Rivercrest Rebels Lose Close Game With Cooper

By Britt Morgan

Rivercrest High School, Rebel Stadium, Johntown, Texas. A war was fought here last Friday night. Not a war with guns and tanks, a war of wits. A battle of chance, of being in the right place at the right time. A guessing game. A defensive battle. A guess of where the ball is going next. And when the dust had cleared and stands began emptying, the scoreboard read through the haze, Rivercrest 0, Cooper 7. A battle of defenses had taken place and the Cooper Bulldogs had won. The Dogs' defense had held the Rebels to 36 yards total offense and five first downs. But the Rebs had relinquished 235 yards and a touchdown. On Rivercrest's first possession of the ball, with second down and eight, the football shot out from the center like a rocket, and Cooper came up with the ball on the Rebels 10 yard line. On the first play, Ronald Morris took the ball those ten yards for the game's only score with 8:55 left in the first quarter. Cooper was leading 7-0. A lead they would not give up. The rest of the half was an exchange of punts with the only highlight coming when Wade Cline pounced on a loose Cooper football at Cooper 43 yard line. The Rebels then took the ball to Coopers 14 before turning it over on downs. On third down and six, quarterback, Keith Bowles, hit Morris on a pass and Morris, one of the fastest players in Class AA, outdistanced everyone for a touch down. But a clipping penalty brought the ball back to the Bulldog's 34 yard line, where the Dogs could do nothing except throw a last second "Hail Mary" bomb incomplete.

After a Rivercrest punt, Cooper drove from their own 43 yard line to Rivercrest's 2 yard line where the Rebs' defense held the Bulldogs.

Cooper attempted a field goal which was deflected by the Rebel line. Rivercrest then put two plays into the line for no gain and quarterback James Strickland went to the air, only to be intercepted. The Rebs held Cooper to a punt, and then tried to get a drive going only to be intercepted again on a third and ten play. The Rebels got one more chance the next play when Bradley Moore scooped up a Cooper fumble on RHS's 32 yard line. The Rivercrest express seemed stalled again with a fourth down and eight, when Strickland hit Craig Clemmons for a 20 yard pass completion. But four downs later, Cooper had possession of the ball again and they just let the clock run out.

Head Coach Milford Groves said the defense played a good game with Bradley Moore, Stan Wood, James Strickland, Jerry Merchant, and Damon Ward turning in excellent defensive performances. The Rebs travel to Pattonville to take on long-time rivals Prairie Land Patriots next Friday in what will probably prove to be a bitter battle.

Footprints From The Past

By John W. Hood

The fall of the year and gathering of harvests is also the time that traditionally farmers and others have taken a break from work and had a celebration.

When I was small it was always the time to go to all the county fairs and the rodeos that were then part of the carnivals.

I remember when the Lamar County Fair was held each fall and we all thought that the sights on the Midway were the finest. There were fat ladies, snake charmers, two headed calves and the "girlie" shows that us small boys were not supposed to see, but always managed to slip into. Once there, we were usually disappointed!

When I was a teenager I would pick cotton all week to make enough money to take my best girl to the fair and show her the sights.

I always tried to impress her by knocking down little dolls with a baseball and winning her a doll or some kind of stuffed animal.

Then we would ride one of the thrill rides. When the carnival was over and they started to tear down to go on to the next town we would go back to the truck that the kids had all hired to take us to the fair and then get home about one or two in the morning, tired, broke and happy.

There were always rodeos back the, traveling around the county. They would have a few old horses and try to get some local bulls that would buck. All of us "cowboys" were always ready to try and ride anything. I have two broken fingers and a broken nose to show for the rides I attempted.

Along with these carnivals and rodeos would come horse traders each fall. They had a string of worn out mules and horses. They would open for business in some small corral, and set up to trade. Farmers loved to trade mules and horses about as much as they did knives. Back then everyone had a knife to trade, or a horse or mule. Without that, you didn't have much. Cash wasn't all that important.

All in all autumn was an exciting time then, and hopes were high for the cash from crops and trades and fun that could be had.

S&WCD Director Election Set

An election for a director to serve in Zone 3 on the Red River county Soil and Water Conservation District Board is scheduled for October 8th in the exhibit building at the fair grounds announced James Pearce, Chairman of the Board. The election will be held at 7:30 p.m.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director's election, a person must own agricultural land within the subdivision where the election is being held. The person must also live in Red River County and the voter must be 18 years old.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he represents, be 18 years of age and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He must also live in Red River County. Zone 3 of the district includes the southeast part of Red River County. It is bounded on the north by U.S. Highway 82 and on the west by F.M. 412 to Turner's Lake and then south to Sulphur River.

E.H. (Erick) Hausler is currently serving as director in this zone. Hausler was appointed to the board in January, 1979. Other members of the board of directors of the Red River County SWCD are: James Pearce, Chairman; W.H. Hammer, vice-chairman; Jack Franklin, secretary and David Jackson.

The directors have a regular monthly meeting each second Monday and eight to ten special meetings during the year. All directors are expected to attend the regular meetings and may also attend the state and area association meetings.

The purpose of the Red River County SWCD, with headquarters in Clarksville is to promote soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranch ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The district board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purpose. All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Talco-Bogata Trustees Honored

An appreciation dinner honoring the Talco-Bogata Board of Trustees and their wives was held Tuesday night, September 8, in the Rivercrest Cafeteria. This was hosted by the Talco-Bogata TSTA and all school personnel were invited to attend. Frank Stubblefield, president of the local TSTA, was in charge of the program. Board members were introduced by Mr. Talmadge Morgan. Principals from the three campuses introduced their employees. The purpose of the dinner was to get acquainted and to let the board know they are appreciated for their hard work.

Table decorations carried out an autumn theme with fall leaves placed down the center of the tables. Flowers of orange and yellow were scattered on the tables. The meeting was well attended and concluded with get-acquainted chats.

Rivercrest FHA Presents Skit To Begin Year

A skit, "Why Should I Join FHA?" was presented by members Sandra Spencer and Jill Hanks during the first meeting of the year recently. In answer to Jill's question, a mysterious voice advised her that membership in FHA is an investment. In return for an investment of time and money, the individual will become a part of an active organization and be involved in worthwhile services for the school and community.

It was also pointed out that FHA activities are designed to help members find out things about themselves, to make decisions, and to do things for other people. FHA is also a fun organization with plans for recreation as well as interesting programs and projects.

In conclusion, Jill decided to join FHA and become involved. Future Homemakers of America is an integral part of the homemaking program. Any student who is taking homemaking or has previously been enrolled in a homemaking class is eligible to become a member. Meetings are held at 9:30 a.m. on the second Tuesday of each month.

Football Program Can Help Women

"Answers for the Football Widow," a short program for women interested in learning about football, will be presented by Paris Junior College's Center for Women on Thursday, Sept. 24, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in Room 92 of the Rheadasil Learning Center. Mercedes Gardner, who has written columns and features on the sport, will teach the free short course for area women.

The informal program will include "everything you always wanted to know about football" and questions will be answered concerning what the line of scrimmage is, definitions of a middle linebacker and other football terminology. Handouts will be distributed to those attending.

Mrs. Gardner, a native of Deport, retired from a job with Champion Papers Inc. at the age of 65 and applied for office work at the Lamar County Echo. She was hired as a news writer and wrote features on the Dallas Cowboys each season. During the 1978 season, she wrote a weekly column,

"Sidelines by Sara," and later changed the name to "Sara on the Sidelines" when a sports newspaper in Atlanta, Ga., asked her to write a column.

The writer has been featured in the Dallas Morning News, and Pro1, the National Football League official publication, asked her to write an open forum article on profootball and the Dallas Cowboys. She was a guest in the press box at Texas Stadium for the 1980 Thanksgiving game with the Seattle Seahawks.

Why gas is plentiful:

50% of the Gas

There are thousands of square miles of natural gas formations in these nine basins. Industry experts estimate that these basins hold 50% of the nation's remaining onshore reserves. Lone Star's pipeline system extends to eight of them, which should give you a nice warm feeling for many a long winter. It's another reason to be glad you're served by the Lone Star system.

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize cities, towns and other taxing units to grant exemptions from ad valorem taxes on an unproductive, undeveloped or blighted area in order to encourage its development. The amendment would also allow the legislature to authorize a city or town to issue bonds or notes to finance this development and to pledge future increases in ad valorem tax revenues from the property in such areas to repay these bonds or notes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize cities, towns, and other taxing units to encourage the improvement, development, or redevelopment of certain areas through property tax relief and the issuance of bonds and notes."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

The person must have a properly recorded deed to the land, which he acquired without knowledge of the patent defect and which title he and his predecessors in interest have held for at least 50 years. The person and his predecessors in interest must have continuously claimed the land and paid the taxes for at least 50 years.

This amendment does not apply to beach land, submerged land, or islands. An applicant may not use this provision to resolve a boundary dispute. This amendment will not apply to land which has been determined to be state-owned by a court of competent jurisdiction or that has a productive state mineral lease on the effective date of the amendment.

above the spending limit provided by Article VIII, Section 22, of the Texas Constitution would be placed in a Water Assistance Fund to be used as provided by law, including projects for water development and conservation, water quality enhancement, and flood control purposes or any combination of these purposes.

The amendment also provides $500,000,000 of the general credit of the state to guarantee bonds issued in commercial markets by local political subdivisions, including cities, counties, and special districts. The amendment allows amounts to be established to decrease or retire state debt, which is defined as that debt secured by the full faith and credit of the state. The amendment would raise the interest that could be paid on authorized, but unissued, bonds guaranteed by the full faith and credit of the state from 6% to 12%.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the use of a portion of the excess revenues of the state for water development, water conservation, water quality enhancement, and flood control purposes; authorizing the use of the state's credit, not to exceed five hundred million dollars, to guarantee the bonds of cities, counties, towns, and other units of local government in the financing of projects for such purposes; increasing the interest rate that may be paid on previously approved, but unissued, state bonds; and authorizing a program to retire state bonds."

Greetings were read from the Worthy Grand Matron and Worthy Grand Patron by the secretary, and Ms. Smith announced that a planning session for th School of Instructions was being held at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon in the Masonic Temple in Mt. Pleasant September 13, and urged the officers needed to try to attend. Sation. In the rabbit division, there will be eight classes: Junior White Doe, Senior White Doe, Junior White Buck, Senior White Buck, Junior Colored Doe, Senior Colored Doe, Junior Colored Buck and Senior Colored Buck.

All entries not properly cared for are subject to disqualification. The decisions of the judges and superintendent are final.

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP

The windows in this old house we are renting are loose and rattle with the winds. Can this be stopped without replacing the window frames?

With time, the wood framework or sash of old houses shrink and the process leaves an excessive amount of space between the sliding sash frame and the moldings that hold it in place. This causes rattling, which is bad enough, but it also allows cold drafts to reduce heating efficiency. The inside stop moldings should be carefully removed with a chisel, moved slightly closer to the face of the sash and renailed.

The first time my husband drove my new car to work (because his car was being repaired) he dropped a cigarette while driving down the freeway and it burned a hole in the carpeting before he could stop to retrieve it. It is not a big burn, but it is very conspicuous. What can I do about it?

Carefully cut away all evidence of the burn with curved cuticle scissors. Remove a few undamaged loops of carpeting from a spot where it will not be noticeable—under the seat, beneath a piece of molding, or under the dash. Use a clear-drying glue to fill the charred area and insert the replacement piece with tweezers, making sure the loops remain upright until the glue is set.

By Accident

With its narrow mouth so often shrouded by fog, San Francisco Bay escaped detection by 16th- and 17th-century explorers. It was discovered by accident—and by land—by the Spaniard Gaspar de Portola in 1769, National Geographic says.

FRED COWAN, puppeteer, will be on the showtime stage at the Mighty McDaniel Carnival in downtown Mt. Vernon Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The carnival will open Monday, Sept. 21 at 7 p.m. with the announcement of the "Name the Koala Bear" contest winner. An entry form is included in this week's edition of the newspaper, with $25 in free rides to be awarded to the winner.

Federal Government May Owe Money

If you are, or know of, an illegitimate child of a federal government worker who has died, you or that child may be eligible for government benefits each month.

Children of federal government workers are eligible for benefits after the government worker dies. The children do not have to have lived with the federal government worker to receive benefits. In the past, the Government refused to give benefits to illegitimate children who did not live with their Civil Service parent. A recent Court decision says that the Government cannot do this anymore. If you, or any child you know of, were denied benefits for this reason, you or the child should apply for benefits again. If you or the child never applied for benefits before, you or the child can still apply now if the Civil Service parent died on or after February 24, 1972. All the child must show is that he or she was really the child of the federal government worker who died on or after Feb. 24, 1972, but before January 2, 1980. He or she can show this with a birth certificate or with some other kind of proof, such as a Court Order of Support. The child or his or her parent should write to the Office of Personnel Management, Post Office Box 16, Washington, D.C. 20044. When the child or parent applies, he or she should furnish copies of the birth certificate or court support order of other proof. If you or anyone you know may be eligible for these benefits, call or write the Office of Personnel Management.

No Smear

To keep the writing from smearing on a package mailing label, rub a candle over the writing. The wax forms a weatherproof coating.

Over 22 years of religious counseling in one of the nation's largest juvenile courts serving an area of 500,000 people provide an unusual background for discussing subjects on the home and family. During the same period of time, that which has been learned while observing the work of over 100 congregations in the Nashville area, writing, editing, Personal Evangelism, training and winners, and preaching and teaching cottage classes makes his approach to church growth extremely helpful.

For lower heating bills this winter, here's

Weather Beaters Rule #1:

INSULATION

Installing insulation in your attic is the single most important step you can take towards lowering your heating bill. Insulation helps hold in heat, so your heating unit doesn't have to work overtime. Installing insulation can be a do-it-yourself project, or be handled by a professional. Either way, be sure the insulation materials meet the R-value requirements for your area. Insulation can help cut heating costs by as much as 50% easily paying for itself in utility savings. Don't wait for winter, install insulation now!
