

All Around the Town

by Mary Ann Sarchet

The July 1975 issue of "Texas Monthly" has an interesting article on The Ten Best and (Sigh) . . . The Ten Worst Legislators.

The article states, "Our list is the result of months of work by the editorial staff. We followed the legislature from beginning to end, in the gallery and on the floor, interviewing legislators, staff, newsmen, lobbyists, political figures who are household names in Texas, and state agency personnel who come in contact with the legislature. The result of our work was a surprising consensus: the same names kept drawing the same reactions from liberals and conservatives alike.

"In addition to the Ten Best and Ten Worst legislators, several members deserve honorable—and dishonorable—mention. In the Senate, Bob Gammage (37, Houston) led the fight for the new constitution and also sponsored other significant legislation, including authorization for health maintenance organizations (which passed) and a state alcoholism program (which died in the House). Gammage is a likely candidate for a future Ten Best list if he can learn to do his homework and work the floor; this session his press clippings were better than his legislative technique. Perhaps Gammage was just tired; his work load during the Constitutional Convention would have exhausted two lesser men. Oscar Mauzy (48, Dallas) survived a rocky start this session to retain his usual status as one of the best senators, even allowing for his role as water carrier for the more venal interests of the lawyer lobby. More than any other legislator, he shaped the final school finance bill.

"Bill Patman (48, Ganado) a maverick who is not a member of the Senate "club," nevertheless single-handedly managed to stop the most flagrantly bad bill of the session—Bill Moore's attempt to raise interest rates on small loans.

"The top Senate newcomer was Ray Farabee (42, Wichita Falls) whose work on the Senate Finance Committee impressed his colleagues. His skill and sensitivity on budget matters proved he has the ability to challenge the system of pork barrel tradeouts that has long been the bane of the appropriations process in both houses.

"The best and worst lineup contains few repeaters from last session's lists. Representatives Neil Caldwell and Ray Hutchison and Senators Babe Schwartz and Max Sherman are once again on the Ten Best list. Senator Bill Meier and Representatives DeWitt Hale, Dan Kubiak and Craig Washington failed to make the cut. Senator Jim Wallace resigned to take a judgeship and Representative Hawkins Menefee was killed in an automobile accident. Only Senators Glenn Kothmann and Mike McKinnon and Representative Doyle Willis reappear on the Ten Worst list. Five of last session's worst Representatives, Ben Atwell, Charles Fimmel, Lindsey Rodriguez, Henry Sanchez and Wayland Simmons—failed to return to the legislature this session. Representative James Nugent vaulted to honorable mention and Representative Tim Von Dohlen was simply overshadowed by his session's worst.

New Lake Theo State Park Open For Day Use

Lake Theo Park near Quitaque has been opened for day use only by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The 14,000-acre park composed of a 70-acre lake and Caprock country will furnish fishermen, hikers, campers and sightseers an opportunity to view the Texas High Plains country when it is completed.

"The park lake opened June 20, 1975 and visiting hours will be from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. daily, Dennis Wynn, new manager of the park said.

"Boats 19 feet or longer and motors of 12 horsepower or more shall not be permitted on Lake Theo," Wynn continued. "This rule is in the state park regulations for all lakes under 225 surface acres in size."

Other restrictions for Lake Theo include no water skiing and every boat shall carry a U. S. Coast Guard approved life saving device for each person and each child 12 years of age or younger shall wear a U. S. Coast Guard approved life saving device while on the lake.

No overnight camping will be permitted until facilities are completed by the parks division.

Anglers will find excellent bass and sunfish populations in the clear, deep lake. Access to the lake for boats is limited and the loading or unloading of boats will have to be done without a boat ramp for the present time. The abundance of cattails along the lake's edge has increased the use of inner tube floaters and Water Wagons.

Park visitors might have the opportunity to view the Aoudad sheep that were first stocked on the Geister Ranch in 1958.

All park visitors are reminded that this is rattlesnake country and these reptiles inhabit all of the caprock country in the park and along the lake.

Overnight facilities are available in nearby Quitaque, Turkey, or Silverton for visitors planning a weekend on and around the lake.

Lubbock—What High Plains people hope will be yellow gold is beginning to glow over the area as 300,000 acres of sunflowers come into bloom. Yet another obstacle awaits sunflower growers who are breathing more easily now that they're past the first of two peak periods of the carrot beetle emergence. That obstacle is the sunflower head moth.

Larvae of the sunflower moth, once they've hatched on the blooming flowers, feed on the tender growth, sometimes destroying an entire crop. They are the most severe pest of sunflowers in the United States, according to Dr. Robert C. McIntyre, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

On the High Plains, carrot beetles are another primary pest of sunflowers.

A composite, such as the sunflower, is actually a group of flowers with each flower developing into an individual seed, McIntyre says. Flowering begins on the outer diameter of the head progressing to the center. A field of well-adapted hybrid sunflowers normally complete the bloom period in 12 to 15 days. This is the only time that sunflowers are susceptible to attack and damage by the moth, which is colored light buff to silver.

Eggs are deposited within or between the individual flower tubes. Young larvae hatching from these eggs begin feeding immediately and remain on the surface of the flower for a couple of days. They spin silken webs as they feed, forming a mat of frass, silk and dried blooms on the face of the head. As the larvae become older, they begin tunneling into the developing seeds and fleshy receptacle of the head. Each larva damages or destroys an average of nine seeds, the entomologist figures.

Dr. George Teetes, research entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, has found several chemicals to be effective in controlling the moth. He and co-workers have also looked into the timing and interval spacing of insecticide applications which might protect the delicate flowers during the bloom period.

Methyl parathion, Thiodan, and Supercide are the three insecticides labeled for use on sunflowers against the moth. Tests have shown that methyl parathion and Thiodan give effective control when applied at one pound A1 (actual insecticide) rate per acre in a schedule of two to three applications at a five-day interval. Supercide was found effective at 1/2 pound rate per acre in the sche-

NO BALLGAMES TONIGHT

There will be no Little League or Pee Wee League ballgames tonight due to this being July 3. The game scheduled tonight between the White Sox and Blue Sox will be played next Tuesday night. The White Sox and Gold Sox will play Thursday night of next week to make up a game that was rained out earlier in the season.

Plans Being Made For Vacation Bible School Here

Vacation Bible School will be held at the First United Methodist Church in Silverton July 23 through August 1, from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon.

There will be more fun with new and different activities this year for children ages three years through sixth grade.

You are invited to attend this Vacation Bible School whether or not you regularly attend the Methodist Church.

Watch for further plans and announcements.

Shaving was originally a protective measure since long beards were easy for opponents in combat to seize.

Buttons were first put on men's coat sleeves by Frederick the Great, to keep his soldiers from wiping their noses on their sleeves.

The word salary comes from "salarium" meaning salt money, since Roman soldiers received part of their pay in salt.

The three insecticides are cleared for a total of three applications per growing season for sunflower larvae control, McIntyre adds. Two or three applications are generally required because a field of hybrid sun flowers generally takes 12 to 15 days to bloom completely.

He says growers should check 25 plants at different locations throughout their field during the bloom stage. If adults or young worms are observed, the first application should be made at 20-percent bloom. The additional applications should be made at the recommended interval of adults or young worms can be found on follow-up field checks.

Growers should remember, McIntyre emphasizes, that methyl parathion will cause foliage damage (burn) to certain sorghum varieties. They should make their insecticide selection with this thought in mind, if they have sunflowers planted directly adjacent to sorghum.

Consumer Protection?

WASHINGTON—It is Spring, and a lot of foolish ideas are floating around in Congress. One of the worst is the proposed Agency for Consumer Advocacy (ACA).

The ostensible purpose of the ACA is to defend the "consumer interest" in proceedings before federal regulatory agencies. But the ACA itself would be a consumer fraud. It comes packaged with a politically irresistible name—not unlike a brightly colored box on a supermarket shelf. But the contents of the box don't begin to live up to the claims that have been made for it.

In theory, the ACA would be the friend of all consumers. In practice, it would represent the interests of some consumers against other consumers—although all would have to pay its $60 million price tag.

It would be easier to calculate how many angels can dance on the point of a pin than to define the "consumer interest." What, for instance, is the "consumer interest" in the request of an electric utility to burn coal? Is it in permitting the conversion and thus cutting electric bills? Or is it in forbidding the conversion, and thus protecting the environment?

Under the proposed bill, the definition of the "consumer interest" would be made not by a philosopher king—or even by your elected representatives—but by a political appointee who would have staggering power for a bureaucrat.

Supporters of the ACA say this new agency is needed, because the federal regulatory agencies have been "captured" by special interest groups. But those agencies were themselves set up to "protect" the consumer. If they have failed, how can yet another federal agency do better? Supporters of the ACA give us no reason to suppose that it would not also be captured by special interests, and the evidence is persuasive that it would be.

Regulatory proceedings currently proceed with all the speed of a crippled tortoise. Seasons come and go, but rate, route and licensing hearings drag on forever. At best, the ACA would delay these proceedings further. At worst, it could throw a monkey wrench into the operation of both our government and our market economy.

The best argument against the ACA comes from the American people. A survey by the respected Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N.J., indicates that three out of four Americans oppose creation of this new agency. The loud support for the ACA comes from a few tightly-organized, well-financed special interest groups that have something to gain from its enactment. We'll soon find out whether Congress listens to them, or to you.

Dominoes, anyone?

WASHINGTON—"The discredited domino theory . . ."

You've heard that phrase before. It drips like honey from the tongues of television newscasters. It punctuates the lectures of political science professors. And it is the sum and substance of the geopolitical thinking of all too many Senators and Congressmen.

But when was the "discredited domino theory" discredited?

President Eisenhower put the "domino theory" into our political vocabulary when, at a news conference in April, 1954, he was asked what the consequences would be of a Communist victory over the French in North Vietnam.

President Eisenhower said: ". . . you have broader considerations that might follow what you would call the 'falling domino' principle. You have a row of dominoes set up, you knock over the first one, and what will happen to the last one is the certainty that it will go over quickly."

Eisenhower meant that if Communist aggression was not checked, it would spread throughout Southeast Asia in much the same way as Nazi aggression spread through Europe in the 1930s.

"We come to the possible sequence of events," he said, "the loss of Indochina, of Burma, of Thailand, of the Peninsula and Indonesia following . . ."

With the benefit of 20-20 hindsight, we can determine whether Eisenhower was right or wrong.

In 1954, shortly after the President's press conference, the Communists came to power in North Vietnam. After a bloody period of consolidating their gains, North Vietnamese Communists sponsored insurgents in Laos, resulting in the formation of a neutralist government there in 1961. With the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos now secure, the North Vietnamese stepped up aggression against South Vietnam. When the Cambodian people threw out a pro-Communist ruler there, the North Vietnamese organized an insurgency against that beleaguered country.

The Thais have perhaps the most sensitive political antennae of all the Indochinese people. They "allied" themselves with the Japanese just in time to prevent an occupation of their country during WWII, and switched to the Americans before it was clear to most others that the Rising Sun was setting. The Thais have recently asked the Americans to leave their country. They know which way the dominoes are falling.

If Thailand makes an "independent accommodation" with the Communists, the road to Malaysia, the Philippines, Indonesia and Australia is clear.

In the 1954 press conference, Eisenhower said: "the possible consequences of the loss are just incalculable to the Free World."

That was true then, and it is true now.

Hightower's Report From Washington

No problem confronting this Congress, or this nation, has proved to be more controversial than that of fashioning a comprehensive but equitable energy program. This was demonstrated this week when the Ways and Means Committee's Energy Conservation and Conversion Act came up for full House consideration. More than 140 amendments, representing the divergent views of the members, were offered. An increased gasoline tax, which was the principal provision to promote conservation, was trowned because of strong sentiment that it would hit hardest those who could least afford it.

Unfortunately this bill did not contain the essential element necessary to move us on the road to self-sufficiency — something that would also promote conservation. A bill that would provide for decontrol of oil and gas, the necessary incentive to promote development of present resources and exploration of new resources, is still tied up in the House Inter-

"Was responsible for the single most odious maneuver in this year's appropriations process: the approval, without a public hearing and in violation of parliamentary rules, of $750,000 to buy a run-down, vandalized foundry, and $250,000 to remodel it into a 'state office building.' The foundry is located two blocks from Sutton's funeral parlor in one of San Antonio's most decayed neighborhoods, looks like something Generalissimo Trujillo might have designed as a joke, and is on the Bexar County tax rolls (at 100 per cent of fair market value) for $221,852—less than a third of what he expected the state to pay for it.

"Had the full support of the Speaker in the nefarious enterprise because Clayton wanted to reward Sutton for his timely support in the Speaker's race.

"Still sees everything in poisoned 1950's battle-rhetoric terms, though old age is beginning to take its toll. Infuriates liberals and conservatives alike by trying to blame his own failures—and they are many—on the 'racism' of everyone else. He really thinks any time he doesn't get exactly what he wants, race is the only reason. This place doesn't work that way any more.' Even other blacks have nicknamed him 'Pa-pa Doc.'

"Shocked the Black Caucus by his opportunistic readiness to pursue you-get-yours, I'm-getting-mine logrolling, instead of the team effort they had expected.

"Has been observed asleep for hours at his desk during House sessions; is periodically awakened by Houton Representative Senfonia Thompson. On the session's most important issue for minorities—school finance—Sutton slept through large portions of the debate and then voted against the bill that would have benefitted minorities.

"Introduced a bill to make his own birthday a state holiday ('Senior Citizens Day')."

FURNITURE

The term "furniture" first came into use around the legislature to describe members who, by virtue of their ineffectualness or stupidity, were indistinguishable from their desks, chairs and inkwells. It is now used, casually and more generally by Texas Monthly, to identify the most inconsequential members: HOUSE—Jim Clark, Pasadena; Tony Dramberger, San Antonio; Michael Ezzell, Snyder; Tony Garcia, Pharr; Forrest Green, Corsicana; Don Henderson, Houston; Joe Hernandez, San Antonio; Sam Hudson, Dallas; Elmer Martin, Colorado City; Ed Mayes, Granbury; Robert O'Kelley, El Paso; Tony Polumbo, Houston; Don Rains, San Marcos; David Stubben, Abilene; Ruben Torres, Port Isabel; Kenneth Vaughan, Garland; Leroy Wieting, Portland; SENATE—Roy Harrington, Port Arthur; Frank Lombardino, San Antonio; Lindon Williams, Houston.

Terry Canales, 29, Alice, was chosen as the Unidentified Flying Object for missing all but three roll calls from January to mid-March. He was absent for 148 of 177 record votes. When he finally showed up in early April, the Speaker asked to see the credentials of this "stranger in our midst," and then Canales received a standing ovation.

The Special Worse Than Worst Award went to Bill Moore, 57, Bryan.

state and Foreign Commerce Committee. Frequent and sometimes bitter haggling among the committee members casts uncertainty on our being able to enact this critical legislation. I believe that the nation must accept the fact that only oil will provide the bulk of our energy requirements for the foreseeable future. Consumption increases daily. Production does not. Short-sighted action by a majority of the Congress in all but eliminating the depletion allowance also eliminated the one strong incentive on the books for increasing production. Since there is no chance of reviving the depletion allowance at this time, the incentive of some form of decontrol, phased over a period of years, must happen.

I regret that on June 4, two days before the Labor Department announced that the national unemployment had reached 9.2 percent—the highest since 1941—Congress failed by a margin of five votes to override President Ford's veto of the Emergency Jobs Appropriations Bill. The bill contained funding for several programs that were of particular interest to residents of the 13th Congressional District. Among these were the Summer Jobs Program for students and the Community Service Employment Program for Older Americans. I voted to override the veto because it makes good economic sense to take people off the welfare and unemployment rolls, where they consume taxpayers' money, and place them in jobs where they can support themselves. The House and the Senate approved a substitute jobs bill this week that will provide funds only for the summer jobs program. I hope the President will sign this bill into law.

This week I voted with a slim one-third of my colleagues to sustain the President's veto of the surface mining bill. During the process of considering this legislation, I became convinced that coal production would be curtailed and send the ever-increasing cost of energy even higher. I believe that we should have a national policy on strip-mining and hope that a better bill will result from their actions.

Each member of Congress received copies this week of the Rockefeller Commission's report on the Central Intelligence Agency. I was shocked to learn of the waste of CIA resources improperly channeled into non-productive domestic operations such as drug experimentation on unknowing human guinea pigs, the compilation of dossiers on innocent taxpayers, and, worst of all, the covert political activity which the Agency engaged in. It is essential that in the future the CIA focus its resources toward its legitimate and necessary responsibility—to provide a foreign intelligence network second to none. The reported illegal activities confirm my conviction that no agency of the United States Government is immune to accountability.

The Federal Power Commission is still conducting hearings concerning its arbitrary reclassification of natural gas used for irrigation fuel from Category 2 to Category 3. No one can safely predict at this time what the outcome will be. Should the decision be unfavorable, I will join other congressional colleagues to initiate whatever legislative action is required to assure a continuing supply of this vital energy source for our agricultural industry. Bankruptcy for many farmers is a poor alternative.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers' proposals to extend its jurisdiction over virtually every body of water in the nation has stirred up a hornets nest. The Corps has extended to June 30 its deadline for comments on the proposals. Comments should be submitted in writing to the Office of the Chief of Engineers, Department of the Army, ATTN: DAEN-CWO-N, Washington, D. C. 20314. Hearings will be held next month by the Water Resources Subcommittee of the House Public Works and Transportation Committee, soon after the deadline. I have written to the Secretary of the Army requesting that he investigate the Corps' intent and advising him of my opposition. I am hopeful the Secretary will recognize the situation and influence the Corps to take a more reasonable approach.

MRS. THURMAN MAY

Carthel - May Vows Exchanged Saturday Evening In Ceremony

Wedding promises were exchanged Saturday evening in a candle-light ceremony at the West College and Third Street Church of Christ in Lockney by Miss Glenda Joy Carthel and William Thurman May. Directing the double-ring service was Frank Duckworth, church minister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Carthel of Lockney are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin May of Silverton are parents of the bridegroom.

Wedding music was provided by the bride's aunts, Mrs. Arnold Leonard of Fort Worth and Mrs. Chuck Wilson of Lockney. Setting for the wedding was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and pastel-hued carnations. Candles were lighted by the bride's brother, Criss Carthel, and her cousin, Virginia Yowell of Crosbyton.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were bridesmaids, Mrs. Earl Rowan of Floydada and Mrs. Wanda Eakin of Spearman, the maid of honor, Miss Lesa Wilson, cousin of the bride, and the matron of honor, Mrs. Everett McCullough of Lubbock, sister of the bride. Ruth Elaine Wilson, the bride's cousin, was flower girl, and ring bearer was the bride's brother, Guy Carthel. The attendants were dressed in gowns of polyester floral printed crepe. Each attendant's dress was of a different pastel background. The dresses were fashioned with floor-length princess line skirts, V-necklines, butterfly sleeves, a self-ruffle around the hem, and the bodices featured shaped front belts.

Attending the groom were his brother, Larry May of Plainview, best man; Joe Williams of Plainview, Doug Bruton of Dallas and Mike Hodel of Amarillo, groomsmen. Guests were seated by Lee and Ronald Carthel, the bride's brothers, and Randy Holmes of Amarillo.

Wearing a gown she designed and made, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The formal gown of white nylon over satin featured a high, rounded neckline softly gathered at the neck. Her sheer, full sleeves were caught at the wrists by lace-covered cuffs closed with self buttons. The full, A-line skirt was edged with lace motifs. Rows of pearl

Lee - McWilliams Marriage Held In Formal Service At Tulia Saturday

Miss Betty Ellen Lee pledged marriage vows with Jimmy Rex McWilliams in the First Baptist Church in Tulia Saturday evening, June 28, at 7:30 o'clock, with W. L. Couch of Silverton performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lee, Route V, Tulia, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn McWilliams of Silverton.

The nuptial setting included two 15-branch candelabra bearing white tapers and trimmed with red bows and greenery. A brass archway with greenery and red bows completed the scene. The bridal aisle was marked with red bows and white tapers.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. L. B. Garvin, jr., organist, and Miss Danna Garvin, soloist. Vocal selections were "The Twelfth of Never" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over bridal taffeta designed with a fitted empire bodice. Her shadow neckline was formed by Chantilly lace in a floral pattern. The full long sleeves were of bishop styling in organza which was caught at the wrists by deep cuffs adorned by lace falling to points over the hands.

The A-line gown fell to a scalloped Venise lace hemline which swept to back fullness and cascaded to a full chapel train. The entire gown was enhanced by Chantilly lace appliques in a floral design and seed pearls.

The bride wore a matching Camelot cap of Chantilly lace. The bridal illusion veiling fell to fingertip length and was entirely edged with lace, with a separate blusher veil. She carried a cascade of white pixie carnations, white roses and baby's breath.

The bride's something new was a 1975 penny in her shoe for luck. She wore the traditional blue garter, and borrowed a necklace from her sister, Mrs. Tim Scott. For something old she had 1952 and 1954 pennies, birthdates of the bridegroom and herself.

Mrs. Tim Scott of Andrews was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Lee, sister of the bride, Miss Peggy Culwell of Amarillo and Miss Donna Davis.

Their floor-length empire waisted gowns of red satin featured short puffed sleeves and deep ruffles at the skirt hemlines. Complimenting their dresses were white picture hats accented with red satin ribbon on the crown and forming bows and streamers in the back. They added white elbow-length gloves and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations, red roses, red net and streamers.

Tamra Lee, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Another niece, Debra Lee, and a nephew of the groom, Diji Couch of Silverton, were candlelighters.

The two Misses Lee and the beads followed the scallops of a second band of lace motifs higher up the skirt. Her long veil of illusion was held by a lace-covered Camelot cap.

At the reception which followed in the fellowship hall, guests were registered by Miss Melinda Wilson, cousin of the bride. Reception attendants were Kay Watson and Lu-Nell Hueley, both of Lubbock. The bride's cousin, Crissy Carthel, distributed rice bags.

The serving table was covered with white net over a white underlay, and was centered by the bridal bouquet resting on a Bible.

Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Boyce Mosley, Lewis Ray Stapp, Durwood Jack, Arlon Miller, Kenneth Moody, Lynn Ray Smith, Walter Reves and Mike Carthel.

Special guests at the wedding and reception were grandparents of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Carthel and Mrs. Minnie Cannon, all of Lockney, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. May of Silverton and Mrs. G. C. Thurman of Tulia.

The couple will be at home in Amarillo after July 1 following a wedding trip to points in Arizona, Nevada and Utah. Mrs. May is a graduate of Lockney High School and received the BBA degree in accounting from Texas Tech University. She was employed until her marriage by the Texas Highway Department office in Lubbock. May is a graduate of Silverton High School and of West Texas Barber School. He is a barber-hair stylist at Keith's in Amarillo.

bride's attendants each wore birthstone necklaces, gifts from the bride.

Serving as best man was Jerry Bean of Silverton. Groomsmen were Lane Garvin of Silverton, Larry Olive of Petersburg and Bill Brooks of Amarillo.

Guests were seated by Freddie Lee of Andrews, brother of the bride, and Wade Brannon of Silverton.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother selected a floor-length sleeveless pink knit dress accented with a short cape and a gold and pearl broach. Her corsage was of red roses and white carnations.

The groom's mother chose a mint green sleeveless, floor-length gown of knit with a sheer jacket and colorful embroidered flowers on the front. She had a corsage of white carnations and red roses. The bride gave each mother a long stemmed red rose.

Following the exchange of vows, a reception was given in Fellowship Hall of the church. The table was covered with a white lace cloth and the attendants' bouquets formed a centerpiece around a nine-branch candelabra. Red punch was poured from a crystal bowl. Other appointments were crystal and silver. The three-tiered white cake was decorated with red roses and was topped with two white satin bells accented with lace.

Reception assistants were Mrs. Tommy Lee and Mrs. Gary Lee of Kress, sisters-in-law of the bride, Mrs. W. L. Couch of Silverton and Mrs. Harold King of Gruver, sisters of the groom.

Miss Linda Parrish of Perryton registered the guests.

For a trip to Colorado Springs, Colorado, the bride changed to a beige three-piece knit pantsuit. The jacket was accented by gold buttons and a tie-around belt. The blouse was burnt orange with beige flowers and a tint of blue. Her accessories were pale blue patent leather sandals and the corsage lifted from her bouquet.

The couple will live in Amarillo. A 1973 graduate of Tulia High School, the bride attended West Texas State University and the groom graduated from WTSU in May of this year with a major in biology. He is a 1970 graduate of Silverton High School.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday at El Camino Restaurant in Tulia.

Pointing the way

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Early churches used steeples to make the building higher than all others in the city. People could see God's House from any direction, and could easily find their way to a place of worship. Today, with many office buildings towering into the sky, churches are not always the tallest buildings. However, churches still point the way to God, and provide a place of worship.

Public Hearings Slated In Amarillo, Omaha

Congressman Jack Hightower has announced that the Senate and House Agriculture Committees will hold public hearings July 12 in Amarillo and July 19 in Omaha, Nebraska to amend and update the 54-year-old Packers and Stockyards Act.

"I am delighted that the chairmen of the committees accepted my invitation to conduct the hearings in Amarillo," Hightower said. "Amarillo is the center of one of the largest beef producing areas in the nation. Locating the hearings there will facilitate maximum participation with the least inconvenience for the participants."

The Amarillo hearing will be conducted by the House Livestock and Grains Subcommittee of which he is a member. The subcommittee is headed by Congressman W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Texas, who is also Vice Chairman of the full House Agriculture Committee to participate in the Amarillo hearing. House Agriculture Committee members have been invited to be a part of the Omaha hearing.

Hightower said spokesmen for all phases of the livestock and packing business will be invited to appear at the hearings to discuss their problems generally, as well as pending legislation.

Basically, the 1921 Packers and Stockyards Act applies to transactions involving producers, handlers such as commission houses and auctioneer, and packing firms. It outlaws certain discriminatory trade practices.

Congressman Hightower introduced a bill Wednesday that would clarify the relationship between buyer and seller by providing greater protection to the seller without imposing any additional burden on the reputable, solvent buyer.

Hightower's bill, H. R. 8234, provides protection for sellers of livestock and poultry by:

1. Clarifying the transactions subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act.

2. Requiring that packers:
A. Pay promptly for livestock.
B. Refrain from practices calculated to delay collection of funds and increase 'float' time.

C. Refrain from encumbering livestock, inventories of meat or poultry products or accounts receivable derived therefrom, except to the extent they exceed the amounts owed for livestock.

D. Buy only on a cash basis unless current assets exceed current liabilities. In other words, any packer operating in an insolvent condition must buy livestock on a cash basis.

3. Giving the Secretary of Agriculture the authority to seek injunctions when a packer fails to pay promptly or operate in an insolvent condition.

4. Giving debts or a bankrupt packer that are owing for livestock purchases a priority under the Bankrupt Act.

Other measures have been introduced requiring packers or other persons buying or acquiring livestock or poultry to provide adequate bonding to pay producers where sales have been negotiated.

Hightower said the recent bankruptcy of the American Beef Company dramatically highlighted the severe problems in the traditional relationship of the livestock buyer and seller.

"Although the American Beef situation had mitigating aspects to it," he said, "the net effect in too many cases was that producers—small ranchers as well as larger producers—lost most of their year's income in one transaction when the check they received bounced. The risks of farming and ranching are great enough without allowing the uncertainty brought on by this disclosure to continue."

Hightower said both Senator Clark, D-Iowa, who will conduct the Omaha hearing, and Chairman Poage have emphasized that the hearings are not intended to investigate American Beef, but only to receive comments on revisions to the Packers and Stockyards Act.

The Congressman said persons wishing to testify at the Amarillo hearing should communicate promptly with his Amarillo office—310 Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas 79105, telephone A. C. 806 376-2381.

"When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and nature's God entitle them, a recent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they shall declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

SUNFLOWER INSECT SITUATION & APPROVED INSECTICIDES

Reports from the Texas A&M Extension Center indicate that we may be in for a battle with the Sunflower Head Moth. Dr. James Supak emphasized that if a producer has a field that is blooming, he should be in that field every day checking for the moth or young worms (larvae).

The adult moth is about ½ to ¾ inch long—light buff to silver color and easily detected when resting or depositing eggs on the yellow flowers. The young worms are about ½ inch long and yellowish in color—older worms are up to ¾ inch long, yellowish-green in color with light and dark stripes on its back.

In checking fields, growers should check about 25 plants at several locations throughout the field. If the adult moth or young worms are found . . . insecticide should be applied in about 3 days. Repeat applications, if necessary, should be applied at 5 day intervals. Two to three applications may be necessary as it usually requires 12-15 days for hybrid sunflowers to bloom completely.

As of today, there are only 3 insecticides that have an approved label for use on sunflowers . . . METHYL PARATHION . . . THIODAN . . . and SUPERCIDE. Every producer should be cautioned to use only those insecticides that have an approved label. Otherwise, he may find himself with no market for his seed . . . the field could be condemned by the food and drug people . . . and any storage bin containing seed with residue of a non-approved insecticide may have the entire lot condemned.

We will do our best to keep you informed on developments as the season progresses.

Caution: Methyl Parathion will cause foliage burn on certain sorghum varieties. This may influence your choice of insecticides when sunflowers are planted adjacent to sorghum.

COMMUNICATION

Telephone lines spread across our nation, giving us immediate contact with loved ones. Vital business is rapidly contracted through this medium.

Our linkage to God is prayer. Through prayer we can express our love, our thanks, and seek God's help.

"Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray."

Attend church, join others in fellowship and prayer to God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

On behalf of the Silvertown Volunteer Ambulance Service, I would like to thank Winston Hamilton for the use of the Conoco station to house the ambulance all these many months. Winston loaned this property when no other facility was available, and this has helped very much while the service was getting started.

We would also like to thank those who have made memorial donations to the ambulance building fund.

Your generosity helps guarantee the continuation of the local ambulance service.

Charles Sarchet, President

I want to thank everyone for all the nice cards, flowers and gifts I received while I was in the hospital and since I have been

A Land Bank loan at work
Labor-saving devices won't turn farming into a "rocking chair" occupation. Still, there are ways that a long-term Federal Land Bank loan at reasonable cost could help you expand—and handle the increased production with less effort. In fact, if you've been working too hard, your credit probably hasn't been working hard enough. To find out how expansion capital might be used to get more efficiency, see your Land Bank Association.
