Park Is Beginning To Show Real Form

Work is progressing nicely at the new City Park, sponsored by the Lions Club. Several full days work has been done by a number of citizens and anyone desiring to help complete the clearing of the ground should contact A. B. Parker or a member of the park board to work where it should be done. One barbecue grill and table is nearing completion and officers ask any individual or organization to build units or help on same. Playground equipment is also needed. They stress the point that this is a city park and regardless of who donates any part of a unit, it will be open to the public. Much work has already been done at the park, but considerable more will be required before the park is ready for use. The park board expresses their appreciation for so many individuals and organizations who are helping. This is apparently the most popular project in many years for Rotan, and the Lions Club are solely responsible for the start. A. A. Aaron in furnishing the tract of land is of course the major donor.

County Included In Hay Program

Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, this week advised John D. Wolf Jr., FFA County Supervisor, of the designation of Fisher County under the Hay and Roughage program for Texas. Applications to participate in the Hay and Roughage program will be received by County Farmers Home Administration committees immediately at the Farmers Home Administration office located at Roby. The Hay and Roughage program was worked out between the Governor and the Secretary of Agriculture to provide emergency assistance to farmers and ranchers in the state's designated disaster counties. Under the program the local county FFA committee will determine each applicant's eligibility and will issue a certificate good for $7.50 per ton on roughage actually purchased. The applicant will then apply the certificate on the purchase price of roughage from any dealer he chooses. The dealer endorses the certificate and draws a draft on the Emergency Drought Committee's account. Applications may be filed through December 3, 1956 for a supply of roughage needed to last through December 31, 1956. ## Civil Defense Meeting Thursday Sept. 6

A meeting to organize Ground Corps for Civil Defense will be held at the City Hall, Thursday, Sept. 6 at 7:30 p. m. Because we do not live in one of the nation's recognized "critical target areas" many local residents have assumed that we do not have a pressing need for a strong civil defense organization. Actually this is a misconception, shared by many other localities and rural communities—a misconception which the Federal Civil Defense Administration hopes will be cleared away with the national observance of Civil Defense Week, Sept. 9-16. Proof that no locality in the United States is outside a potential danger zone came with the evaluation of the U. S. hydrogen bomb test at Bikini, in March, 1954. That test showed that an area extending 220 miles downwind and varying in width up to 40 miles was contaminated by radioactive fallout in dangerous concentrations. There was sufficient radioactivity in a downwind belt 140 miles in length and varying in width up to 20 miles to have threatened seriously the lives of nearly all persons in the area who did not take protective measures. Civil defense officials see the probability that an actual enemy nuclear attack could leave hundreds of thousands of square miles contaminated. Thus, all of us are in the danger zone—whether we live in a city, a small town, or on a farm. If an enemy should attack our military base in Abilene, radio fallout could endanger every family in this area. Thus, it is clear that we need civil defense just as badly as our city cousins. Only through civil defense, can we obtain information and instruction as to how to face the threat of nuclear warfare, and how to insure the survival of our families. If attack should come, we'll need civil defense's warning system, civil defense instruction and information and civil defense help in dozen other ways. Will our civil defense be strong enough, well-trained, and well-equipped to prevent widespread disaster in our area? The answer is squarely up to us. Civil defense can only be as strong as we, as individuals are ready to make it. If we stand back, waiting for others to do the job, we cannot have a civil defense as efficient as it should be.

There still seems to be considerable interest in dairying even though we have had a severe drouth for the last several years. This was shown by the more than 70 dairymen and others interested in the dairy industry at the twilight dairy meeting last Tuesday night. The meeting was held at the Nash Miers' dairy in the Hobbs community. Dairymen attending the meeting were from Taylor, Nolan, Jones, Haskell, Scurry, Mitchell, Coleman, and other counties.

This was the sixth such event that has been held in the state during the year to stimulate interest in dairying and to present information to dairymen which might enable them to make more money out of their operation.

As everyone knows, roughage is a scarce item these days on most Texas farms and ranches. The prolonged drouth has cut deep into supplies of all roughages and forced stockmen to turn to substitutes whenever possible. A frequent question has to do with the use of cotton burs and gin trash as a maintenance ration and whether or not there is danger of poison from cotton insecticides. The veterinarian says burs and gin trash can be fed and there is little or no danger from poison especially if no insecticides were applied to the cotton plants three to four weeks prior to harvest.

He also reports that complaints have been received that livestock have suffered from prussic acid when fed baled sudan, Johnson grass, hegari or other sorghum hays. He says considerable of these crops were cut at an immature stage and baled before the plants had thoroughly dried and that the excessive moisture inside the bales was causing the trouble. The trouble can be remedied by breaking open the bales and letting the plants dry before feeding them.

Paterson also warns against using urea as a protein supplement where cattle are getting a very small intake of roughage or the forage is of poor quality. He says the animals cannot utilize the urea because of the low intake of carbohydrates, and urea poisoning will result.

The county Sears Gilt Show was held along with the Fair last Saturday. The six 4-H club members that received gilts this Spring or to be commended on the fine job they are doing with their gilts. The results of the show Saturday are: Bradley Brittain, Rotan 1st; Gary Floyd, Rotan, 2nd; Weldon Van Liew, Roby, 3rd; Joel Rains, Rotan, 4th; Horace Wayne Greenway, Rotan, 5th; and R. W. Callan, Rotan, 6th.

Bradley Brittain will represent Fisher County at the Sears Store area show at Sweetwater in September. His gilt will compete with the 1st place winners from the five other counties around the Sweetwater store area.

Optometrist Advises Parents To Watch For Vision Problem

Parents and teachers were urged by the Canyon Reef Optometric Society today to watch for symptoms of vision problems among children returning to school next week.

"Inadequate vision is a far more common cause of school failure and emotion disturbance than is generally recognized," said Dr. J. A. Nesbit of Snyder, president.

Among symptoms of vision problem to look for, according to Doctor Nesbit, are:

Avoiding work requiring good vision at the reading distance.
Losing place while reading.
Holding work closer than normal.
Excessive head movements while reading.

Poor sitting posture and position while reading.

Any child in the bottom third of his school class and any child not performing up to his capacity should have a thorough vision examination, Doctor Nesbit said.

He said that uncorrected vision problems are contributing causes in 50% of all cases of reading failure, according to University of Chicago study.

Official Explains Child-Labor Law To Farmers

Dallas, Aug. 28—Every commercial farmer and grower whose products move in interstate commerce directly or indirectly will become subject to the child-labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act when the autumn school term opens, a Federal spokesman said here today.

This complete change in the legal status of employment of children in agriculture the day local schools open was explained by Regional Director William J. Rogers of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division in Dallas. "This law, he said, exempts growers of agricultural and horticultural products from its $1 minimum wage and overtime provisions, but it specifically prohibits employment of children under 16 years of age in agricultural occupations during hours school is in session in the school district in which they live while working.

"In other words, children of any age may be employed on the farm by the grower in the planting, cultivating, harvesting or handling of agricultural products during vacation periods, on weekends and before and after school. The grower may use his own children in agricultural work at any time and at any age on his own farm."

But he noted that these are federal restrictions. Each of the 48 states has a child-labor law of its own. So he advised growers to consult with state officers, local school attendance officials or study state laws to determine their provisions. When the State child-labor standards are higher than those of the Federal law, the state law should be observed.

"The federal regulations require that each grower subject to it have on file for each employee under 18 a record showing his full name, date of birth, the home address and the local address if the minors are employed on days when school is in session," he said.

Primary purposes of both federal and state child-labor laws, according to Rogers, are to protect children from exploitation, and to encourage them to stay in school and obtain the education that will make them better citizens of tomorrow.

Here are the steps Mr. Rogers said the commercial grower should take to protect himself from unintentional violations:

1. Learn the requirements of both state and federal child-labor laws.
2. Do not employ or permit children under 16 to work in or about the farm or hothouse during hours school is in session.
3. Make sure the youth is of employable age and keep the required records for at least three years.

He emphasized that the federal law applies to all children, whether they reside in the area or are members of migrant worker families. Also that the grower himself is held liable for any violations even though the under-age children were hired and paid by a labor contractor or processor or others.

Rotan Is Proud . . . Of Its Churches

REMEMBER the Sabbath Day to keep it HOLY

IN THE Ten Commandments, which do you suppose gets the larger treatment? Reverent observance of the divine order for a day of rest and of worship gets chief emphasis. A moment's reflection makes the reason clear. The man who does not take time to keep the Sabbath will likely forget to worship the God of his fathers; he who does not reverence God cannot be expected to regard his neighbor and his neighbor's goods. Sabbath observance stands, therefore, at the very center of religion and of morality. Then if you disregard the Sabbath you do it at the peril of your soul!

NOTICE the argument of Moses. God could get His work done in six days, even the creation of a universe and all its creatures. Surely you do not need the seventh day for the lesser tasks of your doing.

YOU are under the command of God; you are a part of His creation; there is nothing more important for you than that you remember God and your relation to Him. The Sabbath is such a time of remembrance. The church bell, the rest from daily toil, the quietness in the busy street, the need of your own soul, unite to remind you of your God and His day. The law giver commanded His people to keep this one day sacred to the Lord; to use it for one's own profit is to rob God of the time which belongs to Him.

HERE is an ancient command, never more important than today. The press of the material and the secular was never more insistent; things want to get in the saddle and ride mankind. Remember the Sabbath; then you will worship God and know that you are the eternal child of the Highest. He who remembers the Sabbath most is most likely to remember to attend his church.

Eye Defects Should Be Corrected Early

Austin—Don't assume that a child will outgrow crossed eyes, warns Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. Crossed eyes are a serious defect. Vision in the crossed eye may fail to develop and the child will grow up without useful sight in that eye. In later years, the eye may straighten and appear normal, yet the person will be partially blind—often without knowing it.

Various factors may be responsible for crossed eyes: near-or far-sightedness, faulty muscles and excessive nervous incoordination; a head blow; heredity or disease. Any one of these may affect the ability of the two eyes to work together, causing one of the eyes to turn in, out, or upward. As a result, the two eyes are unable to focus on the same object at the same time. The youngster sees double, because his crossed eyes view an object from widely different angles. The child is disturbed, but often too young to explain his difficulty. He squints his eyes and tilts his head, unconsciously trying either to combine the two images into one, or simply to ignore one image altogether. But neither attempt succeeds. So he finally gives up trying to see with both eyes. He subconsciously eliminates the image in one eye, now sees only one image, and actually becomes accustomed to "one-eyed" sight.

The longer a child is cross-eyed, the more difficult it is to improve his vision. If treated early—preferably before the age of four—crossed eyes can usually be corrected. Some forms of treatment can be started as early as the age of one year. And even cross-eyed children up to nine or later can occasionally regain normal sight if they receive competent medical treatment. The specialist may first recommend glasses if the youngster is near or far-sighted; in some few cases that alone will do the job.

Exercises for the eye muscles may be used to teach the two eyes to work together again as a team. These do not take the place of surgery or glasses, but are valuable. Sometimes an operation is necessary to line up the crossed eye with the normal one. One operation may be all that's needed, but it sometimes takes two or three before the eyes are exactly straight, since several eye muscles may be involved. Complete correction may take a year or more.

One set of eyes can last a lifetime but it takes responsible care by parents during the years of childhood. Habits formed then will carry over into adulthood.

All you do is set the one illuminated dial and let the washer do the rest... there's no worry about washables like nylon, sheer lingerie and other synthetics. The short wash cycle of one to four minutes is automatically followed by short rinse and spin periods that gives fine clothes the gentle care they need.

Two Local Girls To Enter McMurry

Abilene—Two Rotan young people are planning to enroll as new students at McMurry College this fall, according to Jerome Vannoy, McMurry registrar. They are Alice Jerlene Thomas and Rebecca Strickland. Vannoy said that new applications for admission to the Methodist college are coming in daily, and additional new students from Rotan may enroll on or before Sept. 11-14, the fall registration days. The McMurry registrar said, "All indications point to a 10% in regular student enrollment over last year's record of 786 students." The general rise in college enrollments throughout the nation is reflected in McMurry registration figures, which have risen steadily for the past four years, he said. A new classroom building, now under construction on the McMurry campus will be ready for occupancy in November, and a new girls' dormitory is scheduled for completion in the spring.

National Civil Defense Week, Sept. 9-15

Texans, preparing their observance of National Civil Defense Week, September 9-15, were reminded that their state is no stranger to disaster. "It is one of the 'firsts' of which Texas does not brag that we have more major disasters each year than any other state in the union," William L. McGill, state coordinator of civil defense and disaster relief, said.

Storm, fire, flood and explosion have taken hundreds of Texas lives, injured thousands, dislocated the lives of thousands of others and destroyed property valued at millions of dollars in the last few years, McGill said.

"Unquestionably the toll would have been much greater if it had not been for the training many Texans received in those years in defense and disaster rescue and relief work," McGill added.

Pointing out that this training had been conducted on every level from the smallest community to the top executive organizations of the state government, McGill noted that the lives of every Texan are touched at some point by defense and disaster work.

"National Civil Defense Week is in a way a tribute to all those who have given so unselfishly of their time and efforts in this cause," he said. "These people are members of your family, your neighbors and your friends."

"Whether or not there is an organized observance of Civil Defense Week in your community, it would be most fitting if you would take this occasion to thank the civil defense volunteers for the work they have done."

"Let us all salute the civil defense volunteers who have done such a tremendous job."
