NUMBER TWENTY-NINE

Pat Harris Queen of Cotton Country

Miss Pat Harris, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris of Haskell, was crowned Haskell County Cotton Queen in the fourth annual contest last Thursday evening before a large audience at the Elementary School auditorium.

Miss Harris was recently named Miss Throckmorton, and also won the most entertaining talent, and swimsuit competition at the Throckmorton pageant. Her prior winnings included among others, runner-up in the 1969 Miss Hey Day contest in Haskell and farm bureau Queen for 1970-71.

The new Miss Cotton Queen of Haskell County will not only represent the county at the State Cotton Queen Contest in Dallas in October but will represent Miss Throckmorton in the Miss Texas Pageant in 1972.

Miss Harris will be a senior in Haskell High School in the fall and plans to enter Hardin-Simmons University after graduation next spring. She plans to major in art and modern English.

While in High School she has been a member of the National Honor Society, a cheerleader, junior class favorite, member of the Future Teachers of America.

Her hobbies are swimming, horseback riding, water skiing, music and running track. She sings and plays the piano.

First and second runners-up in that order, went to Miss Joan Caddell, 17, and Miss Lorenia Caddell, 18, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Caddell, of Weinert.

Other contestants competing for honors were: Diane Corzine, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Corzine, of Sagerton; Carol Miller, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Miller, of Rule, and Riva Hitt, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hitt of Rochester.

Katie Darnell, 1970 Miss Hey Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Darnell of Haskell, was Mistress of Ceremonies. Miss Darnell also served as Mistress of Ceremonies at the recent Miss Hey-Day contest, thus is getting to be quite a "pro."

Entertainment, which brought long and loud applause, was provided by the Coleman County 4H Share-the-Fun Group. Mrs. Johnny Reid of O'Brien narrated the dress review.

Each contestant modeled two cotton outfits: a cotton formal and cotton sportswear. Each gave a two minute talk emphasizing the importance of cotton to the economy of this area, and each was asked one question to test poise.

Danny Tolison, Farm Bureau Agent, and Rex Felker, Chamber of Commerce manager, presented the awards to the Queen and runners-up.

Mrs. Luther Burkett and Mrs. Barbara Elliott served as co-

Horse Vaccine Available Today

County Agent Max Stapleton was contacted Monday and asked to make a daily report on any sick horses, or horses that die in Haskell County.

This effort is going on across the state in order to stop the dread VEE in horses, that has traveled up from South America.

Stapleton is required to keep a daily record in order to keep facts up-to-date on the progress of the disease. Every horse owner is urged to contact him, if they find one of their horses dead, or if one is sick.

Stapleton was notified Tuesday morning that a supply of the VEE vaccine was made available to Haskell County, and would be here this afternoon, July 22, at 2 p. m.

Vaccine station has been set up at the Haskell County Fair Grounds and Dr. Ballard of Stamford will be here at that time to begin inoculating horses. Vaccination will be administered free of charge and is mandatory for all horses in the county. It is legal to move your horses to this vaccination station, but this is the only movement of the animals that is legal at this time.

Owners are urged to bring their horses as soon as it is possible, because he will vaccinate only as long as horses are there. You are then required to take the horses back to your property until the time that you are notified otherwise.

Biggest Generating Plant

West Texas Utilities Company's system generating capability was increased 110,000 kilowatts last week when the number four generating unit at Paint Creek Power Station at Lake Stamford was placed in commercial operation.

The announcement was made by WTU Vice President and Chief Engineer John A. Hutchison.

The increase in the capability of the Paint Creek Plant gives it a total capability of 236,000 kw, making it the largest generating station in the West Texas Utilities Company system.

According to Roff Hardy, WTU president, this increase brings total system capability to 718,500 kw., or an increase of 33 percent over the last five years. Hardy also pointed out that site preparation for the new Lake PL Phantom Power Station at Abilene is now underway. The first unit at the new plant is scheduled for completion in 1974.

No. 4 Construction Began 1969
The addition of the number four unit at Paint Creek began in 1969. The new General Electric conventional reheat turbine generating unit is housed in a two-story, 20,000 square foot, addition to the plant. The initial boil-out of the Riley Stoker boiler was made early in March and the test runs on the new equipment were recently completed.

The construction project has been under the supervision of Walter Meller, WTU construction engineer. The general contractor for plant construction and equipment erection was Hawkins and Westbrook Construction Company of Abilene.

West Texas Utilities Company serves 167 communities in 50 counties from the Red River to the Rio Grande.

The Company maintains and operates 8 generating plants, including Lake Pauline Power Station at Quanah, Paint Creek Power Station at Lake Stamford, Abilene Power Station in Abilene, Oak Creek Power Station at Oak Creek Lake, Concho Power Station, and San Angelo Power Station at San Angelo, Rio Pecos Power Station at McCamey and the Fort Stockton Gas Turbine Plant at Fort Stockton. These power stations are connected by 138,000-volt transmission systems. West Texas Utilities' transmission system is also connected with the Texas Interconnected System, one of the strongest power pools in the nation.

VILLAIN IN SPREAD OF THE DREADED VEE IS MOSQUITO

The role of the mosquito in spreading disease has been dramatically emphasized by the movement of Venezuelan Equine Encephalitis in Texas.

In just a short time the disease has crossed the Rio Grande into Texas and resulted in a statewide alert. While its primary victim is horses, VEE can affect humans with a flu-like illness, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Villain in the spread of VEE is the mosquito. If a mosquito bites an infected animal, it can spread the disease by biting another horse or a human. All mosquitoes should be looked on as possible spreaders (vectors) of VEE; however, a mosquito first must have bitten an infected animal or human before it can spread the disease. Even if it isn't carrying some disease, a mosquito still is a pest to be eliminated.

With mosquitoes as the target in controlling VEE, you can do a lot to help yourself.

The simplest and most effective method of cutting down or controlling the mosquito population is to eliminate the breeding places.

Mosquitoes cannot hatch unless they are in water, so all standing water around your premises should be eliminated. Water can be caught in discarded bicycle and automobile tires, tin cans or old jars, in bird-baths, unused fishponds, shrubbery or a flat roof. Eliminate these water traps, being careful to check behind shrubbery. Septic tanks, cisterns and

Fair Plans Begin to Jell

A heavy agenda faced officers and directors of the Haskell County Fair Board in a meeting held Friday night at Felker's Restaurant. President, Pat Hale of the Haskell County Fair Association, presided over the meeting.

Invocation was given by A. C. Pierson, after which Rex Felker, Executive Secretary-Treasurer read the minutes of the last meeting and gave a financial report of the Association.

Following a discussion of the prize list for livestock for preceding fairs, the board voted that cash prizes would be raised in the different cattle divisions to $15, $12, $7 and $5, which would give a better incentive to exhibitors to continue to show at the Haskell County Fair.

C. A. Thomas Jr., reported that much work had been done on selling ads for the catalogue, but that it was definitely not complete as yet, and the deadline for copy to be in to the Free Press for printing is August 1.

It was also decided that out-of-county exhibitors would be required to leave their stock on display until 6:00 p. m. before loading them to take to their respective homes.

The various exhibits on display in the Corral building will continue to be allowed without an exhibitor's fee being charged but board members voted that no passes would be issued to exhibitors other than those exhibits which needed daily care and attention.

Board members also voted unanimously to feature "A Children's Barnyard" at this year's county fair with Max Stapleton, Tom Kutch and A. D. May to be in charge of this new attraction which is expected to prove most popular, particularly with the school children.

C. A. Thomas Jr. was appointed by president Hale to investigate the possibilities of erecting a new building, or making an addition to the existing buildings to provide space for the Children's Barnyard display, and also to make it possible to have ample exhibition space for firms and individuals interested in purchasing such space.

Other plans were discussed which might make the county fair better this year than ever, to include new types of night entertainment for the visiting public.

Present for the meeting were Pat Hale, A. D. May, Tom Kutch, Mrs. Johnny Reid, Bob Beauchamp, A. C. Pierson, John P. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Phemister, Bill Comely, R. V. Earles, Ivan Rowan, Max Stapleton, Adrian Lott and Rex Felker.

Rotarians Hear School Supt. H. T. Wilkinson

Hooper Wilkinson, Superintendent of Haskell Schools, spoke to members of the Rotary Club at the noon-day luncheon meeting last Thursday at the City Cafe.

Program chairman for the day, Carl Anderson, introduced the speaker.

Supt. Wilkinson gave an interesting and informative talk on the raise in school taxes. He cited a number of reasons why the school board was forced to raise the taxes for the continued operation of the Haskell Public Schools. "The raise," he stated, "is the first since 1958."

He pointed out that it would have been necessary before now if it had not been for two major factors which prevented the need, namely integration, which made it possible to close down one school and continue to apply the tax money to the schools in use, and later on the consolidation of the Mattison School District with Haskell.

He also stated that the school district had lost over two million dollars in oil property rendition and this, along with the extension of the school term to ten months effective last year instead of the nine month program, which caused the expenditure to rise.

Many factors are involved to include the extra cost of contract labor made necessary when the regular maintenance men took on a ten month program which prevented them from doing more work on the grounds and other facilities.

Mr. Wilkinson, who has been with the Haskell School System for the past 16 years, concluded his enlightening talk by answering questions from the floor.

President, C. A. Thomas presided over the meeting. Invocation was voiced by Andy Anderson, and the song session was led by H. V. Woodard.

Abe Turner introduced guests Lana Bailey, who played the piano for the "sing session," and Jo Morrison.

Program chairman for today, July 22, will be Eldon Anderson.

Cc. Health Officer Urges Precautions

"Now is the time to take proper precautions against mosquito infestations in our county," said Dr. T. W. Williams as he discussed the outbreak of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis, (more easily pronounced VEE) among horses in the lower regions of Texas. "You can quarantine horses, but you can't quarantine mosquitos, and they are the carriers of the disease that is most often fatal to horses, but rarely to humans."

However, humans can contract the disease, and we should get rid of all mosquito breeding spots, to lower the possible danger here.

Dr. Williams, County Health Officer for Haskell County, said, "The VEE scare in South Texas has alerted us all to the danger—not just to horses, but to all human beings."

He urged everyone to check all possible breeding spots for mosquitos and eliminate them by pouring oil in the water, or by using other methods. The city is spraying to check these areas over town, but it's up to every resident to check their own property and assist in the effort.

"If it rains here or south of here, the rain will drive the mosquitos northward, and bring VEE closer to our area."

Only 10 Days Left

Effective July 1, 1971, Texas law requires that a one-cent sales tax be charged on newspapers in towns which have a local sales tax. This law applies to Haskell. The Haskell Free Press will be priced at 14 cents plus one cent tax, or

tax included

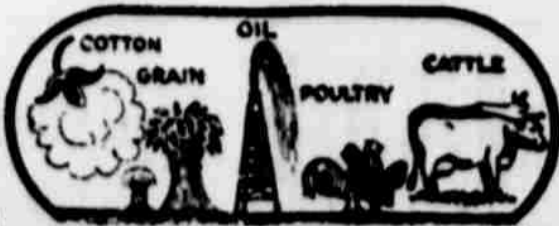

This increase is called for by rising costs of publication as well as by the addition of the sales tax. The rising costs also make it necessary to increase subscription rates. One of the major factors in this consideration is the much-publicized increase in postal charges for second class mail, which is more than for other classes. We have elected to postpone raising the subscription rates until all readers have been forewarned so that they may have a chance to save by subscribing or renewing present subscriptions at the old rates. We shall continue to accept new subscriptions or renewals of existing subscriptions at the present rates through July 31, 1971.

have to wake up, then you have to get up. Next you have to wash up, feed up and hitch up. Then you have to catch up and keep up. When you check up, you find you've hardly enough to pay up. That's when I gave up."

o-o-o
Got so there is some kind of relief for everybody but the fellow who pays the taxes.

o-o-o
It's what we do in our spare time, and without pay, that convinces others... especially those we truly want to serve... that we are entitled to something better and higher. Work eight hours a day, play eight hours, sleep eight hours... this is the formula for the average man. There is nothing on earth the matter with it, except that is not good enough to carry off honors... Those who are going places and doing things, do so in their spare time. They do not waste any time.

Prattler finds only one thing wrong with this formula... who ever heard of a weekly newspaper editor that could get everything done in a mere eight-hour working day!

o-o-o
The person who bounds out of bed in the morning may feel like Hercules. But the truth of the matter is that he's doing his health no good at all. Health demands you get up slowly in the morning; don't jump up; shift from the recumbent to the erect position gradually... so says most authorities on the matter.

o-o-o
A look at the calendar reveals that it won't be long until school bells ring again.

Pity the home where the ringing of the school bell has ceased to matter. In a family of growing children it is the stabilizing regulator for the entire household. Meals are on time, clothes are in readiness and a semblance of order is established.

And then one day when school bells ring it brings a lump to your heart, for there is no scramble for books and raincoats, no hurried good-bye kisses, no slamming doors. Just peace and quiet... that peace you used to long for, and have found it to be an empty thing.

The Prattler's know this feeling, because we have experienced it.

o-o-o
If the weather looks like rain, smile. When you feel you must complain, smile. Do not mind if things seem gray; soon there will be a brighter day!

o-o-o
Let's not turn our backs on the friendly Haskell merchants who have helped to build our community. Let's stick together and spend our money in Haskell. Remember money spent at home stays in our community... money spent elsewhere is gone forever. Do you really save when you shop out of town? How about the gas, the lunches and other things you spend your money for that amounts to several dollars when shopping out of town. If you want your town and community to grow and prosper you just can't afford to shop elsewhere. Haskell merchants have a fine selection of merchandise and the prices are in line with those found elsewhere.

o-o-o
The way men stare, it's obvious the miniskirt fad has reached its peak.

Sherman's Offers Interior Design Consultation

From humble beginnings in the garage of their home in 1950 to their two present locations, Alvin and Winnie Sherman have built Sherman's Floors & Interiors into one of Haskell's proudest success stories.

What began as a floor covering and sanding service, grew and expanded so rapidly that the Sherman's attended Houston University's school of interior design in 1964 to better qualify themselves in the services they offer.

It's fascinating to them both, as their customers learn when they consult with either of them, or with their valued employees, Mrs. Laverne Barnett, Mrs. Lucille Becker, and Mrs. Novella Rusletter. All are qualified consultants in home furnishings and interior design. The hours spent by the Shermans at market, searching out the unusual, the beautiful, and the unique, gives their customers a selection of furnishings and designer pieces that is unequalled in this entire trade area. They also offer free consultation on antique refinishing, custom drapery making, the new and popular custom shade making, awning installation, and of course the hundreds of carpet selections at Sherman's Floors.

A constant offering of new and better-than-wood, man-made designer pieces at market has educated them in this field.

INTERIOR DECORATOR ITEMS in Sherman's Floors & Interiors come from all points of the globe and fit every taste. Carpet fabrics at the floor covering store include every man-made and natural fiber, for a better selection. Saleswomen at both stores are qualified in color and decorator consultation, as are the Shermans', and all invite you to stop in with any decorating problems.

and they offer only the best in these lines. Pieces made of a soft plaster in bygone days have left a bad image for the new products to follow. But the pieces stocked at Sherman's—picture frames, mirror frames, candlesticks, etc., are almost indestructible and will be handed down in families for generations.

The combined experience of employees offers 71 years of experience to assist in any and every way to make homes more beautiful, at the least possible cost. What's more, color consulting on room decoration and design is free for the asking at either store. The Sherman's are just as eager to help in figuring supplies and costs on a do-it-yourself bathroom wallpapering project as they are to completely decorate an entire home. Try their service—it's professional, and they're always glad to see you—at Sherman's Floors and Interiors.

Prescription Headquarters At Oates Drug

Oates Drug—one of the oldest businesses in Haskell County—was founded in the 1880's as Corner Drug, on the 'same old corner' where it now stands. The brick in the building was made right here in the county and has withstood the test of time, just as the business has.

Doyle and Roberta High—both registered pharmacists—bought the business January 1, 1970 and, with many improvements, have continued the traditions of business long set. With their two children, Hollis 4, and Kirk 1, they are proud to settle down in Haskell and make it their home.

They are also proud to continue the 24-hour prescription service that Oates Drug is famous for, and reassert their aim to always provide fast, accurate and dependable prescription service to their customers.

Although the prescription department is their main service, customers also enjoy a wide variety of merchandise offered, including cosmetics, household supplies, gift items, cards for all occasions, a big line of cameras and film, veterinary supplies, gift candies, and a complete line of health aides. When you get right down to it, you can find everything from

Of the several warm season perennial grasses adapted to this area, Coastal bermudagrass generally performs best. Coastal normally grows under irrigation and can be an important grazing and hay crop when properly supplied with water and fertilizer. Since this is a warm-season grass, it remains dormant and does not produce any forage for several months during the cool season of the year.

Economic livestock gains from grazing bermudagrass usually are limited to a period between April 15 to August 1. Thus other pastures must be used for growing cattle during the remainder of the year.

Above average management must be applied to realize maximum profits from bermudagrass sold as hay or grazed.

Many acres of currently non-productive marginal land in the county could become productive if sprigged to Coastal bermudagrass.

Bermudagrass offers a source of early spring grazing to assist in carrying cattle from winter wheat pastures until supplemental pastures are ready. It can also be used in a deferment system with native ranges.

For most efficient establishment, plant fresh sprigs in a well-prepared seedbed. Seed beds should be firm, level, moist from digging until planting.

In establishment and maintenance of Coastal bermudagrass, fertilization should be geared to production and management practices—a soil test is a wise investment.

Many area farmers and ranchers are clearing and shaping intermittent streams and sprigging them to Coastal bermudagrass. These waterways, when cleared and shaped usually receive enough outside water to produce large amounts of forage annually.

This land normally infested with mesquite trees and low-producing grasses has now become some of the most productive land on their farms. Cost-share assistance is available through the REAP and GPCP conservation programs along with technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service in reclaiming these lands.

Dale and Billy Middlebrook and Ray Perry, Paint Creek community have good examples of intermittent streams shaped and sprigged to Coastal bermudagrass affording an abundance of good quality forage.

Norman Nanny, Glenn Merchant, Don Nanny and C. A. Thomas, Haskell, all have high producing irrigated Coastal bermudagrass pastures.

Miss Pippin Has Lead In Play

Our Miss Hey-Day for 1971 Miss Karen Pippin, now enrolled in a drama course at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, was informed Monday that she has won the lead in "The Boyfriend", one of three one-act plays to be presented in the theatre in the round there July 29-30.

Karen was given the lead over many students who tried out for the part, and Haskell is justly proud of her!

Fouts Dry Goods Founded In 1918

Haskell Pioneer John Fouts, with Bob Mitchell as a silent partner, began one of the first businesses in Haskell in March of 1918 that has continued down through the years in the Fouts family to become one of the most unique businesses here. There are only about three businesses left that can claim a continued family ownership since their founding, and Fouts Dry Goods is one of them. Except for a few months in 1918, it can also claim the same location on the west side of the square.

Beginning as "Fouts & Mitchell Dry Goods & Variety", during the depression years of the 1930's, it became Fouts Dry Goods & Variety, and Mr. John Fouts worked actively in the business from 1918 until he was 83 years old, some five years ago. George began working with his father in 1946 when he returned from the service, and has been active in the business ever since.

The uniqueness of the business, though, is in its consistency. George takes pride in the fact that they have handled the same lines of general merchandise that have been the basics of the farmer and rancher's work clothes all those years—and still do. Sturdy work shoes and boots, raincoats and rubber boots, work gloves and work hats—all these are on display the year round. Most dry goods stores have dropped these lines, and entered the competition of the latest styles and fashions to feature seasonal merchandise. Not so at Fouts Dry Goods. Although they have beautiful materials and up-to-date merchandise, the bulk of it is the basic needs of the farming and ranching communities Fouts serves.

ONE OF HASKELL'S OLDEST FAMILY BUSINESSES, Fout's Dry Goods takes pride in carrying the same lines of clothing and shoes that has made their name synonymous with quality and dependability.

And more and more, people are traveling from farther away to purchase these basics that they know Fouts Dry Goods handles.

Employees who assist George in running the business include Mrs. Retha Mullins, a valued employee who has been with him for the past 12 or 15 years; Mrs. Joy Chapman, Mrs. Jo Tucker and Mrs. Eunice Koehler. All are dedicated to serve Fouts Dry Goods' customers courteously, and invite your patronage.
