All Stars Are Named

Thursday, June 20, 1974, the Haskell Little League announced the All-Star Team for 1974. This team will represent Haskell in the area tournament at Stamford on July 18, when they play Rule.

Lonnie Hise will manage the team and Bobby Roberts will be assistant manager of the Haskell All-Stars. Both men are looking forward to working with this fine group of young men and hope to manage them all the way to state and further.

The following young men were picked as All-Star players by the managers of the Little League staff and choices were based solely on ability and sportsmanship.

DANIEL RILEY, Cubs - A first rate all-around player on the bases, outfield and pitching.

MONNIE HISE, Lions - Plays short stop, nothing he likes better than snagging a hot ground-er.

JOHNNY FUENTES, Rams - A ball never gets by this catcher, and he swings a mean bat, too.

RICKY DRINNON, Cubs - Confident, fast on the bases, a good hitter and fielder, great player.

TOMMY McADAMS, Lions - Quick, agile, first rate baseman and hard throwing pitcher.

RICKY KENNEDY, Eagles - Hard hitter, throws a curve ball that almost turns around and flies back to him.

ABEL GOMEZ, Rams - A catcher rarely has to move his glove when he is pitching, they are straight in there every time. ROCKY YOUNG, Lions - Strong, fast, the fielders back up when he steps up to the plate.

JOE WHEATLEY, Tigers - A fast and hard base runner, strong fielder, his pitches can't be seen.

STEVE FOSTER, Lions - He can stretch out and grab any ball for a quick out at first.

JEFF HATFIELD, Hawks - Strong, quiet, throws a ball like a bullet, fielders back way up when he comes to bat.

ALBERT ENRIQUEZ, Rams - A fast, sharp fielder who can hit a ball over any fence.

JACKIE ESCOBEDO, Rams - As a catcher his specialty is picking runners off base, and he can also hit.

Another highlight at the close of the season was a game played Friday night, June 21, between the managers of the Major League and the managers of the Minor League. The Major League managers spotted the Minor League managers six runs. All the players were required to bat left-handed and even with this there were 18 home runs in the game. Chief Escobedo hit four of the home runs. He was playing by both teams, disregarding rules, and impromptu decisions, the score wound up 18-12 in favor of the Major but with the 6 run spot given by the Major this made the game end up a tie. From all reports it was a hilarious game.

Players on the Minors team were: Jim Pace, Tommy Matthews, Butch Hertel, Tommy Munday, Ricky Martin, Larry Jackson, Mark Jackson, Howard Sheets, Ted Jennings, Kenneth Young, Tom Cat Watson, Terry Strickland, and Bill Lane. Umpires were Olan King behind the plate, Mrs. Truman Therwanger 3rd base, Mrs. David Frierson 2nd base, Mrs. Lonnie Hise, 1st base.

In the game on Monday night between the mothers of the players on the Cats team and the mothers of the players on the Crows team, the Cats defeated the Crows 17-15. This game went into extra innings. The mothers of the Cats players will play against the winners in the game of Bears vs. Red Horses (mothers playing). The game between these two teams will be played Friday, June 28, at 8 p. m.

ESTATE PRICES UP... PEANUTS More Popular... Demand for Cotton Increases... WATERMELONS on Market... HAY CUTTING Underway.

FARM REAL estate prices jumped over the United States by 21% during the past year, from $233 to $280 an acre. Although the per-acre prices may be higher in some areas of Texas, latest figures show Texas farm real estate prices climbed by a more modest 9%.

WATERMELONS are ripening in the Coastal Bend area where labor and truck shortages have been reported. Watermelon harvest is expected to begin in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area, according to Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, and vines are in the bloom stage in East Texas.

PEANUTS and peanut butter are being consumed by Americans more than ever, the USDA reports. There were 524 million pounds of shelled peanuts used in edible products from August through December 1973, an 8% increase over the same period for 1972. Experts think the increased demand for peanuts came because of the higher prices for beef, dairy products and poultry. Growers received about two cents per pound more for peanuts in 1973 than they did the previous year.

COTTON consumption is up over the world by about 2,000,000 bales, to about 59,000,000. The carryover in the United States August 1 is expected to be 3 1/2 million bales below a previous USDA estimate because export volume now is expected to increase. Cotton planting in Texas is about 70% complete, compared to 75% at the same time last season. Planting is making rapid progress on irrigated fields on the High and Low Plains, but more rain is needed on the High Plains to complete planting. Boll weevils and flea hoppers are reported in cotton in the southern half of the State.

Regardless of whether there is a land use planning act or not, the EPA insists that it has the final decision to approve new construction of buildings, roads, streets, parking lots, garages, shopping centers, recreational areas, amusement parks, sport stadiums, airports, and all kinds of commercial and industrial development. No business decision of significance can be made under EPA's mandates without the Agency's approval.

The Land Use legislation could hardly do more to take away a property owner's rights than this. Like so many other Federal requirements, it burdens productive business and adds nothing to the wealth and well-being of the Country. In fact, it adds to the price of things at the same time we concern ourselves with inflation.

The decrees of the EPA have only yet to be applied to a few cities. But when they get in high gear and if left alone to rule, our economic life will be much more regulated by Federal edicts than it already is.

The public's desire for a healthy environment and the intent of Congress to enact a reasonable approach has been twisted by rules and regulations into a bureaucratic overlord of individual citizens and whole communities.

It is almost unbelievable that dictatorial orders imposed by the Environmental Protection Agency against some areas of the Country where they have found pollution the worst. The Houston Chronicle recently described the threat of this Agency to impose economic sanctions against the whole City unless people formed into car pools and buses as a part of controlling pollution. The Environmental Protection Agency ordered firms with 1,000 or more employees to reduce parking spaces and force workers to pay $1.00 a day fine plus a fee for driving to work.

Other major cities are confronted with an edict to eliminate downtown parking, denying license plates for automobiles with excess emissions, and to curtail construction of facilities of any kind which might contribute to air pollution. In other words, the Agency acts as the policeman, the jury, and the judge with orders resembling a dictatorship.

While some cities such as Indianapolis, Indiana, are trying to revitalize their downtown area, the Environmental Protection Agency comes along and attempts to prohibit new construction, enforce anti-parking rules, and plow under downtown development.

Regardless of whether there is a land use planning act or not, the EPA insists that it has the final decision to approve new construction of buildings, roads, streets, parking lots, garages, shopping centers, recreational areas, amusement parks, sport stadiums, airports, and all kinds of commercial and industrial development. District Conservationist

Since 1960's, the leaders of the 3,000 conservationists under the auspices of the National Conservation Districts have joined forces with the West Central Texas Council of Governments. Both Boards of Directors have joined the Big Country Resource Conservation and Development Project. Both Boards have sought help with their local county governments in solving conservation problems common to both, as well as financial problems.

This past year, Lonnie D. Offutt, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Wichita-Brazos SWCD, was elected by the various Boards of Directors of the conservation districts in WCTCOG as their representative to the Board of Directors of West Central Texas Council of Governments.

Both Boards of Directors have extended their understanding of cooperating agencies and the public of the nature of district activities in behalf of all conservation of all natural resources through the Soil Conservation Services' Framework Plan.

But what of the future? All of these developments represent substantial progress in strengthening the capacity of conservation districts to achieve their objectives of conservation and resource development, to adjust their programs to some of the conservation needs in urban and suburban as well as rural America, and to maximize public participation and democracy in the administration of district programs.

The pace of change in district operations will need further acceleration. New circumstances will require that additional steps will need to be taken in view of the challenges facing us today. During the very period in which districts have broadened their concepts and capabilities, the nation as a whole has begun to give fresh attention to an array of problems involving natural resources and the environment. Air and water pollution control, land use planning, waste disposal, energy supplies, and related matters are now receiving higher priority. New approaches to flood prevention, water management, forest management, and other aspects of conservation and resource development have been proposed. Some older, established programs have been modified and/or de-emphasized.

Our district officials are beginning to re-examine their policies, programs, and potentials for the days ahead.

The California Creek SWCD Board meets on the fourth Tuesdays, 2:00 p. m., at the City Hall in Stamford, and the Wichita-Brazos SWCD Board meets at 9:30 a. m. on the fourth Fridays at their own building in Knox City. They invite the public to attend their meetings and discuss their problems and ideas.

The Wichita-Brazos Board consists of L. D. Offutt, Monday, Chairman; W. L. Ballard, Rochester, Vice-Chairman; Emil Nauratil, Truscott; L. M. Patterson, Weinert; and Charles Griffith, Benjamin.

The California Creek SWCD Board consists of Jimmie Baum, Anson, Chairman; H. L. Ford, Hamlin, Vice-Chairman; R. V. Earles, Paint Creek; F. A. Ulmer, Sagerton; and H. B. Haterius, Avoca.

Social Security
Visit Schedule

Like a miner who accidentally discovers gold on his own property, many people discover that they are due some sort of benefit through the Social Security Administration. One of the goals of social security is to be sure that all who are due benefits receive them. Changes occur in the law; people who might have been denied in the past may now be eligible. The new program, SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME, will affect many thousands of lives throughout the whole nation.

Lay people cannot know all the nitty-gritty rules and regulations about the vast program. If you have questions, or if you know of anyone having questions, about social security benefits, Medicare benefits, supplemental security income benefits, see a representative at a time and place given below, or if you prefer, go to the office in Abilene. The Abilene office is now located at 142 S. Pioneer Street. Mailing address is P. O. Box 5647, Abilene 79605. Telephone number is (915) 698-1360. Office hours are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday each week, national holidays excluded.

A social security representative will be in Haskell at Annex, City Hall, at 10 a. m. on every Thursday, except July 4; in Rochester at Home State Bank Building on Wednesday 10-11 a. m. July 10, August 14, and September 11; in Rule at the City Hall on Wednesday, 1-2 p. m. July 10, August 14, and September 11.

Burleson Reveals
Grant Approval

The counties included are Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Kent, Jones, Knox, Mitchell, Nolan, Runtells, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor and Throckmorton.

Rice Springs News

Summertime brings vacations and many visitors to our home. We are always happy to have new faces come on our scene and visitors are a highlight to all. Many come and visit with us and we may not get the names and get it in print. To these we offer our apology, as we want to include everyone, so please forgive us if we do not mention your name.

Emmett Starr is on our sick list and he has had quite a number of visitors. Faye Dunnam visited her mother-in-law, Mrs. Faye Dunnam; Pauline Williams visited her mother, Mrs. Ethel Rose. Pricilla Ratliff was here for a visit with her Dad, Mr. James Gladish, and Mr. Dana Woods had his son and family here from Rule. Charlene Mitchell from Rochester was here visiting her brother, Eugene Collier. Mr. and Mrs. Manley Branch had their daughter, Mrs. Norman Stewart, visiting from Lamesa. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marion from Oklahoma visited Mrs. Dessie Marion and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Campbell from Beaumont visited Mr. Robert Campbell. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose of San Angelo visited Mrs. Willie Rose and took her for an outing and Mr. Jim Cross was visited by his sister and husband from Lubbock. Johnny Davis was over from Aspermont to visit Georgie Davis. Charles Abernathy and son from Aspermont were visiting Mrs. Mollie Abernathy. Henriette Rueffer visited her dad, Mr. Vanderworth of the home. Mrs. Mattie Gipson went to lunch with her daughter, Mrs. Dee Larned. Mrs. Annie Vojkufka and Mrs. Henriette Druessedow both were blessed with visits from their daughters and other family members.

Mrs. Carrie Brundige was transferred to Haskell Memorial Hospital on June 17 and we understand she is still undergoing tests. We hope she is improved by time this goes to press.

We are fortunate in having Mrs. Eeckle Highnote back with us. Welcome Home! And our Minnie Stuart is pleased as can be, as on June 20 her sister, Mrs. Eunice Honea, moved in with us. Mrs. Honea comes to us from Anson. Welcome aboard, Eunice!

We have added some more color to our surroundings. Mr. Leonard Singleton and Mr. Willie Goad put their green thumb talents together and set out many, many new flowering plants for us in our flower beds. We hope the heat will not harm them. We have added two hanging baskets at our West entrance which are also attractive for us to view in our leisure.

Our apprentice activity director, Eve Gray, is completing her course and we are real proud for her. Eve has given us many pleasant hours. She was assigned some home-work to do for her class in Abilene, and as a part of that she has taken crafts from some of our talented residents as Cleo Moody, Blanche Wilson, Pinkie Robertson, Joe Teague and others who have participated in her projects. We thank all the wonderful volunteer workers who have helped when Eve has requested a small part of their time. Volunteer help with our crafts is needed and deeply appreciated, and the volunteer is sure to go away feeling warm and all aglow with the satisfaction that comes from helping others.

We would like to thank Florence Henderson for her umbrella table and chairs, for the lovely hanging baskets for the patio, the cute little animals that grace the grounds and for the extra time she gives to us just because she wants us to be happy. We are really enjoying our lovely patio area, Florence.

We are so fond of our "old" workers here but we also enjoy "new" workers and we have Kathy Pringle, Marsha Guess, Cristy Hanks, and, oh yes! Sally Rodela with our staff now. Looking forward to having Maxine Miller join us. And we enjoyed our brief service from Frieda Wright. Come again and work with us, Frieda.

Our Bible Study continues in the Book of John, and last week we were real pleased to have Bro. Suttle bring our study. This is a quiet time of study and sharing and we continue to have it each Friday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. If you would like to come and share this time with us, please do so. We feel that each of us has grown spiritually from this and we are in to our Bibles more and more which has been good for all of us.

As we send this to the press, we are thinking of our Clara Hickey and missing her. Hurry home to us, Clara, we miss you. We received your card and are anxiously awaiting your arrival home.

Farmers Will Need Good Records For 1974 Farm Census Report

Farmers and ranchers, get ready for the 1974 Census of Agriculture! Keep good records of your farming operations this year! This is the request of the Bureau of Census, the Federal agency that will conduct the 20th nationwide Census of Agriculture during the first part of 1975. The Bureau is part of the U. S. Dept. of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

Farmers will receive their report forms by mail early in January. They should fill them out and mail them back promptly. Having accurate and detailed records will make it easy for farmers to do this. Questions will be much like those in the last previous agriculture census which covered farming and ranching during 1969.

Questions will ask for acreage of cropland harvested; quantity and market value of major crops produced; acres irrigated and means of irrigation; acreage treated with pesticides, lime and other chemicals; acreage fertilized by kind of fertilizer (dry, liquid, gas).

Questions on livestock and poultry will cover the number of each kind on the farm as well as the number sold and the sales value. Quantities and sales value of their products will be sought.

Details will be requested about farm products produced or marketed under contract. A few questions will be included about hired and contract number of workers; wages paid; also other injuries to workers.

Further expenditures will cover amounts for feed, fertilizer, pesticides, gasoline and other machine hire, and other poultry purchases.

There will be questions the various types of land, such as cropland, pasture, woodland, and other types of land, and about the land and buildings on the farm.

Operators will be asked for places where recreational services, farm related income, work provided other than Government farm products.

Two types of reports are being prepared: farms with sales of more, and another form for places with less than $2500. No farm related income need answer only questions that apply to his He should skip questions only to other agricultural operations.

By Federal law, this is confidential. It may only be used for statistical purposes. The method reinforces confidentiality.

It also allows the complete report convenience with accuracy from his records.
