

Lonesome Bill is Coming to Town to Vote Saturday

Editor's Note: We have received the following letter from Lonesome Bill, who says he will be in town Saturday to cast his vote. We hope he pays us a visit before he gets too watermelon-heavy.

Dear Editor: I thought I'd write in and tell you that I'm aiming to be in town Saturday to cast my vote and if I can get my wife to stay at my neighbor's I plan to stay in town till the election is over Saturday night.

I ain't made up my mind yet who I'll vote for for sheriff, cotton weaver, etc., but I know dead sure how I aim to vote in the governor's race. There's one name that I aim to scratch on both sides of the paper, in front and behind, just like he scratched my pension check last winter when my hog meat was giving out and rabbits was so scarce. If I can run across a candidate for road commissioner who will promise to open up the ditches on the road past my farm I may vote for him.

I notice there ain't been nothing said in the governor's race about building factories on every hill like there was two years ago. If anybody has heard of such things, I wish you'd let me know, because I have as pretty a hill as you ever did see out here on my farm and it's just aching for something on it. The government built a WPA out-house on it two or three years ago but it fell in last spring and that hill looks mighty lonesome without anything on it.

I been living on green peas so long now that I'm a little weak in the craw, but I figure my vote is just as stout as anybody's and anyway I aim to get my fill of watermelon before I do any voting Saturday.

Yours truly,
LONESOME BILL.

Wash Shoulders of Work Stock

If one washes the shoulders of work horses at the end of the day's work with a solution of salt water, sore shoulders will be less troublesome. This practice cleans the shoulders and toughens them. Another preventive for sore shoulders is to make sure that the collar fits properly and that hames are correctly adjusted. The width of the collar is just as important as the length, as the wide collar is often responsible for galling shoulders when it slips from side to side. The collar should fit fairly snugly along the side of the neck with just enough room to push the fingers between the neck and the collar. If collar pads are used, they should be light weight and preferably with an oilcloth. Both pads and collars should be kept clean.

Texas Turning to Shorthorn Cattle

Texas ranks fifth in the nation in number of new members in the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association, according to figures by the Association. This is the highest ranking of any Southern State. An increasing number of Texas cattlemen, Secretary H. J. Gramlich states, are turning to Shorthorns, both for purebred purposes and for crossing to their range cattle.

To the Voters of Titus County:

As most of you good people know, I have been trying to contact each and every one of you, personally, and through the presentation of a 3-act play entitled "For Pete's Sake." I had planned to present this play for your approval at Talco, Wilkinson, Argo, Marshall Springs, Cookeville, Lone Star, Winfield and Monticello, but friends, due to the beginning of the summer Revivals and because I believe the welfare of your sons' and daughters' souls is more important than any political race, I have decided to discontinue the play until after election. Then, if I am elected, I will want to say "thank you," and will present the play Free to the public, at the above mentioned places.

Dallas Firms Plan 8,500-Foot Wildcat for Wood County

The north end of the East Texas basin had a new Trinity series wildcat scheduled Wednesday as Plains Production Company, headed by D. Harold Byrd of Dallas, announced location for an 8,500-foot test in Wood county.

Plains will be joined in the operation by Hunter & Rowe of Dallas, the latter firm composed of W. E. Hunter and G. M. Rowe. Contract was signed Wednesday with J. W. Russell, Kilgore driller, and rig is to be moved in immediately to fulfill obligations of spudding by August 1.

It is on a block of about 5,000 acres held for some time by Plains and which has been worked by geophysics and surface and subsurface geology. Al Bierman of Tyler did the geological work.

Location falls about twenty-two miles west and south of Harry Moss No. 1 Venters, promising deep wildcat discovery near Leesburg in Camp county. It also is about eighteen miles north and east on a line with the Van field.

Production will be sought first in the Woodbine sand around 4,300-500 feet; if this fails, then the Pa-

WRITTEN IN LOVING TRIBUTE TO OUR DADDY, W. D. CATO

Daddy dear, just one week ago today you were taken from us, and, oh, what a lonesome week this has been.

You were taken so sudden, we couldn't realize you were gone, but when we drove down to the house, like we do every night when we have finished our work, and the shades were all drawn, and the yard chairs where you sat each evening were empty, the full realization came to us that you were gone.

You were such a good daddy and have been everything to us since Mama passed on. Seems at times that we just can't bear it.

But when we looked at your stilled form and saw the peaceful look on your face, we could picture you entering that Wonderful City and clasping hands with Jesus and your loved ones gone on before.

And, Daddy, how you would have smiled to have seen the abundance of beautiful flowers and heard the singing of your favorite songs. Yet we would hesitate to call you back to this old earth were it possible, because we know you are singing 'round the great white throne with Jesus and his angels.

So, I say goodbye, Daddy, for a little while, and we'll live by your teachings and example and meet you at the Pearly Gate, when our time comes to go. We know you'll be waiting.

Your loving daughter,

MRS. AUTREY SIKES

E. HAROLD BECK

FOR STATE SENATOR

Second Term

An educated citizenship is the greatest safeguard for America and its Democratic institutions, therefore I have supported the public schools of our State one hundred per cent. During the year 1939-40 the schools within the First Senatorial District received $403,543.00, which includes salary aid, transportation aid, tuition aid, and vocational training. This is the greatest appropriation ever given the schools of Texas. During my tenure of office the scholastic apportionment has been increased from $16.00 per capita to $22.50 per capita. School teachers have for this year the first time received their pay one hundred cents on the dollar. The next problem that must be solved is that of transportation, and I will put forth my best efforts to see that this problem is accomplished.

Believing that prosperity begins and ends with the farmer, it has been my happy privilege to sponsor and vote for legislation that would directly benefit the farming interest of our state, such as the Soil Conservation Act, which through the farmers, themselves, provides a method for conserving the soil which has been one of the greatest needs of the farmers; the Bond Assumption Bill, the purpose of which is to assume the bonds issued by the County for the construction of lateral roads; the Cotton Research Award Bill, which offers a reward to any Texas citizen that will increase the consumption of cotton in the amount of 300,000 bales per year. It is imperative that the Southern farmer find new uses for cotton; the Vacancy Bill puts an end to "vacancy hunters" in case the State of Texas discovers a vacancy and gives the land owner the preference right to purchase the land that is declared to be vacant. In conjunction with this bill we passed the Venue Bill, which compels the State of Texas in case a suit is filed for a vacancy to file the suit in the County in which the land is situated. Under the old rule these suits were filed in Travis County and the farmers were unable to go to Austin and take their witnesses to defend these suits.

The Social Security Program in Texas includes Old Age Assistance, the School Teacher Retirement, Aid for Blind and Dependent Children and will always be a problem so long as it is inadequately financed. Without a single exception I have always voted to increase the tax on the Natural Resources, believing that they should pay a substantial part of the cost of this program. However, if a majority of the legislature will not agree with my plan I will be willing to compromise in order that the necessary funds can be raised to finance this program. I pledge my untiring efforts to the Governor and other members of the legislature with the sincere hope that this problem can finally be settled. It must be settled.

Being appreciative and fully cognizant of the faith placed in me by the people of the First Senatorial District, I have in return put forth my best efforts to represent them HONESTLY and EFFICIENTLY, keeping before me the wishes of the majority of my people and voting for measures that would benefit the State in its entirety and particularly the District I have the honor to represent. The people, and rightfully so, are demanding honesty and proficiency from their public officials and I am proud of the fact that I have kept the faith. My record is an open book and I earnestly solicit your investigation.

If after a careful investigation of my official record you are convinced that I should be returned to the Senate for a second term, I assure you that I will enter upon the duties of this office without fetters and with the full determination to come out with clean hands. My thought and energy shall be devoted to the duties associated with this trust. I shall serve my own interest only by serving well the good people of my district and of this great State.

From the Back Files of The Talco Times

Week of July 23, 1937

John F. Palmer had been instantly killed while working on a well on the school ground, when a piece of falling pipe struck him on the head.

Construction had been started on a $2,000 fire-proof building by the Johnson-Justiss Motor Co. of Mt. Pleasant. When completed the building was to house their automobile sales service in Talco.

Eleven Talco people were made charter members of the Presbyterian church on Sunday. Rev. C. B. Yeargan of Greenhill officiated. H. G. Clay was named presiding elder.

Fred Blackard, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Talco school, had left with members of his FFA class for Galveston, where they planned to spend a week.

Week of July 24, 1936

Frank Freeman and Oscar Medlin had opened a new grocery and market on Broad street, just east of the city hall.

Mike Langley, driller on the discovery well, had reported that the No. 2 Carr was drilling at a depth of 3500 feet.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. was surveying a pipeline from Longview to the Talco field, scheduled to be completed by Nov. 1.

North Texas Motor Lines had completed the construction of a freight depot located on Highway 49, near the Talco State Bank.

A large crowd had attended the opening of the Croley's 5c to $1.00 Store on Saturday.

Only Fittest Chosen for Fighting Duties in Time of War

If the United States, contrary to all recent neutrality signs, should go to war tomorrow, what chance would the average man of fighting age stand of being selected for duty in the trenches?

According to an article in Your Life Magazine, in the World War, one out of every three men was turned down for active service in the danger zones because of physical unfitness. Today the rejection ratio is even higher, which means that at least 7,000,000 out of the 20,000,000 Americans of military age are doing a lot of unnecessary worrying about lives they'll never sacrifice in battle.

What are some of the chief causes for army rejection in wartime?

Hay fever is one. It's difficult to imagine a hay fever sufferer successfully using a gas mask.

Flat feet aren't popular in any branch of the army. Neither are bunions or ingrown toenails.

If the candidate hasn't 12 good teeth—and some of them have to meet—he won't stand a chance of passing an army examination. Enlarged tonsils, too, are apt to bring the thumbs down signal.

Ruptures are an important reason for rejection, as anyone who has ever carried a 40-pound provision pack can easily understand. Chronic appendicitis, heart disease, high blood pressure are other reasons for disqualifying recruits.

For, it appears, in war only the fittest survive to be the first to die.—Exchange.

Hagansport Scouts Enjoy Outing

Hagansport Boy Scout Troop No. 72 left Sunday afternoon for a week's encampment at Beaver Bend in Oklahoma. Troops from Clarksville, Bogata, Hugo, Okla., and Hagansport enjoyed a unified camp, with cooks and centralized mess.

Say Family of 5 Can Live on 80c Per Day

Home economics students at Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton, present carefully wrought charts and budgets to prove that a family of five can live on 80 cents a day and have all the vitamins necessary for an adequate diet. The diet includes cracked wheat ground at home for cereal, two quarts of whole milk and also a quart of buttermilk daily, fresh and dried fruits alternately, bread, vegetables and cheap cuts of meat cooked properly.

King Cotton's Prisoners

Business men and women of Temple, Texas, who failed to obey the order of the mayor to wear cotton clothes during a recent cotton celebration found that the days of western pioneer justice had not ended. Rounded up from their businesses, they were placed in the "city jug" and driven over town for an hour after which they were fined and sentenced to buy cotton clothes before being released from custody.

Red River County Has 5,483 on Poll List for Primary

Red River county will have a voting strength of 5,483 for Saturday's primary in poll taxes issued and an undetermined number of exemptions. This is compared with a vote of 6,333 cast in the 1938 election. However, the actual poll tax payments are about the same and exemptions this year will likely bring the vote again to between 6,500 and 7,000. Poll tax payments this year compared with the 1938 vote are shown below for several Southwest Red River county boxes:

Farm Population Shows Increase

WASHINGTON.—The American farm population on January 1 was estimated by the Agriculture Department recently at 32,345,000, the largest in 20 years.

The estimate was 186,000 more than a year ago and represented an increase of 2,076,000 for the decade, 1930-1940. The highest farm population figure ever reported was 32,530,000 in 1916.

Assessed Values in Lamar Decreased

Assessed tax valuations of Lamar county for 1940 will show a decrease of $243,145 from last year, according to an estimate made in County Tax Assessor-Collector Royce Whitten's office.

The prediction was based on reports from the assessing staff. It indicated for state ad valorem tax purposes the county's valuation will not exceed $15,600,000.

The estimated valuation for 1940 is $21,087,100 as compared to $21,330,245 in 1939. Highest assessed valuation in the county's history was in 1930 when assessments ran to $33,903,871.

To The Citizens Of Titus County

My assignment for the past several weeks has been to see everyone in the county and to continue to DO the job required in my present office as Mayor of Mt. Pleasant. I have probably missed seeing several people, and I should like to take this means of soliciting those of you whom I did miss to vote for me as your next County Judge. I realize that anyone seeking a higher office should first do the job well in his present position. That, I have sincerely attempted to do and think the record will bear that statement out. We have been able to accomplish many worth while things for the city of Mt. Pleasant and I believe as your County Judge I will be of service to you and the county which you will appreciate. As I have stated before, I believe in a progressive, yet an economical administration and that the county should and could be on a cash basis in two to four years. But this is your county, your County Judge and your RESPONSIBILITY to elect a man that can get the job done. If you believe that I am that man, I shall appreciate your VOTE and INFLUENCE Saturday.

Thanks,

FARM NOTES

JAS. W. McCOWN, Co. Agent
Titus County

Corn crops are looking good in Titus county. With the abundant rains, yields are likely to be the best in a number of years; this applies to fertile land and good land alike, but the well cared for farms are showing up particularly well, and the old barnyards and cow pens are outstanding.

This brings us to ask what is barnyard manure? The cow didn't put anything in the manure when she ate the grass, hay and other feeds; she took something out. But we still see farmers (are they farmers?) setting fire to crabgrass, weeds, cotton and corn stalks and other refuse plants.

The farmer who has his farm properly terraced, with the outlets arranged so that the terraces will not wash out at the ends, who produces all the vegetable growth on the farm possible, and plows this in the soil, uses commercial fertilizer, (this will help produce more vegetable growth) is the farmer who will be making good corn and other crops when his neighbor (who has not done these things) will be sour, against everything, and wondering how he can make a living.

Some farmers seem to have the impression that commercial fertilizer in the long run will burn the soil out. I wonder how they got the idea. Certainly commercial fertilizer will grow more plant growth—everyone will agree to that and all will agree that barnyard manure is good for the land; after all barnyard manure is only digested vegetable matter. Don't worry about commercial fertilizer burning out the land; it is just plant food—the more we use the heavier crops are produced.

We should look on commercial fertilizer as a soil amendment. It will not give much return unless the soil is well stocked with rotten vegetable matter. It is a question of bringing the two along together. Grow vegetable matter and use more fertilizer to grow more vegetable matter, to grow better crops.

The commercial fertilizer on a well managed farm lasts more than one year. Put in fertilizer and the crop takes up the nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, that is in the fertilizer; then plow under the crop refuse and the only part that we have lost is that that is removed from the land in the form of salable crops or feed for livestock, and that we feed to livestock should be returned to the land.

The above has a joker in it and that is when we allow the top soil to sheet wash or gully wash. Then we are losing our fertility, and, like a thief in the night, it is just gone.

Further Decrease of Flea Hoppers
on Swint Farm

Another test to determine the infestation of flea hoppers on the Fred Swint farm in the Shadowland community and to ascertain the benefits of dusting the infested cotton with sulphur dust was made Wednesday morning by Red River County Agent W. T. Posey.

The test showed further decrease in infestation since the dusting last week. One field, where infestation started 50 per cent, was reduced to 31 per cent by one dusting and now, after the dusting last week, shows only 23 per cent. Another field that showed 17 per cent at the beginning of the tests was reduced to 14 per cent by one dusting and to 10 per cent now by the dusting last week. A block of cotton between two terraces on the farm that has not been dusted showed 26 per cent infestation on July 30, but now has 28 per cent, indicating an increase in the fleas where dusting was not made. Dusting was begun again Thursday on the Swint farm to continue the experiment.

A patch of soy beans on the farm that last week showed 33 per cent infestation is now shown by tests to be 60 per cent infested. No sulphur dust is used on the beans. Since entomologists say the flea hopper doesn't breed in soy beans and only adult fleas are now present, it is apparent that the increase in infestation is due to migration from adjacent cotton fields.

FULBRIGHT MAN
DIES FRIDAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

J. R. Jaynes, 48-year-old Fulbright man, whose health has been failing for the past two months, passed away Friday evening about 8:30 o'clock.

He had been a member of the Baptist church for a number of years. He is survived by his wife and a son, Clyde, three brothers and five sisters: Claude and John Jaynes of Atlanta and Frank Jaynes of Detroit, Mrs. G. C. Sadler of Greenville, Mrs. Chas. Estus and Mrs. Tom England of Cordell, Ok., and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell of Mosley and Mrs. Edd Hight of Texarkana.

Funeral services were at the Fulbright Baptist church Saturday at 4 p. m., conducted by Elder J. A. Chesshir, with interment at the Bethel cemetery. All the brothers and sisters were present, except Mrs. Phillips. Other out-of-town relatives were: Mr. and Mrs. Edd Hight and son of Texarkana, Mr. and Mrs. George Maye of Blossom, Mr. and Mrs. Opal Estus of Texarkana, Mrs. James Tucker and baby of Clarksville and G. C. Sadler of Greenville.

Deceased was born in Missouri, but had been a resident of Texas for many years.

Agriculture is Most Dangerous Industry

—WASHINGTON.—Agriculture is the most "dangerous" industry in the country, Labor Secretary Perkins said in reporting a total of 1,356,000 persons killed or injured at their jobs in all American industry last year.

About 14,600 workers were killed in accidents, 91,500 suffered permanent impairments and 1,250,000 temporarily were disabled. In agriculture alone, the secretary said, deaths were about 4,300, in addition to 13,000 permanent and 240,000 temporary disabilities.

Farmer Says More
Farm Levels Needed

"I give the county agent credit for persuading me to buy a farm level. I give the level credit for saving my farm from foreclosure. The year I bought the level I raised a good grain sorghum crop when very little was raised in the community. From that I was able to make my land payments. If I had not contoured my place that year I would have had no crop and could not have made my payments. I would surely have lost my land. Today I am out of debt on my land and do not ever expect to farm without a farm level." This statement was made by L. E. Mason, Randall county farmer.

Mr. Mason states that guide lines for contoured rows should be checked every year, and should often be relocated on account of variations, which are the result of various farming operations and occasional heavy rains.

"Vanishing American"
On the Increase

The "Vanishing American" has stopped vanishing. The U. S. Commissioner of Indian Affairs has announced that the redmen are the fastest growing population group in the country. They should increase—as wards of the government, for their health, morals, education and finances are watched carefully. Indian reservations are now valued at more than a billion dollars, and their inhabitants are worth nearly a billion. For example, each member of the Osage Nation, in Oklahoma, gets $11,000 a year from tribal oil and lease lands.—Youth Today.

To The Voters of Titus County

For approximately forty years it has been the custom of this county to reward the faithful and diligent service of the District Clerk who has served in that capacity for two terms, by promoting that District Clerk to the office of County Clerk. I am sincere in saying that I have tried to the utmost of my ability to make the citizens of this county a competent and efficient District Clerk, for the two terms I have served.

I am now asking the voters of this county to give me the office of County Clerk by voting for me for County Clerk on July 27th.

I ALSO WISH YOU ALL TO KNOW THAT I HAVE NEVER HELD A PUBLIC OFFICE PRIOR TO MY ELECTION IN 1937 TO THE OFFICE OF DISTRICT CLERK.

Because time has been so short it has been impossible to see all of the voters of this county, although I have made every effort to do so and solicit your vote and influence in person.

To those I have failed to see I take this method of telling you that I would greatly appreciate your vote which you will cast this next Saturday, July 27th.

Importance of having a well trained crew to man fire apparatus in each Texas city was stressed by Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner, as he directed an appeal to all mayors and fire chiefs in the state to send representatives to the Firemen's Training School at College Station, July 20-August 2.

The efficiency of fire departments will be materially improved by the knowledge gained at this training school, the Commissioner declared.

Dr. H. R. Brayton will be director of the eleventh annual school, which will offer primary and advance courses for firemen, course of fire marshals, a detailed study for pump operators and apparatus men, and instruction in first aid work.

Do You Believe In Promotion?

Aubrey Redfearn, who was elected Constable four years ago, has given that four years not only to Precinct No. 1, but to all of the people of Titus County. The night has never been too dark or the way too far for Aubrey Redfearn to go when called to any portion of Titus county to investigate crime. He has spent his own money, never expecting to receive one cent for his trouble. He has found and restored your property when stolen and charged you not a cent. If he has made good as your Constable, don't you believe that it is only fair, just and right to give him the promotion that he is asking for and justly so because of the good work done as Constable?

And thus say to every young man who is elected Constable, and who does his duty, and makes good at the job, he may look forward to the people of Titus County to reward him for a job well done.
