Tribe Downs Eastland, 31-12

By DON COMEDY
The Haskell Indians downed a favored Eastland Maverick team 31-12 in a season opener last Friday night at Indian Field. The Mavericks received the opening kick-off and looked as if they were going to do what most predictors had forecast. During the first 10 minutes of play, the Tribe managed only one offensive play and it ended in a fumble. The Mavericks marched 58 yards in 16 plays only to be halted scoreless when a dirge of Indians led by Robin Colbert blocked a 15-yard field goal attempt.

With only about two minutes left in the first period, the Indians began their first scoring drive. Junior fullback Jim Pippin began the drive with an 8 yard run. Quarterback Tim Pringle next handed off to Charles Alexander who broke several tackles and romped 31 yards to the Eastland 17. After short gains by Colbert and Randy Ivy, Pringle connected with sophomore Chris Love for an 11 yard touchdown pass. PAT failed.

On the first Maverick play, Raymond Rodella recovered a fumble on the Eastland 12 yard line, to set up the first in a series of four Randy Ivy touchdowns. Ivy's kick was good and the Tribe led 13-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Second period action began as Love recovered a Maverick fumble. On the next play Ivy carried the ball 19 yards for the third Indian score. Extra point run failed. These three touchdowns all occurred in a span of only 45 seconds.

Eastland was forced to punt on their next possession and after three plays the Indian offense also punted. Adam Sanchez recovered the fumbled punt in mid air and set up another Ivy touchdown from the times for a gain of 93 yards. He averaged seven yards per carry. Number 60, Adam Sanchez, is shown coming up to give Randy a helping hand. He recovered a punt that Eastland fumbled in mid-air, and played quite a ballgame himself. (Photo by Don Comedy)

This year, things are looking great. Even with the reduced maize production from last week's report, the crops are beautiful. The Herman Marcus plant building is going up by leaps and bounds. Another Fair Board meeting Thursday night just about finalized plans for the big Haskell County Fair that's slated for Sept. 20, 21 & 22. Football season has begun. And the County got a good rain, only four weeks after County Agent Max Stapleton asked for it... which incidentally has to speak well of ol' Max's style of av- ing, somehow.

Tractor Pull Set At Fair

are a way of life in County, so why should Tractor Pulling Contest most exciting thing to at the Haskell County ould be—and it will be. Hale, chairman of the has viewed some of tests over the state, and "There's absolutely like it... and nothing stitling"... beginning in popularity southwest, the tractor have been a way of life for generations further north. What stock car races and rodeos are to fans here, the tractor pulls are to spectators in Kansas, Nebraska, etc.

Both regular stock farm tractors—driven straight in off the fields—and super-stock tractors, with modified engines and turbo-chargers will be in competition.

The tractors must pull a special skid (that transfers weight from the wheels to the skid) and the further it goes, the harder it is to pull. The contest will be run on a 350 foot track inside the rodeo arena at the fair grounds. There'll be a tractor pulling alongside the track at six miles an hour. The only two ways a tractor can be disqualified, is if the driver gets off the track, or if he passes the pace-tractor.

In most contests, there is a big push to get the super-modified tractors. Haskell County Fair will have some of those, but will emphasize the local tractors, right out of the fields. Any contestant can run in any two classes, as long as he changes drivers. The classes will be divided into stock and super-stock classes.

All tractors entered must have a dead-man throttle. They must hold it open to drive, and any time it is released it will kill the tractor engine.

There will be three classes: 7-9,000 pounds, 9-12,000 pounds, and 12-15,000 pounds. The official National Tractor Pullers Association rules will be used.

Rehab Round Up Sale Set Sept. 24

James Powell, co-owner of Haskell Livestock Auction, has again been appointed Haskell County Chairman for the Round-Up for Crippled Children and Adults, by the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

The Fourth Annual Round-Up Sale will be held Monday, Sept. 24, at 1 p. m. at the Ranchers and Farmers Auction in Abilene. So, now is the time to cut out a cow or a calf, or more or for people to buy a calf to donate. Any kind of livestock will be accepted—the Howard Hopkins family has already donated a goat. The Jerry Hanns family donated a horse and is planning a barrel race for more money for the Rehab Center.

The Center is a non-profit organization and accepts all patients without regard to race, creed or financial circumstances. It already has helped several Haskell County people.

If you wish to donate cattle, and have no way to transport them, you can call James Powell at 864-2624, and they will be picked up. The Auction barn will also have a special place in their sale Saturday, Sept. 22, at which time you can donate money or buy a calf.

Remember, help for today is hope for tomorrow!

Revival Draws Big Crowds At First Baptist

The Harvest Revival, now in progress at the First Baptist Church in Haskell, is drawing big crowds each night, and good daytime attendance, according to evangelist and pastor, the Rev. Dudley E. Bragg.

Music services, are especially enjoyed. Lee Castro of Wichita Falls, is music director for the revival.

Special noon luncheon services are being held, and will be through tomorrow, from 12:00 to 12:50, and evening services begin at 7 p. m.

Everyone is invited to attend.

LANNY BEAUCHAMP
New Court Reporter

Lanny Beauchamp of Pecos was appointed the new Haskell County Court Reporter, and took over his duties on Aug. 22, the same day he moved to Haskell. Lanny completed school in Abilene, and this is his first job. Haskell welcomes him as a new citizen.

Entry fee is $20.00 per class. Prizes in each class will be $100 for first; $75 for second and $50 for third.

"Since we anticipate more tractors than we can handle to be entered (limit must be about 30 tractors because of the time element involved), I would urge anyone wanting to enter the contest to contact me, as soon as possible," said Hale. Send your entry to Pat Hale, Box 57, Haskell, Texas 79521; or phone him at 817-764-2692.

"We'll have the skid at the rodeo grounds probably by noon Saturday, so that anyone can drive their tractor out and try it out sometime Saturday afternoon, until 4 or 5 p. m. Weigh-in starts at noon Saturday, and all entries should be weighed in at least by 4 p. m.," he added.

Entries must be in no later than noon Saturday, Sept. 22. "This has to be one of the most exciting programs you can enjoy in an afternoon," Hale continued. "For instance, Snyder decided on their first tractor pull, and put it on with only one week's notice. Crowds of over 4,000 people attended that contest."

The Tractor Pull has to be one of the biggest events at the annual Haskell County Fair—Don't miss it! Tickets are $2.00 for adults, $1.00 for children, and children under 6, free.

SPECIAL - You can teach people new tricks about dogs. That's what youths involved in the 4-H dog care and training program are doing.

The young canine fanciers are looking for better ways to train and care for their animals. And they're showing others how to get maximum enjoyment from their four legged friends.

Sponsored by Purina Dog Foods Group, Ralston Purina Company, the program alerts young people to the responsibilities of owning a dog. It stresses all aspects of dog care, the animal's health, obedience training and even records needed by the canine owner.

With the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service, young people plan and carry out numerous activities in the 4-H dog care and training program. Some 4-Hers train seeing eye dogs for the blind. Others exhibit their pets in obedience or breed shows. Many give talks and demonstrations on canine care and handling to 4-H, youth and other groups in their communities.

One 4-H'er in the program created a new "trick" to show proper dog care. Kay Abell, of Fresno, Calif., wrote and produced a film on the training of guide dogs for the blind. The 12 minute film, titled, "A Puppy in the House", helped secure funds to operate a guide dog training program in Fresno. Because of that and her other activities in the 4-H dog care and training program and 4-H, Miss Abell was named one of six national winners of scholarships in the 1972 program.

Adding to the young people's interest in the 4-H dog care and training program are numerous awards offered by the Purina Dog Foods Group through the National Service Committee. Four medals of honor are awarded for each youth in each county. Winners in the program are eligible for consideration in the selection of National Dog Care Contest winners in Chicago, Ill. At that event, a scholarship is announced.

Also, Purina Dog Foods Group provided assistance to the 4-H dog care and training program in the form of educational, technical and public assistance.

Play It Safe Indoors, Outdoors, Say 4-H'ers

These cartoons on water safety and safety in outdoor activities were created by a Minnesota 4-H'er. As part of new series of 4-H lessons on safety, produced through a grant from General Motors, 4-H safety program donor.

SPECIAL - With the advent of warmer weather Americans are moving outdoors to participate in all forms of recreational activities. Boating, camping, hiking, cycling, sports and other outdoor activities and just plain driving for enjoyment bring families into the recreation mainstream.

But with the fun comes the added danger of accidents and increased need for safety precautions, warns some 360,000 safety minded 4-H'ers.

Participating in the 4-H safety program, sponsored nationally by General Motors, these young people are learning and practicing safety habits wherever they are. They also are taking what they've learned and are sharing it with their families and other youth and adults in their communities.

Working individually and through their clubs, 4-H'ers use all kinds of activities and methods to spread their safety messages. And they enlist the help of community leaders, businessmen, law enforcement personnel and others to make their communities a safer place to enjoy.

Over 8,700 young people participated in a 4-H fire safety program in Oswego County, NY, which emphasized how to prevent home fires, and what to do in the event of a fire in the home. One 4-H'er who participated in the course was able to save his brothers and sisters from his burning home, because of the techniques he learned through the program.

Some 4-H groups have emphasized safety in water sports. Others have stressed bicycle and motorcycle safety, proper use of chemicals at home and on the farm, and proper use of equipment such as power lawn mowers.

One group of 4-H'ers in Anne Arundel County, Md., participated in a program of roller skating safety. Safety practices, sportsmanship, skate maintenance and first aid were stressed.

Safety education is for all seasons, the 4-H'ers claim. A Payne County, Okla., 4-H group conducted a Commu-ity Halloween Safety Program, where reflective triangles were distributed to young "Trick or Treaters" to wear on their after dark rounds.

These and other efforts by safety minded 4-H'ers and 4-H groups are eligible for recognition provided by General Motors. Outstanding youths in the program, in each county, receive medals of honor, while state winners receive an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29.

At the annual 4-H event, General Motors awards $1,000 scholarships to eight national winners.

In addition, GM awards certificates of merit to clubs with the most outstanding safety programs in each county and state. And for the county reporting the most outstanding 4-H safety program in each state the company offers a $25 cash award.

For more information on the group and individual activities in the 4-H safety program, contact the county extension office.

Sagerton Man Named As Texas Rural Minister Of The Year

STATION—Sagerton County has proclaimed the Rev. Joe Aalbue, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in the Rolling community, as Rural Minister of the Year.

Thursday, Sept. 6, by Dr. David Ruesink, Texas Agricultural Extension Service sociologist and general chairman of the 28th annual Town and Country Church Conference Oct. 11-12 at Texas A&M University.

The Rev. Aalbue will be honored during the conference and will receive an engraved silver tray from "The Progressive Farmer" magazine.

Ruesink said the minister joins a long list of outstanding rural clergy who have been selected over the years by Town and Country Church Conference committees.

Service and electric utilities. Sagerton involved itself. In 1972, the community won first in its district in the annual TCIP contest. The minister urged the people to try harder, and this year, Sagerton placed second in the state.

The minister's ideas caught on. Now there are 18 small towns and communities in Haskell, Jones, Stonewall and Knox counties organized for a common goal: To stop population losses, emphasize what is good and improve what is bad.

The movement is called the "Brazos-West Economic Development Corporation." Aalbue is president.

Soil conservation and other agricultural techniques have been studied by the minister, and he holds special services on rural life and conservation. The California Creek Soil and Water Conservation District honored him last year as the Outstanding Business or Professional Nominee to the Texas Conservation Awards Program.

The Rev. Aalbue's church has grown and prospered. Young people's organizations are now stronger, and young couples are beginning to stay in the community.

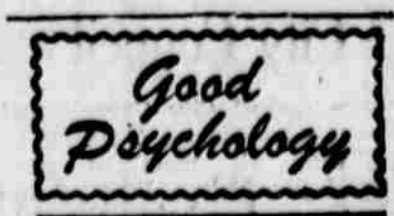

His nominating committee said Pastor Aalbue "never accepts credit for anything. It is always someone else's idea."

Perhaps that is one of the reasons why he has received so many honors from his church, the community and the surrounding area.

The Town and Country Church Conference is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and is conducted by the A&M Dept. of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology.

yet very gourmet is a cascade of fresh grapes and a small selection of cheeses to eat with the fruit. Set this out on a wooden board or a tray. Serve crackers, too, if you like. Another delightful dessert or first course that is very easy is a cantaloupe half filled with grapes. The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association reminds us that the history of the grape is as old as that of mankind. Grape culture began in Asia Minor in the region around the Caspian Sea.

NEW 4-H SPECIALIST
Dr. Warren S. Mauk has joined the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University as a 4-H and youth specialist. He fills the position formerly held by Dr. Ed Schlutt. The new specialist will provide leadership for 4-H program development, including 4-H councils, 4-H adult leaders' associations and 4-H subcommittees of county program building committees.

Helpful Ideas from the International Lutheran Laymen's League

FORGIVE AND FORGET

There is great sweetness in forgiveness; it's balm for the scars in life. Without it, there is no quiet room in your mind to escape to for peace; there is only a room jangling with tension.

Nobody can live creatively if he cannot forgive his own blunders and imperfections. He's more likely to suffer from insomnia at night and fatigue during the day. Once you are able to forgive yourself, then perhaps you can forgive others.

You must realize that you are a creature of God, part of God's plan, that you are unique and have value as a human being. You must understand that as a human being you aren't perfect. See your successes, cherish them. See your faults, and forgive them.

Too many persons waste their time obsessed with hatred for those who have hurt them. But isn't it about time to forgive and forget? Once you do that, then you can make plans and set goals and work at the very satisfying project of making each day a life in itself, of living, driving, loving, challenging, experiencing each precious day of your life.

Drink in the sweetness of forgiveness—of yourself and others. Forgive a parent, a friend, a loved one, for the errors in the past. Forgive the hurt that they caused you. Forget it by loving in the present—now!

New Water Tower Proposed By City Council

Haskell City Council met in regular session Tuesday night, with all members present. Mayor Belton Duncan offered the prayer, before the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Billy Jacob, engineer with Yeatts & Decker, met with the council to offer their proposal on installing a new water tower in the north part of town, and repairing and laying some new water lines in the city.

Jacob was engaged by the Council to make this investigation and bring the proposal before the city. The final proposal contained an estimated price of $193,855.00 for a new 250,000 gallon elevated water storage tank, and all the water line repairs needed by the city.

The proposed storage tank would be erected somewhat west of North 14th Street and Avenue M, and is considered for the purpose of increasing the water pressure in that part of town.

The Council instructed Jacob to begin the preliminaries for securing the proposed tower. The council will consider the water line repairs at a later date.

Jim Samson also met with the council to issue a request for the paving of the alley behind the West side of the square, with adequate paving thickness to handle the heavy trucks that use it when they unload. No action could be taken on the request because the City is now stopped on their street paving because of the asphalt shortage.

The Council also discussed water rates, and approved the 1973 tax roll of $66,790.00.

Mayor Duncan read a letter to the Council from the City's labor force, signed by all of them, thanking the City for the raise in salaries. He also read a letter from Bobby Dodd, thanking the City for the swimming pool for the summer.

Present for the meeting were Mayor Duncan, Councilmen Guy Kennedy, Loraine Johnson, Carl Anderson, Buster Gholson, Jimmy Browning, City Water Supt. Marvin Collins, City Secretary Desmond Dulaney, and Jacob and Samson.

Music Festival Set By Methodists

The First United Methodist Church in Haskell is sponsoring a Music Festival on Friday, Sept. 21, at 7:30 p. m. at the church. There will be several choirs singing as well as special groups which will present songs.

Gene and Bobbie Moore will be leading in this special Music Festival. Many will know Gene and Bobbie as the singers with the Ed Robb Evangelistic Association. In addition to the choirs and singers, both Gene and Bobbie Moore will present a special musical program.

Everyone is invited to this special Music Festival.

4-H'ers Help Spread Word On Wise Electric Use

Youths enrolled in the 4-H electric program participate in many different activities: (1) Educating other 4-H'ers youth and community groups on what they can do to ease the energy crisis. (2) Making useful gadgets and equipment and learning to use electricity wisely. (3) Career opportunities for 4-H'ers in the electric industry are encouraged. In addition, working with 4-H'ers in the program are the various electric power suppliers and associations. (4) This 4-H girl is using what she learned in the program to help ease the energy crisis, by efficient use of household appliances.

The possibility of energy supply problems is of concern to 4-H'ers, consumers and electric utilities alike, says Don Johnson, program associate with the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

In some areas of the country, electric power suppliers have had difficulty in meeting all the requirements placed upon them particularly during periods of peak demand, Mr. Johnson notes. Unusually heavy use of electricity at peak periods can overload a system and make voltage reductions of power curtailments necessary, he warns.

The National 4-H Service Committee spokesman emphasizes the need for people to educate themselves and their communities to use energy wisely and efficiently. And to help do that, he points out, some 130,000 4-H participants in the national 4-H electric program are being encouraged to spearhead the educational movement locally.

Providing backup support is the Cooperative Extension Service which conducts the 4-H program, Westinghouse Electric Corporation, program donor, electric power suppliers and associations. Early efforts are expected to deal with avoiding waste in using electric power — turning off unused lights and appliances, improving home insulation and using equipment at off-peak times or only when necessary, Johnson said.

4-H leaders and members also are being given additional suggestions through a feature story in the April issue of National 4-H News and a series of 4-H Electric Newsletters provided in cooperation with Westinghouse. And as an incentive for 4-H groups to participate in this and other phases of the 4-H electric program the corporation provides an attractive plaque to a county in each state.

Johnson also notes that individual incentives also are available to 4-H members in the electric program. Four medal awards are offered in each county, a trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29, for the state winner, and scholarships of $700 each to six national winners announced at that time. Westinghouse Electric Corporation provides the awards.

While the national 4-H electric program emphasizes wise use of electric power in 1973, there are many reasons for 4-H members to participate, the program associate noted. Young people learn to make useful equipment and gadgets, to make their work easier, to use electricity efficiently and learn of career opportunities. He pointed out that three of last year's scholarship winners are preparing for careers in electrical engineering and the other three have chosen closely allied fields.

For young people who want to get involved, to help avoid an energy crisis and to learn more about electricity, Johnson suggests they contact their county extension office.

Tribe to meet Seymour

Throughout the remainder of the first half both teams failed to sustain a drive. Near the end of the half Eastland moved the ball to mid field only to be halted when James McCoy recovered a fumble.

During the first half the ball changed hands five times on fumbles and 120 yards in penalties were chalked up against the two teams.

Second half action began with the promise of much more scoring when Randy Ivy returned the kickoff 75 yards for the Tribe's fifth and final touchdown. On an eight-play drive about midway through the third period, Terry Essor dove over the goal line from the two to put the Mavericks on the scoreboard. The other Maverick score came after a 14-play, 51-yard drive. Both PAT's failed and the scoring ended at 31-12.

Ivy led the Tribe in rushing with 93 yards, Alexander had 68, Jim Pippin had 34, and Colbert had 11.

The Indians have shown much improvement during the past two weeks and are making plans to "skin a Panther" tomorrow night in Seymour. See you there.

The O'Brien Bulldogs game against Leuders-Avoca, scheduled for last Thursday night, was canceled due to the rain. The game couldn't be re-scheduled so Coach C. H. Underwood and James Reid are getting their boys ready for their first game of the season Friday night, Sept. 14, against Bryson.

Weinert Downs Moran, 43-26

The Weinert football team downed a tough Moran group by a 43-26 score Friday night. Coaches Chet Forehand and Lyle Turner's 6-man team will meet the Southland half-dozen September 28 at Southland, and are looking forward to another good football game.

Other games scheduled are Oct. 6, Leuders-Avoca, there; Oct. 18, Benjamin, there; Oct. 26, Hobbs at Weinert, all at 8 p. m.; and Nov. 1, Paint Creek there at 7:30, and Nov. 16, McCauley there at 7:30.

Bobcats Win '73 Season Opener

The Rule Bobcats defeated the Aspermont Hornets by the score of 14-6 in the opening game of the season Friday night in Bobcat Stadium.

Rule won the toss and took the opening kickoff and carried to the 42 yard line but fumbled on 3rd down and Aspermont recovered. Rule took possession on downs after Aspermont was unable to move the ball but were forced to return it on downs, until Aspermont received a 15 yard penalty and Rule had possession of the ball again, only to return it on downs to Aspermont.

The Hornets took over on the 25 yard line and then fumbled with Rule recovering the ball. Rule made a first down and then in a razzle dazzle catch, Steve Cox recovered a Rule fumble for the Bobcats setting them up for a quarterback sneak by Art Briles for the 1st score of the game with 15 seconds left in the 1st quarter. A pass from quarterback to Larry Barbee was good for 2 points to make the score 8-0.

In the 2nd quarter, a bad snap from the Aspermont center resulted in a fumble with Rule recovering the ball on Aspermont's 23 yard line. Rob Kitley scored on the 3rd down with 2:51 on the clock. The PAT was no good.

Aspermont received the ball and carried to Rule's 30 yard line but the Bobcats held and after a series of downs with Rule and Aspermont exchanging the ball, the clock ran out.

In the 2nd half Aspermont received the ball and after making a 1st down fumbled with Rule recovering. Rule made a 1st down and with a foot to the goal line, a pass was intercepted by the Hornets Blane Hight who ran it back 70 yards to place the ball on the Bobcats 30 yard line. The Hornets scored on the 2nd down with 6:03 left on the clock in the 3rd quarter. The PAT was no good.

In the 4th quarter an Aspermont fumble was recovered by Steve Anders and a 55 yard run was called back because of a penalty. The remaining quarter was just a contest of possession of the ball.

The Bobcats will journey to Knox City Friday night, Sept. 14, to take on the Greyhounds with game time at 8 p. m.

Coaches Give Lions Program

Haskell High School Coaches Tommy McAdams, Bobby Dodd and James McFaddin gave the program at the regular noon meeting of Haskell Lions Club Tuesday in Haskell Steak House.

Don Comedy introduced the program, in the absence of Bud Herren, program chairman. McAdams gave the club a rundown on the general weight, ability and capabilities of the Indian roster for the 1973 season. The coaches then carried on a question and answer period for the benefit of those present. It was also brought out that Haskell will be in 1A next year, and the coaches will soon begin planning the schedule of next year's games. They will endeavor to schedule all pre-district games with 2AA schools, because Haskell is on the dividing line between the two classes, and teams in the future will probably have to compete in 2A.

Gene Long presided over the meeting; George Fouts led the singing with Becky Gholson accompanying at the piano. Hess Hartfield offered the prayer.

Guests for the day were Doyle High's father, and Bud Pogue's son.

Oscar Tooley reported on the Board of Directors' meeting held that morning, when the board voted to send a donation to the Lions Camp for Crippled Children, in lieu of flowers, to Lion Al Hinds, who is ill.

Former Haskell Man Injured In Huntsville

Word was received in Haskell this week that Chang Cousins, a former Haskell resident, was injured Friday about 11 p. m. in an accident in Huntsville, where he now lives. He was walking across a street, when he was hit by a motorcycle. He was taken to Huntsville Hospital, and was in surgery until 3:30 a. m. Saturday. He suffered a compound fracture of the left leg, and severe left arm and hand injuries.

He was listed in serious condition until Tuesday afternoon, when his condition was reported improving. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cousins. Bob is a former Sheriff of Haskell County. He is the grandson of Mrs. Esther King and the nephew of Olin King, both of Haskell.

It is certainly a credit to their parents, to you the superintendent and the football coaches to train young men to be such fine citizens. There is no way that our country can fail with young men like these.

I am principal of a junior high school in Tulsa Oklahoma and was on my way to Abilene, Texas, taking my daughter to Abilene Christian College for the school year. Being in the school business, you can understand why I was so impressed with these fine young men.

Thanks for listening to me and for telling the boys how much I appreciated their help.

Sincerely, Carlos O. Clayton, Principal

Commissioners' Court

All members of Haskell County Commissioners' Court met in regular session September 10, to face a short business agenda. Minutes were read and approved, and the auditors and treasurers monthly reports were reviewed and accepted. The proposed salary increases, discussed at an earlier meeting, were read and approved.

Pirates Downed By Divide 27-6

CWO Barnett is a quality control officer in Troop E, 7th Squadron of the Division's 17th Cavalry.
His wife, Rita, lives at 4008 Virginia Dr., North Little Rock, Ark.
The 1st Cavalry Division, with a record of distinguished combat action since the days of the mounted trooper, was the first U. S. Army division to be organized under the Airmobile concept. After service in Vietnam, its colors were returned to Ft. Hood, Tex., in May 1971 and the division has undergone yet another reorganization. It is now the 1st Cavalry Division (TRICAP).
TRICAP stands for the triple Capabilities of Major Maneuver elements of Armor, Airmobile Infantry, and Air Cavalry. The division is now composed of three brigades, one for each capability. Together with artillery and support units.
Combining the knock-out power of armor, the maneuverability of airmobile infantry and the firepower of air cavalry is believed to have unlimited tactical possibilities. The division is testing the experimental concept at Ft. Hood.

Want To Save On Car Insurance? Take Defensive Driving Course

The Haskell Rotary Club will sponsor a Defensive Driving course next month, that when completed, will cut the cost of your automobile insurance by 10% for three years.
The course, to be taught by Harold Couch of the Texas Department of Public Safety, will cost $5.00 per person, and is scheduled for Oct. 8, 9, and 15. The October 8 class will be from 7 to 9 p.m. in City Cafe. The 9th and 15th classes will be from 7 to 10 p.m. and will be held in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank.

esting, informative, and enjoyable."
There is no written test involved, nor is there a driver's test. It is merely an instruction class on driving safety, and includes how to drive so that your car lasts longer, with less maintenance. The $5.00 fee includes an instruction workbook, and the $1.00 fee to register with the Texas Department of Public Safety.
Anyone may take the course, but students who already have the Driver's Ed discount on their insurance will not get an additional discount.

The class is limited to 40 persons, so if you wish to enroll, you may pre-register at the offices of Haskell Free Press, at the M-System Supermarket, or at the Chamber of Commerce.
C. A. Thomas and Carl Anderson co-chair this committee of Rotary Club.
If after pre-registration, there are more than 40 for the class, the DPS will be glad to set up a schedule of late classes.
The course is sponsored by the National Safety Council.

There Is A Big Difference!

By Abe Turner, President

Haskell National Bank
I have discussed in these reports our preference for local operation of banks. You may wish to know how you are affected by the ownership structure of your bank.

Although every bank is operated somewhat differently, there are certain basic characteristics which they all share. And, generally speaking, every bank hopes to aid the community in which it operates while generating profit for its stockholders.

But it is the emphasis on these goals which can make the difference to customers and local communities. When a bank is doing all of its business in a specific town or county, it is easy for that institution to set priorities in its lending policies which are designed to bring the maximum benefits to this community. This is not only good citizenship, it is good business: If the area prospers the bank can expect to do well, and if the area's business is poor, the bank will suffer as well.

Now let's take the case of a large banking system—either a bank with branches spread across a state or a multibank holding company which owns banks in numerous communities and in some cases in several states. These banks do not have the same degree of interest as the community-owned bank in what the large systems call "satellite" towns, since management generally is concentrated in the home-office city. Other factors work to spread their focus even further.

First, the stock of these banks and holding companies usually is registered on national securities exchanges. So, the profit motive must always be the first consideration. If the price of the shares declines, their value in purchasing new banking satellites drops and the growth in size which a conglomerate considers essential is halted.

Second, all large banking systems compete in the national loan market. The business of the very largest corporations is prized above all other lending activity. This is because one big loan is easier to make than 100 or 1,000 smaller loans adding up to the same amount, and because among big banks there is "prestige" in having the most important looking customer list.

Often in states which permit branching or holding company activity on an unrestricted basis, a branch bank or a holding company affiliate will be in direct competition with a locally owned and operated independent community bank.

Generally speaking, the lending policies of the branch or affiliate are dictated from the home office town and the manager is restricted in his decision-making to the rules laid down for him.

On the other hand, the independent community bank, run like Haskell National Bank, has a board of directors which is thoroughly acquainted with the citizens of the community and their business needs. If a local concern comes to an independent bank with a loan request, there is no need for communication back to the "head office" nor is there any worry over whether national commitments might have reduced the amount of funds the bank is ready to dispense locally.

There is only the single question which should be the criterion in every bank, but unfortunately, is not: Is this a good credit risk? In most local independent community banks, where the customer is usually a neighbor who is well known to the management or a board member, this question is not answered by the cold facts of a balance sheet but on the generally sound character judgment of the banker.

In local communities, decisions like these can have tremendous cumulative impact. If a business loan which might produce a half-dozen new jobs directly gets turned down, that is a half-dozen paychecks that do not get spent in local stores. It is a half-dozen families that are not patronizing local merchants and paying local taxes. Over the course of a few years the orientation and priorities of the local bank will make the difference between a vigorous and growing local economy and a local economy dependent on outside factors for jobs and income.

The difference between independent community banks and chain operations geared to big business is well-recognized in the banking business.

One of the best known holding company bankers in the nation, K. A. Randall, a Virginia banker who previously was a Washington banking regulator, summed it up when he conceded that when a holding company comes up against a well-managed independent community bank "they can kick hell out of us."

The reason is quite simple: the independent community bank is committed to the future of its own town and not simply to the bottom line on a profit-and-loss statement.

Pvt. Elbert Scheets, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Scheets of Haskell, who has been stationed at Las Vegas, Nev., for several months, has been transferred to Indiana Springs, Nev., where he has been assigned to a motor repair unit of the Army.

Pvt. Glendon Ray Yarbrough of Rochester and Pvt. Orman Yarbrough of Rule, left Aug. 17 for San Diego, Calif., where they entered a Marine training camp. The young men, cousins, were accompanied to Abilene by Mrs. Glendon Yarbrough, Miss Opal Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Yarbrough, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Yarbrough and Mrs.

W. E. McCain. Patsy Ruth Pate left Tuesday evening for Moody where she will spend the week with M. Bledsoe and Mrs. R. L. Lemon. Matricia is convalescing from recent surgery in Scott & White Hospital in Temple, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Horace Payne in Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff LeFevre and family visited in Rule last Sunday evening in the homes of Van Laughlin and family and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Laughlin. Robert Laughlin returned with them for a stay here.

Young Steve Alexander, 19-year-old son of Mrs. Wanda Alexander of Rule, continually astounded his co-workers in Red River Army Depot's maintenance shop near Hooks, Texas. But to Steve, who is an engine disassembler, it's all in a day's work.

Viewing his daily work in engine disassembly line number three you could note little difference between his work and that of his co-workers. He is a skilled, determined and dedicated employee. But the difference lies in the fact that Steve is blind—and has been since he was 18 months old, as a result of cancer.

He graduated at Rule High School in 1922, thanks to his sheer determination, the help of his family, and assistance of organizations such as the Texas Commission for the Blind. His textbooks at Rule were records, tapes and some manuscripts printed in Braille.

He leads an active life at Hooks, where he and his family lives, and enjoys fishing, hunting quail, playing the

He works on a line with several workers who are engaged in the disassembly of various components on 14 ton jeep engines that are to be rebuilt in the maintenanceshops.

Because of his blindness, he is extremely organized. Each wrench, tool, or part has a proper place, and that's where it goes after use.

Working alongside experienced mechanics has made his job less difficult, he says. Chief of the Engine Disassembly Section says that Steve has made an excellent employee. Co-workers constantly make "e" at his positive attitude and his cheerful manner.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bristow of Rule.

Rotary Hears Of New Workshop

An excellent crowd of members were present for the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club held at City Cafe on Sept. 6.

President Charles Thornhill presided for the luncheon meeting which included a good program and a short business session relative to Rotary Club activities.

Program chairman, Fred Boon, introduced Aubrey Headstream, director of the mental health clinic, who in turn presented Ron Bingham, who will be in charge of the Sheltered Workshop in Haskell.

Mr. Hobson Collins, Educational Director of the State School in Abilene, made a short introductory talk concerning the new type school for Haskell and later showed a 15 minute film of the students performing the type of work which affords them the opportunity of doing something useful and in most cases, making a small amount of money
