Open District Friday

Indians Suffer Second Loss 29-12

LESS THAN SEVEN yards away from a touchdown Jackie Young (37) turns the corner on an end sweep and behind the blocking of Charles Erwin, moves the ball to the four before being knocked out-of-bounds. The Tribe met defeat for the second time in as many weeks falling to the Clyde Bulldogs 29-12. District play begins this Friday night for the Indians in Anson. Many changes are expected in the Indian team and all area residents are urged to attend the game, which begins at 7:30 p. m. (Staff Photo)

The Haskell Indians fell to a strong Clyde team last Friday night, 29-12. Eight players averaging over 200 pounds opened large holes in the Indian defensive line and, with few exceptions, moved the ball almost at will.

The Tribe received the opening kick-off and kept the ball only three plays before punting. During the first period, the Indians managed only nine offensive plays and were held to a minus-1 yard rushing.

The Bulldogs offense managed only 32 yards total offense and the Tribe held them four plays inside the 20 early in the quarter. With 1:45 left in the first period, Tommy Bailey kicked a 26-yard field goal on a fourth-and-five situation.

63 Decisions Made At City Wide Crusade

The largest City-Wide Crusade in the history of Haskell ended last Sunday evening and less than an hour later workers had taken the large tent down and were packing it.

The tent located on the fair grounds had seating space for 750 and almost every night all seats were taken and many people stood around the edges and some sat in cars to hear Evangelist Edd Robb and music director, Gene Moore.

The Tribe managed their best drive midway in the second period, moving the pigskin 87 yards in 17 plays. Jackie Young carried the ball in from the six with 32 seconds left in the half. PAT was no good and the Tribe held a 6-3 lead at halftime.

The Bulldogs came alive in the third period, scoring three touchdowns and two PAT's to make the score 23-6.

On their first possession during the second half, the Indians managed one first down before punting on a fourth and long yardage situation. With just over two minutes left in the second period, the Tribe began their second and final scoring drive from the 13 yard line.

As the third period ended, Young attempted a quick kick on a third and 20 from the 3-yard line. The ball touched a Clyde player and was recovered by the Tribe on their own 34 yard line.

Eleven plays later Young carried the ball around left end for six points from the two. Two point attempt was no good.

Estimated total attendance at the week-long crusade was 6,450 with several crowds numbering over 900.

General Chairman, Harold Spain, and his workers did an excellent job in coordinating the week's activities and about the only distractions were misquitos which were notably absent after spraying.

A total of 63 public decisions were made during the meeting in which seven local churches and their pastor took active part. Listed as "official" pastors during the meeting were: Kenneth Blair, of Trinity Baptist Church; J. W. Davis, Church of God; R. D. Williams, East Side Baptist Church; Troy Culpepper, First Baptist Church; Robert Wood, Central Baptist Church; Robert Crawley, Four Square Church; and H. O. Abbott, First United Methodist Church.

During the week Rev. Robb and Rev. Moore attended several local civic meetings and visited in several Haskell businesses.

Each night's service was designated such as "old fashion night", "youth night", "old time religion", and "bring a friend night".

The weather throughout the Crusade was beautiful and an aiding factor in the large crowds which attended.

Lions Plan Pancake Supper

Members of the Haskell Lions Club met for their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Haskell Steak House.

Lion President Joe Williams presided at the meeting and Wallace Cox Jr. led the song session accompanied by Lion Sweetheart, Ellen Walling. Lion H. O. Abbott gave the opening prayer.

In a short business meeting, secretary Oscar Tooley gave each member several tickets to the annual pancake supper which will be held October 27, from 5:30 to 7:15 p. m. in the high school lunch room. The tickets may be purchased from any Lions Club member for $1.90 each.

Leo Fields was recognized as the newest member of the club and Bob Grey was introduced by Lion Doyle High as the only guest present.

Program chairman for the day, Darold Roberson, introduced Jackie Young, Game Management Officer for Haskell and Stonewall counties, who spoke to the group on game seasons and regulations.

Young also spoke on the abundance of game throughout Haskell county and reminded both hunters and fishermen of the importance of obeying laws and safety regulations.

Speaking on the possibility of new laws, some of which are now before the legislature, he said that all license fees will probably be raised and several restrictions will be placed on fishing, water skiing and swimming in public lakes.

After his talk, Young answered questions about specific laws and again stressed the importance of safety.

Winners in the first section, grades one thru four, are: 1. Stephen Turnbow; 2. Kimberly Daniels; and 3. Ricky Moeller.

Second section, grades five thru seven, winners are: 1. Katie Wooten; 2. Janet Lynn Phillips; and 3. Tony Grand.

In conjunction with the poster contest and National Fire Prevention Week, Hess Hartsfield of the Hartsfield Agency, presented over 400 kindergarten through third graders with fire prevention materials and requested that parents aid them in a thorough inspection of homes.

Upon completion of the inspection and return of results, each of the youngsters was presented with a Junior Fire Marshall's Helmet. The campaign is sponsored by the Hartford which is represented by Hartsfield.

Cotton Harvest Underway

The 1972 cotton crop is shaping up as a bumper crop in Haskell County and the United States. Local gins have begun operation and more cotton is on the lots each day.

"The most recent cotton crop forecast from the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates production in Texas to reach 3.8 million bales with U. S. production at 13.6 million bales," points out Charles Baker, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"This means a three million bale increase nationwide over last year. In Texas the crop was down to 2.6 million bales in 1971 due to dismal fall harvesting conditions."

Baker explains that this year's increased production stems mainly from increased acreage and good yields in most cotton-producing areas. Favorable prices last fall enticed producers to increase plantings this spring.

"However, the price situation has changed this season, as one might expect," notes the Texas A&M University economist. "Prices have dropped steadily since this spring as forecasts have indicated increased production. Trading has been light as buyers anticipate lower prices and producers expect a return to higher prices."

Many producers are considering the use of Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) loans to hold for better prices in early 1973. According to Baker, this likely will improve prices for qualities that are eligible for the loan.

Taking a look at carryover stocks and cotton disappearance the economist points out that even if all the expected 3 million bale increase is carried over to next August, stocks will still be lower than the 1967 carryover. Baker expects both mill consumption and exports to be slightly higher during the 1972-73 market year so that carryover stocks on August 1, 1973, should total about 5.5 million bales compared to this year's 3.3 million.

Ex-Teacher Returns After 60 Years

Sixty years ago a country school teacher left Haskell County and returned to the State of Alabama where he was born in 1887. Last week, the same man, 85-year-old J. C. Gentry, returned to Haskell for the first time and visited many people he had taught to read and write.

He stopped for gas and decided to try to find some of his ex-students for a short visit. Three days later he was still here and said, "I'm having so much fun I don't know when I'll leave."

After attending the National Convention of Civil Service Workers in Fort Worth, he decided to travel around Texas and then go on to California just before Christmas.

Mr. Gentry made the trip to California last summer but did not drive all the way. "When I got to Colorado, I was afraid I might have trouble driving over the mountains and rode the bus the rest of the way. I have seen the road now and believe that I can drive all the way this year," said Mr. Gentry. He also said that before boarding the bus, he drove to the top of Pike's Peak, probably worse than any road he traveled by bus.

Remarkably young looking at 85, he said that he had always believed in Union hours and most of his life had worked eight hours in the morning and eight hours in the afternoon. He taught school in Haskell County from 1909 to 1912 in the Roberts and Cottonwood communities. Both of the schools had one-room school houses and when there were two teachers a curtain was drawn across the room forming two class rooms. During that time there were about 80-90 students in the Roberts School.

He also taught for about three months in the Haskell School, filling the term of a teacher that left before the school year ended. It was about 12 miles from his home near Roberts to the school in Haskell, and to arrive in time, by horse and buggy, for eight o'clock classes he had to leave about four a. m. At the same time he was teaching in Haskell he also had a small farm which he says, "occupied my spare time."

"I was surprised to find an automobile in Haskell County, and so far as I know, there was only one. It was owned by a doctor named Roberson and was always a topic of conversation and speculation. The few times it wasn't broke down, it was usually stuck in the mud," said Gentry.

He said that today's youth are no different than those he taught 60 years ago with the exception that today's younger generation is better informed and takes more interest in today's happenings. "There was long hair and beards 60 years ago, but we didn't have mini-skirts then," said Gentry, who added with a chuckle, "You wouldn't believe the ruckus that was stirred up when girls started wearing skirts that exposed their ankles."

Late Wednesday afternoon he tried to find the Roberts school house. "I didn't find the school house, but the playground is now a cemetery," said Gentry.

The father of three daughters and one son, he said that the girls do not like for him to drive all over the country but his son approves if he leaves his phone number at each of the motels in which he stays and instructions about whom to call in case of accident or illness.

J. C. GENTRY of Mobile, Ala., looks at a picture of the class at Roberts School in 1912. Gentry taught at the small school more than 60 years ago and returned to Haskell last week for a short visit with old friends before continuing on to California. (Staff Photo)

Recognize The Gimmicks; Guard Your Money

Consumers in the United States lose about four billion dollars a year through gyps and fraud, warns Mrs. Barbara Elliott, County Home Demonstration agent. Guard your money against fraud. Learn to recognize gimmicks the swindler uses to get your attention.

A popular gimmick, says Mrs. Elliott is the promise of a "free gift." But remember, very few things are really free with no strings attached. Businessmen who make a habit of giving away free goods can't make a profit or stay in business.

Another attention-getter is "you have been selected." This makes a person feel special, but don't be fooled, warns Mrs. Elliott. You may be selected because your name is next in the telephone book or your house is next on the block.

Watch for pressure to "buy now or lose the chance." The schemer may be trying to pressure you into a questionable deal. The reliable dealer gives you time to think about it.

Be careful about stores that regularly advertise "Lowest prices in town," "Never under-sold" and "75 percent off." These could be legitimate deals. But remember, you usually get no better quality than you pay for.

Keep in mind that Texas law makes it illegal to deliberately deceive customers. Governmental agencies exist to protect your rights.

More information on protection against fraud is available from the County Extension Office.

Now Largest Youth Group 5 Million Celebrate 4 - H Week

SPECIAL - Five million 4-H'ers and a half million volunteer leaders, all over the country, will be celebrating 1972 National 4-H Week, October 1-7, with the knowledge that 4-H is now America's largest youth organization.

National 4-H Week is a time for re-evaluation among 4-H'ers, their leaders and friends of 4-H. The theme of this year's National 4-H Week, "A New Day - A New Way", denoted a spirit that will help 4-H'ers "to make the best better" in new and different ways to meet the challenges of the new day of the 70's.

There's a new spirit in 4-H today. A spirit of pioneering, just like the men and women who worked with 4-H, in its early days after the turn of the century. Then 4-H was centered around farm related activities, such as canning, corn growing and poultry raising, in a few Southern and Midwestern states. Today, coordinated by the Cooperative Extension Service, and aided by corporations, businesses and foundations through the National 4-H Service Committee, 4-H has spread into all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam and in 85 countries around the world.

4-H is found, not just in rural areas, but in major urban centers like Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Houston, Indianapolis, Atlanta and Los Angeles.

4-H members still enjoy the traditional programs like clothing, food-nutrition, agriculture, livestock and crop production. But many traditional programs have been updated and new programs created so that members can deal with the new day of the 70's, in new ways - ways that appeal to them and that get them involved. Through programs like conservation of natural resources, consumer education, home environment, commodity marketing, health, safety and petroleum power, 4-H'ers get a better understanding of today's problems, and how they, as young people can help solve them. Young people also use the skills they acquire through 4-H public speaking, photography, demonstrating and leadership - to help their communities solve problems.

Learning to solve problems, by doing, is what 4-H is all about. And that spirit of 4-H'ers helping to tackle the problems of the 70's is what 1972 National 4-H Week is all about. For information on the 4-H program in this area and how to participate as a member or a volunteer leader, contact the county extension office.

Farm Trailer Legislation Is Introduced In House, Senate

Texas Farm Bureau favors the principles embodied in the Moncrief Bill on farm trailer light and brake requirements, a spokesman told a Legislative committee recently.

Pat Smith, TFB director of state affairs, testified Thursday, Sept. 28, before the Senate committee on Natural Resources and is scheduled to present the organization's testimony before the House Committee on Motor Transportation Monday, October 2.

The Moncrief Bill was developed by an Interim Study Committee chaired by Rep. Mike Moncrief of Ft. Worth. Texas Farm Bureau President J. T. Woodson was a lay member of the committee.

The Moncrief Bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives as House Bill 1 and House Bill 2.

Senator Wayne Connally of Floresville has introduced the same legislation in the Senate as Senate Bill 20 and Senate Bill 21.

Smith told the legislators that voting delegates at the Texas Farm Bureau convention held last November in Amarillo were unanimous in their declaration that farm trailer brake and light regulations adopted by the 62nd Legislature as a part of Senate Bill 183 are much too harsh and impractical.

"These regulations fail to recognize or take into consideration the excellent safety record of farm trailers, the highly seasonal use of farm trailers, or the unusually punishing cir-

Farm Bureau Requests Support

Texas Farm Bureau President J. T. (Red) Woodson has requested Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz to authorize a price support program for cottonseed to assist in the marketing of this year's crop.

Present farm legislation provides authority for such price supports, but the program is not now operative.

"Cotton producers are having problems with marketin gtheir 1972 crop," Woodson wired Secretary Butz. "In addition to the depressed market for fiber, the price to farmers for cottonseed appears to be out of line when compared to the cost of cottonseed meal for livestock feed."

The president of the 130,000-member farm organization urged Butz "to exercise your authority to offer a price support program for cottonseed to producers in order to provide more orderly marketing for the 1972 crop."

If the Secretary decides to provide supports for this commodity, he is required by law to set the price support at a level that is competitive with other oilseed crops.

Texas cotton farmers received an average $44 per ton for their cottonseed in late September, according to the USDA. This amounts to 52.6 percent of parity.

up any lights or wiring installed on them. When a load of cotton or grain is ready to go to the gin or elevator is no time to stop and rewire the lighting system," he said.

The original cost of installing lights on farm trailers is not the critical factor, Smith said. "It is the cost of maintaining lights in good working order that becomes critical in terms of time, money and frustration."

"We recognize that farm trailers should and must have lights if they are operated on busy highways at night," Smith said. "However, there is no real justification for requiring lights for daytime operations."

The cost of installing brakes on all axles as required by Senate Bill 183 is proving to be excessive "simply because the cost is very often exceeding the actual value of the trailer itself," Smith pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Reid were in Lubbock over the weekend recently to see a football game. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Jake Snodgrass.

Eda Fay Pounds of Knox City Care Home visited Rochester friends Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Webb of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hicks over the weekend.

Mrs. Effie Lou Hollingsworth visited Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hollingsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Sloan, Scott and Lance of Chillicothe visited Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sloan and family and Mrs. Edna Adkins. The boys remained for a visit until Tuesday.

Check Guarantees Before Purchasing

Help your home equipment give good service by being cautious about guarantees and repair service, says Mrs. Barbara Elliott, County Extension Agent. Compare guarantees just as you compare products, suggests Mrs. Elliott. Look for these points.

* What is guaranteed? Is it the entire product or only certain parts? Is labor included? * How long does the guarantee last? Sometimes the entire product is guaranteed for a certain period, with specific parts guaranteed for an additional length of time.

* Who is responsible for repairing the product? Is it the manufacturer, the dealer, or a service center? Does the product have to be delivered or shipped elsewhere to get service?

For repair, go to a factory authorized repair service, cautions Mrs. Elliott. They should be familiar with, and have replacement parts for, your particular piece of equipment. Keep in mind there are many brands of equipment on the market. Most repairmen know only one or two brands well.

More information on guarantees and repair service is available from the County Extension Office.

SAGERTON NEWS

Mrs. Herbert Bosse of near Stamford brought a very interesting program to the monthly meeting of the L.O.C. Home Demonstration Club, Oct. 5, in the home of Mrs. Lewis Corzine. She showed slides of her many varieties of day lilies and told how to care for them. She then discussed arranging flowers and gave tips to the group on making arrangements. Mrs. Carl Lunn of Stamford was also a guest and brought an arrangement made from castor bean seeds and wild carrots.

Mrs. Corzine presided over the business meeting. Nine members and two guests were present.

The regular monthly meeting of the Sagerton Community will be held Oct. 19 and a chili supper will be served beginning at 6:30 for early comers and later for those that are stripping cotton. Chili (homemade) and Frito bags will be shown following. Pastor and Mrs. Joe Aalbu are in charge of the program for this month. Next month a second Sagerton Hee-Haw is being planned together with a Fun Festival for Nov. 4. Everyone is invited to come and join the fun each time. The money raised goes to the upkeep of the Community Center.

The Sagerton U.M.Y.F. group and their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hull, enjoyed last weekend in Dallas. They attended the football game between S.M.U. and N. M. State and then on Sunday after attending services at the First Methodist Church in Irving, they went to Six Flags. Those attending with the sponsors were: Yvonne Meiers, Jill Le-Fevre, Kathy Wendeborn and Chad, Bobby, Mike and Pat Hulls. Mrs. Delbert LeFevre visited with the Mike Bailey family in Bedford last week. Rob and Rus came home with her. Rob had the mumps while he was visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cornelison of Lewisville visited with the August Balzers last weekend.

Mrs. John Clark went to Holiday during the week to visit with relatives.

Mrs. Cliff LeFevre and Mrs. Reece Clark went to Wortham Saturday and Sunday to visit with relatives.

The people of our community extend their sincere sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. David Letz and family and Mrs. Edwin Thane in the death of Edwin Thane, who passed away at his home suddenly Friday morning. Pastor and Mrs. Joe Aalbu were in College Station the latter part of the week for the Town and Country Conference at which Pastor Aalbu received an award for being one of runners-up in the Texas Rural Minister of the Year.

REPORT CARDS

Last Wednesday the Rochester students received their first report cards for this year. Some were happy with their cards, others will have to do better to keep parents and teachers happy. But with 6 weeks tests over and report cards received, everyone will settle down to making better reports for the next six weeks.

Home Demonstration Clubs Offer New And Better Ways to Do Things

"If you like to learn new and better ways to do things, then try joining a home demonstration club," said Mrs. Barbara Elliott, County Extension Agent in Haskell.

The agent said that home demonstration clubs offer an opportunity for the homemaker to learn the latest information about home and family life.

Anyone may join a club. Any person interested in improving home and community life is eligible for membership, according to Mrs. Elliott.

"A home demonstration club is a group of homemakers who learn together," Mrs. Elliott said. "Members help determine and develop ideas for programs.

Members take part in discussions, participate in club-sponsored community projects and even teach lessons at meetings. The club meets monthly. Elected officers conduct a short business session. The agent pointed out that it's not necessary to join a club to learn about homemaking.

"You can participate in short courses, workshops, special meetings and tours sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service," she said.

A less formal group is the Extension home economics study group which meets fewer times annually. It often has a series of programs about a single subject matter area. An Extension home economics study group may either have elected officers or only a chairman who directs business that arises.

"There are no required dues for membership," Mrs. Elliott explained. "Your major investment is your time to learn and share new information. Clubs have fund-raising projects to support special activities. And no charge is made for instruction from the county home demonstration agent."

She said that if there's no club in your area, you may form one. A small group with similar interests may either be a regular home demonstration club or an Extension home economics study group.

"If you'd like to form your own club or group, let me know and I'll help you organize one," Mrs. Elliott said.

Contact her by writing or calling the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Haskell, Texas at Box 693.

Former Haskell Homemaking Teacher To Receive Service Award

Lucille Watson of Canton, who taught homemaking in Haskell 1949-53, will receive the Distinguished Service Award for 1972.

County Extension Agent in Van Zandt County, she is one of six chosen to receive the award which is the highest honor given by the National Association of Extension Home Economists.

According to Mrs. Beatrice Rubenstein of Bellville, awards committee chairman for the Texas Association of Extension Home Economists, the nomination recognized the agent's "proven ability as a leader, organizer and education in 4-H as well as adult Extension work."

Miss Watson and home demonstration club leaders in the county planned for and provided leadership for the conversion of two abandoned school buildings in the county into day care centers.

She is a 16-year veteran of Extension work, having served as association home demonstration agent in Hill County and as county home demonstration agent in Pecos, Bosque and Brown counties before moving to her present position.

She holds B.B., B.S. and M.A. degrees from Texas Woman's University.

Basic Education Classes Open For Enrollment

The Haskell Adult School is for any one who has not completed their high school education but desires to do so. There are three levels in which one may enroll. 1, for anyone who has never attended school or has not completed the third grade; 2, for anyone who has completed the third grade, but has not completed Elementary School 3, for anyone who has completed Elementary School but did not graduate from High School.

There are many adults today that have entered into this program and have gone on to receive their High School Equivalency Diploma. This opens up many new doors for those who have done this, such as earning more money in pay raises; entering into college; passing exams where they are required by Civil Service, State Licenses and many other opportunities for the betterment of one's self.

These classes are being taught by Miss Brenda Casey, who teaches in the Public School System at Rule, and Dr. Robert G. Wood, pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Haskell.

The school is also teaching Driver Education for those who do not possess a valid Texas driver's license. They will teach you how to pass the written test and how to be a safe driver. By taking the Driver Education and completing it, insurance companies give a 10% reduction in the cost of a policy.

Texans Travel 72 Billion Miles

Average daily traffic on the State-maintained highway system in Texas surged ahead by at least 7% in each of the three summer months, the Texas Highway Department reported today.

Traffic volumes on the State's highways as computed from readings at selected automatic traffic recorders was up 8.0% in June, 7.1% in July and 8.0% in August.

Since the first of the year, other monthly increases, compared to the same month last year have looked like this: Jan., 4.7%; Feb., 5.6%; March, 10.9%; April, 2.1%, and May 4.6%.

Comparing traffic volumes for Saturdays, Sundays and weekdays for the three summer months, the biggest increase was on Sundays in July with the average traffic volumes up 9.2% from last year.

The highest average daily traffic volume recorded in August at an automatic recorder maintained by the Highway Department was 163,517 vehicles on IH 610 (West Loop), 1.4 miles south of IH 10 in Houston. That was up 10.1% over the same month last year.

In terms of miles traveled each year, the figures for Texas can be described only as astronomical. In 1971 Texans rolled up almost 72 billion vehicle miles, the equivalent of 150,000 round trip flights to the moon. Auto travel in 1971 registered an increase of 5.7% more miles traveled than the year before.

The continued increases in traffic volumes throughout the State underline the observance of Highway Week in Texas, September 24-30. Officially proclaimed by the governor, Highway Week, this year has a theme of "Highways Help People."

Learn By Doing Is 4-H Creed

"Learning by doing" is the central creed of 4-H work. Members get involved in projects and activities that enable them to learn skills and attitudes that will help them in their adult life. Through community service projects, working with the mentally retarded and the physically handicapped, aiding law enforcement agencies and environmental groups, 4-H members, in urban and rural areas, are helping to make this a better place in which to live.

President Nixon underscored that when he addressed the 50th National 4-H Congress last year.

"Young people today, every survey shows, are more generously committed to human betterment through voluntary service than any generation before you." "Your own work in 4-H," the President added, "has shown what mountains that commitment can move."

4-H recognizes annually those outstanding members who have displayed high citizenship achievements and concern for others. The Cooperative Extension Service selects an outstanding boy and girl who epitomizes this excellence in citizenship.

Two 4-H members receive $600 scholarships, an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30, and they also receive a silver tray, given in the name of the President of the United States.

The citizenship program was established in memory of Thomas E. Wilson, a pioneer Chicago meat packing executive, who served as president of the National 4-H Service Committee for 34 years.

Willie Johnson of Chicago, and Deborah Bell, of Sylvania, Ga., were the 1971 winners. This year's two winners will be selected from nearly 100 nominees—a boy and a girl per state—with announcement made during the National 4-H Congress.

For information about the 4-H citizenship program, contact the county extension office.

Center Point HDC Plans Programs

The Center Point Home Demonstration Club met October 12 in the home of Mrs. Alvis Bird.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Wilbert Klose at 3:00 p. m. Roll call was answered by nine members. Three visitors were recognized. Mrs. Mack Matthews, Mrs. R. W. Woodson and Mrs. Othor Meeks.

Council report was given by Mrs. Buck Bland. She reported on the Lone Star Gas Company Christmas program, and the annual Achievement Day was discussed. Club members voted to have the Tour of Homes and Achievement Day at a later date. This will be voted on at the next Council meeting by all Home Demonstration Clubs.

Mrs. Wilbert Klose and Mrs. Alvis Bird were in charge of the program, "Sewing New Fabrics", which was enjoyed by all present.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We reprint this letter from Dr.
 Harry Saries in order that our readers may be informed of his progress following surgery.)

October 3, 1972
 Dear Family and Friends:
 By courtesy of the excellent staff in Gene's department I am writing you in this way to express my sincere thanks for your support in what has been a most trying situation for Karveletta and me.

You probably know that her condition preceded mine as far as making itself known was concerned. She developed an inflammation of the lining of the G. I. tract. She was quite ill for 3 weeks before we left Haskell and was unable to stay in Coleman more than a day. I brought her to John Sealy. She had three weeks in this great medical center where the finest in medical skill and dedication has relieved her. She is now convalescing with our daughter and son-in-law in Austin, the William L. Rutherford at 1812 Cedar Ridge, Zip 78741.

My problem has undoubtedly been of longer standing, though unknown to me. I had a disc that had compressed into the spinal column and caused nerves to be distressed to the point of near paralysis in the right leg and foot.
 But thanks to the "cream of the crop" of the 700 doctors of the staff of this medical center I have been successfully operated and look forward to living a normal life. The ministrations of these people, many of the 5,000 employees, not to mention numerous of the 600 medical students have sympathized with me, helped me and comforted me.

On Thursday, September 21, Dr. George Tindall removed the disc. The day following surgery I sat up and swung my feet on the side of the bed. The second day with the aid of a nurse I walked around the room. The third day with no one helping me at all I walked in the corridor. There has been a minimum of pain since surgery. I had one hypo, two Em-pirin 3, and a few Darvons. I am dictating this on Wednesday, Sept. 27. It has been several days since I had any medical attention at all.

Our future plans line up as follows. On Saturday morning I will go to Gene and Martha Jane's house for a few days.
 After a week the Rutherford will come and get me in their car. I will prop-up with pillows to avoid any great jar and upon arriving at their house I will spend another couple of weeks convalescing.

Then I expect to preach the Reformation Day sermon on October 29th in our fine little church in Coleman. I will of course take things a little easier for a while and will not do any heavy plowing. I will come back to be inspected by the doctors as an outpatient 6 weeks after the surgery.

I am eternally grateful to the hand of the good Lord and the skilled hands of these great physicians. I am also grateful to you, who through your cards, phone calls, flowers and many expressions of concern have assured me that I am not forgotten. Be sure of my eternal gratitude.

The manee in Coleman is at 200 Palestine and the Church is at 400 College. Our Post Office Box is 918 and the Zip is 78834.
 Let us hear from you or better yet see you in person.
 With sincere good wishes for each of you and undying affection,
 —Harry Saries

CARD OF THANKS
 I would like to express my appreciation to the doctors and the entire staff at the hospital for the wonderful care I received while I was in the hospital and to Bro. Copeland, Bro.
 Williams and Bro. Culpepper for their visits and prayers. For each one that was so sweet to visit with me and thanks so much for all the pretty flowers and cards. For relatives and friends I just cannot express in words how much it was all appreciated. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.
 Sincerely, Grace Andrews. 42p

CARD OF THANKS
 The prayers uttered, the gifts, flowers, cards, and concern for my well-being while I was in the hospital were deeply appreciated. Thank all you dear people.—Jan Eastland. 42p

2 Ways to Solve Living Problems

When swamped with family living problems, you can always count on ten and hope they vanish, or you can join a home demonstration club.

"Home Demonstration clubs are open to all homemakers who would like to learn better ways to tackle chores and improve both home and community life," Mrs. Barbara Elliott, County Extension Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Mrs. Elliott explained that the Extension Service sponsors the clubs as part of a state-wide educational effort to bring the latest information to all fam-iles. Local clubs focus on the needs of homemakers in that particular county.

"Members decide what their group will study," the home demonstration agent said. They participate in discussions and community projects sponsored by the club, plan recreation and even teach lessons.

"Dues aren't required, so cost is minimal," she added.
 "The major investment is time to learn and share new information."

New information covers discovering what's new for your home and family, learning the "how to's" of homemaking plus exploring what you're interested in. Information also comes from educational and research resources of Texas A&M University, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and other universities, agencies and industries through Mrs. Elliott's office.

Mrs. Elliott pointed out that homemakers don't have to belong to a club to join learning activities. Short courses, workshops, tours, meetings at area, precinct and county levels, are open to the public.

"Or you can get the latest information from Extension through newspapers, television, or radio, or by simply contacting my office."

She said that the Extension home economics study group is another less formal organization. It offers programs in both single and multiple subject matter areas.

If interested in joining a home economics group or home demonstration club, contact the local Extension office at Box 683, Haskell, Texas 78621.

WASHINGTON
 "As it looks from here"
OMAR DULESON
 Congressman
 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In this space of September 14, 1972, reference was made to visits to North Vietnam by Jane Fonda and others whose radio broadcasts have no doubt given comfort and encouragement to the communists we are fighting in South Vietnam.

Those of us here in the Congress who are incensed and deeply concerned with these actions are introducing legislation for the purpose of preventing unauthorized travel by United States citizens to any country engaged in armed conflict with our military fore-es.

In a way the "Horse is out of the barn" but it is time to close the door in an effort to prevent these future harmful actions.

There are existing prohibitions on U. S. citizens receiving a United States passport to travel in countries considered enemies but they have been interpreted as not effective.
 Jane Fonda and others used a special travel permit issued by the government of North Vietnam to travel in that country without the necessity of being issued a United States passport.

There appears reluctance on the part of the Justice Department to seek an indictment against her and others for sed-ition and treason for their pernicious broadcasts to U. S. servicemen over Radio Hanoi.
 The Justice Department may be right in view of the fact that evidentiary requirements for successful prosecution are no doubt difficult.

Other U. S. citizens, including Ramsey Clark, engaged in activities in North Vietnam which are inimical to the interest of our Nation.

In view of this situation, it seems the only way to prevent such future excursions is to prohibit travel to any nation with which the United States is engaged in armed conflict.

The Bill being introduced, which amends the Internal Security Act, simply says "The President may restrict travel by citizens and nationals of the United States to, in, or through any country or area whose military forces are engaged in armed conflict with the military forces of the United States. Such restrictions shall be announced by public notice which shall be published in the Federal Register. Travel to such restricted country or area by any person may be authorized by the President when he deems such travel to be in the national interest. It shall be unlawful for any citizen or national of the United States willfully and without such authorization to travel to, in, or through any country or area to which travel is restricted pursuant to this succection."

If this measure can be enacted into law, it would limit the right of travel by American citizens but only in a very limited way. Flexibility is provided to authorize the President to grant exceptions should he find that it serves a useful purpose to the Nation. It is recognized that there might be unusual circumstances when restrictions imposed could be relaxed for a specific purpose.

Jane Fonda and others who broadcast from Hanoi upheld the communists' side with no criticism for the wanton murders of South Vietnamese by the North Vietnamese communists. Both Miss Fonda and Ramsey Clark testified that our bombers had intentionally brought destruction to dikes and dams in North Vietnam, which are necessary to protect their land and people. Evidently they were led around by the communists and shown broken dikes controlling the flood waters of the Red River. Other people who have been there, including reporters from reputable newspapers, call attention to the fact that thousands of pheasants drowned or died of famine in 1954. The dikes are in worse shape this year because of a shortage of manpower which has been diverted to rebuild roads to South Vietnam over which war supplies are routed.

Robert Hotz, editor of Aviation Week Magazine, noted in August, 1971, that there were broken dikes where there had been no bombing in more than three years. In a recorded interview in Hanoi, Ramsey Clark reported that air strikes had caused massive destruction and deplored American air strikes. But Mr. Hotz writes, "the easiest explanation for the population that will die and suffer in the ensuing floods which occur in September and October is that the disaster is caused by American bombing." He ended his articles by saying, "This is another enormous lie."

CONSERVATION POINTS

Conservationist
C. YEARY, JR.

No-tillage farming can be done simply by drilling small grains (if you have the allotment and have not already seeded) directly into cotton stalks following stripping without even shredding the stalks. Immediately following grain harvest next spring, a chemical application and planting maize in undisturbed grain stubble actually gives you three crops in two years.

Do your yields drop off in a dry year when you could profit on them the most?

No-tillage farming can increase your yields. It isn't necessary to sacrifice your fields, or even settle for yields equal to conventional farming methods. No-tillage test plots and test fields have been out-yielding their conventional check plots regularly in recent years.

Does the weather often delay your tilling, planting, crop-care, or harvest operations? No-tillage farming can help you stay on schedule with every cropping operation. You can plant earlier because you don't have to spend time plowing, discing and harrowing to prepare a seedbed. You can get more acres planted by the optimum planting date, especially in wet years when normal tillage operations are delayed. The sod, stubble or much cover on a no-tillage seedbed lets you get back into the field faster following a heavy rain. That same ground-cover keeps your fertilization, weed control and insect control operations on schedule.

Let your Soil Conservation Service Conservationist discuss no-tillage methods with you. Weigh the facts. Consider the costs of conventional versus no-tillage farming.

Explained lately costs of machinery, labor, and the cost of establishing crop?

Can reduce costs. Chemicals mechanical farming.

Application can double-cropping easier. Valuable moisture and growing time, which are lost in conventional seedbed preparation, are put to good use in no-tillage practices. This moisture bonus has been just the margin necessary to take the gamble out of many double-cropping programs in our area, where the chances of a drought arresting the second crop have limited the practice.

Yet there is only one time during the year when you need a lot of power—and you eliminate that time when you make the decision to stop plowing and switch to no-tillage farming.

Would two crops in one year or three crops in two years improve your competitive position?

No-tillage farming makes double-cropping easier. Valuable moisture and growing time, which are lost in conventional seedbed preparation, are put to good use in no-tillage practices. This moisture bonus has been just the margin necessary to take the gamble out of many double-cropping programs in our area, where the chances of a drought arresting the second crop have limited the practice.
