Editor Steve Foster and our budding newspaperman Number One Son, Don, journeyed to the News and Photo Conference sponsored by Texas Press last week in San Antonio. We look for modern innovations to show up in your paper from these two young men. We're proud of them both.

Just finished reading friend Glenn Shelton's new book, "Ground-hog Up A Tree", and recommend it highly. It's delightful. Glenn, front-page "Hired Hand" columnist for the Wichita Falls Times-Record News for many years, has compiled a book of excerpts of his columns that is perfect reading for just a few minutes of your time, or to digest from start to finish in one sitting. Light, philosophical topics on people and things are handled with a sparkling touch of wit.

One little boy we know is being reared with the proper respect for money. He earns his, and is fast learning a bargain when he sees one. He goes shopping; finds what he'd like to have; then goes to his parents and checks to see if the price is right.

Recently, he had saved quite a bit and decided that he'd buy his own pair of shoes, instead of letting his parents. He shopped. He went home and reported he'd found the pair he wanted. His dad asked the price. He hesitated. Shoes cost more than he thought. Finally, at his dad's insistence, he reported, "$5.00 a foot."

On this Thanksgiving Day, 1971, we extend our warmest wishes of a good day with your family and friends, sharing in God's bounty in this free land. Happy Thanksgiving Day!

What A Way To Spend A Birthday

LITTLE SAMMY HAWKINS, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hawkins of 200 N. 6th St., in Haskell, found his hospital room a leusy place to spend a birthday. An 18-inch rattlesnake was the culprit that was responsible for putting Sammy in the hospital for a couple of days. Sammy's mother recalled, "The children came in Sunday evening and told me there was a snake out in the yard, so I went and killed it. It was a few minutes later that one of the kids mentioned that the snake had bitten Sammy." The snake's fang marks were clearly visible on the boy's left hand. In the picture above, Sammy's toys surround him as he celebrated his fourth birthday in bed. He is the youngest of 13 children. Today, Sammy is completely recovered and doing fine.

Council Votes For Cut Back, West Sidewalk

City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night in favor of the cutting back of the sidewalks on the west side of the business square in Haskell. The amount of cut back will be determined by state specifications. The state had earlier told the city that the sidewalks would have to be cut back if State Highway 277 traffic was going to continue passing through town.

Holden, Buster Gholson and Carl Anderson. Mayor H. V. Woodard was unable to make the Tuesday night session. In other city business, the council heard the report from Mayor Pro Tem Duncan that the radio for the airport had been ordered. The radio will be installed in the city hall and will provide contact between the city and people at the airport. Its main purpose is to allow people landing at the airport a means to be in contact with those in the city for fuel or other necessities.

Jaycee Ben McGee again came before the council Tuesday with more information on the planter boxes that were suggested for the business square sidewalks. This matter has branched out and several business leaders are looking into what would be the best type material to use for the planter boxes.

SEN. DAVID RATLIFF

Redistricting Affects Haskell

The reshuffling of Senatorial districts by the Legislative Redistricting Board of the Texas Congress resulted in what looked to be a head-on political battle between State Senator David Ratliff of Stamford and State Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon for the revised 30th Senatorial District. Effective the next general election, May 1972, Haskell County will be included in this district.

Jones of Abilene. Rep. Jones has proclaimed his candidacy for the Senate through the Abilene-Waco Senatorial District 24. Sen. Hightower has served in the Texas Senate since his election in 1964. He began his political service in 1952 when he was elected to the Texas House of Representatives. The graduate of Baylor University (LL.B. 1951) also served as District Attorney, 46th Judicial District, from 1955 until he resigned in 1961.

Lions Again Lead Goodfellow Drive

As has been the custom in the past, the Haskell Lions Club will sponsor the "Goodfellows" project to collect funds that will help provide a bountiful and Merry Christmas for less-fortunate families in our area. The annual drive is solely aimed at helping those in our town who cannot provide, for whatever reason, a Christmas for their family. Food, candy, fruits, and a few toys for the children, will be the items distributed by the Goodfellows at Christmas time. The Lions ask for your help in this project. They ask that you remember that some people will spend a sad holiday this Christmas without your help. Last year the generous hearts of Haskell citizens poured out with over $1,000 in donations. Donations may be left at the Haskell Free Press, and in keeping with the custom of the past, the list of contributors and the amount given will be published in this newspaper each week. Goodfellows ask that you do not wait until the last few days before Christmas to donate. They need to know about how many baskets the donations will fill, as early as possible. Be empathetic in your giving. Put yourself in the place of the one that your contribution will help.

Counties Meet To Discuss New Registrations

The new system of registering Truck Tractors and Trailers for 1972 was discussed in a meeting held November 17 in the Haskell County courthouse.

Neal Lewellen and John Green from the Texas Highway Department were present to discuss the new license system with Tax Assessor-Collectors and deputies from four counties. Represented in the meeting were Haskell County, Jones County, Knox County, and Throckmorton County.

Jimmy Owens, Haskell County Tax Assessor-Collector, told the Free Press the new system is designed to allow a slightly less fee on "token" trailers when the owner registers his tractor and trailers.

"In previous years, maximum registration on tractors was 40,000 pounds and 32,000 pounds on trailers," Owens said. "It will be slightly different registering this year," he added. "In that an owner will register on 72,000 pounds gross weight, and then the token licenses will be $15.00 for each additional trailer."

Representative W. S. "Bill" Heatly has issued a statement welcoming the people of Haskell County as his constituents to the 101st Legislative District as it has been constituted by the State Redistricting Board.

The new arrangement of Districts does not become legally effective until after the 1972 election, but Mr. Heatly made it clear that he hopes the people of Haskell County will regard him as their Representative in all matters connected with State Government and they will feel free to call on him any time he can be of service.

The new District includes 15 counties, making it the largest District in Texas in area, but Mr. Heatly said he will make visits to all of his new territory just as quickly as possible. The new District includes Baylor, Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Foard, Garza, Hardeman, Haskell, Kent, King, Knox, Shackelford, Stonewall, Throckmorton and Wilbarger counties.

His mailing address is Drawer 1, Paducah, Texas, and his office telephone number in Paducah is 817-492-3573.

Mail Early, Use Zip To Speed Delivery

Post Office Officer Harvey Simmons, Post Office customers are urged to start thinking their Christmas mail early. "We hope that every one will follow these guidelines and that no one will be disappointed in Haskell due to a late arriving package or card. Just remember these three dates for your mailing: December 1, all out of town packages, December 10, local packages and out of town cards, and do try by December 15 to have your local cards in the mail."

He added, "We at the Post Office want to do our part to make this a happy Christmas season for all people of Haskell."

4-H To Present Awards For 1971

The Haskell County 4-H Awards Banquet will be held on Monday, Nov. 29, at 7:30 p. m. in the Haskell Elementary School auditorium.

The purpose of the program is to present awards to outstanding 4-H Club members for 1971.

The banquet will honor the Gold Star Girl, Sue Hager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hager of Weinert and Gold Star Boy, Jim Ballard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Ballard of Rochester.

The program will be given by Joan Caddell and Sue Hager who attended the 1971 Citizenship Shortcourse in Washington, D. C.

Ratliff, Heatly At Appreciation Barbeque Event

An appreciation banquet was held Thursday night, November 18, in the Haskell Fair Grounds auditorium for the men in business and agriculture in this area. Haskell National Bank sponsored the barbeque outing.

Bank president Abe Turner, Jr., spoke only a few brief comments to the crowd of business and farming leaders. He said, "We just wanted to show the men of Haskell that we appreciate you, your work, and all the work that you have done for the community."

State Senator David Ratliff was present for the banquet as was Congressman Bill Heatly. Rep. Heatly is the area representative of the new 101st House District in which Haskell County will be included next year.

Sen. Ratliff took only a few minutes at the podium to tell the audience of his appreciation of their backing and that he is available as their senator to help them with their questions or problems.

Sen. Ratliff also told the Free Press that he regrets that Haskell County citizens will not be his constituents after the next general elections. But he was quick to point out that this redistricting will not become effective until the elections and that he is still senator for the Haskell people until the elected take office in January 1973.

Home Lighting Contest

Haskell Garden Club will sponsor this year's Christmas lighting contest at the homes of Haskell. The lighting contest has become an annual affair with different civic clubs and companies about Haskell sponsoring it.

The Garden Club will offer attractive first, second, and third place prizes in three divisions: the best lighted window, the best lighted door, and the most beautiful and appropriate Christmas scene overall. However, in an attempt to separate the "comic" scenes from the "religious" scenes in judging, the Garden Club will offer prizes in each division under both themes.

Lights are to be turned on from six to nine p. m. each night starting December 12 and continuing through Christmas night. Citizens of Haskell planning to enter the home lighting contest are asked to fill in the application form in this edition of the Free Press, and return it to: Mrs. M. E. Overton, RFD 2, Box 86, Haskell, not later than December 15, deadline for entering.

Out-of-town judges will evaluate the entries some time between December 15 and 18. Winners in the various divisions will be notified shortly after they are judged.

Mrs. Overton, heading the contest for the Garden Club, urged Haskell people to "not only decorate their homes for the contest but to help light the city and make it a more beautiful and happy holiday season here."

Checking on possibilities of removing old buildings in some parts of town, the Haskell Lion's Club has learned that the city has no authority to undertake a removal work. A bill is pending in the Texas State Legislature, however, that would extend such authority to certain size towns.

In conclusion of the business meeting, Mrs. Couch expressed appreciation for the work in progress, and she encouraged everyone to be involved.

Magazine Club Looks At Different Facets of Conservation In Texas

November 19, 1971, the Magazine Club presented a program on conservation. Miss Nettie McCollum, president, presided over the short business session. Mrs. S. Hassen gave the Club Collect as a prayer to open the meeting.

Mrs. L. R. Burkett served as director for the program on conservation. She enumerated several problems that need to be controlled. She also cited the many ways each one could help in this work.

Mrs. K. H. Thornton discussed the topic "Last Chance for Mother Earth". Mrs. Thornton stressed the fact that each club member could become a Volunteer Housekeeper of the Nation. She said if everyone takes care of a small job no one would be burdened with a heavy load. As citizens become more aware of the great need for a cleaner environment Mother Earth stands a chance to survive.

Mrs. Thornton then presented Mrs. M. C. Culbertson of Vernon, Texas, who is a well known club woman. She is at the present time president of the Sorosis club. Her talk was on the Big Thicket of East Texas. She gave a complete historical background of the area from the time the first settlers came to the present.

Using authentic statistics, Mrs. Culbertson proved how valuable the land is in so many different categories. Her explanation, not only do we need to preserve a part of our country in its natural state but from the standpoint of biological potentiality, the value is limitless. The great variety of trees, the birds, big game animals, small animals, herbs, need to be preserved. In addition to the things of nature, the Coushattas Indians who have lived in the area since 1854, when Sam Houston secured two sections of land for them to live on. They are a proud tribe and they are now practically self-sustaining. The Big Thicket is rightfully their home.

Mrs. Culbertson even wrote to Senator Benson urging him to do all he could to push the bill for a minimum of a hundred thousand acres to be reserved for a state park. The lumber industry of course is against this proposition.

Mrs. Culbertson made a tour through the Big Thicket, this enabled her to give vivid descriptions of the unbelievable beauty of the land. Truly it is one of the natural wonders of Texas. It is already a big tourist attraction for Texas. In closing her talk she urged all who would write to Senator Benson urging him to save the Big Thicket for Texas.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Arlos Weaver and Miss Nettie McCollum. They served pumpkin pie and coffee.

Rainbows Planning Thanksgiving Meal

The Rainbow Sewing Club held its regular meeting Tuesday, November 16. In the absence of the club president and vice-president, Mrs. Florence Larned was appointed to lead the meeting.

For club entertainment, the Andrews sisters, Elizabeth and Grace, sang a duet and Flossie Rogers offered a special number.

Refreshments were served to the ten club members present.

Haskell Featured In Texas Book

Haskell and this area of West Texas are featured in a new one volume Texana edition of the Lone Star State's major stories, "Off the Beaten Trail" just released by Texian Press, publisher Robert E. Davis of Waco said today.

Origin of Cowboy Reunion, held annually at Stamford, is traced to Haskell and the last cutting exploits of Old Hub, famed quarter horse, are recounted. Also included in the 500-page book of Texas lore is a panoramic account of early buffalo hunts in this area and of treasure searching for the mysterious Spider Rock treasure near neighboring Aspermont.

Written by Hill Country author-historian-columnist Ed Syers, OBT, as it has become popularly known, appeared for many years as a weekly metropolitan feature in most major Texas cities. In book form it proved a consistent best seller through three volumes and seven printings, Davis said, adding that the one-volume Texian Press edition combines all previous books with new material and with complete indexing and mapping.

Registration got underway Nov. 14. Highlights of that day included Discussion Meet and Talent Find competition for young people and vesper services.

The Monday morning program included the annual address by TFB President J. T. Woodson of Goher, an administrative report by Executive Director O. R. Long of Waco, and an address by William J. Kuhfuss, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Special conferences on Field Management, Dairy, and Livestock were held that afternoon. The annual Queen Contest, with 13 participants, was held Monday evening.

Social Security Helps Disabled

People who receive monthly disability benefits from social security are helped by rehabilitation, according to Wayne Baker, field representative in Haskell.

"Social Security disability benefits are paid to eligible people with severe, long-lasting physical or mental impairments," Baker said. "Still, one in five receives rehabilitation services paid for by State, Federal, local, or private agencies. Of these beneficiaries, one in 10 receives financial help for vocational rehabilitation from social security."

Rehabilitation includes job training, physical therapy, and similar services.

About 1.5 million disabled workers and 1.5 million dependents receive about $3 billion a year in monthly disability benefits from social security. About $24 million has been allocated by social security to help pay for rehabilitation services for selected disability cases this year.

"Since the social security beneficiary rehabilitation program began in 1965," Baker said, "more than 7,100 people who had been receiving social security disability benefits had those benefits terminated because they were able to return to gainful work."

Disabled workers with a good potential for rehabilitation are referred to State vocational rehabilitation agencies by social security, according to Baker.

Court Okays Clerk To Buy Certificates

The Haskell County Commissioners Court convened in a special session Tuesday, November 23, to go over regular business and to discuss a few particular matters.

The Court authorized the District Clerk to purchase certificates of deposit, not to exceed $3,000, at the Haskell National Bank. Money to purchase these certificates is to come from the Cost Account fund.

The proposed Farm to Market road just outside the city limits in Precinct 2 was considered but there was no decision made on it.

All Commissioners were present for the session.

PTA Meets

The Haskell Elementary School Parent Teachers Association met on Wednesday, November 17, in the school cafeteria.

Due to the absence of Mrs. Harry Koehler, president, and Mrs. Loraine Johnson, vice-president, Rev. R. D. Williams served as chairman. Mrs. Koehler and Mrs. Johnson were in Dallas for the State PTA meeting.

Alex Swenn, elementary school principal, introduced Don Lamb, who presented an interesting program on Early Childhood Education.

Room count was won by Mrs. Adam's room with five members present from that class' parents.

Hostesses for the social hour were the mothers of the second grade rooms.

Check Calendar On Holiday Events

Be sure to check this month's calendar of events found elsewhere in today's Free Press so that you can stay abreast of the many Christmas activities going on this season.

Of course the Yule season was as usual lighted Thanksgiving night when the Haskell Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees flipped the switch to turn on the lights around the courthouse.

And Santa Claus will be making his weekly trips to Haskell beginning December 4, to coincide with the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Program four drawings to decide the winners of the $2,000 in cash gifts.

The students of Haskell schools will be looking forward to December 21 as the last day of school before the Christmas vacation.

Boys And Girls, Better Write Santa

Every little boy and girl, regardless of age, knows what time of the year is coming. The following is a special message that the Free Press asks that you parents and older brothers and sisters read to the little ones in your family.

Have you been good this year? Have you listened to Mommy and Daddy and done what they asked you to do?

Old Santa is just about ready to pack that sleigh with footballs, dolls, racing cars, and toy ovens and head for Haskell. Will he stop at your house?

Better get hold of a pencil and get those letters to Santa quick. After all, how's he going to know what you want if no one tells him?

It's less than 25 days before Saint Nick will be sleighing through the air with old Rudolph right up front of all the reindeers.

The Free Press wants you to know that if you will send your letters to us, we will see that Santa gets them in time. And we may just publish them in our paper so that your friends will know what will be under your tree Christmas morning.

So, get a pencil right now, and even if 'all you want for Christmas is your two front teeth', write it down and send it to us, in care of the Free Press. And BE GOOD.

Hoye D. Tibbets In Army Exercise

U. S. ARMY, GERMANY (AHTNC) Nov. 3—Army Chief Warrant Officer Hoye D. Tibbets, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orban L. Tibbets, Rochester, Tex., recently participated with more than 11,000 troops in exercise Reforger III in Germany.

CWO Tibbets is regularly assigned as a pilot with the 25th Aviation Company, 15th Aviation Group, Seventh Army at Ft. Hohen Army Airfield, Germany.

The exercise, which included American troops from six state-side bases, the Canadian 4th Mechanized Battle Group, the 35th Panzer Grenadier Brigade, and American troops regularly stationed in Germany, was conducted under realistic combat conditions in an area extending from Munich to near the Czech-Slovakian border.

Reforger III was the third annual exercise to test the dual basing concept of NATO and U. S. forces. It also pointed out the feasibility of partly defending Western Europe from U. S. bases.

CWO Tibbets' wife, Nancy, is with him in Germany.

Every generation has a responsibility to look out for the needs of the next generation.

Let's hope we can pass on the earth to the next generation in about the same shape we found it. With rich, fertile soil. Clean water. Clean air. And abundant natural resources. At Lone Star, we know the earth's resources are there for us to use. But not to use up. That's why we're continuing our search for natural gas even though we already have a good supply for this generation's needs. We want to make absolutely sure the next generation has the energy they'll need. We're drilling the world's deepest well at the Anadarko Basin in Oklahoma. 28,000 feet beneath the surface of the earth. If this well is successful, we think we may have one of the richest gas reserves in the nation. This land has been good to us. Let's make sure it's good to our children.

Sport Notes

By STEVE FOSTER

Sportswriter Steve Perkins of the Dallas Herald once wrote a book entitled, "Next Year's Champions." And since Perkins is the Herald's head man on covering the Cowboys (and has been for years), it isn't hard to figure to whom he is referring in the title. The book was written the year after the Pokes dropped their second consecutive close game to Green Bay for the NFL championship.

I will go so far as to say that Haskell is the home of 'next year's champions' for the district. Of course, that title doesn't do alot for you for this year. That title and sixteen cents (it used to be a dime, dummy) will buy you a cup of coffee.

Honestly, in reviewing the talent that lies here for next year, I believe the district is in the bag.

That is not to say that the senior guys leaving the Haskell Indians won't be missed. They will definitely leave a gap.

Jon Bob Micklers and Bob Sheas and Forrest Mayfields don't come along every year. Without a doubt they are all-district players.

The Whitaker brothers, Ed and Eric, though I believe they never fully realized their offensive potential, will be sorely missed in the defensive backfield. Both were elusive pass receivers to boot.

I'm afraid that I arrived on the scene too late to fully appreciate the talents of Bill Cox and Steve Guess. They have been injured since I moved to Haskell in early October, though Cox did see some action in the last couple of games.

Sam Powell is another that will leave a hole when he leaves. He, Charles Erwin, and Shea have done tremendous jobs clogging up the middle on the running game of Haskell opponents.

And the Indians will lose valuable bench strength by graduating Milton Schmidt. The 155 pound halfback filled in competently on both offense and defense.

But, leave us look ahead. When Shea, Mick, and the rest are getting accustomed to their respective college campuses next year, we'll be putting together another team down here.

Bobby Cobb and B team ace, Kenny Ivey, will wage a good quarterback battle. Cobb will have to improve his passing to stay with Ivey, but then again, Cobb is experienced, can run good, and Frank Paul Jereik could beat them both if he develops a little more poise at the position.

Jackie Young will be back.
The leading scorer in District 7AA for 1971 with 15 touchdowns, Young should even be more potent next year. The junior tailback will have more speed in the backfield with him next year.

Tim Pringle, who played sparingly in the Stamford varsity game with Haskell, will be contending for a starting berth. Charles Alexander should make a good showing also.

And then there's Francisco Chavez. This little back can run. Though he seems awfully small, he may grow a little, or if he doesn't, his speed and moves may earn him a starting position.

The line looks solid for 1972. David Dodson, Danny Smith, Ricky Phemister, Erwin, and Phil Josselet are repeaters from this year's 7-3 team that will bolster the offensive and defensive line.

Otis Riley, Robin Colbert, and Martin Randle have all played varsity ball this season and will be back to try and earn a starting berth.

And Haskell will have possibly the best pass receiver in the district for 1972 in Randy Ivy. In the short time he was on the A team this fall, Ivy made some fantastic pass receptions and proved to be a good blocker.

The recruits from the B team to watch for in '72 appear to be Raymond Rodella, Adam Sanchez, Kippe Grand, Ricky Decker and Ollie Johnson.

I hope I haven't overlooked anyone that you think will brighten the Haskell outlook for next year. I've just seen a few ball games, but what I saw was encouraging. I better not say anything out on a limb "All the way to State", but I will give you Stamford and 10 points for next year when Haskell plays there.

Haskell Men At Pollution Control Hearing

Four men representing Haskell were in Abilene November 17 on an invitation to sit in on the hearing on a plan to solve the salt pollution problems in the Brazos River.

Making the trip for Haskell were Mayor H. V. Woodard, City Secretary Ira Hester, Councilman Belton Duncan, and Councilman Bill Holden. The hearing was held in the Abilene Civic Center and was open to the public. Col. Floyd H. Henk, Fort Worth District Engineer, conducted the meeting.

Col Henk opened the meeting with an explanation of what the Corps of Engineers have learned about the salt pollution problem of the Brazos and what they (the Corps) propose to do about it.

At present, the water in the Salt Fork of the Brazos is worthless. However, the Corps point out that once a proposed dam (one of four such proposed dams that are estimated to cost near $100 million) is built, the Brazos water in Knox and Baylor county would be improved. The river portion in Stonewall County would be virtually a dry river bed.

Two other public meetings are scheduled on the Natural Salt Pollution Control Study of the Brazos. The first is slated for December 1 in the Waco Convention Center, and the other is on tap for December 8 in the Holiday Inn at Alvin.

Indians Beat Rule Bobcats As Basketball Season Opens

Haskell Indian cage teams have started out on the right foot this basketball season as most of the teams have yet to sustain a loss.

The varsity boys team won their second out of two games this season with a 71-63 win over Rule Tuesday night.

Jackie Young paced the Indians with 17 points though he took second in the scoring honors to Ricky Lehrmann of Rule who had 23.

Rule held a slight 27-26 lead over Haskell at halftime, but a 45 point second half effort pulled the Indians up to their second win.

Rule Bobcats B team of boys edged by the Haskell B team, 41-30.

CONSERVATION VIEW POINTS

J. C. YEARY, JR.
District Conservationist

"Getting conservation on the land remains a primary objective of the Nation's conservation districts, but the kinds of land treatment needed are changing with the times," says John S. Wilder, President of the National Association of Conservation Districts.

The steady application of soil and water conservation practices to farm and ranch land over the years is sometimes overshadowed by more "dramatic" programs such as watershed projects, economic development, and suburban land use planning. Even these programs, however, are successful mainly to the degree in which they cause the use of practices that bring the use of natural resources into balance with their capabilities.

This means practices that make streams run clear, improve hunting and fishing, and grow bigger and better trees—to name a few.

Wilder went on to ask, that over the last 15 years, what are the trends in land treatment programs that districts carry out with technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service and other cooperating agencies?

Some work is proceeding at the same rate. Pasture and hayland planting has stayed at about 3 million acres per year. The same is true for range rotation and deferred grazing which remains steady at about 18-19 million acres per year. Contour farming has levelled out at about 3-3.5 million acres.

There is a decline in the application of some land treatment measures that require engineering assistance. The annual application of practices such as terraces, farm ponds, and open drains has declined to about half the rate of 15 years ago.

Cultural and management practices are receiving greater emphasis. Acres of wildlife habitat management have grown over ten times from 1956 levels to nearly 5.5 million per year. Crop residue management has doubled to 20.5 million acres annually, and pasture and hayland management has climbed over three times to 11 million acres each year.

"Changes in cropping systems and conservation technology are making their mark, also," Wilder said. In 1956, the planting of critical sediment-producing areas was not even identified as a standard conservation practice. Today, 150,000 acres are receiving this treatment annually. The same is true of minimum tillage to reduce erosion. This is reported on 2.1 million acres each year at the present time.

There have been many changes in American society since soil and water conservation districts began their work in 1937. But the need to hold the raindrop where it falls has not changed—and districts are making steady progress toward that goal.

Support your California Creek Soil and Water Conservation District with your dollars as well as your cooperation.

Cats Smash Steers 61-6

The Rule Bobcats went on a scoring spree Thursday evening and defeated the Rochester Steers by a score of 61-6 to close out the 1971 season with a 9-1 season record.

The Steers received the opening kick-off and returned it to their 35 yard line where they fumbled on the first play with Bobby Anders recovering his first of four recovered fumbles during the game. The Bobcats tried three passes and one running play but could not pick up the first down and turned the ball back to the Steers at the Steer 30 yard line.

The Steers fumbled again on the first play and Ricky Norwood recovered for the Bobcats. Again two passes and a running play failed to get the necessary yardage for a first down. Larry Barbee punted into the end zone with Rochester taking over on their own 9 minutes left in the 2nd quarter.

With the Rochester offense unable to make sustained drives the Bobcats began to move the ball. Jesse Macias returned a Steer punt some 20 yards in the second quarter, setting up the Bobcats second score. Hisey, Kittley and key passes to Steve Lehrmann moved the ball down to the Steer 6 yard line where Hisey skipped into the end zone. The try for extra points was a pass from Ricky Lehrmann to Steve Lehrmann, making the score 14-6.

The Bobcats again held the Steers after the kick-off and took over on their own 45 yard line. Runs by Hisey, Kittley, Ricky Lehrmann and a pass completion to Macias moved the ball down to the 19 where Hisey took a quick pitch around left end for the score. The try for extra point was wide leaving the score 20-6 at half time.

The Bobcats received the second half kick-off at the Steer 49 yard line when the Steers tried an onside kick that was unsuccessful. Again Hisey, Kittley and Anders moved the ball downfield. A key play in this drive was a fourth down, 8 yard run by Anders. With the ball at the Steer 7 yard line, Kittley took a hand off and blasted into the end zone for the 4th Bobcat score. Larry Barbee kicked the extra point to make the score 27-6.

The Bobcats next score was set up by a recovered fumble by Ricky Norwood. Hisey scored but the play was called back because of off-sides. Ricky Lehrmann then threw to Art Briles from 15 yards out for the next score. Again Barbee converted, making the score 34-6. Shortly after this score, Don Hisey went off left tackle and skipped through the entire Steer secondary for a 27 yard scoring run. Anders added the extra point.

The next two scores were on pass plays from Ricky Lehrmann to Art Briles, one good for 17 yards and the other a 65 yard pass and run on a bootleg pass. Macias threw a block at the Steer 30 yard line, clearing the way for the touchdown. Anders converted after each of

Barbed Wire On Display At Woods'

Historians and other learned and observing spectators of the western scene have convinced us that the West was won by the Colt 45, the Winchester rifle and a man on horseback. We'll leave the argument of how the West was won to better minds than ours, but we'll tell you what tamed the West—barbed wire!

Yep! Barbed Wire! Testy, touchy, treacherous and just plain mean, barbed wire! But what barbed wire lacked in personality, it made up (and still does) in purpose. Its purpose was to bring order out of chaos, to separate sheep from cattle, to set aside the farm from the range, and to decree with rigid authority what belonged to one man and what belonged to another.

Around The World Dinner By FHA'ers

Thursday, Nov. 11, the sophomore girls of Rule FHA were hostesses for an "Around-the-World" progressive dinner. All FHA members received a world map invitation with destinations and time of arrival indicated.

The trip began with a stop in South America at the home of Melinda Webb, decorated in a South American theme. Served here was the appetizer, Canja Brazilian chicken soup. Amelia Moore read a brief report about the country and its customs.

BIENVENDIOS welcomed the group to Mexico at the home of Helen Herrera, decorated with a Mexican theme. After some authentic cheese enchiladas, the group was treated to a Mexican dance by Laura and Jesse Rincon.

Laura Walker and Mary Lou Hunt clad in kimonos welcomed us to the country of China temporarily located in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church basement. The group enjoyed beef Chow Mein sitting around the low tables, Chinese style. A brief report on China was read by Vickie Greeson.

Italy beckoned the group to the Homemaking Department. BIEN GIORNO greeted them with columns, a chariot, gondola and the sights of Italy.

Everyone enjoyed meatballs and spaghetti, while Debbie Johnson read some of the history of the country and the cooking.

Finally the group arrived in lovely Hawaii. "ALOHA" in big red letters told the group they had arrived at the home of Joni Letz. Joni and Nelda James in graham cracker cake with pineapple topping. Sandy Oliver reported on the customs of the state in a room filled with crepe paper, leis, clothing and other souvenirs from Hawaii.
