Have you seen the movie "Christmas Vacation" from several years ago. If you have, you will remember the absolute tantrum thrown by Chevy Chase when his outlandish Christmas lighting display shorted out.

Well, my husband Thomas now says he fully understands.

With the Christmas spirit foremost in our minds...armed with electrical tape, coils of lights, and not a few extension cords Thomas, my nephew Jeff and myself sallied forth last weekend to light up the yard.

And, as most everyone who has ever done this knows, it wasn't nearly as simple as it sounds.

We thought it would be simple because last year we mounted lights on PVC pipe and fastened arches over our little bridge. All we had to do was set up our lighted angel, fasten the arches and "voila" in business...right? Wrong! Naturally I decided that the bridge arches needed side rails...which led to rigging that up...which led us to the observation that it would be really neat to fasten lights to the electric fence wire that runs over the end of the pool. The fence was off but it still required rubber boots to wade in the edge of the pool and rig up the light strands.

Well, the plugs weren't coming out just right. But, after making several special plugs up, it finally soaked in on us that we had concentrated on using the bridge plugs...and there was a light pole plug within ten feet of the end of the pool! (Bright is not the word for us).

Then, part of the angel went off. This meant that we had to wiggle and tighten hundreds of little light bulbs until we found the problem.

But, all these small problems solved, we moved up to the front gate. Jeff climbed up the fence and fastened on the first strand of plastic "candy cane" stripes. Then, when I tried to find the second set of stripes all I found was an old, ratty one which had a different number of stripes from the first one. I searched and searched, then gave up and we wrapped all the stripes with red light. No real problem, although it was getting cold and dark by then. We strung the lights down the fence, tied up our red plastic bows and headed for the house. It was with total irritation that I discovered the second, properly-striped, band of candy cane plastic in my pocket. No one was willing to take that second light pole's lights and plastic off and start over, however.

The next day Thomas and I wound our lights around the cedars at each end of the house, across the porch, and over the front door. Of course, a whole section wasn't burning, and we had to spend about an hour until we got THAT fixed. But, we were finally finished. The tree was trimmed, it's lights a glitter, and outside was a lovely display. Except...except, I was standing there looking out the window when I realized about half of the display wasn't burning!

Amarillo the cocker spaniel puppy had chewed through an extension cord! Luckily, it was during the day when the power wasn't on...but now we had to get all the wiring up in the trees or high enough where she couldn't reach it...after replacing the extension cord, of course.

So, here's to those Christmas lights, and here's hoping that not one single, solitary bulb goes out this season...because I don't think my husband can take it!

Audrey Silverblade Joins Bogata Health Clinic's Staff

Meet another new neighbor: Family nurse practitioner Audrey Silverblade has joined the staff at the Bogata Health Clinic, where she will be associated with Dr. Brooks and Dr. Nada.

Mrs. Silverblade and her son, Doug, are making their home at the corner of Patterson Street and Circle Drive.

As a nurse practitioner, Mrs. Silverblade is qualified to diagnose and treat common, acute, and chronic illnesses, and to write prescriptions.

Nurse practitioners thus perform at a level between that of the RN and the MD. To be qualified as a nurse practitioner, an RN with broad experience in nursing must complete a course of graduate study before being examined for certification.

This is the path that Mrs. Silverblade has followed. After years of experience in nursing and as hospital supervisor, particularly in pediatrics and other specialties, she did graduate work in nurse-practitioner at the University of Kansas. She has been nationally certified as a Nurse-Practitioner in Family Practice by the American Nurses Association.

Welcome to Bogata, Audrey Silverblade!

Bogata Lions Will Sell Fireworks

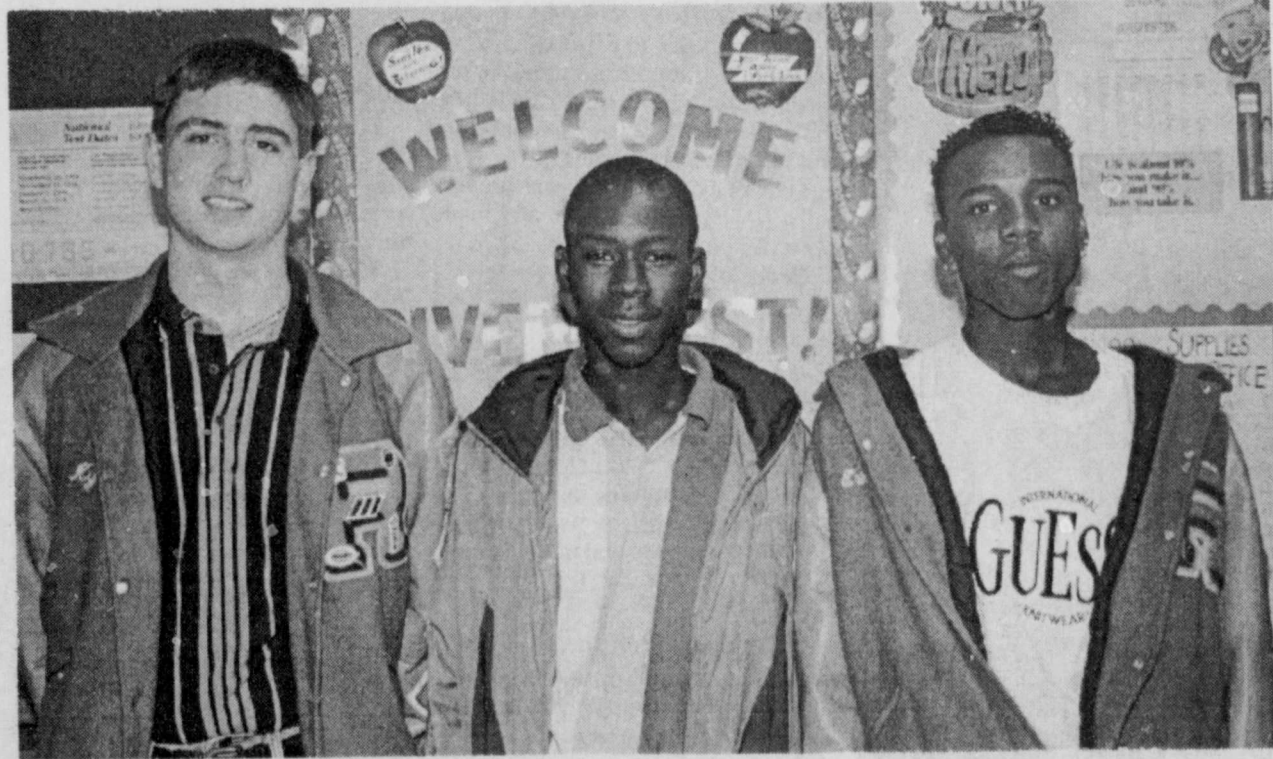

The Bogata Lions Club will once again sell fireworks to supplement their funds which are used almost weekly to help some individual or family in the Bogata area. It seems that needs have far outweighed the donations this year, and this will result in fewer people receiving help unless enough fireworks can be sold to fill the coffers.

Live Nativity Scene At JMBC

Johnstown Missionary Baptist Church will present a live nativity scene on its lawn Nightly December 16th, 17th, and 18th.

This should be a beautiful tribute. The public is cordially invited to share in the Christmas event by coming and seeing the presentation.

Food Basket Help Needed

The Bogata Lions Club in co-operation with Local Churches and concerned citizens, distributes food baskets to the folks who need them at Christmas time. This year for no apparent reason, donations have been slimmer than usual. Canned goods and cash donations are desperately needed so that no family who needs help at Christmas is missed.

Dig deep and call Shirley Vickers at 632-5447 or Linda Eilers at 632-4350. They will pick up your donation. If you would prefer, you may bring it to The First Baptist Church.

Country Cooking
Liz Irwin

Okay, so this will be the last in a series of "Tis the Season" columns about cooking and baking early for Christmas. I'm sure everyone has all of this done, but is still looking for some of those little "munchies" that you can grab by the handfuls and munch on as you run out the door to do that last little bit of Christmas shopping for that special someone that is on your list.
Or maybe while you are watching that "just one more" bowl game on TV and have just finished that "small" plate of leftover turkey and dressing and sweet potatoes and maybe just a little more cranberry sauce and broccoli and rice casserole, you need a little something to take that "sweet" taste away.
Well, here is the answer! First, we have the Captain Crunch Munch. Warning.....You can't eat just one!

Be sure to use the Peanut Butter Captain Crunch Cereal. Remember Peanut Butter is high in protein. It will help keep up your strength.
Next is Caramel Corn.....especially good during one of those long drawn out football games!
Now we come to the Sausage Balls. These are best right out of the oven. You know when you think they are cool and you take a bite and burn your mouth delicious!
This Cheese Log will keep indefinitely and the longer it sets, the better.
"It May Not Be TaMolly's-But It Is Close" Salsa is quite good with a lot of chips and cold drinks and the Turtles candy is also very good.
Have a good week and see you in the kitchen!

Lady Rebels Win First Place

Play began in the Rivercrest tournament Thursday December 1, with the Varsity Lady Rebels vs. the Mt. Pleasant Jr. In the first quarter of the game the Lady Rebels lost point guard, Jennifer Bond, to an ankle injury, which should keep Bond off the court for a few weeks. The game was all but over in the first quarter, as the crowd watched a young Mt. Pleasant team struggle to keep pace with the Lady Rebs. The Lady Tigers moved well but could not score and a rebound was all but impossible. Final score was 76-31. High scorer for the Lady Rebs was Julie Lawings followed by Michelle Savage.

On Friday evening the Lady Rebs played Ore City's Lady Rebels. Again the Ore City team was no contest for the Rivercrest girls. Jana Weatherall netted seven three pointers to take high scorer honors and the Lady Rebels dominated the rebounds. Final score 67-43.

Saturday's game was the end of the story, with the Lady Rebels facing the DeKalb Bears, who had previously beaten them in two scrimmage games. Action was hot and heavy in the first quarter, ending in a 9-9 tie. The Lady Bears pulled ahead in the second to break for the half with a 25-21 lead over the Lady Rebels. The Lady Rebs had let the fast break or snowbird play tear away at their game.

They returned to the court for a new start. Julie Lawings had an outstanding game for the team fed off steals and passes from Jana Weatherall. Amber Spencer entered the game from the bench to lend a helping hand to the team. Shaunda Jones was hot and left wide open for the two pointers, which she put through the net for the score. The third ended 43-40 Lady Rebels. Fourth quarter action saw the game go a bit out of control, a Lady Bear fan was ejected from the gym, a player drew a technical foul and the Lady Bear coach also drew the technical. Post Michelle Giles was lost to foul trouble with 4:30 left in the game on what appeared to the crowd to be a clean block. However Karen Williams was able to take up the slack of the missing giles to control the rebounds. With only 1:37 left Lawings tossed in two to bring the score to 58-55. Fouls drawn by Jana Weatherall, Krisit Hines, Julie Lawings and Karen Williams sealed the win. Final 65-57. Receiving all Tournament trophies were Julie Lawings, Michelle Giles, Jana Weatherall, and Karen Williams received the outstanding defensive player trophy.

Lady Rebels Taste Defeat

The Rivercrest Lady Rebel Varsity hosted the Fannindel Lady Falcons Tuesday November 29. The Lady Rebs had a very slow start, and ended the first quarter following the Lady Falcons 6-7. Second quarter action saw the Lady Rebs make a small comeback, but still not quite catching up. The half ended with a score of 16-19- Lady Falcons. The third quarter saw little change in the Lady Rebels. A low scoring quarter and just nothing falling into place kept the team falling slowly behind. Score 26-35 Lady Falcons. The Lady Rebs were able to pick up their scoring the fourth and final quarter, but so were the Lady Falcons, as they breezed to a 54-39 win over the Lady Rebs. High scoring honors for the Lady Rebs went to Michelle Giles. Also Scoring were Misty Chaloner, Tina Smith, Michelle Savage, Karen Williams, Jana Weatherall, Jennifer Bond and Julie Lawings. The loss may have been the key to the Lady Rebs Performance at the Rivercrest Tournament held Dec. 1-3.

THE VARSITY LADY REBELS were defeated by the Lady Falcons of Fannindel on November 29 at RHS. The final score was 54-39. (Staff Photo)

Lady Rebel JV And Varsity Host Fannindel

The Rivercrest Rebels and Lady Rebels hosted Fannindel November 29. Action began with the Lady Rebel JV. The Lady Falcons came to play ball and the gave the Lady Rebels all they could handle. First Quarter play ended with the Lady Rebs trailing 6-11. Bad Passes hurt the Lady Rebs in the entire game and the Lady Falcons were a shooting team, but lacked fundamentals. Minor mistakes turned the ball over to the Lady rebs time and again, who did not capitalize on them in the first half. Half time score 16-18-Lady Falcons. The third quarter brought the Lady Rebs out of their slump. Amber Spencer went to the goal for six points. Deidre Brown, Tosha Nickerson and Maribel Prado also hooped in points to end the third 32-24 Lady Rebs. Nickerson was lost to foul trouble in the final seconds of the third, but the Lady Rebs regrouped and played good team defense and worked off one another. The Lady Falcons did not go out easily and fought for the win to the final whistle. Final Lady Rebs 38-34. Amber Spencer took high scorer honors followed by Deidre Brown.

Rebel JV
 The Rebel JV took the court for a complete run and gun game. The Falcons were simply outclassed. At the half the Rebel s led 52-21. Dru Denison led the Rebels in scoring with 20 points followed by Mitch Ellis and Eric Martin who both tossed in 19. Also scoring were Justin Smith, Clint Gage, Todd Barker, Michael Allen, Darryl Savage and Craig Combs. Final 86-40.

New Parcel Delivery Options Are Available

The Rivercrest coaching staff would like to extend a letter of gratitude to those people who helped make this year's Rivercrest Annual Basketball Tournament a big success.

The following people volunteered their time and effort: Mary Torres, Connie Giles, Robbie Marshall, Billie Hancock, Virginia Spencer, Beth Wood, Ricky Franks, Jason Pogue, Kay Kennedy, Larann Denison, Gary VanDeaver, Craig Ingram, Pam Hays, Lori Franks, Bobbie Edge, Arice Scales, Bubba Edge, Gabby Gordon, Kip Stansell, Tina Nolen, Katherine Graf, Carry Gable and "Referee" G. W. Wood.

We were able to produce a competitive learning environment for our students with the help of these people.

A special note of thanks goes out to the Rivercrest Athletic Booster Club for providing a hospitality room for all referees, superintendents, principals and coaches of each participating school.

The support of our young people is greatly appreciated by students, teachers, and coaches.

When it comes to delivering packages, today's Postal Service is listening to customers and providing more options for parcel delivery than ever before.

Among the latest changes for better parcel service is the revised yellow delivery notice customers receive when a parcel or letter can't be delivered because it is too large for the mailbox or requires a signature.

The new delivery notice gives the Postal Service more ways to deliver these important letters and packages. All customers have to do is sign the form as indicated for re-delivery. They can choose the day they want the package or letter re-delivered. If they specify where, they can have their letter carrier leave the package at their house, or the carrier can deliver the package to a neighbor. Of course, they still have the option of taking the notice to the post office and picking up the article.

Customers may also call the phone number at the bottom of the form to request re-delivery or to ask questions about the form.

The back of the delivery notice specifies what kind of mail the item is and whether it requires a signature for proof of delivery. Mail that is Insured, Certified, or Registered requires a signature.

For personal convenience, the receiving party may elect to use the "Carrier Release" option. This arrangement allows carriers to leave non-insured, non-registered or non-certified parcels in a designated place at an address instead of leaving a notice.

Take the time to discuss these parcel delivery options with your letter carrier or postmaster today.

Bogata Resident Serves On USS Kitty Hawk

Navy Seaman, Paul L. Stringer, son of Tim L. Stringer and Susie L. Bryan of Bogata, is midway through a six-month deployment to the western Pacific and Indian oceans with the aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk, homeported in San Diego.

Stringer's ship is the lead ship of its battle group, consisting of an aircraft carrier with nine aircraft squadrons, three guided missile cruisers, a guided missile frigate, an ammunition ship, a replenishment oiler and two attack submarines. The USS Kitty Hawk Battle Group deployment not only provides a forward deployed presence in an area of strategic importance, but it also re-inforces our commitment to our Pacific allies.

Stringer and USS Kitty Hawk have participated in a wide-range of exercises with the Japanese Maritime Self-Defense Force, Republic of Korea's Navy and Royal Singaporean Navy. Stringer's ship and its crew also joined with Marines from the Third Marine Expeditionary Force in an exercise which highlighted the capability of a carrier to be used as a launching platform for airborne amphibious assaults.

While deployed, Stringer has visited Japan, Okinawa, South Korea, Hong Kong, Singapore, Guam and Malaysia.

Stringer's involvement in the deployment is an example of how U.S. aircraft carriers and other Navy ships can respond on short notice to crisis around the world.

The mission of these forces is to dominate coastal and ocean areas while projecting sustained power and presence wherever U.S. interests are involved.

The 1991 graduate of Rivercrest joined the Navy on November 1993.

Chris Waller & Susan Robinett

Susan Robinett & Chris Waller Are Students of The Month

Chris Waller and Susan Robinett, have been chosen as Students of the Month for November at Rivercrest High School.

Susan Robinett is the daughter of Bill Robinett of Manchester and Georgia Robinett, of Deport. She is a junior. Susan is a member of D-Fy-it, Participates in UIL, and has been on the honor roll all three of her high school years. She is a member of the first Baptist Church of Bogata. Susan enjoys movies, animals, outdoor activities, and being with her family and friends.

Chris Waller is the son of Edward and Emma Fulbright of Bogata. He plays football, basketball, and runs track. Chris was chosen all district MVP in football. He has been to regional track meets twice and should go again this year. Chris is a senior.

New Postal Outlets Open At Convenient Locations

Today, more and more families need two incomes, so everyone is on the move, darting from breakfast to work or school, and back home again. This faster paced lifestyle leaves less time for visiting traditional postal sales outlets.

The Postal Service of the '90s has recognized that modern consumers want more convenient access to postal services. This new postal attitude focuses on improving quality and customer satisfaction, and has resulted in expansion into new retail locations.

The Postal Service has found that one effective way to expand the availability of postal services is to establish contract postal units (CPUs). Contract Postal Units are created through a competitive bidding process through which an independent business or individual contracts to provide retail postal services.

Contract Postal Units are not new to the Postal Service, but they are appearing at more convenient locations than ever before. There are nearly 6,000 CPUs in small towns, shopping malls, and plazas throughout the United States. Many are placed in highly populated areas, affording customers access to retail services outside traditional working hours and in unexpected places.

Retailers, nationwide chains, and department stores who operate contract units also enjoy the added boost these postal outlets provide their core businesses. On average, four months after the opening of a CPU, 63% of department store customers surveyed said they shopped there more often because of the CPU, with 39% using it to mail packages.

Recent independent research confirms that public reaction to the Postal Service's new emphasis on customer satisfaction and quality service has been very positive. It is believed that improved access and availability of postal services can play a key role in boosting these ratings even further.

The Postal Service continues to look for new ways to do business in order to provide the type of services its customers expect and deserve.

A Letter From The Editor

Dear Readers,

As you all might have noticed, I find it necessary, periodically to do a bit of apologizing for some of my errors. This week I would like to apologize to Mae Eudy for leaving her name out of the Eudy Family Reunion news and I would like to apologize to Jim and Sue Mauldin for leaving their names out of the folks who visited with Zelma Mauldin over the holidays. You know, I just beg people for news and then when you give it to me it seems that I should at least be able to get it right. I promise, I will try to do better next time.

We have had some people who don't understand exactly how the December discounts on the papers work. I will attempt to explain. Our regular subscription rate for local papers is $15.00 per year and for papers sent out of the Lamar, Red River, and Titus County area the rate is $18.00. If you pay for your subscription in December the price is $2.00 cheaper. This makes the rates $13.00, local, and $16.00, out of the area. One of the reasons we can do this in December is that we do not send statements for subscriptions which are about to expire during this month. If you will look on your paper at the label which has your name and address on it, you can find out when your paper expires. The small number (such as 1 or 2 or 15 etc.) tells us the city and state you live in. It is strictly for our convenience. The date in the top right hand corner of the label tells us when your paper expires (12/30/94, or 2/28/95). Even if your subscription doesn't expire until February, or any other future date, if you go ahead and renew in December, you will get the December rate and we will just add a year to your expiration date. If none of this makes any sense the way I have it written, just call and I'll see if I can help.

You all probably can not imagine how much we appreciate your subscriptions and your co operation. We especially appreciate your participation. While we report the news, without you, there would be no news to report. I'll not go into my everybody likes to read local news, especially those who live far from Bogata and feel a need for contact with their hometown routine, but I will tell you that our favorite people are those who come in and give us their happenings or call in and tell us what is going on with them. Even more than that we like people who bring in a photograph to go with their news. We can use black and white or color photographs, or polaroid pictures. We love photos of babies and old folks, teenagers, brides and grooms, folks who have won something, and folks who have participated in activities. We would like to print reports of your clubs, and organizations, their activities and meetings.

I don't always know everything that is going on in Bogata, but if it is something I need to know, I certainly appreciate those of you who call and remind me. It doesn't matter if two people give me the same news since I have been known to forget a thing or two.

I guess I tend to get wordy. Who elsedo you know who takes two columns to say "Thanks"?

Easy Way To Buy Stamps

You don't have any stamps. It's snowing outside, you can't get your car out of the driveway and your mortgage will be late if you don't mail soon. What do you do?

It's easy. Today's Postal Service has made it more convenient than ever to buy stamps. Through the "Easy Stamp" program, customers may order postage by phone, mail or FAX or from Automatic Teller Machines (ATMs) and at supermarkets and other retail outlets in Lamar and Red River counties.

Using "Stamps By Mail" customers may order stamps through the mail and have them on hand no later than two working days after ordering them. The stamps are sold at post office prices with no handling charges and are available in rolls of 100 and 500, sheets of 50 and booklets of 20. Various stamp denominations, pre-stamped postal cards and pre-stamped envelopes also are available. Stamps by Mail order forms may be picked up at any post office or from any letter carrier.

Postal customers may order by phone with a major credit card by calling 1-800-Stamp24 any day of the week, 24 hours a day. There is a charge for this service, depending on the number of stamps purchased.

Using a facsimile machine (FAX) is another convenient and quick way to order stamps. Orders received by the deadline are delivered the next day. To pay for the stamps, customers simply give their letter carrier a check or money order when they are delivered. Order forms are available from any letter carrier or post office.

Ordering stamps by mail, FAX or phone is a simple, fast and convenient way for customers to restock stamp supplies without ever having to leave their homes or offices.

For customer convenience, stamps also may be purchased at your local ATMs. Simply push the "order stamps" command on the touch-tone screen on the ATM and order up to three sheets of eighteen self-adhesive stamps per transaction. The cost per sheet, the regular price of stamps, is deducted from the customer's checking or savings account.

Don't forget, stamps can also be purchased at many supermarkets. Stamps are available at local supermarkets throughout Red River and Lamar counties and in other retail stores.

If you have any questions about any of these easy and convenient ways to buy stamps, stop by your local post office and the staff will be happy to help you.

Farmers Home Administration Receives New Name

Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) has a new name under the U. S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) reorganization; however, the same work continues, according to George Ellis, FmHA State Director.

Ellis is now named the Acting State Director for Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD).

Congress passed a bill authorizing the reorganization late in September, and Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy issued orders making the changes on October 20, 1994.

The entire USDA was reorganized in an effort to provide better service to the public while reducing the number of agencies required to do the same work," Ellis said. "Over the next five years, savings to the taxpayers will total $3.6 billion through the elimination of 14 separate USDA agencies and staff reductions of up to 11,000 nationwide."

Ellis said the FmHA and the Rural Development Administration (RDA) have been abolished. Most of the loan and grant programs of these two agencies are being taken over under the RECD title.

The farm lending, rural housing, water and waste disposal, community facility, and business and industry programs formerly administered by FmHA or RDA will still be available at the newly named RECD offices. The farm loan programs will eventually become part of the new Consolidated Farm Service Agency, which was created under reorganization.

"For the time being, people wanting these important services should go to the local office that probably will still have a Farmers Home Administration sign out front," Ellis said. "As additional changes are made, we will be letting the communities know about them."

Did anyone else become as angry as I did when the Magic of Christmas and the legend of the Tooth Fairy were stolen from their store of treasures which went with childhood?

I'll never forget the occasions of my being told about Santa Claus and the Tooth Fairy having to have the help of Mama and Daddy to get their jobs done. I wanted the Tooth Fairy to put money under my pillow to replace my just pulled tooth, even if I had to make sure to tell my folks about putting a tooth under the pillow before I went to bed. That's something you cannot keep a secret from your parents about if you want things to come out right.

I still love Christmas secrets. We always knew where our gifts were kept until Santa could come in on Christmas Eve and help out by getting them out of the top shelf of the closet and putting them under the tree. I wouldn't have peeked for anything. I was always glad I didn't have to drink the milk which was left for Santa. I just can't handle milk and I felt sorry for whoever had to drink it. I heard someone tell the other day about opening their presents while their parents went to work and re-wrapping them and putting them back under the tree before the folks came home from work. I guess it would have been interesting if they had worn out the gifts before Santa got to give them to them.

Our Mr. Santa Claus would have told our children what they were getting long before Christmas if this Mrs. Santa hadn't kept most things secret from him. One way I discovered to slow them down nearly drove our children crazy. I had an elaborate number system with which I labeled gifts so that they would not have our children's names on them. I knew they would have picked at the wrapping and shaken them for weeks before opening time. This way they weren't sure which ones to shake. They would have gotten in trouble if they had shaken a gift that was for someone else and broken it, so they just relied on "I'll tell you what you're getting if you'll tell me."

Mr. Santa still has the same problem. I guess he would give out presents in July if he could justify it, but Mrs. Santa manages to keep a few secrets in spite of him.

The true recapturing of the Magic of Christmas accompanies the birth of each and every grandchild. The first couple of years they like the wrapping more than the gifts, and as they get older and require more mature gifts, they also discover quite easily the problem Mr. Santa has with secrets. I would not be a bit surprised if we had to buy all new gifts before Christmas, so that our grandchildren could have something under the tree which is a surprise. It's only a couple of weeks, so maybe if we guard the gifts and the Mr. I won't have to replace gifts.

Regardless of how many replacement gifts we buy, I only hope that we along with our children and grandchildren can keep in our minds at all times the spirit of love and giving which should accompany this beautiful holiday, and never let receiving become a priority in our lives. Even with the Mr. Santa Claus at our house, as bad a secret keeper as he is, one of his biggest pleasures is giving. I think if we focus on his generous nature, it will override the problem of his big mouth.

You Can Work And Collect Benefits At The Same Time

By Ray Hudson
District Manager

Want to "keep on truckin'" and collect Social Security benefits at the same time? You may be able to do it! If you're over 62, it's possible that you could collect partial Social Security retirement benefits while continuing to work full-time.

Partial benefits may be payable when you're employed and eligible for retirement benefits (the earliest age is 62) or widow(ers) benefits (at age 60 or older.) If you're under age 70, you'll be subject to an annual earnings limit. If your earnings exceed the limit, part of your benefits will be withheld. In 1994, the earnings limit is $8,040 if you're under age 65, $1 is withheld for every $2 you earn over that amount. If you're over 65 but not yet 70, $1 will be withheld for every $3 of earnings that exceed $11,160. If you're 70 or older, you can collect full benefits no matter how much you earn.

Here's an example of how this could work for you. Let's say, you are 63 and eligible to receive $800 a month in Social Security benefits -- that's $9,600 a year. You have a job that pays you $20,160, which is $12,000 over the 1994 earnings limit of $8,040. Because you earn $12,000 over the earnings limit, we would withhold $1 from your Social Security benefit for every $2 you earn over the limit. In your case, we would withhold $6,000 of your benefits. However, you would receive $3,600 from Social Security while earning $20,040 on your job. Your total income from work and Social Security for the year would be $23,640.

Next year, if you were still working, you could be getting even more money. The annual earnings limit rises each year. Therefore, a smaller amount of your earnings would be withheld if you exceed the limit. And, because Social Security refigures benefits each year to consider additional earnings, you could get a higher benefit.

If you're at least 62 and want to find out if you can work and collect Social Security benefits at the same time, call this toll-free number: 1-800-772-1213 (between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.) to make an appointment to talk with a Social Security representative. You can call that number at anytime to have a Request for Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement form sent to you. You'll receive your statement about four weeks after you complete the form and send it to the Social Security address on the back.

The impersonal hand of government can never replace the helping hand of a neighbor.

EVEN SMALL BUILDERS HAVE BIG PLANS

Sometimes the blueprint for a child's future begins with a simple idea. Like playing with toys. And, because Ford New Holland toys are richly detailed, they give children freedom to create, to express ideas, to explore the world around them. Pesticide Applicator Recertification Course Offered

A recertification course for licensed private, non-commercial, and commercial pesticide applicators will be held at the Red River County Library, Tuesday, December 20. The course will feature a satellite conference which was initially broadcast statewide in early December. Participants will receive 5 CEUs including one hour in Integrated Pest Management and 2 hours in Laws and Regulations.

Topics for the course will include laws and regulations, integrated pest management, environmental concerns, as well as topics on endangered species, East Texas water quality and use, reading and comprehension of pesticide labels and protecting your home from insects.

The course will begin at 9:00 a.m. and end at approximately 4:00 p.m. There will be a $6.00 registration fee. If you would like to attend, please contact the County Extension Office at 427-3867 prior to the meeting date.

Answers to Common Applicator Questions:

Q: How many CEUs do I already have?

A: CEUs are tracked by the Texas Department of Agriculture. Write TDA, Attention: "Applicator Recertification Credits," at P.O. Box 12847, Austin, TX 78711, or call 1-800-TELL-TDA (1-800-835-5832). County Extension Agents are not required to keep permanent records of your attendance at Extension recertification courses, although some agents do this as a courtesy. However, their records would not reflect credits you received in other counties or from other trainers. Only TDA has a complete record of your continuing education credits.

Q: How many CEUs must I have, and by when?

A: Private Applicators: If your certificate number is 158,532 or less, you have until December 31, 1995 to choose between two courses of action: either 1) obtain 15 CEUs to maintain your certificate, or 2) retrain and retest to obtain a private applicator license (and pay license fee).

If your certificate number falls from 158,533 through 166,865, you must retrain and retest for a private applicator license by December 31, 1994, regardless of your CEU history.

If you already have a private applicator license, you must obtain 15 CEUs every 5 years (by December 31 of the year preceding your license expiration date.) These must include 2 credits in laws and regulations and 1 credit in integrated pest management.

Commercial and Non-Commercial Applicators:

You must obtain 15 continuing education units every 3 years, at a rate of 5 CEUs per year. The 15 credits must include 2 credits in laws and regulations and 1 credit in integrated pest management.

IRS To Reduce Tax Laws For Employers

The tax law burden for household employers has been drastically reduced by new legislation. "This new law means that many employers who previously were required to file quarterly reports with the IRS will no longer have to report employment taxes for their household employees," said Bobby E. Scott, Dallas District Director of the Internal Revenue Service. The quarterly filing and payment requirements have been eliminated by the new law, and the $50 per quarter threshold has been raised to $1000 per year (an amount that will be indexed for inflation beginning in 1996.)

Household employers and their employees are eligible for refunds if they paid Social Security and Medicare taxes on 1994 employee wages of less than $1000. Employers can obtain their refunds with interest by filing Form 843, "Claim for Refund and Request Abatement." Alternatively, employers who file a fourth quarter Form 942, "Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees" can reduce their liability on that return by the amount of any overpaid household employment taxes. In December, the fourth quarter Form 942 package will be mailed to employers; this package will contain special instructions and a simplified version of the Form 843 for use in claiming refunds.

This change should request reimbursement from their employers for any Social Security and Medicare taxes withheld from their pay. However, employees who are unable to obtain refunds of these taxes from their employers can receive them by filing the Form 843 and attaching a copy of their Form W-2, "Wage and Tax Statement." A simplified version of the Form 843 will be available after January 1 by calling 1-800-TAX-FORM. Also, Publication 926, "Employment Taxes for Household Employers," and Publication 553, "Highlights of 1994 Tax Changes," will provide more details on how employees can file for their refunds.

Employees who receive refunds will nevertheless receive Social Security wage credits on their 1994 wages. To ensure proper posting of these credits, the new law requires employers, for 1994 only, to issue a Form W-2 to household employees who were paid more than $50 in any quarter. The fourth-quarter Form 942 package and Publication will contain special instructions for preparing these W-2's.

Another provision of the law, beginning in 1995, exempts household employees under 18 from any Social Security and Medicare taxes, regardless of how much they earn, unless household employment is the worker's principal occupation. For the 1995 tax year, household employers are no longer required to file Form 942. Instead, they will use their 1040 income tax returns to report SS, Medicare and FUTA taxes along with any income taxes withheld from their household employees.

Even though the new law simplifies the reporting and payment of household FUTA tax by allowing it to be reported on the employers 1995 Form 1040, it does not affect the wage threshold for FUTA liability. Mr. Scott warns: "This new law does not directly affect any state unemployment tax filing requirements. Household employers may still be subject to quarterly filing requirements for their state taxes."

Finally, under the new law, household employers are not required to make household employee SS, Medicare and FUTA tax payments throughout the year until 1998. Mr. Scott encourages household employers to either increase their withholding or make estimated payments to avoid a large balance due on these taxes when they file their income tax returns. Beginning in 1998, withholding or estimated tax payments must be sufficient to cover these taxes. If not, these underpayments could be subject to estimated tax penalties.

Fire Ants Can Be Controlled But Are Hard To Eradicate

By Mike Morrow
County Extension Agent
Lamar County

Fire ants cannot be eradicated yet, but they can be controlled in lawns, especially if action is taken in the fall instead of waiting until next spring.

Entomologists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are now recommending a control program called the "Two-step Method" for lawns in the highly infested areas in the eastern half of Texas and the southeastern United States.

This program uses the annual or semi-annual broadcast application of one of the effective fire ant bait products like Amdro or Logic (also sold as Award, Ortho Fire Ant Bait or Hi-Yield Fire Ant Killer Containing Logic).

The second step is to use an individual fire ant mound treatment product -- a dust, drench, or granular insecticide -- to treat "nuisance" or "escape" mounds. Because of the slow-acting nature of bait-formulated fire ant insecticides, they are best applied in the fall to produce a fire ant-free spring.

Amdro, when applied at a rate of 1 to 1 1/2 pounds per acre, provides its maximum control 3 to 6 weeks after application. Products containing Logic act much more slowly, since these products do not kill worker ants but prevent the production of new workers.

Ants in the mound at the time of treatment must die off naturally. Maximum effects from these "insect growth regulator" insecticides occur three to nine months later. All bait products are approved for use around the home, but none are registered for use in home gardens.

Bait-formulated products generally use processed corn grits. The active ingredients are dissolved in soybean oil which coats the grits. The product must be fresh; if the soybean oil is old or exposed to air, it becomes rancid and unattractive to foraging ants.

Baits are best applied using crank-type seeders or spreaders. Hand held or over-the-shoulder spreaders are best for treating small areas. Apply baits in the fall to dry ground when no rain is expected for 24 to 48 hours. If possible, treat in the cool of the morning or evening. Bait products cannot be applied as mixtures with seeds or fertilizers since bait attractiveness to the ants will be lost.

If individual mound treatments are needed, wait two to seven days after broadcasting the bait before treating. "Nuisance" mounds are those around the mail box or by the gate which need to be eliminated right away.

"Escape" mounds are colonies that were not affected by the bait treatment. Ants in these mounds may have been feeding on another, more attractive source of food when the bait was applied. Colonies may also have migrated into the bait treated area. Very few mounds will need to be treated individually once the effects of a successful bait application have been achieved.

The "Two Step Method" is considered appropriate for most turf grass in heavily infested areas, but there are other approaches. In small areas with low fire ant mound numbers or when it's important to preserve native ant species, individual-mound treatments may be more appropriate. Also, slow-acting bait-formulated products may not be suitable for flood-prone areas.

And finally, the use of baits and individual fire ant mound treatments will not prevent mounds from migrating into or colonizing treated areas. In those areas where absolutely no ants can be tolerated, surface treatments of contact insecticide containing Dursban, diazinon or others may be necessary.

Whatever fire ant control efforts are used, take care to follow use instructions provided on the product label. None of the methods of fire ant control available today will totally eliminate ants. Plan to re-apply treatments as needed for as long as control is desired.

Red River County Selected For Enhancement Program

State Representative Tom Ramsey(D-Mt. Vernon) announced today that the Texas Department of Transportation has selected Red River County to be a part of the Statewide Transportation Enhancement Program.

This program will provide Red River County with financial assistance in completing the exterior restoration work on the county courthouse.

The work will include excavation around the base of the structure to reinforce the foundation; reworking the doors, downspouts, windows and frames; repainting the clock tower and cornice and cleaning and recapping flues.

"We already know how special Red River County and Clarksville are; I'm proud that the Department of Transportation agrees," said Ramsey, referring to the fact that Red River County was selected from a field of some 470 applicants.

"This building still serves as the County Courthouse, but it also is a primary tourist attraction. I think its restoration will stimulate interest in the structure, as well as the local economy," said Ramsey.

Work has already begun on the 1894 building.
