Worth

Imagine that you could wear cotton clothing that wouldn't accept stains. I don't mean just repels them, but literally cannot be stained. Imagine a bandage that will not grow bacteria, or a toxic waste plant that simply pours its waste through a few layers of material and the water comes out crystal pure!

Does it all sound like a futuristic science fiction movie?

It isn't. In fact, certain things, such as the sterile bandages that won't grow bacteria, are expected to be on the market within a year.

A program on television (not network, but satellite reception) kept me enthralled and fascinated last week. What a wonderful world awaits!

In France, in conjunction with several nations, including the United States, there is a laboratory that is bio-engineering fabrics.

I can't claim to truly understand bio-engineering, but it seems that the basic fibers are modified so that they may contain antibiotics, or refuse to grow mildew or bacteria or strain things out. They are not dyed or dipped or impregnated with these substances...they become part of the fabric. This means that they don't weaken or break down, but contain their properties for the life of the fabric.

The possibilities appear limitless. The program showed a white cotton towel put into a sack of this new fabric along with a packet of dye.

It was tossed in a washing machine, and another white cotton towel put in also.

After the wash cycle finished everything had been washed. The towel in the sack was dyed blue. The towel on the outside was still spotlessly white! This new fabric is capable of letting water through, but not letting the dye pass!

Pollutants can be strained out similarly, and there is hope that oil spill containment in the future may be facilitated. Perhaps streams and rivers can be cleaned up and yet plants could economically operate!

The sterile or antibiotic bandages should prove an incredible boon to burn victims and others with skin conditions. Hopefully, within a few years this bio-engineered material will be put to hundreds of valuable uses.

For now though, as messy as I am, as much ink, mud and food as I seem to manage to stain my clothes with...let's see a replay of those fabrics that absolutely, positively will not stain!

Country Cooking

By Judy Screws

This week I went to Detroit to meet some of the members of the Midway 4-H group. One of the leaders, Terri Smith, and I had talked about featuring the girls and their recipes and decided that we would start with the Juniors and then do the Clovers and Seniors. The Juniors who showed up were Sarah Blanton, Robbie Somerville, Lisa Somerville, Heather Smith, and Regina Cherry.

Sarah Blanton is a Junior 4-H member. She is in the 5th grade at Detroit School. She is the daughter of Melanie and Keith Blanton. Sarah has 3 sisters; Rebekah, Hannah, and Leah. The recipe Sarah is sharing with us this week (Cream Cheese Crescents) won at county and district competitions.

Robbie Somerville is beginning her 3rd year in 4-H. Her projects include food and nutrition, clothing, beef and livestock judging. Her 4-H projects keep her busy, but she still finds time for her favorite hobby, reading. Robbie is a 6th grader at Detroit Elementary. She is a Junior Vice-President of the Midway 4-H Club. Robbie is sharing her Angel Food Toasties with us this week.

Lisa Somerville is beginning her 2nd year in 4-H. This will be her first year as a junior 4-H'er. Her projects are food and nutrition and clothing.

Lisa is a 3rd grader at Detroit Elementary. She enjoys riding her bike and playing with the family dog. Lisa is Junior Reporter for the Midway 4-H Club. The recipe she is sharing with us is Chewy Peanut Brownie Bars.

Heather Smith has been active in 4-H for 3 years. She is Junior President and Red River County 4-H Council 3rd Vice Pres. Heather is the daughter of Buck and Terri Smith. She is a 5th grader at Detroit, and is an active member of the First Baptist Church. She also participates in Detroit Youth Sports Assoc. Heather's hobbies include being with her family and friends, collecting stamps, postcards, and cat items. She has won both county and district levels in competition. This is her 2nd year in the Food and Nutrition program. The recipe she is sharing is Mexican Lasagna. She prepared this dish last year for the Food Show and won at County level and also took a blue ribbon at District with it. The Smith family enjoys this dish. Heather and her sister, Kristi work together on projects, and urge all young people to become involved in 4-H.

Regina Cherry is 13 years old, and is in the 7th grade. She enjoys working with animals, riding horses, cooking, and sports. Regina has lived in Detroit for 4 years. She has been in 4-H for 5 years. The sports she enjoys are volleyball, basketball, tennis, softball, and track. Regina's parents are Sue and John Cherry. She has a sister, Lawanda, who is also in 4-H. The recipe Regina is sharing with us is Mini-Cheesecakes.

If there isn't enough room for all of the recipes this week, we will slip them in as we go.

I really enjoyed the girls from this very special organization. I also appreciate Jorene Carpenter coming through once again and letting us meet at her home.

Have a fine week.

JV Pats Dominate Clock, Lose To Rivercrest Rebels

The JV Patriots dominated the clock Thursday night against the Rivercrest Rebels, but came up on the short end of the score, 14-0. The offense drove up and down the field all night but was stopped by mental mistakes.

Two long drives were stopped in the first half by the yellow flag. The team is improving each week and hopes to earn a victory over Chisum Thursday night at Chisum. The Junior High Patriots won their last game 14-12.

Patriots Routed By Rebels 28-7

By Bill Moseley

It took Juan Torres less than a minute to gain his first yard for the Rivercrest Rebels last Friday night, but unfortunately for the Prairilad Patriots, he did not stop until he had aggregated more than 300 yards. As a result, his team won its homecoming game 28-7, and the Patriots lost their fifth game of the season.

Deducting for losses due to occasional flashes of brilliance by Patriot defenders, Torres finished the night with 296 yards on 18 attempts (a 16.4 average) and three of the four touchdowns his team amassed.

Meanwhile, the Prairilad ledger quickly pinpointed the base cause for the loss. The Patriots initiated ten offensive series on the evening, turning the ball over on six of them through three fumbles and three interceptions.

Added to this was the fact that the Red and Blue recovered a fumble on three additional drives, bringing the count to six fumbles and three interceptions on ten series.

Torres opened the scoring on the evening with a 79-yard effort which resulted from a couple of broken tackles and superior foot speed. Matt Childres' extra point fell awry.

Prairilad answered with a sustained 47-yard drive following James Dudley's interception of Tee Green's first pass. Stephen Swaim's inside banging and a couple of fine possession-type catches by Matt Dorries took the ball to a first and goal at the Rebel 9.

At this juncture, however, the fumble bug hit. Swaim was ripping away from two defenders at the seven, but the ball was wrenched away. Torres set immediately to work. First 19 then 9, and 11 yard dashes took the ball to mid-field. The Pats stiffened, but the Rebels ran Childres for 24 on the Scat play. The defense again balked, forcing the Rebels to a third and fifteen situation at the 22.

Green then hooked up with Clay Pirtle for his only completion of the night. But it went for 22 yards and the second Rebel score. Childres reprised the sweep for the conversion, and it was 14-0 only a minute deep in the second quarter.

Johnny White, pressed into duty when Dudley was lost to player disqualification, returned the kickoff to the Rebel 49, but four plays later the Rebels had denied the first by the length of the ball.

After the teams traded turnovers, it took Torres and Company but four plays to traverse 58 yards. The first was a 49-yard burst by Torres, and the last was his 3-yard off-tackle blast. Childres' miss of the PAT left the halftime score at 20-0.

When the Rebs opened the second half with two Torres attempts for 20 yards, it looked like more of the same. But when they tried the Childres sweep a third time, Chris Bramlett made a brilliant mano-a-mano tackle which killed the series.

Still, the Rebs tried the fake punt from their own 40. It netted only a single yard, and it set Coach Rick Connot's Pats up for their only successful scoring foray.

White came of age in a hurry, getting 17 yards on a burst to the 23. Enter Swaim. Banging for seven, then four, then five, three and one, he polished off the drive with a 4-yard explosion and tacked on the extra point. Back to 20-7, the Pat sideline was jumping.]

It was over in 18 seconds. On the first play from scrimmage, the Rebs seal-blocked at the corner, and Torres was running free one yard past the scrimmage line. Sixty-six yards later he had again found paydirt. The two point conversion attempt was good, and the scoring was over for the night.

The win brought the Rebel season record to 1-4-1, while the Patriots slipped to 1-5. But as is the case with teams in rebuilding mode, both coaches could find positive factors involved in the game.

Certainly head man Charley Swann of the Rebels expressed pleasure at the play of his team and in the confidence factor a win brings. Too, the play of Joe Grissom and Jeremy Weatherall on defense, Torres' speed, and Green's steady play direction were factors of note.

Connot found running back depth in White's 7.6 average per carry, and Swaim is handling the mantle of the traditional Patriot fullback in excellent fashion. The offensive line continues to perform, and Bramlett, Brandon maroney, Matt Dorries and Paul Jackson on defense had brilliant individual efforts.

The Patriots entertain the Chisum Mustangs in their third home game of the season Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Stopping Energy Waste Through Your Attic Is As Easy As ABC.

- Attic ventilation. Make sure that your attic is properly ventilated to prevent heat build-up in the summer and moisture accumulation in the winter.
- Batt or blow-in insulation in your attic should be the proper level for your area. Be sure all areas have proper coverage, and don't forget to insulate ductwork.
- Caulking is important too! Remember to caulk around attic openings.

For more information about saving energy, call or visit your local TNP Office and ask for your free Energy Management Guide.
