Abnormal Spring Results In Drought

Just when things get to the point where they look really bleak...just at that point where "burnout" begins to be included in one's vocabulary...someone will come through, make the day, lighten the mood and give me a better, different slant on things.

Buddy Hearron of Tyler, a subscriber to the Talco Times, was the one to do it this week.

Monday began as truly a doozy. We had a brand new Mackintosh desktop system on hand...and that meant learning to use it. Now, the thing about computers is that they are as logical as they can be. I'm not.

So after we all wore ourselves out working at grasping new concepts and learning new techniques, I decided to take the terminal home and "play" on it some more. Naturally within a couple of hours the poor computer was confused and I was even more confused.

Sometime after midnight I slunk off to bed, only to spend the night moving little cursors and "tools" around on the inside of my eyelids instead of sleeping.

Tuesday morning dawned, rainless, hot and busy as usual. Nothing seemed to go right, everyone was way behind schedule, everyone was a little on edge because of the strain of learning a new work system. My brain wouldn't function and slowly I felt irritation and frustration taking over.

Finally, about two hours later than usual we managed to get to the mail box. It was full of bills, par for the course, and stacks of junk mail that takes a lot of times to go through.

There was one fat envelope though that was different from the norm. I opened it warily, because we have received some pretty startling and rather unpleasant letters over the years.

Within was a short note from the aforementioned Mr. Hearron.

It said: Dear Mrs. Nichols. Concerning your recent comment about needing a large zipper to make elephant fly...I thought this small one might help some small elephant somewhere. Let me know if it works. I enjoy your "Nichols Worth" and always look forward to Friday when I get my copy of the Talco Times. Thanks for your bit of humor!

THANK YOU, Buddy Hearron!

That letter, you see, was accompanied by a zipper...one appropriate to an elephant's size. It measures about six feet long. Now, whenever I want to tell that joke about how do you make an elephant fly the answer of "First you get a really large zipper" will have the zipper to back it up.

After laughing so hard we all hurt we discovered that once again laughter had saved the day.

Machines, bills, heat or anything else, it was easy to grin and bear it.

Laughter cured frustration, humor triumphed over the grumps.

Thanks to someone who I've never met, but who shares the belief that laughter is a great healer!

While some areas of the state flourished under too much rain, the majority of the state, and much of the nation has had to watch as crops and water sources burned up and dried out.

Throughout North East Texas cattlemen have eyed dwindling pasture and hay meadows producing less than fifty percent of their normal yield while farmers have had to replant for lack of moisture, many having the second, and expensive, planting fail to make a good stand either.

Cotton, always the best of dry weather crops, will shortly be in desperate need of moisture, while soy beans and milo are already in dire straits.

Some fields have received as much as two inches of rain as several thunderstorms have swept through the area, but the size of the rained on area is sparse and spread over a wide number of counties.

April and May were record setting for their lack of rainfall. The usual moisture that is so crucial to grass, trees and every other growing thing did not arrive.

Meteorologists have pointed ominously to the similarity of the existing weather patterns to that of 1980, which was one of the worst droughts of the century.

Even in '80, though, May was not as dry as this year.

So far relatively cooler temperatures have helped alleviate the problem, but with July fast approaching temperatures are bound to increase.

Deep soaking plants, gardens and trees is recommended by experts.

Shallow watering can actually do damage, causing root systems to stay close to the surface when they need to be deep.

Meanwhile there is little that can be done to change the situation expect watch weather reports and hope.

FATALITY-Stella Ridens was killed in this accident between her late model Chevrolet and a truck on Highway 37 north, just outside of Bogata Tuesday evening. Highway Patrol reports were unavailable at press time, so no details were known. (Staff Photo)

Rodeo Time In Bogata Again!

Rodeo time has come to Bogata once again and cowboys and cowgirls are busy preparing for one of the greatest events of the year. Rodeo activities will begin Thursday, June 23 with a parade. Starting place will be the Mobil Station on Highway 271 across from the Kwik Komer at 5:30 p.m.

Three performances of action-packed rodeo events will be featured each evening at 8:30 p.m. at the Bogata Rodeo Arena, sponsored by the Bogata Rodeo Association and co-sponsored by Dodge Trucks.

The Arigo Riders 4-H Club will be setting pivots for the Grand Entry Thursday night, which is also Hub Whiteman Night. A drawing for a $100.00 savings bond will be held and some lucky person from the rodeo audience will receive the bond from Mrs. Whiteman in memory of her late husband, who was a former rodeo champion.

The Red River Riders, a ladies quadrille from Clarksville, will entertain the audience with their special drills and will set pivots for the opening performances Friday and Saturday nights.

Contract acts will be provided by Floyd McGuire and the bullfighter for the rodeo is Donny Sparks of Texarkana.

A belt buckle will be awarded to the cowboy or cowgirl winning the most money in two or more events.

Music will be provided by "Texas Express" and a calf scramble will be staged nightly.

The Bogata rodeo is sanctioned by the Cowboys Regional Rodeo Association, headquartered in Shawnee, OK and championship points from the seven event rodeo will be tabulated toward the title races for the 1988 CRRA Finals Rodeo to be held in conjunction with the Tulsa State Fair in Tulsa, OK on October 6-7-8-9. The Cowboys Regional Rodeo Association sanctions some 150 rodeos throughout its seven state area and the Bogata rodeo has always been a highlight of the CRRA circuit for the traveling cowboys and cowgirls.

More than 200 contestants are expected for competition against the bulls, horses, calves and steers of the nationally heralded Wing Rodeo Company, homebased in Bogata. The Wing Rodeo Company holds the distinction of being named Producer of the Year for three years in the CRRA, as well as featuring outstanding bucking horses and bulls that have been amassed with honors for their ability throughout the years. In 1986, the Wing Rodeo Company was honored with Bucking Bull of the Year and the Finals with #123, Outlaw, and with the Saddle Bronc Horse of the year and the Finals with #40, Strawberry Hill.

Doug Williams, veteran rodeo announcer of Idabel, OK will emcee the 1988 Bogata rodeo, a job he has handled for over the past 25 years. Williams has been named Announcer of the Year for the past five years in the CRRA. Rodeo secretary for the Bogata rodeo is Cindy Allen, formerly of Bogata, who has worked as Rodeo Secretary of the Bogata rodeo since 1979 and has been named Secretary of the Year in the CRRA for three years, 1983-1984 and 1987.

Saturday's events include the annual Frontier Day, located at the Community Center in Bogata. Arts and Crafts booths will again be special features of the day's events. There will be the usual dunking booth, tug-of-war contest, ladies nail driving, mens and ladies log sawing, hay rolling, greased pig, horseshoes, three-legged sack race, tobacco spitting, cow chip throwing, egg toss and sunflower seed spitting contest. Games for the kids will be provided and food booths will be available. A parade at 5:30 p.m. beginning at Huddleston's Grocery will climax the Frontier Day events and set the stage for Saturday night's rodeo performance.

Crowning of the Rodeo Princess for 1988 will be at approximately 9 p.m. during the Saturday night performance.

This year's rodeo promises to be one of the best ever, providing action to thrill the young and old alike. Tickets are $4.00 for adults, $3.50 advance; and $3.00 for children.

Lioness Ice Cream Could Turn Green!

By Kathy Woodall

Assuming that temperatures reach their current highs on Frontier Day, around 12:30 we are all going to be very hot. That being the case, wouldn't a cup of cold, home-made ice cream sound good? What a great addition to a funnel cake, especially if it was homemade ice cream! All in favor, please refer to the title of this article!

Now, since there was no opposition, the Lionesses need YOU to bring your favorite home-made ice cream recipe (finished product, please) to the funnel cake booth on Frontier Day at around 12:30 in order to please the crowd who will be waiting for their dry throats to be refreshed. BUT WAIT, THERE'S MORE!

No matter what flavor your favorite recipe happens to be, it can turn green if you have the most popular entries. You see, there will be cash prizes given for the first, second and third best flavors. Your family favorite might be worth $15, $10 or $5. So get those cranking muscles limbered up, and bring your entries to the funnel cake booth on Frontier Day, and help the Lioness Club's Community Project fund by participating in this contest. You might even see your Peach Surprise or Cherries' Jubilee turn green!

Lioness Club Extends Frontier Day Invitation

The Bogata Lioness Club would like to invite you to the annual Frontier Day sponsored by the Bogata Lions on Saturday, June 25 at the Community Center. Along with allness will sell funnel cakes and sponsor an ice cream making contest.

A five day trip for two to Las Vegas, Nevada will be given away Frontier Day at 2 p.m. This vacation includes round trip air fare from DFW and five days and four nights hotel accommodations. Raffle tickets for this prize are available from Lioness members for a $1.00 donation.

Dear Editor:

I was pleased to read the letter last week by Vickie Bryant. She brought out some facts that all of us should be concerned about.

Even though lots of us no longer have children in school, we surely must still be interested in the school and in our community.

I am so pleased Vickie stated that she and others "want their school children kept at home." There can't be a nicer place in all the world to live and school our children than in the Bogata schools and the Bogata community, (of course we know our neighbors would substitute Deport, or Talco).

According to Vickie's letter the school children are getting a good education in the Bogata schools as shown by the State Scholastic Achievements. This is a good report for we all know how important a good school is for our youth, our town and our community.

Financially our Talco-Bogata Independent School District is in very good shape. We have an excess of nearly one million dollars. Vickie pointed out in her letter that classrooms are needed in Bogata.

It appears to me, since money is no problem, some classroom construction should be started.

I appreciate Vickie for informing the people of this community with facts that of course all of us are concerned about pertaining to our school and our community. I support her and the others whole heartedly who "want to keep our school children at home in our community." Mrs. William Rozell

HOW DO YOU MAKE AN ELEPHANT FLY? First you get a big zipper. And Nanalee Nichols, who featured her embarrassment over the old joke in a column a few weeks ago, found that big zippers do, indeed, exist. Buddy Hearron of Tyler mailed this one to the editor in response to the column. Over six feet long, it should, indeed, be big enough, at least for a small elephant. (Staff Photo)

DAVID ROZELL is shown here proudly displaying the .22 Ruger carbine that the Lions Club will give away at Frontier Day. David who also has a Ruger carbine says that the little rifle is extremely accurate and can shot up to 10 rounds a second. Tickets can be purchased from several Lions Club members, from the Kwik Korner, where the gun is on display, or at the rodeo on Thursday and Friday nights. The Lions Club would like to thank these local businesses for jointly donating the rifle: Bogata Funeral Home, Tip Top Drive In, Glass Auto Parts, Kwik Korner, Rita's Antiques, Ward's Grocery, First National Bank in Bogata, House of Flowers, Capps Insurance, Huddleston Grocery, City Drug in Deport.
