

A Look At What Happened Over The Last Year

As the top news stories of the nation and world were recapped for 1986, it might be interesting to take a look at what the "top" stories of 1986 were on a totally local level.

There were, of course, wrecks and tragedies, theft and crime, but also a wide variety of happy events.

The Texas Sesquicentennial became local with a wide variety of events, including a number of participants in the wagon train that went around the state. Glen and Winnie Pearce of Blossom were among those.

Grass fires had burned off large areas in the dry January, including one between Blossom and Deport, of over 200 acres.

The City of Deport joined the Lamar County Crime Watch program.

Prairiland boys and girls captured the district titles in basketball. Elbert Boren of Clardy died in a fire that destroyed his home.

Jeanna Gerringer and Tony Duncan claimed the top honors as graduates at Prairiland in May.

Scott Scudder was signed with Cincinnati to play baseball and the Prairiland Patriots captured the state 3A baseball title.

Brady Fisher, Lamar County Judge for eight years, was defeated by Robert Burns for that position.

Several marijuana raids were made in the area.

Farming continued to be extremely unprofitable in spite of good crops. Blossom Prairie Kiwanis Club and Deport Kiwanis Club were formed.

Prairiland School began a gifted and talented program for exceptional students.

Jana Pomroy was selected as the Homecoming Queen at Prairiland.

Deport Nursing Home held a Fall Festival that was a big success.

A number of benefits were held to help Bryan Mabry with his medical expenses.

Deport Christmas Parade was the biggest ever.

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

Justice isn't always swift...but it seems pretty sure. Way back in September, those folks who follow this column regularly, may recall a story about Thomas and his friend, Dicky King, winning a pot of beans on a camping trip...and just how much fun was made of 'em.

That fun has hardly slacked off, scarcely a week goes by without someone making a crack about incompetent bean cooks. At Christmas, Thomas took some homemade goodies by some folks' establishment...and they said "If it's beans, we don't want it!" It's been something he just couldn't live down...even though he wrote a rebuttal to it proposing his "uncured pot" theory.

Well, as if to punish me for my confidence, New Year's Eve rolled around with retribution well in hand. Jayne, Dicky, NeLeigh and Jeff were due for dinner, a late night meal of cornbread, beans and chili, a change from the usual fare.

Early that day, in spite of a cold, I began cooking those pinto beans. I seasoned them ever so carefully, using my usual amounts of spices, salt, pepper and of course, salt pork.

I cooked them on a slow, slow simmer, tending the fire throughout the day, stirring, enjoying the delicious smell that wafted throughout the house and even managed to get past my stuffy nose. I even tasted them a time or two, they tasted fine.

They had cooked way down to that nice, thick-juiced, mussy stage where they transform from a mere rib-sticking meal to a gourmet delight. Those beans were absolutely perfect.

Except for one thing.

They were so salty they were totally inedible!

I don't know what happened...knowing my husband's total honesty, I don't believe he took revenge, it isn't his nature.

The salt pork may have been saltier than usual. My hand with the salt may have been freer than I thought. But, more probably, justice decided to rare right up and rectify things!

Thomas is delighted, he now has ammunition with which to fire back at those folks who tease him about not being about to cook beans.

For myself, I fear it may be rather a long, long weeks!

Fog, Frosts, Sunshine Throughout Area

With typical Texas fickleness, the weather has been, and is predicted to, pull some neat tricks.

Monday morning, the world was coated in an abnormally thick coating of glistening frost, and shrouded in fog. Within a few hours though, the 29 degree temperatures and cold stuff had disappeared, and a brilliant blue sky and 60 degree warmth took over.

Monday night temperatures again plunged, things clouded over, and by mid-morning on Tuesday, the world was once more brilliant blue.

A chance of rain takes over

UMW Meets Monday

Eleven members of the UMW met Monday night at the church for the annual Pledge Service.

Mrs. Virginia Kirkland, president, presided during the business meeting. A new book is being compiled and will be published before the Fall Bazaar. Anyone wishing to submit a new recipe may do so. Members of the cookbook committee are Mrs. Ruth Cheatham, Mrs. Juanita Sparks, Mrs. Melba Ladd and Mrs. Martha Glover.

Mrs. Duane Glover was leader for the Pledge Service. Those taking part on the program were Melba Ladd, Betty Warden, Ruth Cheatham, Juanita Sparks, Margaret Parks and Regina Webb.

Refreshments were snacks that each member brought.

Wednesday, then, weather predictors say there is a chance of rain, sheet, snow, or all three!

J.V. Girls Lose To Chisum

By Eric Foster
The Junior Varsity Lady Patriots were given their second loss last Tuesday from the Chisum Mustangs, 26-19.

The girls offense was unable to get rolling in the first period as they were only able to connect on one shot.

The girls did stay only seven points away from the Mustangs, 9-2 with the help of a good defense that controlled the boards and also kept the Mustangs scoreless for the last three minutes.

The second period was still slow for the fem offense as they only scored five points. The defense held up very well in the period and held the Mustangs scoreless for another five minutes. The girls trailed at the half 12-7.

In the third period, the girls were able to pull to within three points despite not scoring for over four minutes themselves. The period ended with a shot from Traci Smith and the score at 18-15.

The final period plagued the girls again with missed shots. The Mustangs, also missing shots, were able to connect on more buckets and were able to pull further away from the Patriot girls.

The loss gave the girls a record of 7-2.

Stats for the girls are, with points, rebounds and steals: Amanda Owen, 2-6-4; Tracy Ford, 0-3-0; Traci Smith, 8-8-1; Rhonda Eatherly, 0-0-0; Toni Dockray, 4-11-4; Lisa Icenhower, 2-3-2; Dana Bradford, 1-1-2; Sheila Withers, 2-3-0.

JUNIOR VARSITY Lady Patriots lost to the Chisum Mustangs 26-19 in a fast paced game. Number 31.

health hints

Migraine
According to various estimates, from five to ten percent of the population may have migraine headaches.

According to Dennis Graham, D.O., Chairman of Neurology, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, a migraine headache usually starts on one side of the head, and, as a rule, remains one-sided. It may, however, change sides from one attack to another. The pain of a migraine can debilitate the sufferer to the point at which he or she can no longer function. There are two major types of migraine headache.

According to Dr. Graham, an osteopathic physician, "common" and "classic" migraine are differentiated by the presence or absence of symptoms prior to the onset of the headache. The most prevalent type of migraine is a common migraine. Common migraine does not have an obvious dramatic period before the headache starts. However, many people do have a vague, uneasy or irritable feeling.

Classic migraine is characterized by a ten to thirty minute warning period, which, signals the oncoming headache. The victim may see flashing lights, zig zagging lines, or areas of total darkness. There may be tingling of the lips, face or hands; weakness of an arm or leg; loss of appetite, slight speech abnormality, confusion, restlessness, watery eyes and sweating.

The goal of migraine treatment today is prevention. Avoid the factors that prompt migraine. Make an effort to avoid stressful situations. If your headache occurs during the weekend, it may be related to late hours, overindulgence, or sleeping late. If so, you should maintain a more conservative and even-paced schedule all week. Eating regularly and avoiding certain foods, such as ripened cheese and caffeine-containing drinks, also will aid in prevention.

Keep a detailed record of your attacks; note times, diet, odors, emotions, onset, duration, prevalence. Some headache remedies are prophylactic, and are used to prevent migraine headaches.

Other medication is used to abort the attack once it has begun. Always follow your physician's instructions and take your medication as directed.

Successful Retirement
Retirees today are knocking down the notion that older Americans who have left the work force are ready for little more than rocking chairs.

York Stock Exchange Corporation, is merging into that heritage as it creates Fairfield's Pointe Alexis, a leading example of the new wave of retirement communities attracting vigorous people who wish to pursue the active Florida lifestyle.

Pointe Alexis is secluded by water and natural woodlands, yet part of the bustling Tampa Bay Area with its plethora of entertainment, recreation and dining choices.

The community is bounded by both salt and fresh water—a boon to the outdoors-oriented—and includes tennis, swimming, exercise facilities and other amenities for the active life.

The "Golden Years" have a new meaning, aided by developers such as Fairfield, who are turning the old-fashioned "retirement havens" into attractive communities ripe with the good life.

A free leaflet about this active retirement life is available by writing Fairfield's Pointe Alexis, 1011 Seabreeze Drive, Tarpon Springs, Florida 33589. The telephone number is (813) 938-9751.
