

By Nanalee Nichols Just a Plea for Attention You've all heard of children who may play at being sick to receive attention? Well, have you ever heard of a dog that did this?

Donny and Dawne Darden have a part-husky dog who goes by the name of Junior.

Junior is a big, healthy looking dog, who spends hours and hours running across the fields with his good friend, Lady, the family's other dog.

He lopes with grace and ease, tail like a happy banner, mouth agape in a big, grin.

One evening we drove up and Junior accompanied us down the drive way, dancing back and forth in front of the vehicle, just as happy a could be.

But, when Dawne came out into the garage Junior immediately lifted up his hind leg and it swung limply, much as if broken. He moaned and let forth piteous high pitched sounds. I actually had a horrified moment when I wondered if we had hit the poor dog with the car!

We immediately asked what had happened to the poor dog. Laughing, the Dardens informed us that there was nothing the matter with Junior except he wanted Dawne to fuss over him.

She talked sympathetically to the dog, patting him and crooning that she was soooo sorry that he was hurt.

It became even funnier when the dog switched legs, limping on the previously sound leg and holding up the one he had just been standing on!

They assure us that at times he limps with a front paw raised up and that he switches from leg to leg at will!

It seems he began this when he was a tiny puppy, and has continued on into adulthood.

inmates from county jail A new 6,000 square foot building to the crime compensation fund and they can send some of the money they earn to their families.

Check phone bill carefully for unwanted charges

It has been reported to the newspaper that there is phone "slamming" (switching long distance services without notifying customers) taking place in this area currently. The person reporting says that nearly $20 a month in charges were added to their business phone bill when they had not spoken with anyone on the phone about switching long distance services.

Billing from Integretel, Inc. and American Nortel Ld. appeared on a local business's phone bill last month. They report that the number to call to try and get these charges removed is 1-800-736-7500, but they had difficulty.

The best way to avoid problems with type of thing is to check the monthly phone bill very carefully and take action about anything not authorized on a bill.

Why does he do it? Who can say. I suspect he just loves hearing his "mama" croon and sympathize, scratch him behind the ears and generally give him some extra attention. He's funny to watch, I do know that!

Construction of reservoir seems far in future

Marvin Nichols Reservoir, if and when it is completed, will cover 100,000 acres. It will be located with Talco nestled on an island in the center of what will be the largest reservoir in this part of the state. The question locals are asking is, WHEN will it be built.

According to surface water engineer Richard Brown, the latest water plan submitted in August 1997 recommended that the reservoir be built in the years 2020-2040 to provide water for the Dallas Metroplex area. Obviously, this is far enough in the future to not concern most citizens.

If the metroplex decides to build the reservoir, it will probably be built in two parts, according to Brown. The norther part would be built first with a dam being constructed on Sulphur River north of Talco.

The second part would be constructed some years later, depending on what degree the need for water might be at that time. The second half would mean building a dam on White Oak Creek.

At some time in the future if both halves of the reservoir are completed, it would take in parts of Red River, Titus and Franklin counties.

The reservoir, if built by utility groups from Dallas, would be regulated by the builder. If the water was needed locally, the something would have to be negotiated with them at that time.

Each five to six years a new regional water plan is drafted by the Texas Water Development Board, according to Brown. Since the last one was a little late, the next one will be planned for five years form 1997.

The state doesn't build the reservoirs, but plans and recommends. It is up to some other group to fund the construction.

The Nichols reservoir has been in the planning stages since the mid 1960's and isn't that close to becoming a reality yet.

So, for now, it's best not to make plans for a bait shop or boat dock on Lake Marvin Nichols, it looks like it will be high and dry for a while longer.

This week we are saluting the much maligned SPAM! This meat by-product is used in a variety of dishes and even has it's own cookbook. Most folks don't like SPAM. .do not even like to look at it. . .will not even have it in their house. . . much less eat it! Personally, I love it and like it fried or made into a salad with chopped eggs, mayonniase, pickles and a little dash of mustard mixed in well.

Regardless of what most people think, SPAM is not intestines and other things unspeakable, all chopped up in a conglomeration. It is made of cuts of ham, chopped and seasoned for convenience.

Hormel Foods first produced their first can of SPAM in 1939. It was introduced as a luncheon meat in a can and has evolved into a wide variety of innovative ways of preparation. The cookbook was created for the fast-paced environment we live in today. All of the dishes in the cookbook are quick, convenient and easy to prepare. There are many ways of preparation including Spanish recipes and Chinese dishes. There is also a light variety for weight watchers, offering light,

This product is sold nation-wide and is shipped and consumed in 37 countries. Hawaii is the largest consumer, with no particular reason given. They do use a lot of this with pineapple. . .wonder why!

Our first recipe is SPAM Quesadillas. Instead of using beef or chicken. . . use SPAM!

SPAM Nachos-next itme use a little chopped SPAM and cheese on chips!

Add a little SPAM to your next Potato Salad along with some peas and carrots along with pickles and chopped onion.

Three Bean SPAM Salad is a mixture of beans and cubed SPAM! SPAM Corn Chowder is a light

SPAM Confetti Pasta is a great topping for angel hair pasta using a variety of vegetables and whipped
