

By Nanalee Nichols As most of you folks out there know, I'm an avid traveler. I love foreign countries. I love the sounds, smells, textures and looks of different places, from crowded marketplaces in the Middle East to quaint New England villages.

Last week I was treated to a trip through a "foreign" country. It cost nearly nothing and was spectacularly beautiful.

Wednesday evening we had all the papers stamped, bundled and poked into their mail sacks.

As usual Thomas set out for Bogata and Talco and points of interest in between while I headed for Pattonville, Blossom and Detroit.

In addition, I had to go to Bagwell, since we are sample copying that "neck of the woods" right now.

Just past Pattonville, on the road to Blossom, my eyes were opened and for some odd reason I felt that I was seeing the landscape through the eyes of a stranger.

Instead of barreling down the road, intent on getting my route run, I found myself driving slowly.

To my east was a twisted Bois 'D Arc tree. Beyond it was a glimmer of water, with cattle marching single file like lonely soldiers for their evening drink. In the distance the sky was that heart-pinching blue one sees in autumn.

All the way to Blossom and Detroit I was struck with the beauty of our countryside.

At Detroit I looked at the weathered brick buildings with a new eye...a new respect for their solid, country-style stability.

I turned off the main road to wind my way through hills and dales to Bagwell. It must have been years since I went to that little community and it all seemed so new.

The return journey proved to be the best part of my evening.

Heading westward the sun was a fat, limpid orange globe, sinking into a pink, dusky horizon.

The trees were throwing autumn kisses of goodby, leaves tumbling before and after my car.

The ordinary creeks sparkled in the dying day, sparks of liquid fire jumping up in joy.

The farm ponds reflected perfectly an upside down world of incredible beauty.

Clouds punctuated that blue and pink sky with commas and dashes of purest white. Homes tucked into pockets of serenity shed little squares of light.

At last, just as dark took over, I was home again.

Rivercrest Students Take Theater Arts Field Trip

On September 8, 1992 the Gifted and Talented and Music History students took a field trip to Paris Junior College. They viewed the performance of a theatrical performer named Kijana Wiseman.

Educator, writer, enterpreneur and soloist, Kijana Wiseman is a versatile performer of theatrical and communicative arts. She is a native of Houston and has been performing since the age of four; professionally since she was nine. Wiseman lived in West Africa for six years. In Liberia she was employed by the Ministry of Culture, Information and Tourism at the National Liberian Cultural Center. For three years Ms. Wiseman was host of a talk and entertainment show, "Under the Palm Tree" on Liberia's ELBC-TV. Since returning to America, Kijana has performed her one woman shows, "The Soul of Black Song", "From Bach to Basie", "We Gather Together" and "The Sounds of Christmas" before a wide variety of audiences. On September 8 Ms. Wiseman took her audience to a wedding and to Church with Moses. They experienced the black influence on the music of today. She taught them that everyone has a talent that should be used and not hidden.

Ms. Wiseman is an accomplished coloratura sprano. She has learned many worthwhile things during her varied life experiences and deserves to be heard

NITA SIMMONS of Talco looks over one of her favorite cookbooks and is sharing some of her favorite recipes with read-

Thursday, September 24, 1992

This week I went to Talco and visited with Nita Simmons, her daughter, Pam, and her mother-inlaw, Mrs. Berniece Simmons. I came away with a slew of delicious sounding recipes.

Nita's husband, Jerry, runs a scraper for A.K. Gillis Contractors. Her daughter, Pam, and granddaughter, Brezzi Dawn Smith, live in Mt. Pleasant where Pam works at NTCC. Her son, Johnny Dean Anderson, wife Juanita and daughter Jerri Juanita, live in Paris and Johnny works for Texas Utilities.

For many years, Jerry and Nita have had a place on Lake Cypress near Mt. Vernon. Nita always goes to the lake on Friday and stays for the weekend. On the second and fourth Sundays of each month, she goes to Mt. Vernon to the First United Methodist Church and cooks lunch for the congregation of 90 or more people. I sked her what she cooks, and she said she just cooks whatever she thinks they will enjoy and they always seem pleased.

Nita is involved in crafts, woodworking, T-shirt painting and sweatshirt designing. I saw some of her beautiful sweatshirts and some very cute, tedious looking wood projects. Once, while Nita was out of the room, Pam showed me a painting her mother had done. She is very talented.

Mrs. Simmons joined us and told me that Nita fixes individual meals for her, wraps them up and stacks them in the freezer so that all she has to do is heat them up. She had nothing but praise for her daughter-in-law.

As you all know, I have repeatedly asked for suggestions and ideas for this column. A very nice lady sent me a note suggesting that I feature Nita Simmons in this column because of her cooking ability. She was even kind enough to include phone numbers for the Simmons home and lake house. I waited as long as I could and tried the numbers. I didn't get an answer either place. I was thrilled. Then I decided I hadn't tried hard enough, so I tried again. I got an answer. I was not ungrateful for the suggestion, in fact, I appreciate it very much. It's just that since I was a kid, I've been scared to death of Nita. I confessed this to her when I arrived and she couldn't imagine what I was talking about. We discussed this at length and finally arrived at a conclusion. Nita has a heart as big as Texas, in fact, she is a real softy. This is not obvious to the casual observer. Pam didn't seem surprised at my ter-hours. I don't know when I've had such a good time or laughed so much. Nita invited me to come and see her anytime. I plan to do so. I feel sure I'll be safe.

Have a good week!

Foxworthy-Roberts Exchange Wedding Vows

Nicki Suzanne Foxworthy and Learon Shawn Roberts were united in marriage Saturday evening, September 12 at 7:00 o'clock in the Calvary Baptist Church, Talco. Bro. Rickey Logan performed thedoublering ceremony.

The altar was decorated with an archway entwined with ivy, red and white roses, lace and red satin bows. Two heart-shaped candelabras, accented with red and whie roses and ribbon were on each side of the archway. Arrangements of red and white roses and baby's breath complimented the organ and piano.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Foxworthy of Talco. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Learon Roberts of Mt. Pleasant.

Kim Strawbridge registered the guests from a table covered in red with a white lace overlay. The engagement picture was placed on the table

Traditional pre-nuptial selections were presented by the organist, Mr.s Jerry Russell. During the ceremony, Jennifer and Donisa White sang "We Have Security", Marla Logan sang "Forever Is As Far As I Go", and Stephanie Barker sang "The Vows Go Unbroken".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length white peau de soie gown, embellished in reembroidered lace, pearls and iridescent sequins. The bodice featured a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The full skirt swept into a chapel length train. A three-tiered fingertip illusion veil enhanced with pearls and puffs of illusion completed her ensemble.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of silk red and white sweetheart roses, satin ribbon of red and white, and white lace and pearls fell from the bouquet.

The matron of honor was Kristi Clemmons, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Misti Wilkerson, sister of the bride of Lufkin, Michelle Clower, sister of the groom, Lana Carlisle and Misty Pence, all of Mt. Pleasant. Junior bridesmaid was Jessica Pierce, cousin of the bride of Shreveport, LA.

The bridel attendants wore red taffeta dresses and carried bouquets of red and white sweetheart roses with red and white satin and lace streamers.

Kayla Clemmons, niece of the bride and Cassi Clower, niece of the groom, served as flower girls. They wore red taffeta dresses and carried red heartshaped baskets with lace and red ribbons.

Best man was Kelley Bohlken. Groomsmen were Chad Parish, Troy Clower, brother-in-law of the groom, Edward Faulkner, cousin of the groom, and J.B. White. Cody Roberts, brother of the groom, was junior groomsman. Russell Alan Wilkerson, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. Ushers were Craig Clemmons and Sammy Joe Wilkerson, both brothers-in-law of the bride. Each wore a black tuxedo with red cummerbunds and bow ties. The groom wore a black tuxedo with tails, red cummerbund and bow tie. A reception was held immediately

The four-tiered bride's cake was lavishly decorated with red roses and the traditional bride and groom.

Lace and white glitter cloth covered the bride's table.

Cake was served by Sherri Wafford and punch was served by Shelia Johnson.

Leachia Brown served the groom's German Chocolate cake and Tiffany Parish served coffee from a silver coffee service.

Kayla Clemmons, Cassi Clower and Alan Wilkerson distributed rice bags. Other members of the houseparty were Carol Leake, Jimmie Sue Simmons, Rhonda Brown, Janice Franks, Jone Clemmons and Sally Peak

After their return from a wedding trip to Eureka Springs, AR and Branson, MO the couple will make their home in Talco.

Mr. and Mrs. Learon Roberts honored their son, Shawn and his bride-to-be, Nicki Foxworthy, with a dinner in the fellowship hall of the Calvary Baptist Church. Barbeque and all the trimmings were served.

On August 9, a Tupperware shower was held at the home of Kim Strawbridge in honor of the couple.

On August 16, a miscellaneous shower was held at Calvary Baptist Church in Talco with Carol Leake, Jimmie Sue Simmons, Jone Clemmons, Jo Anschutz, Gene Gage, Janice Franks, Mary Jo Hall and Barbara Russell as hostesses.

A luncheon and shower was given by co-workers at TUMCO on August 19. Hostesses were Jan Surratt, Sherri Wafford and Sandra Howard.

A lingerie shower was held at the home of Michelle Clower with Lana Carlisle and Misty Pence as co-hostesses on September 5.

On September 8, a Honey-Do shower was held at the First Assembly of God Church in Mt. Pleasant with Teresa White, Lea Ann Brown, Linda Blalock, Staci Hinton, Linda Parish and Jan Grissom as hostesses.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of candlelight satin and imported French Lyons lace. The fitted bodice featured a dropped basque waist heavily jeweled with pearls and iridescent sequins. Lace scallops with beaded pearls trimmed the sweetheart neckline which complimented the Juliet sleeves of satin embellished with seed pearls and sequins coming to a point over her hands. The full skirt fell from folds of satin, accented with lace and beaded appliques encrusted with pearls and iridescent sequins into a cathedral trin held by a large satin bow. Scalloped French lace beaded with pearls trimmed the hemline of the skirt and train. The de's fingertip veiling of illusion al from a crown of pearls with a pearl accented pouf. She carried a cascade of American Beauty roses. The bride carried out the tradition of something old, topaz ring; new, tennis bracelet; a gift from the groom, borrowed, her hoop; and blue, the garter; with a sixpence bearing her birth year in her left shoe, a gift from the groom's father.

Debra Riddle of Glenrose was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jennifer Harrington, Angie Rye, Annette Jones, Becky Blackburn, Brenda Russell and Kay Nickell. Destry Nolen, cousin of the bride, distributed rice bags.

After a wedding trip to the Dominican Republic, the couple will make their home in Jacksbero.

The bride is a graduate of Tarleton State University and is a first grade teacher at Perrin-Whitt Elementary School. The bridegroom received his B.S. in Agri-Business from Tarleton State University and is self-employed as a rancher.

The parents of the bridegroom were hosts for a dinner at the Green Frog Restaurant following the wedding rehearsal. The bride was honored with several parties prior to the wedding.

A surprise shower was given by the bride's first grade class; a surprise coffee was given by her co-teachers; a miscellaneous shower was given by Elaine Harrington, Kendal McCurdy, Carolyn Calhoun, Phylis Best, Lanora Joslin and Janice Kirk; a lingerie shower was given by Debra Riddle and Audra Stom and a bridal luncheon was given by Annette Jones, Becky Blackburn, Brenda Russell and Kay Nickell.

Oops!! We goofed We are all familiar with the phrase

"Forgive them, for they know not what they do," which certainly applies to yours truly last week.

No, the Junior High boys did not miraculously grow, nor did the Rivercrest Varsity cheerleaders change their names, according to last week's paper.

Quite unintentionally, film from the RHS/Detroit football game was sent for processing, instead of the Junior High/Fannindel and the junior high cheerleaders. It's still a mystery where the correct film is, and this, for those of you who know me, is not surprising. The Junior High posted a 38-0 win over Fannindel and the youngest cheerleaders did their jobs well.

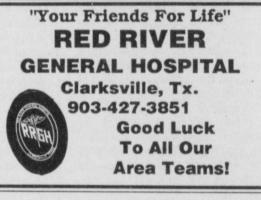

Although I may never find the film for this game, I'll ask that you excuse this goof and I promise these youngsters they will get newspaper coverage. I know I won't forget, because, I tied a string; somewhere?

'THERE IS MONEY TO BE MADE IN DOLLS," says REBECCA TAYLOR who is shown with but a few of more than 400 dolls in her collection.(Staff photo by Donna Rozell)

Childhood Treasures Are A Business For Rebecca Taylor

By Donna Rozell

Playing with dolls may strike some of us as unusual for an adult but that is the business of former Bogata resident Rebecca Taylor.

Rebecca is the daughter of Anne Randolph and the granddaughter of Frances Griffin of Bogata.

Assistant Curator of Education at the the Caldwell Zoo in Tyler is the title that Rebecca wears on a daily basis but on weekends and during her free hours she is in the business of buying and selling dolls. A graduate of Rivercrst High School and the University of Texas at Tyler, Rebecca has a degree in politoical science and a secondary teaching certificate. She lectures to groups of all ages about the wildlife in the zoo. Their habits, diet, lifestyle prefernce and personalities are her speciality She is as at home with a python as most are with the family pet.

Several years ago Rebecca started putting to good use her interest in history and became aware that her collection of dolls had profit potential. Soon she began to buy here and there and her weekends were spent in such places as Canton and other large trade-fairs and flea-markets. Her business has now grown to over 400 dolls and at least one is valued at over $3000.00. It is an original Barbie in her complete and original "outfit"

Articles written by Rebecca have been published in national magazines and she travels to other states for conventions and doll shows.

Rebecca is always willing to look at what other people have and give an estimate of the value. You may have an old doll from your childhood that has become very valuable. If so, Rebecca can probably be able to tell you all about it.

You can get up to a $275 rebate when you choose a central heat pump to keep you cool in the summer and provide cozy warmth in the winter. Texas-New Mexico Power Company is offering rebates starting at $200 for new heat pumps with a Seasonal Energy Efficieny Ratio (SEER) of 10.5 or higher. TNP will give you a rebate of $275 for buying a heat pump with a SEER greater than 12.0.

Since a central heat pump is efficient at both heating and cooling your home, you'll also enjoy year-round comfort and year-round energy savings.

For more information, call or visit your local Texas-New Mexico Power Company office.

When restricted cash flow makes new equipment acquisitions difficult, leasing may be the answer. That's because there is no down payment or any other up front charges. Payments are fixed throughout the lease, and you can make them monthly or annually, whichever best fits your cash flow pattern.

Your options are open: renew the lease for an additional term, purchase the equipment at the end of the lease, or simply return it. And there's more! Stop by and we'll tell you about the tax benefits, about conserving your capital for more profitable purposes and about making better use of existing credit lines. You can do it all by using our equipment leasing service.

Mose and Lumme (Kerbow) Grant lived in the Cherry community and vacationed in Sulphur, Oklahoma, in Platt National Park, now known as Chickasaw Park. They traveled by Model T Ford, one of the first cars in Red River County. Later their son and his family (Mable Hale's par-ents) followed this tradition and Travis and Mable Hale have continuedit.Once they carried three of their granddaughters to experience a bit of their heritage.

This past Sunday Lynn and Jill(Grant) Rogers had the urge for a group to go back for the day. The Rogers, Ted and Beth Grant of Clarksville, Mable and Travis Hale and Lallie M. Grant of Paris made the trek and met with friends and family numbering thirty-three. Those who attended came from as far away as the Dallas/Lewisville area. Everyone enjoyed the visit and shared wonderul memories of times gone by and of family and friends gone but not forgotten.
