could do better than in the cities where competition is rougher, seems to be the cause of what some consider a shortage."

Dr. Kemp received his degrees at the University of Texas and the University of Missouri at Kansas City.

President C. A. Thomas Jr., presided over the meeting. Invocation was voiced by Andy Anderson, and the song session was led by Rev. H. O. Abbott. Bob Carson of Fort Worth was noted as a guest.

The Progressive Study Club has the entire plan almost outlined and ready for action. The Haskell Garden Club always works diligently to keep our town beautiful. The same holds true of B&PW Club and Magazine Club. Our City and County officials concentrate their efforts constantly along these lines. Our business men's clubs do the same. So, half the work is already underway. It's just a matter now of getting the entire work coordinated into one giant effort to make Haskell one of the most beautiful towns in Texas.

We here at the Free Press are ready to help however we can. Are you?

Haskell Survey Completed By Nancy Toliver

Mrs. Bailey (Nancy) Toliver will receive her Master of Education degree with a major in the field of guidance and counseling from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene on August 13.

At the same time Nancy took this schooling she has worked on completing requirements to receive certification in the field of special education.

As partial fulfillment of the course requirements of education courses at H-SU, Nancy has done a Community Occupational Survey of the city of Haskell. Bound for practical use by the school system and the Chamber of Commerce, the study is possibly the most detailed, complete, and comprehensive study of Haskell ever made.

Thanks to business owner's cooperation in filling out questionnaires for Nancy and returning them to her in time for compilation and review in her study, she has completed one of the best resource materials ever available for the city.

Employment and its requirements and the needs of the community are factually graphed and summarized.

Recommendations on the study are also included in it, and from a fast scanning of the involved materials, it is plain to see that it can be used in many ways by business people, and prospective business people in Haskell.

bock; and Mrs. Billy (Scarlet) Baxter of Weinert.

The four sons are: Oman Travis, Cross Plains; Andrew Newton, Mesquite; Jacky Wayne, Irving; and Rocky Dalton of Grand Prairie.

Mrs. Sanders is the former Sallie Edna Alexander, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander of Weinert. Jacky's parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanders of Gorman.

She was "sixteen going on seventeen" and he was "seventeen going on eighteen" when he left a crop he had started in Erath County to marry the dark-eyed girl he wanted for his wife.

Married at five minutes before 12 p. m., August 7, 1921, in Weinert, by the late Judd Frost, Baptist minister, the couple lived a few years in a covered wagon and have lived most of the fifty years in and around Weinert where they raised their eleven children.

Both have worked at several jobs, pulling cotton, hoeing cotton, road construction, farming and for the past several years have been self employed buying and selling produce.

Members of the Weinert Foursquare Church, they have 25 grandchildren and one great granddaughter.

Friends of the family are all welcome and invited to attend the reception celebration.

Cattleman's "Round-Up"

The original Cattleman's Round-Up for crippled children which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Abilene, will kick-off its twelfth annual Round-Up this month, according to James Powell of Haskell, area chairman.

The Round-Up operates in many different phases. The next three phases will be the Cattle Sale on Sept. 27, at the Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Auction in Abilene; the Horse Sale on October 2, at Abilene Livestock Auction; and the Sheep and Goat Sale on October 11 at the Coleman Livestock Auction.

The Center's 1971 operating budget is $426,000. Operation of the Round-Up is the result of ranchers and stockmen picking out a calf or a pen of calves or some other livestock and pledging them to the Round-Up.

Powell said that area chairmen will contact the ranchers and farmers and make arrangements for transportation to the sale. Each animal is sold under the donor's name. The results not only help many handicapped people, but it is also good public relations for the donor. Animals expected will be from top bulls from the Southwest's leading ranches to baby calves and lambs.

Rains Up Prices At Haskell Mart

The market at Haskell Livestock Auction was higher on most classes due to the good rains in the area on a run of an estimated 49 head of cattle and 195 hogs at their sale Saturday, according to James Powell, market reporter.

Packer cows were $1 higher with stockers running $12 higher. Feeders were steady to 50c higher. Barrows sold $20-30 a pair higher.

PAINT CREEK NEWS

By Mrs. Gene Overton

Paint Creek community looks like a garden. Maybe a weedy garden, but it is so nice to see everything so green. The rains came gently all last week, and even all day Sunday. It couldn't have fallen at a better time for most farmers, nor have been more badly needed. We were beginning to think we might be beginning another long drouth. Instead it was only a short one. Some maize may not make it, and some farmers never did get a good stand of cotton, but

Indians Go Down Fighting At Regional

The Haskell Indians, champions of the Cotton Belt League, managed by Sgt. Frank Jirek and coached by Buford Cox and James Davis went down fighting at the regional playoffs at Brownwood.

The Indians won the first game of the series, defeating Brownwood 4 to 3. Walter Hargrove was the winning pitcher. In the second game, Sweetwater edged the Indians 3-0, which left Haskell with a 1-1 record in the series. Charlie Leib was the losing pitcher.

The Indians faced their last opponent on Friday night and lost to Brownwood 4-3. This left Haskell 1-2 in the series and thus were eliminated. Sidney Heirman was the losing pitcher.

Sgt. Frank Jirek said, "they were all very good games and Haskell could not get men out, but just couldn't move them around the bases."

Warriors Win Two; Lose Two At Regional

The Haskell Warriors, winners of the Southern Cotton Belt Junior League, won two games and lost two in the regional play-offs, at Snyder last week. "Skip" Lane and Jack Medford coach the Warriors.

In the first game, Colorado City downed the Warriors, 2-0. The losing pitcher, Robin Medford struck out 1, and the relief pitcher for the locals, Freddie Mesias struck-out 6. The winning pitcher for Colorado City, Clayton Salmon, struck-out 5.

The second game of the series, Haskell won over Rotan, 4 to 3. Winning pitcher was Roy Lee Riley. Haskell slammed 5 hits and Rotan, 6. Vann was on the mound for Rotan.

Haskell topped Snyder 5-2 in the third game. Winning pitcher was Salvador Sosa. Roy Lewis was the losing pitcher. Haskell had 7 hits to Snyder's 3.

In the fourth and final game, Colorado City eked out a 6 to 5 win over the Warriors. Haskell slugged-out 8 hits to Colorado City's 6. Losing pitcher was F. Masias, and Warren the loser.

Foursquare Church, Weinert Slates Revival

Joe Nay, of Arlington, Texas, will be ministering each evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Weinert Foursquare Church, beginning August 8 and continuing through August 15.

A graduate of North Texas State Teachers College, Mr. Nay was in the business world for many years. Enrolling in a seminary he entered full-time ministry.

Less than two years ago Nay had his own personal Pentecost, a common experience that the Christians had in the first century. Nay contends Pentecost is an experience and not a denomination. Through his ministry he is helping to spread and speed the Charismatic renewal in the Church and to answer questions concerning glossolalia with the Word of God.

The weekly newspaper ever get much reading did a little sleep, and found Prattler has been nights trying to group I come to the article, the of sleepers is ex- the man who a- chickens, and re- early hour. hours approach. I have already heard the expression, "the early bird gets the worm." What I want to know, however, is what does the worm get?

The second group of sleepers include those who hate to get out of bed in the morning and like to stay up late at night. After worrying through a couple of sleepless nights wondering if I come under this group... I eliminated myself from that bunch. In the first place, a small-town newspaper editor has to stay up late at night, either covering some story or meeting, or worrying about the deadline. On the other hand, whether I hate to or not, I have to get out of the sack early each morning... to keep the wolf from the door, but despite the fact I get up at 6:00 a. m., or before, the wolf, who must never sleep, is already at the door.

After thinking it over and losing more sleep, I have decided that I might fit into the category of the third type of sleeper, who by the way, the article points out, is eratically geared, and at times may be able to assume the characteristics of the "early birds" and also "night owls," but usually have no set pattern. These are the ones, so says the article who sometimes never go to bed at all.

Prattler believes the writer of the health article should have included a fourth type of sleeper... for instance, the "I wonder if I locked the door, turned down the furnace or air-conditioner, put the cat out, wound the clock, etc."

The health article said that the inability to fall asleep, or to sleep throughout the night is usually the problem of the adult... oh, yeah! It is rare

CONSERVATION VIEW POINTS

J. C. YEARY, JR.
District Conservationist

Your local Soil Conservation Service Office received this week copies of a "Guide to Federal Emergency Drouth Help Available in Texas." This publication was prepared by the Federal Interagency Drouth Committee located in Dallas.

The pamphlet is designed especially for the Southwest farmer, rancher, and businessman to direct them to the assistance our Federal Government can provide those affected by the prolonged dry spell.

It is a directory of the many aids now being administered by the several federal agencies

Small Towns Being Threatened

(Reprinted from Texas Farmers Union News)

The Postal Rate Commission to turn down a proposed increase in second class postal rates.

Dr. Weldon V. Barton, assistant national legislative director of the Farmers Union said in testimony before the Commission that increasing second class postal rates would threaten the existence of small town newspapers. But in addition, he said, it would also combine with other forces working to stagnate rural America.

Loss of weekly newspapers and other printed information sources that move through the mails "would serve to drag down and frustrate efforts to upgrade health, transportation, employment, education, and other activities essential for rural revitalization," Barton said.

Dr. Barton stated, "Farmers Union is concerned that its membership and rural people generally are able to receive magazines newspapers, and other printed sources of information through the mail at reasonable costs to them. There is a distinct possibility that many weekly newspapers serving primarily rural areas will be forced out of business if the full rate increases are implemented as proposed."

Jay Naman, president of the Texas Farmers Union, said in Waco that the rural people of Texas have an important stake in maintaining a strong rural press. He said, "We see blocking this effort to increase second class postal rates as an essential aspect of our effort in behalf of rural development."

Prattler could inform the writer of the article on "sleep" that counting sheep doesn't seem to help, either. Delving further into the subject, I found out that the lack of sleep at times is not injurious to one's health... but worrying about it is. I already knew the latter part of that statement was correct... and that's what worries me... the fact I do worry about it.

Oh, well goodnight and pleasant nightmares!

need. In addition the program is changing constantly to take account of changing situations in the drouth area. If you are interested in securing a copy of the pamphlet, you may pick up one from Max Stapleton or Mrs. Barbara Elliott, County Extension Agents; Wm. L. Feemster, Haskell County Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service; and from the Soil Conservation Service. At the regular monthly meeting of the California Creek Soil and Water Conservation Earles of Paint Creek, Vice-Chairman; Elmer H. Boedeker of Sager-ton, Secretary; John R. Brown, Jr. of Anson, and Olin Amer-son of Hamlin. What many do not know is that the meetings of the Board are open to the public and all are invited to attend. The Board meets on the 4th Monday each month at 2:00 p. m. at Stamford City Hall.

Bill Wilson Motor Oldest Car Dealer In This Area

Bill Wilson Motor Company in Haskell has the distinction of being the oldest automobile business in this section of West Texas. J. B. Gipson, General Manager of the dealership located at 209 S. Avenue E, has been associated with the company since 1945.

The company's sole function to its customers of the Big Country is to offer them the biggest stock of beautiful new Ford cars and pickups to choose from that it is possible to keep on hand. They keep their parts and service department so up-to-date and functional that repairs and new parts may be supplied fast and efficiently, so that their customers may have a minimum time loss on these items.

For these two very good reasons there are 18 employees, including the manager, and assistant manager W. D. Larned, always at the service of the customers. Delight Jones serves the company as office manager. Her assistant is Sara Hodge. Sammy Larned and Charles Langford operate the sales dept., while John Watson, Jr. and Jackie Daniels are in charge of the parts department. In the service department you'll find Tommy Watson, Bill Shaw, Charlie Woods, Harmon Mathis, Jerry Briscoe, Max McMeans, Mac Rodriguez, Sam Rodriguez, Trinidad Rodriguez and L. C. Whitaker.

All these employees are trained in their respective jobs by Ford Motor Company so that the services they render will stand up to the high standards set by Ford for its dealerships. In the parts and service departments, the men are brought up-to-date constantly on new innovations, more efficient and longer-lasting tune ups and repairs, schooled on new requirements of the automobile industry, and trained yearly to handle the new models as they are changed and improved. It is a constant challenge to the mechanics, and to the company, to improve their knowledge of their product. Bill Wilson Motor Company employees accept this challenge and continue in the service

Their Business Is Building Supplies
At Brazelton Lbr.

Headquarters for all building supply needs, Brazelton Lumber is one of the oldest business establishments in Haskell.
Desmond Dulaney, manager of the business for the past eleven years, has been with the company for 29 years, and knows the building needs of his hometown. He is assisted by Adrian Marshall, who has been with the company five years, and served with the local yard as assistant manager for the past three years.

Quality lumber in carload lots is on the yard at all times so that orders can be filled fast and efficiently. The company works closely with building contractors, carpenters, painters, tile men, or any builder who needs supplies for a job, right down to the do-it-yourself handyman around the house. When advice is needed on constructing a new room or garage, or the right kind of paint for the right job, the folks at Brazelton Lumber are at your service. It's their business to give you the best advice, and to supply the best supplies for the job, at the lowest possible prices.

Their wide stock of Jones-Blair Paints are all color-coordinated and color charted so that decisions on colors for your home are a pleasure, not a chore.

Too, they stock everything from door frames to cabinet pulls to finish off a complete and finish; beautiful lines of pre-finished paneling; and ev-ter needs — it's all stocked at the yard, or available in a very short time from their affiliated yards. This fast service has been available to their customers in the Big Country for many years, and has built the company to its present status.

Competitive prices are always on the stock at Brazelton Lumber, and everyone in this trade area is invited to compare those prices. Only in quantity buying can this be accomplished, and that's why you find such a big stock always on hand. It's the best way they have of giving you the lowest possible price on quality merchandise.

Marshall, and Brian Dulaney who works at the yard during the summer months, invite you to stop in and visit with them.

High Probability That Draft Calls Will Resume In The Near Future

Selective Service System Executive Secretary, Mrs. Mae L. Dunwoody, who manages Anson's local board, says the current Congressional impasse over extending the induction authority has created great uncertainty among area draft-age men.

Mrs. Dunwoody continues, "Selective Service Director Curtis Tarr has recently stressed the importance of explaining to our draft-age men the high probability that draft calls will resume in the near future and that the current impasse in the Congress is not likely to affect any registrant's chance of being drafted."

"Our local board has been specifically instructed to continue to register and classify men, and to order for pre-induction physical examination those young men who may be needed to fill draft calls in the coming months," Mrs. Dunwoody said.

Men with lottery numbers through 125 were eligible for induction in June in order to fill draft calls. Since then, the Defense Department has asked Selective Service to draft 16,000 men in July-August. This request is being held by Selective Service Headquarters pending final Congressional action on the draft bill, which is expected within several weeks.

"Those young men with relatively low lottery numbers who are eligible for induction this year, particularly those with numbers below 175—the current processing ceiling—have a very good chance of being processed for induction after draft calls are restored," Mrs. Dunwoody said.

"Many young men," said Mrs. Dunwoody, "seem to think that the Selective Service Act has permanently expired and that they probably will never be drafted. Some of them also think that the entire system has stopped. They are wrong, since it is only the induction authority that has expired. They, therefore, may be unintentionally breaking the law by failing to register at age 18, by not keeping their local boards informed of their current address, or by failing to report, if ordered, for their pre-induction physical examinations."

Mrs. Dunwoody also stressed that local boards are continuing to consider CO, hardship, and student deferments and to take other classification actions. "Young men who had planned to submit requests for deferments or exemptions are encouraged to do so," Mrs. Dunwoody said. "The expiration of the induction authority does not affect our responsibility to classify young men," Mrs. Dunwoody added.

Mrs. Dunwoody may be contacted at 1220 S. Commercial, the office of Local Board No. 77, Anson.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

It's not any news to Texans that folks in Texas are different and that the laws may also be different. There are still a lot of Texans around that don't know about the effect of the Texas Community Property Law on their Federal income tax. Retired Texans can often get a substantial tax saving through having a double retirement income credit on their tax return. On the other hand they may also lose their retirement income credit through the community half of the income earned by their spouse. You can get Publication 555 from Internal Revenue Service office. This publication tells you how community property affects you.

West Texas Sheet Metal Co Invites Your Business

Doing quality general sheet metal work is an art—an art that takes years of training and a lot of knowledge. This training and knowledge is available to people of the Big Country at West Texas Sheet Metal Company, located on the Stamford Highway in Haskell.

Established in 1945 by H. H. Fancher, it was leased by his brother, A. O. (Al) in 1949. Al and his wife have run the business since that time.

One look into their big, roomy sheet metal shop shows the customer the involved process of getting sheet metal into the shapes and sizes needed on this special order work. Art installs air conditioners and ducts, does all kinds of pipe work for cotton gins, and does combine and cotton stripper repair work. West Texas Sheet Metal offers pick-up and delivery service to its customers and a quick call will get repair work picked-up, repaired and returned to service, fast.

Sheet metal work can branch out into many unusual special orders, such as barbecue pits, fish fryers, or any type metal work for the home or garden. It's a varied business that entails special plans and designs in many areas, and can be done in most cases exactly to fit the need involved.

WEST TEXAS SHEET METAL COMPANY, operated by Al Fancher, is well-equipped to build any item you can design in sheet metal. He custom-makes your order to fit the purpose, and also builds fish fryers, barbecue pits, etc., as well as installing air conditioner ducting, and doing custom work for gins. Stop in next time you're in town and look over the shop.

Because the sheet metal company has been in Haskell for so long, it is well known by all residents of the Big Country, and is called on from many of the surrounding towns, as far away as Colorado City.

Once a customer sees the professional work turned out here, he comes back again and again, whenever another need arises.

All Fancher invites anyone in need of any type sheet metal work to call 864-3210, and West Texas Sheet Metal Company will be happy to take care of those needs.
