Oh Spare Me, Please, From That Much Rusticity!

I like the great outdoors. I love cabins in the woods, preferably when they are nestled in a valley with beautiful mountains rising up above them.

I positively adore a nice, crackling fireplace when there is a chill in the air.

There isn't anything much nicer than going to bed (notice I said BED, not sleeping bag) listening to the sounds of the woods going to sleep, or a mountain stream gurgling and giggling goodnights.

In search of this, I tend to look at lots of ads for cabins or lodges in magazines such as "Southern Living" or "Texas Highways" or magazines I get from my friends at the Travel Agency. Of course, I spend a whole lot of time looking and very little time going, but the looking is almost a hobby in itself.

Another friend, Dawne Darden, has begun doing much the same thing.

Neither one of us is in to "roughing" it much.

I prefer central heat and air, comfortable beds, a full bathroom, and a hot tub is pretty nice, too.

But, I do understand that many people don't mind things being more basic.

Still, I think that one can go too far.

For instance, Dawne called the other day to report that she had found an ad for a cabin with breathtaking vistas, and "Rustic Accommodations".

How rustic? Well, try "clean outhouse".

CLEAN OUTHOUSE!!! It also offered a wood cook stove! Excuse me, but I don't think so!

I cannot imagine anyone truly thinking that one is getting back to nature with an outhouse. I'm also convinced that after a few days enjoying the "joys" of an outhouse most people will go back to their bathrooms with great appreciation. I doubt anyone under the age of 75 knows how to use a wood stove.

I didn't grow up with an outdoor toilet, but I used to spend time at friend's homes who did come equipped with them. Never, not ever, not once did anyone prefer that type of bathroom...everyone wanted a nice indoor facility!

So, it's difficult to imagine that anyone would pay money to stay somewhere that had no sewer system!

I'll admit that advertising a "clean" outhouse is certainly a relief, but dad gum, folks, isn't that the craziest thing you ever heard?

From drum beat to police beat

Bogata Police Chief will "write you a ticket or play you a song"

By Frances Rozell

Bogata Chief of Police Charlie Clegg "can write you a ticket or play you a song".

Charlie Clegg came to Bogata in 1998. He helped create the Police Department for Bogata, a department that aims for value based policies to better serve the community.

Charlie was born in Nashville, Tennessee. His dad served in World War II and his mother worked as a riveter, building air planes. The family moved to Hendersonville, Tenn. when Charlie was about 12 years old. Hendersonville was about 30 miles out of Nashville, near Old Hickory Lake.

Charlie grew up in this neighborhood, and Boots Randolph lived a short distance away; Johnny Cash lived close by.

Charlie's best friends were Del and Dane Bryants. Their dad was Boudeleoux Bryant, who was added to the Country Music Hall of Fame three years ago. Roy Orbison's little brother, Sam, went to school with Charlie. Boots Randolph, Chet Atkins and Floyd Cramer would do fund raisers for their school.

Charlie's older brother brought drums home, but Charlie was the one who "took to" them. He started playing in "The Black Poodle" next to the Carousel on Printers Alley in Nashville when he was only 14 years old.

Charlie and some friends formed a music group and called themselves "The Homesteaders". The band consisted of Charlie Clegg, drummer;

Bob Leftridge, standard guitar and lead singer; Dave McCreary, bass guitar; Jerry Rivers sang and played fiddle and mandolin; Frank Evans sang tenor and played lead guitar. Jerry Rivers was the fiddler in Hank Williams Senior's band. The Homesteaders record "Show me the Way to the Circus" was in the top 10 hits. This was all back in about 1966.

The Homesteaders played back up music for many singers: Red Foley, Lefty Frizzell, Dottie West, Marty Robbins, Charlie Pride, Slim Whitman. They played the music for Carl Smith when he did "Hey Joe", played for Floyd Tillman when he did "Slow Poke". They played for Hank Snow, Tex Ritter, P. Wee King, and Red Stewart who wrote "Tennessee Waltz" and "Bonaparte's Retreat". Charlie and the other Homesteaders played in Carnegie Hall for the opening of the show "Buck Owens Live At Carnegie hall". The Country Music Awards in 1967 recognized The Homesteaders as one of the Top 10 bands in the USA. Buddy Lee Attractions was their booking agent. They traveled to all 50 states and 28 countries seven or eight times from 1966 to 1974.

Charlie was staff drummer for Tree Publishing Co. of Nashville. Deanna Carter's dad, Fred Carter, Jr., played guitar on their records.

There are remarks about Charlie Clegg in Hank Williams Sr.'s Biography.

Charlie married Betty Foster of California. She started singing on the west coast at the young age of 12. She appeared on Cals Corral and Cliff Stone Jamboree. Cliff Stone was entered in the Country Music Hall of Fame. Betty was encouraged to go to Nashville, there in Little Darlings Recording Studio, she and Charlie met. Glenn Campbell was a big backer of Betty's but she decided to give up her singing ambitions for the role of wife and mother. She and Charlie married and have two children. A son, Brandon, is a policeman in Dallas. A son, Shannon, was in law enforcement, but is now doing interior customizing of jet airplanes. He and other crew members did Arnold Schwartzegger's jet. Charlie found the music field took too much time away from his wife and sons, so he gave it up and moved to Texas. He said he always enjoyed Texas when he came to the state with The Homesteaders. He went to work for Alfa Laval/Swrgc Dairy Equipment Co. as regional manager. After a few years Charlie decided to get into Law Enforcement and some time later found his way to Bogata. He and his department have made Bogata a safer community.

The Homesteaders record "Show Me The Way To the Circus" featuring Charlie Clegg on drums can be heard at the Bogata Library/Museum when it is open Fridays from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. or Saturdays from 10 until 2.

When detected early, prostate cancer is highly curable.

For all those little reasons: Be smart. Be screened. Take a $5 PSA blood test and take charge of your health.

Over the last several years, ETMC has been a leader in the early detection of prostate cancer. Record numbers of East Texas men have taken part in specially priced PSA screenings offered by ETMC.

You are at risk if:

- You are 50 or more years of age
- You are 40 or more years of age and are African-American
- You are 40 or more years of age and have a family history of prostate cancer

Good News, Medicare Recipients!

Thanks to recent improvements in Medicare reimbursement, PSA screenings are now a covered benefit for men age 65 or more. Call your physician for an appointment or call HealthFirst for a physician referral.

You are eligible for the $5 screening if you are up to 65 years of age, at risk as defined above, and meet the following screening guidelines:

- You have not been in the care of a urologist for any prostate-related problems or diagnosis in the past year
- You have not had a PSA test since July 1, 2000

Take charge of your health. Call ETMC HealthFirst to schedule your appointment today: 1-800-648-8141, press #2. Appointments are necessary.

Brandon Dodd celebrates third birthday

Brandon Dodd celebrated his third birthday with a party in the home of his grandmother on June 26. His parents, Chad and Heather Dodd and his sister, Maurissa, hosted the party.

The dining room was decorated with streamers from each corner, meeting in the center of the table with a huge variety of balloons. Above the dining room entry was a "Happy Third Birthday" banner.

and Mrs. Matt Cooper and twins Mattysyn Leigh, Matti and Nolan Lewis of Garland; Shana Dodd, Brandon's aunt and friend Fedil of Corinth; Samantha, a friend of Maurissa's; Shara and Brielle Patton and friend Chad of Eustus; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Johnson of the Pinnacle Point Golf Club.

After the meal, the birthday cake was brought out. Brandon's favorite, chocolate, with the number "3" on it. The candle was lit and Brandon blew it out. It was so much fun that the candle was lit two more times.

After everyone enjoyed cake, they returned to the living room to watch Brandon open his gifts.

Be Sun Safe!!

Remember to: Avoid the sun at its strongest, between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Apply sunscreen every day before going outside and reapply regularly, especially after swimming or perspiring.

Be sure to protect all exposed skin including head, ears, lips, hands and feet.

Choose a sunscreen with an SPF of at least 15 and make sure it blocks both UVA and UVB rays.

Teach your children by example to be sun safe when playing outside, and provide shady areas for play.

Always keep babies and toddlers out of direct sun.

Don't forget: UV rays can reach your skin through colors, water, even windows, and can intensify when reflected off water, sand and snow.

The Crumps visited with their son, Terry Halbert and family on the day of their grandson Micah's first communion the first Sunday in May. They visited their son, Tommy of Frankston recently and attended the annual Lane family reunion in Athens May 28-29. They also visited his sisters, Glenda Mills and Lezette Remmers and families that weekend. They visited Vivian Crump of Bells this Sunday. Marla and Charity Halbert were in Dallas Friday to see Marla's rheumatologist.

Word was received of the death of Bill Fielding of Tyler. He was the husband of Elaine Maddox Fielding, who is a cousin of Karen Baker.

Melissa and Gilbert Arriaga attended the Rodgers reunion in Lubbock over the weekend. They spent Thursday night with Bernice Thomas in Boyd.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Ruby Legate of Bogata. She was a former resident and teacher in the school system here.

Raymond Jr. and Nancy Dugger celebrated their 45th anniversary June 1. They were married in their newly built home in Fulbright and celebrated by having supper at the Fish Fry in Paris.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
Frequently good deeds are done by people who receive no pay and no recognition for the time and labor involved in helping our community. Such is the case at Thomas Park in Bogata.
David Rozell came to the park recently and ground some unsightly stumps that were left for the recent drought that resulted in the death of quite a few big trees. Bogata and the surrounding area should be proud that we have people like David that care about our community and show it. Thank you again, David, for your very much appreciated efforts to help make Thomas Park the best park it can be for the enjoyment of all our citizens.
Sincerely,
Wendell Davis

Zero tolerance means zero alcohol

Parents and anyone over 21 needs to be aware that it is illegal to make alcohol available to a minor. Fines of up to $2,000 and/or 180 days in jail can be assessed and adults open themselves up to tremendous civil and criminal liability.

Under Texas' zero tolerance law, it is unlawful for a minor to purchase, attempt to purchase, possess or consume alcoholic beverages, or misrepresent their age. Minors can face a fine of up to $500, a mandatory alcohol awareness course, community service, and a 30-day suspension of their license. On the second offense, there is again a fine of up to $500, possible attendance of an alcohol awareness course, 20-40 hours of community service and a 60-day suspension of their driver's license. On their third MIP, a teen could face a fine of $250-$2,000, confinement in jail for up to 180 days and automatic suspension of their driver's license if the teen is at least 17 years old. If a minor is driving, any detectable amount of alcohol in a minor's system is unlawful and will result in a

DUI. Many teenagers can reach a .08 BAC with two or three beers in an hour.

According to the National Highway Transportation Safety Administration, Texas leads the nation with the highest number of alcohol related traffic fatalities among youth. One in four Texas high school seniors stated in a 2000 survey that they had driven a car after having a good bit to drink at least once during the past year. This represents 80,000 impaired drivers on Texas roads each year.

If you know of a teenage drinking party, you can anonymously report it by calling 1-888-THE-TABC, which is statewide and toll free. Underage drinking can be a deadly choice. Remember, there aren't always second chances.
