Plans are now being carried out in the long awaited beginning of proposed Haskell Memorial Civic Center.

R. C. Couch Jr., president of the Memorial Civic Center organization, announced to the General Assembly Saturday, October 24, of Homecomers that a state charter is in the process of being obtained to make the Civic Center Fund a non-profit organization. Couch also made the beginning contribution to the Fund with a $1,000 donation from himself and his sisters.

The proposed Civic Center is to house a museum, an auditorium (approximately 800 seating capacity), a banquet area that would hold between 500 and 600 people, and complete kitchen facilities.

Several sites have been suggested for the Center, but until the charter is approved and definite plans made, the particular land site will not be selected.

Couch pointed out that actually an Auditorium Fund had already begun in Haskell. Each year the proceeds from the Miss Hey Day festivities go into an Auditorium Fund.

The state charter will be drawn up to make the organization non-profit, therefore make all contributions tax deductible. But Couch added, "Any contribution made now—before the charter is drawn—will be placed in escrow on savings. Therefore, if anything happened, that the plans fell through for some reason, the money donated would be returned to the contributor plus the interest it had drawn in savings."

The MCC organization was set up with Couch as president, Dr. William Kemp as vice-president, Opal Adkins as secretary, Abe Turner as treasurer and trust officer, and as directors, R. W. Herren, Juanita Hester, Elbert Johnson, and H. V. Woodard.

Also, the Homecoming Association went on record Saturday at the General Assembly as accepting the plan and backing it. John McCollum, Dallas, went forward to move that the Association endorse the proposed Civic Center and it was accepted.

Couch, who was one of the first to begin circulating the thought of a Civic Center for Haskell, added, "We would like to emphasize to the people that any man or woman who contributes to this Center will be important to us. Whether they give one dollar or ten thousand dollars, what they give counts and what counts greatly for the future of Haskell."

600 Exes Attend

The rains came down, but the spirit stayed up as Haskell Homecoming was an all out success as nearly 600 exes returned home for the weekend.

Haskell Lions fired the first shot of the two jam-packed days when they held the annual pancake supper at the High School cafeteria. A line was still formed for pancakes when the Anson Tigers received the opening kickoff from the Indians in the football game, which many thought might be water polo by halftime.

However, the rain and lightning finally let up and the festivities went into high gear

Saturday morning.

Because of the downpour, the annual crowning of the Homecoming Queen had to be put off until the General Assembly Saturday. But Denise Roberson was announced as Queen at halftime during the game.

Dr. William J. Kemp, president of the Homecoming Association, gave an enthusiastic speech "I Am A Sick American", at the morning assembly prior to Miss Roberson's coronation.

Following speakers, Dr. Frank Spencer and Dr. Henry Post, the Association got down to business and the recognition of celebrated exes in attendance.

Mrs. Artie Mae Burkett gave the information to the assembly of their 1971 scholarship they had awarded to student Lynda Lane. The association recognized especially Iron Pearcey, 96 years old, and all the teachers and coaches in attendance.

The assembly also named the Crawford family as having the most present from one family and the class of 1941 as the class with the most in attendance.

New Association officers were named for 1973. They were R. C. Couch Jr., president.

Defense Scores Win

Safe(ty) In A Storm, Anson Falls 6-0

Nobody wins a game on safeties. A safety, just a harmless little tackle behind your own goal line and two points for your enemies. Man, you get that many points on an extra point run after your touchdowns. Anson's Tuff Tigers proved to be just that, Tuff, and in rain falling in sheets, they fought to the very end before falling Friday night to the Haskell Indians 6-0 on three of those oddball safeties.

Though it was raining, and friend, it was definitely coming down, the Haskell Homecoming crowd was not disappointed. Soaked and frozen maybe, but not disappointed.

It took 14 seconds, compared to 24 last week at Hamlin, for the Indians to get on the scoreboard. Ricky Watts, the rifle armed chunker of the Tigers, got trapped behind the line on the first play from scrimmage. A hairy beginning, but just a forenoon of what was to come.

With rain coming down and lightning jumping in the sky, offense was just a word to think about.

Ground Game Throttled Jackie Young and Frank Jirick couldn't buy a yard in first half. It seems they would make a good run and then because of the slick track, would lose the yardage right back to the pressing Tigers.

After the opening safety, Haskell could get nowhere when they got possession of the ball. A Jirick punt went into the endzone for a touchback.

The rain was definitely a hamper to Watts' passing game. He could only push the ball to his receivers in the first half. In the first half flash flood he could only connect on one of nine passes for three yards, considerably below his average.

Haskell appeared to be in good scoring position when Jay Rowland went back to punt at (Continued on Page 5, Sec. 1)

Chamber Yule Program Includes Many Cash Prizes

The basic plan of "Something old and something new, something borrowed and something blue", has been followed by countless brides to be when making plans for their wedding day. The same plan could well be applied to Haskell's 1971 annual Christmas Program, the design which is already off of the drawing board and currently being constructed to be put into operation within just a few short weeks.

This year's impressive program is perhaps the most elaborate ever to be staged in Haskell, with many features of the overall program combined to make it so.

The "old" part of the program this year will of course be the $2,000 in cash that will be awarded to a total of twenty-eight persons during the four special days. This particular phase of the annual Christmas program has been especially popular for the past two years and it is again expected to draw large crowds of shoppers to Haskell. Beginning at 3 p. m., December 4, the first $500 will be awarded to seven lucky persons and a repeat performance will be held at the same time on December 11, December 18, and Wednesday, December 22.

The "new" part of the '71 program will be the downtown area which will be decorated with colorful Christmas lights and other Yule decorations to give it a distinct holiday atmosphere. A complete revamping of the lights around the courthouse and square is now being done under (Continued on Page 5, Sec. 1)

First Ginned Cotton Bale

E. W. Andrews brought in the county's first bale of ginned cotton Tuesday, October 26, at Duncan Gin Company.

Andrews, who has lived in Haskell for 57 years, weighed the ginned bale out at 550 pounds and the seed cotton hit 2,170 pounds.

His farm is located 3 miles southwest of Haskell.

Tech To Honor Thornton

Four former Texas Tech students, representing outstanding achievement in the fields of big business, medicine and education, will be honored as "distinguished alumni" by the Tech Ex-Students Association at a luncheon Friday, October 29, in Lubbock.

This fifth annual Distinguished Alumnus Luncheon, sponsored jointly by the Ex-Students Association and Texas Tech University, is to be held in the Coronado Room of the University Center beginning at 12:15 p. m.

The four to be honored are Charles B. "Tex" Thornton, chairman of the board of Litton Industries, Inc.; Dr. John R. Bennett, president of Berry College; C. A. Cash, president of Diamond Shamrock Corporation; and Dr. George W. Burnett, associate dean of the School of Dentistry, Medical College of Georgia.

Thornton, a Haskell native, whose guidance of the development of Litton Industries, Inc., into one of the biggest corporations in the U. S., landed him on the cover of Time magazine in 1963, began his collegiate career at Texas Tech in 1932. He received a Bachelor of Commercial Science degree in 1937 from George Washington University.

Thornton also holds an honorary Doctor of Commercial Science degree from George Washington University in addition to honorary doctor of Laws degrees from both the University of Southern California and Texas Tech.

Impressing his Department of Interior superiors and officials in the War Department with his outstanding work, Thornton joined the pre-Pearl Harbor Army as a second lieutenant charged with the unusually heavy responsibility of finding a way to put the Army's air arm on a business-like basis. Mr. Homer Terry is annual staff sponsor.

Veteran's Day Celebration

The Rochester Veteran's Day celebration drew a crowd of some 500 Saturday to enjoy the following program. The morning program opened with the raising of the flag, while a drum roll was played by Belinda Wolsh and Marla Stegemoller.

Rev. Katherine Byrd gave the invocation and memorial and Alton Byrd, Mayor, gave the welcome. Mrs. R. A. Shaver Jr., and Mrs. Cracker Ballard sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

Homer Terry, master of ceremonies, introduced Queen, Riva Hitt and her court, Sherry Sloan and Karan Sharp. He also recognized Veterans of all wars, with some being present from all wars.

Speaker Bill Coalson of Goeree gave a very interesting talk on the Veterans and their task in the world.

The second speaker, Dr. Jim Dan Hill, retired Major General of Abilene gave some interesting history behind all wars.

The program ended with a 21-gun salute and the playing of taps by Susan Stegemoller and Patti Acree.

The parade was a big success with many decorated floats which depicted the represented Veteran's Day, also some which represented the Old Settlers.

The musical Saturday night climaxed the day's events.

Plaques were given to the oldest couple, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dalany and the largest family was Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Turner.

Halloween Carnival and Coronation

Saturday night, October 30th, at 6:00, the spooks, witches and goblins will venture out to open the annual Rochester Halloween Carnival in the Grade School gymnasium. This carnival and coronation is sponsored by the seniors of Rochester High School. There will be 15 different booths to whet your taste for fun. Naturally, the "Spook House" will draw a crowd, as well as "fortune telling" and "Bingo." There will be a football throw, basketball throw, wet sponge throw, dart throw, fishing, bean guess, rat race, cake walk, big wheel, baseball throw, nickel throw and the concession stand. The concession stand will have food of all kinds.

The auction will begin at 8:00 p. m. with the coronation immediately following.

CONSERVATION VIEW POINTS

J. C. YEARY, JR. District Conservationist

It has turned out to be one of those seasons where parallel terraces have received undue criticism due to the high intensity rains of August, September and October.

Parallel terraces are constructed primarily to conserve moisture and control erosion. They are constructed parallel to permit efficient operations with modern farming equipment. Also, due to their quality of conserving moisture, they sometimes increase yields.

These earthen ridges, constructed across the slope of a field are designed and constructed to meet a ten year frequency rain occurring over a 24 hour period. This ten year frequency rain, as determined by meteorologists and hydrology engineers is, in Haskell County -5.4 inches in a 24-hour period.

Haskell, in August and September alone received over 14 inches in just a few hours, thus causing flooding unparalleled in recent history.

Rainfall on already saturated soils has to go somewhere, thus you have broken terraces, eroded fields, flooded crops, highways and farm roads under water, siltation and damage in various degrees over all the agricultural community.

Maintenance is the key to all conservation measures. Terraces need to be repaired after damage by heavy rains and should be "plowed up" and end blocks repaired periodically to counteract the wear and tear on the structures caused by normal farming operations.

Thirty to sixty dollars per acre, of which approximately 50 per cent of this is government cost-share payment, involves too much of an investment to take lightly.

Conservation, as we know it today, is not the ultimate-only a progressive learning step toward the ultimate.

Hines were near DeLeon Saturday to attend a hog sale.

Edwin Roberson of H-SU spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Roberson and Melissa.

Eda Fay Pounds of Knox City Home spent Friday and Saturday in Rochester visiting. She spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bittick.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole Alsbrook of Andrews visited Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brown and attended the Veteran's Day celebration Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Yarbrough of Abilene spent Saturday at the Veteran's Day celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Tanner of Hawley spent the day Saturday in Rochester at the Veteran's Day celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sloan and Mrs. Edna Adkins spent Sunday in Chillicothe with Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Sloan, Scott and Lane.

Lions Feast On Charlie Films

It was 1970 all over again in the Lions Club meeting Tuesday noon at Felker's Restaurant. Yes, 1970, and the Haskell-Childrens football game in the quarterfinals of Class AA.

Coach Tommy McAdams was the guest in the meeting and brought films for the Lions to recall the days when Number 22, "Goodbye" Charlie Franklin and the rest of the Indians were moving through the season on the way to a date with Iowa Park.

hell line and he got nowhere. On fourth down and goal to go, Jirek broke up Watts' pass and the Indians took over.

Just minutes later the Haskell defense would gain more yardage than the Anson offense did for practically the entire night.

With first down on the Haskell 24, Anson looked in good shape to put a score on the lights. Shea pushed them back for a big loss when he got to Watts and then with Dodson breaking through for another big tackle, the Tigers suddenly found themselves back on their own 39 yard line and fourth down with 47 yards to go for a first.

After trading the ball on a fumble and a couple of punts, Anson found itself again deep in its own territory due to a well placed Jirek punt. With 3:40 left in the game Mickler broke in to wipe out Watts behind the line for the third safety of the game. Oh, those little safeties.

With only a couple of minutes left in the contest, Watts went to passing all the way. At his own 20, he threw one right into the hands of Mickler, but the scrappy little linebacker couldn't hold on.

By now the rain had stopped but it was cold and damp. Everybody, including the players, seemed relieved the wet night was over.

Anson now falls to 0-2 for the district and 3-4 for the season, while Haskell is 2-0 and 5-2. A head-on battle with Stamford isn't far down the road.

The supervision of the Haskell Jaycees with Charles Thornhill, president, in charge. Also, according to Charles, the four beautiful stars which used to adorn the top of the courthouse in years past, beckoning all comers to Haskell, are being rebuilt in metal and will again shine for miles in each direction. Home decorations are also being stressed this year much more than they have in recent years and all of this together should make a lot of folks want to drive over Haskell way to view the colorful display.

The "borrowed" part of the program is most assuredly the ideas and willing help offered by scores of citizens who desire that each year's annual program be just a little bit better than the preceding one.

Special treats for the little folks are in store as old Santa Claus will make his arrival in Haskell at least four times and on each trip he will have a sleigh loaded with candy for all of his little friends who will be here to greet the Jolly Old Fellow from the North Pole.

The "blue" part of the program in a sense could be the lights in the decorations but it is expected that the deepest blue will be experienced by all of the people who fail to take advantage of the bargains on sale in all of Haskell's business firms.

So, this is a special and personal invitation to you to begin your Christmas shopping early while you have the privilege of a large selection of merchandise to choose from.

Don't be blue during Christmas just because you didn't patronize the outstanding stores in Haskell where you may purchase anything you might desire.

Enjoying watching all the exes after general assembly trying to figure out what party, where, was for which class, so they'd know which way to go after the barbecue . . .

Knowing that as all these people gathered and talked and visited and reminisced during the two days that they were storing still more memories of a happy hometown, still united with school ties after all the distance put between classmates by time and life's goals.

Hating to see the end of all the activities. Knowing, much like the day after Christmas, that time would stretch and drag until the next "Haskell High School Homecoming" slated for 1973 . . .

Closing out a weekend of fine memories with gratitude to the many people here in Haskell who worked so diligently to make the weekend the beautiful success it was—in spite of the rain on Friday night.

Two girls in rooms adjoining Cathy's came over to offer words to try to help the young Haskell girl during the trying time prior to the operation. Both girls had a leg amputated due to malignancy.

Her aunt was there when Cathy was taken into surgery Friday morning. "She was waving and smiling when she went in, and when she came out, hours later, there were tears in her eyes, but she was still smiling."

During the surgery, her Dad called Mrs. Dee Larned over to talk. "He asked me to send a telegram or call Haskell in time for the pep rally. He wanted the kids to know that the Indians were going to win the game the same as Cathy was going to win her battle."

Pam Colbert, head cheerleader at Haskell High, read the letter before the assembly during the rally.

And now Cathy Larned is recuperating from surgery in M. D. Anderson Hospital, a long way from home. It will probably be at least a couple of weeks before she can come home.

"She watches the mail every day," Mrs. Larned said. "You just can't realize how she looks forward to hearing from everyone."

Your letters are very welcome, whether you know Cathy or not. Drop her a card and let her know how proud you are of her. This young lady deserves it. She's gone through a R. C. Couch Jr. called the names of the 49 exes who had passed away in the last two years in a Memorial service.

It was also announced at this time of the proposed Haskell Memorial Civic Center. R. C. Couch Jr. announced the proposal and stated that he and his sisters would begin donations toward the Civic Center by pledging $1,000 in the memory of their mother and father.

Parties among the different classes were all over Haskell as the old classmates and friends got together once again of the relatively small microwave-tube company Thornton and his associates purchased as a base to build on. Litton Industries has gone on to establish itself as one of the fastest growing corporations in U. S. business history.

Thornton was last on the Tech campus at Homecoming in 1964 when he addressed the annual dinner meeting of the Texas Tech Century Club.

Tickets to the luncheon are priced at $4 and should be purchased in advance at the Ex-Students Association Office on campus, according to association president Donnell Echols of Lamesa.

Echols said that the public is invited to purchase tickets and attend. He added, however, that due to limited space, it is doubtful if tickets will be sold at the door. Bob Nash will serve as master of ceremonies.

Some five years later, he quit to form his own company, named for the engineer-owner bered four and included Demetrio B. Lakas, Charles A. Bucks, Rear Admiral Felix P. Ballenger and W. Austin Davis.

Other previous recipients have included Gov. and Mrs. Preston Smith in 1969; Dan Thornton, Porter P. Parris, Waggoner Carr and Rear Admiral Donald D. Chapman in 1968; and Fred H. Moore, Jack Tippit, Dr. W. W. Akers and Jack Maddox in 1967.

"The measure of a college's or university's distinction and influence depends greatly upon the achievement of its former students and alumni," said Echols, "and the position they earn for themselves in their respective communities and fields of endeavors."

Thus, Echols explained, the distinguished alumnus program was established to recognize and honor Texas Tech ex-students who have made "significant contributions to society, and whose accomplishments and careers have brought credit" to the university.

Echols said plans for the luncheon program have not been completed, but efforts are being made to have former recipients of the distinguished alumnus awards to make the presentations to this year's honorees.

Rotarians Told New Voting Age May Influence Elections

The Haskell Rotary Club held their regular weekly meeting at the City Cafe at 12 noon, October 21, with Bob Philpot, vice-president, in charge of the dinner meeting.

Program chairman of the day was Bob Herren, who gave an off-the-cuff talk about the recent meeting of the Democratic party of Texas in Austin for the purpose of nominating and electing a chairman of the party to take over the reins of the Texas Democratic Party organization.

Mr. Herren stated that a great number of college and university students were in attendance relative to an amendment 26 which gives 18 year olds the privilege and right to vote. He stressed that they were very much interested, well organized and that their plans are to work on voter registration. He stated that over 600,000 young men and women would be eligible to vote next year and that they certainly could carry a lot of weight in swinging elections.

Invocation for the meeting was voiced by Rev. H. O. Abbot and the song session led by H. V. Woodard with club pianist Gail Barnett providing accompaniment.

R. C. Couch Jr., introduced guests in the persons of students Connie Berry and Doris Wooten. Out-of-town guests were N. S. Ousley, Weldon Norman and Lavon Beakley of Rule and Charles Baker of Munday.

Moore, Felker Earn Degrees

Carl Allen Moore and Walter Viars Felker Jr. of Haskell were among 1,206 students from 37 different states receiving degrees at summer commencement August 14 at North Texas State University.

Conferred were 735 bachelor's degrees, 409 masters; and 62 doctor's degrees, including the first doctor of philosophy degree ever awarded by NTSU in English.

Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Moore of Avenue D, Haskell, was awarded his master of education degree in elementary education.

Felker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Felker at 406 North Ave. H, received his bachelor of business administration degree in marketing.
