TRIBE FALLS TO CROWELL 13-7

The Haskell Indians fell to the Crowell Wildcats 13-7 last Friday night in a game that was to Haskell fans, a heart breaker.

After a scoreless first period. Crowell took a 6-0 lead with 10:00 minutes left in the second period. The Indians fought back to a 6-6 tie some 8 minutes later and the PAT by Chris Love put the Tribe ahead.

Following the Crowell TD the Tribe ran three plays and were forced to punt on a fourth and four situation. On their second play Crowell fumbled and Indian Tommy Watson recovered for the Indians.

The Tribe score came 12 plays later when quarterback Gary McAdams carried from

A 24 yard field goal attempt by Crowell just as the half ended failed and gave the Tribe a 7-6 lead at halftime. A 57 yard punt four plays into the second half put the Indians on their own one yard line. The Tribe couldn't sustain a drive and punted the pigskin back to Crowell seven plays later.

Crowell again tried a field goal, this time from the 8 yard line and again failed.

Both teams handled the ball once more during the third period but neither could move with any great success.

Crowell mounted a good drive in the opening minutes of the final period but the Tribe held on a fourth and five situation and took over on their own 16 yard line. The drive lasted only to the Haskell 30 and the Indians were forced to punt.

Crowell attempted a pass on their first play and Love intercepted to give the Tribe another shot at a TD. The Indian drive lasted only three plays and an 18 yard punt gave Crowell the ball 66 yards from the go-ahead score. The Wildcats covered the yardage in five plays and scored with 40 seconds left in the game. PAT was good.

Love was the leading Indian rusher with 131 yards in 26 carries for an average of just over 5 yards per carry. Indian

Jim Pippin rushed for 33 yards to supplement the Indian total.

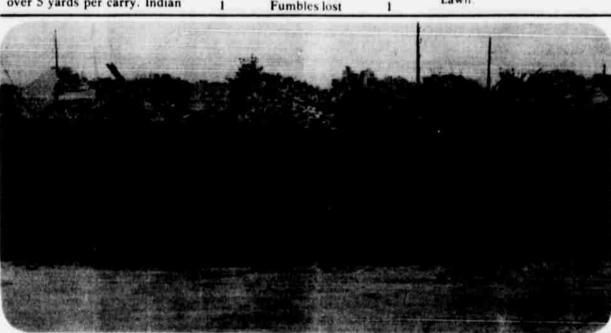

The Tribe will journey to Paducah this Friday to meet the Dragons who have yet to win a district game. Game time is 7:30...see you there. YARDSTICK STRIKE ONE!... and you only get one try. A slight error in aiming was seen by sharp Indian fans during the game against Crowell last Friday night when the field goal kicker almost missed the football. The pigskin moved about six feet in the direction of the goal post before Indian Jim Pippin (35) captured it. Some spectators thought the Indian defense blocked the attempt and from the appearance of Johnny Hawkins(82) and Johnny Larned(68) that might have been the case if the ball had ever been airborne. Thank Goodness they were our residents all dressed up for the Tacky Party. For one time, no one had to care how they looked. Alene Bredthauer, our new Activities Director had charge of the party. Decorative treats were served and enjoyed by all. Mrs. Holland, so they say, was the judge. No one would have recognized her the way she looked. Mrs. Charity Bradley won first place and Mrs. Eva McMillin won second place as the most tacky person. Says Ray, "For a 600 pound per acre yield, the average loss was 18 pounds per acre the first week, 48 pounds after four weeks, and 72 pounds after 12 weeks.

"This does not include ground loss which might be very large under certain conditions with non-stormproof varieties."

Staple Length Shortened

Dr. Earl Minton, who collaborated on the study, adds that according to his findings, field weathering decreases staple length 1/32 of an inch in about 6 weeks.

Average grade equivalents were middling for the first three harvest dates, dropping to strict low middling for the fourth through the eighth week and to low middling for the last four weeks.

"In other words, the crop was reduced approximately one grade each month it remained in the field," he

Minton figures that because weather patterns tend to vary from year to year, the grade loss will be greater in some years than in others.

No Mike Reduction

Contrary to general belief. no reduction in mike (micronaire value) due to weathering was found, the two men

"It is true that cotton harvested later in the season usually has a lower mike than that harvested earlier." they admit. "But, factors other than direct effects of field weathering reasonably explain a seasonal drop in mike.

One factor is that the earlier maturing fields which produce the higher mikes are usually harvested first. Second, in the early season harvests, immature bolls are separated eliminating cotton with finer fibers. Late in the season, these bolls cannot be separated and they go into the harvested cotton and may reduce the mike substantial-

Seed Quality Down

According to the scientists, field weathering is generally recognized as a major factor in reducing planting seed quality. Germination, under both standard conditions and constant 65. Fahrenheit (a low temperature test), is also decreased with field weathering. The lower germination will be reflected in poorer performance of the planting seed in the field.

Delays Costly

"Timely harvest is very important in producing good quality planting seed," the researchers stress. "Harvesting too early can be just as costly as leaving it in the field too long.

"Once the optimum date for harvesting is reached, the crop should be taken out of the field as soon as possible. A delay of only one week in harvesting an average crop of irrigated cotton could cause a loss of income, through reduced yields and quality. amounting to $10 to $15 per

Leaving the cotton in the field for an extended period of time could easily cost the grower more than the total cost of harvesting the crop itself, say the researchers. Full details of this test are contained in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station report, MP 1118. Copies may be obtained from Lubbock TAES or from the Department of Agricultural Communica-

The Editor Mayor and Town Council. Haskell, Texas. Gentlemen:

I want to express my appreciation for your courtesy in providing parking space for my camper in your city park.

My wife and I stopped at Mr. Redwine's gas station and he directed us to the park. It was clean, quiet, and restful. We enjoyed a comfortable night's rest. We tried to leave the premises in the same nice condition that we found them. Thank you again for your kindness.

Yours sincerely. William Lovelace Gibsland, Lousiana

Adult Basic Education

By JAMES LANIER

The teaching in Adult Basic Education "turns me on." In my fifteen previous years of teaching, I felt I had experienced almost all the pleasures one can enjoy in this exalted profession. However, I had missed a golden moment. I had never taught adults.

We approached this new experience with a certain tribulation. How could we handle discipline? How would we motivate dropouts? How could we handle absolutely all levels? Registration night comes and, sure enough, all levels. However, joy of joys, we do not have to tell a single student to sit down and go to work. We hear not one,"oh, that's too hard!" Instead, we must almost run our 22 students out of the building each night. They are there. waiting for us to open the building. In fact, a major problem is for the other teacher and myself to have planning time.

We are using the team approach. Each night at break time, several students will continue to work. The entire conversation of the evening is centered around the work. The two and one quarter hour period flies by. Finally, we reluctantly inform our students that it is time to quit for the evening. We are suddenly swamped with questions. "May I work on this math at home?" "Can we get together on our language assignment?" "Do you have any social studies material?" "Could you possibly get me another speller. That has always been my problem." Then we move to the exit chattering happily about the evening's successes, making plans for meeting future needs.

The reluctance is all gone

Peanuts: Roast 'Em At Home

AUSTIN-Texas, second biggest peanut producer in the country, raises enough of the high-protein food to keep everyone supplied in afternoon snacks.

A 31/2-ounces serving of peanuts contains more protein than the same amount of cooked hamburger, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Peanuts have long been a favorite addition to candy and other sweets. But Texas Department of Agriculture home economists suggest buying raw peanuts in the shell and making a family affair of preparing them right in the kitchen.

One simple old-fashioned recipe is for Roasted Peanuts. Place one or two layers of raw, shelled peanuts in a pie plate or other flat pan. Bake in a moderate oven, stirring occasionally until the red skins may be rubbed off with fingers. This will take 15-20 minutes. Do not let the peanuts get too brown. Roasting peanuts in the shell will take a little
