"I'm going to cut hay....that heifers going to calve this afternoon and YOU can help her". So said my husband with a big grin on his face as he left the house on a recent Thursday afternoon.

He was joking, of course he was. But, naturally, he hadn't much more than left when the heifer waded off into the pool and began trying to produce a calf. I ran her out of the pool, went to visit my Dad, and upon my return found the silly heifer where? Back in the pool, of course. Once again I ran her out of the shallow water, this time driving her completely to the back side of the pasture.

Thus began an afternoon routine. Clean house for 30 minutes, go run the heifer out of the pool. Clean house 30 minutes, go run the heifer out of the pool. The heifer was definitely going to calve, and definitely had her mind made up that the water was the accepted place to do so. So the afternoon went, clean, check cow.

At about 6:00 P.M., after 5 hours of this stupidity I drove up to the barn to check once more on the heifer. To my horror, as I pulled in the gate I saw the heifer had calved...and sure enough, flopping like a fish, there was her newborn in the water. He looked like a landed bass!

I considered the situation for a split second, and realized that my worn out knees were up to the task of wading into the muddy shallows and holding the calf up....but not to carrying it out. There was a time when lugging 80 pounds of slippery calf through the mud wouldn't have been a problem, but that time is passed. I used the mobile phone to dial the closest, strongest neighbors, Donny and David Darden. Then, I bailed out of the vehicle and ran into the water. I managed to grab the calf's tail and yank it towards me enough to help it stand up. Letting it go for a moment to try and get hold of it's little head, it's mother promptly tried to lead it away from me...by taking it further out in the water. I quickly got a grip back, intending to stand there until my help arrived.

About that time the new mom decided I didn't need to touch her baby and began butting me. Fortunately, she was kind of half-hearted about it. I retreated, dragging the calf with me, and finally arrived at the edge of the pool. The little fellow seemed to find land very attractive and began wobbling around his mother looking for that first meal. My help arrived right then, and I realized that this little saga had only taken a minute or two, even though it seemed to last forever!

It took quite a while for the heifer to get it through her head that the pool isn't where newborn babies belong, and we edged her away from it.

Now she is quite silly about her baby and doesn't let it near the water. Apparently going under water three or four times hasn't hurt Tuffy, he's just fine.

My shoes are dry now, and I may soon attempt to crack the mud from them.

I'm grateful for neighbors who come so quickly to help.

I keep looking at my husband and wondering how he knew what kind of problems were going to occur that afternoon. And Thomas keeps insisting "I was only kidding, really, I didn't have a clue". Yeah, right!

Sandra Graves encourages students and parents to work together

By Liz Irwin

Although school is out in May for all students, several of the faculty members are required to stay on during a part of the summer months. One of these people is Prairiland Homemaking Instructor and FHA advisor Sandra Graves. Instead of complaining though, she digs in her heels and plans mini-workshops for area students and parents.

Sandra has been overseeing and planning these events since 1980. Before that Mrs. Georgia Watson and Barbara Martin were her predecessors and provided adult classes during the summer. Mrs. Graves plans and designs her classes to be available for the students and parents to work hand and hand and enables them to spend some quality time together.

Some of the projects include, stained glass, painting of various types, foods, cake decorating, t-shirt painting, picture frames, memory books, wall hangings, jewelry, bird houses and much, much more. She keeps a mental notebook year to the students and parents are the cost of materials used.

A lot of these projects are extended into the year and are used as seasonal projects. Christmas T-shirts and wreaths are favorites and a lot of these can be seen at the annual craft sale that is held by the Homemaking Department in December.

These projects are economical as well as entertaining and many thanks go to the school administration for their support. All areas of the community are covered, with students and parents coming from Pattonville, Blossom, Cunningham and Deport, with the central location of the workshops at the Prairiland Homemaking Building.

A lot of these projects have turned into money-making outlets for some of the parents. Several of them make and sell crafts at area shows and use the ideas to take home and turn into merchandise.

The group is working on an area rug that can also be used as a wall hanging as their first project this summer. Next they will be doing a stained

Letter to the Editor

Dear Nanalee:

Early in 1995 I was asked to be a member of the Highland Cemetery Association Board of Directors. After careful consideration I agreed to serve.

Some of the board members have served since the board was organized. When Carlos and Melba Ladd retired and moved back to this community they saw a need for organizing records and overseeing the upkeep of Highland Cemetery, plotting and selling lots and encouraging donations so that hopefully, perpetual care would someday exist.

They have done an excellent job. As the process of improving the cemetery evolved, Mrs. Ladd saw the need for a board to be organized to meet demands, make decisions and set goals.

On behalf of the board I would like to thank each of you that are contributors because without monetary contributions our job as board members would be a nightmare.

At a board meeting recently, Mrs. Ladd asked the board to think of new ways to generate funds for the coming year. There are never any guarantees as to how many donations will come in each year. It is extremely expensive to keep Highland Cemetery kept in a manner that provides dignity and respect to those buried there, and it needs to be done on interest from savings, not principal if perpetual care is to ever be achieved.

In the days following that meeting, it suddenly occurred to me "how many people out there who live away actually know that a Highland Cemetery Board exists?"

I continued thinking and wondering if people know anything about what the board discusses, votes on, how do they spend money that contributors send in.

Would you like to be kept informed of cemetery improvements, business decisions, meeting agendas and more through this newspaper?

I would like your feedback through letters. Letters can be sent to The Deport Times, P.O. Box 98, Deport, TX 75435, or Highland Cemetery Association P.O. Box 334 Deport Texas 75435. Letters can also be sent to board members Jim Short, Jeanie Burns, Thomas Nichols, Dan Barnard, Juanita Davis, Ruth Cheatham, Sammy Kelsey or Marilyn Glover.

This board not only serves those who are buried there as caretakers, but serves YOU out there that are financial contributors. There is one everlasting goal. This board is an open board. It is open to your suggestions, ideas, constructive criticisms, so that each of you as monetary contributors feel you play an active role in seeing that the ultimate goal of perpetual care exists far into the future.

Thank you,
Marilyn Glover

Country Cooking

By Liz Irwin

This is the time of year that fresh fruit is usually on hand and is ready for the picking. Because of the inclement weather that we had during the winter, the early fruit and most of the rest was lost. We have to rely on crops that are shipped in from California, Florida or the Rio Grande Valley. A lot of these areas also lost most of their crops due to the cold weather and a lot of flooding, not only bringing on a shortage of crops but the usual . . . high prices. But what little fruit that was grown, there is no better way to prepare it than a fresh, hot, fruit cobbler.

I can remember sitting in front of a very large (at the time it seemed to be gigantic) metal washtub, filled to the brim with water and fresh, mouth watering peaches, waiting to be peeled. I preferred mine half-green with a lot of salt and ate as many as I peeled. Apples were also abundant and we peeled, sliced, diced, cooked, preserved and froze many, many bushels. I ate a lot of these too, but peaches were my favorite.

Blackberry Cobbler is also an all time favorite, if you can get past the thorns. Nowadays, they have the thornless berries, but they just don't taste the same. There are several varieties of the Peach Cobbler. One is for a Sugarless for folks that are trying to cut back! Also included are two crust recipes. I use the Never-Fail recipe. I can't count the times that my crust has ended in the garbage and it took me several years to "perfect" my pie crust. There is also a all-purpose recipe for using different varieties of fruit.

Included is a recipe for an Old-Fashioned Vinegar Cobbler. A variation for this is to add 4 tablespoons of margarine. This recipe was used before the Civil War and was used much when fruit and berries were not available while traveling by covered wagon and riverboat, when supplies were limited. Also used in the Depression days, when money was scarce, making do with what was on hand.

There is also a Bread Pudding recipe that several folks have asked for and we will see you in the kitchen!

Cobbler Recipes

Blackberry Cobbler

1 stick margarine
2 pie crust
2 cups blackberry juice
2 cups water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup flour
1-1/2 cup sugar
Melt margarine in large bowl. Cut 1 crust into strips and put strips on top of margarine. Mix together blackberry juice, water, salt, flour and sugar. Cook in microwave oven for 5 minutes and pour over crust. Put remaining pie crust on top. Cook in conventional oven for 30 minutes at 350 degrees or until brown on top. Peaches or other fruit may be used instead of blackberries.

Sugarless Peach Cobbler

6-8 fresh peaches-sliced
Fruit Fresh
1/2 cup water
8 packets Equal
1 tablespoon Sweet-10
3 tablespoons butter or margarine-melted pie crust-to cover
Sprinkle peaches with Fruit Fresh and add water, Equal, Sweet-10 and margarine. Top with pie crust and prick. Bake until crust is brown in 400 degrees.

Peach Cobbler

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 stick butter
1 cup water
2 tablespoon lemon juice
2 quarts sliced frozen/fresh peaches
Mix sugar, flour, nutmeg and cinnamon together in a large saucepan. Pour in batter, water, lemon juice and peaches. Cook until bubbly and pour into a 9x12 buttered dish. Top with strips of pastry that are at least 1/8 inch thicker than you would use for a pie shell.

Bread Pudding

1/2 loaf bread
3 eggs
1-1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
Pour mixture into pan. Sprinkle with cinnamon and allspice. Dot with butter. Bake at 350 degrees until golden brown.

Crust for Cobblers

2 cups flour
2/3 cup shortening
6 tablespoons ice-cold water
dash salt
cinnamon sugar
With a pastry blender, cut mixture until all particles are the same size; then add ice-cold water. Mix with fork and roll out on dough board; leave it thick. Cut in strips or large squares and place on cobbler. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar mixture. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees. Do not cover with foil or anything that will cause moisture and make crust soggy.

Never-Fail Pie Crust

3 cups flour
1 cup Crisco
dash salt
1 egg
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 egg-well beaten
1/3 cup cold water
With pastry blender or fork blend flour, salt and Crisco until cornmeal consistency. Beat egg into water and vinegar; add to dry ingredients. Blend well and shape into balls for three crust or cobbler.

Old-Fashioned Vinegar Cobbler

4 cups water
2 cups sugar
1 cup white vinegar
2 pie crust-unbaked
In a Corningware skillet or 10-inch iron skillet, bring water, sugar and vinegar to a boil. Continue to boil for 10 minutes. Cut pie crust into strips. While vinegar mixture is boiling, layer 1 crust into mixture. Layer second crust crosswise and continue boiling mixture for another 10 minutes. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Fruit Cobbler

1 quart fruit (berries, peaches, apples, etc)
1-1/2 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1 beaten egg
1 stick butter
Place fruit in a 9x12 baking dish. Mix sugar, flour and egg in separate dish. Pour over fruit, but do not stir into fruit. Melt butter and pour over mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until golden brown.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST

For Texas-New Mexico Power Company customers within the State of Texas, the Company announces that it has filed, on May 2, 1996, an Application for Approval and Statement of Intent for Transition Plan in accordance with the regulations of the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The effective date of such change is June 10, 1996. All classes of customers receiving service from Texas-New Mexico Power Company will be affected by said proposed rates. TNP serves approximately 170,000 customers in Texas. The proposed rates, for all of TNP's Texas operations, will not increase gross revenues to the Company over adjusted test year revenues.

The purpose of this filing is to obtain approval for TNP's transition plan, known as Community Choice, which will address potential stranded costs and increasing competition in the electric utility industry. Community Choice is comprised of the following three major elements:

(1) Effective Aggregation of Small Electric Loads. Community Choice aggregates electric service customers at the community level for the purpose of purchasing bulk electric energy. This approach to aggregating customers will provide residential and small commercial customers some of the same buying power that large commercial and industrial customers likely will enjoy in a competitive environment.

(2) An Opportunity to Recover Stranded Costs. During a five-year transition period (1997 - 2001), in which TNP will implement Community Choice, TNP will have the opportunity to reduce the so-called "stranded costs" associated with TNP One, TNP's generating plant. TNP's stranded costs are the difference between what it costs TNP to produce electric energy and what a customer is willing to pay for electric energy in a competitive environment. Rates, including charges associated with fuel and purchased power, will remain constant during this five-year period at 1995 levels. TNP will use normal depreciation, depreciation shifting, and any fuel or purchased power savings to reduce the capital cost of TNP One. In addition, Community Choice will include a mechanism for using some earnings above a specified level to reduce the capital cost of TNP One.

Fine meals and orphan lambs

By Nanalee Nichols
Installment 2 of a series on vacationing in Ireland

An afternoon and evening in Galway is a good way to spend time.

One of the neatest things we did was wander through an antiques and jumble sale around the old city walls of Galway. Here people had everything from furniture to penknives for sale. It's probably for the best we couldn't ship most of the things we wanted back...it kept us in line!

A live band entertained the crowd, and we adjourned from that after a little while for a walk along the beach to pick up a few sea shells.

Our bed and breakfast that night was on Threadneedle Street, a lovely two story home called Clare Villa.

Tea and biscuits (what we would call cookies), a hot bath and a pleasant, sunny room refreshed us. Slowly, jetlag was wearing off. That night we dressed up and went for a special meal at The Malt House. How pleasant to set at linen covered tables with fresh flower arrangements and attention service. Deep fried camembert cheese, garlic butter crab claws, scallops, shrimp, olive bread...oh my! It was an evening to "wonder what the pore folks were doing".

From Galway we traveled through beautiful country in Connemara. Many of you will remember a John Wayne/Maureen O'Hara movie called "The Quiet Man". That movie was filmed in the area, and in the town of Cong. The lovely mountains, chattering streams sharing secrets as they joined together, and stone bridge seen several times in the movie made it easy to understand why it was chosen as a movie location.

We had not seen the movie until returning home, and it was delightful to find that I had taken a picture of the vicarage that matched the scenes in the movie, as well as several others. We had a stop in the pub used in the movie, also interesting and pleasant.

We took a walk to Ashford Castle, which is magnificent. It's another one of those castles turned hotels with rates too high for the likes of us. The grounds are just beautiful, and the tulips, long gone here, were still in full bloom.

One of the fascinating things to an

East Texan is the number of beautiful wild swans regally drifting down rivers and on lakes.

Sandwiches and chips (what we call fries) in Handley's Pub took care of lunch and we reached the Northwest of the Republic of Ireland. I think our guide wondered why we wanted to return to Sligo and the Drumcliffe area, and I was at a loss except to tell him that I felt drawn back to the area by the quality of light. Later, settled into our B&B at the end of a series of long, winding roads, the light on Benbulbin mountain and the bay far, far beyond began to prove my point. My cousin, Medora sat in breathless excitement as a rain storm swept across the bay, and the light changed from pinks to purples to deepest blues and night settled in. It's hard to explain why I love that country so much, but I thoroughly enjoyed our return.

Earlier, the three of us wandered down the lanes, watching lambs cavort around their mamas, and enjoying the scenery. Inside our B&B we chatted with some Australians who were staying their also, then went down to Drumcliffe to Yeats House to eat. It was across from the churchyard where the poet, W.B. Yeats, is buried.

It occurs that not all readers may be familiar with a "B&B". This means, obviously, bed and breakfast, and that's exactly what one gets. The rooms are attached to a private home, and the family lives in another part of the house. Ours all had ensuite bathrooms. There is a central sitting room where tv, books and radio are available. At Benbulbin Farm we visited with Mrs. Cummins and learned that the family has six girls and one boy. The boy had minigitis at age 9, and is almost completely deaf.

"I fear we indulge him too much" she said. As well behaved and friendly as the children we met were...no fear!

We asked if there was an orphan lamb Medora could feed, since she had never done that. In short order "Bobby" came around behind the three youngest girls, who were so sweet and attractive. Medora giggled and giggled as the lamb took the bottle, and one of the girls brought her rabbit for us to pet too. Being animal lovers we all enjoyed that immensely.

The next morning Robert came to collect us and we were off for the Belleek factory in Northern Ireland.

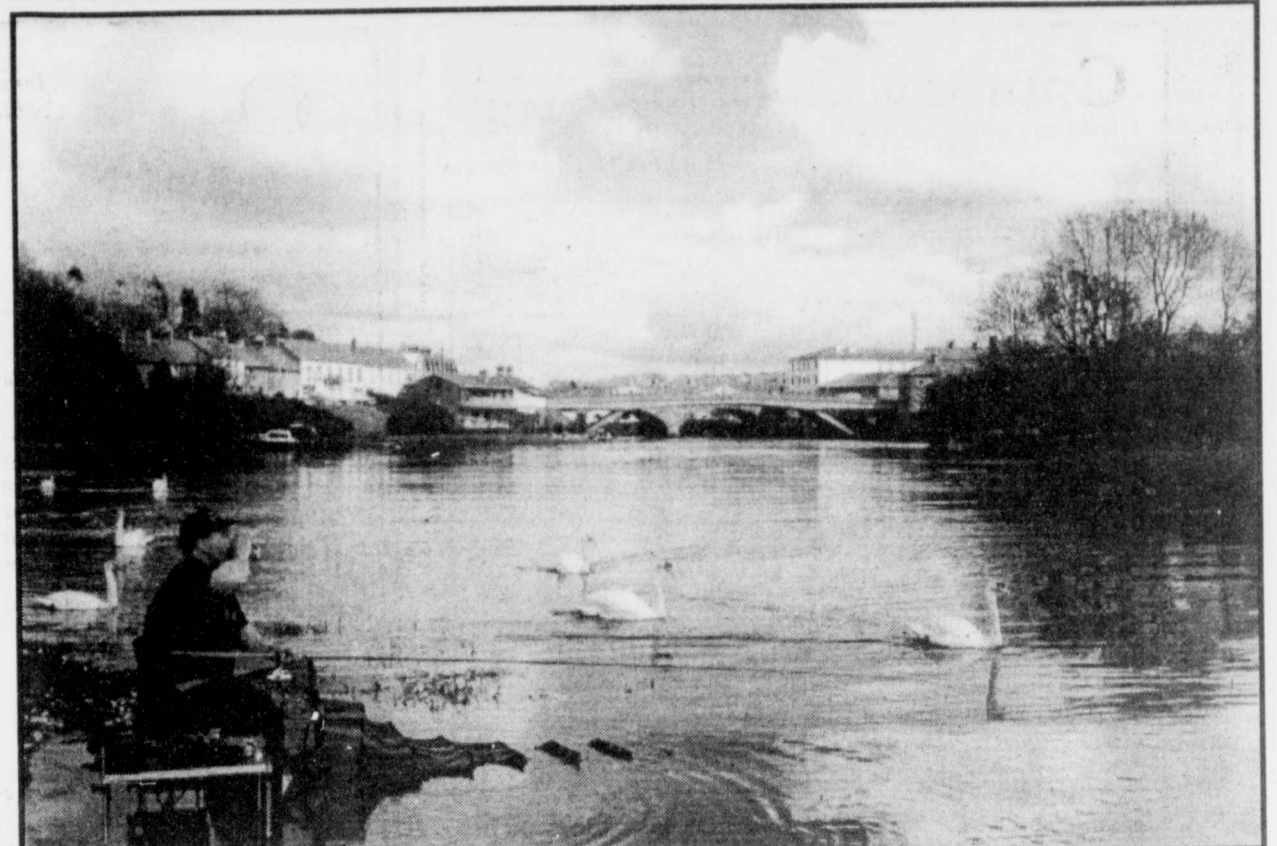

We talked about the troubles between the Republic and the north with Robert. He says that the media refers to it as a Catholic/Protestant problem, but that it is really more of an English/Irish problem. Sadly, it seems that millions of pounds are poured into Northern Ireland to station the military there, and that there are many who don't want true peace because of the economic benefits of the problem!

At the Belleek factory we toured to see how the fragile, almost transparent pariah pottery is made, then (naturally) Medora and I had to buy some. From there we traveled on into Northern Ireland, including Inniskellig, where there was a terrible bombing some years ago during a parade.

At a park in Inniskellig we stopped on the spur of the moment to see swans and fishermen. The fishermen were sitting in chairs on the riverside, with long poles, bobbars and a reel. They would use a bean flipper or throw out by hand dry fish food and small larvae around the hook to attract the fish. My cousin, the fisherman extraordinaire, was fascinated.

We drove through land that was much less rocky and very lush. Of course, by this time my cousin was thinking I was quite nuts...I had told her it rained nearly every day and to bring her raincoat and umbrella. We had about two 15 minute showers the whole trip! Well, I could only judge by our first time, I didn't know it would be dry!

Back into the Republic of Ireland we made our way towards Dublin, and stopped off for the highlight of the trip for me, at least. Newgrange is an ancient burial tomb, known as a passage tomb. It was constructed 5000 years before the pyramids, making it 5000 years old. We'll cover more of that next time...and our "brush" with the Druids! Now that was interesting!

A BEAUTIFUL spring day, a bevy of swans, and fishing...in Ireland, as in everywhere else the world over, fishing has it's appeal! This fisherman is fishing at a river in Inniskellig in Northern Ireland. (Staff Photo by Nanalee Nichols)

RRV Genealogical to host Bryant

Everyone is invited to attend the regular monthly meeting of the Red River County Genealogical Society, Monday evening, June 10, at 7:30 in the Red River County Library.

The speaker for this month will be Marynell Bryant, of Sulphur Springs, who will provide information on the upcoming state genealogical conference. Mrs. Bryant, who is editor of the Texas State Genealogical Society newsletter, will also take questions from the audience on problems encountered in their family research.

All persons interested in researching their family history are encouraged to come and enjoy the program.

The joy of life is variety; the tenderest love requires to be renewed by intervals of absence.

 I cannot give you the formula for success, but I can give you the formula for failure—which is: Try to please everybody.
 —Herbert Bayard Swope

In Pursuit Of Happiness

There is an element in the pursuit of true happiness that is simple but usually overlooked. It is an essential element that is not fostered by the general attitude of our society. It is nevertheless one of the foundational principles in the search for true happiness. It is *Rule No. 4: Learn to be a giver and not a getter!

Most people are not ready for this one. Marriages fail, families are broken, people are abused, friends are lost, business ethics are tossed to the side, etc., all because we are self-centered, not others-centered. We are determined to see what we can get, rather than what we can give.

The Lord Jesus Himself said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts 20:35). That is a statement from the One who gave His all for all people, even including those who would never listen to Him or accept His offer of salvation from sin. Yes, He gave His life, even for those who would crucify Him.

Jesus never did what He did because He was seeking to get something from others. His kindness toward others and toward us was and is prompted by His great love for people. Each of us would do well to try to imitate His concern for others and try to be a blessing in other people's lives. If we do, true happiness will not be far away.

Remember God's law: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked. For whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap" (Galatians 6:7).

Sessums, Richardson received leadership award

Breah Sessums and Michael Richardson have been awarded the national I Dare You Leadership Award in recognition of personal integrity, balanced living and potential for leadership. The honor was presented by Dr. Gary Ballard at ceremonies held at Prairiland May 17.

The I Dare You Leadership Award is presented each year by the American Youth Foundation in cooperation with principals, headmasters and 4-H County agents across the nation. The award was first offered in 1941 by the late William H. Danforth, founder of the Ralston Purina Company in St. Louis, who challenged young people to achieve their highest potential and to influence others through lives of service.

The award takes its name from the book I Dare You! written by Danforth, in which he commends the balanced life of mental, physical, social and spiritual development as the backbone of leadership.

In addition to a certificate of recognition each recipient received a copy of Danforth's inspirational book I Dare You! and a scholarship opportunity to attend AYP's International Leadership Conference at Miniwanca in Michigan, Merrowvista in New Hampshire or Cedar Lake in California. Over 7,000 high schools and 4-H programs participate in the program each year.

I think we have been getting our April showers a little late this year. Better late than never as the saying goes.

Freddy Burden taught our Tuesday Bible Study. That afternoon we enjoyed a video movie. Wednesday we kicked up our heels and played kickball. We get as much exercise chasing the ball as we do kicking it. We tried cooling off a little later that afternoon with a classic favorite, ice cream cones. These are always a hit at any age. Friday Sam Campbell and Scott Ward taught Bible Study. We watched a gospel tape "Old Friends" that afternoon.

Betty Gardner was visited by Pat Talley and Debbie Smith.

Fred and Barbara Biggerstaff visited Don O'Dea.

Visitors of Lena Powell were Carl Allen, Sue Hart, Josh Smith, Corbin Scott, Janie Martin, Morgan and Daokota Martin, Jeff and Dana Spann of Cheyenne, Wyo., Carla and Daniel Allen of Waco, Tx.

Patsy Ward visited her mother Edith Franklin.

Raymond Wright was visited by Ruth Bass, Doris Wanda and Ronnie Wright Jr.

Edna Glasgow's visitors were Bobby Foshee, Emma Lee, Hollie Allen and Jemilynn McKee.

Visiting Brodie Bell were Ruth Murrell, Aubrey and Raymond Hignight, Reecie Kelsey, and Martha Glover.

Mamie Fletcher was visited by Lila, "Bren, Kara and Hali Screws, Denny Fletcher, Becky Proctor, Minda Corso, Hollie Allen and Jemilynn

Wright family reunion held

Eighty-seven members and friends of the Richard Leonard and Rhuama Frances Childers Wright family gathered for a reunion Saturday and Sunday, May 25-26 at the Biardstown Community Center, hosted by the nine children of Alma Katherine Wright Skidmore.

Activities began Saturday, May 25 at 10:00 a.m. by recalling memories of the first reunion held May 24, 1986. A poem was read by Madge Skidmore.

At noon, an early birthday party honored Mrs. Skidmore, oldest grandchild of Richard and Rhuama, who will celebrate her 90th birthday August 5. Her picture, along with a birthday card from President and Mrs. Clinton were displayed, along with cemetery records, Wright genealogy book compiled by Katy Allred in 1995, map depicting the travels of the Richard Leonard Wright family and a picture of the late Curtis Skidmore.

Clayton Skidmore welcomed guests, followed by lunch with cake and ice cream. A framed heirloom was presented to the honoree by the Lloyd Wright family. Sandy Lassiter presented a skit and various group pictures were made of the family.

Katy Allred presented a narrative depicting the Wright's migration from Cleveland, County, AR in 1893 to Parker County, her death in 1896 in Oklahoma and his returning to Texas with his nine children.

The highlight of the afternoon was a hayride hosted by Clayton Skidmore. Approximately 45 took a tour through the Ozark community, Jennings Community and several stops were made as they related memories. Special interest was a marker located near Biardstown designating the highest point in Lamar County.

The game committee, composed of Jan and Neil Barnes, Carolyn Jamar, Joe and Debbie Allred. Certificates, created by Jan Barnes, were given to Raynie Skidmore, Brandi Coe, Carolyn Jamar and Sandy Lassiter, Leah Allred, Chris Lewis and Joe Allred for winning the various games.

Bill Coe, Jim Lassiter, Chris Lewis and Paul Skidmore prepared a hamburger supper and in the late afternoon, Clayton Skidmore hosted another hayride to Glory.

The day's activities ended with visitation under the old oak tree.

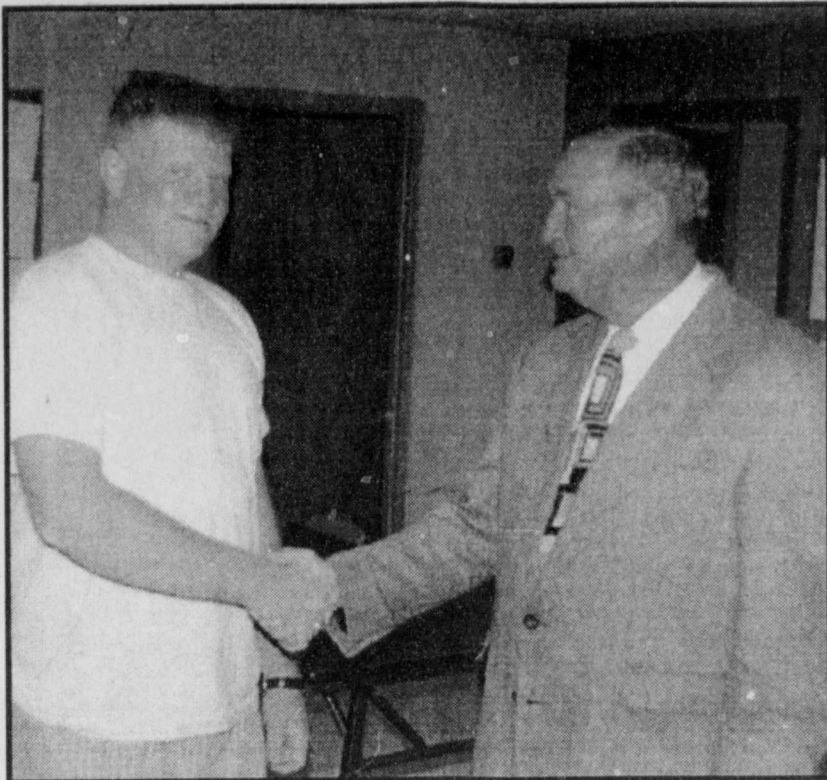

On Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m. the group gathered for worship services. The American flag was raised in honor of Memorial Day. Dwight Skidmore gave the welcome and Madge Skidmore served as song leader and Marla Moss as pianist. Bill Allred led in prayer followed by group singing. Servicemen present gave their name, rank, serial number and short summary of military service. Mary Lou Coe spoke of her husbands career in the National Guard. The Wright ancestors were remembered, Ancil Skidmore who died in 1967 and Curtis Skidmore who died in 1995.

Special singing was presented by Madge Skidmore, Erica Barnes and Lindsey Jamar and the group dismissed in prayer by Dwight Skidmore.

Afternoon entertainment consisted of an informal talent show from family members.

Attending the reunion were: Buddy and Jeri Fulmer of Rockwood, TN; Judy Puckett and Rusty Nelson of Mesa, AZ; Eugene and Helen Wright of Cookville; Lloyd and Hazel Wright of Hooks; Benny Wright and Ms. Pratt of Texarkana; Kelli Ballard and Ashley Hayter of College Station; Joe Bob Steewart of Johnson City; Blake Bowmer of Orange; Gary, Karon and Justin Smith of Vidor; Jeremy Puckett of Rockwall; Lionel, Georgia and Shanna Getz of Victoria; Sharilyn Getz, Frank Getz and Jami Skidmore of Dallas; Amy Ballard of Cleburne and Mendy Lassiter of Denton.

From the Paris area were Alma Skidmore, Fred Skidmore, Cero Peralta, Paul and Stephanie Skidmore, Bill and Katy Allred, Carolyn and Lindsey Jamar, Joe, Debbie, Derek and Leah Allred, Laura Lynch, Neil, Jan, Aaron and Erica Barnes, Clayton and Madge Skidmore, David, Laura and Raynie Skidmore, Dennis, Nita and Casey Johnson, Bill and Mary Lou Coe, Jerrell, Shelly, Jarrod and Jorry Briggie, Chris, Taunyia, Terra and Kim Lewis, Brad, Christi, Brandi, Colton and Cateelin Coe, Travis and Margaret Skidmore, Britany Strickland, Cassie Wood, Dwight and Shirley Skidmore, Brian, McKenzie, Conner and Cody Skidmore, Norris and Elaine Ballard, Jim, Sandy and Ryan Lassiter, Mary and Marla Moss, Carl and Jeniavie Hatcher and Stephen Bush.

CONTEST WINNER-Chad Nations was the winner of a $50.00 savings account from Guaranty Bank of Deport as the winner of a stock market contest in Applied Economics. Virgil Jones, Chad's class consultant for this semester and sponsor of the contest, presented Chad with his prize. The contest was part of learning about stock purchases.

BMA awards scholarship to Gina Moreland

BMA (Business Men's Assurance Company of America) has awarded a $1000 scholarship to Gina Moreland, a member of the Prairiland FFA, Prairiland High School in Pattonville. Gina, a resident of Paris is one of the 10 winners of this national scholarship sponsored by BMA as a special project of the National FFA Foundation.

"Because BMA believes in the importance of the agricultural industry and is committed to serving the insurance needs of this special market, the company has awarded scholarships to FFA members pursuing a 4-year college degree in any area of agriculture," said Dick Pritchett, BMA Agri Sales Vice-President.

"We believe that America's agricultural industries will benefit greatly when young men and women are encouraged to enter the field. We're pleased to offer that encouragement to these students by providing them a portion of the financial resources they need to attend college," Pritchett said. This year, the National FFA Scholarship Program awarded a record total of more than $1.1 million to 856 students. These outstanding young people were chosen from nearly 3,036 applicants. This is the eleventh year BMA has made scholarships available through the National FFA Foundation; the program has been operated by the Foundation since 1984. BMA has supported FFA programs since 1968.

FFA is a national organization of nearly 445,000 members in 7,250 local chapters. FFA helps prepare its members for leadership and careers in the science, business and technology of agriculture. Local, State and national activities an award programs provide opportunities for students to apply knowledge and skills acquired through agricultural education.

In operation since 1909, BMA asserts a strong presence in the insurance/financial services include life insurance, disability income insurance, annuities, employee benefit programs and reinsurance.

Cemetery association elects officers, sets meeting dates

The Highland Cemetery Association met on Tuesday, May 21 to elect officers and to set meeting dates for the 1996 year.

Elected to serve as President of the Board was Jim Short; vice-president, Jeanie Burns; and secretary-treasurer, Melba Ladd.

In other business, the board discussed and agreed on a new contract with Kenneth Gifford for maintenance for the year.

At his request, Richard Nance was released as a board member. Jeanie Burns and Thomas Nichols were selected to renewed two year terms.

The board voted to raise the price of lots at Highland Cemetery to $125.00 per lot, effective June 1, 1996. The price increase will help generate much needed funds for upkeep at the cemetery. According to reports obtained by board members, the price of lots in other area cemeteries, Highland's prices are still much lower than the other cemeteries.

The financial report was reviewed and approved before the board dismissed.

PCT to close season with "The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940"

The Paris Community Theatre is pleased to announce the cast for The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940, it's final production of the season. Written by John Bishop, the fast paced comedy centers around a production team whose last production involved a serial killer known as the "stage door slasher". Because the murders were never solved, the production eventually had to close. Due to new evidence, the investigation has been re-opened under the guise of a "backers audition" at the home of Elsa Von Grossenknueten. At the same time, Nazi spies are infiltrating the mansion and there is more than one murderer lurking about. A great case of "who dunn-it" all taking place in a house filled with secret passageways and faulty wiring, complete with a whirling blizzard outside.

The cast is full of faces familiar to the Paris area audiences. Playing the role of Helsa Wenzel is Savannah Hubbard of Paris. Shannon Morely of Paris makes her second appearance on the PCT stage as Elsa Von Grossenknueten. Allan Hubbard plays a Gestapo Agent posing as an Irish Tenor, Patrick O'Reilly. Michael Tribble of Tiger Town is making his third appearance on the PCT as Roger Hopewell, the flamboyant composer.

From Hugo area comes Brenda Edward and Diane Mahaffey. Brenda is playing Nikki Crandall, the Navy Intelligence Officer posing as a chorus girl. Diane will play the role of Marjorie Baverstock, the producer.

Mike Pickering of Paris plays the incredibly struggling comedian, Eddie McCuen.

Charlie Thompson of Paris will perform the role of Ken De La Maize, the director, Hilda Mallory plays the overly neurotic and cognac-swilling librettist, Bernice Roth.

The production is directed by Tim J. Wood of Deport, stage manager is Amy Hubbard of Paris, Set Design and Technical Direction by Less Gilliland of Paris and Steve Marrs of Chicota; Sound Design by Rex Edwards of Powderly and K. Rex Multi-Media of Sherman. The show opens July 11 and runs through July 21. For more information contact the theatre box office from 1 to 5 p.m. weekdays at 784-0259.
